With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture ofnews and wrapping paper should not exceed $3,000 per ton. At present news is jobbing in British Columbia at $40.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at six thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia, on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord, in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the prefered stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium; remember the time to buy stock in any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent. annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $20.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $15.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $15.00 per ton on wrapping and $15.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $5.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1908 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $251,450. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $4,252,206. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 26th, 1907, Bulletin 80, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 20 2-3 per cent, of the value of goods over all expenses, of 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International Paper Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,635,918.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $32.50 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent. on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent. upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 10 per cent. more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volumn of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 85 square miles, which assures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

Contest in Interest of Every Advertiser

Increased Number of Subscribers Obtained by this Means Gives More Readers for the Advertisers—It's a Subscription Getter—Prizes are Valuable and Desirable

Many feel surprised that The Times is able to offer such a list of handsome and expensive prizes to the public. This is easily explained. A newspaper spends a great deal of time and money each year in collecting and renewing its subscriptions. Experience has shown that the use of special prizes, and the employment of experts to do this work, is a wise investment from a business standpoint. We simply contract with an expert who knows the management of these things as an engineer knows his engine. We have a special office in The Times building in which to conduct the contest and a large force of assistants will conduct the work, thus assuring the contestants every consideration and assistance compatible with perfect impartiality.

As many of our readers know, the advertiser, who pays three times as much toward the expense of a newspaper as does the reader, needs large circulations to bring him customers. So newspapers can afford to give these inducements from time to time for the benefit of their subscribers. The Peterborough Times, Daily and Weekly, now goes into thousands of homes. We expect to add many thousands to that before this contest ends.

The prizes are well worth seeing and will be exhibited in prominent places. The Times does not simply give them away, for we get much in return one of our best assets being the satisfaction of our subscribers, who are all pleased with this chance either winning a most desirable prize for themselves, or of helping a favorite candidate to do so. You can win the prize without making any outlay, by simply asking your friends to subscribe to The Times and give the votes thus won to you.

Purity Ware By-Law and What the City-Council Considers Doing with It

Not a few citizens have inquired of the Times about the outcome of the Purity Ware by-law. Everyone knows that the by-law had a majority of 1155 and that only 84 votes were cast against it. Still it was defeated by several hundred as the required three-fifths vote was not cast.

There are two ways now that the council may dispose of the by law. First:—To submit it again to the people. There are quite a number who favor that course, claiming that the required vote could then be gotten out. This is the quicker course to pursue.

Secondly:—Submit the by-law and the vote to the Legislature for confirmation. This cannot be done until next February when the next session is held.

The question is which of these two courses is the surest one to pursue, and which will be the most satisfactory to the capitalists who are putting up the money to establish the industry. To go again to the people is a big risk. Human nature will not be trifled with, and Peterborough people are particularly human. While some believe that more people will turn out to vote the second time it is reasonable to believe that a whole lot who voted last time will not be bothered to go again. Then, if as large or larger vote is not cast on the second ballot than on the first the by-law is dead and the city has lost the industry, because the legislature would not consider it.

On the other hand if the Legislature is consulted on the first vote there is no reason to believe that it will not be sanctioned. As a matter of fact Mr. T. E. Bradburn M. P.P. has informed the aldermen that he feels confident the by-law will be ratified, and all who know Mr. Bradburn know that he would not make such a statement if he had not first made sure of his ground.

That the Legislature will sanction the Purity Ware by law is practically certain. It is doubtful if that body has ever been asked to confirm any by-law with such an overwhelming majority. It is safe to say that the Private Bills Committee will give their consent without asking any questions.

It therefore, appears particularly unwise for the council to consider any other course and especially one which is so dangerous as going again to the people.

Colonial Weaving Co. Limited are Building a Handsome Home

The Colonoal Weaving Company, Limited, have already started building the foundation for the new factory, which will be at the corner of Rink and Rubidge streets, and contractors Langford and Sheehy will rush things along so that it can be occupied by September 1st next. The main building will be of solid brick, 50 feet by 200 feet, one storey high. The height, however, will be 22 feet in order to accommodate the machinery. In connection with the building there will be a large fire proof vault in which will be stored the silk, cotton, and finished goods.

The Colonial Weaving Company are now employing upwards of 35 hands and will when the new building is occupied and as soon as the new machinery is installed will employ upwards of 60 hands. This number will be increased from time to time and new machinery installed as the demands of the trade require, and no addition will have to be built to the factory to accommodate the additional machines.

The Colonial Weaving Company is as yet in its infancy, although doing a very large business. It was organized only three or four years ago when the stock was taken up by a few local capitalists, although the bulk of the stock was taken up by outside capital. Under the management of Mr. A. E. Coulthard the company has turned out a quality of goods that has so commended them to the customers that the success of the enlarged enterprise is practically assured.

The goods manufactured by the Colonial Weaving Company are silk and cotton woven labels which are used extensively by the manufacturers of boots and shoes, underwear, shirts, neckties, and clothing for both men and women, and as the business in these lines of life's necessities increase so will the label business and the Peterborough company has indeed a very bright future before it.

In transferring the machines from the old factory on Water street north to the new one in the south end the plant will not be closed down at all. One machine at a time will be moved and both factories operated at once. This will save a great deal of time and will not put the company behind with their orders.

The present directors of the Colonial Weaving Company are; President, R. R. Hall, manager; A. E. Coulthard; Wm. Coulthard, W. H. Meredith and W. M. Fowlds, of Hastings.

The architect for the new building is Mr. Wm. Blackwell.

In the Little Lake to Allow Dregde to Pass Under Bridge.

The water in the Little Lake was lower on Sunday than it has been for many years. In fact one could almost walk all the way across. The dredge has been working above the Hunter Street bridge for some time but was needed down below.

Bay City, Mich., June 11.—In the midst of his wedding breakfast, detectives came to drag young Roland Rich away from his bride of an hour.

"You are under arrest," they said. "You are accused of the murder of your grandmother."

Whether he is innocent or guilty, Rich will never be able to forget the horror of that wedding morn.

The day had dawned bright. Young Rich, the favorite grandson of Mrs. Christina Coryeno, one of the town's wealthiest women, was to marry pretty and talented Anna Kaiser.

Early in the morning the young man had gone to his grandmother's house. Fearing practical jokers, he explained, he had left his wedding clothes there, also the ring that should join him and his bride, and some money—about $100.

A brother of the groom-to-be saw him and his grandmother talking. Ten minutes later there was a cry of horror from that room.

Roland Rich rushed out, carrying his grandmother's body. The woman was bleeding profusely from a great glaring wound in the head. The bed where she had lain was blazing.

"Someone must have attacked her," cried Roland Rich. "They have stolen my suit and money too."

The old woman was taken to the hospital. Rich says he thought she was not seriously injured. Notifying only a few of his own relatives, he borrowed new clothes and gave word that the wedding should go on.

No one in St. Boniface's Church knew that the shadow of a great tragedy hung over the wedding. The great bells tolled. The bride, radiant in lace and orange blossoms, floated down the centre aisle. The groom, head erect, met her at the altar.

"A beautiful couple," everyone said.

The long, beautiful service was chanted over the two. The blessings of heaven were invoked for their happiness and peace undisturbed. They were married.

And as the great bells rang out over the church their glad tidings of the new happiness, Mrs. Corveno was dying at Mercy Hospital, and detectives, working fast, were connecting link after link—her murder and the hand of her favorite grandson.

Contest Stirs Up Interest in Peterboro'

Enter Now and Get a Good Start—Read How You Can Win Prizes —Open to Every One—Need Not be a Subscriber to Enter the Contest

The Time's great $3,000 Contest is fairly started. A most encouraging degree of interest is shown already by many who are sending inquiries and nominations and the prospect is for a widely extended activity.

Contest Department Now Open.

The special Contest Department is now open in The Times building. We shall be glad to welcome all who feel the wish to enter the contest, of those who merely wish to make inquiries as to the method on which the contest is conducted. The Contest Department is open from 8 a.m., to 9 p. m., daily, so that whatever your business you will be sure to be able to arrange an hour at which you may see the representatives of the contest and get all the information you desire.

Get Subscriptions Everywhere.

In order to enter the contest it is not necessary that you should yourself be a subscriber to The Morning Times and in the matter of getting votes you are not limited to your own district or indeed to any territory whatsoever. A subscription to The Times is equally welcome from any part of Canada and you are only limited by the extent of the field you can cover in getting paid-in-advance subscriptions to the paper.

New Subscriptions Most Valuable.

While it is desirable to get all your friends who already take The Morning Times to renew their subscriptions, you must remember that it is worth twice as many votes to secure a NEW subscription. Our wish is to extend the influence of The Morning Times by gaining many readers.

Votes Come Easy.

Now that the contest is started you should waste no time in beginning to secure the votes which will help you to win one of the splendid prizes. It is an easy matter to secure votes. You know The Morning Times and what it stands for in the way of interest and information. You need not feel that you are asking any one a favor when you induce them to subscribe to what will give them so much pleasure. Those who are taking The Times already will be glad to renew their subscriptions in your favor. They would renew them in any case and by doing so now they can help you to win the prize of your choice.

Don't Stay Behind.

Don't sit back and allow others to get all the good things of life. Grasp the opportunities that come your way. This is one of the opportunities of a lifetime and you will be sorry if you do not take advantage of it.

Keep Yourself Posted.

After the initial act in sending in your nomination, you should not think that all the information you need for the rest of the time of the contest is yours. Never let yourself feel confused on any point. Ask any question that you do not feel quite certain about. The best way to keep thoroughly posted is to make a daily habit of reading carefully all the announcements that appear in the paper, as well as the daily story. In this way not a single detail of the conduct of the contest will escape you, and you will be much better able to talk to your friends about it if you thoroughly understand every detail yourself.

Get Busy at Once.

Send in your nomination at once and get started today. It is a good thing to have your name on the list of candidates when it is first published for the attention of everyone is called to the names at that time and any one who knows you, seeing that you are entered for a prize, will decide to save their votes for you. Later, a trifle may interfere. Your friendy may be called away on business, or you yourself may lose some precious days through a silent indisposition, and every day counts.

After you are once started the work of getting votes goes on partly itself, but until you are fairly in the game there is nothing doing and valuable time is being lost.

Petition in Circulation to Save Neck of Brutal Murderer

"No, I do not think that Blythe is in the pitiable condition that has been pictured. I do not think there is anything in the statement that he will not be able to walk to the execution chamber. He certainly collapsed after hearing that no pardon was forthcoming, he took to his bed, in fact, and his mental condition gave us some trouble, as he was very nervous and restless, and could not sleep well. But since that time he has improved. When I saw him Saturday he was very well."—Dr W. T. Owen, Parry, jail surgeon.

Toronto, June 14. —The physician who sees Walter C. E. Blythe daily discredits the stories which are told of the prisoner's pitiable condition. An eminent Toronto alienist, who has read some of the articles which have been written about Blythe and who sees him frequently, deemed them as all "rot." Dr. Parry agrees that the man condemned to hang on Thursday is not in bad shape.

PETITIONS SENT AROUND.

Petitions are being circulated in the city in the hope that a last effort to have Blythe pardoned may be successful. A deputation for Ottawa is talked of, but the minister of justice is absent, the cabinet has already given the Blythe case considerable attention, and in the absence of new evidence it seems hardly probable that success will attend the efforts now being put forth. The cabinet will probably consider that many of those who are taking an active part in the agitation for a pardon are people who are opposed to capital punishment under all circumstances.

EATS A GOOD BREAKFAST.

"Oh, no," said Dr. Parry today, when told of the stories in circulation as to Blythe's absolute breakdown. "Why, he eats a good breakfast," he added. "When I saw him on Saturday he complained that he was hungry, and that his breakfast had not arrived yet. On enquiry, however, I found that he had been sleeping so soundly at breakfast hour, 8 a.m., that it was not thought desirable to waken him. He reads a lot, and seems to pass the time fairly well. Canon Farncomb has sent him plenty of good books.

"He was quite prepared to die," added Dr. Parry, "when news came of the postponement of his execution. If the sentence had been carried out then, he would have felt that society had dealt fairly by him. As it is, he doesn't."

GOVERNOR CHAMBERS.

Jail Governor Chambers was rather more impressed with Blythe's condition, but stated that his experience as governor had been so short that he was not familiar with the symptoms usually manifested by the condemned.

"Do you think it is true," he was asked today, "that Blythe will not be able to walk to his execution on Thursday?"

"I do not speak as a medical man," he said, "but I would say, for instance, that I think he could have done it yesterday."

"Does he sleep well?"

"He has been in poor spirits and broken down. He sleeps, but not very well. As compared with his condition before his execution was postponed, his health shows signs of nervous breakdown. He is not as strong either. He feels that the postponement of sentence greatly intensifies the strain, and he also feels his inability to bear up under it."

Walter Blythe was sentenced to the death penalty because he beat his wife to death with a poker. He was drunk at the time, but his mistreatment of the woman has been a matter of common knowledge in the neighborhood for years. She had even told of having had trouble in England because of his beating her earlier in their married life. Shortly before the day of her death, she told the neighbors that the conditions under which she was living were almost insufferable and these people sent a constable to warn Bly the that he must treat her properly or be dealt with by the law.

MOVING PICTURE.

Shows Should Pay High License Says a Correspondent.

To The Editor of The Times:

Dear Sir, I wish The Times would take the matter up of charging a high license to all Five Cent Shows. These concerns eat up all the loose change that is floating around in the pockets of the working people. That they are an evil few I think will deny. I would like to see The Times take this matter up in the interests of the people, and endeavor to persuade the council to pass a by-law fixing a license fee on these shows of not less than $2,000 a year. I see that this is being done in many places in the United States, who regard it as an unmitigated evil. Thanking you, Mr. Editor.

Yours truly,
MERCHANT.

Shot 2,000 Laborers Working in Fields

Constantinople, June 14. —One of the foreign consuls in Turkey, who has arrived at Warsaw, after a tour of the scene of the April Massacres, has sent in a report confirming the previous appalling details, in the course of which he says:

"Two thousand laborers were shot like rabbits at Hamedier, and in the surrounding fields, their bodies still are lying as on a battlefield, just where they were working."

DEATH OF A. CAMPBELL.

Former Resident of Peterborough, Dies in Toronto.

Mr. A. H. Campbell, formerly a resident of Peterborough, died in Toronto on Saturday last. Deceased carried on a large lumber business, and resided in the house built by the late Rev. J. W. R Beck, and afterwards destroyed by fire. This handsome residence stood on the site now occupied by St. Joseph's hospital.

The late Mr. Campbell was born in 1819, and came to Canada in 1848. He was connected with several financial institutions in Toronto. He retired from active business about fifteen years ago. Mr. Campbell was a member of the Church of England, and took a prominent part in the affairs of the Synod. He is survived by his widow, three sons, and three daughters.

SIR JAMES WATSON

This eminent English physician is one of the greatest authorities on diseases of the respiratory organs.

In a recent address, Sir James Watson stated that the commonest of all disorders is Catarrh, and that not one person in ten thousand passes the winter without an attack of some sort.

Sir James advocates local treatment very strongly, and says that it is all nonsense trying to treat Catarrhal diseases by swallowing medicines, atomizers, douches and snuffs.

Local treatment is applied most scientifically by Catarrhozone, which is inhaled into the nose, throat and lungs, and drives the disease completely out of the system.

Catarrhozone is a rational common-sense treatment; it clears the air passages, makes breathing easy, and relieves at once. Physicians prescribe Catarrhozone with great lying results, and pronounce it a specific for Catarrh in any part of the system.

Mr. Thos. Cox, one of the most prominent citizens of Minden, Ont., says; "I want to recommend Catarrhozone. It is a nice, clean cure for Catarrh. Cureed me perfectly, and is well deserving of a trial from everyone at all affected by Catarrh or throat trouble."

Mr. G. F. Fadden, of Royan, Que., writes, "In my opinion Catarrhozone is the only cure for Catarrh. I had the disease in its worst form but only got relief from Catarrhozone. It cured me quickly and permanently, and I have no fear of the Catarrh ever returning.

The foregoing brief extracts, like thousands of others that the proprietors of Catarrhozone have received, prove that the proper remedy to use is Catarrhozone. It is quite different from the ordinary Catarrh preparation, and is warranted to prove entirely satisfactory. If it fails your money will be refunded, so if not benefited you won't be out of pocket.

All druggists sell Catarrhozone. Complete outfit, hard rubber inhaler, liquid for recharging, etc., costs $1.00; trial size, 50 cents. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

LENIENCY FOR BLYTHE?

In yesterday's issue of the Times appeared a pathetic pen picture of Blyhe's last days in jail. The object of the article, which appeared in the Sunday World, is to arose sympathy throughout the country for one of the worst criminals that has been brought to justice in Canada, and how the World can stop to ask for leniency for such a man is beyond comprehension.

Blythe in the first place was a drunkard, who, so far as the public know, made no attempt to reform or to control his desire which had developed into an insane habit. In the second place he was a criminal with a criminal's temper which the public as yet has learned nothing of his endeavors to control. Thirdly he made his wife the recepient of his anger and brutal actions. He thrashed her time and again. In fact it was almost, if not quite, as habitual as it was to get drunk. Finally, after he killed his wife, inch by inch, day by day, he gloried in his dastardly work, and not until the finals days of his life in penitentiary did he show any signs of regret.

Yet the World seeks to secure the pardon or to secure leniency for such a creature. Evidently in the eyes of some, it is a happy thought that there are only a few such, there is no value in a woman's life. She is the play thing, the punching bag for criminal man.

Such however is not the opinion of the majority. Woman is the greatest treasure man can possess and if he does not appreciate even a portion of her value he is unworthy of consideration. If he becomes so degraded, so sunk in vice that he murders in cold blood one of the gentler sex he is unworthy of a place upon the earth and the sooner he is removed the better for all concerned.

If justice in Canada should sink to such a depth that it could wink its eye at wife beating and wife murder then is there any hope of justice? Are women to be cast outside the consideration of the court and left to the brutality of drunken men?

If Blythe receives leniency in the slightest degree a blot will be left upon Canadian justice which can never be effaced, and shame will be upon those who granted it or assisted in securing it. Canada wants men and manly men and Canadian women must be protected and regarded as something more than a mere plaything to be cast aside and trodden on at will.

WORK FOR ZION.

The annual meeting of the Federation of American Zionists was held in New York, a few days ago, the delegates representing not far from two hundred organizations in all parts of the country will discuss ways and means looking toward the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine, which shall be "an asylum "for those expatriated Jews and a "place of residence for those who are "dissatisfied with their present abodes." A state of their own has been the dream of many Jews for years. The rehabilitation of the ancient country whence they came has been the theme of many gifted men, and societies have been formed in all parts of the world for the purpose of enlisting sympathy and co-operation and receiving pecuniary aid for the cause. The movement in its present form owes its being to the untiring efforts of Dr. Theodor Herzl, whose enthusiasm, sincerity of purpose and magnetism gained many converts. The promotion of a scheme so gigantic as the founding of a new state required something more tangible, however, than pious enthusiasm, and the followers of Herzl, recognizing this fact, contributed money until the working fund reached a large figure. When the movement was at its height he who gave it its greatest impetus died, but the work has continued and the vision of a Jewish state, in varying degrees of distinctness, has ever been in the eyes of the Zionists.

The leaders have not always been a unit as to a location, for, while the original plan looked toward Palestine, there arose in the ranks of Herzl's followers men to whom it mattered not where the state should be so long as it was a Jewish state. If the Turkish government made Palestine impossible, a patch in Argentina or in Africa would do. Those who took this view were known as Territorialists—a large party under the leadership of Isreal Zangwill, as to whose Zionism it has been said that it is "business," while that of Herzl was "poetry." Since the Zionists last met in annual convention great changes have taken place in Turkey, and the new government has been reported as being favorable to gathering all the Jews who may wish to emigrate to that country. This has impressed both parties—the Territorialists as well as the Palestine party—with hope, and the vision of the state under Turkish sovereignty has been growing brighter under its influence.

The whole scheme of Jewish nationalism, while it may find favor in Rumania and Russia, appears to be distasteful to the Jews of this country, with the exception of the newer immigrant element. Mr. Adolph Lewisohn said about a year ago, when a similar convention was held at Atlantic City, that the scheme to establish a Jewish state in the Holy Land should not be looked upon seriously by American Jews and that its promoters, honest and sincere as they might be, could not expect the support of their brethern in this country. More recently Mr. Jacob H. Schiff said:

I am in no sense a Jewish nationalist. I believe, indeed, that the continuance of the endeavor to re-establish Jewish nationality, or the constant insinuation even that such is the purpose of any large section of the Jewish people, is not unlikely to work sooner or later, immense harm to the Jews—in Palestine in particular—and seriously to impair the favored position the Jews in Turkey now occupy.

The cause has, nevertheless, a large following in this country among the elements to which we have referred, and the tenacity with which the Zionists fight their battle in the face of opposition on the part of those whose help would seem to be essential to success commands respect.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

TRIPLETS.

Fond Du Lac, Wis., June 12.—The famous Windecker triplets, who claim to be the oldest living triulets in the world, celebrated their sixty-fifth birthday at the old Windecker homestead in the Town of Byron yesterday.

The triplets are Sydney Windecker, of this city; Sylvester Windecker, of Byron, and Mrs. Sedate Pier of Wausau. They were barn in Louisville, Ky., on June 9, 1844, and came to Wisconsin with their parents when only 5 years old.

All three are enjoying the best of health. They meet once a year to receive the congratulations of their friends and discuss their early days.

IF SICK--WHY PAY

Unless Health First Returns.

Here is what should and can be done!

Now you would not willingly pay for food that was worthless—would you?

Then why pay for medicine until that medicine first proves to you its actual worth?

Positively knowing what Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do for the sick, I say to all "don't pay unless health first returns". And I back my Restorative with a signed and sealed 30 day "No help, No pay" contract.

I gladly pledge to the sick everywhere that "Dr. Shoop's Restorative is absolutely free if it fails". Let others do the same or use their prescriptions by.

If you need more strength, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, use my Restorative a few days and note the immediate improvement.

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys are wrong, then test Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I do not claim the Stomach nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys, for that is wrong. You can't cure by stimulation like in medicine. The books below will best tell you how I am succeeding.

These books also tell of a "day hidden" "life nerve," no larger than a silken thread, that tell how that nerve, until it fails, actually gives to the Heart its power, its tone, its never-ceasing action or impulse.

These books will open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. They tell how the Stomach, and Kidneys each have their "inside" or power nerves. They tell how the Restorative was especially made to reach and revitalize these weak or failing inside nerves. All of these help tell why I am able to say, "It is free if it fails".

This is why I say "takes no chances on a medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer".

So write me today for the order.

I have appointed honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community to loan me medicines to the sick.

But write me first for the order.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test.

So drop me a line, please—and then you'll get prompt and full delivery. Tell me also which book you need.

A postal will do.

Besides, you are free to consult me as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some curious statement. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescriptions or personal advice plan. My full chest is only worth your simple request. So write now what you have to fresh in mind. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 11, Racine, Wis.

A Famous Home for the Defective

An old Country visitor who is assured of a warm welcome will address the Woman's Canadian Club in Toronto on Wednesday. Wherever the record of modern progress in the study of the feeble-minded is discussed, Miss Dendy and her famous schools at Sandelbridge are sure to be mentioned, for the institution of which she is the head is said to be the best England and one of the best in the world. Miss Dendy's visit and anything she may care to say on the subject nearest her heart will fall with particular timeliness, since our grand juries and religious conferences are seeking to call the attention of the people to the necessity for better provision for the feeble-minded.

In the Manchester Schools.

Miss Dendy has always been interested in work among the poor and unfortunate, but it was not until ten years or so ago that the bent was given to her labors that have made her prominent. As a member of the Manchester School Board, she was struck with the number of children whom she considered mentally defective. She made a report on the matter, and was instructed to go thoroughly into the question. The result was that she found between one and two per cent. of the children to be feeble-minded, and her observations were confirmed by a medical authority on the subject. There was, however, no provision made for the little culls of the Manchester schools, and Miss Dendy had them,d either to see her report pigeon-holed, or stir up the public to a sense of its responsibility. Her mind was made up instantly, and she proceeded to hold public meetings, and urge upon the well-to-do members of the community the necessity of solving the problem. Her campaign was successful, and resulted in the formation of the Lancashire and Cheshire Society for the Permanent Care of the Feeble-minded.

The Sandlebridge Schools.

This society founded the Sandlebridge Schools, which are located some sixteen miles from Manchester, and year by year has added to its holdings until now it has some half-dozen buildings, and a hundred or more acres of fine land. Miss Helen MacMurchy visited the institution in the course of her peregrinations to gather material for a Government report on the feeble-minded, and at that time the number of inmates at Sandlebridge was 86, almost equally divided as to sex. Among them were several who had police records before being taken to the school, and many motr who had only been saved from crime and immorality by their detention. Their ages ranged from nineteen downward, and altogether the collection was as motley and unpromising as an educationist would care to handle. In view of this fact, it is interesting to read Miss MacMurchy's description of a tea at Sandlebridge.

A Pathetic Sight.

"They all sat there waiting quietly for the late comers, who came in quietly, one by one. There were three or four of the staff present who helped a few of the boys to take their seats and arrange their napkins, but nobody made the least disturbance. Miss Dendy spoke to several by names, each one being individually known to her, and when, after singing the usual children's grace, they began to eat, their table manners were something wonderful. Each had a mug of milk, the big boys had cocoa, and in front of every third or fourth boy was a large plate heaped with bread and butter or bread and jam, the bread being about an inch and a half thick. The boy before when the plate was set always lifted it carefully and served both of his neighbors before helping himself. I never saw a more touching sight than the efforts of some of the weakest mentally to fold their hands together to say grace. Those familiar with the powers of the feeble-minded will not to be told that this is a task for them. Slowly and with difficulty, but finally with success, they brought their fingers together, the attendants encouraging them, and not till all were ready was the grace said."

Work on the Farm.

An important feature of the school is the farm, which is in charge of a practical man and his wife, and on which the older boys occupy themselves. They are thus healthfully employed, and are recouping the institution, in part, for the expense of their maintenance. There were thirty-five head of cattle, a number of sheep and swine and much poultry on the farm, all revenue-producing. The Manchester Board of Education pastures its horses there, and from the large conservatory a great number of flowers and plants are raised and sold in the city. On a farm there is always some helpful thing the smallest child can do, and no doubt one of the chief reasons for the institution's success is the fact that everyone is kept busy. Consequently no one has time to brood, and there are few opportunities for sulking.

A Home for Life.

Miss Dendy lives at Manchester and goes out to the school twice a week or oftener. So admirably is the institution managed that no fewer than ninety different education boards and directors have made application to send children to Sandlebridge. Their expenses, of course, are met by the body that sends them, and the maintenance charges are about $65 a year. Sandlebridge is intended to be the permanent home of all who are committed to its care, and that the children are well satisfied to remain is the highest praise that could be given the institution.

FOOT BRIDGE.

Is Needed over Otonabee at the C. P. R. Bridge.

What about a foot bridge over the C.P.R. bridge across the Otonabee River? The Times has been asked that question scores of times but knowing that the council has no money this year for permanent and necessary improvements nothing has been said of late. However, the fact remains, that some accommodation should be afforded the many people who find it necessary to cross the river at this point daily. The C. P. R. has been very generous in allowing the citizens to use their bridge, but the number crossing is increasing so rapidly that it is time the council was making some provision for their accommodation.

A couple of years ago this matter was taken up with the C. P. R. and that company consented to allow the city to construct a foot bridge along side their bridge, the work to be done under the supervision of their own engineers. This was as much as the city could possibly expect and especially as railway companies do not desire pedestrians around their property except at the depots. At that time the council allowed the matter to drop because there were no funds. Still several years have gone by and no provision whatever has been made for securing funds. It is now time that the aldermen took this question up seriously.

PRESS TO STIR UP WAR.

British Jingoes Said to Be Using Conference to This End.

London, June 14.—The so-called serial press conference assembled in London affords an astonishing example of English capacity for indulging in solemn make-believe. The conference is ludicrously unrepresentative of newspaperdom in the British colonies. It consists of fifty-five colonial representatives of whom twenty-nine are editors and twenty six proprietors of papers. This showing — or lack of showing—is significant in view of the fact that there are upward of 3,000 newspapers published in the British colonies.

The conference was organized by the proprietors of London's jingo press. They gave it to be understood that liberal editors had the painful option of joining the movement or incurring the imputation of being anti-colonial and anti-professional in sentiment and policy. The conference has been exploited boldly to stimulate abject scaremongering.

Liberal editors have remained silent, being afraid to take the responsibility of introducing dissension. They have hesitated to publish the obvious fact that the conference is a brazen feature in an anti-German campaign.

BEAUTIFYING THE FARM FRONT

A Substantial Prise Now Offered for Best Kept Farm House Surroundings.

The consolidated Municipal Act of 1903 has been amended by adding thereto the following paragraph:

"For granting a prize not exceeding $10 for the best kept roadside, farm, front and farm house surroundings in each public school section in the township, and for prescribing the conditions upon which such prizes may be competed for and awarded."

The above is a piece of wise legislation, and its enactment will certainly have a far reaching and beneficial effect upon conditions throughout the province.

The remark has often been passed by visitors journeying through different portions of Victoria county, as they viewed the commodious and modern residences of the tillers of the soil, how the surroundings could be vastly improved and beautified with a little care and attention.

How often are splendid residences noticed fronting the highway, and its appearance marred by a dilapidated fence or an ill-kept lawn over run with noxious weeds. A wonderful transformation could be effected if a little time was taken and care bestowed upon this neglected portion of the property.

This commendable action on the part of the provincial government will result in including amongst those in the different townships a taste for improving and beautifying their premises, and a keen spirit of rivalry amongst neighbors in competition for the prize awarded will have a two-fold result—the cultivation of a desire for the beautifying and improving of their premises, and a consequent pride in the home surroundings.

It would certainly be no surprise to see, in a few years, the many farm fronts and farm house surroundings which are at present neglected, transformed into veritable bowers of beauty.

ANNUAL OUTING OF ANGLING

Club Was Held on Saturday Afternoon. A Splendid Outing.

The annual excursion of the Angling Club of the Canadian General Electric Company, was held Saturday afternoon to Jubilee Point, and was, as in previous cases, a big success. There were nearly 300 on board the Stoney Lake, which came down from Lakefield especially for the affair. The boat left the wharf at 2 o'clock, and was back again at night. A baseball match was a feature of the sports pulled off at Jubilee, and with dancing at the pavillion, and also on the boat, the crowd had an enjoyable outing, and the committee in charge are to be congratulated on the splendid success of the outing.

TO TAKE JEWS BACK TO THEIR OLD HOME.

A movement is now well under way to take the Jews back to their old home in Mesopotamia. It is heartily approved of by the Gentiles, and the leaders of the Jewish Zionist plan are enthusiastic about it. Funds for the gigantic emigration scheme are available in the fortune left by the late Baron de Hirsch, estimated at $45,000,000, and there does not appear at the moment any serious obstacle to the carrying out of the project, unless it should be an unfavorable report on the land selected by the special survey party that is now investigating the district that the new Turkish Government has offered the Children of Israel. Such a report is extremely improbable, for that part of Mesopotamia where the Jews have been invited to establish themselves is by no means a wilderness, and is well known to hundreds of travelers, who are practically unanimous in praising it as one of the most fertile areas on the face of the earth.

The British Offer.

At the last Zionist Congress there was laid before the organization a proposal from the British Government, which offered the Jews a great stretch of land in South Africa. For one reason or another it was not acceptable, chiefly because South Africa to the Jews was a foreign and unknown country wherein they might expect to encounter as great hardships as in any of the lands from which they now desire to escape. It is probable that the British Government was considerably relieved when its kind offer was declined, for the problems and complications which might arise from the establishment of a foreign colony in the midst of a British country are more easily avoided than faced and solved. Mesopotamia means nothing to us, but to the Jews the word has such a ring as Palestine. The land was once their home. There they grew strong and powerful. Carried thither in captivity, they were to witness in Mesopotamia the days of their greatest grandeur. Daniel was born to them there, and the three who went into the burning furnace. Ezekiel saw his great visions; and there was written the Babylonian Talmud.

A Home of the Race.

Next to Palestine, Mesopotamia is the home of the race, and since Palestine seems out of the question, and is probably inferior to the other country in all practical respects, it would seem the ideal place for the tribes of Isreal to reassemble. What the Turks are to gain by the establishment in their midst of a self-governing Jewish State is not clear; but the offer has been made in apparent good faith through Ahmed Riza Bey, president of the Chamoer of Deputies. The Jews from Russia and Roumania, where the bulk of the proposed emigration will originate, have never been celebrated as farmers or tillers of the soil. Their gifts would seem rather to lie among those opportunities created in centres of population. How their Turkish neighbors will receive them in another question that might cause grave doubts in anyone but an enthusiastic young Turk full of dreams of the Brotherhood of Man.

The Promised Land.

Mesopotamia is more like Egypt than any other country in Asia, but whereas Egypt has only one river, the Nile, Mesopotamia has two, the Tigris and the Euphrates, and the magnificent alluvial valley between them is said to be as fertile land as there is in the world. In the two vilayets of Busra and Bagdad there there are about 110,000 square miles, and a population of about a million people. There are no uninhabitable wastes, and it is estimated that the land would readily support a population of many millions, fifty perhaps. Once it was tilled and populated, but the destructiveness of the Turks has made it so that one can ride all day through what the Independent says was once, and will be again, the Garden of Eden, and not see a living creature. Before the Turk came there were canals crossing the valley and uniting the Euphrates with the Tigris, and thereby irrigating the soil, but these have been closed for ages, and the richness of the river lands has been locked in their bosom. They await the Jews and a system of irrigation.

A Gigantic Project.

No engineering is needed, they say, for the land is practically level, and the Tigris is just a little higher than the bed of the Euphrates. The work could be done, it is estimated, for $40,000,000, and one of the richest fruit and farm lands on the earth's surface thereby opened to the science of the farmer and the fruit grower. A railroad will soon go to Bagdad, and will then be extended to India. Already there is a steamship line from Bagdad to Bombay. Even with imperfect government, says the Independent, the railroad will bring travel and security. Besides the item of irrigation, the other great expenditure would be that of transporting several millions of Jews from Russia and elsewhere to Mesopotamia. There would be also expenses of supplying them with implements, and maintaining them until their first crops were harvested. Building the Panama Canal or fighting a Peninsular war is a small thing compared with such a problem as is presented in the proposal to move severa, millions of penniless people thousands of miles, and establish them in absolutely new conditions. Still the Jews in the United States and Europe, those Jews who have no more thought of moving to Mesopotamia than to the moon, can transplant their less fortunate co-religionists if they take the notion. Hitherto the American Jews have been rather cold to the Zionist scheme, and it remains to be seen if they become more enthusiastic over Mesopotamia.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, under the authority of Chapter 3, of the Statutes of Ontario, 1909, invites subscriptions from the public for a loan of $3,500,000 on bonds of the Province of Ontario, or "Ontario Government Stock."

The bonds will be dated 1st June, 1909, and payable on the 1st June, 1939, in denominations of $1,000 each, with coupons attached for interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the 1st June and 1st December in each year at the office of the Provincial Treasurer, Toronto, or at the offices of the Bank of Montreal, in Montreal, Canada, and in New York, N. Y., at the holder's option. Bonds will be made payable to bearer, but on request will be registered in the office of the Provincial Treasurer and endorsed as payable only to the order of certain persons or corporations, and on request of holders will be exchanged for "Ontario Government Stock" at any time.

"Ontario Government Stock" will bear interest from the 1st day of June, 1909, principal payable on the 1st day of June, 1939, and interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum will be paid half-yearly by cheque on the 1st day of June and 1st day of December in each year. "Ontario Government Stock" may be subscribed for in sums of $50 or multiples thereof, and will be transferable in the books of the Treasury Department only by the holder or his attorney in similar manner to transfers of bank stock.

The issue price during the month of June, 1909, will be 100 for each $100, and after the 30th day of June, 1909, the issue price will be 102 and interest accrued from the 1st June 1909.

ALL BONDS AND INSCRIBED STOCK ISSUED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE SAID ACT ARE FREE FROM ALL ONTARIO PROVINCIAL TAXES, CHARGES, SUCCESSION DUTY AND IMPOSITIONS WHATSOEVER.

Purchasers of Stock or Bonds will be required to send certified cheque with the application, payable to the order of the "Provincial Treasurer of Ontario."

This loan is raised upon the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Ontario, and is chargable thereupon.

Subscribers should state whether they desire bonds or "Ontario Government Stock."

Example: A subscriber for $1,000 will have the option of taking either a bond or "Ontario Government Stock." A subscriber for $500 will be given "Ontario Government Stock," as bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000.

MOVING PICTURES.

In another column of this issue appears a letter dealing with the five cent picture show in which it is pointed out that a high license should be placed upon them. It is claimed that a large number of people frequent the cheap theatres and leave all their loose change there. In fact it is stated by some that a great many people are unable to resist the desire to see the moving picture shows and thus spend a lot of money which is required for paying for the necessities of life. Not a few merchants complain of people running accounts for groceries, clothes, etc., while they nightly attend the picture shows with their family or friends.

Decoration Day.

Otonabee and Peterborough lodges I.O.O.F., will hold a joint meeting at their hall on Thursday night of this week. Important business is to come up, the chief topic being a discussion on the advisability of continuing the decoration ceremony.

Court Opened.

The June Sessions of the High Court of the County was formally opened by his Honor Judge O'Connell yesterday afternoon at one o'clock. His honor adjourned the court until Tuesday, June 22nd, when the cases to come up will be heard.

57's Trip.

It is understood that the 57th Regiment will have its annual trip on Labor Day this year. The objective point has not yet been selected, but it is learned that a long journey will not be undertaken, as heavy expenses were entailed in entertaining the two visiting regiments on May 24th.

Brock Street is Being Repaired.

The steam roller has been on Brock street from Water to Aylmer the past few days, doing some permanent work, and already a great improvement is noticed in the street. It would be a great thing if several miles of this kind of work could be done as the streets will stand it.

Purity Ware Bylaw to Be Discussed By the City Council tonight.

A meeting of the Committee of the Whole Council will be held this evening for the purpose of discussing the Purity Ware bylaw, which was of the company were in the city yesterday afternoon and met the Manufacturers' Committee, when a plan was adopted for disposing of the bylaw. That plan will be submitted to the council tonight and if passed upon favorably will be forwarded to the capitalists.

The time is passing along and the capitalists and the City Council are all anxious to see the buildings for the new industry started at once and this will be done if the capitalists and the council can get together. It it is not felt however that any great difficulty is in the way.

Last Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association and the last meeting for the season was held yesterday morning. Only a fairly good representatoin of the clergy were present. The president, Rev. H. J. Keith was in the chair. A paper on "The Bible," was read by Rev. G. W. Henderson. It proved very interesting and instructive and was followed by a discussion.

Mr. Best Here.

Mr. E. M. Best who is a student at the Y.M.C.A. training college, at Springfield Mass., arrived in Peterborough Saturday night, and will spend a short time here. He is being warmly greeted by his many friends who are pleased to hear that he is meeting with success in his new work. Mr. Best will Spend the summer at Hamilton where he will be connected with the Y.M.C.A.

Water Mains are Being Extended.

The Peterborough Water Commissioners, through their engineer, Mr. Henderson, have laid out several large extensions to their mains and work on them isnowinprogress. At work on them is now in progress. At the present time they are working on Aylmer street where an eight inch is being laid from Smith street to Aberdeen avenue, also in Benson avenue from the Normal school to the boundary on Woolsley street, on on Manning avenue from Benson ave. to Aylmer street and on Aberdeen avenue from Benson avenue east to Aylmer street. This takes in pretty much the whole of the Smithtown Hill that was previously not supplied with city water and a large increase in the consumption of water will result. The water will also be a great convenience to the population in that neighborhood.

Fishing Party to Stoney Lake.

Today marks the opening of the fishing season, and a party of the old time sports will leave today for La Belle Chase, Stoney Lake, where they will be the guests of Mr. H. Le Brun, for a few days. The party includes Dr. E. F. Hatton of the West Indies, who has been spending several months in the city with his brother, Mr. G. L. Hatton. Reports from Stoney Lake are of the brightest for a successful fishing season, and the following are the gentlemen who will investigate the authenticity of the reports; Dr. E. F. Hatton, Messrs. H. LeBrun, G. H Hatton, Alex. Elliott, E. G. Patterson, H. Winch, V. Eastwood, R. H. Kingan, E. A. Peck, T. F. Matthews, and probably others.

PERSONAL

Miss Sweeney is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Peck.

Mrs. C. Munns, St. Thomas, is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. Kemp, 655 George street.

Superintendent Tiffin of the Grand Trunk Railway was in the city yesterday for a few hours on his way through to Port Hope.

Mrs. John G. Cumming of St. Catharines is the guest of Mrs. W. I. Roazel, 517 Stewart street.

Mrs. Geo. W. Hall, 240 Simcoe street, left on Saturday for Montreal, where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Geo. E. Templeman.

Mr. H. C. Wright, former secretary of the Y.M.C.A., is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Houghton and two children, New York, arrived on Saturday, and have gone to Chenong, where they have taken Mr. Chas. McClellan's cottage, at Chemong Park for the whole season.

Mr. Walter Handley, who for the past three years has been a valued employee of the Review office, will leave the latter part of this week to take up residence in Toronto, where he has secured a position with the Lovell Publishing Co. of that city. During Mr. Hanley's stay in Peterborough, he has always been popular with all whom he came in contact, and his removal from the city will be much regretted by a large circle of friends. To Mr. and Mrs. Handley we extend our best wishes for continued success in the Queen City.

BRAIN BUILDING.

How to Feed Nervous Cases.

Hysteria sometimes leads to insanity and should be treated through feeding the brain and nerves upon scientifically selected food that restores the lost delicate gray matter. Proof of the power of the brain food, Grape-Nuts, is remarkably strong.

"About eight years ago when working very hard as a court stenographer I collapsed physically, then nervously, and was taken to the State Hospital for the Insane at Lincoln, Neb., a raving maniac.

"They had to keep me in a straight-jacket and I was kept in the worst ward for three months. I was finally dismissed in the following May but did no brain work for years, until last fall when I was persuaded to take the testimony in two cases.

"One of these was a murder case and the strain upon my nervous system was so great that I would have broken down again except for the strength I had built up by the use of Grape-Nuts. When I began to feel the pressure of the work on my brain and nerves I simply increased the amount of Grape-Nuts and used the food most regularly.

"I now feel like my old self again and am healthy and happy. I am sure that if I had known of Grape-Nuts when I had my trouble 8 years ago I would never have collapsed, and this dark experience in my life would never have happened.

The power of Grape-Nuts as a brain food is simply wonderful and I do not believe any stomach is so weak that it cannot digest this wonderful food."

Alfred L. Davis Dead

It will be learned with general regret in all parts of the city that Mr Alfred Lawrence Davis passed away at his residence, 439 Sherbourne street, Toronto, yesterday afternoon about five o'clock. Mr. Davis had been ill for some time, and had spent a couple of weeks at his summer home at Stoney Lake, in the hopes of regaining his health, but the change made no improvement, and he gradually sank until the end came. His death will be mourned by all. He was one of the best known business men in Toronto, being president and general manager of the Imperial Life, as well as being prominently identified with several financial and insurance institutions. As a business man he was admired and respected by all who came in contact with him. His intimate knowledge of affairs, his keen business foresight and sound judgment won for him a wide confidence.

The late Mr. Davis was born in Cobourg, July 7th, 1855, and came to Peterborough when a young man. He first entered business in a book store which he conducted successfully for a number of years, and then went in with Senator Cox in the insurance business, and when that gentleman moved to Toronto the deceased took charge of the very large insurance interests here. About five or six years ago he moved to Toronto himself and has made that his home since.

About 20 years ago Mr. Davis was married to Emma, eldest daughter of Senator Cox, and she alone survives him. To her is extended the heartfelt sympathy of the citizens of Peterborough.

Besides being a well known person in this city, Mr. Davis was one of the most prominent summer residents at Stoney Lake, where he has spent several months of the summer for many years, and the handsome new cottage he erected a short time ago is known to all Stoney Lake visitors.

The funeral of the late Mr. Davis will be held on Wednesday afternoon June 16th, and interment will take place at Mount Pleasant cemetery, Toronto.

Bought New Team.

The Peterborough Fuel & Cartage Company has purchased a fine team of general purpose horses from a farmer away back in Cavendish. The horses are a grey and a brown, and are of the first water. The price paid was $400.

Rough Grading to Be Done First.

The attention of The Times has been drawn to the system that has been in vogue in the city of permitting sewers and water mains to be laid on streets where the grading has not been done. For instance on Aylmer street where the commissioners are now putting down their mains they have had to do a great deal of unnecessary digging. In some places the road on the hill will be cut down three feet, while in others it will be built up about nine inches. If the rough grading was done first the extra digging would not be necessary, and as the grading has to be done anyway it might just as well be done before the sewers or water mains are laid It would save expense and would be much more convenient.

Applications for Water Numerous.

A gang of 50 men are now employed by the Peterborough Water Commissioners. The season 'is a very busy one, and promises to continue busy. There is a big rush of applications for services and Superintendent Henderson has already put in at least 70 this spring, and he has a bunch more on fyle waiting their turn. Then the new mains that are being laid will mean a great many more connections while applications from people living on streets where mains have been down for several years are always being received. After the several extensions now underway the commissioners will lay a main on Elm street from Park west to the boundary, and then will go over to James St. and build from Burnham to Mark streets. Other work for the season has not yet been mapped out.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Benson Ave. Sidewalk

In the press and in the council chamber and committee rooms there has been a wonderful lot of discussion over the location of the new Benson Ave sidewalk. Why this should be is hard to conceive. The people on the east side of the street want a new walk and th council has decided to give it to them. The people want it outside the tree line, but the Board of Works refuses to put it there. That is where the fight begins.

A Times representative visited the street that now has a reputation and found to his surprise that Benson Ave. while on the outskirts of the city, has the geographical position for a very beautiful residential avenue. It is high and well wooded while a very picturesque view is obtained from many points. The residents of the east side are asking for the walk outside the tree line on the grounds that it will permit them to assist nature in beautifying their lawns and boulevards. This cannot be done with the walk inside the trees, while a wonderful improvement will be made with the walk outside. The property owners guarantee to cut down their lawns and boulevards to a level with the new walk. They will all have about 10 or 12 feet more room and they will make that all a pretty grass plot. They also guarantee to improve their own property by either filling in or cutting down to make it conform with the walk. They also offer to remove some unsightly buildings and fences.

One thing against granting the peoples request is that it will narrow the roadway considerably, and should the street cars ever want to run up the hill there will not be room. Otherwise there is no visable reason why the walk should not go outside the tree line. The question to settle is, will the street cars ever run up to the Normal School? If not then the walk should be built outside the trees as the street will be much more beautiful.

Warden R. N. Scott Opened the June Session of County Council

In His Annual Address Referred to the Death of Judge Weller — The County's Finances in Good Shape--Tax Rate to Remain the Same

The county councillors were once more welcomed to the city yesterday. The reeves and deputy reeves gathered here from all parts of the county to transact county business. It was the regular June session and it was started off with the usual ceremonies. A special meeting was held first when the tenders for the $4000 debentures were opened. Several were received, but they were sold to Messrs. Simpson & Co., of Toronto, for $103. The meeting was then adjourned and the council went into regular session.

The regular session was opened by Warden R. N. Scott, reeve of Smith, with all the councillors present except Reeve Hales of Chandos, who did not arrive until the evening.

To the members of the County Council for 1909:

I am sure you will all join with me in recognizing our painful duty to refer to the death of the late Judge Weller. The high esteem in which he was held not only by the different councils which have represented the county, the county officials and citizens of the county, is an evidence that I voice the sentiments of all in extending our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family in the great loss they have sustained.

Again I would ask you (as did my predecessors) to join with me in recognizing the hand of a kind providence for the prospects of a bountiful harvest. I would like to draw your attention to the establishing of bounty roads in other counties and to note the benefit they derive by taking advantage of the government grant in that way, thereby building permanent roads a thing much desired and absolutely necessary.

The finances of the county from a general standpoint appear to be very satisfactory and much credit is due to the council from the fact that the chairman of the Finance Committee has been able to prepare a report, setting forth the facts in his recommendation that the old rate, viz., 24.5 mills will cover current expenditures. All the particulars of not only the general expenditures but also of the House of Refuge and for schools are set out by him.

I will not deal with the matter of bridges as no doubt the chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee will bring in his general report which will also be supplemented with reports from the different commissioners.

It is very gratifying to observe the co-operation of the chairman of the Finance Committee and his colleagues in not increasing the current liability, although we are offering $4000 for sale, yet debenture No. 607 being matured in 1908 the amount will not be increased.

There was a deficit of $1970.53 at the end of 1908, but the greater part of that was due to permanent improvements at the House of Refuge not provided for in current levy or by debenture, yet I think your finance report will show reasons satisfactory to all.

My attention has been drawn to providing for the extinction of the white plague, and I respectfully ask you to look into the reports and correspondence that are in the hands of the clerk.

The efforts of the County Council, acting in conjunction with the county papers has been rewarded by a response from the Dominion Government and the Provincial Government in the extending of a wharf at Lakefield, the moving of the swing bridge at Buckhorn from the locks to the channel, thereby avoiding an hour's delay in some cases to the travelling public; the widening of the approaches to the new Buckhorn bridge and the establishing of an agricultural class in the high school at Norwood with a grant of $1200 yearly from the Provincial Government.

In all matters concerning the House of Refuge the chairman of the board will discuss with you.

In concluding allow me to again thank you for the confidence you have placed in me and to thank you for the assistance you have given me in my official capacity, and assure you that the success of the council is attributable due to you. Wishing you and the county prosperity, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

R. N. SCOTT.
Warden.

A committee was appointed to consider the warden's address and report back to the council.

A number of communications were read and referred to their respective committees, and the council adjourned until the morning.

Purity Ware, Limited, will Get Free Site and Cheap Electric Power

The Purity Ware bylaw was up before the council last night. Ald. Gillespie stated that the Manufacturers' Committee had had a conference with the Purity Ware people on Monday and those people asked that the city give them something definite that would be done in case the legislature turned the bylaw down. Then the council gave them that they would proceed to Montreal and close the matter up.

Moved by Ald. Gillespie and seconded by Ald. Turner, that the city clerk write Purity Ware Limited, and inform them that the council is now in a position to furnish the power in accordance with the arrangement made with them as it has a letter from the Peterborough Light & Power Company, offering to supply power in accordance with the arrangements, and that steps have been taken to ensure the passage of an act by the Legislature of Ontario to confirm the bylaw when passed and the company, and that the council will apply and press for the passage of such an act and has no doubt whatever that the act will be passed when the legislature meets.—Carried.

The council also received a communication from a large number of business men to put up $100 each for a free site for the Purity Ware Limited in case the legislature should fail to pass the bylaw.

Thus the council is in a position to positively write to the company that they will be given a free site and electric power at a price agreed upon when the bylaw was drawn up.

Upon motion of Aldermen Morgan and Turner, it was moved that the account be paid.

HORSES' BITS.

Some time ago Ald. Morgan raised a fierce tempest about the horses of the fire hall being kept [illegible] bits in their mouth.

The city clerk was instructed to write to outside city departments and make enquiries about this matter. The clerk did so and got replies from most of the large Ontario cities and found that all the departments treat their horses the same as they are treated here. The bits are taken out while feeding and then put back.

DON'T MARRY TO EXCESS

Mark Twain Issues Warning to Girl Graduates at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., June 15.—In an address at the commencement exercises of St. Timothy's School for Girls, held yesterday, Mark Twain said:

"There is nothing for me to do but to tell you young ladies what not to do. There are three things that you should never do on any occasion.

"First, don't smoke—that is, not to excess. I am seventy-three and have always smoked during my seventy-three years to excess.

"Second, don't drink—that is, to excess.

SCORE HEREDITARY CHIEFS.

Six Nation Indians Make Strong Charges of Graft.

Brantford, Ont., June 15.—The Six Nations Warriors Association at a large picnic at Ohsweken launched a campaign to do away with the system of hereditary chiefs on the reserve, and an appeal will be made to Ottawa. According to tradition the chieftainships are confined to certain families, and when one chief dies the women of the family select another. This was characterized as petticoat Government. Charges of graft and maladministration were laid against the council by President Jacob Miller and other speakers in impassioned addresses.

DEFIED THE COURT.

Cardinal Refuses to Recognize French Authority.

Bordeaux, June 15.—When Cardinal Andrieux appeared in court this morning to answer the summons of the judge charging him with having incited a breach of the laws, by the allocution which he pronounced at the Cathedral on the occasion of his enthronement, he was acclaimed by an immense crowd of Catholics.

The Cardinal told the judge that he came as an act of courtesy, not because he recognized the competence of the court. He said he had spoken as a bishop, and that he was answerable only to his conscience, the Pope and God, and declared that he assumed full responsibility for his words, in which he maintained the right to distrust the laws of the Republic when these were prejudicial to the free exercise of religion.

When the Cardinal emerged from court he was again acclaimed.

"There's a Reason"

Popular Candidates in Great $3,000 Contest

The Opportunity of a Lifetime is Here—A $1250 Automobile--A Total of Twenty Prizes to be Given Away---Enter Your Name at Once---This is the Very Best Time to Enter.

Are you among them? The list of candidates in the Great $3,000 Prize Voting Contest is published today for the first time. Read the list, and then phone 164 and enter your name.

The Contest will now begin in earnest. You should enter your name at once so that your friends can see that you intend to be a prize winner. Enter the Contest and enjoy the fun with your friends, and gain a rich reward for a little pleasant work during the next six weeks. The time is short, the reward is great.

A LIST OF HIGH CHARACTER.

The Times is proud of its candidates. The list contains the names of some of the most prominent citizens of this section. People prominent in the social, educational, business, professional and industrial world have realized the great opportunity that is offered to them, and have entered as candidates in this Great $3,000 Contest.

CONTEST NOW BGINS IN EARNEST.

With the publication of the list of candidates the Contest really begins. So far only a little preliminary work has been done, but now the popular candidates will notify their friends that they are in the race to win, and will receive encouragement and subscriptions from those who are interested in their success.

ANY AMBITIOUS CANDIDATE CAN WIN.

As there are 20 prizes to be awarded, the list of candidates is very small in comparison. A large number of the early entries always drop out of a Contest for one reason or another. Some are not as popular as they thought, others have not the ambition to succeed in anything. The result is that the candidates who continue their campaign usually reap a rich reward for a little work during the few weeks of the Contest. Now is the best time to enter, while the Contest is just starting.

MANNER OF VOTING.

A coupon good for ten votes will be published in The Times. This coupon, if clipped and sent to The Times, will count as ten votes for the candidate named thereon.

THE BEST WAY.

There is another and a better way of securing votes and that is on paid in advance subscriptions. Vote certificates that can be held and voted later during the contest, will be issued on all paid in advance subscriptions.

Votes can be secured from old as well as new subscribers, the new subscriptions having twice the value of the old. Two thousand votes will be issued on every paid in advance subscription for one year from old subscribers, while a year's paid in advance subscription from a new subscriber will be valued at four thousand votes. You can secure subscriptions anywhere in the world.

OPEN EVENINGS.

For the accommodation of those who wish to enter the contest or get information respecting it, and who cannot call during the day, the Contest Department of The Times will be kept open until 9 o'clock at night if you are unable to call at any time, write or phone the Contest Manager and a representative will call and give you the desired information.

EIGHT SEPARATE PRIZES FOR EACH DISTRICT.

Each district is separate and distinct in itself and the votes cast for candidates in one district have no bearing whatever upon the number of votes cast for candidates in the other districts, except so far as the Grand Prizes are concerned. The Grand Prizes will be distributed among the four candidates having the greatest number of votes irrespective of all districts, and then eight prizes will be awarded to each district, four of the prizes going to the ladies and four to the men in each district. In order to equalize competition, the right is reserved to change the boundaries of the districts at any time before July 24.

CANDIDATES IN THE GREAT CONTEST.

Only the thousand given to each candidate on the nomination blank is credited in this list.

FIVE THOUSAND KILLED.

Massacres Reported in a Northwest Persian Province.

St. Petersburg, June 16.—A dispatch to the "Novoe Vremya" from Astara says that the Shakhsevan tribesmen are ravaging the Ardabil district in Azerbaijan, the most north west province in Persia. According to the dispatch five thousand persons have been killed and the inhabitants have appealed to the Russian Consul for protection.

TURKS AND PERSIANS FIGHT

Nineteen Persons Killed and Many Wounded in Encounter at Tabriz.

Teheran, June 15.—A report received here from Tabriz says that an altercation between the Turkish Consul at Salmas and gendarmerie led to a conflict with the Turkish troops, in which the Persians lost twelve killed and the Turks seven killed and a large number wounded.

Chief Howard and Ald. Buller will Attend the Meeting of Fire Chiefs

Chief Howard [illegible] in his application to the Fire, Water & Light committee for the privilege of attending the International Convention of the Fire Chiefs of America. He asked that one of the aldermen or some public spirited citizen be induced to go with him, and that the appropriation be set aside to pay his expenses.

Ald. Turner said he was quite willing that the chief should go.

Ald. Morgan also agreed as soon as the chief and added that he would like to see the chairman of the committee going also.

Ald. Hicks was also agreeable.

Ald. Turner and Ald. Hicks moved that the chief and the chairman of the committee be sent to the convention and that their expenses be paid. The convention will be held in Grand Rapids, Mich., in August 16 to 22. The two delegates will be allowed $50 each.—Carried.

Geo. Grange, assistant chief of the fire brigade, was paid his salary for the 15 days he was off duty on account of injuries.

Chief Howard brought up the matter of holidays for the firemen. He said it was understood that at the expiration of one year two weeks' holidays should be given. There are four men who will be entitled to their holidays, and he would like to have the committee give him authority to grant the holidays.

After some discussion the matter was left over for the next meeting which will be held on [illegible] days.

A family Bible will be purchased for the use of the firemen in the fire hall.

DR. GREER'S ACCOUNT.

Dr. Greer was present at the Fire, Water & Light Committee in reference to the non-payment of his bill for attending to a fireman who was injured at a fire last August. The account was only a small one ($10), but he was instructed to send the bill into the city.

The committee last year passed the account and the Finance Committee threw it out.

The chief explained that the man was injured through a faulty chemical.

Several Hydrants to be Placed Gratis for the Balance of Year

The Water Commissioners were present and Mr. Matthews addressed the committee. He said that the commissioners had sent several communications to the committee but had received no reply. They would like to know where the hydrants were to be placed on the new mains.

The chairman, Ald. Buller, said the committee formed of this for the first time now, and only once before were they asked to place hydrants and they did so next day. But the committee's money was exhausted for that purpose and that he would not agree for any more hydrants this year. If the commissioners wished to appear before the council and the same would the Fire, Water & Light Committee more money for hydrant purposes, all right. Otherwise no more hydrants would be ordered.

The chairman of the commissioners said that all that could be done was to place the hydrants later on when the council got more money.

Then Mr. Matthews said that as a large number of hydrants would be asked for and needed, he suggested that the committee place the hydrants and the commissioners would make no charge for them until after January 1st.

This met with the approval of the aldermen, but no one was able to state whether this could be legally done. However, the hydrants were ordered on condition the city solicitor gave his sanction.

It was moved by Ald. Turner and Ald. Morgan that the committee place hydrants two on Aylmer, one on Jones's [illegible] Mark, one on Bethune street and one on Rink street, these to be charged for after January 1st. A hydrant was also placed on Dutton avenue.—Carried.

Water Commissioners will Make no Charge for Flushing the Walks

Ald. Turner took advantage of the presence of the Water Commissioners at the Fire, Water & Light Committee to bring up the matter of flushing the sidewalks and gutters at night or early in the morning so as to clean the sidewalks and the gutters. He asked the commissioners if they would charge anything for the water used.

The chairman of the commissioners said that this was a matter new to him but his personal opinion was that as the city paid $2000 for the use of water that they were at liberty to use it and he could not see that there would be any objection, providing of course that [illegible] work was done by proper qualified persons.

Ald. Turner said that he had heard complaints that the commissioners charged for watering the boulevards. The commissioners said that no charge had been made for boulevards for the past three years.

Tell some deserving Rheumatic sufferer, that there is yet one simple way to certain relief. Get Dr. Shoop's book on Rheumatism and a free trial test. Creeps Like a Serpent

Catarrh is an Insidious Disease, scarcely Noticeable at First, but Horribly Relentless if not Checked.

No disease makes such inroads into weak constitutions as Catarrh. It spreads from the place of beginning to the lungs, bronchial tubes, stomach, intestines, and before long all the organs of the body are affected.

A splendid remedy, attended with remarkable success in curing Catarrh, has lately come prominently to the front. The name is Catarrhozone, and no case is recorded where it failed to quickly relieve and cure.

The strong points about Catarrhozone are that it is both a local and constitutional treatment. It not only affords quick relief to the local symptoms, but also purifies the blood of all catarrhal poisons, builds up and strengthens the system.

Catarrhozone Inhaler supplies in abundance of medicated air which is breathed in at the mouth, and after passing through every air cell and all passage of the breathing organs, is slowly exhaled through the nostrils.

This penetrating, volatile antiseptic at once kill the germs that cause Catarrh and prevents the disease spreading when once established. It is so healing and soothing that the inflamed membranes, and sore spots are restored to normal and healthy condition in a few days.

Catarrhozone cleanses the nose and throat and keeps them entirely free of mucous discharge. It prevents dropping in the throat, cures headache and makes breathing easy and the breath pure and sweet.

To build up and invigorate the system, a blood purifier and tonic called Ferrozone should be taken after each meals. In conjunction with Catarrhozone it is a valuable aid in establishing such a healthy condition of the body that Catarrh cannot exist.

Other medicines have been known to give relief, but to permanently eradicate every trace of Catarrh you must use Catarrhozone. It is a common-sense, convenient, clean method of cure that is endorsed by the profession and all intelligent pharmacists.

You are sure to be benefitted quickly and positively cured by Catarrhozone. The complete outfit costs only $1.00. Trial size, 25c. Sold by Druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

TRIBUTE TO CANADA.

Remarkable tribute is paid to Canada's financial stability in an article in the Economiste Francais from the pen of M. Pierre Leroy Beaulieu As a professor of the College de France and a member of the Institute, M. Leroy-Beaulieu may be said to know whereof he speaks in matters economical. Among his best known works are "Traite de la science des Finances" and "Traite theorique et pratique d'economie politique."

In his article in the Economiste, Professor Leroy-Beaulieu says in part: "While less affected than the United States, Canada felt last year the rebound of the American crisis. However, yet calmer, and above all much less industrial, Canada did not give way to those exaggerations into which speculative tendencies dragged her neighbors of the south. Loans and the distribution of capital were less excessive, and the shock was also not so heavy. It was felt however, and the trace of it is marked not only in the foreign trade statistics in which imports diminished to the same degree as in the United States, and in which exports themselves were slightly affected, but also and above all in the receipts of the Treasury. In submitting his budget for 1909-1910, the Canadian Minister of Finance, Mr. Fielding, stated to the House that the receipts during the course of the fiscal year which had finished on the 31st of March, 1909, did not amount to more than $84,500,000 as compared with $86,000,000 for the preceding year—a fall of nearly twelve per cent. One must congratulate the Canadian Government for having been able, thanks to rigid economy, to maintain budgetary equilibrium, and to even secure an excess of a million and a half, in face of so enormous a diminution in the income. None the less, this diminution shows the severity of the crisis.

Moreover, the Government, following its policy of reducing expenditure, proposes to fix the total of the latter for 1909-1910 at $22,-500,000 less than the original estimates of 1908-1909. The purposed reduction in expenditure for the coming year is thus double the reduction observed in the year which came to a close a month ago. It is considered by some that this is an over-economical policy for a new country like Canada to practice, where all public services must be developed year by year to keep them in line with the general expansion. But nothing is more injurious to a new country than the weight of taxation, and it seems, to us that the Canadian Government was eminently right in trying to avoid it. If receipts increase as one may hope, supplementary appropriations may, as Mr. Fielding admits the possibility, meet the most urgent needs. If not, the satisfaction of the latter will be adjourned. States, like individuals, must regulate their means At the present, time Canada is one of those rare countries which are setting this excellent example.

It didn't take Castro long after he had ceased to make a nuisance of himself to drop out of sight. This teaches us that prominence is sometimes merely the art of being disagreeable.

THE NEW SOUTH AFRICA.

While the strength of the British Empire is in question, it may be of value to remember that another of the British Dominions Overseas is in the framing, says the Ottawa Journal. The scars of the Boer war could hardly have healed, one would have thought. Yet here is General Botha the Boer premier of the Transvaal, going to London to ask the Home Government's approval of an act for the federal union of Cape Colony, Natal, the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony. It is surmised perhaps it may be described as a piece of unwritten history that a stimulus to the movement on which this union is to be based was given by our own Sir Wilfrid Laurier when he met General Botha at the last Imperial conference. However that may be, the proposed federation of the British South African states is empire building of sorts. It justifies absolutely the partial autonomy granted the conquered Dutch peoples three years ago. It is in perfect allignment with the policy which has made Great Britain the most successful, practically the only world.

The union was brought about in a spirit of wholesome compromise. The new legislature will meet in Cape Town. There will be 51 members from Cape Colony, 36 from the Transvaal and 17 each from Natal and the "Orange Free State Province," as it is to be styled in deference to Dutch sentiment. The electoral districts are to be practically equal in voting strength, which will give an advantage to the English, while on the other hand the Dutch language will be officially recognized, as the French language is officially recognized in Canada. The old provincial capitals will be preserved and provincial councils will regulate purely domestic affairs, such as agriculture, the police and education.

The four colonies comprising the new union occupy nearly half a million square miles of territory. Cape Colony coming first with 276,995 square miles, including native dependencies, followed by the Transvaal with 111,196 square miles. Then comes the Orange River Colony with 50,392 square miles, and Natal smallest of all, with 35,371 square miles. The white population of the four colonies is relatively small, being little over a million, but federation is all the more important upon this very account, seeing by nearly four to one. There is a native population of four millions, largely made up of warlike peoples Zulus, Bechuanas, Swazis, Basutos and others, who for the present at least must be ordered by an unswerving discipline.

KEEPING AWAY FROM THE HAGUE.

The agreement of nations to send their disputes to The Hague for settlement is generally regarded with gratification. In many cases it should be, though not in all. As a final resort, or as the last excepting only an appeal to arms, such reference is doubtless commendable. But there are cases in which it is to be deprecated and in which a decision not, at least for the time being, to submit disputes to The Hague is to be regarded with sincere pleasure by the most judicious friends of peace.

Such a case is that between China and Japan. For some time those powers have been at odds over a certain railroad question in which Japanese rights in Manchuria are questioned, and over the Corean boundary line. Not long ago the Chinese government signified a desire to have the whole matter submitted to the tribunal at The Hague, to which Japan was understood to demur, with consequent exposure to some criticism. Now we are informed that China has withdrawn the request for reference to The Hague and wishes to resume direct negotiations with Japan.

That, we repeat, is cause for rejoicing. For it is far better, from every practical point of view, to have a dispute settled by direct negotiation than to have it settled at The Hague or by any outside arbitration or adjudication. It is, indeed, just as desirable to keep away from The Hague until all resources of direct negotiation have been exhausted as it is desirable to go to The Hague when they have been exhausted and nothing remains but The Hague or war. We may observe a close analogy in the case of individual disputants. It is doubtless far better for two men to go to court than to pummel or shoot each other; but it is also a great deal better for them to settle their quarrel out of court, between themselves, if they can.

The reasons for this are many and should be obvious. Among them the one which at present is best worth emphazing is the fact that direct negotiations naturally tend toward closer, more friendly and more confident relations between the countries concerned, while references of a dispute to an alien tribunal may have the contrary effect. In direct negotiations the two powers substantially say: "Come, let us reason together. We are friends and we trust each other; and we can reach an understanding without the aid of anybody else." But if they cannot trust each other without the intervention of a third party, there is a tacit assumption of antagonism and unfriendliness. In the present case it is to be hoped their disputes between themselves, will be settled though if they do not they will still have, and doubtless will seek, recourse to The Hague.

If Sick

Don't risk even one single penny!

And I will tell you why I say this.

It is because every package of Dr. Sheep's medicine is absolutely free if it fails.

No one need risk even one single penny.

Just think what this means to the suffering sick!

No risk, not a penny, nothing whatever unless health is restored. For 28 full days, and without the risk of a single penny, you can use either of my two famous remedies—Dr. Sheep's Restorative or Dr. Sheep's Rheumatic Remedy.

Then why take any chance whatever

Why purchase any medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

And besides, I am no stranger to you.

My "No Relapse" pills have made Dr. Sheep's Restorative famous in every great town in the land. They are, I boldly said, "No Cure, no chance whatever fees."

For twenty years Dr. Sheep's medicines have become thoroughly established all over America.

And I have [illegible] and honest and responsible druggists [illegible] every village everywhere to sell Dr. Sheep's remedies. These selected druggists are authorized to [illegible] the sick—and the entire risk is mine alone.

Remember, you are free to consult me by letter as you would your home physician. So be frank and fully—if you desire. My advice and the books I send are yours—and without cost. Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some subtle ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private investigation or personal advice plan.

Besides, the books will open up new and helpful ideas to you. They tell of my 28 years experience as the physician in charge of the Sheep Sanitarium. All about the [illegible] and you [illegible] Heart, the Kidneys, Blood, Nerves, Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Bladder, Skin, Rheumatism, Piles, Weak Men, Lame Backs, Weak Lungs, or Nervous Women. REMEMBER ONE DAY ONLY

AUCTION SALE OF PINE TIMBER

There will be offered for sale by public auction, at an upset price, on the 23rd day of June next, at the Russell House, in the City of Ottawa, at the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon, the pine timber of nine inches and upwards in diameter at the stump, and no other, on Berth No. 2, Dokis Indian Reserve, situated on French River, in the Province of Ontario, containing an area of 5 39-100 square miles.

The purchaser of the berth will be required to make a payment of $3,600 in cash at the time of sale and within ten days from the date of sale such further sum as shall make ten per cent. of the purchase price of the berth.

Promissory notes will be taken for the balance of the purchase money payable in three, six and nine months at the Bank of Montreal, in the City of Ottawa, with interest thereon at 6 per cent. per annum.

Crown dues shall be payable on the timber cut at the rate of $2 per M. feet, B.M., on sawlogs, and $50 per M. feet, cubic measure on square or waney timber, also annual ground rent of $24 and license fee of $4.

The cash payments shall be forfeited in the event of failure to pay the balance of bonus within the time above mentioned.

The license will be issued in due course after payment of the dues as above specified, and it will be renewable yearly upon compliance with all conditions thereof for a period of nine years and no longer, and it will be subject to the Manufacturing Conditions established by order of His Excellency in Council on the 19th day of April, 1901.

Crown dues at the rates above specified shall be paid under sworn returns, as required by the Timber Regulations of the Department.

Further information in regard to the berth may be had on application to the undersigned.

The unauthorized insertion of this advertisement will not be paid for.

J. D. McLEAN,
Secretary.

Department of Indian Affairs, Ottawa, May 4, 1909.

A Woman's Sympathy

Are you discouraged? Is your doctor's bill a heavy financial load? Is your pain a heavy physical burden? I know what these mean to delicate women—I have been discouraged, too, but learned how to cure myself. I want to relieve your burdens. Why not end the pain and stop the doctor's bill? I can do this for you and will if you will assist me.

All you need do is to write for a free box of the remedy which has been placed in my hands to be given away. Perhaps this one box will cure you—it has done so for others. If so, I shall be happy and you will be cured for 2c (the cost of a postage stamp). Your letters held confidentially. Write to-day for my free treatment. MRS. F. E CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

Contest in Interest of Every Advertiser

Increased Number of Subscribers Obtained by this Means Gives More Readers for the Advertisers—It's a Subscription Getter—Prizes are Valuable and Desirable

Many feel surprised that The Times is able to offer such a list of handsome and expensive prizes to the public. This is easily explained. A newspaper spends a great deal of time and money each year in collecting and renewing its subscriptions. Experience has shown that the use of special prizes, and the employment of experts to do this work, is a wise investment from a business standpoint. We simply contract with an expert who knows the management of these things as an engineer knows his engine. We have a special office in The Times building in which to conduct the contest and a large force of assistants will conduct the work, thus assauring the contestants every consideration and assistance compatible with perfect impartiality.

As many of our readers know, the advertiser, who pays three times as much toward the expense of a newspaper as does the reader, needs large circulations to bring him customers. So newspapers can afford to give these inducements from time to time for the benefit of their subscribers. The Peterborough Times, Daily and Weekly, now goes into thousands of homes. We expect to add many thousands to that before this contest ends.

The prizes are well worth seeing and will be exhibited in prominent places. The Times does not simply give them away, for we get much in return one of our best assets being the satisfaction of our subscribers, who are all pleased with this chance either winning a most desirable prize for themselves, or of helping a favorite candidate to do so. You can win the prize without making any outlay, by simply asking your friends to subscribe to The Times and give the votes thus won to you.

KENORA MENACED BY FOREST FIRES.

Conflagration Raging Within a Mile of the Town.

Kenora June 14—Serious bush fires are raging within a mile of this town, and unless rain soon comes serious consequences will ensue. Already several farms on the outskirts of the town have been burnt. There is no immediate prospect of the situation being relieved.

Fires Along Winnipeg River.

Winnipeg, Man., June 14.—Bush fires of a serious character are reported in Eastern Manitoba and Western Ontario. Along the Winnipeg River they are particularly bad. The fires are very close to Kenora, and the sky is black with smoke. Unless there is rain the damage will be very heavy.

TOWN DESERTED BY GOLD SEEKERS.

Rush to Stake Claims Near Paynton, Saskatchewan.

Paynton, Sask., June 14.—A gold and silver mine was discovered seven miles south of here last week, and a large number of claims have already been staked. The town was practically deserted yesterday, as everybody left to stake out a claim.

The gold and silver is in quartz and gravel, and was analyzed by A. Forbes, M. D., of Duluth, Minn. One sample of quartz assayed $999.14 in gold, to the ton, and $6 in silver, and a sample of gravel went $26.10 in gold to the ton.

WOMEN OF EGYPT WANT TO BE COURTED.

Demand Right to Have Voice in Choosing of Husbands.

Cairo, Egypt, June 15.—Mohammedan women [illegible]ding members of the Khedivial, or reigning family, have started a campaign, to win for their sex the right to have a voice in choosing husbands to put aside the veil which hides doors of the harem, although their steps may lead to precincts where men abound. Conservative leaders are agitated and the native press is discussing the movement as of paramount importance.

There was a meeting recently in the Grand Opera House of [illegible]ward of 4,000 women, repre[illegible]m of society. Speeches were made by Princess Aisha and others of prominence, which brought out a unanimous vote for resolution demanding freedom from harem life, the abolition of the veil, permission to be in society of men and the right to be courted.

The resolution have been forwarded to the Khedive and his Cabinet. A permanent organization has been formed and branches are being established throughout Egypt.

The ultra-conservative Moslem press is sounding the alarm against "an infusion of European ideas into the sanctity of the harem." The Christians, both native and foreign, view the movement with unreserved favor.

Priests are writing to the press that it is against the tenets of Islamism to grant the women's demands. The fair rebels challenge anyone to point to a single text in the Koran proving that contention. In fact, the women cite the Koran in support of their emancipation. No law compels a woman to take a husband designated solely by relatives. Eminent lawyers say the courts will hold that the women have the right to choose husbands because the law—applied now only in theory—provides that the bride's consent to marriage is essential.

Immemorial custom has so construed it that the bride is never present when the wedding ceremony is being celebrated, her consent having been obtained by proxy.

YOKOHAMA'S BIG DAY

She Will Celebrate 50th Anniversary at a Cost of $250,000.

Tokio, Friday, May 15.—The celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the Port of Yokohama to foreign commerce will be held on July 1 and 2 this year.

It is proposed to spend about $250,000 in entertainments, and the foreign squadrons of the nations represented in the Pacific and the Far East will be invited to the harbor during the celebration. The foreign residents generally have expressed their desire to cooperate in every possible way. Among other things, it is purposed to erect a memorial hall, especially commemorative of the opening of the port.

A LITTLE BOY'S HAND TORN BY COLLIE DOG.

Ernest Belfry Jumped at by Canine to which He Had Not Given Provocation.

Toronto, June 15.—Ernest Belfrey, the 8-year-old son of A. J. and Mrs. Belfrey, who are living at the Brunswick Hotel, at the corner of Bloor and Brunswick, was badly bitten by an ugly collie dog belonging to H. Arnold, butcher, at 10.20 this morning.

The lad was walking along the street at the corner where the hotel stands, and swinging his hand, when the dog, without provocation, jumped at him, inflicting several ugly wounds on the boy's left hand. The palm was torn in two places, one rend being an inch long, while the back of the hand and the two last fingers were also lacerated by ithe brute.

The boy's cries were heard for a block and men rushed to his assistance, but he fainted from fright and the pain from his injuries. He was carried into the hotel and Dr. Allan Shore, of Bloor and Robert streets, attended to his injuries.

The canine was taken in charge by a policeman and taken to Ossington avenue station to await instructions.

Mr. Belfrey, who is the manager of the Tooronto Box Barrel Co., was notified and quickly came home. He affirms he will have the dog destroyed at any cost. It is said a child was bitten by the dog some little time ago.

THE NEW SULTAN AS A PATHETIC FIGURE.

It is not reasonable to expect a too critical opinion of a man to be delivered just after he becomes the ruler of millions of people, and therefore an article by Kageton Dunbar on the Sultan of Turkey, written from Constantinople and published in the Philadelphia Ledger, does not err on the side of severity. From his published portraits, Mehemed A. might reasonably be set down as a sensualist, for rarely has a more unprepossessing countenance been borne by a sovereign. Mr. Dunbar, however, represents the Sultan as rather a pathetic figure, and declares him to be now fighting hard with his masters, the Young Turks, to save the life of the deposed Abdul, to whom he owes his thirty years' imprisonment.

Fondling the Fetters.

It must be admitted that there was pathos in the bewilderment, almost the terror, of Mehemed when, with only a day's warning, he was taken from his prison and placed upon the throne of Turkey. The sights overpowered him. "Give Yildiz to the nation," he said, "I will not live in it," and with the strange attachment life prisoners often have for their cell, he has made Dolma-Bayhtche the palace. Though not approaching Yildiz in its magnificence, the new royal residence is an imposing enough structure, overlooking the Bosphorus. For thirty years it has been the residence of the new Sultan. There he was kept a prisoner by his brother and not permitted on pain of death to leave the grounds except on special occasions. He was not even allowed to use the rooms overlooking the Bosphorus, for fear the sight of the blue waters might move in him some daring thought to escape. Now Mehemed goes pottering about the place, supervising the installation of telephones and electric lights, modern inventions which he saw for the first time after coming to the throne

Tortured by His Brother.

Although it is only a few months since Mehemed was tortured by having pins stuck in his body for being suspected of having communication with the Young Turks. Mehemed told Chevket Pasha that he would rather not be made Sultan if his accession meant the death of his brother. A few weeks ago, a sentry who saluted the closed carriage in which Mehemed was taking a carefully planned drive was tried by court-martial. Perhaps the bitterest misfortune that befell Hehemed was ten years or so ago, when he was robbed of his favorite wife. She was taken from him by the Sultan and handed over to a courtier. Not until he came to the throne was he able to obtain the slightest clue to her whereabouts. Then he learned that she had died several years before. If a Turk, with several wives, has somewhat similar feelings for his wives as a Christian has for his wife, the forgiving nature of Mehemed may well cause astonishment.

An Exchange of Prisons.

In the first few days after his accession the new Sultan was willing, and even eager, to see any journalist who presented himself. "Do you really think there is so much poverty in this country? Do you find a great difference between Europe and this?" These were his two favorite questions. The Young Turks, however, have discouraged this exhibition of artlessness, and the Young Turks are masters of the situation. An old priest, who has been with Mehemed for years, declares. "They took him out of one prison and put him in another. The only difference is that whereas before he had one jailer, now he has a hundred." It does not appear that Mehemed is destined to be much more than a boot mark in a new chapter of Turkish history. He has shown no ambition to rule or to manage. However, he is exerting an influence to promote sociability, and to break down some of the cast iron barriers that hitherto have hedged in the Sublime Porte.

Three Wives, Four Children.

Hehemed has three wives and four children, three sons and a daughter. The eldest is thirty-two and the youngest seven, and the existence of this little family makes it likely that the Turkish law of succession, which has led to so much bloodshed and cruelty and conspiracy, will be changed. Hitherto, it has been the eldest male kinsman of the Sultan that succeeds him, if he is as near in blood as a cousin. The probability is that the law will be altered so that the eldest son will be the heir, and this will secure the succession of Zia Eddin. It will also put an end to the intriguing for Hehemed Burhan Effendi, the fourth and favorite son of Abdul, an energetic young man of 24, and a keen soldier. It is expected that if the reactionaries make an attempt to dethrone the present Sultan, Mehemed Burhan will be the claimant round whom they will rally. Mehemed will be content, apparently, to let the Young Turks keep him on the throne if there is any strong movement to oust him. He is in their hands by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There a only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the express on of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, Friday, June 18.

DOUMA STRIKES HIGH.

Practically Accuses Russian Premier of Protecting Murderers.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—The Douma to-night by a large majority adopted the interpellation charging Dr. Dubrovin, president of the League of Russian People, with organizing political murders. Deputy Protopopoff in urging its adoption stated that this was not the desire of one party or another, but of the whole country, which was awaiting official explanation of the activity of the League of Russian People.

M. Gerschkori, Social Democrat, cited various documents secured from a former secretary of Dr. Dubrovin which showed the close connection of the league with the secret police.

He declared that Premier Stolypin has been aware for some time past where the murderers of MM. Hertzenstein and Jollos could be found, but that he has refrained from prosecuting them. The speaker said that he had no hope of aiding the activity of the league so long as the autocracy of the monarchy continued.

Weary, Worn Out, Tired

f You Feel Poorly this Spring the Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health If the nerves are weak, if the stomach iver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, healthy surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health —the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a remedy of known reputation, like Dr Hamilton's Pills, which have had years of experience in compounding them. For the tired and tired feeling of spring Dr Hamilton says nothing better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proven in the case of James Burton of Leslieville, Ont., who writes in his own "I was run down and felt miserable. The blood seemed in my back and sides, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves were unstrung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale and weak—but it was no good. Spring rouble depressions, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. Business life was spoiled, simply because I learned of the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have clearer blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr Hamilton's Pills. 25c. at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure helpful for old and young

More Wood

The steamer Beaver arrived in the city yesterday with another big scow load of wood for the Peterborough Fuel & Cartage Co. Last night seven teams and fifteen men were employed unloading it.

These Big Hats

Rev. Mr. Pogue, in his sermon last Sunday night gave the wearers of big hats a little rap which it is hoped some of them will take home with them and ponder over.

Here for the Fishing

Messrs. R. O., H. W. and J. L. Phillips of Rochester, N.Y. arrived in the city Monday night, and were guests at the Hotel National, until the morning, when they left for Burleigh Falls. They came oper to enjoy a week or ten days' fishing at the falls, and are certainly going to be on hand for an early start. They will be sent out the first thing this morning and expect to land a few good ones.

PERSONAL

Chas. Greenwood of Lakefield, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. Fred Hobbs of Hastings was in the city yesterday

Mr J. A. Ferguson, M.P., well known representative of [illegible] riding, was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. W. J. Mason and daughter left for Winnipeg yesterday where they will join Mr. Mason.

Mr. [illegible] was in the city yesterday on business.

Mrs. J. W. Collins and Miss Mary Collins left yesterday for Montreal where they will visit friends.

Mrs. J. Jamieson of the Bank of Montreal, is a visitor to Peterborough. Mrs. Jamieson is a former resident of this city.

Congratulations are out for the marriage of Nora Beatrice, daughter of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. R. Z. Rogers, of "Woodside" Gladstone, to Mr W. B. M. King, C.E., on July 7th, at St. George's church.

The steamer Rideau arrived at the Water street wharf after eleven o'clock yesterday morning with an excursion from Hastings. It was the annual outing of the Anglican church of that village and was attended by about one hundred and twenty-five. They spent the day in the city visiting the various show places and left at four o'clock for the return trip.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that the nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to the vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of the prescription demands only the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

Conductor Left

Conductor Solme of the Street Railway Company did a fancy stunt a couple of nights ago. He reached the corner of George and Charlotte streets and gave the signal to the motorman to go ahead, intending him to stop after he got clear of the crossing. The conductor jumped off to get a paper while the motorman kept on going and the "car" had to cover the ground in big jumps to catch his car at the G.T.R. crossing.

Challenge Issued

All the committees in charge of St. Peter's T.A.S excursion are asked to meet tomorrow evening at the rooms to keep the affairs in close touch and to rush along the arrangements. It is one of the policies of the committee to have everything completed several days before Dominion Day, and this year will not be an exception. One of the features of the sporting program will be a tug-of-war in which the C.A.S. will meet any team in the county. There are many men who are interested in this sport and the challenge will meet with more than one acceptance.

The Commissioners Ask for Increase

Mr. W. H. Moore, K.C., Walter Cluney, Esq., solicitor, called on behalf of the Commissioners for the Waterworks Extension, asked for a further increase in the water rates. The Commissioners have been in communication with the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, and it is expected that the water rates will be doubled and the sewage rates increased. Mr Moore was asked to place his request on paper and send it in to the Board.

The Mayor will Attend the Funeral

At a special meeting of the council last night his worship Mayor Rush was authorized to attend the funeral of the late A. L. Davis in Toronto today as a representative and Mr. Morgan of the Lockworks and Ald. W. G. Murrow will also attend the funeral.

GRANT FOR ROAD.

A letter was received from the Reeve of Cavan, asking for an audience with the City Council re grant towards the construction of a new road on the 14th concession. The matter was left in the hands of the mayor, and he will bring the matter up at the next meeting of the council.

A Successful Social at the Y.W.C.A.

The garden party on the lawn of the Y.W.C.A. last night was a big success in every way. The attendance was very large and the lawn was filled all all evening, while quite a number were also inside in the parlors. Refreshments consisting with strawberries and cream, ice cream, cake, and candies were placed in different parts and everything was in readiness. Mr R. J. Dewey's orchestra rendered splendid music all evening on the verandah. As a result of the party the Y.W.C.A will have a good sum to add to their library fund.

Blythe May Not Pay Death Penalty

Ottawa, June 15—There is a bare possibility that Walter Blythe, the Agincourt wife-murderer, will not pay the death penalty at Toronto on Thursday morning.

Hon. Charles Murphy, acting minister of justice, after fully considering the representations which have been made to him within the past two days, this morning wired T. C. Robinette, K.C., of Toronto, Blythe's counsel, as follows:

"Justice Department holds that in circumstances you mention, remedy, if any, would be application to court or judge for respite, with view to bringing case before Court of Appeal in September."

If this suggestion is adopted, and the application for respite is granted, the proceedings will necessarily be stayed.

This is the only course of action open to the Department of Justice, which must deal only with the facts before it, and on these facts a decision has already been given adverse to the commutation of the sentence.

Yesterday the minister was urged to further stay the execution on the ground that Blythe's reason is giving way. He was advised that he would be watched upon today by Dr. Clarke of the Toronto Asylum, and others in respect to the minister.

Today the minister was advised that the deputation was not coming to Ottawa, but it was urged that a respite be granted till September so that a commutation would be given to attack Judge Rather.

In the meantime it is said that the opinion was expressed that the Court of Appeal, if given an opportunity would reduce the sentence passed on Blythe to one of manslaughter on grounds on appeal.

In view of these representations the minister advised those acting on behalf of Blythe in the case of the decision must be given. Mr Murphy leaves for the West tonight and will be absent from the city for six weeks.

Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsina Sound, Vancouver Island.

Asset.

The [illegible] have acquired 5[illegible] acres of Pulp land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp limits acquired, the company have also secured a [illegible] inch water record on Moore Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from [illegible] to [illegible] h.p. The creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of [illegible] tons of news and wrapping per week, we are pushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our [illegible] pulp limits, which enables us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $3.000 per ton. At present news is jobbing in British Columbia at [illegible] per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a the present time exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden ,Germany ,Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia ,on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord, in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the preferred stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to own stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium; remember the time to buy stock in any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture.

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent. annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 50 per cent. With our natural advantages we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $20.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $15.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Eastern Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $15.00 per ton on wrapping and $17.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $6.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1908 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $251,454. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,252,256. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 25th, 1907, Bulletin 80, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 20 2-3 per cent, of the value of goods over all expenses, of 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International Paper Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,458,919.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $57.50 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent. on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent, upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 10 per cent. more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over $6,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volumn of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 56 square miles, which assures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

Two $50 Gold Pieces Sell For $10,000 Each—Record Figure.

New York, June 15.—Two $50 gold pieces struck from the United States mint at Philadelphia in 1877 were sold yesterday at the Numismatic Club to William M. Woodin, a wealthy collector of this city, for $10,000 each, the highest price ever paid for an American coin. Both were perfect specimens.

Fifty-dollar gold pieces were struck from octagonal private dies during the early mining days of California, but so far as is known to numismatists the two pieces sold yesterday afternoon are the only ones of this denomination ever coined by the government.

TIMES' PRIZE PIANOS ON EXHIBITION AT NELSON MUSIC CO. AND TIMES OFFICE

Popular Candidates in Great $3,000 Contest

The Opportunity of a Lifetime is Here—A $1250 Automobile—A Total of Twenty Prizes to be Given Away—Enter Your Name at Once—This is the Very Best Time to Enter.

Are you among them? The list of candidates in the Great $3,000 Prize Voting Contest is published today for the first time. Read the list, and then phone 168 and enter your name.

The Contest will now begin in earnest. You should enter your name at once so that your friends can see that you intend to be a prize winner. Enter the Contest and enjoy the fun with your friends, and gain a rich reward for a little pleasant work during the next six weeks. The time is short, the reward is great.

A LIST OF HIGH CHARACTER.

The Times is proud of its candidates. The list contains the names of some of the most prominent citizens of this section. People prominent in the social, educational, business, professional and industrial world have realized the great opportunity that is offered to them, and have entered as candidates in this Great $3,000 Contest.

CONTEST NOW BGINS IN EARNEST.

With the publication of the list of candidates the Contest really begins. So far only a little preliminary work has been done, but now the popular candidates will notify their friends that they are in the race to win, and will receive encouragement and subscriptions from those who are interested in their success.

ANY AMBITIOUS CANDIDATE CAN WIN.

As there are 20 prizes to be awarded, the list of candidates is very small in comparison. A large number of the early entries always drop out of a Contest for one reason or another. Some are not as popular as they thought; others have not the ambition to succeed in anything. The result is that the candidates who continue their campaign usually reap a rich reward for a little work during the few weeks of the Contest. Now is the best time to enter, while the Contest is just starting.

MANNER OF VOTING.

A coupon good for ten votes will be published in The Times. This coupon, if clipped and sent to The Times, will count as ten votes for the candidate named thereon.

THE BEST WAY.

There is another and a better way of securing votes and that is on paid-in-advance subscriptions. Vote certificates that can be held and voted later during the contest, will be issued on all paid in advance subscriptions.

Votes can be secured from old as well as new subscribers, the new subscriptions having twice the value of the old. Two thousand votes will be issued on every paid in-advance subscription for one year from old subscribers, while a year's paid-in advance subscription from a new subscriber will be valued at four thousand votes. You can secure subscriptions anywhere in the world.

OPEN EVENINGS.

For the accommodation of those who wish to enter the contest or to get information respecting it, and who cannot call during the day, the Contest Department of The Times will be kept open until 9 o'clock at night if you are unable to call at any time, write or 'phone the Contest Manager and a representative will call and give you the desired information.

EIGHT SEPARATE PRIZES FOR EACH DISTRICT.

Each district is separate and distinct in itself and the votes cast for candidates in one district have no bearing whatever upon the number of votes cast for candidates in the other districts, except so far as the Grand Prizes are concerned. The Grand Prizes will be distributed among the four candidates having the greatest number of votes irrespective of all districts, and then eight prizes will be awarded to each district, four of the prizes going to the ladies and four to the men in each district. In order to equalize competition, the right is reserved to change the boundaries of the districts at any time before July 24.

Do you want a fine $1,250 Oldsmobile touring car, a handsome piano, a sparkling diamond ring, a trip to Seattle, a perfectly dandy Morris Chair, a pretty and useful writing desk.

If you want any of these things, (and what man or woman, boy or girl, would be indifferent to such a list?) then The Peterboro Times is ready to give you the opportunity to win the prize of your energetic people for a little work during the next seven weeks.

HOW TO WIN A PRIZE.

The object of the Contest is to secure paid-in-advance subscribers to The Times. Votes will be issued on renewals of old subscriptions as well as on new subscriptions.

The twenty prizes will be given to the ladies and gentlemen, girls and boys, who secure the largest number of votes issued to paid in advance subscriptions to The Times during the contest.

It costs a candidate nothing to enter the contest and to win a prize.

The Touring Car and all of the twenty prizes will be given to the candidates who secure subscriptions from their friends and the public.

The prize will be given to the candidates who work in the contest, and no candidates will be allowed to use unfair methods.

No subscriptions for a longer period than ten years will be accepted.

"A SQUARE DEAL TO ALL" is the motto of the contest.

$1,250 OLDSMOBILE TOURING CAR.

Doubtless many of your acquaintances have automobiles. This is your opportunity to own one of the best machines made. Think of the many delightful rides in store for you. What wealth and happiness you will give your family and friends. Or perhaps you want a certain sum of money for a particular purpose. Then win the touring car and use the money you get for it any way you please.

The disposal of the city's sewage and how to overcome the trouble in the present outfall sewer which runs down George street to Lock and down Lock to the river, will for the next few weeks be a live issue in civic circles. Some time ago Mr. Willis Chipman of Toronto, was engaged to prepare a report for a new outfall sewer on Park street and also to report upon the present outfall and the Romaine street sewers. Mr. Chipman met the Board of Works last night and although he has not yet completed his report he addressed the committee and made several suggestions for the aldermen to consider. He pointed out that to construct the present sewer on Park street would be a good thing and will eventually have to be built. At the present time, however, he says that it is unnecessary and should not be for ten or fifteen years to come according to the development of the city. The present sewer is, or should be, large enough to carry off all the sewage matter emptied into it. The great trouble is that the lower part is sometimes in high water it backs up as far as Rink street. This is a very bad condition of affairs and does not give the sewer a chance.

The outlet near the river is so low and to overcome this Mr. Chipman suggests a [illegible] pumping station [illegible] on the river bank not operated during high water. That is the only time the sewer needs any assistance. This pumping plant would be in a building about 20 by 20 feet and would cost about $10,000 or $15,000 at the [illegible]

He contends that no new outfall sewer will [illegible] for ten or fifteen years or possibly more.

ROMAINE STREET

In regards to Romaine street sewer Mr. Chipman reported that from the King Edward school to Lock street there was a fall of three feet which is sufficient to carry off all the sewage matter had the sewer been properly constructed. As it is it will have to be [illegible] laid.

EDISON DRAIN

The drain proposed on the Edison or Park street from Thirteen acres from Dublin or Hazelwood avenue and was built of timber some fifteen years ago. It runs down by Park street and has to [illegible] and down Rink across the McDonald property and empties into the Little Lake. This drain is in a very bad condition and there is an awful stench coming from [illegible] a number of people using it as a sewer. [illegible]

However he suggests that the whole thing be rebuilt of concrete and thus made permanent.

The Edison drain takes care of, or is supposed to, all the surface water from the western hills and the territory through which it flows.

With this drain put into shape and made permanent and the pumping plant on the outfall sewer the sewage and surface water of the city should be well taken care of.

Montreal Rotten with Corruption

Montreal, June 16—Sworn statements concerning bribery in the Fire Department were continued by one fireman after another who appeared before the Royal Commission. One witness said he gave $250 to get his position. He further said Fireman Ernest Reputo [illegible] corporation. Also Another witness Fireman Lessard said he had been asked for a $350 loan by a man in the Board. He never heard that this was to obtain a promotion. Fireman Sauvé, another witness, had heard of $700 being deposited in the hands of an officer for promotion. Fireman Benoit also declared that he had been asked by a certain man for a loan of $200 to pay for a position of engineer.

When he wanted a promotion Fireman Louis Garneau said he saw a clerk who asked him if he had money, and when the fireman said he was no use.

Then he got nervously placed $450 in the hands of [illegible] a promotion was also sworn to by Fireman Hector Lavoie, who said he did not get the promotion. Subsequently Mayor Martin in his evidence, admitted that Fireman Maynard had given him [illegible] but given money to Mr. Desautels to get a promotion. The superintendent had told the firemen, however, that positions were not [illegible]

Last of all Fireman Tighe declared he had paid $500 to orderly to enter the brigade. A first he did not want to pay the money but to get a job he paid. Other work and the money was raised up, before [illegible] consideration.

"It is always the same thing," sheered one fireman in the box "In order to get promoted you must have money. You even hear that on the street corners."

Township Wants the County to Assume the Bridge--It Has Been A Most Expensive Thing for the Township--Thousands of Dollars, Thousands of Tons of Material and Acres of Bush Have Disappeared in It

The sink hole on the back communication road in Smith was visited last night by the members of the County Council. The bridge which crosses that bottomless pit is known as Lily Lake bridge as the small creek running through the marsh is a continuation of Lily Lake. The sink hole is well named as the people of Smith township all know to their sorrow. It has swallowed up some $2000 of their cold cash besides several thousand loads of gravel, rocks, and mud and all the timber and brush which could be cut off a heavily wooded two acres of the marsh. All this has disappeared and all that can be seen is a few plank laid across the brush, and this is called the Lily Lake bridge.

The bottomless pit is another one like the G.T.R. found on their line and into which they have sunk besides thousands of tons of road making material over a million feet of timber.

The history of the bridge is short but romantic and full of interest. In 1902 the road way which was built across the marsh of ordinary road material disappeared from sight. The following year the township built the first bridge under under the superintendence of Mr. Graham, now deputy reeve of the township. In the spring of 1905 it disappeared from sight. Then the [illegible] was repaired and added to in 1906 it went down with the rest and with it are thousands of cords of stone, etc.

About this time an effort was made to reach the bottom, but after driving a pole down 40 feet they were still far from a solid foundation and so soft was it that the pole could be pulled out by hand. This was most discouraging of again. The road at the north end [illegible] as a last resort the township purchased two acres of logs and sent it off and put the whole thing into the hole. On top of this was put the bridge which now is known as the Lily Lake bridge. It is 125 feet long and just wide enough for a team to pass over it. On each side if a horse should step off it would disappear out of sight in short order. The centre of the bridge is now floating on 10 feet of water although the two ends appear to be on a hard bottom. The water has dropped about five feet and a new bed but it is considered safe and is not likely to give further trouble.

At the south end of the bridge the roadway has begun to sink and there is about two feet of water in the centre, while if a man or a horse were to step off the side they would disappear and never be heard of again. The road at the north end has also dropped a little but it is considered all right.

Besides the money of the township which has dropped into the hole there are several hundred dollars contributed by the Ontario Government and the county.

The township of Smith have asked the County Council to assume the bridge, and it was upon the discussion of Mr. Graham that the councillors drove out last night. The bridge is now in pretty good shape although in addition will have to be made to the south end to get over the piece of road which has gone down.

The road is traveled a good deal and the bridge is large enough for the county to assume control of it and it is quite possible that this will be done, or else a substantial grant will be made towards the necessary improvement. It will be discussed however on Friday when the council resumes.

Baby Given Poison Instead of Medicine

Toronto, June 16—A dose of deadly drug, meant to kill potato bugs, but given in mistaken to the child, killed the eight months' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Whitehead, at Humber Bay.

The preparation consisted principally of nicotine, and was left by Mr. Whitehead in the kitchen. The bottle was very like one in which the child's medicine was kept, and when Mrs. Whitehead's sister looked for the medicine she picked up the potato bug poison in mistake. Before Dr Griffiths could reach the house the baby was dead.

No inquest will be held.

County Council was in Session All the Day

The County Council resumed their session yesterday morning and in the afternoon a deputation from Douro was present in connection with having some changes made. Those present were Messrs Albert Darling, E. Jory, C. Taylor and W. J. Bullock.

Mr. Darling addressed the council and explained that school section No. 6 was too large and they would have to have the boundaries changed. He asked that arbitrators be appointed with Dummer township to decide upon the boundaries.

The matter was left to the committee of the Whole Council to deal with.

The annual reports of the school inspectors for East and West Peterborough, Messrs Brown and Jones, were read and received. The reports were lengthy and dealt with the many subjects.

The council then adjourned and the Finance Committee met and took up the rest of the afternoon.

WEDNESDAY MORNING

On motion of Messrs Hogan and Tucker the minutes of the previous meetings were read and confirmed.

On motion of Messrs Grateman and Knox, a deputation from the Peterborough Industrial Fair Society, were allowed to address the council.

The president and the directors addressed the council, asking for a grant towards defraying expenses and prize list for 1909.

On motion of Messrs Brown and Russell, the matter was referred to the finance committee.

On motion the Committee on the Warden's Address read her report and, upon motion, it was adopted.

The following communications were read;

A Dangerous Disease

Owing to its Tendency to Spread to all parts of the System, Catarrh should be checked in its Incipient Stages.

Catarrh commences generally with a slight cold, and because slight, it is often neglected. But the seed that has been sown brings forth a dangerous harvest—perhaps it is the harvest of consumption, which is the harvest of death.

Better spend a few months each day inhaling Catarrhozone, an aromatic antiseptic remedy that is breathed in through the mouth, and, after permeating all the respiratory organs, is slowly exhaled through the nostrils.

The immediate effect of Catarrhozone is magical—so prompt and efficient. Relief is instantaneous, throat and nose cleared in a few moments by the penetrating vapor from the Inhaler Ferrozone, taken in conjunction with Catarrhozone, purifies the blood, diseases it of all poisons, and builds up the system so that Catarrh cannot exist.

You are sure to receive lasting benefit from Catarrhozone if bothered by Catarrh in any part of the system. It is highly recommended for Bronchitis, Asthma, and Lung Trouble, and used for Coughs and Colds in the head it has no equal.

Remember that Catarrhozone is both a local and constitutional treatment, and is warranted under all circumstances to give satisfaction. Money refunded if it fails.

Two months' treatment, consisting of a beautiful polished hard rubber Inhaler and large bottle of liquid for recharging, together with a box of Ferrozone tablets costs but $1; trial size, 25c. Sold by all druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Buy it to-day.

THE PLUTOCRAT'S BOYHOOD

In the brief biographies of the late H. H. Rogers, which have appeared in the newspapers, there are stories told of his childhood which tend to show that he had a pretty hard time of it in the first few years of his life.

He had to sell papers and earn pennies in various ways to help support the family, his father being none too kind to him. One story has it that on one occasion the boy was saved from drowning by two other lads, who were given a dime by Rogers, senior, with the assurance that although the reward was small, it was all the boy was worth

In the recent published story of his life, John D. Rockefeller, tells us something of his boyhood. He, too had a hard father. John D. was early taught to keep an account of all his receipts and expenditures and we can readily understand how with such a father and mother as he describes, the boy grew up into a money maker. He kept turkeys and hens, carefully buying chicken feed, and cautiously selling eggs. One day his mother was whipping him, when he explained that he was innocence of the offence of which she accused him. "Never mind," she exclaimed, "we have started on this whipping, and it will do for another time." When John D. was eighteen he had saved up $700, but wanted another thousand to go into business partnership. He talked it over with his father, who informed him, that it had been his intention to give each son $1,000 at the age of twenty-one. You can have yours three years in advance, but it will cost you ten per cent." John D. got the money, but at intervals his father would get it back again, then relend it to him when he found it could be produced on demand.

OUTLOOK FOR AERIAL TRAVEL

In Germany, France and the United States there has been of late been some talk of establishing an airship service between cities separated by distances of two hundred or three hundred miles. But it is fantastic to suppose that such a business can be placed on a commercial basis, that the world is to witness the opening of a new era in transportation. In the first place, in order to meet the interest on the investment and the operating expenses, an enormous charge for passage would have to be made. The exact cost of one of Zeppelin's dirigible balloons is not known, but it probably exceeds $100,000, and may reach $250,000. Yet the largest of these airships is capable of carrying only from fifteen to twenty persons, including at least one engineer and a pilot. A rate of fare high enough to promise a profit would need to be from ten to fifty times the price of a railroad ticket, and after the novelty of a single trip had worn off, who would be willing to submit to such a demand? Even more absurd is it to think of transporting freight this manner.

In the next place, Zeppelin has already demonstrated the impossibility of running airships on schedule time On many days has found a postponement necessary on account of rain or wind. He has repeatedly been unable to ascend when he wished, and, when once aloft, to come down at will. Passengers grumble if a railway train is delayed in starting or arriving five or ten minutes. Would they submit to a multiplication of this uncertainty and inconvenience by two hundred or three hundred? Furthermore, in the nature of things, there are endless possibilities of accident, and of consequent costly injuries to the airship.

As for the military airship, the function of such a vehicle is not primarily transportation. No government in the world expects any direct financial return from the money it spends for a balloon or an aeroplane, any more than it does from its investment in battleships and fortifications. Besides, the men who will make use of airships in war may be expected to face the risks they will incur in the same spirit of devotion to duty that animates a soldier or sailor when going into battle.

QUEENSBORO BRIDGE.

The Greatest Structure of its Kind in the World.

Measured by the combined length and capacity of its five main spans, the Queensboro bridge, across the East river from Fifty-ninth street, New York, to Ravenswood, Queens, is the greatest bridge in the world. Including approaches, its total length is 8,600 feet, width 86 feet and greatest height over 300 feet above the water. It crosses from shore to shore, 135 feet above the river, with three enormous spans of 1,182 feet, 630 feet and 984 feet, the middle one reaching across the full width of Blackwell's island. Besides these there are two more great "anchor" spans, one at each end, wholly over dry land, with a length of 3,724 feet for the five, which together contain over 105,000,000 pounds of steel. No other spans in this country, except suspension bridges, approach the longest of these, and the only trussed span in the world which exceeds it is the Forth bridge, which, although 1,710 feet long, has a capacity for only two railroad tracks, less than one-third of this. There are two decks, the lower carrying a wide driveway and four electric car tracks and the upper one two sidewalks and two elevated railroad tracks and having in all an estimated capacity of 200,000,000 car passengers and millions of vehicles and pedestrians annually. It cost over $20,000,000.—Exchange.

RULE OF THE SEA.

Old Whaling Law Applied to a Twice Caught Cod.

That etiquette is observed among the fishermen that journey to the fishing banks was discovered by an amateur angler on his first trip.

The amateur hooked a codfish, but his line parted just as the fish was above the water. Back fell the codfish, carrying with him two sinkers and the hook.

Twenty minutes later another angler cried out that he had captured a cod with two sinkers and a hook. The amateur went up to the angler, who appeared to be an old salt, and asked for his hook and sinkers, which had his name stamped on them. He was surprised when the old salt told him to take the fish also.

According to the rules generally followed on the fishing boats, the second angler was entitled to the fish, but the hooks and sinkers should be returned to their owner. The old angler explained why he wanted to give up the fish.

It seems that he had followed the sea a great part of his life. When a young man he was a whaler, and, according to whaling law, a dead whale belongs to the ship whose name appears on the harpoon that killed it. Therefore the old salt figured that the amateur owned the codfish he had taken.

Euler's Wonderful Memory.

Leonhard Euler, who was born in 1707 and died in 1783 at St. Petersburg, where he spent his life as a teacher of great power and as a prolific writer, was an instance of the genuine mathematician endowed with almost superhuman powers. He left more than 200 manuscript treatises on his favorite subject, and the bulk of the works published by his academy between 1727 and 1783 were from his pen. In his old age he was totally blind. Then he carried in his memory a table of the first six powers of the "series of natural numbers up to 100."

It is related that on one occasion two of Euler's students attempted to calculate a converging series. As they advanced they found they disagreed in the result by a unit in the fifteenth figure. The question was referred to Euler, who decided to make the calculation. He did this mentally, and his result was found to be correct.

Get Well First

Don't risk even a penny—until health first returns.

And I mean just exactly that.
I am the one physician who says to the sick "I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help."
And for 38 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere.
Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unwarranted and uncertain medicines?
Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative.
When the stomach nerves, or the Heart or Kidney nerves fail, these sick ones know how quickly Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever. They know that when health fails to return, Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay the druggist for that test. And for that test a full 30 day treatment is freely granted. But write me first for an order.
This will save delay and disappointment.
All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line please—for I have appointed an honest and responsible druggist in almost every community, and if none is near you the medicine is sent direct. Then Pay when it helps, not sick. Tell me also which book you want. The books below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides you are perfectly free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.
Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or special advice. For it is surely worth your simple request, to write me, while you have it handy, for I know never comes Dr. Shoop's Book Shelf I Want Your

Are you discouraged? Is your doctor's bill a heavy financial load? Is your pain a heavy physical burden? I know what these mean to delicate women—I have been discouraged, too; but learned how to cure myself. I want to relieve your burdens. Why not end the pain and stop the doctor's bill? I can do this for you and will if you will assist me.

All you need do is to write for a free box of the remedy which has been placed in my hands to be given away. Perhaps this one box will cure you—it has done so for others. If so, I shall be happy and you will be cured for 2c (the cost of a postage stamp). Your letters held confidentially. Write to-day for my free treatment. MRS. F. B GURRAN, Windsor, Ont.

Contest in Interest of Every Advertiser

Increased Number of Subscribers Obtained by this Means Gives More Readers for the Advertisers—It's a Subscription Getter—Prizes are Valuable and Desirable

Many feel surprised that The Times is able to offer such a list of handsome and expensive prizes to the public. This is easily explained. A newspaper spends a great deal of time and money each year in collecting and renewing its subscriptions. Experience has shown that the use of special prizes, and the employment of experts to do this work, is a wise investment from a business standpoint. We simply contract with an expert who knows the management of these things as an engineer knows his engine. We have a special office in The Times building in which to conduct the contest and a large force of assistants will conduct the work, thus assuring the contestants every consideration and assistance compatible with perfect impartiality.

As many of our readers know, the advertiser, who pays three times as much toward the expense of a newspaper as does the reader, needs large circulations to bring him customers. So newspapers can afford to give these inducements from time to time for the benefit of their subscribers. The Peterborough Times, Daily and Weekly, now goes into thousands of homes. We expect to add many thousands to that before this contest ends.

The prizes are well worth seeing and will be exhibited in prominent places. The Times does not simply give them away, for we get much in return one of our best assets being the satisfaction of our subscribers, who are all pleased with this chance either winning a most desirable prize for themselves, or of helping a favorite candidate to do so. You can win the prize without making any outlay, by simply asking your friends to subscribe to The Times and give the votes thus won to you.

WEDDING BELLS

TREACY—McGRATH

A pretty wedding in which one of the city's popular young ladies was the bride, was solemnized yesterday morning at nine o'clock in St. Peter's cathedral, when Katherine Marion, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. B. McGrath was united in marriage to Mr. L. B. Treacy of Hamilton, formerly of Brantford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McCoil. The bridesmaid was Miss Margaret McGrath, sister of the bride and the groom was supported by Mr. Clement Cunningham of Lindsay. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very pretty in a handsome gown of white marquisette over chiffon taffeta with trimming of baby Irish lace and gold cloth. She wore a Paris white leghorn hat with white plumes and spiney and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a dress of pink Paris voile over taffeta pink with trimmings of satin and French val. Her hat was of pink chiffon, chiffon. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents, 562 Aylmer St. and at high noon a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at which about forty friends and relatives were present. Guests from out of town, were the Misses Tracy of Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. Harry O'Brien of Ottawa; Miss Irene Cunningham and Miss May Curtin of Lindsay. Many beautiful and costly presents were received by the bride, as an evidence of the esteem in which she is held by her many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Treacy left on the 4.30 C.P.R. train on a trip to New York via Buffalo and will reside at Hamilton in the future. The bride's going away suit was of navy blue Paris voil over taffeta with a tan hat, trimmed with touches of hunters' green and lupeats.

SISSON—GILLESPIE

A wedding that is of interest to the many friends of the bride and groom in the city took place at the residence of Mr and Mrs T. G. Gillespie, when their daughter, Mabel Jean, became the wife of Mr. Chas. Everett Sisson, son of Mrs. Thomas Sisson of Otonabee.

The ceremony was performed at two o'clock yesterday afternoon by Rev. O. C. Elliott of Stratford, assisted by Rev. R. W. Riddiford of the Park street Baptist church, in the presence of over sixty guests. The parlors were prettily decorated in white and green. The bride and groom were standing before a bank of ferns and palms, with white snowballs and bride's blossoms. Miss Annie Sisson, cousin of the groom, played the wedding march, while Mr. Horace C. Wright of Toronto, sang "The Bedouin Love Song," after the ceremony. The bride, who was unattended, wore a dainty Empire gown of champagne Can Toy, with beautiful hand-made lace sleeves and yoke, the gift of an aunt.

Some pretty frocks were worn by the guests. Miss Bessie Gillespie, wearing pink voile over pink silk, Miss Edith Gillespie, Rajah silk, and Mrs. Gillespie, the bride's mother, a handsome black voile. Miss Emma Pender of Cobourg, wore white mull with trimmings of white Irish lace.

Other out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Beaucycastle of Campbellford; Mr. Peter Gillespie of Toronto; Rev. O. C. Elliott of Stratford; Dr. Robert Mann of Toronto, and a number of others.

A large number of beautiful presents were received by Mr and Mrs Sisson, evidencing the high esteem in which they are held in the city. The city officials sent a cabinet of pearl handled cutlery, and the Water Commissioners a handsome cheque.

The bride's traveling suit was of blue cloth with blue net waist over silk and blue hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Sisson left on the 4.48 C.P.R. for Honey Harbor, Muskoka, where they will spend a couple of weeks. On their return they will reside at 545 Gilmour street, where they will receive after September 15th.

Important to Ladies

It is not often an opportunity occurs at your door to see the latest Parisian and New York styles in Hair Goods, yet such is the case, as Prof. Dorenwend of Toronto, is visiting this town, and invites your inspection of these goods at his private apartments reserved at the Hotel.

These Hair Goods styles, when properly adjusted protect and ornament the head, soften and beautify the expression of the face, and consequently tone up an aged appearance. Be sure and see them at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, Friday, June 18.

WARDEN'S ADDRESS

Report of the committee appointed to deal with the warden's address.

Your committee beg to report as follows;

1 That we endorse the reference to the great loss sustained by the county in the death of Judge Weller and concede in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.

2 In referring to the prospects of harvest returns, it is but another of the many on record in Ontario which we heartily join in recognizing.

3 We will be pleased to have county roads established thereby taking advantage of government assistance.

4. 5. 6. We concur with the warden in his references to the finances of the county and trust that his anticipations will all be realized.

7 That in the matter of providing for the suppression of the white plague, your committee will readily endorse any assistance towards the successful carrying into effect any endeavor.

8. We with yourself must congratulate the county upon the results of the several departments to the government during 1909.

9 Your committee will be pleased to consult and assist the Board of Management of the House of Refuge at all times.

10 The honor conferred upon you by placing you head of the municipality for 1909, is an honor well deserved and we beg to state that we appreciate the dignity with which you fulfil the obligations of the office and also our efforts will be at your service for the balance of the year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. BREAULT,
Chairman.

Tenders Received for New Dam

Twelve tenders for the construction of the new water works dam and five for the installing of the pumping station were opened by the Water Commissioners at their meeting yesterday morning to consider the awarding of the contract. Work will start as soon as the contract is awarded. Nothing was done yesterday morning except to open the tenders.

Bishop Construction Company.
E. Conroy.
J. E. Hayes.
Brown and Aylmer.
Clarke and Monde
Bishop and Buchanan
Jas. Hogue.
Morrow and Beatty.
John O'Toole.
R. Sherby.
McCoy and Wilford
W. H. McGillivray.

The tenders received from the pumping plant were as follows;

Canadian Fairbanks Company.
John McDougall Caledonia Iron Works Company.
John Inglis and Company.
J. F. V. Vandeleur.
Wm. Hamilton and Co.

No Award of Contracts

The Water Commissioners met last night with Mr. Kennedy of Montreal, for the purpose of dealing with the tenders for the new dam and pumping station. This is a big job and there will be no award made until tomorrow or possible Saturday.

LOSES SIGHT OF EYE.

Struck in Eye by Pen Being Whirled at Him.

London, Ont., June 14.—Roy Bough, aged 11, was struck in the left eye at school by a pen being whirled around by another boy, and he will lose his sight.

The pen was filled with ink, and it is feared poisoning may develop, necessitating the removal of the eyeball.

EXPELLED FROM POLTAVA.

Visit of Emperor to Battlefield Given as Reason for the Order.

St. Petersburg, June 16.—"The Russian government has ordered the expulsion of the Jews of Poltava, a Jewish centre in the southwest of Russia. The reason for this drastic measure is that on July 3 Emperor Nicholas will go to Poltava to attend the celebration of the bi-centennial of the battle in which the Russian forces under Peter the Great routed the Swedes under Charles XII."

FOR THOUSANDS OF YEARS.

Coal Miner Uncovered Lizard Embedded Fast in Solid Rock.

Great Falls, Mont., June 15.—In a coal mine near here yesterday Moses Martindale, a miner, uncovered a lizard about nine feet from the surface embedded in the solid rock. There is no conceivable method by which the lizard could have entered the cavity since nature closed the gap thousands of years ago.

When first uncovered the reptile was torpid, but when brought to the light it showed more signs of life. There is no evidence that it had been affected injuriously by its long fast and imprisonment in the solid rock.

BATTLE IN ALBANIA.

Twelve Turkish Battalions Repulse. Attack of 10,000 Men.

London, June 15.—A dispatch from Athens to a London news bureau says that advices from Uskup, European Turkey, report a fierce engagement at Djakovitch, in Northern Albaniaz between a force of 10,000 Albanians and twelve battalions of Turkish troops. According to the dispatch, the Albanians were repulsed by the deadly fire of the Turkish artillery. The Turkish government is hurrying twelve additional battalions to the scene of the trouble.

CUBA ADMITS NO CLAIMS.

Treaty of Paris Said to Cover All Spanish Debts.

Havana, June 15.—Referring to a report from Washington that the American government had been apprised of alleged obligations, antedating United States intervention, due to the Spanish government by Cuba, government officials here are unable to comprehend how claims based on ancient documents could have any validity in view of the extinction of all the claims of Spain against Cuba by the treaty of Paris. President Gomez said to-night that he was not disposed to attach any importance to the matter.

HOW TO TELL

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew. Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Then digestion gets poor, appetite fades away, color bleaches, spirits droop.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plainsville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharp twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles, and joints, lack of appetite, and loss of sleep. Reach the cause. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c at all dealers.

PERSONAL

Mr. Corkery of the post office, is about again after his recent illness.

Miss Ora Boughner of St. Thomas, is visiting her sister, Mrs F. M. Ridley, George street.

Mr. Arthur White, formerly of the Grand Trunk Railway, passed through the city yesterday on his way to the lakes.

Rev. H. B. Trumpour, rector of All Saints, was elected a member of the Synod Committee on the State of the Church.

Dr. Morrison and Mrs. Robert Neill went to Toronto yesterday to represent Charlotte street church at the obsequies of the late Mr Davis.

Mr. Lindsay S. Parrott of Chatham, is the guest of his brother, Sherman, of the Peterborough Book store.

Mrs. G. G. Pope and Master Allan have gone on a two months' visit to Tamworth, Belleville, and Picton.

Miss Beatrice Bennett of Grace Hospital, Toronto, spent Tuesday with her parents, Mr and Mrs C. Bennett, 618 Rubidge street.

Mr George and Roxie Edmondson, Water street, left yesterday for the Northwest: Miss Roxie to visit friends in Winnipeg, and Mr Geo. Edmondson has gone to Leeds in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs E. C. Rowson and family left Wednesday on the C.P.R. for a farm for High River, Alta, where they will reside in future. A number of friends gathered at the station to see them off and wish them God speed.

Miss Belle Thompson, secretary-treasurer of Rolph, Farr & Co., Ltd., left this week for Winnipeg and the Northwest on a vacation trip. She will be absent about two months.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Lyle, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs John Lyle, Bowmanville, to Mr. Robert H. Elliott will take place quietly on June 30.

Ald. Geo. A. Gillespie and Mr Rolph Farr left yesterday to represent the Peterborough branch of the Retail Merchants' Association at the annual convention of the Dominion Association, which is being held at Brockville tomorrow.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A couple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

Fell From a Second Story Window

Fred Norman, an Englishman, was rather severely injured yesterday morning while working on a house on Longton street. Norman, who is a plasterer, was sitting on a window sill putting some putty on the window, when the paper on which he had the putty fell off the sill and in reaching out for it lost his balance and fell backward to the ground. His back was injured and both his wrists are swollen and discolored as a result of the fall.

Dr Brown attended the injured man.

County Council Go To Buckhorn This Morning

The County Council will leave this morning at 7.30 by bus for Buckhorn where they will take the Ontario Navigation Company's steamer Manita on her first regular trip to Buckhorn. The council are going up for the purpose of inspecting the new dam and bridge in which they are interested. The party will return in the evening and resume the session of council on Friday.

Board of Works Pass on Walks

A session of the Board of Works was held last night when several reports were received from the city engineer in reference to sidewalks and sewers. Also a number of petitions of walks and sewers were considered and several were passed so that the department could go ahead with their work. The bulk of the business however was left over for another meeting.

The engineer reported that the cost of grading and draining Blythe street would be in the neighborhood of $500. No action was taken on this matter for the time being.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is a thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupefying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It's a truly safe and certain and trustworthy prescription. Cadet Corps is Now a Battalion

When he was here a short time ago inspecting the Cadets Corps of the Collegiate Institute, Lieut.-Col. Hemming of Kingston, made the announcement that the corps would in a short time be gazetted as a battalion. Orders from the Militia Headquarters, Ottawa, show that this has been done, and the corps is now a full-fledged battalion with four companies. This will mean that all the cadets will be provided with new fine and uniforms and have a band and drum corps.

The orders name the following officers as having been elected:

Staff Cadet Major, William H. Hall; Adjutant, Max Jeffers Dobbin.

C Co.—Captain, Stuart Anderson; Lieutenants, John Armstrong Brightman, Harold Stanton Matthews.

D Co.—Captain, Harold Brown; Lieutenants, Thomas Alexander Primeau, Cyril Moore.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Letter to The Editor

(To the Editor of The Times)

Dear Sir,—I presume that you have often heard the different merchants complain of people going or sending to Toronto and buying the different things they require, instead of buying from the merchants in Peterborough. But can you wonder at people from Peterborough going or sending to Toronto or other places for their supplies when some of those very same merchants give very orders they may have to men that are outsiders, and just travelling through and do not pay taxes or help to support our city in any way.

There are just as good mechanics in the city of Peterborough, as can be found in any part of our vast Dominion, and it is a slur on our mechanics in Peterborough, when outsiders are engaged to do work that can be done equally as well, and probably better and just as cheap by our own mechanics in Peterborough.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
MECHANIC

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW ST. VICTORIA, B. C.
Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Asset.

The Company have acquired 85,649 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 20,000 inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 10,000 to 15,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week, we are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $3,000 per ton. At present news is jobbing in British Columbia at $40.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord, in Eastern Canada, our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In fact the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the preferred stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium, remember the time to buy stock in any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent, annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $20.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $15.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $15.00 per ton on wrapping and $15.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $6.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1908 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $251,458. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,252,286. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 25th, 1907, Bulletin 80, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 20 2-3 per cent. of the value of goods over all expenses, of 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International Paper Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,638,918.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $2.50 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent. on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent. upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 10 per cent. more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volumn of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 85 square miles, which assures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

We Now Offer for Subscription the Remainder of the First Issue of

A GOOD LOCAL AGENT WANTED.

The Blythe Hanging was Postponed Until October 1st

A second postponement of the execution of Walter Blythe was granted yesterday morning by Mr Justice Teetzel, who made an order staying the hanging till October 1 in the meantime the Court of Appeal will decide whether the case will be heard, and the charge reduced from murder to manslaughter.

Toronto, June 16, the order which was placed in the sheriff Mr Wallace's office this morning by Mr T. C. Robinette, K.C., Blythe's counsel, was as follows:

"Wednesday, the 16th day of June, 1909.

"I, the Honorable James V. Teetzel, in chamber and direct that the execution of the capital sentence of death, pronounced upon Walter Blythe, and directed to be carried out on the 17th day of June, 1909, be postponed until the 1st day of October, 1909, and the said prisoner be remanded into custody until that date, and that the sentence of death be then duly carried out."

THE NOTICE OF MOTION

The notice of motion that he would ask in the case was filed by Mr Robinette was in the terms of the Court of Appeal as follows:

"Take notice that the motion will be made by way of appeal to this court, and if necessary for leave to appeal at the next sittings thereof, from the judgment pronounced by the honorable Mr Justice Riddell, at the trial of the above named prisoner, on a charge of murder at the Assizes holden in Toronto on the 8th of February, 1909, whereby the prisoner was sentenced to be executed on the thirteenth day of May, 1909, and a respite having subsequently been granted, to the 17th day of June, 1909.

"And take notice that there will be read upon such application the depositions taken at the trial of the prisoner, together with the charge of the said Honorable Mr. Justice Riddell to the jury, and the affidavit of counsel for the prisoner.

FOR RESERVED CASE.

"And further take notice that upon the said motion by way of appeal an application will be made to the said court for a reserved case upon the following and among other grounds:

"1. Upon application made by the counsel for the defendant to Honorable Mr. Justice Riddell on the fifteenth day of June last for a stated case, the said judge refused to reserve a case and will give reasons in writing if required.

"2. That the evidence did not support a verdict of murder, as at least four Crown witnesses stated that the prisoner, after the shooting of the deceased, said that he had shot in self-defence, and that the deceased had threatened to kill him.

"3. That the evidence of certain alleged admissions of the prisoner, made to the constables in charge of him, was improperly admitted, as the prisoner was not warned that anything he said might be used against him.

"4. That the evidence of certain alleged admissions of the prisoner, made to the constables in charge of him, was improperly admitted, as the prisoner was not warned that anything he said might be used against him.

"5. That there was misdirection of the learned trial judge in his charge to the jury in the following particulars, namely:

(a) In his definition of the law as to manslaughter and murder, and in directing the jury that this was a case of murder and not manslaughter, according to his interpretation of the law, and exception is taken to the whole of his lordship's charge as being contrary to the evidence and the weight of evidence."

DIAMONDS RINGS AND GOLD WATCHES.

The rings and watches, to be given as District Prizes, are such as every man and woman may well wish to possess. They are of exceptional value, and besides their beautiful appearance have a solid worth that makes them well worthy of any effort on your part to secure them.

FURNITURE OF RARE BEAUTY.

The ladies' desks and the Morris Chairs for men are all that can be asked for in the way of looks and comfort.

Merely to glance at the rockers is enough to set a man dreaming of cosy evenings spent in chats with his friends their fat leather arms and puffy seats. No man could sit in one of these chairs and keep a grouch for a minute.

We are safe in saying that the ladies will feel just as satisfied with the desks as the men are with the chairs. In fact, there is not a prize on the whole list that will not call forth your admiration, and if you will allow them to call forth your activity and energy they will surely be yours.

County Council on Trip to Buckhorn Bridge

Warden Scott was the Host on a Splendid Outing--Business and Pleasure Combined, Steamer Manita in Commission

The County Council went on a trip of inspection yesterday, and had a long day which was intermingled with pleasure and business. The object of the trip was to see the bridge and dam at Buckhorn which the Dominion Government has just been completed, the Gannon Narrows bridge and Ball Lake where it is proposed to build the new float bridge.

The party was composed of Warden R. N. Scott and his council, and Aldermen Phelan and Bullet of the City Council, Mr. E. A. Peck and E. M. Elliott, Mr. Wm. Gallon of Apsley, and the Times' representative. They left the city at 7.30 in the morning in two busses and drove to Chemong Park where they took the Otonabee Navigation Company's steamer Manitia at 9.30. It was raining quite heavily when the boat arrived at the wharf, but the party of about 20 got down in the cabin, and were quite comfortable.

The Manita is in charge of Capt. Johnston and Mr. S. R Pearson as mate, and Mr. Pearson is one of the best boatmen on the Kawartha lakes. He thoroughly understands handling a crowd that is out for business and pleasure, and he made himself very popular with all on board. The Manita is a very trim little boat and should be in great demand this season.

The trip from Chemong to Buckhorn was make in good time and no stops were made between the two points. Upon arrival at Buckhorn, the party went ashore and had dinner at Eastwood's hotel.

Then the trip was continued to Gannon Narrows, and on to Bobcaygeon, where a stop of three quarters of an hour was made, which allowed the passengers to go ahead and see the village. Shortly after four o'clock the trip to Chemong was commenced, and upon arrival at the park Warden Scott and his followers had tea at the hotel where Host Brown furnished an excellent menu which was greatly enjoyed.

From Chemong the party returned to the city by bus, arriving here about 8.30 o'clock.

Although the day was wet and a raw wind was blowing, the trip was nevertheless one of the most successful and enjoyable that has ever gone around the lakes. It was a business trip pure and simple, but Warden Scott and the County councillors are a lot of fellows who can take a great deal of pleasure even out of business, and the few guests along with them were delighted. Everyone was in the best of spirits, and the disagreeable weather had little effect upon them.

Warden Scott looked after his guests in splendid style and left nothing undone which would add to the pleasure of the outing. He was ably assisted by County Clerk E. M. Elliott, who is always on hand when needed. All the councillors joined in having a good time, and they had it.

Gannon Narrows Bridge will be Strengthened

(Special to The Times.)

Gannon Narrows, June 17.— The County Council arrived here this afternoon soon after dinner per steamer Manita, and stopped for a few minutes to inspect the floating bridge. Councillor Shaw was in charge of the party here as he is most particularly interested in this bridge. Mr. Shaw wants the county to build a third pier about midway between the two already built. He claims it will afford the bridge greater strength, and will break the force of the storm water, which has a great sweep coming down the lake. The bridge at the present time is in good shape, and as it is an expensive and heavily travelled bridge the county cannot afford to take any chances on it. The probability is that the pier will be built.

HONORS FOR CANADIANS

Lemieux, Brodeur, Wm. Mackenzie And Harty Said to be Slated for Distinction.

Ottawa, June 14.—There is already some gossip current about the Canadians who will be included in the coming list of birthday honors. Postmaster-General Lemieux and Mr. William Mackenzie of Mackenzie and Mann, are mentioned, and also Hon. L. P. Brodeur.

It is stated here on information almost direct, that Hon. Wm. Harty M. P., for Kingston, has been recommended for knighthood by the Canadian Government.

FEW TRAMPS AROUND.

Weary Willies are Keeping Away From Peterborough—Said to be Few in Ontario.

The almost total absence of tramps in the city is causing considerable surprise this season. The summer is the time when these knights of the road move about. A few years ago Peterborough was a sort of mecca for them and the country round about was usually infested with the transients. As a result of the harsh ruling of the police magistrates throughout Ontario the habitual finds it better to stay elsewhere. The railways have decided not to allow the tramp to ride on freight cars any more. Long terms in Central Prison at hard labor are out of the question for the inveterate rambler. Thus, from Peterborough, and from Ontario generally there has been a tramp exodus and the rag-a-muffin Weary Willie of a few years ago has now become a rare spectactle.

A Little Spurt Now at the Start will Put You in the Lead--Get Busy!

Candidates entered so far in The Times Great Contest. You know the number and value of the prizes, and if you have an idea that you would like to win one of them you can readily see that there is plenty of room for an energetic contestant, especially in both districts. Do not hesitate any longer about entering the contest, but start right in now and in a few days you can stand abreast of the best of them.

"He either fears his fate too much,
Or his desert is small,
Who dares not put it to the touch
To win or lose it all."

If you don't enter you lose for a certainty, if you do enter, you have an excellent chance of winning a most costly and desirable prize.

We Want Your Name.

Send us your name as a candidate in the contest and we will do all in our power to facilitate your campaign. Every candidate has our interest and we are glad to help all alike with information and advice. The final outcome rests entirely with you. Never allow discouragement to affect you for a moment. Be confident that you can succeed and others will feel the infection of your confidence.

Despondency is more contagious than the grip. Who is going to believe in you if you don't even believe in yourself? Be sure of yourself, your friends will then feel sure of you, and know that they are not wasting their votes on some faint-hearted person who might in a moment of dejection drop out of the contest and make all their efforts count for nothing.

What the Men Say.

A number of fairly hard headed business men have owned that they were unable to refuse the attractive candidate who asked for their help. "Her smile fetched me," said one. "I don't want to be the one to put out so I gave her a subscription and she went off looking happier than ever." It certainly is a good plan for you contestants to look cheerful. It will go a long way toward helping you to feel so, and will win you many friends.

Don't Be Bluffed.

One great and utterly needless source of discouragement to timid candidates is the fear in which they hold some particular contestants. They hear all kinds of rumors that so-and-so has collected an incredible number of subscriptions. Rumor is ever untrustworthy and no reports are more apt to be exaggerated than these. It is pretty safe to cut up two all you hear, and then divide again. Even if you know that some one has several thousand more votes than you what of it? How did they get them? In just exactly the same way that you can. The remedy lies in your own hands. Go out among your friends and try for subscriptions until you no longer feel one little shadow of fear of your opponent. Talk is nothing but words, but subscriptions mean votes, and votes mean prizes. Less talk and more votes make a better showing.

A Good Guessing Game.

The publication in yesterday's paper of the list of candidates has roused general interest. Everyone wants to hazard a guess as to who will take the lead in the final race and there will be almost as many guesses as names.

No body answers, nobody can answer for weeks to come. The contest is yet so young, and the first grand prize is so very valuable that it is even possible that the winner of the Touring Car may not yet be nominated.

People are now making up their minds as to whom they will give their support. This makes it important that your name should be entered at the earliest possible moment, for unless they know you are in the contest when they make their decision you cannot hope for the benefit of their help. Votes given on old and new subscriptions. Work and win. Contest department open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Gypsies at 'Caygeon Are Very Offensive

(Special to The Times.)

Bobcaygeon, June 17.—The fifty or more Mexican Gypsies who have been camped here all week are causing a whole lot of disturbance among the citizens, and are giving the town a bad name. The men are engaged mostly in horse trading, while the women tell fortunes and pick up all the loose change they can find in their victims' pockets.

Today a number of prominent gentlemen of the county visited the village, and they were waylaided by the Gypsie woman who are about as bold as it was possible to be and were even disgusting. The visitors have a very poor opinion of the police force of the village. Such creatures should certainly be driven out. They have a demoralizing effect upon the population, and they are a disgrace to the village.

A couple of the visitors in particular, will remember the trip to Bobcaygeon, and the Gypsie women.

Buckhorn Bridge was Inspected by Council

(Special to The Times.)

Buckhorn, June 17.—A large number of the reeves and deputy reeves of the county composing the County Council, were registered today at Tom. Eastwood's hotel. They were on a trip inspecting the different bridges between Chemong and Bobcaygeon, and stopped off here for dinner. Although Host Eastwood had practically no notice of the party coming a first-class full course dinner was prepared, and the gentlemen representing the city and county of Peterborough, were provided with a feed of fresh lunge and bass. It was a rare treat and one that was greatly appreciated. A party is certainly well treated at Mine Host Tom's hotel at Buckhorn, and everyone leaves feeling as if they would like soon to return for an other visit.

After dinner the County Council inspected the new government bridge over the dam. This is a piece of work which is a credit to the council that went to Ottawa, and induced the Dominion Government to build. It will be remembered that the old county bridge crossed on the old government dam, and when the dam was rebuilt the bridge was naturally destroyed. It was up to the county to construct a new bridge, and the engineer estimated that one of steel would cost some $10,000. The deputation which went to Ottawa requested the government to build the bridge over the dam and to make it all of concrete, except the swing. This was agreed to on condition that the county pay $3,000 towards the cost, and the county jumped at the offer.

The Buckhorn bridge is [illegible] feet long, and with the [illegible] approaches is 806 feet long. The government has certainly made a splendid job of both the bridge and the dam. They are a credit to the Trent Valley canal, and the county got off very easily.

The approaches to the bridge were hardly wide enough for two loaded wagons to pass, and a deputation waited upon the government last winter and were successful in having them widened. This work has been completed and the councillors were greatly pleased with the job.

After the bridge was inspected the party went over to the Buckhorn cheese factory, and saw the manufacturer turning out some of the best cheese that is made in Canada. The Buckhorn cheese is of special make, and is in great demand. Besides the making the visitors saw a large number of finished cheese which is nearly ready for shipping. Only a few minutes could be spared at the factory as the steamer was ready to proceed on the trip.

Eastwood's hotel this year is more popular than ever, and from the very first opening it has been filled with guests, mostly from across the line. The hotel has been filled practically all the time, and the prospects for the summer are of the very brightest. Host Tom has his place fixed up in good shape this year, and it is very inviting and attractive. In addition to the splendid accommodation there is the very best fishing around Buckhorn that can be found on the Kawartha lakes, and lucky are those who can spend a few days or weeks at this well known resort.

Oil Well Located by Laborers in Lindsay

(Special to The Times.)

Lindsay, June 17.—While excavating a drain for the placing of a new water main on York streets, workmen struck an oil well last evening at the corner of Peel and York streets. One of the laborers, Ben Mapes, drove his pick into the earth, and a stream of crude petroleum flowed from mthe hole he had made in copious quantities.

The presence of the petroleum was first made manifest by the distinct smell of the coal oil. The oily looking surface of the liquid that was pouring from the hole was then noted and when a paper was saturated with it and lighted with a match it flamed up quickly and burned, emitting black smoke like coal oil.

The petroleum was mingled with water, and the rate with which it flowed out of the hole quickly filled up the bottom of that portion of the drain. The workmen were finally compelled to stop the hole with earth and stones before they could continue their work.

The odor of petrpleum, or coal oil was distinct for a considerable distance around the spot where it was discovered. Many curious citizens visited the spot last evening.

Petroleum is defined as follows: A dark brown or greenish inflammable mixture, which ay certain points, exists in the upper strata of the earth's crusts from whence it is crushed or forced by the pressure of the gas attending it. It consists of a complete mixture of various hydro carbons, largely of the methane series, but may vary much in appearance, composition and properties.

Harry Thaw's Mother Collapsed in Court

(Special to The Times.)

White Plains, N.Y., June 17.—Harry K. Thaw will have to wait in the Matteawan Asylum until July 6 for a hearing to determine whether he is now sane and in a condition to be released from the asylum. The case came up here before Justice Mills here today on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by Thaw. Thaw counsel, Charles Morehauser, wanted to go on with the hearing, but Mr. Clark, a representative of the attorney general, wanted to have the case transferred to New York county and District Attorney Jerome of New York, asked that the hearing be postponed, in order to give him an opportunity to attend to other business. Justice Mills decided that the hearing would be held in White Plains.

Thaw's mother, Mrs. Wm. Thaw, his sister, formerly the Countess of Yarmouth, and his two brothers, were in the court room. When the justice announced his decision to delay the hearing, Harry's mother collapsed. She shook as though seized with a chill, and her daughter called for a drink of water, saying that her mother was choking. The water revived Mrs. Thaw.

BREAD MAY JUMP.

Master Bakers Held Meeting to Discuss Increase in Prices.

Peterborough people may look for an advance in the price of bread in the near future and a jump from 10c to 12c for a three pound loaf may be expected. There was a meeting, has arrived in New York, and evening to consider the matter and although on account of the fact that one baker was not present, no business was done, the raise was thoroughly discussed, and those present were unanimous of the opinion that the price of the staff of life should be increased. The increase in the price of flour is the reason for the increase. "Why bread is selling at 14c in Montreal."

CATARRHOZONE

"For years I used all the advertised remedies for Catarrh and was continually trying to get relief, but I found Catarrhozone Before I had used the inhaler half an hour my nostrils became free and clear so that I could breathe easily through them. In one day Catarrhozone healed me immensely, stopped my coughing and hawking and cured a dull pain that was continually over my eyes. I have great pleasure in recommending Catarrhozone. I have proved it the best remedy for Catarrh and diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes."

There is certainly no remedy that is so well spoken of by the clergy as Catarrhozone and this can be accounted for by the fact that it gives perfect satisfaction.

It is the only remedy that reaches all diseased parts and gives quick relief without bad after effects. Catarrhozone contains no cocaine nor morphine. It is nature's own remedy, soothing and healing, and pleases everybody that uses it.

Catarrhozone is a local and constitutional treatment. The Inhaler clears the air passages, stops the headache, and Ferrozone Tablets that are included in every complete Catarrhozone outfit, never fail to drive impurities from the blood. This builds up and strengthens the system so that Catarrhal conditions cannot exist.

The special cure for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh, Bronchitis, and Asthma is Catarrhozone. Two months' treatment, price $1.00; medium size, 50c; at druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

IRISH NATIONALISTS.

John Redmond and his Irish Nationalist followers have again demonstrated their reliability between the Conservatives and the British Liberals as one, that the Irish representatives are not bound to support when they consider that Irish interests are prejudicially affected. They voted against the Asquith government's education bill because it did not go far enough to suit them; in providing for clerical control of education and now they vote against Lloyd-George's budget because it provides for an increase of the tax on whiskey. Much whiskey is made in Ireland and the increase in the excise tax is regarded by the Nationalists as a blow at a great Irish industry.

So enormous is the Government's former majority in the House of Commons that even with the defection of such Irish members the budget has been carried by a large majority over all sections of the opposition; the Nationalists, or the Labor party might easily be in a position to dictate terms to the government. Or the Nationalists and Labor men could combine and compel the government to submit to their terms or resign. Such a combination would doubtless be formed if most of the Labor men are loyal and most of the Irish members with the views of the labor leaders.

If the history of many small places is studied it will be found that in most of them rival churches have not come through the aggressive work of the ruling church bodies, but through the incompatibility of people in the congregations. Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discriminating and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evidenthonesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

Contest in Interest of Every Advertiser

Increased Number of Subscribers Obtained by this Means Gives More Readers for the Advertisers---It's a Subscription Getter--Prizes are Valuable and Desirable

Many feel surprised that The Times newspaper as does the reader, needs is able to offer such a list of handsome and expensive prizes to the public. This is easily explained. A newspaper spends a great deal of time and money each year in collecting and renewing its subscriptions. Experience has shown that the use of special prizes, and the employment of experts to do this work, is a wise investment from a business standpoint. We simply contract with an expert who knows the management of these things as an engineer knows his engine. We have a special office in The Times building in which to conduct the contest and a large force of assistants will conduct the work, thus assuring the contestants every consideration and assistance compatible with perfect impartiality.

As many of our readers know, the advertiser, who pays three times as much toward the expense of a large circulations to bring him customers. So newspapers can afford to give these inducements from time to time for the benefit of their subscribers. The Peterborough Times, Daily and Weekly, now goes into thousands of homes. We expect to add many thousands to that before this contest ends.

The prizes are well worth seeing and will be exhibited in prominent places. The Times does not simply give them away, for we get much in return one of our best assets being the satisfaction of our subscribers, who are all pleased with this chance either winning a most desirable prize for themselves, or of helping a favorite candidate to do so. You can win the prize without making any outlay, by simply asking your friends to subscribe to The Times and give the votes thus won to you.

REFUSES TO ATTEND COURT.

Says That Law is Non-existent for Catholics.

Bordeaux, June 13.—Cardinal Andrieu, who has been summoned to court, charged with having incited a breach of the laws by the allocution he pronounced at the cathedral on the occasion of his enthronement, has sent a letter to the judge in which he formally refuses to appear in court in answer to anyhelpin connection with the separation law.

The cardinal writes "that law became non-existent for Catholics the moment their supreme chief, the incorruptible guardian of themoral principles and nations confirmed its annulment by the proper authorities of the Church."

RAY LAMPHERE DYING.

Has Recently Suffered From Hemorrhages.

Lapeer, Mich., June 15—In response to a telegram from her brother, Ray Lamphere, Mrs. James Furey recently hurried to the Michigan City prison, but was too late to see the prisoner, who died shortly after she reached the institution. Lamphere has suffered four hemorrhages, and he said that he was dying. The latest was sent to the prison physician. Mrs. Furey is the sister of Mrs. Guanere, the unfortunate woman for the burning of whose home Lamphere was sent to the penitentiary. Lamphere is the last accused that recently has suffered four hemorrhages, and he said that he was dying. The latest was sent to the prison physician. Mrs. Furey is the sister of Mrs. Guanere, the unfortunate woman for the burning of whose home Lamphere was sent to the penitentiary.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Laughlin Cameron Took His Life at New Liskeard.

Cobalt, June 15.—Laughlin Cameron aged 38 years, committed suicide at New Liskeard about 1.30 o'clock morning by jumping through a second story window in the rear of the Queen's hotel. He then turned and attempted to [illegible] W. Dyer about a week ago. It is understood that he had been drinking [illegible] and is thought to be the result of worked on the T. & N. O. R. road section between the colony [illegible] the past four years and was well known to the north of Lake [illegible] His home is in Ottawa, [illegible] years.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH

Cobalt, June 15—A verdict of accidental death was returned by a jury on the case of John W. [illegible] aged 20 years, who was run over and killed by a freight train on the T. & N. O. railway yards Sunday night. He had been working on the tracks, and was run down from behind, receiving injuries from which he died. The jury [illegible] consumed but nearly three hours after the accident. This is the second fatality in the yards of the works.

DIED FROM EXPLOSION

YUAN SHIH KAI AND THE YELLOW CORD.

A few days ago a Pekin despatch to The Mail and Empire announced that a yellow cord had been sent to Yuan Shih Kai, and it was explained that the receipt of this sinister [illegible] was equivalent to receiving a death sentence. You have not heard, however, of Yuan accepting the [illegible] and no news of his suicide has been received. It is a long time ago since the eminent Chinaman took [illegible] as a result of receiving the fatal cord, although [illegible] a virtual death sentence. China, however, progresses somewhat fast, and she has outgrown the statesman who commits suicide just because his political enemies are in the ascendant. She loves the picturesque, and preserves old forms that have long since lost their original significance.

A Tragical Distinction.

Yellow is the royal color of China, just as purple is the color of Kings in most other lands, and a long time ago, when some prominent official had the misfortune to offend the Emperor, the latter sent him a cord. Coming from a monarch, it was necessarily yellow, and the intimation that the [illegible] was to hang himself was too plain to be misunderstood. It was a sort of tragical distinction to receive this cord, for any offender but one of high rank was simply beheaded, without more ado. We have a counterpart to this nice distinction in our commercial life, where a highly placed employe is asked to send in his resignation, and an ordinary workman is discharged. One way is not less effective than another, and the Chinese dignitary who remained obtuse to the hint of the yellow cord would be seized some fine day and his shoulders.

A Death Feast.

The despatch of the cord was attended with great ceremony. A high dignitary was entrusted with the duty of conveying it to the doomed man, and he was usually attended by an imposing escort. Arrived at the house of the victim, there ensued much bowing and scraping, after which the grim visitors, full of compliments, would be invited in. Then a banquet would be spread at which it was deemed a breach of manners for any reference to be made to the nature of the visit. It was good form for the unfortunate host to appear pleased and honored when the cord was hanged to him, and then, with more compliments the messenger and his escort would depart. From that moment, however, the victim was under surveillance, although he would not be molested so long as he made no effort to escape. Knowing the hopelessness of his plight, the poor wretch remained quietly at home, putting his friends and setting his house in order. Then, some night, he would them a last farewell and take a dose of poison. The cord was not used, being more painful and requiring some little skill in its use. The period elapsing between the receipt of the cord and the death of the victim was left to a certain extent, but it was not considered good form to [illegible] hanging on until the last day, nor was it [illegible] that he should rudely bolt out of the door [illegible] the [illegible]

But it is of recent [illegible] China has [illegible] the fatal [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] to [illegible] He did not commit suicide, however, but merely posted himself to [illegible] at the tomb of his ancestors. [illegible] he [illegible] [illegible] Prince [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Appetite Gone---Nerves Badly Run Down

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year Mrs. E. P. Wilson was run down and worn out—whether sorely tired her nerves and whole frame. Her appetite was poor and she could not sleep well, at times ill. In her own words she said: "For some years I was a sufferer from dyspepsia. My symptoms were Mrs. Wilson of Wilmore, P.Q., I suffered from dyspepsia. My symptoms were biliousness and depressing headache. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started in my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged. A friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They made a new woman of me, and for the past eight months my health has been perfected. For a good strengthening medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they bring vigor, tone, health and spirits—are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essence in vegetable life—are safe for young and old and guaranteed to kindle renewed activity and strength of every system that is weak, sicky or run down from kidney, liver, stomach or bladder trouble. Tonight's Concert.

At the 57th Regimental Band concert in Victoria Park tonight there will be two very attractive numbers—one "Robert Bruce," a new and striking arrangement of Scottish airs; and "Reminiscences of England," will by request be repeated. Altogether an excellent program will be presented.

Vendors Must Get Licenses.

There are a number of milk vendors and eating-house keepers, who have not yet taken out their licenses, and Chief Roszel yesterday informed a reporter that he will only give the negligent ones another day to secure them and if they have not taken them then he intends to bring them before the magistrate in the police court.

DOMINION DAY OUTINGS.

Two excursions are booked for Dominion Day. The Bible class of St. Luke's church is having an outing to Stony Lake on the steamer "Empress," and the Adult Bible Class of George street church has chartered the Otonabee for an excursion to Jubilee Point.

Fishing Parties Leave.

Messrs. A. G. Colland, H. E. Kippert, A. B. Mitchell, Dr. Griffith of Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Cobb of Fairfoot, E.Y., arrived in the city last evening remaining at the Snowden House over night. They left for Stoney Lake, the first mentioned party having taken a cottage, and Mr. andMrs. Cobb will be guests at the Park Hotel, Burleigh Falls.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

PERSONAL

Mrs. Earle Armstrong of Scotia, N.Y., is spending her vacation at her home here.

Miss Eleanor Morrow, who has been visiting friends in town has returned to her home in Peterborough Lindsay Post.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Lyle, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lyle Bowmanville, to Mr. Robert H. Elliott, will take place quietly, June 30th. Toronto Star.

Mr. Louis Mendel, who has been visiting his native home in Germany, has arrived in New York, and after making a number of side trips to different states of the Union, expects to return to Peterborough early next week.

THREE HUNDRED VISITORS.

The excursion run by the Ancient Order of United Workmen of Cold water, to the city yesterday, arrived here shortly after 11 o'clock. They came on a G.T.R. train of five special coaches, each one filled to its utmost capacity. There were probably about three hundred visitors here, the inclement weather apparently deterring many from taking in the event. The excursionists spent the day seeing the various sights, including the lift lock. The street cars did a big business, carrying the people to points of interest.

OBITUARY

DEBORA REVINGTON.

The death occurred yesterday morning of Debora Revington, daughter of the late George Revington, at her late residence, lot 8, concession 7, in Ennismore. Deceased, who was 90 years of age, had been ailing for some time, and death was due to the infirmities of old age. She was was born in Ireland, and came to this country in 1837, settling in Ennismore with her parents, both of whom have predeceased her, as well as the other members of the family. The late Miss Revington was well known and highly esteemed by a large number of friends and acquaintances throughout the county. In religion she was Anglican.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock, and interment will take place at the Little Lake cemetery.

ROCHESTER PARTY COMING.

The Refurnishing of the House Almost Completed—Guests Eager for Rooms.

Mr. Graham, proprietor of the beautiful summer resort "Viamede," at Stoney Lake, was in the city yesterday. He stated that the grand new house that he has built to replace the one that was burnt, is almost completed. It is modern in every detail and nothing has been left undone to make things comfortable and convenient for the guests.

The first party is expected to arrive on Saturday from Rochester and from that on "Viamede" will be the rendezvous for tourists from several American and Canadian cities. The new resort far outclasses the old one and that is bound to please the most fastidious is an assured fact.

THE CLOSING WEEK.

Next Week is Closing Week of Conservatory of Music.

Next week is closing week of the Conservatory of Music year. During this week a number of recitants will be given of which due announcement will be made.

On Monday evening there will be a musicale given by the advanced pupils of Miss Laura Newman, pianoforte, and Miss Adamson, violin.

On Tuesday evening the pupils of Mr. Herr Lautz, vocal, and Mr. Glidcon, pianoforte, will be heard.

Admission to these musical events will be by invitation. All those inmay leave their names by phone or otherwise, at the Conservatory, or with any member of the faculty.

On Wednesday night the annual closing concert will be given. The program will be presented by the Conservatory orchestra, now numbering thirty, assisted by Miss Winnifrid Parker, elocutionist, an associate of Owen Smily and Mr. Andrew Ross Love, tenor, both of Toronto, and both new members of the faculty of the Conservatory. Mr. Love will be associated in the vocal department with Herr Lautz, who finds the work growing beyond his individual capacity that he requires an assistant.

PICTURES OF DAN SPENCE'S GRAVE

Lieut.-Col. H. S. Greenwood, now of "Uplands," Lakefield, who served in the South African campaign, sent to Col. Stevenson of the 57th Regiment, yesterday, two pictures of the grave of Sergeant Dan Spence, who was killed in action on the 23rd of October, 1900, during the Boer war. The picture shows the grave over which a large stone is placed, with an appropriate inscription.

The Dan Spence ambulance, which was purchased and equipped by the citizens of Peterborough, was to commemorate the death of this young man, who was well known and popular in this city. The pictures will be framed and placed in the sergeants' mess and the officers' rooms.

Replace your electric lights and gas as Mouvant Burners. You will save money and get a better light. See advertisement elsewhere.

SERGEANTS' INN SOLD.

One of London's Landmarks Disposed of Under the Hammer.

At $16,000 a year rent Old Sergeants' Inn was sold at the Mart recently. There are two Sergeants' Inns, the one pictured the other day faces Chancery lane and backs on the charming [illegible] the other, which is entered by a passage on the south side of Fleet [illegible] entirely [illegible] Temple [illegible] The Times, went [illegible] The Sergeants' Inn [illegible] a very [illegible] and [illegible] dining hall, which [illegible] them to be known as the "Order of the Coif." No one could be made a sergeant who had not obtained a patent.

The Judicature Act abolished the old sergeants, and in 1875 "the Order of the Coif" wound up its affairs and liquidated its assets, amounting to £25,000, among its members. The riches of the inn became the property of Sergeant Cox at the instance of whose executors the sale took placed, whilst the portraits of the famous lawyers which graced the walls, went to the National Portrait Gallery. When the order was abolished and the sergeants decided to sell the property Lord Chief Justice Cockburn presided at the final gathering, whilst the last treasurer was Sergeant Ballantine.

The property submitted was a building lease for ninety nine years, the lessee having the option of acquiring the freehold at any time within the first three years at the rate of twenty-six years' purchase of the ground rent. The minimum sum to be expended by the lessee in the erection of new buildings is $200,000 over a period of five years, providing that the sum is spent during the first three years. There is a rent charge of £800 per annum to the Bishop of [illegible] The property has an area of 16,000 feet.

The purchase price, at four per cent., represents $400,000, and this was regarded as a poor price to get for it. How surprised some of the old sergeants would be to learn how valuable their property had become!

"Who Are Sea Lords?"

Just now the Sea Lords are the best abused of all britain's public servants; but, frequently as we hear them spoken of, we know very little who these Sea Lords are, and what they really do.

First comes "Jacky" Fisher, as he is familiarly called in the service, who holds the post of Senior Naval Lord. His duty it is to look after the "war efficiency" of the navy, and he is the chief naval adviser of the First Lord the Right Hon. Reginald McKenna.

Admiral Sir Francis Bridgeman is Second Naval Lord. In three years he will be celebrating his jubilee as a naval officer. His special function in the Admiralty is to look after the "personnel" of the fleet.

Next comes the Third Naval Lord and Controller, Rear-Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, far-famed for his gunnery reforms. The construction, the equipment, the upkeep of every ship in the service are under his supervision. He is also responsible for the administration of our dockyards.

The Junior Naval Lord, Vice-Admiral Winsloe, may be termed the "odd job" Sea Lord, and deals with matters of transport, coaling, pay, pensions, medals, naval prisons, etc.; while last comes the civil Lord, Mr George Lambert, the M.P., with whose decision rests the fate of Jack Tar's bill of fare.

Mr. McKenna himself, the First Lord, is the Minister immediately responsible to the country for the general efficiency of the navy.

Battle Between Trout.

"Gadfly," of Grangellachie, writing to The Field, says: "I was walking towards the pond when I saw a tremendous scrimmage going on—now a fin, now a tail out of water, and on a nearer approach found that it was two large rainbows fighting. They kept swimming round and making violent dashes at each other with wide-open mouths, and now and then I saw mouthfuls of scales flying in the water. They were so busy fighting that they simply took no notice of me, and as they got within reach I put in my stick and tried to separate them, and then I realized what big, strong fish they were; but my pushing at them had no effect at all, and the fight went on. Of course, they soon got out of reach and deeper in the water, and the last I saw of them was merely a continuous boil, which showed that the fight was still going on."

Fine People in 1780.

My lady was as reckless as my lord and rattled the dice box and shuffled the cards from dusk until morning, going home with ruined fortunes in her sedan chair when workmen were going home from lathe and loom to breakfast. Family diamonds and jewels and plate were staked when the guineas were exhausted, and when these possessions had gone farms and estates were sacrificed. The amusements, too, of wealthy people were of a coarse and cruel description. Rat worrying, cock-fighting and badger baiting were favorite diversions. Prize-fighting was regarded as essential to keep up the courage of Englishmen.—Chambers' Journal.

Strange Nesting Place.

A pair of robins who have built their nest in the cover of a meter at the Market Drayton (Eng.) Electric Light Works have many precedents in the choice of unconventional nesting places. A year or two ago a robin's nest was built on a bookshelf in a night nursery at Chiselhurst which was occupied without interruption by a nurse and child. Four eggs were laid, and two young birds were hatched out. Two other robins built their nest on the axle of a colliery wagon in daily use at Seghill, in Northumberland. Among other curious recent nesting-places have been the breast-pocket of a scarecrow at Ashbourne, a mail-box in a village forge, the skeleton of a cross, and the rifle-range butts at Ticehurst, Sussex.

"There's a Reason"

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW ST., VICTORIA, B.C.

Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsina Sound, Vancouver Island.

The Company have acquired [illegible] acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 5,000 inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 10,000 to 15,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week. we are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $4.000 per ton. At present news is jobbing in British Columbia at $60.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Qdebec being $7.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden ,Germany ,Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia ,on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 5,000 to 8,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord, in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States,having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the prefered stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating pulp of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium, consequently the time to buy stock in any corporation is 18 months before it is about [illegible] turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent. annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $20.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $18.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $15.00 per ton on wrapping and $15.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $6.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1908 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $251,458. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,252,346. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 25th, 1907, Bulletin 80, showed that the mills of the State of Maine made a profit of 20 2-3 per cent. of the value of goods over all expenses, or 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International Paper Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,636,918.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his deposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $52.50 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent. on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent. upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 10 per cent. more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volumn of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2.000 to 3.000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is graudually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 46 square miles, which assures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

WEST ENDS AND STRATHS.

The City League games on Saturday promises to be the most interesting in the series todate, as all four teams are in the best of shape and will put up hard games for the honors.

The first game at two o'clock will bring together the Strathconas and T.A.S., and will be a hard fought battle, as the High Commissioners are determined to end their losing streak by trimming the leaders. On the other hand, the Abstainers figure on keeping up their good work, and will endeavor to stop the ambitions of the Strathconas with a jar. Both teams can't win, but there will surely be some doings at the ball yard before the issue is decided.

The West Ends are now the least dismayed by their defeat on Saturday at the hands of the T.A.S., and will endeavor to make up for it by taking Manager Jack Pilling's Park St. aggregation into camp. The South Enders will trot out their best team Saturday, and it begins to look like the hardiest kind of a game between the two.

With fine weather, the biggest crowd of the season should be on hand for the games.

GAS REDUCTION

54 % SAVING 54 %

This enormous saving of gas is effected by the use of the wonderful invention, the MOUVANT BURNER, which is now being presented to the people of Canada.

The MOUVANT BURNER has been tested and experimented upon by the most eminent scientists, manufacturers and others, and the result of the investigation has demonstrated an economy of 54 per cent. over the Auer Light—the best of those heretofore in use.

The use of the MOUVANT BURNER will effect a revolution in the system of gas lighting, as there are 6,000,000 burners in use in Canada, each of which is consuming over twice the amount required by the MOUVANT BURNER to produce an infinitely superior light.

The MOUNANT MANTLE, introduced for the first time in America with the MOUVANT BURNER, has an average life of one year—much greater than that of any other mantle. This mantle gives a pure white light of great softness and brilliancy.

Another invention rounding out the utility of the MOUVANT system is the MOUVANT AUTOMATIC LIGHTER, which lights the gas instantly without matches.

A distinctive feature of the MOUVANT BURNER is that it consumes, equally well, ordinary gas, acetylene gas or gasoline.

The whole system (burner, mantle and shade), is installed for $2.00.

The great consumption of the different kinds of gas in Canada induced the inventor to come to Canada, where a Company has been organized for the manufacture of MOUVANT burners, mantles, shades, lighters, etc.

THE FRENCH GAS SAVING COMPANY, LIMITED, is organized with a Capital of $500,000 divided into shares of $1.00 each—the minimum subscription being 10 shares—$10.00.

To manufacture these goods capital is necessary, and the object of issuing one dollar shares is to give the great mass of the people the opportunity to share in the double advantage of this. The People's Company, by securing gas at an enormously reduced rate and also sharing in the profits of what will be an enormous sale of manufactured goods.

Should the Company require additional capital, no further stock will be issued; but bonds will be sold, as it is intended to conserve the necessarily large profits for the original shareholders. Shares will be listed on the Stock Markets as soon as results are obtained.

The advantages of the Company's operations are presented in a most conservative way. If the actual possibilities were stated, the result would be almost incredible.

As it is but a few months until the Company can fill all orders, and as these will naturally be large, it is desirable that orders for goods or shares should be sent in at the earliest moment. Gas fitters throughout Canada, where gas is used, are invited to send addresses, with references, with a view to arranging for the installation of these lights.

All applications for shares and burners to be sent to me, and all remittances made to the order of the Company, and likewise sent to me.

WEDDING BELLS

WHELAN—WHITE

This morning at 7.30 a pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Francis Xavier church, when Very Rev. Dean Murray united for life Mr. John Whelan of Peterborough, and Miss Margaret White of this town, daughter of the late Bernard White of Elgin.

The bride attired in cream silk poplin and wearing a white picture hat, was assisted by her sister, Miss Sadie White of Elgin, who wore blue voile and a Tuscan hat. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Israel Whelan of Burnetts Rapids.

The ceremony concluded the bridal party repaired to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brown, Bartholomew street, where, joined by friends, they partook of a sumptuously prepared wedding breakfast. At 11.30 they left by the Limited for Peterborough, where the groom has a comfortably furnished residence in waiting for his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Whelan received several costly and useful presents from friends here and at a distance. The latter was engaged as maid at Fulford Place and by all was held in high esteem. On the occasion of her marriage she was remembered by Mrs. Fulford, with a substantial cheque, while Mr. and Mrs. McLean presented her with a handsome set of dinner dishes. Captain Johnson and Engineer McNeill, of the Mageedoma, also presented her with checks and Mr. Hugh Wilcox, with a large cut glass bowl. From the groom she received a gold horseshoe brooch set with pearls, while the bridesmaid received a gold ring.—Brockville Recorder.

"Bargain Days" for the Candidates in the Contest

Big Vote Schedule Lasts Only a Few Days and Then Takes a Decided Drop--A Few Subscriptions will Make You a Leader

"Bargain Days," are here. Dear to the heart of every woman, and in this Contest fully as dear to the men and boys. Have you read the full page announcement of the "Extra Vote Offer" in The Morning Times' Great $3,000 Prize Voting Contest?

If you have not, stop reading right here and turn to the full page advertisement. Then return to this place,—we'll wait here until you come back.

DEE LIGHTED!

Why of course you are, for this schedule means much to you and the best part of it is that not a stroke of work done hitherto is going to be lost. We do not wish any candidate ever to feel that it would have been better for them not to have been so prompt, therefore every subscription already turned in will be counted at the rate of the scale prevailing for "Bargain Days."

NOT A LONG PERIOD.

The "Bargain Days" will last from Saturday, June 19th until Saturday, July 3rd, inclusive. This gives you twelve days in which to hustle for subscriptions as never before. The necessity for doing this will be impressed upon you when you realize that this is absolutely the best offer of votes which will be made during the whole six weeks of the contest, and that thereafter the scale of votes will diminish materially from week to week, so that the sooner you secure your subscriptions the more they will be worth to you.

A POSITIVE GUARANTEE.

To prove to you that we are willing to guarantee that the period before July 3rd. is the very best in which to secure subscriptions, we make this guarantee. If The Morning Times repeats this schedule of votes during the remaining days of the Contest, The Morning Times will present them with a free trip to Europe which includes all expenses. You will find a guarantee coupon to this statement. As this offer includes every candidate in the contest the absurdity of our caring to send so many at our expense in addition to all the other prizes is evident, so you may with perfect assurance go ahead and get your subscriptions as fast as you can knowing that never again will they be worth so much to you.

OUR POLICY.

Our settled policy is to avoid disappointing a single one of our contestants in any particular, therefore we do not wish to take advantage of any possible misunderstanding on their part, and while a majority of the candidates know that in all contests the scale of votes varies we do not wish them to do anything in ignorance and for this reason we are crediting every subscription turned in up to date with the full amount that it would have been worth during these "Bargain Days."

DO NOT LOSE AN HOUR.

Wise candidates will not lose an hour of this precious time. Their friends will take pleasure in subscribing in their favor when they see how greatly each subscription adds to the candidate's chance of success. "Bargain Days" will prove to be harvest days to ambitious candidates.

TO SECURE A RESERVE.

These are the ideal days in which to lay up your reserve of vote certificates with which you can overcome all opposition toward the close of the contest. It is imperative to hold something in reserve if you do not wish to be crushed at the last by your more thrifty opponent. During the first four weeks no contestant may cast more than 5,000 votes issued on paid subscriptions on any one day. This must not deter you from bringing in subscriptions in excess of this amount. The certificates crediting you with the proper number of votes will be promptly issued on each and every subscription brought in to us, and given into your own keeping until such time as it is voted.

ROOM FOR YOU.

There is room for many more candidates. It should be remembered that their are twenty prizes. Remember also that all the names on the list at present will not be there at the close. People always drop out for one reason or another. Circumstances force some to withdraw, some lack the necessary perseverance and energy for winning one of the prizes of a lifetime.

The field is still open. You can enter now and win a prize. Do not hold back while others fall into line and with a little effort win the prize that might have been yours.

Government to be Asked to Make Grant One-Half for the County Roads

A short session of the County Council was held last night when several reports from committees were received and several bylaws were passed. It was impossible to finish up last night as all the councillors wished to get away this morning as much work as was ready was put through. Another short session will be held this morning, and the county men will leave for their homes.

The Finance Committee reported recommending that the general rate for the year be 2 1-5 mills. House of Refuge rate 70 100ths of a mill, and equivalent to government school grant 148-800ths of a mill

That the $200 voted last year to paid this year when approved by the treasurer and solicitor.

That a grant of $100 each be made to East and West Agricultural Societies, and $25 each to Lakefield, Kinmount, Keene and Lakehurst societies.

That a special grant of $100 be made to the township of Belmont and Methuen to assist in defraying expenses of recent smallpox epidemic providing the Ontario Government grants $300 for the same purpose.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Mr. Fife, chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee, read the report of that committee.

He recommended that the Squaw river bridge be assumed by the county and rebuild.

That Norwood bridge be repaired.

That Davidson's bridge, Asphodel, be assumed by the county.

That $150 be granted to help repair the road from Gannon's Narrows to Chemong Bridge in Ennismore.

That Lily Lake bridge be assumed.

$100 was granted towards rebuilding Hyne's bridge in Douro, and $100 be granted to Havelock for road work.

That this council urge the Ontario Government to increase the grant for county roads from one-third to one-half.

The Bishop Construction Company of Montreal, has been awarded the contract for the construction of the new waterworks dam to be built at Peterborough, and the contract for supplying the pumps and waterwheels is divided between the Wm. Hamilton Co., of Peterborough, and the John Melbougall Caledonia Iron Works Company, Limited, of Montrea. The Peterborough firm's part of the contract is worth $12,900, and that of the Caledonia Iron Works Company $9,306. It is impossible to give even an approximate idea of the amount of the contract for the construction of the dam as in the estimates and in only one of these is a bulk sum quoted. The contract is awarded at so much per cubic yard, square yard or per pound. It will therefore be seen the total amount of earth excavated, concrete put in, iron work used, etc.

There were twelve tenders for the dam and five for the pumps and firms tendered for the dam construction, and one for the pumps and wheels. The contracts were awarded by the Water Commissioners yesterday morning. A great amount of work was entailed in letting the contracts as the commissioners had go into it in a most thorough ough manner. It was only after the most careful deliberation on the part of the commissioners, the engineer employed, Mr. Wm. Kennedy, jr., of Montreal, and Mr. Wm. Henderson the superintencent of the waterworks department that the contracts were awarded.

Below will be found the twelve divisions into which the specifications for the contract for the dam were divided. Each division is numbered, the numbers being used to designate the figures submitted by the tenders for each division. When figures appear after the word "concrete" in "key" they refer to the quality of the concrete being the ratio in mixing. The "key in as follows;

1—Earth excavation, cubic yard.
2—Rock excavation, cubic yard.
3—Concrete, 1, 2, 3, cubic yard.
4—Concrete, 1, fi. 5, cubic yard.
5—Concrete, 1, 4 8, cubic yard
6—Concrete, 1, 3, 5, with fillers cubic yard.
7—Finishing floors, square yard
8—Beams, channel, etc., pounds.
9—Steel structure work and rack bars, pounds.
10—Plain, reinforced bars, pounds.
11—Water tight embankments, cubic yards.
12—Coffer dams, and unwatering, bulk sum.

BISHOP CONSTRUCTION CO.

One, 40 cents; two, $1.25; three $6.72; four, $5.65; five, $5.40, six, $5.50; seven, 50 cents; eight, 3½ cent nine, 5 cents; ten, 3 cents; eleven, $1.18, twelve, $5.00.

PUMPS AND WHEELS.

The tenders for the pumps and wheels were referred to the engineer and superintendent of the waterworks department to report upon, and they recommended that the Wm Hamilton Compant, Peterborough, be given the contract for one unit of triplex pumps similar in design and construction to those in use here for fifteen years at $12,900. This was done by the commissioners

Mr. Kennecy and Mr. Henderson also recommended that the John McDougall Caledonian Iron Works Co., Limited, of Montreal, be given the contract for one unit of turbine pump and water wheel at $9,306, subject to the engineer's approval as to design and detail of construction, with details to be approved before contract is awarded, and also upon condition that no payment be made to contractors until the pump is fully tested for sixty days, and going from one year from date of acceptance.

EFFORTS APPRECIATED.

Chief Howard Received Cheque for $25 from the C.G.E.

Chief Howard of the fire department yesterday received from the Canadian General Electric Co., a letter of appreciation of the services the brigade rendered their works on Sunday night in extinguishing the fire. The letter also contained a cheque for $25 to go towards the Firemen's Benefit Fund.

INJURED HER STERN.

Steamer Water Lily Laid Up for Repairs Yesterday.

The steamer Water Lily while on her way to Stoney Lake broke her keel, and the trip today is therefore cancelled in order that the injury may be repaired. The boat returned to the city last night as usual and will be put in shape for the trip on Monday. The injury is somewhat trifling but is sufficent to cause her to miss one trip.

NO GYPSIES HERE.

Warden Scott taking Steps to Drive the Tribe Away from Peterborough.

Warden R. N. Scott lost no time in taking steps to prevent the tribe of Mexican Gypsies, who are camping at Bobcaygeon coming into Peterborough County. It was learned that it was the intention of the tribe to move down to Chemong and Bridgenorth, and to carry on their operations in and around that burg. Warden Scott does not intend to allow this and yesterday morning was in communication with Crown Attorney R. E. Wood. That gentleman communicated with the department at Ottawa yesterday afternoon for the purpose of ascertaining what steps to take. It is hoped to secure Provincial aid ridding the Province of the Mexicans. The tribe is to large for any one municipality to handle, and Warden Scott thinks they should be deported.

The warden deserves great credit as the Gypsies are a most undesirable bunch to have in any district.

Toronto Business Men are Coming.

Toronto, June 18.—There was a very poor turnout of business men at the meeting called for last night to decide and to make arrangements for the annual picnic of the association. Mr. Tom Padget occupied the chair, and Mr. F. B. Hartney acted as secretary. It was decided to hold the picnic on July 21st. to Peterborough This decision was arrived at by ballot of the business men of the ward, the majority of the votes polled being for that place. The election of committees will be conducted next Thursday evening.

Agricultural Teacher at Norwood Preparing for Season's Work

Mr. Duff, agricultural teacher at Norwood, addressed the County Council upon the agricultural class, which will shortly be started in Norwood High School. He said that all the work will not be done in Norwood alone, but will be extended throughout the county. He said that when he was sent down here he was told to do all he could for the farmers of Peterborough, and this he has to do. The main thing is to help the farmers along. In a short time they will have an office opened in Norwood, where farmers can go for information of all kinds. One of the great problems in the county was drainage, and in this the department will be of great assistance. They also propse to have a short course next winter which will last for about four days with morning and afternoon sessions. The actual work to be done at Norwood was taken up, and the speaker explained what would be done with with the county's $500. The department will pay special attention here to dairying, poultry, etc. These classes will be started in September and last for two years, and are for boys who are too young to remain away from school, but who have passed the entrance classes. For the older boys a class will probably be held for from six to eight weeks in the winter. He asked the council to set aside their portion of a grant of $500, so that it will be available for immediate use for purchasing apparatus.

Moved by Messrs. Knox and Graham that the council give this matter its most serious consideration and refer it to the Finance Committee to deal with.

More Money Wanted for Permanent Roads

The County Council of Peterborough, in its session yesterday morning made an important move in the direction of securing aid from the Ontario Government for county roads. It is felt that the proportion of the present government grant, which is one dollar for every two of the county's is not enough to secure the best and promptest results, especially in view of the large amount of Provincial money that is being spent in new undertakings in Northern Ontario and elsewhere, in some cases of a more or less speculative character. While there is no objection to New Ontario development, more attention ought to be paid to development here at home, where the ultimate burden of government chiefly falls. It is felt here and in other parts of the Province, that the grant should be at least dollar for dollar, and with this end in view correspondence will be opened with other counties, and a general deputation organized to wait upon the government. The Times heartly endorses the plan. It is too much to expect of extensive counties like Peterborough, Victoria or Hastings that they should be called upon to develope their own sparsely settled districts, while so much government money is being spent on roads to Gowganda, etc. A general revision of government grants would add greatly to the welfare of the counties, and relieve the hard-working settler of a burden that is disportionately large. It is thought that the government will be pleased to hear representations on the subject with a view to larger grants.

Miss Mary Curtin and Miss Irene Cunningham of Lindsay, are the guests of Miss Armeso Laglante, Rubidge street.

Catarrh

THE MOTHER OF CONSUMPTION.

How this dread disease may be prevented and cured—the opinions of people who have been cured by

CATARRHOZONE.

Catarrh is very often spoken of as the mother of consumption, because when unchecked it extends from its place of beginning to the bronchial tubes then deeper and deeper, till finally the disease becomes consumption of the lungs.

The safest and best remedy for any form of Catarrh is Catarrhozone. It is inhaled to all parts of the breathing organs, kills the disease, and drives it completely out of the system.

Mrs. Mary J. Whitney, of Clay street, Topeka, Kansas, was cured of Nasal Catarrh after twenty years' suffering by Catarrhozone. She says; "I owe to Catarrhozone an immense debt of gratitude. It cured me of Catarrh of the most disagreeable kind after doctors without number had pronounced my case incurable. My breath is pure and my respiration regular, and I do not cough any more since using Catarrhozone. It has cured me perfectly."

Another case of Chronic Catarrh that was cured quickly by Catarrhozone is that of Mr. G. I. Luce, of 1,700 Newport street, Austin, Texas. Mr. Luce says;

"I tried for four years to get rid of Nasal Catarrh, used salt douches, atomizers, tablets, stomach medicines, etc., but they didn't do much good.

"Then I tried Catarrhozone, and received relief in a few hours. It cured in a week, so that I never had a recurrence of my former trouble."

Miss Winer, who resides on Ivy street in Hartford, Conn., was cured of throat trouble by Catarrhozone, and speaks of her recovery in the following words;—

"Repeated colds finally resulted in a Catarrhal condition from which I suffered more or less every spring and fall. Catarrhozone was the only remedy that relieved and cured me. I recommended it."

No treatment is so good for Catarrhal affections and Bronchitis as Catarrhozone. Its success is quite unequalled in the history of medicine. It will cure you quickly and surely, and is well worth a trial. Two months' treatment guaranteed to cure, price $1.00; small size 50c. Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Buy it today.

CANADA'S POSSIBILITIES.

It is only within the past fifteen years that Canada has discovered herself — that is, has realized her possibilities and seen what the future held for her. It is not surprising then that good John Bull only recently discovered this country, and it is only within the past dozen years that Uncle Sam has wakened to the fact that we are "some." Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, has been recently talking about Canada and what he has said is good enough to repeat. The Buffalo Courier thus repeats Senator McCumber's remarks:

"The agricultural possibilities of Canada were under discussion in Washington the other day, and Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, who has travelled extensively through the Canadian Northwest, indicated upon a large map some surprising facts. He drew a line on the east side of North Dakota parallel with Red River of the north, and continued it down to the Gulf of Mexico on the south, and north to the Arctic Ocean.

"He asserted that west of that line lies nearly two-thirds of the whole territory of the United States, and that west of that line in Canada are more acres which will produce grain and cereals of all kinds than can possibly be found in the United States west of the line. He said that the Canadian tract thus indicated is about 1,200 miles by 800 miles, interspersed with lakes, and small bodies of timber, and nearly every acre of which outside of the small mountainous portion is capable of producing all kinds of cereals, except corn, and in some parts corn can be raised.

"Senator McCumber is quite positive that this Canadian region has a better rainfall than has the cores and is strongly convinced thatin responding region of the United Statlees than twenty years it will be the "wheat granary of the world."

"Representing a State bordering on this promising territory, Senator McCumber may have information justifying his rosy prediction; but he himself says that at present only 8,000,000 of the 120,000,000 acres are at present under cultivation. The future development must be very rapid in order to produce the granary of the world.

"Probably this development will be rapid because the region in question is traversed by the great Canadian transcontinental lines, on both sides of which spurs are run out for hundreds of miles. The Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern are all there."

THE COST OF DEFEAT.

Mr. Arthur Lee, M. P., speaking recently in Glasgow, with regard to naval needs, said that at no time had he felt more profound concern and alarm about the state of the national defences than at the present moment. So deeply did he feel it that he had dropped all other work in order to put the facts fully before his countrymen.

Germany had conceived naval ambition, which, if realized, would threaten the very existence of the Empire. In 1911 Great Britain would have only one Dreadnought more than Germany—these were government figures—that was to say, two years hence Germany would be running neck and neck with John Bull. Pin addition, Austria, the closest allay of Germany was preparing to lay down four Dreadnoughts.

"By 1912 we should have to detach six ships to watch four Austrians, leaving us with only fourteen to the seventeenth of Germany in the North Sea. One thing was certain; war would only be forced upon us when we were weak enough to lose. A strong navy was provocative of peace.

"What ought we to do? Build sufficiently to restore the two-power stanard? We must build in the course of this year at least eight Dreadnoughts, and he was afraid as many in the year which is to come. It was quite possible to carry out such a gigantic program. We could do it, and we had got to. He did not wish to enter into the financial question, except to say that if need were we must do as other countries did—raise a loan.

"When he was asked "What about cost?" he replied, "What about the cost of war? What would be the the cost of an indemnity if we were beaten? France had to pay Germany $1,000,000,000. We should not in the event of defeat get off with $1,000,000,000. When we did that sum would build 120 Dreadnoughts."

Mr. Lee might have added that in addition to the billion dollars France had to cede Alsace and the largest part of Lorraine, and that German garrisons remained on French soil until all the money was collected.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURE

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

INVADE NEW YORK

Portland, Ore., June 11.—Rear Admiral Uriel Sebree, commander of the Pacific fleet, who arrived here last night, is in favor of a large navy.

"We want ships," said the Admiral. "We want more of them. We ought to be building three or four Dreadnoughts every year. I don't say we should lay down ten Dreadnoughts at once, but we should see that some are started every year. I don't think that a greater fleet is so particularly necessary on the Pacific Coast. We are not going to have war with the Japanese—at least, not the kind you mean. But almost any foreign country could land an army in New York, San Francisco or Seattle."

Don't Risk even a penny—until health returns. And I mean just exactly that.

I am the one physician who says to the sick: "I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help!"

And for 20 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere. Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unwarranted and unproven medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the most commendable way used Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

First

What that first is, is to make your stomach nerves well. For Kidney or Heart sickness comes quickly. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will make them back to health again. But best of all, it may positively be no money risk whatever. They know that when health fails to return Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay the druggist for what you took. And for that test a full 30 day treatment is freely granted.

Then

Just write me first for an order. This will save delay and disappointment. All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy. But if you are not absolutely satisfied after the first day's test, if you do not get results, if you do not get well—then the physician you employ, or the druggist in whose store you trade, is not honest and responsible druggist in all cases in any community, every where, to issue my "no risk, no pay" medicines to the sick.

Pay

Tell me also which book you need.

The books below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides they are yours for the asking. You are perfectly free to consult me, and you can tell me as your honest physician would. Your letter will be held sacredly confidential. My advice and the books are yours—and without cost.

Afterwards

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up certain matters at once. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or counsel or advice plan. My best efforts are ready for your case. Write me fully, freely, confidentially. Address me personally, Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

The bonds will be dated 1st June, 1909, and payable on the 1st June, 1959, in denominations of $1,000 each, with coupons attached for interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 1st June and 1st December in each year, at the office of the Provincial Treasurer, Toronto, or at the offices of the Bank of Montreal, in Montreal, Canada, and in New York, N. Y., at the holder's option. Bonds will be made payable to bearer, but on request will be registered in the office of the Provincial Treasurer and endorsed as payable only to the order of certain persons or corporations, and on request of holders will be exchanged for "Ontario Government Stock" at any time.

"Ontario Government Stock" will bear interest from the 1st day of June, 1909, principal payable on the 1st day of June, 1959, and interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum will be paid half-yearly by cheque on the 1st day of June and 1st day of December in each year. "Ontario Government Stock" may be subscribed for in sums of $50 or multiples thereof, and will be transferable in the books of the Treasury Department only by the holder or his attorney in similar manner to transfers of bank stock.

The issue price during the month of June, 1909, will be 97 for each $100, and after the 30th day of June, 1909, the issue price will be 98 and interest accrued from the 1st June 1909.

ALL BONDS AND INSCRIBED STOCK ISSUED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE SAID ACT ARE FREE FROM ALL ONTARIO PROVINCIAL TAXES, CHARGES, SUCCESSION DUTY AND IMPOSITIONS WHATSOEVER.

Purchasers of Stock or Bonds will be required to send certified cheques with the applications, payable to the order of the "Provincial Treasurer of Ontario.

This loan is raised upon the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Ontario, and is chargeable thereupon.

Subscribers should state whether they desire bonds or "Ontario Government Stock."

Example: A subscriber for $1,000 will have the option of taking either a bond or "Ontario Government Stock." A subscriber for $950 will be given "Ontario Government Stock," as bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000.

Contest in Interest of Every Advertiser

Increased Number of Subscribers Obtained by this Means Gives More Readers for the Advertisers—It's a Subscription Getter—Prizes are Valuable and Desirable

Many feel surprised that The Times is able to offer such a list of handsome and expensive prizes to the public. This is easily explained. A newspaper spends a great deal of time and money each year in collecting and renewing its subscriptions. Experience has shown that the use of special prizes, and the employment of experts to do this work, is a wise investment from a business standpoint. We simply contract with an expert who knows the management of these things as an engineer knows his engine. We have a special office in The Times building in which to conduct the contest and a large force of assistants will conduct the work, thus assuring the contestants every consideration and assistance compatible with perfect impartiality.

As many of our readers know, the advertiser, who pays three times as much toward the expense of a newspaper as does the reader, needs large circulations to bring him customers. So newspapers can afford to give these inducements from time to time for the benefit of their subscribers. The Peterborough Times, Daily and Weekly, now goes into thousands of homes. We expect to add many thousands to that before this contest ends.

The prizes are well worth seeing and will be exhibited in prominent places. The Times does not simply give them away, for we get much in return one of our best assets being the satisfaction of our subscribers, who are all pleased with this chance either winning a most desirable prize for themselves, or of helping a favorite candidate to do so. You can win the prize without making any outlay, by simply asking your friends to subscribe to The Times and give the votes thus won to you.

Last Day Respite for Every Body

Toronto, June 18.—The effect of the order to stay the execution means that any lawer thw day before an execution can secure a reprieve simply by serving notice that he is going to appeal.

"No man need be executed on the day appointed.

"It means that a notice of appeal is considered equivalent to leave being granted to appeal."

This interpretation of the order for respite granted by Mr. Justice Teetzel was made to a newspaper man this morning by one of the most eminent criminal lawyers in the city, who takes the action that Mr. Robinette's action does not come within the meaning of the new criminal code.

Several other complications are suggested.

The Minister of Justice sent on the first appeal for clemency to the Governor-General, and pardon was refused by the highest authority in the Dominion.

Now, after this is done, a judge of the high court goes beyond this authority and grants a respite.

Another point.

When the case comes before the Court of Appeal it is said that the conduct of the judge who is reported to have given his personal opinion in favor of clemency to Blythe to the Minister of Justice may be objected to by the authorities as having unfitted himself to hear the appeal, and the unique spectacle of a protest lodged against him may be seen.

Admiral Would Stop U. S. Jack Tars Smoking Cigarets

Washington, June 18. —Cigarette smoking by the enlisted men of the United States navy should be discouraged as much as possible, in the opinion of Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic battleship fleet.

Admiral Schroeder desires to see a ban placed on the habit, and has recommended to the secretary of the Navy that no cigarettes be sold at the ship's stores at any of the vessels under his command. It is probable that Secretary Meyer will take action on Admiral Schroder's recommendation. With this procedure began his observation as to the effects of cigarette smoking by the Jackies at different times while he was executive officer of several of the ships of the navy. He believes that cigarettes impair the health of the men and do not increase their efficiency.

A Reign of Terror Over Ireland--Land Boycott

That certain parts of Ireland are more dangerous for a loyalist to live in than any other place in the British Empire, however rough and even uncivilized is the deliberate opinion of Mr. Ian Malcolm after a visit to that country. He writes to the London Times, giving instances of outrages upon persons and property which came under his own observation, or were communicated to him at first hand by the victims. It is difficult to read his letter without reaching the conclusion that the United Irish League, the organization which exists for the purpose of promoting Home Rule, should be abolished as a disloyal and illegal body. It is certain that in the United States the incidents related by Mr. Malcolm would long ago have resulted in the arrest and imprisonment of those concerned in carrying on the work of the league, and yet in the matter of law enforcement the American Republic is supposed to be far behind Great Britain.

The Land Boycott.

"The Terror in Ireland" is the heading the Times gives to his letter, and the subject matter shows the title to be an apt one. It is the terror of a living death by boycotting that presses upon thousands of loyal British subjects in Ireland who have had the misfortune to offend the dreaded United Irish League. The offences may be no more than the league desires to have cut up into small holdings and sold on easy terms to some of its members. A landlord may ask a price for the lease of a farm that the local managers of the organization consider too dear. In ordinary circumstances the law of supply and demand would regulate the price, and the penalty the landlord would pay for exorbitant rental would be a refusal on the part of a tenant to pay it. His land would then lie idle until the price was reduced. Should someone come along and pay the price, the landlord would be credited with being a shrewd fellow; or the tenant would be reckoned the reverse. In any event, the transaction would be considered a private matter between the two parties, and that the local L. O. L., the Sons of England, or the Ancient Order of Hibernians would interfere an intolerable impertinence

Landlord v. Tenant.

It is much more serious a matter than an impertinence in Ireland and yet it is an everyday occurrence When such a difference of opinion as to values arises, when the former tenant is unwilling to pay the increased rental the landlord demands, or to continue the former rate which the landlord refuses to abate, the tenant is evicted, and the land is blacklisted. The United Irish League notifies all members, after the fashion of striking mechanics, that they are to "keep away, trouble on." Of course, the warning is sufficient for members, but the non-union Irishman comes along, finds the farm a good one, and the price one that he can afford to pay, and replaces the evicted tenant. A case in point is that of a milkman, mentioned in the Malcolm letter, who rents a few acres from a "condemned man," and is struggling to earn a living off them with the help of a fewcows. No man or woman may buy his milk in the town; the wives of married soldiers stationed there are told that if they deal with him they will be turned out of their quarters, which they hold on weekly tenancy, and that no one else will take them in. One man was so indiscreet as to buy a few apples from the milkman, and he, too, is boycotted now. His little boy was sent away from the National school by the master for no other reason than that his parents were "boycotts." His mother then went to the parish priest, who eluded her by going out of the back door. Finally, she appealed to the Bishop, who asked why the boy had been expelled. "Because we are boycotts," answered the woman. "Why so?" asked his Lordship. "For taking a small piece of condemned land," the woman replied: "Isn't boycotting the penalty they always inflict for that?" enquired the Bishop. And that was all the satisfaction the parents got. The other children, who attend a nuns' school, are hooted at, and subjected to many little annoyances by their classmates; the parents go to church, but no one will sit beside them.

Another man is "drummed," and no one may even speak to him, because he happens to have a bit more bog land than his neighbors. The workmen who have stood by Mr. Clarke, of Holyrross, an opponent of the league, have been boycotted so that they would have literally starved to death unless their employer had not opened a little store for them in his own residence. The McCann family, in County Longford, are among the most noted opponents of the league's pretensions. For years they have been unable to either buy or sell in the local market. They cannot get bread nearer than Dublin, and Mr. Malcolm saw a cheque that had been returned to them by a Dublin baker because he had yielded to the threats of the organization, and refused to let them have bread. Another cheque was from a man who had sold them a number of cattle, but who had been notified to call the deal off before the animal had been shipped. The day before Mr. Malcolm's visit, Mrs. McCann had narrowly escaped being brained by a stone thrown at her by some miscreant. Another man who had offered the league was refused wood to make a coffin in which to bury his dead brother—a Crimean veteran after he had failed to induce the local undertaker to make him one. In a market town the writer saw a tradesman's shop closed up because of the boycott. Crowds gathered in front of it every now and then, and hooted the owner It is charged by Mr. Malcolm and others that the conditions he describes exist with the knowledge and tacit consent of the Government, which fears to offend the Nationalists by stern measures of supression. If the charge is true, of the high praise that has been lavished on the British politician, as compared with his prototype in Canada and the United States will have to be withdrawn.

PAN-SILVER MINE

Is One of the Richest in the Cobalt District, and one of the Safest.

The Pan-Silver Mining Co's property is 120 acres of richly mineralized lands, owned under Crown patents, and adjacent to the dividend-paying Temiskaming and Kerr Lake mines in the Cobalt district, Ont., The Pan-Silver adjoins the Temiskaming mine on the West and Southwest, and ranges westerly to within 60 chains of the Kerr Lake mine. The developers of the rich Temiskaming mine are among the principal owners and developers of the Pan-Silver company. There is no question as to the ore which is in the lands of the Pan-Silver company. Every engineer who is in the Cobalt camp knows that the riches of the ores owned by the Pan-Silver company. Every engineer who is in the Cobalt camp knows that the riches of the ores owned by the Pan-Silver Mining Co., are just as high as the best ores extracted from the rich mines that are near it.

The company was organized under the mining laws of Ontario with a capitalization of $3,000,000 divided into shares of $1.00 each.

With property holdings of six adjoining claims comprising 120 acres in Concession 3, Township of Coleman—all adjoining the famous Temeskaming Mine—there are few recent flotations in the Cobalt District that attract the investor by its great future possibilities as does Pan-Silver.

Any mining property proven to have a continuation of the famous Temiskaming vein, must of necessity arouse the interest of the investing public, not alone for the probable increase in stock values but also on account of its dividend paying possibilities.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupifying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is a truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Grading, Sodding, Drives, Concrete and Stone work, &c., Drill Hall, Peterborough, Ont. will be received until 4.30 P. M., on Monday, June 28, 1909, for the work mentioned.

Tenders will not be considered unless made upon, and in accordance with conditions contained in forms furnished by Department.

Says This Medicine Has Mystic Powers

It's in the spring that health gives out—that folks begin to feel draggy, weary, restless,—hate to eat, look pale, feel discouraged.

If you've reached this state read what J. W. Jervell, well known in Morristown, has to say about the medicine that cured him. "Last winter I caught a heavy cold that settled in my back. My kidneys and liver were affected and my health failed. By spring I was in bad shape—couldn't sleep like I used to—felt tired in the morning—ate very little—was terribly depressed, late and anxious looking. Twinges of rheumatism, frequent neuralgia attacks over the temples, made matters worse. The doctor prescribed three times, but didn't help. Then I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills—They possess mystic powers surely, for I gained and improved day by day and now am in perfect health again. I will praise and use Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I die."

The ingredients in Dr. Hamilton's Pills are pure and wholesome—come right from the storehouse of Nature to the form of veletable juices and extracts,—consequently this gentle invigorating laxative tonic and blood purifier is safe for old and young alike. We assure you of enormous benefit from Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which revitalise delicate glands, search out the seat of hidden disease, flood the body with vigor and health that has caused thousands of broken-down, despairing men and women to join in a mighty song of praise for the beneficient aid that comes from this king of all tonics. The Morning Times

PETERBOROUGH, ONT.

SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1909.

Go To Camp.

The 34th Field Battery will leave at 6 o'clock Monday morning, and march into camp at Cobourg. In spite of the early start a large number will be out to see them.

March Out.

The 57th Regiment will have its second march out this year on Monday night. The regiment with both bands and signalling corps will parade at the armories at 8 o'clock.

Fire, Water and Light.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee made their annual trip of the city last night and inspected the electric lights and also those places where lights are needed. They will have a meeting in a short time to complete their business.

Company Inspection.

The officer commanding from Kingston, will be in the city Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights for the purpose of inspecting the 57th Regiment. It will be a company inspection, and the signalling corps will be included.

Heard the Band.

When the County Council adjourned last night the majority of them remained at Victoria Park for some time enjoying the band concert. Councillor Breault, who is an old band master, was in his glory, and greatly appreciated the music.

BALL GAMES.

At Riverside Park this Afternoon—Two Good Games.

Two more games will be played in the Senior City League this afternoon at Riverside Park, and it is hoped that a big crowd will turn out. The first game will be between the T.A.S. and Stratheonas at two o'clock, and it should be a good one. The T.A.S. are out to win, and they will have Quinlan in the box again.

The second game promises to be full of interest. When the West End and Park Street clash there will be something doing.

All the teams have their strongest men on and the weather will be ideal for good ball.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of those failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will quickly tell. Try it once, and cost Sold by all dealers.

PERSONAL

Mr. Henry Cox of Roger street, Ashburnham, is seriously ill.

Mrs. Collins and Miss Flora Collins are visiting in Ottawa.

Mr. J. Laird of Chicago, has returned home after visiting with relatives on McDonel street.

Miss Mattie B. Robertson is a guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Brandon at Fenelon Falls.

Mr. Wm. Gallon of Apsley, who has been in the city several days returns to his home today.

Miss Margaret Thomas of Cobourg, returned home Wednesday after spending a few days with Mrs. F. Roberts, 56 Hilliard street.

Mr. J. Hogan, 577 Gilmour street left for Toronto yesterday morning to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hogan's sister, Mrs. R. W. Johnston, of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Flynn, of Rochester, returned to their home yesterday, after visiting Mr. Flynn's brother, Mr. James Flynn, 5 Dennistoun avenue.

Mrs. F. W. Gladman and children, who have been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Fowler, Rubidge street, has returned to her home in Exeter.

Mr. Thompson, M.P.P., of Havelock, was in the city yesterday, and called upon the County Council while it was in session and he received a warm welcome from his many old friends.

Norwood citizens are pleased to learn of the appointment of Dr. Geo. H. Ling to a professorship in Columbia University of Saskatoon, Sask. Prof. Ling has been assigned the department of mathematics. Mrs Ling was formerly Miss Effie Sherry, daughter of Mr. G. J. Sherry of Norwood, and was married to Dr. Ling three years ago.—Norwood Register.

Master Gerald P. O'Brien, son of Mr. M. O'Brien, inspector of Separate Schools, 520 Gilmour street, is home from the Institute, Belleville, for the holidays. He is certainly not wasting his time there, but, rather making hay while the sun shines. At the mid-summer examination he nearly "smashed" the papers, taking 90 per cent. of the possible marks, the second highest in the school, and his name like Abou Ben Adams, might have "led" all the rest" had it not been for his gallantry; for he recognized the chivalric motto, "place aux dames," and permitted a young lady to score two per cent. over his own record.

BRIDGE TENDER.

O'Leary at Chemong Was Censured By the County Council.

Mr. W. O'Leary, caretaker of the Chemong float bridge, got saucy a short time ago to Mr. R. N. Scott. It just happened that Mr. Scott is warden of the county, and one of the bridge commissioners. As a result the County Council yesterday passed a resolution of censure upon Mr. O'Leary, and if he is not good in the future he will have to look for another job.

BAND CONCERT.

Cold Weather Affected the Attendance Last Night.

The weather seriously affected the attendance at the band concert last night. It was too cold to sit on the grass and as a result only about half of last week's crowd was present, and those kept on the move or went home early. The band rendered a splendid program and won hearty applause from the spectators.

SUMMER GUESTS.

At Chemong Park Hotel are Already Beginning to Arrive.

Chemong Park, June 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Brown have their hotel open and running full swing. Already a number of Americans have come over for the fishing and they are kept pretty busy. Among those who are now guests at the hotel are Mr. and Mrs. Kondolf and Miss Marion Kondolf of Rochester, N. Y., who arrived last Wednesday. This party has been coming to the Chemong Park Hotel twice a year for the past 15 years. Mr. Kondolf is a great fisherman and he thoroughly enjoys the sport.

Mrs. John Scott and children of Providence R. I., are registered here for a couple of weeks. Mrs. Scott is a sister-in-law of Warden R. N. Scott and is now on her first trip to Chemong for some 18 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barthold, of Rochester, N. Y., are spending part of their honeymoon here. They came this week from Atlantic City.

COPPER BELT MINES.

If there is any metal which is advancing in price and which is increasing in demand it is copper. There is not nearly enough of this metal on the market and there will always be a heavy demand for it.

Knowing this fact the Couper Belt Mines Co., of Chicago, with mines located 12 miles south of Lurk, Wyoming, are giving the public an opportunity to get in on the ground floor. Their mines are being rapidly developed and they are now ready for the erection of a smelter. In order to raise the funds for the smelter the company is offering for sale at 40c. per share a block of their stock. The par value of the stock is $1.00 and very soon it will be advanced to 50 and 55c. per share.

Copper Belt Mines Co., have 35 claims consisting of 600 acres. They have four large proven veins of copper and they have the main shaft down 620 feet. This should be a very valuable proposition and it is the wise ones who will go into it. See the adv. on another page of this issue.

CUT HIS THUMB.

John Mulhall, 816 Water street, an employee of the Canadian General Electric Works, was a victim of a very painful accident while at work Wednesday. He was using a circular saw when in some manner his left hand came in contact with the rapidly revolving teeth and a severe gash was inflicted. Dr. Young was called, and assisted by Dr. McMahon, who is to take Dr. Young's practice during the latter's absence in camp with the battery at Cobourg, amputated the left thumb. The injury, although painful, is not serious.

Peterborough's Fire Rate The Lowest in Province

It is understood that Peterborough is to get the best rating of any city in the Province and this news should be heard with pleasure by the citizens. It speaks well for the up to date fire department which has made a very creditable showing since its inauguration.

On Wednesday Chief Howard received a communication from the secretary of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, requesting him to go to Toronto to confer with that body in reference to the new rating for the city of Peterborough.

The chief went up Thursday and met the board, and with them discussed the general situation. It is learned that the underwriters were well pleased with the efficiency of the fire fighting appliances as they are at the present time with one exception. They are of the opinion that the permanent staff of firemen should be increased to sixteen men. They also stated that several of the larger buildings did not altogether meet with their approval. There are small defects, that will affect other buildings in the same block, but they were sure that the citizens would co-operate with the chief and have the defects remedied.

The inspectors who recently visited Peterborough in connection with the re rating were well pleased with the courteous treatment they received at the hands of the city officials, and last night Chief Howard was entertained to dinner at the King Edward Hotel and they expressed to him their appreciation.

NORVAL SCHOOL.

Is Closed for the Summer Holidays—Students on a Trip.

The Peterborough Normal School is closed for the season and not till September rolls around will the teachers and students assemble again at the stately institution of learning on Benson avenue. And with possibly one or two exceptions the students who will gather in the autumn will be an entirely new lot. Those who are successful in their examinations will not return, and it is expected that a large percentage will pass. The examinations were completed Wednesday, but it will be several weeks before the results are known.

Yesterday the students and teachers enjoyed a trip to Stony Lake, and today the majority of the students will leave for their homes.

BRIDE SUCCUMBED.

Wife of Banker Dies in Toronto Hospital—Wedding Occurred After Accident.

Hamilton, June 18.—Mrs. Thos. Peacock, wife of the manager of the Traders' Bank at North Bay, died at St. John's Hospital, Toronto, yesterday, and the body will be brought to this city for burial.

There is unusual pathos in the death. The deceased was only 23 years of age, and shortly before her marriage she was badly burned. She was married as soon as she had sufficiently recovered from the burns but she appeared to show no further signs of recovery. The young wife rapidly grew worse, and at the Toronto hospital yesterday death relieved her sufferings.

Her husband is a former Hamilton boy.

FARMERS' PICNIC.

To Jubilee Point on Thursday Next Good Speakers Coming.

The third annual Farmers' Picnic for Peterborough, Victoria, Durham and Northumberland counties will be run to Jubilee Point next Thursday. Councillors vs. Gypsies.

Peterborough County Council under command of Warden Scott arrived in Port on Thursday on a tour of inspection of the county bridges. They were quite an attraction for the band of Gypsey women. Alderman Harry Phelan particularly taking their fancy, to the amusement of the rest of his colleagues.

Mark Twain Issues Warning to Girl Graduates at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., June 15.—In an address at the commencement exercises of St. Timothy's School for Girls, held yesterday, Mark Twain said:

"There is nothing for me to do but to tell you young ladies what not to do. There are three things that you should never do on any occasion.

"First, don't smoke—that is, not to excess. I am seventy-three and have always smoked during my seventy-three years to excess.

"Second, don't drink—that is, to excess.

Keene Bridge Contract Discussed by County Council and Engineer

The contractor, Mr. Conroy, on the Keene bridge, has not yet been paid the full amount of his contract price for the reason that the county engineer has not yet given him a certificate that the work has been done. The trouble arose during the construction of the bridge. It appears that the warden and chairman of the roads and bridges committee, Messrs Johnstone and Malloney, one or both, issued an order on the treasurer for $900 to be paid Mr. Conroy on account. This was paid and the treasurer has no certificate from the engineer. There is a balance of some $130 and as it is desired to get the matter straightened out the contractor and the engineer appeared before the council yesterday afternoon.

There is, said the warden, a balance due to Mr. Conroy of $130 for the work on Keene bridge. This bridge was built some time ago and the county engineer claims the job is not yet completed.

Mr. Conroy was asked to make an explanation. He only said that there were $130 coming to him, on the bridge. He claimed the bridge was finished and he wanted his money.

Mr. Kidd said that if the job was completed according to contract he thought the engineer would pass it. He thought in this case that the work had not been finished according to contract.

Mr. Conroy said that the work was done as required.

Mr. John E. Belcher was asked why he did not issue a certificate for the balance of the contract price.

Mr. Belcher said that as the county had paid the contractor a big portion of the cost without certificate from the engineer and he told Mr. Conroy to go and get the rest of his money the same way. He had no control over him any longer and would not give a certificate until the work was done and while he had not seen the job he understood that it was not yet finished.

It appears that the sum of $900 was paid to Mr. Conroy upon the order of the warden without consulting the engineer. The engineer now refuses to have anything to do with it.

This work was done two years ago and none of the present council had anything to do with it. Warden Scott said that he would have to have this matter settled at once.

It was moved by Messrs. Russell and Knox, that the engineer be instructed to inspect the Keene bridge and report to the county treasurer, and if the work has been done according to the contract that he give Mr. Conroy a certificate so he can get his money. Said inspection to take place before the 1st of August. This was carried, and the engineer agreed to make the inspection.

NEW MAGISTRATE.

High County Constable George Cochrane addressed the council in reference to the appointment of a second magistrate to take charge of a portion of the township. It was a hardship for the people of the new district to have to travel about as required now, and on the other hand there would be no fees paid for the constable, and consequently no constable could be secured.

The council considered the matter and decided to rescind the motion which added the three new townships to Mr. Booth's territory.

Sick Twenty Years, Had Given Up All Hope.

Peruna Relieved After All Else Had Failed.

Chronic Internal Catarrh.

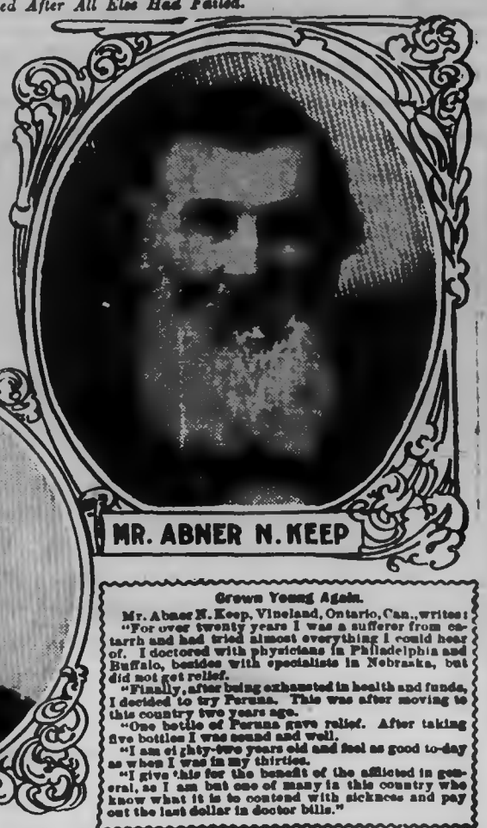
Many an invalid is dragging out a miserable existence with catarrh of the internal organs. There is no disease equal to this in producing complete wretchedness, absolute despair, haggard misery, and stubborn weakness.

An army of this sort of victims have one by one discovered that Peruna could be relied upon to relieve such cases.

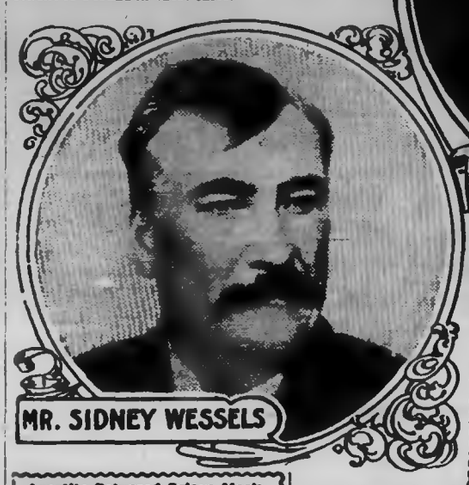
One man tells another man, and in this way the news spreads until in all parts of the country are to be found men who have been permanently liberated from the thraldom of internal troubles.

Many cases of catarrh of the stomach, kidneys and other abdominal organs have reported themselves as permanently relieved.

We give below testimonials which illustrate the benefit of Peruna in these cases.



MR. ABNER N. KEEP



MR. SIDNEY WESSELS

Grown Young Again.

Mr. Abner N. Keep, Vineland, Ontario, Can., writes: "For over twenty years I was a sufferer from catarrh and had tried almost everything I could hear of. I doctored with physicians in Philadelphia and Buffalo, besides with specialists in Nebraska, but did not get relief.

"Finally, after being exhausted in health and funds, I decided to try Peruna. This was after moving to this country two years ago.

"One bottle of Peruna gave relief. After taking five bottles I was sound and well.

"I am eighty-two years old and feel as good to-day as when I was in my thirties.

"I give this for the benefit of the afflicted in general, as I am but one of many in this country who know what it is to contend with sickness and pay out the last dollar in doctor bills."

Appetite Returned. Enjoys Meals.

Mr. Sidney Wessels, Meritton Ontario, Can., writes:

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia and indigestion for twenty years, during which time I tried different doctors, but did not get the desired results.

"I have been compelled for weeks at a time to give up work, being completely prostrated. I had to confine myself to a milk diet, as nothing would remain on my stomach.

"I had about given up, thinking my case incurable, when I heard of Peruna and decided to try it.

"One bottle made a great change, and after using another bottle of this wonderful medicine, I had complete freedom from pain, my appetite had returned and I could again enjoy my meals. I believe Peruna is the grandest medicine under the sun."

Mr. Robert E. Harvey, Treas. Knights of Industrial Freedom, also a well-known writer and lecturer, writes from 118 Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill., as follows:

"I was in good health until about four years ago, when my back became lame and sore. The pains kept increasing with severe twitches and slow, exhaustive aches. Urine was highly colored and passed with great irregularity.

"I knew this must be inflammation of the urinary organs.

"Having read of Peruna I decided to try it.

"I found relief from the pain within ten days. The aches gradually diminished, and it was a blessed relief I can assure you.

"Within three months I was well once more. My appetite had returned, nervousness and irritability were things of the past, and for over two years now I have been a healthy man."

Mr. H. L. Emery, Vice Chancellor and Master of Arms, K. P.'s, of Omaha, Neb., writes from 205 North Sixteenth St., the following words of praise for Peruna as a tonic. He says:

"It is with pleasure I recommend Peruna as a tonic of unusual merit. A large number of prominent members of the different orders with which I have been connected have been cured by the use of Peruna in cases of catarrh of the stomach and head; also in kidney complaint and weakness of the pelvic organs.

"Peruna tones up the system, aids digestion, induces sleep, and is worthy the confidence of sufferers of the above complaints."

Peruna has saved many people from disaster by rendering the kidneys active when they were not able to do their own business.

GAS REDUCTION

54% SAVING 54%

This enormous saving of gas is effected by the use of the wonderful invention, the MOUVANT BURNER, which is now being presented to the people of Canada.

The MOUVANT BURNER has been tested and experimented upon by the most eminent scientists, manufacturers and others, and the result of the investigation has demonstrated an economy of 54 per cent. over the Auer Light—the best of those heretofore in use.

The use of the MOUVANT BURNER will effect a revolution in the system of gas lighting, as there are 6,000,000 burners in use in Canada, each of which is consuming over twice the amount required by the MOUVANT BURNER to produce an infinitely superior light.

The MOUVANT MANTLE, introduced for the first time in America with the MOUVANT BURNER, has an average life of one year—much greater than that of any other mantle. This mantle gives a pure white light of great softness and brilliancy.

Another invention rounding out the utility of the MOUVANT system is the MOUVANT AUTOMATIC LIGHTER, which lights the gas instantly without matches.

A distinctive feature of the MOUVANT BURNER is that it consumes, equally well, ordinary gas, acetylene gas or gasoline.

The whole system (burner, mantle and shade), is installed for $2.00.

The great consumption of the different kinds of gas in Canada induced the inventor to come to Canada, where a Company has been organized for the manufacture of MOUVANT burners, mantles, shades, lighters, etc.

THE FRENCH GAS SAVING COMPANY, LIMITED, is organized with a Capital of $500,000 divided into shares of $1.00 each—the minimum subscription being 10 shares—$10.00.

To manufacture these goods capital is necessary, and the object of issuing one dollar shares is to give the great mass of the people the opportunity to share in the double advantage of this. The People's Company, by securing gas at an enormously reduced rate and also sharing in the profits of what will be an enormous sale of manufactured goods.

Should the Company require additional capital, no further stock will be issued; but bonds will be sold, as it is intended to conserve the necessarily large profits for the original shareholders. Shares will be listed on the Stock Markets as soon as results are obtained.

The advantages of the Company's operations are presented in a most conservative way. If the actual possibilities were stated, the result would be almost incredible.

As it is but a few months until the Company can fill all orders, and as these will naturally be large, it is desirable that orders for goods or shares should be sent in at the earliest moment. Gas fitters throughout Canada, where gas is used, are invited to send addresses, with references, with a view to arranging for the installation of these lights.

All applications for shares and burners to be sent to me, and all remittances made to the order of the Company, and likewise sent to me.

"Bargain Days" for the Candidates in the Contest

Big Vote Schedule Lasts Only a Few Days and Then Takes a Decided Drop---A Few Subscriptions will Make You a Leader

"Bargain Days," are here. Dear to the heart of every woman, and in this Contest fully as dear to the men and boys. Have you read the full page announcement of the "Extra Vote Offer" in The Morning Times' Great $3,000 Prize Voting Contest?

If you have not, stop reading right here and turn to the full page advertisement. Then return to this place,—we'll wait here until you come back.

DEE-LIGHTED!

Why of course you are, for this schedule means much to you and the best part of it is that not a stroke of work done hitherto is going to be lost. We do not wish any candidate ever to feel that it would have been better for them not to have been so prompt, therefore every subscription already turned in will be counted at the rate of the scale prevailing for "Bargain Days."

NOT A LONG PERIOD

The "Bargain Days" will last rom Monday, June 21st until Saturday, July 3rd, inclusive. This gives you twelve days in which to hustle for subscriptions as never before. The necessity for doing this will be impressed upon you when you realize that this is absolutely the best offer of votes which will be made during the whole six weeks of the contest, and that thereafter the scale of votes will diminish materially from week to week, so that the sooner you secure your subscriptions the more they will be worth to you.

A POSITIVE GUARANTEE.

To prove to you that we are willing to guarantee that the period before July 3rd, is the very best in which to secure subscriptions, we make this guarantee. If The Morning Times repeats this schedule of votes during the remaining days of the Contest. The Morning Times will present them with a free trip to Europe which includes all expenses. You will find a guarantee coupon to this statement. As this offer includes every candidate in the contest the absurdity of our caring to send so many at our expense in addition to all the other prizes is evident, so you may with perfect assurance go ahead and get your subscriptions as fast as you can knowing that never again will they be worth so much to you.

DO NOT LOSE AN HOUR.

Wise candidates will not lose an hour of this precious time. Their friends will take pleasure in subscribing in their favor when they see how greatly each subscription adds to the candidate's chance of success. "Bargain Days" will prove to be harvest days to ambitious candidates.

TO SECURE A RESERVE.

These are the ideal days in which to lay up your reserve of vote certificates with which you can overcome all opposition toward the close of the contest. It is imperative to hold something in reserve if you do not wish to be crushed at the last by your more thrifty opponent. During the first four weeks no contestant may cast more than 5,000 votes issued on paid subscriptions on any one day. This must not deter you from bringing in subscriptions in excess of this amount. The certificates crediting you with the proper number of votes will be promptly issued on each and every subscription brought in to us, and given into your own keeping until such time as it is voted.

ROOM FOR YOU.

There is room for many more candidates. It should be remembered that their are twenty prizes. Remember also that all the names on the list at present will not be there at the close. People always drop out for one reason or another. Circumstances force some to withdraw, some lack the necessary perseverance and energy for winning one of the prizes of a lifetime.

The field is still open. You can enter now and win a prize. Do not hold back while others fall into line and with a little effort win the prize that might have been yours.

A.F. and A.M. Celebrated Festival of St. John

There was a good turnout of the [illegible] ple have been admired ever since. vine service yesterday afternoon at Murray street Baptist church. The occasion was the commeration of the festival of John the Baptist. The members of the craft met at their lodge rooms at 3.30, and proceeded in a body to the church where Rev. Mr. Webb delivered a splendid sermon. He took his text from 1st Kings 7.22, and Revelation 3.12. The first text referred to the completion of Soloman's temple. To construct that temple he required wisdom, material strength and material assistance. With all Soloman's wealth he could not build the structure alone, and his most earnest prayer was that it should be done and beautifully done and that it would last for ages. This he accomplished and the pillars of that temple

The second text referred to the temple which Christ has erected. His promise was that all who lived according to his instructions and example should be made pillars or some prominent part in God's temple.

The reverend gentleman spoke to the Masons as a Mason and said [illegible] of all men [illegible] fare in God's church Masons should a man cannot be a Mason and be an infidel, nor [illegible] mason be disloyal to his sovereign or country. The whole [illegible] of the order was the uplifting of humanity. It represented [illegible] but their strength was to outlive up and defeat and never to destroy.

Detective Greer Here To Look After Gypsies

Provincial Detective Greer of Toronto, was in the city on Saturday morning, in response to Crown Attorney F. E. Wood's and Warden Scott's request of the department for advice and assistance in dealing with the band of Mexican Gypsies, who are operating in this district.

Mr. Wood wired Toronto that afternoon, and the detective was sent down at once with full authority to act as he deemed best. If the Gypsies come into Peterborough county, and try any of the capers with which they are credited with practicing around Bobcaygeon they will be rounded up and placed in jail until the department decides what to do with them.

As soon as the provincial officer arrived in the city he communicated with the Crown authorities and it is understood that he is now operating around the Mexicans' camp.

BUSINESS MEN.

The annual excursion of the business men will be held on Friday afternoon next, to Highland Park on Rice Lake. The party, and it is expected that it will be a large one.

REV. MR. GOFORTH.

Preached in St. Paul's Church on Sunday Morning.

There was a very large congregation at St. Paul's church yesterday morning to hear Rev. Mr. Goforth of Honan, China, and the hero of the revival in Manchuria. The returned missionary will be in the city for a week and will hold meetings in St. Paul's every afternoon and evening. He is here in the interests of the work in China.

His sermon yesterday morning was from Malachi 3-1, and he gave a description of his addresses to the heathen of the east, and told of the effect it had upon them. He said that the Holy Spirit had entered Manchuria and the people had taken him in. The whole country was affected and meetings were held for hours.

The address Sunday morning was more of a preliminary nature, and opened up the subject that was to be discussed in the afternoon and all week.

COREA REVIVAL.

Eye Witness of the Great Revival in China Tells His Story.

In Knox church last night Rev. Mr. Goforth addressed a large congregation upon the revival work in Corea. He took his text from Malachi, first chapter, which is in reference to the false offering made by the people in those days to the Lord, and he severely scored that sort of thing in the church today. The reverend gentleman then went on to show how the spirit of God had been working in China and Honan to which place he had returned after his visit to Manchuria. He spoke of the confessions of sin that were made and the evidence of the resisting power of the spirit and also the spirit of prayer. He believed these blessings were in store for the church in Canada. At the close of the sermon he left the meeting open for prayer and a number present led in prayer.

Saturday's Ball Games at the Riverside Park

Back to the woods for the Strathconas. They have lost every game and are getting worse all the time. On Saturday they played like a lot of wax dolls just vaccinated. They muffed, threw wild, batted worse, and almost ran away from the ball. Ryan was the only man on the team who appeared to know what he was doing. He replaced Hickey in the box near the end of the game and from that time on he played the game himself. He had to put out all the men as well as the pitching. But he was there with the goods, and saved his team from an awful slaughter.

The double-header in the City ball league was watched by the largest crowd of the season. The first game was T.A.S. vs. Strathconas, but the latter bunch put up such a school boy variety of ball that most of the crowd were disgusted and would have gone home early had not a good game been scheduled to follow. The T.A.S. have a pretty fair team and they put up a very good argument. It was easy meat for them however, and at no time were they called upon to extend themselves. The score was 11 runs to 6.

Summary.

Home run, Flaherty; three-base hit, Shaw; two-base hits, A. Quinlan, Keudry 2, M. O'Brien, Doherty W. O'Brien; struck out, by Quinlan, 14; by Hickey, 6; by Ryan, 5, bases on balls, off Quinlan, 1; off Hickey, 3; off Ryan 0. Hits off Hickey, 7 in four innings, off Ryan, 4 in five innings. Sacrifice hits, W. O'Brien; Weatherstone, Ryan, hit by pitcher, Wettlaufer. Umpire, McCabe.

SECOND GAME.

The second game between the West Ends and Park street nines was, from a spectators' point of view, a pretty fair exhibition. The game was close throughout, and some remarkable plays were made. One was Fallon's long one-hand catch in center field, which retired the side with two men on bases. E. Pilling for the Baptists, made two fine catches in right field in quick succession, and then went in to bat and knocked out a clean two bagger. There were good plays all though the interest of the spectators was kept up. A few errors are immaterial so long as the players on the job instead of sulking and cursing their ill luck. Games like the second game will draw a crowd. The score at the end was West Ends 9, Park Street 8.

INDIANS OUTGROW THE CANOE.

Power Boats Replace Historic Craft in Lake Michigan Funeral.

Traverse City, Mich., June 19.—An Indian funeral on Lake Michigan yesterday in which power launches were substituted for canoes marked a striking departure from the customs of Michigan's legendary literature.

Down to the present time the Indians of this region have clung tenaciously to the canoe of the "Hiawatha" period.

But yesterday at the funeral of Joseph Cornstalk the traditional canoe was conspicuous by its absence. Fully 100 Ind Indians escorted the body to the cemetery on Garden Island, but all the company traveled in modern power launches.

SEARCHING FOR SKY WONDERS.

Wonderful Map of the Heavens Will Show 55,000,000 Stars.

London, June 19.—In a few days astronomers from all parts of the world will meet in Paris for the "International Congress of the Map of the Sky," under the presidency of M. Baillaud, director of the Paris Observatory. This map of the heavens will be the most colossal and also the most delicate and difficult task ever attempted by human genius in the realm of astronomy.

Seventeen important observatories besides the Paris one have for the last twenty-two years been at work in their respective spheres on this stupendous task those of Greenwich, Rome, Catania, Helsingfors, Potsdam, Oxford, Bordeaux, Toulouse, Algiers, San Fernando (Spain) Tacubaya (Mexico), Santiago (Chile) Cordoba (Argentina), Perth (Australia), Cape Town, Sydney and Melbourne.

Twenty-two thousand and fifty-four negatives are necessary. So far 2,200 of them have been engraved on copper. The map, when completed, and the catalogue will give the exact position, measurements and size of 5,000,000 stars down to the eleventh magnitude and of 50,000,000 stars down to the fourteenth magnitude.

To the Editor of The Times.

Dear Sir:—It has been published in the press of your city that the Central Ontario Power Company, Limited, have offered to deliver Power to the City of Peterborough at $7.60 per horse power. The company have not done so. Engineer estimates have been furnished which show that the city can purchase Burleigh Falls Water Power, develop transmit and transform and have the same ready for distribution for that marvellously low figure $7.60 for 24 horsepower per annum.

No private company could do this. No private company can operate on any other basis than that of making reasonable profits for its shareholders, and a private company operating Burleigh Falls Power at the cost estimated to Peterborough even with guaranteed bonds would have to provide for 7 per cent dividend on capital stock and at least 4½ per cent on bonds which would mean $5,000,000 per annum in interest charges over 4 per cent which the city would have to pay. A private company would also have to pay taxes, and the city would not. The tax item alone costs the Fenlon Falls and Lindsay plant $2.00 per horse power per annum. A private Company would also have to provide for President's and directors' remuneration, office expenses, etc.

The city can purchase, develop and operate Burleigh Power at an annual saving of about $4.00 per horse power per annum.

What this would amount to in advantage to the city is not to be measured by these figures of $14,000 per annum, considerable as they may be.

In fact the advantage to city of being able to offer to industriest the cheapest power in Canada cannot be estimated.

Yours truly,

R. J. McLAUGHLIN.

Toronto, June 18, 1909.

HELD UP BY CATERPILLARS.

The Canadian Pacific Delayed By Thousands in New Brunswick.

Montreal, June 18.—To be held up on a modern steam railway by an army of caterpillars is one of the tribulations of railroading. This is what has happened several times this spring. This morning's train from Halifax, over the C. P. R. was held up for thirty minutes in New Brunswick.

"These caterpillars," said James W. Leonard, assistant general manager of eastern lines, C.P.R., "are from an inch and a half to two inches of the poplar tree principally, and after stripping one bunch of trees make for the railway track and proceed to another grove. In every instance they take the top of the rail, which provides the aemoothest and best walking. They number into the thousands, and it is impossible for a locomotive to make headway with them on the rail the driving wheels slipping over them without taking hold. The steam from the dead ones is almost unbearable.

Passed Up the Angels.

Little Tommy had been put to bed alone. It was upstairs, and the thunder rolled and the lightning flashed unmercifully. He lay quietly until he could no longer stand it, and then his little night-gowned figure appeared at the head of the stairs.

"Ma!" he cried.

"Yes," my son," came the calm rejoinder.

"I'm afraid, ma. It thunders so, and I'm all alone."

"Go back to bed, Tommy," came his mother's voice. "Don't you know nothing can hurt you?"

Tommy went back to bed, but not to stay. "Ma!" he cried again, and this time the little figure was halfway downstairs.

"Tommy," called his mother, "don't you know I have always told you that nothing can hurt you? The angels are always with you."

"Then, ma"—and this time there came an audible sniff from the weeping Tommy—"you come up and sleep with the angels, and let me sleep with pa."

Two Old Residents Dead

JOHN LEE.

There are many people in Peterboro borough, who will regret to hear of the death of Mr. John Lee which took place at the home of his son, Hammond Lee, 172 Charlotte street over the Canadian Machine Telephone Co.'s exchange office. The deceased was 67 years of age, and was a resident of this city for 64 years, having come here from Belfast, Ireland with his parents when only 3 years old. Upon arrival in the city the old folks settled at the corner of Smith and George streets, and when the deceased was 17 years of age he erected the octogan house now standing at 705 George street, just a few yards from the old homestead, and there he lived continuously until some nine months ago when he retired from active life and went to live with his son. He was a millwright by trade, and was employed in the Auburn Woolen Mills for 40 years. He enjoyed good health all his life, and was always active and faithful to his duties. He was well known to all the old residents, and many of the new ones, and was greatly respected. He was married twice, the first time to Miss Carlyle, sister of Mr. John Carlyle of Ashburnham. Catholic cemetery.

and some years later to Miss Morphet, daughter of the late Mrs. Gallety, and sister of the late Dr. John Morphet of Norwood. He was a lifelong member of St. Paul's church, and also a member of the A.O.U.W.

The late John Lee is survived by one brother, Robert of the W. A. Murray Co., Toronto, and four sons, Fred of Toledo, Ohio, Reltie of Toronto, and Bruce and Hammond of the city.

The funeral will be held today and will be private. The services will be conducted at the house by Rev. Mr. Pogue, but interment in Little Lake cemetery will not take place until Tuesday when Free Lee of Toledo will arrive.

MRS WEATHERHEAD

One of the oldest residents of Peterborough passed away on Sunday in the person of Mrs. Weatherhead, who resided with her son, Albert, on Water street north. The deceased lady had lived in Peterborough long before it was known as Peterborough, and when the houses were few and far between and when the trading ports still existed. She lived here nearly all her life and was one of the few land marks. The funeral will be held on Tuesday and interment will take place in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Asthma Cured

suffered all her life from asthma, but was permanently cured by Catarrhozone after all other means failed.

Mrs. Farndel's recovery affords overwhelming proof of what Catarrhozone will do. Nothing except Catarrhozone was of the slightest bene fit, but when given a fair trial it cured.

Now perhaps you need something for your cold, or bronchitis or Asthma? Why not try Catarrhozone? Thousands have been cured by inhaling it a few minutes now and again, and certainly it wouldn't do you any harm to profit by their experience.

Mrs. Farndel gives the following statement of her case for the benefit of others who are suffering from asthma, and hopes that many will follow her example and use Catarrhozone.

"I am now in my eightieth year, and cannot recall the time when I was free from the Asthma. I had always a choking cough, feverishness, spasms, difficulty in breathing, head ache and nausea. My druggist advised Catarrhozone one day, and I bought a large outfit. It gave relief in five minutes and helped me very much in one day.

"I inhaled Catarrhozone ten minutes every hour, and by the time two bottles were used. I was completely cured. I am as free now from Asthma as if I never had it. My perfect recovery is due entirely to Catarrhozone. I prize my Catarrhozone Inhaler next to life itself."

(Signed) MRS T. FARNDEL."

This is a proof positive that Catarrhozone is a sure and speedy cure for the worst kind of Asthma. It is guaranteed to give satisfactory results, and your money will be refunded if it fails. All you need is a trial of this grand preparation to be quite satisfied and convinced that it is the best. Your druggist recommends and sells it. Price $1.00, small size 50 cents. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ontario.

THE HIGHER SOCIAL SLAVERY.

Mrs. Howard Gould's admission that she "could not dress properly on less than $40,000 a year" is interesting, remarks the New York World, as showing how severe are the sartorial obligations which the possession of wealth imposes on women.

Under this gilded martyrdom to fashion she was obliged to change her costumes three times a day at Palm Beach—"lingerie, gowns, shoes, hats, parasols and all"—not because of an extravagant taste but merely because "it is bad form to wear a gown twice in one place." Moreover, by the unwritten law of smart social usages her Palm Beach trousseau was wholly unavailable at the St. Regis. Her gowns were "no good" after she had once worn them and to reappear in them at a New York hotel would be in violation of the proprieties of dress. They were equally worthless at Castle Gould, where the conditions of life on a country estate demanded gowns to correspond.

Mrs. Gould's testimony corroborates the criticisms of foreign writers on American social extravagance. But what they have failed to recognize is the patient submission of fashion's thralls to their bondage. There should be commiseration rather than criticism for those whose slavery is none the less real because the bonds are of lace and chiffon.

NO UNDESIREABLES WANTED.

Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, has sailed for England to look into conditions and prospects of European immigration to Canada. His object is to see that the people who are sent to Canada are of the desirable character, in accordance with policy which in brief is as follows: First, the securing of immigrants whose purpose in coming to Canada is to occupy farm lands, either as owners, tenants or laborers. Second, the exclusion of those whose presence in Canada would tend to add to the congestion of the towns and cities.

Immigration effort is made only in those countries which are considered most likely to furnish the people coming within the first of the two classes above specified, namely, Great Britain and Ireland, the United States, France, Belgium, Holland Germany, Denmark, Iceland, Norway Sweden and Switzerland.

There are also provisions which exclude for financial or other reasons, not physical, mental or normal: (1) Charity-aided immigrants. (2) Europeans who have in their possession less than $25 in cash besides ticket to destination, and Asiastics who have less than $200 besides ticket to destination; excepting citizens of China or Japan, in regard to whom there are special arrangements. Chinese must pay $500 head tax; Japanese must have in possession $25 cash and a passport. (3) Immigrants who do not come by continuous passage from and on tickets purchased in the country of their birth or citizenship.

The first of these causes of exclusion may be enlarged in the case of persons who have been inspected and approved, before sailing, by the assistant superintendent of emigration for Canada in England. Go other relaxation will be made.

From the very first the Dominion Government has sought to encourage only immigrants of a desirable class, and no bonuses have been giving save to persons fitted for certain classes of employment and coming from Great Britain or the northern countries of Europe. Many others, including some undesirables, attracted by the wide advertising which Canada has received, have come to Canada, and while the coming of these has not been encouraged, it has not been easy to exclude them. This, however, is being done as rapidly as possible, and as experience suggests and Mr. Oliver's desire is that the lines shall be drawn tighter and tighter. It can do this country no good to bring to Canada any immigrants who are not likely to succeed hfre.

SOCIETY WOMEN AND BRIDGE.

The New York Press says that one of the most surprising things about society women recently has been their loss of interest in bridge whist. For several years it seemed as if this game would become a permanent institution. Women played for high stakes at almost every opportunity. They were set it morning, noon and night. In many Newport houses it was not an uncommon thing for the hostess to lead her guests straight from the breakfast table to the card table, and afternoon receptions usually resolve them selves into bridge campaigns. There were many women who gambled themselves poor, in the sense that they lost all their pin money and their own incomes, and were forced to go in humiliation to their husbands for more funds. There were other women who fattened financially on bridge. There was one prominent society matron who received an automobile as a gift from her husband and the next week parted with it to liquidate a bridge debt There is, however, little or no bridge gambling at present. Bridge is dead. After all, as the evidence shows, it was a fad. Society cannot stick to anything. It must have a change. Society women are restless, nervous, always calling for something different, and so bridge whist has gone. Of course it will be played, but only occasionally, and never again will it be a wholesale thief od time, and a maker of cardsharps among women.— New York Press.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever: nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

SCORE HEREDITARY CHIEFS.

Six Nation Indians Make Strong Charges of Graft.

Brantford, Ont., June 15.—The Six Nations Warriors Associations at a large picnic at Ohsweken launched a campaign to do away with the system of hereditary chiefs on the reserve, and an appeal will be made to Ottawa. According to tradition the chieftainships are confined to certain families, and when one chief dies the women of the family select another. This was characterized as petticoat Government. Charges of graft and maladministration were laid against the council by President Jacob Miller and other speakers in impassioned addresses.

IF SICK--WHY PAY

Unless Health First Returns.

Here is what should and can be done!

Now you would not willingly pay for food that was worthless—would you?

Then why pay for medicine until that medicine first proves to you its actual worth?

Positively knowing what Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do for the sick, I say to all "don't pay unless health first returns". And I back my Restorative with a signed and sealed 30 day "no sale, no pay" contract.

Simply write me, stating by which symptoms you find your sickness. Or if you prefer, call for "Dr. Shoop's Restorative is absolutely free if it fails". Let others do the same or else pass their prescriptions by.

If you need more strength, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, use my Restorative a few days and note the immediate improvement.

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys go wrong, then but Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I do not dose the Stomach nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys, for that is wrong. You take away that combination idea in medicine. The books below will tell you how I am successful.

Those books also tell of a fifty hidden "white nerve," no larger than a silken thread. They tell how that nerve, until it fails, actually gives to the Heart its power, its tone, its never-ceasing action, or impulse.

Those books will open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. To all with Stomach, and Kidneys made sick thru "nerves" or poorer nerves. They tell how Dr. Shoop's Restorative was especially made to reach said nerves when weak or failing, and to restore it. All of which is why I am able to say, "It is how if it fails".

This is why I say "Take no chance on a medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer".

So write me today for the order.

I have appointed honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community to keep my medicines to the sick.

But write me first for the order.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day sale.

So drop me a line today and find what my prescription can do for you. Ask me also which book you need.

A postal will do.

Besides, you are free to consult me on all you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I specialize on nerves, upon thousands by my prescription, and my personal advice plan. My book tells more in words, your simple symptoms. So write me today. You have it free in return for your letter. Dr. Shoop, Box 31, Racine, Wis.

When first shall I send You?

Road Contracts

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned will be received up to 12 o'clock noon on FRIDAY, JULY 2nd, 1909, for chopping, clearing, stumping, and grubbing a waggon road from THE MONTREAL RIVER AT SMYTHE TO GOWGANDA, following the line blazed by Mr. C. H. Fullerton, C. E., for the purpose of marking on the ground the location of said road. The length of the road will be about 27 miles.

The work of chopping, clearing, stumping and grubbing to include the cutting of all timber, brush etc. on the roadway to a width of 50 feet and removing all stumps, brush, timber, etc., from the central 30 feet, cutting, trimming, and neatly piling all the logs, brush and stumps on the roadside, outside of the central 30 feet, and burning same.

The work to be commenced immediately after the awarding of the contract and to be continued to the satisfaction of the engineer in charge of the work and completed by the 1st. of October, 1909.

Tenders shall be submitted on the blank forms to be obtained from any of the undermentioned.

The tenders to be at a rate per lineal mile of road. A guarantee company's bond approved by the Department will be required for the due fulfillment of the contract.

A marked cheque for five per cent. of the total amount of the contract must accompany each tender.

Plans and specifications of the work to be done may be seen at this Department, or at the office of Mr. C. H. H. Fullerton, C. E., New Liskeard, at the office of Alberta Hill, Mining Recorder at Smythe, or Harry Sheppard, Mining Recorder at Gowganda, or George T. Smith, Mining Recorder at Haileybury, or T. A. MacArther, Mining Recorder at Cobalt.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

F. COCHRANE,
Acting-Minister of Public Works.

Department of Public Works, Toronto, June 17th, 1909.

Newspapers publishing this without authority will not be paid for it.

The Cowboy Sweetheart.

I seen a show las' night at ol' Cheyenne,
And it was 'bout a feller who, like me,
Was rough and wild and ornery as could be,
Same as a break that hates the ways of men,
But he gits love struck, like I do, and then
He eats out all that heaps a-floatin' free
And studies nights and makes her eye that he
Has got the makin' of a man, by heck!
And I am goin' to try that hombre's game
And spruce myself like all stage lovers do
And show the teacher that, though my nickname
Is Plain Bill, I ain't so bad clear through,
And then I'll see—and darned quick, too, I suppose—
If things in life and like they do in shows.

GIRL BARITONE.

Fourteen-Year-Old Child Has Voice of Full-Grown Man.

Miss Marie Dreams, the girl-baritone, who appeared at a London music hall a few days ago, was "at home" recently in the office of Mr. Little, her agent.

There is nothing at all masculine in the manner or appearance of Miss Dreams. She is a little rosebud of a girl, not yet 15, with a slight, graceful figure, well-formed, regular features of Latin type, with big brown eyes, full of the wondering simplicity of childhood, and a clustering mass of wavy brown hair. Her full lips curl in a frank smile, and from between the white teeth issues a surprise.

Instead of the childish accents that her appearance suggests, the deep-throated, full-chested, resonant voice of a burly, bearded man comes from the slightly parted lips, with the effect of surprise which the Sultan in the Arabian Nights story must have felt when the little Green Bulbul suddenly addressed him in human speech.

"I shan't be 15 till next July," observes little Miss Marie. "I have got an 'Adam's apple' in my throat," she says with a touch of childish pride in the distinction, and then she laughs the open, hearty laugh of a fox-hunting squire at a rent audit, as she adds: "At least, that is what they tell me."

"What kind of voice did you have as a baby?" she was asked.

"I can't remember," was the reply, "but father used to call me his little fog-horn, and when I cried the Horton police used to come running to the rescue."

LLOYD-GEORGE'S PAL.

Megan Is a Play Actor In Her Father's Home.

In the home of the Hon. Lloyd-George, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, the brightest, the prettiest, most fascinating figure is Megan. Who is Megan? It is a question which Megan herself would find it hard to answer. To the world she is Lloyd-George's youngest daughter—with fair long curls of hair, with blue eyes. But this is only the obvious. Megan lives in a strange, imaginative world of her own, in which her personality becomes almost as much of a puzzle to herself as to others. She has childhood's extraordinary power of creating a world of dreams which is as real to her as the world of reality, and in that world she assumes many different shapes. At one time she is Kate—and as Kate she is a domestic servant; and again in that capacity she comes, with her baby face, in the early morning with a cup of tea to her father's guests in the little house at Brighton where Lloyd-George spends his week-ends. But later on in the day she becomes thoughtful—and then she is Dorothy Jones. Dorothy Jones is supposed to be a student at the big girls' school near Brighton called Roedean, where, as a matter of fact, Megan's eldest sister is at present studying. And then later on in the day, this Protean young lady drops her other roles and becomes Megan Lloyd-George; but she does not forget to talk to you about her other personalities; how Kate will see you again the following morning early, how Dorothy Jones may come to tea, and how Megan Lloyd-George will certainly be at supper. This weird, delightful little creature has already become the companion of her father.

The Prince and the Captain.

The admiral commanding the British Mediterranean squadron a number of years ago gave a dinner to the captains of the fleet at Malta. By 6.45 most of the captains had reached the flagship, been received on the deck by the admiral and ushered below. Next the Duke of Edinburgh arrived. The admiral received him and, keeping him in conversation, continued to pace the deck. All subsequent arrivals were duly ushered below to the saloon, but still the admiral kept the duke on deck. At last it occurred to the duke that the dinner hour had been passed, and he ventured to inquire if his host was waiting for anybody.

"Yes," replied the admiral, "I am waiting for the captain of the ——."

Instantly the duke took the hint, called for a boat and made posthaste for his own ship. He alone among the captains of the fleet had turned up in mufti, forgetting or not knowing that the dinner was official. On his return to the flagship in the quickest time on record and in full uniform the gallant but inflexible admiral was still pacing the deck, and deprecating his royal highness' profuse apologies, conducted him to dinner.—London Queen.

English Dislike of Humor.

It is sometimes a matter for wonder that humorists are allowed to live. Deep down in our English characters is a conscious dislike of laughter. Laughter is an expression of emotion, and we have a horror of it. It may be that this secret objection to the comic muse is a surviving relic of the sturdy old puritanism which has done so much for the race in many directions and has hampered it in others. When Disraeli began to be prominent in the House of Commons it used to be said of him that, though he was a very amusing fellow and made the House laugh, he could never hope to take rank as a statesman. And Randolph Churchill went through exactly the same experience in his early days. Few people would admit that a man who expressed himself humorously had any claim to be taken seriously.—London Black and White.

DIGGING THE KAURI GUM

IT IS ONE OF NEW ZEALAND'S BIG INDUSTRIES.

Thousands of Men Make a Livelihood In the North Island Spearing In the Ground for Hardened Resin of Kauri Pine Trees — Price Ranges From $240 to $250 Per Ton—How Diggers Live.

Take a map of the North Island of New Zealand, draw a line from volcanic White Island, in the Bay of Plenty, through the southern end of Tauranga Harbor, and across to Whaingaroa Harbor, and you have the southern boundary of the Kauri-gum district of New Zealand. From here to the North Cape lie the gum-fields.

The Kauri pine, several known specimens of which measure from 25 to 30 feet in diameter, exudes a gum which, on exposure to the air, hardens, and in the course of time, by the tree shedding its bark, falls to the ground and is buried in the humus.

Thousands of men make a living by digging this gum, which is a very valuable article of commerce. The tools used for finding it are ordinary spades and spears of various lengths according to the depth of ground which the digger is working in. He first uses the spear to locate the gum, by prodding the ground with it. The spear has a rather blunt point, so that it will not go through the gum, and the experienced digger can tell by the sound whether he has struck gum, wood, stone, or charcoal.

It has recently been discovered that a small piece of iron or wire, twisted round the spear two or three inches from the point, makes it easier work for the digger when spearing in stiff or hard ground — which sounds improbable until it is explained that the small piece of iron is making the hole for the spear, while on the other hand, without this small piece of iron, the digger has to force in the whole length of the spear, which, being tapered, requires increasing effort the deeper it goes.

The majority of the diggers live in tents or shanties made of sacks, split open, and nailed on to rough wooden frames after being sewn together into sheets of convenient sizes to cover roof and walls. The house is then finished off with a clay chimney. The gum lies at all depths, from a few inches on the hills and level country to fourteen feet or more in the swamps and landslips.

The shallow grounds are the winter fields, and the gum obtained is generally of the best quality. The price, at the time of writing, for this class of gum ranges from $23.50 to $27.50 per cwt., according to color and transparency, the lightest colored and most transparent being the more valuable. The smallest pieces are generally washed, and not scraped, and realise from $10 to $12.50 per cwt.

Scattered about over the ground are mounds, with a saucer-like depression close by. This depression is where the tree stood, and the mound is the earth pulled up by the roots of the tree when it fell. These mounds sometimes contain as much as two cwt. of gum, and the hollow also, sometimes, contains as much.

In some places a black or dark brown gum is procured. This is generally found in depressions or basins. First, there is a layer of white gum near the surface; about a foot or eighteen inches deeper, another layer of white, of not very good quality, and down on the bed-rock like the black gum. There are various theories as to why this gum is black. Some say it was produced by a black-hearted species of Kauri pine, which is so heavy with gum that it will hardly float. The writer's opinion is that the gum has absorbed the tannins from the humus amongst which it has lain for hundreds of years. This decayed vegetation is not found in such quantity where white gum only is found, and when digging for black gum the dig-gum hands get stained a dark brown by the humus.

In some places landslips have covered the gum to a depth of 10 or 12 feet or more. This "slip-digging" is rather uncertain, as a man might, after spearing a piece of gum, dig a deep hole and get only the piece which he speared, or he might have struck a patch and got, perhaps, a ton out of it. A patch which yielded nearly 20 cwt. was discovered at low-water mark on a mud flat on the Kaipara Harbor, and, apparently, was all deposited by one tree. It was lying in a thick deposit of decayed vegetation, with a foot or eighteen inches of river mud on top. This gum realised $240 per ton unscraped (simply washed), and the digger got over $250 for three weeks' work, and he could work at it not longer than three hours—between the tides.

The Choice of Evils.

Mr. G. H. Kingswell, part owner of The Rand Daily Mail, was the first South African delegate to the Imperial Press Conference to arrive in London, and his many friends have been delighted to meet him again. Although Mr. Kingswell has something of an impediment in his speech, he tells many a good story. A friend once observed that, when he was relating yarns containing American dialogue, his stammering left him. "Why don't you get rid of your impediment by always speaking in the American style?" asked his friend. "I'd a-j-j-j-jolly s-s-sight soo-ooo-sooner stutter," answered Mr. Kingswell.

The Trouble With Golf.

Queen Victoria once induced Count Shuvalov, the Russian ambassador, to try a game of golf at Balmoral. The Russian did try, but after innumerable misses he turned round to one of the bystanders and said:

"Ach, monsieur, it would be a very nice game if the ball was ten times larger. Now let us go home."

But what he said in Russian to himself is not recorded.

Trained Dogs and Their Masters

It will be admitted that bad manners in children are due to the negligence of their parents; and the same thing is true of dogs, only in the latter case the owners are responsible. Therefore, it seems neither reasonable nor humane to insist that all the canine tribe should be obliged to go about muzzled, just because some owners of dogs are either too lazy or too incompetent to properly train them. The fact of the matter is that about three five are unfit to have dogs. Anyone who has no time to devote to the animal's education has no business to own a dog. It is true that some dogs are born with more intelligence than others, and become "self-made dogs," but the great majority are gentle or vicious, stupid or intelligent, in exact proportion to the time that is spent with them and upon them by their owners.

Training a Dog.

A woman can train a dog better than a man, for all day, as she works about the house, the dog can be with her. She talks to the animal, plays with him, and perhaps amuses herself in teaching him tricks; although the performance of tricks is absolutely no indication of a dog's intelligence, any more than ability to turn a handspring is a criterion of a man's brain power. Constantly in the company of his mistress, the dog, after a while, comes to know, not only the meaning of a word, but the meaning of a look. Well trained dogs may become vicious with age; jealously may make them cross with children, and snappish. In these cases they should never be allowed their liberty, muzzled or unmuzzled, but should either be kept in the yard, or taken abroad on a leash. What is to be expected, in the matter of intelligence, from an animal, bought as a puppy, and affording amusement for a couple of months, afterwards being banished to a kennel, and doomed to pass the rest of his time on the end of a chain? He may be all right as a watch dog; for unfamiliarity with [illegible] with them; but he will certainly be an uncertain quantity when he changes hands and gets more liberty

It is worth while considering what an intelligent dog will do. In a recent letter to the Canadian Sportsman, J. A. Mackenzie, of the Presque Isle Lighthouse, tells about his dog Buller. He is described as a Scotch sheep dog; but it might be worth while remarking, in parenthesis, that a dog's breed has no more to do with his intelligence than a man's—it is his occupation that counts. When Buller goes to waken his master in the morning, he carries the key to the lighthouse in his mouth, dip it in the lake, and bring it back filled with water. If any of the family is out after dark, Buller will carry the lantern out to the barn, and hold it so that one can see to unhitch. Taking the halter strap of the horse in his mouth, he will lead him to water, and will not allow him to stop for a mouthful of grass on the way. Of course, he takes the cows to and from the pasture, and summons any of the family to dinner by barking for them. He will carry a note in his mouth to a neighbor. If his master goes shooting blackbirds, the dog will carry the basket, retrieve the birds, and put them in it.

Just Show Him How.

A score of other instances of this intelligence might be given; but his owner sums it all up in the words, "If there is any new thing you want him to do it as you would a person, and the dog has it learned right away." At the risk of losing Mr. Mackenzie's subscription, we venture the opinion that there are hundreds of other dogs in the country just as intelligent as Buller, and that what he does pretty nearly any other dog can be trained to do, if the trainer has patience. In Belgium, France, Germany, and other European countries, dogs have been organized as part of the police force in recent years, and there are hundreds of them discharging their duties as intelligently as a man. In fact, the chief of police of Paris has said that without the four-footed policemen it would be a matter of the utmost difficulty to cope with the Paris Apaches. The dogs, on leash, do the rounds with the gendarmes, in couples, and at a signal with pursue a given subject and either drag him to the ground or force him to stand. If he offers no resistance, they will not bite. They are trained not to pick up any pieces of meat they may find scattered about, for lacking this hard lesson they would have been poisoned by this time. They will not flinch from the blow of a club or a shot from a revolver, and a glimpse of a weapon will launch the dog straight at the throat of the man who holds it.

The Trained Dog.

Not long ago there was an exhibition of these dogs before President Fallieres; and so impressed was he with their intelligence and courage that the French Cabinet has recognized these specialized dogs as full members of the police for all the cities in France. In Belgium the training of police dogs, watch dogs, and ladies' and children's guards is quite a little industry, and comparable to the training of canaries in parts of Germany. The Belgians have no particular aptitude for the work, any more than have the Belgian dogs. Toronto could be just as celebrated for the behavior of its dogs as for the beauty of its women if dog owners were obliged to train their pets, instead of letting them grow up with no more manner than prairie wolves.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least one. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. GOLDEN LINK.

Rebekah Lodge Excursion to Jubilee Point.

There was a big crowd on the steamer Otonabee Saturday. It was the annual outing of Golden Link Rebekah Lodge I.O.O.F., to Jubilee Point. The boat made excellent time both coming and going. The scenery along the river is now at its best and this alone is well worth the trip down. At Jubilee the crowd had supper and indulged in games and pastimes of various kinds and arrived back in the city in good time.

ST. PAUL'S PICNIC.

To Stony Lake a Week From Today Per Str. Otonabee.

The annual Sunday school picnic from St. Paul's will be held a week from today to Stony Lake. The excursion will go via the steamer Otonabee leaving the Wholfe street wharf in the morning and going up over the lift lock to Stony Lake and returning that evening. It is expected that a record crowd willattend.

MEMORIAL TABLET.

To the Late Adam Dawson, Unveiled in St. Luke's.

Yesterday morning in St Luke's church, the rector unveiled a tablet which had been placed in the church in memory of the late Adam Dawson, who died June 18th, 1907. The deceased was a faithful and valued member of St. Luke's and there was a large number of his old friends present. A special sermon appropriate to the occasion, was delivered by the rector.

DONALD G. BEATON DEAD.

Toronto Newspaperman Expires Suddenly While in Buffalo.

Toronto, June 20.—D. G. Beaton, of the reportorial staff of the Star, died suddenly in Buffalo at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. He was found unconscious in his room in the Genesee Hotel, and died shortly afterwards while being taken to the hospital.

Deceased was a member of the Toronto Press Club, a capable newspaper man and popular with his colleagues.

The sad news was received with profound sorrow by his many friends both in the newspaper profession and outside.

PRESSED HARD.

Coffee Weight on Old Age.

When prominent men realize the injurious effects of coffee and the change in health that Postum can bring, they are glad to lend their testimony for the benefit of others.

A superintendent of public schools in one of the southern states says:

"My mother, since her early childhood, was an inveterate coffee drinker, had been troubled with her heart for a number of years and complained of that 'weak all over' feeling and sick stomach.

"Some time ago I was making an official visit to a distant part of the country and took dinner with one of the merchants of the place. I noticed a somewhat peculiar flavour of the coffee, and asked him concerning it. He replied that it was Postum.

"I was so pleased with it, that after the meal was over, I bought a package to carry home with me, and had wife prepare some for the next meal. The whole family were so well pleased with it, that we discontinued coffee and used Postum entirely.

"I had really been at times very anxious concerning my mother's condition, but we noticed that after using Postum for a short time, she felt so much better than she did prior to its use, and had little trouble with her heart and no sick stomach; that the headaches were not so frequent, and her general condition much improved. This continued until she was as well and hearty as the rest of us.

"I know Postum has benefited myself and the other members of the family, but not in so marked a degree as in the case of my mother, as she was a victim of long standing." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

HART AS A BOY.

How Sir Robert Once Lectured a Teacher For Ill-Temper.

Opportunity and luck have played a prominent part in the success of many men; others have lifted themselves from the rank by sheer hard work and patience. To the latter class belongs Sir Robert Hart, "The Grand Old Man of China," who is just now enjoying a well-earned rest after half a century of diplomatic work in the Far East.

But Sir Robert always was a worker. As a boy at school he was nicknamed "Stewpot," for so great was his passion for study that he was in the habit of stealing fifteen minutes of [illegible] each hour to work at Hebrew.

And he was always a reasoner—never satisfied until he knew the why and the wherefore of matters in which he was interested. Says Juliet Bredon, in her absorbing book on Sir Robert Hart, "To the masters he must have been something of a trial.

"One day, for instance, when a certain master spoke somewhat sourly and irritably to him, Sir Robert then and there took it upon himself to deliver him a lecture which, in its calm reasoning, was most disconcerting. 'It is wonderful the way you treat us boys,' he said; 'just as if you were our superior—just as if you were not a little dust and water like the rest of us. One would think from your manners you were our master, whereas you are really our servant. It is we who give you your livelihood—and yet you behave to us in this high-handed manner.' Naturally this tirade made a pretty row in the school."

An amusing story of Sir Robert's first school is also told by the authoress of this book, who, by the way, is a niece of the great pro-consul. One day two visitors were announced. One was a stoutish man, with sandy hair; the other a very long person, like a knitting-needle. The stout man called the boy to him, passed his hand carefully over the bumps of his head, and then, turning to the father, said, "From what I gather of this child's talents, from my examination of his cranial cerebration, my brother's system of education is exactly the one calculated to develop them." The men were two brothers named Arnold, who proposed to open a little school, and were tramping the country in search of pupils.

Abdul Hamid in London.

The dethroned Sultan is not altogether a stranger to London. Once, and only once, he passed in peaceful state through our streets. That was forty years ago, however, so he is doubtful whether any more pass in the direct can recall the event. His late Majesty was then a young man in the train of his uncle, the Sultan Abdul Aziz. He rode in the Sultan's procession from Charing Cross station to Buckingham Palace, visited Queen Victoria at Windsor Castle, and attended the opera at Covent Garden, a review at Southend, a Guildhall reception, a ball at the India Office, and a festival performance at the Crystal Palace.

Ten years after this visit Abdul Aziz was deposed, and within a few days of his successor's appointment he committed suicide. Abdul Aziz's stay in London aroused unusual enthusiasm, the public receiving him splendidly wherever he went. At that time the ex-Sultan, Abdul Hamid, was a pleasant-looking young fellow "of medium height, with clear olive complexion, dark hair, high forehead, and large dark brown eyes, the habitual expression of his face being one of extreme sadness." To observers at the Guildhall banquet the young Turk appeared "shy and retiring." It is also recorded of him that in the gardens of Buckingham Palace he "would shrink behind the bushes and conceal himself if he saw anyone approaching."

His Majesty's Victory.

A topic of the week has been the victory of the King's colt Minoru in the race for the Two Thousand Guineas. His Majesty's successes are quite the feature of the present racing season. Last season the King won only $27,000; this season, which is barely a month old, he has already won $45,000 in stakes. At this rate the King's winnings in 1910 may exceed his record gains in stakes of $145,000 in 1909, $75,000 in 1907, and $120,000 in 1908. The royal year started auspiciously at Newbury when for the first time since His Majesty came to the throne his horses won two races in one day. Out of six races the King's horses have won four and been second twice.

The royal victories are always exceedingly popular, and the only regret is that His Majesty has not been able to give the crowds at Newbury and Newmarket the opportunity of not only cheering the royal colors but of shouting the owner.

The Lunatic's Thought.

The chaplain of a large private asylum in Yorkshire, Eng., recently asked a brother clergyman to preach to the inmates on a Sunday morning during his absence. He said to him "Preach them a good sermon, for though insane on some points they are very intelligent." The preacher talked to them of Africa and India and of heathen mothers who threw their babes into the sacred River Ganges as offerings to the gods. Tears streamed down the face of one listener. When asked by the clergyman afterward what part of the sermon had affected him, the lunatic replied: "Sir, I was thinking it was a pity your mother didn't throw you into the Ganges."

Coastguard Stations as Sanatoria.

A novel scheme was disclosed by Lady Aberdeen, the wife of the Viceroy of Ireland. The countess said that "for some time past they had been in communication with the Admiralty as to obtaining the leases or remainder of the leases of disused coastguard stations, with a view to converting the into sanitoria or convalescent homes. They had now got the first of these at Sutton, where there were eight cottages of three rooms each."

THERE IS NO DANGER.

Smallpox Cases are Well Under Control and Outbreak is Checked.

There have been a number of grossly exaggerated rumors regarding the existence of smallpox in Peterborough, so exaggerated as to be ridiculous. When the disease appeared here, prompt measures were taken to check it, and a hospital tent was erected for isolation purposes. In this tent, the medical health officer informs us, there are fourteen cases, mostly children, and all mild cases, in fact, every patient was up and about. If the disease had been recognized at once, it would not have gone so far even as it has, but as soon as it was recognized, the measures were taken, and it is not likely to spread, for the cases are in the hospital tent, and all families from which the patients were taken strictly quarantined.

Upon receipt of the above information a Times representative made a personal visit to the hospital tent, and there found everything to be as was told us by the officials. Two large tents have been erected. One for the men, and one for thegirls and women, a third tent has been put up for the nurse who is in charge. The patients here receive the very best of everything, and fortunately the cases are so mild that all are up and about. As a matter of fact the hospital tent is more like a pleasure camp. The patients are all enjoying themselves, and have sports of various kinds. There are of course certain restrictions which are necessary to prevent the outside world coming in contact with the disease.

There is one thing sure and that is that the citizens of Peterborough need have no fear as the outbreak is well in hand of the authorities and it is nothing like as serious as public imagination would like you to believe. There has not been one single case that was at all serious, and at the present there is no danger of their being any.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and well Sold by all dealers.

DEFIED THE COURT.

Cardinal Refuses to Recognize French Authority.

Bordeaux, June 20.—When Cardinal Andrieux appeared in court this morning to answer the summons of the judge charging him with having incited a breach of the laws, by the allocution which he pronounced at the Cathedral on the occasion of his enthronement, he was acclaimed by an immense crowd of Catholics.

The Cardinal told the judge that he came as an act of courtesy, not because he recognized the competence of the court. He said he had spoken as an Archbishop, and that he was answerable only to his conscience, the Pope and God, and declared that he assumed the responsibility for his words. He maintained the right to appeal to the laws of the Republic which were more favorable to the free exercise of religion.

When the Cardinal emerged from court he was again acclaimed.

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW ST. VICTORIA, B. C.

Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsina Sound, Vancouver Island.

Asset.

The company have acquired 25,000 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 20,000 inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 10,000 to 15,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week. we are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture above and wrapping paper should not exceed $3,000 per ton. At present news is selling in British Columbia at $60.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia, on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord, in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident of being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the preferred stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium; remember the time to buy stock in any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent. annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $20.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $35.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $25.00 per ton on wrapping and $35.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $6.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1909 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $351,695. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,845,285. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 24th, 1907, Bulletin 69, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 20 2-3 per cent, of the value of goods over all expenses, or 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International PaPer Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,636,910.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $55.00 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent. on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent. upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 10 per cent. more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volume of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 25 square miles, which assures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

GAS REDUCTION

54 % SAVING 54 %

This enormous saving of gas is effected by the use of the wonderful invention, the MOUVANT BURNER, which is now being presented to the people of Canada.

The MOUVANT BURNER has been tested and experimented upon by the most eminent scientists, manufacturers and others, and the result of the investigation has demonstrated an economy of 54 per cent. over the Auer Light—the best of those heretofore in use.

The use of the MOUVANT BURNER will effect a revolution in the system of gas lighting, as there are 6,000,000 burners in use in Canada, each of which is consuming over twice the amount required by the MOUVANT BURNER to produce an infinitely superior light.

The MOUNANT MANTLE, introduced for the first time in America with the MOUVANT BURNER, has an average life of one year—much greater than that of any other mantle. This mantle gives a pure white light of great softness and brilliancy.

Another invention rounding out the utility of the MOUVANT system is the MOUVANT AUTOMATIC LIGHTER, which lights the gas instantly without matches.

A distinctive feature of the MOUVANT BURNER is that it consumes, equally well, ordinary gas, acetylene gas or gasoline.

The whole system (burner, mantle and shade), is installed for $2.00.

The great consumption of the different kinds of gas in Canada induced the investor to come to Canada, where a Company has been organized for the manufacture of MOUVANT burners, mantles, shades, lighters, etc.

THE FRENCH GAS SAVING COMPANY, LIMITED, is organized with a Capital of $500,000 divided into shares of $1.00 each—the minimum subscription being 10 shares—$10.00.

To manufacture these goods capital is necessary, and the object of issuing one dollar shares is to give the great mass of the people the opportunity to share in the double advantage of this. The People's Company, by securing gas at an enormously reduced rate and also sharing in the profits of what will be an enormous sale of manufactured goods.

Should the Company require additional capital, no further stock will be issued; but bonds will be sold, as it is intended to conserve the necessarily large profits for the original shareholders. Shares will be listed on the Stock Markets as soon as results are obtained.

The advantages of the Company's operations are presented in a most conservative way. If the actual possibilities were stated, the result would be almost incredible.

As it is but a few months until the Company can fill all orders, and as these will naturally be large, it is desirable that orders for goods or shares should be sent in at the earliest moment. Gas fitters throughout Canada, where gas is used, are invited to send addresses, with references, with a view to arranging for the installation of these lights.

All applications for shares and burners to be sent to me, and all remittances made to the order of the Company, and likewise sent to me.

All Districts Need More Candidates—Do Not Fail to Put Your Name on the List —Go to See Your Friends While Subscriptions Count High

There are twenty prizes of great value in The Morning Times' Great $3,000 Contest. These will all be won by those who show the energy to enter the contest and to remain in until the end. If you have ambition why should not you be one of the twenty successful candidates? If you look over the list and compare the number of candidates with the number of prizes, you will see that there is the best kind of chance for you to win, especially in all of the districts. People always drop out of a contest from time to time, either through lack of the necessary qualities through force of adverse circumstances such as illness, etc. This means that the lists as they stand today exaggerate the opposition against you in the end. Some whom you dread today as formidable rivals may not be in the race at all when the contests closes.

OUT OF TOWN

If you live out of Peterborough your chance is fine. There are few active candidates in the field against you, any live candidate would be certain of a handsome reward.

Do not let this opportunity pass. The one who enters today has twenty-four hours' start of those who postpone until tomorrow. In that time you may gain subscriptions that would be tomorrow be premised to someone else.

SESURE SUBSCRIPTTIONS EVERYWHERE.

You are not confined to your own district in securing subscriptions. Anywhere in Canada is your field for collecting subscriptions. Introduce as many of your friends as possible pleasure and information they derive to The Morning Times. They will thank you for this when they learn what the paper is, and how muchpleasure and information they derive from its pages.

NOT ASKING A FAVOR.

Those of you who hesitate to apply for a subscription to The Morning Times, should remember that you are not asking something for nothing. A sensible young lady, winner of a grand prize in a recent contest, remarked: "I never feel the least hesitation in urging my friends to take a paper that I know to be so bright, so newsy, so reliable as this one. I feel that if they are already taking it, they are sure to renew their subscription in any case, and I might just as well have the benefit of the votes. If they do not know the paper, I am conferring a positive benefit upon them by introducing them to something better than they are used to."

Certainly the contestants in The Morning Times' Contest can say the same to those they wish to ask for a subscription.

KEEP YOUR FRIENDS IN MIND.

Do not forget any of your friends. There are plenty of them and they want you to win. But friends are like providence in this respect,—they help those who help themselves. It is useless to sit down and expect people to flock about you with offers of subscriptions.

Naturally they think that the least you can do is to come to them and tell them of your ambition, and of your counting on them to aid you. It is good plan to make a list of all those who occur to you as likely to be interested in you. Keep a pencil handy for the purpose and jot down every name as you think of it. Otherwise you are very apt to forget the very ones who would do much to boost your vote way up into those numbers which will be the winning ones.

GO KNOWING YET.

What these numbers will be, there is no way of telling yet, but it is safe that it is a whole lot better to have a few more votes than are necessary to win your prize than too few. How foolish you would feel, as well as thoroughly disappointed, if at the end you should find that you had missed the prize of your choice by just a few subscriptions which you might have secured if you had thought of some acquaintances in time, or had not postponed untilthey had given their subscriptions to another candidate.

A STEP IN TIME SAVES NINE.

This is the case now, for if you get your subscriptions during the special vote period you will save yourself many a step. One subscription today counts for two or three later on. You can see how much harder you would have to work if you waited until the vote rate goes way down. "DO IT NOW," should be your motto for the next few weeks and when they are over it will make you feel happy to think you have a good reserve against the time when you will need it. Work and Win.

Big Sight-Seeing Auto Ran Away--Six Persons Hurt

(Special to The Times.)

New York, June 21.—As the result of a big sight-seeing automobile running wild, while filled with merry-makers on their way home from Coney Island early today, six of the occupants of the vehicle are in hospitals with severe injuries, and one young woman is expected to die as the result of her hurts. The fatally injured victim is Miss May Emery, 27 years old, of Washington Heights who sustained fractures of both legs and of the right arm and internal injuries when the runaway car crashed into a tree on the Ocean Parkway.

All the 25 passengers in the car were thrown out by the shock.

Some of the young women in a panic, had tried to jump as the machine, the mechanism of which had gone wrong, went zig zagging along the Parkway, but were restrained.

Three of the six injured persons are women. Miss Rose Miller of Manhattan had both legs broken as is suffering from the shock. A dozen other occupants of the car sustained minor injuries in the crash.

Specifications for New Public Library Accepted

Mr. Wm. Blackwell and Mr. John E. Belcher, architects for the new public library, were present, and Mr. Blackwell read the specifications The document was a very long one, and took over two hours to read. The first item to be discussed was that the contractor be given until May 1st, 1910, to complete the job. A clause was also added, providing that the contractor furnish his own fuel during the winter months. The foundations will be of concrete as far as the surface, and then stone. Coarse lime stone will be used, and all will be of equal size. The main walls will be of solid brick with stone window sills. The brick to be of first-class pressed brick front back ed up with first-class burnt brick. All the lathing throughout will be metal lath. Each paragraph was read separately and discussed by the committee when all the necessary changes were made or the clause was passed without changing. The building throughout will be a first-class one in every respect. All the material from the basement to the roof will be of the best, and it will be superintended by Messrs. Belcher and Blackwell, who will see that the work a first-class and performed according to the specifications.

A resolution was passed accepting the specifications and now them on to the council for authority to advertise for tenders.

It is probable that a special meeting of the council will be held tonight to take up this matter.

HOTELS ON GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

Port Hope, June 21.—Port Hope is in the midst of a hot local option campaign, the latest move being the signing of a $500 bond on the part of leading hotelkeepers not to sell liquor during prohibited hours. Those who signed are C. Perry, L. G. Bennet, Briton Bros., Geo Gamble, W. Couchman, J. H. Vanderlip and Wm. Howard.

To Look Into Prospects of Immigration to Canada

Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, has sailed for England to look into conditions and prospects of European immigration to Canada. His object is to see that the people who are sent to Canada are of the desirable character, in accordance with policy which in brief is as follows: First, the securing of immigrants whose purpose in coming to Canada is to occupy farm lands, either as owners, tenants or laborers. Second, the exclusion of those whose presence in Canada would tend to add to the congestion of the towns and cities.

Immigration effort is made only in those countries which are considered most likely to furnish the people coming within the first of the two classes above specified, namely, Great Britain and Ireland, the United States, France, Belgium, Holland Germany, Denmark, Iceland, Norway Sweden and Switzerland.

There are also provisions which exclude for financial or other reasons, not physical, mental or normal; (1) Charity-aided immigrants. (2) Europeans who have in their possession less than $25 in cash besides ticket to destination, and Asiatics who have less than $200 beside ticket to destination; excepting citizens of China or Japan, in regard to whom there are special arrangements. Chinese must pay $500 head tax, Japanese must have in possession $25 cash and a passport. (3) Immigrants who do not come by continuous passage from, and on tickets purchased in, the country of their birth or citizenship.

The first of these causes of exclusion may be enlarged in the case of persons who have been inspected and approved, before sailing, by the assistant superintendent of emigration for Canada in England. Go other relaxation will be made.

From the very first the Dominion Government has sought to encourage only immigrants of a desirable class, and no bonuses have been giving save to persons fitted for certain classes of employment and coming from Great Britain or the northern countries of Europe. Many others, including some undesirables, attracted by the wide advertising which Canada has received, have come to Canada, and while the coming of these has not been encouraged, it has not been easy to exclude them. This, however, is being done as rapidly as possible, and as experience suggests and Mr. Oliver's desire is that the lines shall be drawn tighter and tighter. It can do this country no good to bring to Canada any immigrants who are not likely to succeed here.

Gypsies are Confined in Jail, were Arrested Monday Morning

Sixty People in the Party—They are Ruled by a Beautiful Young Queen —Will Reside at Castle Nesbit for a Week-- The Men are Locked Up

There were doings in the old town yesterday and all yesterday after noon. A big crowd of women and children, and not a few men were around the court house and peeking through the cracks in the high board fence which surrounds the jail yard. The attraction was the band of Gypsies which have been operating in this vicinity the past few weeks and which moved down to Fowler's corners a day or two ago.

It was mentioned in these columns yesterday that the whole bunch would be arrested if they did not behave themselves and they no sooner got nicely settled in Peterborough county then they started doing things which are contrary to the law. As a result Detective Greer of Toronto, gathered together a force of constables and with Warden Scott went after the tribe.

The party left the city about 9.30 a.m., and returned about noon with a fine big caravan. There were a dozen wagons, twenty horses, 12 or 14 men and a big bunch of women and children. Altogether about 60 persons were taken in charge. They were escorted through the city and were placed in the jail yard where they will remain for the next week at least.

The tribe is a big one and they are picturesque in their native costumes and dishevelled appearance. The queen of the tribe is a young woman with a very pretty, bright and intelligent face and a good figure. She is in fact a beauty, and her sparkling eyes and winsome smile attract all who see her. She is the boss of the bunch, and is looked up to and honored by the others and she commands her subjects with firmness.

When they arrived at Castle Nesbitt the gates were all closed, and the public was shut out. The Mexicans did not appear, however, to be very much disturbed by their confinement, although some of them were not a little indignant. Queenie however, was still smiling, and whenever anyone caught her eye she waved them a pretty greeting and in between times she sang snatches of popular airs.

TROUBLE BEGINS.

The real trouble began, however, after the trial was over. The men were taken before Magistrate Edmison, and after the preliminary hearing Detective Greer asked that they be remanded for one week, and kept in jail. This was granted. The sheep and the lambs will be separated for that length of time at least. The women and the children will remain with their wagons in the jail yard.

When the queen learned that the men were to be locked up she became furious, and with all the force within her, called upon her God for vengeance upon those responsible for the present state of affairs. She was angered and the warlike spirit was aroused and the authorities had quite a time with her.

It was suggested that a big tent be put up in the yard for the women. But no, the queen would not listen to it and neither would the others. They threatened to slash the tent to shreds should it be erected. It was the wagons for them and they refused to leave.

THE FEEDING.

The next proposition the warden had to face was the feeding of the tribe. Sixty strong healthy people and twenty horses eat a lot of stuff and as they have to be kept by the county for a week, Jailer Nesbitt will have his hands full. The prisoners all have lots of money and they have lots of jewelery But that does not help the country out.

MORE EVIDENCE.

Detective Greer asked for the remand to enable him to secure evidence from around Bobcaygeon. The intention is to communicate, if possible, with the Dominion Government with the view of having the bunch deported.

They are supposed to have met at Windsor, coming from different parts and they have travelled through Western Ontario and intend going still further east.

ANOTHER PARTY.

There is still another party of five or six wagons coming this way They are members of the same gang, and when they arrive in the county they will also be escorted to the jail to be used the same as the first gang.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

ARE YOU DEAF?

Hundred of perfect recoveries from are reported as a result of the use of Catarrhozone.

The result of actual experience proves that ninety cases in every hundred can be cured, and stay cured, of impaired hearing by the regular use of Catarrhozone.

Among the many prominent business men whose hearing has been restored by Catarrhozone, might be mentioned Mr. Geo. W. Warner of 263 Wellesley street, Toronto, and Mr William Jones, contractor, of Halifax, N.S. Both these gentlemen have testified to the merits of Catarrhozone as a valuable cure for deafness, and their statements prove beyond all question that Catarrhozone cures impaired hearing and even total deafness.

The efficiency of Catarrhozone is placed beyond dispute by its long list of successful cures, and on the highest authority we can recommend it to our readers. It is a very simple remedy to use, and never causes confusion or gets out of order.

Catarrhozone Inhaler is beautifully polished and made of hard rubber. It is suitable to carry in the vest pocket, and can be used in the church, theater, street car, at any time, in any place. The complete outfit costs but $1.00 and last two months. Trial size 25c. Sold by druggists or sent to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE YELLOW CORD.

A few days ago a Pekin despatch to The Mail and Empire announced that a yellow cord had been sent to Yuan Shih Kai, and it was explained that the receipt of this sinister cord was equivalent to hearing a death sentence. You have not heard, however, of Yuan accepting the hint, and no news of his suicide is expected. It is a long time ago since any eminent Chinaman took his own life as a result of receiving the fatal cord, although originally it was a virtual death sentence. China, however, progresses somewhat too, and she has outgrown the stage when a statesman commits suicide just because his political enemies are in the ascendant. She loves the picturesque, and preserves old forms that have long since lost their original significance.

Yellow is the royal color of China, just as purple is the color of kings in most other lands, and a long time ago, when some prominent official had the misfortune to offend the Emperor, the latter sent him a cord. Coming from a monarch, it was necessarily yellow, and the intimation that the recipient was to hang himself was too plain to be misunderstood. It was a sort of tragical distinction to receive this cord, for any offender but one of high rank was simply beheaded, with not more ado. We have a counterpart to this nice distinction in our commercial life, where a highly-placed employe is asked to send in his resignation, and an ordinary workman is discharged. One way is not less effective than another, and the Chinese dignitary who remained obtuse to the hint of the yellow cord would be seized some fine day and his shoulders.

The despatch of the cord was attended with great ceremony. A high dignitary was entrusted with the duty of conveying it to the doomed man, and he was usually attended by an imposing escort. Arrived at the home of the victim, there ensued much bowing and scraping, after which the grim visitors, full of compliments, would be invited in. Then a banquet would be spread, at which it was deemed a breach of manners for any reference to be made to the nature of the visit. It was good form for the unfortunate host to appear pleased and honored when the cord was hanged to him, and then, with more compliments, the messenger and his escort would depart. From that moment, however, the victim was under surveillance, although he would not be molested so long as he made no effort to escape. Knowing the hopelessness of his plight, the poor wretch remained quietly at home, feasting his friends and setting his house in order. Then, some night, he would them a last farewell and take a dose of poison. The cord was not used, being more painful and requiring some little skill in its use. The period elapsing between the receipt of the cord and the death of the victim was left to a certain extent, but it was not considered good form for him to keep hanging on until the last day, nor was it seemly that he should rudely bolt out of life the day he received the message.

But it is of ancient times in China we are speaking, and though the yellow cord is said to come into use occasionally, the fatal significance has departed from it, and its receipt is tantamount to a severe official reprimand. It was said that, after the disaster to the Chinese army in the war with Japan, Li Hung Chang received the cord. Temporarily Li was stripped of his honors, and retired to his native province. He did not commit suicide, however, but merely purified himself by communing at the tombs of his ancestors. Then he emerged, all his honors were restored, and he died, several years later, in full enjoyment of them. Following the Boxer uprising there was a further distribution of these left-handed birthday honors, Prince Tuan, among others, receiving a yellow cord. The officials, however, are still alive, though in retirement and technical disgrace on account of their complicity in attacks upon the Foreign Legations.

Yuan Shih Kai has been in retirement and ostensible disgrace for many months, and it does not appear that the yellow cord can add to his "loss of face." For some time the interesting question concerning him has been as to the length of time the Chinese Government could get on without him. In the opinion of foreign diplomats he is the ablest statesman in China. He is by far the most progressive, and has long been considered a good friend of Great Britain and the United States. The modern Chinese army is his work, but in the hour of his disgrace he made no effort to use this powerful weapon against his enemies. Yuan Shih Kai's progressiveness has made him many bitter foes, and every now and then they gain temporary authority as the pendulum swings backward from reform. Yuan's day will come again, unless he is assassinated, a danger which can never be quite eliminated in Chinese politics. The despatch of any thing more than that the time for his return to power has been postponed once more.

Wedding Bells

O'DETTE—KYLIE.

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. James Kylie, Hiawatha, Monday, 21st, when Miss Georgina Kylie, was united in marriage to Mr. Vernon O'Dette of Peterborough. Rev. Father Kelly officiated. The bride was gowned in cream cashmere and the bridesmaid, Miss Kylie, sister of the bride, wore white mull muslin. The young couple will reside in Peterborough.

The groom is well known and popular among a large number of friends in this city, who will join in congratulations and best wishes, and also welcome his bride, who is an estimable young lady, to her new home in Peterborough.

CHRISTIE—WILSON!

JEWELL—BICKELL.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening last at eight o'clock at the home of Mr. R. H. Bickell in Smith, when his daughter, Miss Ella, was united in marriage to Mr. Trueman Jewell, of Lakefield. The ceremony was performed in the beautifully decorated drawing room beneath an arch of evergreens in the presence of over one hundred guests. Rev. Mr. Bedford, of Lakefield, being the officiating clergyman. The bride, who was given away by her father, entered the drawing room to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by the bride's cousin, Mrs. Gurney. Six little ribbon girls held ribbon marking off the path of the bridal party. The bride looked charming in a gown of cream net over taffeta. She wore the conventional bridal veil and carried cream roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Roxie Bickell, who looked very pretty in white mulle with trimmings of insertion. She carried pink carnations. The ribbon girls were Misses Lillian Bickell Ollie Jary, Mabel Bickell, Xery Buttrill, Beatrice Bickell and Muriel Boyce. Three were attired in white and three in pale blue. The groom was supported by Mr. Thos. Isbister of Lakefield.

After the ceremony and heart congratulations had been bestowed upon the young couple, the guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding repast. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet, to the bridesmaid, a sunburst of pearls, and to the pianiste, a metalized carnation hat pin, and to the groomsman, a neck tie pin.

Mr and Mrs. Jewell are residing in Lakefield. Mrs Jewell will be at home to her friends after July 1st.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FIVE THOUSAND KILLED.

St. Petersburg, June 16.—A dispatch to the "Novoe Vremya" from Astara says that the Shahsevan tribesmen are ravaging the Ardabil district in Azerbaijan, the most north west province in Persia. According to the dispatch five thousand persons have been killed and the inhabitants have appealed to the Russian Consul for protection.

OIL AND ZINC

A SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY FOR Conservative Investors

The Hardy Lead & Zinc Co.
OF JONESBORO, ARK.

Beg to state that they have placed a block of Stock for sale in Canada, and have appointed Mr. Chas. Harrison, of the Peterboro Brokerage Company, their fiscal agent to dispose of the same. The company is practically a close corporation. The entire capital stock is only 20,000 shares. The par value of the stock is $25 per share. We offer it to you at $6.25 per share. This would be just the same as 6¼ cents per share on a 2,000,000 capitalization, $1 par value.

We are operating on 246 acres of Arkansas zinc land and are putting our own money into this enterprise. We are going after zinc and petroleum. Full particulars on application to

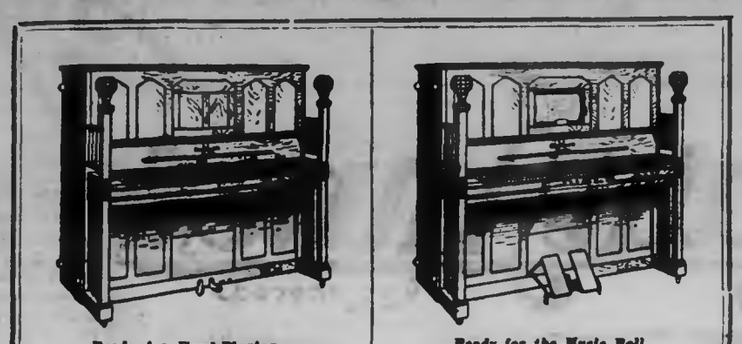
A New Creation in the Player-Piano



Ready for Hand-Playing. Ready for the Music Roll.

Careful and conservative in putting our name to any instrument that would not stand the severest test, it is not after the most thorough investigation and modelling that we to-day place before the people of Canada

The Heintzman & Co.

PLAYER--PIANO

(Made by Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Limited)

A Player-piano which is distinctive and outstanding—the superior of any Player-piano on the market to-day.

This statement might seem like mere dogmatism in some hands, but the guarded nature of all our public announcements for more than fifty years, and the undisputed supremacy of the grand and upright pianos bearing our name, at once gives confidence to the present announcement.

The Heintzman & Co., Player-piano is the piano all can play either by hand or by perforated music-rolls. There is combined in this one instrument a superb and unique tone quality, with a pneumatic action capable of perfectly reproducing the human touch.

It is no larger than the regular upright piano, and no different in appearance—with unlimited artistic possibilities.

In it are concentrated not only a complete piano for hand-playing, but also the perfect means whereby anyone is enabled to interpret all music artistically, irrespective of previous technical training.

Everyone interested in music in the home—and who is not?—is invited to spend a short time in the piano salon of the old firm of Heintzman & Co., Ltd. 115-117 King street west, Toronto, and learn for themselves something of the wonders of this wonderful instrument—the piano anyone can play.

GAS REDUCTION

54% SAVING 54%

This enormous saving of gas is effected by the use of the wonderful invention, the MOUVANT BURNER, which is now being presented to the people of Canada.

The MOUVANT BURNER has been tested and experimented upon by the most eminent scientists, manufacturers and others, and the result of the investigation has demonstrated an economy of 54 per cent. over the Auer Light—the best of those heretofore in use.

The use of the MOUVANT BURNER will effect a revolution in the system of gas lighting, as there are 6,000,000 burners in use in Canada, each of which is consuming over twice the amount required by the MOUVANT BURNER to produce an infinitely superior light.

The MOUVANT MANTLE, introduced for the first time in America with the MOUVANT BURNER, has an average life of one year—much greater than that of any other mantle. This mantle gives a pure white light of great softness and brilliancy.

Another invention rounding out the utility of the MOUVANT system is the MOUVANT AUTOMATIC LIGHTER, which lights the gas instantly without matches.

A distinctive feature of the MOUVANT BURNER is that it consumes, equally well, ordinary gas, acetylene gas or gasoline.

The whole system (burner, mantle and shade), is installed for $2.00.

The great consumption of the different kinds of gas in Canada induced the inventor to come to Canada, where a Company has been organized for the manufacture of MOUVANT burners, mantles, shades, lighters, etc.

THE FRENCH GAS SAVING COMPANY, LIMITED, is organized with a Capital of $500,000 divided into shares of $1.00 each—the minimum subscription being 10 shares—$10.00.

To manufacture these goods capital is necessary, and the object of issuing one dollar shares is to give the great mass of the people the opportunity to share in the double advantage of this. The People's Company, by securing gas at an enormously reduced rate and also sharing in the profits of what will be an enormous sale of manufactured goods.

Should the Company require additional capital, no further stock will be issued; but bonds will be sold, as it is intended to conserve the necessarily large profits for the original shareholders. Shares will be listed on the Stock Markets as soon as results are obtained.

The advantages of the Company's operations are presented in a most conservative way. If the actual possibilities were stated, the result would be almost incredible.

As it is but a few months until the Company can fill all orders, and as these will naturally be large, it is desirable that orders for goods or shares should be sent in at the earliest moment. Gas fitters throughout Canada, where gas is used, are invited to send addresses, with references, with a view to arranging for the installation of these lights.

All applications for shares and burners to be sent to me, and all remittances made to the order of the Company, and likewise sent to me.

King Presents Colors to His Civilian Army

London, June 19.—Great Britain's territorial forces reorganized out of untrained and unrelated units which in the form of militia and volunteers have been for generations the country's only army for home defence, passed out of their embryonic stage this afternoon when King Edward, at Windsor Castle, presented their colors to the representative battalions of this civilian army. The ceremony was a brilliant one.

If Sick

Don't risk even one single penny!

And I will tell you why I say this.

It is because every bottle of Dr. Sheep's medicine is positively Free If It Fails.

No one need risk even one single penny.

Just think what this means to the suffering sick!

No sick person, anywhere, anywhere in the land, but can afford to try Dr. Sheep's medicine at my risk. Not even one penny. Not even my name or any testimonial. Simply a request or two to my Chemists, Limited.

Why purchase any medicine when maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

And besides, I am no stranger to you.

My name and picture are known to millions. Almost everybody has seen it in the back of a magazine. Or a Sunday sheet. We do no secret business.

I have my name in the most widely circulated publications and the endorsement of the leading physicians and chemists.

Besides, you are free to consult me by letter or you would never know my name. So no family secrets are exposed. And I am willing to send or have from me will cheer up some sufferer almost. I have hosts of testimonials from all parts of the world, but I prefer to let you judge by my private prescription or personal advice.

Besides, the bottle will speak for itself. All druggists have Dr. Sheep's remedies. Ask them. Or, if you prefer, write me. Tell me how you feel and I will tell you what to do. Address Dr. Sheep, Box 32, Racine, Wis.

CHOKED ON PIECE OF MEAT.

Kingston, June 21.—John Hardie, a patient at the Rockwood Asylum, while bolting his dinner yesterday, choked to death on a piece of meat. Hardie, who was 70 years of age, was brought to the asylum from the Cobourg district about four or five months ago.

Deport 300 Criminals N. Y. State May Do It

Albany, N. Y., June 19.—With a view to ascertaining how many aliens there are in prisons of the state subject to deportation, Superintendent C. X. Collins of the state prison department has completed a census of the prison population, which shows that of the 900 alien convicts 319 were convicted of felonies within three years after their arrival in the United States, and under the law, therefore, may be sent back to the countries from whence they came.

The department of commerce and labor at Washington, which has jurisdiction over the deportation of such aliens, will be notified by Superintendent Collins of the results of his investigations and the superintendent will recommend to Governor Hughes that the sentences of all such aliens, which vary from a few months to life imprisonment, be commuted en masse.

Should the recommendation of Superintendent Collins be carried out the present congested condition of the prisons would be greatly relieved and the country would be rid of a number of undesirables who are being maintained at state expense.

In addition to the 319 convicts subject to deportation Superintendent Collins found during his investigation that 27 men had been convicted in other countries prior to coming to the United States and that two had been previously confined in insane asylums aboard, who should not have been permitted to enter the country at all.

"It would not be the policy of the department to recommend the deportation of aliens having families living in this country, who previous to their conviction were dependent upon them for support, as this would tend in a measure to throw such support upon county and municipal authorities, as well as upon charitable organizations," said Superintendent Collins to-day."

"It has been reported to me that in some foreign countries men who have been arrested, charged with crime, have been given the alternative of leaving the country or going to prison. If this is true the man, altho a criminal, is not a convicted criminal, and his exclusion would not legally come within the federal statutes."

Of the 319 aliens subject to deportation by far the largest number, 187, are Italians. Russia comes next with 44; Germany has 20; Austria 19; England 16; Canada 8; Hungary 7; France 6; Switzerland 3; Roumania 2; Holland 2; Ireland 1; West Indies 1, Malta 1; Denmark 1; Sweden 1, and Greece 1.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Sheep's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupefying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a baralmus, lung-healing mountainboom shrub, give to Dr. Sheep's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

NEW RECTORY COMPLETED.

Rev. Canon Davidson's New Home Ready for Occupancy—Up-to-date In all its Appointments.

St. John's new rectory is now completed, and ready for occupancy by the rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, who will move into his new home on or about July first. The building is one of the handsomest dwelling houses in Peterborough, and is a credit to the architectural genius of John E. Belcher, C. E., and to the building committee in whose hands the duty of providing a modern home for the ecclesiastical head of St. John's Church was intrusted. It stands a living monument to the enterprise and loyalty of St. John's present day congregation, and considerately, enhances the widely advertised picturesqueness of Peterboroughs oldest historic church. Apart from its architectural acceptability the interior appointments of this new rectory are perfect in every detail. And to the contractor, Ald. Archie McIntyre is due no small measure of credit for the very high standard of mechanical skill put into the building; the brick work in particular has been most favorably commented upon by experts in this line.

The ladies of St. John's congregation are exemplifying their appreciation of the new rectory and their loyalty to the rector in a most substantial manner; they are furnishing the windows with blinds, providing several handsome rugs, and also furnishing a guest chamber. The architect, Mr. John Belcher, has also kindly given the large stained glass window that illuminates the handsome reception hall.

This modern and up-to-date structure will be formally opened in a short time in the way of a reception, to which all members of the congregation will be invited. The following gentlemen are the committee who assumed the responsibility, of building this new home for St. John's incumbent; Messrs. Peter Campbell, chairman; Dr. Halliday, Chas. H. J. Mitchell, Joseph Mills, W. H. Cluxton, Harry Long, A. E. Coulthard. The new rectory properly is held in trust for the congregation by Messrs. Dr. Boucher, Dr. Halliday, Dr. Burnham, Peter Campbell and Chas. H. J. Mitchell.

Road Contracts

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned will be received up to 12 o'clock noon on FRIDAY, JULY 2nd, 1909, for chopping, clearing, stumping, and grubbing a waggon road from THE MONTREAL RIVER AT SMYTHE TO GOWGANDA, following the line blazed by Mr. C. H. Fullerton, J. E., for the purpose of marking on the ground the location of said road. The length of the road will be about 27 miles.

The work of chopping, clearing, stumping and grubbing to include the cutting of all timber, brush etc. on the roadway to a width of 50 feet and removing all stumps, brush, timber, etc., from the central 30 feet, cutting, trimming, and neatly piling all the logs, brush and stumps on the roadside, outside of the central 30 feet, and burning same.

The work to be commenced immediately after the awarding of the contract and to be continued to the satisfaction of the engineer in charge of the work and completed by the 1st. of October, 1909.

Tenders shall be submitted on the blank forms to be obtained from any of the undermentioned.

The tenders to be at a rate per lineal mile of road. A guarantee company's bond approved by the Department will be required for the due fulfillment of the contract.

A marked cheque for five per cent. of the total amount of the contract must accompany each tender.

Plans and specifications of the work to be done may be seen at this Department, or at the office of Mr. C. H. H. Fullerton, C. E., New Liskeard, at the office of Alberta Skill, Mining Recorder at Smythe, or Harry Sheppard, Mining Recorder at Gowganda, or George T. Smith, Mining Recorder at Haileybury, or T. A. McArthur, Mining Recorder at Cobalt.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

F. COCHRANE,
Acting-Minister of Public Works.

CLEAN Up INSIDE

Blood and System Cleansing in the Spring Makes Good Health all Summer.

In spite of all your careful bathing it is safe to say that in the spring you feel poorly—have a throbbing sensation in the head—skin is sallow or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely billious the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up, work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood. Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years," says W. B Slaughter of Concord, "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite, suffered from indigestion and gas, had some pains in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt despondent and languid enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvellous work done by Dr Hamilton's Pills, and tried them. They suited me exactly. In one week I felt like new. I was braced up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spirits. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this grand tonic medicine."

Power Committee.

A meeting of the Power Committee will be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Council Meeting.

A special meeting of the City Council will be held tonight at 7.30 for the purpose of passing upon the Public Library specifications.

Board of Works.

A meeting of the Board of Works will be held tonight at eight o'clock when important business will be taken up.

Contracts Awarded.

The contracts were awarded yesterday morning for the provisions for the Dragoons' camp at Nassau. Mr. R. Deane will supply the hay and oats, Messrs. E. P. Mason & Co., the groceries, and Mr. Kennedy the meat.

The Cut Worm.

Horticulturists in this vicinity report that the climbing cutworm is doing damage in city gardens. This pest was rampant some three years ago, and caused terrible destruction to vegetation all through thatsection. To prevent such a plague as then occurred the wise gardener will "get after" Mr. Cutworm promptly and feed him plenty of bran soaked in water sweetened with sugar and Paris green. This dainty tid-bit placed around the plants will attract cutworm pillars which are nocturnal and feed at night and greatly lessen their number.

FORD MOTOR AHEAD.

Local Representative Receives Word of Big Race.

Ald. Duffus, local agent for the Ford motor car, yesterday received the following telegram from H B Harper at Minneapolis, Minn:—"Arrived first, probably one day ahead. Worst mountains so far. Shawmut held up fifty miles east."

PERSONAL

Rev. J. R. Bonnar, pastor of the Gilmour Memorial Baptist church, Smith, returned yesterday from the Baptist convention at Colborne.

Mr. W. R. G. Higgins, of the Higgins Hardware Company, has been confined to his home for the was able to return to business this was able to return to business yesterday morning.

Messrs. Barney Link and Wm. P. Fay of New York, officers of the National Bill-posting Association with Mr. W. R. Wadsworth of the Connor-Ruddy Company, Toronto, were in the city. They have been fishing at Loon Lake. Mr. Walter Stocker piloted them about Peterborough. They report excellent sport, and will return with a large party.

A party of seven gentlemen from Rochester, arrived in the city Saturday, on their way up to Stony Lake for their annual outing. They were too late to take a train, and had to wait over until Sunday, when they drove to Burleigh, at which point boat was taken to Viamede. The party was composed of Messrs. F. W. Gates, M. H. Van Burgh, Dr. P. K. Hill, Fred Teats, T. Meyer, P. A. Fowler and G. E. Mosier.

DRAGOONS IN CAMP.

West Under Canvas Yesterday at Nassau.

Yesterday saw the opening of the annual summer camp of the 3rd Dragoons at Nassau. From present indications the camp looks as if it would be even a greater success than has been anticipated. Everything is in first class running order, and the men are elated at the bright prospects. At present there are about 185 officers and men and as many horses on the grounds and it is expected that before evening their numbers will be brought up even higher. The brigade is made up of men from Peterborough, Warsaw, Millbrook, Colborne and Trenton, and they are a fine lot of looking men.

The parades and manoeuvres will be commenced this morning at 9.30 and it is expected that a large number of Peterborough people will take advantage of the proximity of the camp to visit it during the next few days.

REVIVAL SERVICES.

By Rev. Mr. Goforth in St. Paul's Church Yesterday.

Rev. Mr. Goforth delivered two splendid addresses in St. Paul's church yesterday afternoon and evening and he was listened to by fair sized congregations. In the evening Rev. Mr. Pogue conducted the service and Rev. Mr. Goforth gave a spirited and eloquent and impressive address on "Without Me ye can do nothing," which was taken from John 15:5. The services will be continued today.

OBITUARY

MRS. GEORGE CANE.

Th death occurred Sunday night at St. Joseph's Hospital, of Mary Cavanagh, wife of George Cane, 94 London street. The death was due to a severe attack of rheumatism, which she contracted some time ago The deceased was born in Douro, and was 54 years of age. She leaves her husband and seven children to mourn her, of whom Harry is at Campbellford; Eva at Schenectady; Emma at Sault Ste. Marie; Charles at Orillia, and Thomas, Edward and Kate, at home. GOT AUTOMOBILES.

Two More Aldermen Fall Victims to the Bug.

It was mentioned in these columns some weeks ago that the aldermen were getting the automobile bug This has been proven true and on Saturday night Ald Hicks and Ald Bradburn arrived in the city from Oshawa, each with a handsome five passenger McLaughlin machine These were purchased through Mr Geo. L. Stevens the local agent. Now the two aldermen are sporting about the city in all kinds of "style and speed."

Bishop Construction Co. Will Start Work on New Dam at Once and Rush It

The manager of the Bishop construction Company of Montreal signed the contract in Montreal yesterday to build the new concrete dam for the Peterborough Water Commissioners and he will be in the city today to purchase lumber and supplies and will begin operations at once. The successful contractors are a big concern and they intend to waste no time. As rapidly as the preliminary work is completed, actual operations will be started, and the manager says he will complete the whole job this year.

This is pretty quick work and by the looks of things the commissioners have made no mistake in awarding the contract When the work on the dam is started it will mean employment for a very large number of men all summer and it will be a good thing for the city

First Recital of Series at Conservatory of Music

This is closing week of the Conservatory of Music. Last night the first of a series of piano recitals was given in the hall as announced in the papers when the pupils of Miss Adamson on the violin and Miss Newman on the piano were heard. Owing to a combination of circumstances a number of piano students were unable to be present, and they were substituted by a number of talented pupils by Mr. Gliddon.

Miss McGill was called on without notice to play Behrbert impromptu in G flat No. 3, and she gave a very brilliant rendition of this magnificent composition.

Miss Slanion gave the Chopin Berceuse in G flat, and gave a very poetic interpretation which is characteristic of this popular young pianist.

Miss Beaton Starke played the Liszt Love Dream and displayed a very finished technique and fine singing tone.

Miss Katherine Bennett, piano; Miss Edwina Palmer, violin; Miss Katherine McCarthy gave a brilliant rendering of Faust Fantasia by Gound, on the violin.

This evening there will be an interesting program by the piano pupils of Mr. Gliddon, and the vocal pupils of Mr Henry J Lucas. The pupils are all advanced, and all who love music are invited to attend.

The series of recitals will close with a grand concert on Wednesday evening given by the Conservatory Orchestra of 30 performers assisted by Miss Winnifred Parker, elocutionist, and Mr Andrew Ross Love, tenor soloist, both of Toronto, who are two new members of the faculty

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made so does the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and sold by all dealers.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Ordered a New Shaker for the City Hall Furnace.

At the Property Committee meeting last night only two or three small matters were taken up and disposed of after the Public Library specifications were disposed of. Another meeting will be held shortly to take up the isolation hospital specifications.

The two lots 100 and 101 James street, which belong to the city, will cost $11.50 for fencing and this will be done, according to the engineer's report.

S. W. Ross, Lancaster and Staunton, will be notified by the city clerk to call at the clerk's office and make arrangements and sign the necessary lease for the boat houses they have built on the river bank.

The chairman brought up the matter of a shaker for the furnace in the city buildings. There is no shaker on the furnace now and the new one will only cost about $10 and will save that much fuel in one season.

On motion the chairman was authorized to purchase the shaker from the Canadian Steam Boiler Equipment Co. of Toronto.

Store rents in Peterborough are to be higher than ever in the near future. They'll be so high pretty soon that the man who comes around to collect will have to bring a ladder.

VACCINATION.

Great Crowd of Children, Men and Women Were at City Hall.

All day yesterday the doctors in the City Hall had a busy time vaccinating the men, women and children who gathered there from early morning until late in the evening. The public vaccination is quite the thing now, but in a few days it will be "Look out for my arm." The people will have to be very careful not to bump into their neighbors as the vaccinated arm will be very painful

NO MARCHOUT.

Owing to Company Inspection Which Was Started Last Night.

The marchout of the 57th Regiment billed for last night was cancelled on account of the company inspection of the regiment by the officer commanding from Kingston. The inspection will last for three nights and will be very thorough.

It is said that Sir James Whitney will "press the button" next fall at our fall fair. Let us hope that this wont become a habit with him for pressing the button toofrequently is apt to lead to istoxication.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. XXXII NO. 146 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY JUNE 23, 1909 PRICE TWO CENTS

Get an Early Start, Work in Haste, Rejoice at Leisure

All Districts Need More Candidates—Do Not Fail to Put Your Name on the List —Go to See Your Friends While Subscriptions Count High

There are twenty prizes of great value in The Morning Times' Great $8,000 Contest. These will all be won by those who show the energy to enter the contest and to remain in until the end. If you have ambition why should not you be one of the twenty successful candidates? If you look over the list and compare the number of candidates with the number of prizes, you will see that there is the best kind of chance for you to win, especially in all of the districts. People always drop out of a contest from time to time, either through lack of the necessary qualities through force of adverse circumstances such as illness, etc. This means that the lists as they stand today exaggerate the opposition against you in the end. Some whom you dread today as formidable rivals may not be in the race at all when the contests closes.

OUT OF TOWN.

If you live out of Peterborough your chance is fine. There are few active candidates in the field against you, any live candidate would be certain of a handsome reward.

Do not let this opportunity pass. The one who enters today has twenty-four hours' start of those who postpone until tomorrow. In that time you may gain subscriptions that would be tomorrow be premised to someone else.

SESURE SUBSCRIPTTIONS EVERYWHERE.

You are not confined to your own district in securing subscriptions. Anywhere in Canada is your field for collecting subscriptions. Introduce as many of your friends as possible pleasure and information they derive to The Morning Times. They will thank you for this when they learn what the paper is, and how muchpleasure and information they derive from its pages.

NOT ASKING A FAVOR.

Those of you who hesitate to apply for a subscription to The Morning Times, should remember that you are not asking something for nothing. A sensible young lady, winner of a grand prize in a recent contest, remarked: "I never feel the least hesitation in urging my friends to take a paper that I know to be so bright, so newsy, so reliable as this one. I feel that if they are already taking it, they are sure to renew their subscription in any case, and I might just as well have the benefit of the votes. If they do not know the paper, I am conferring a positive benefit upon them by introducing them to something better than they are used to."

Certainly the contestants in The Morning Times' Contest can say the same to those they wish to ask for a subscription.

KEEP YOUR FRIENDS IN MIND.

Do not forget any of your friends. There are plenty of them and they want you to win. But friends are like providence in this respect,—they help those who help themselves. It is useless to sit down and expect people to flock about you with offers of subscriptions.

Naturally they think that the least you can do is to come to them and tell them of your ambition, and of your counting on them to aid you. It is good plan to make a list of all those who occur to you as likely to be interested in you. Keep a pencil handy for the purpose and jot down every name as you think of it. Otherwise you are very apt to forget the very ones who would do much to boost your vote 'way up into those numbers which will be the winning ones.

GO KNOWING YET.

What these numbers will be, there is no way of telling yet, but it is safe that it is a whole lot better to have a few more votes than are necessary to win your prize than too few. How foolish you would feel, as well as thoroughly disappointed, if at the end you should find that you had missed the prize of your choice by just a few subscriptions which you might have secured if you had thought of some acquaintances in time, or had not postponed untilthey had given their subscriptions to another candidate,

A STEP IN TIME SAVES NINE.

This is the case now, for if you get your subscriptions during the special vote period you will save yourself many a step. One subscription today counts for two or three later on. You can see how much harder you would have to work if you waited until the vote rate goes way down. "DO IT NOW," should be your motto for the next two weeks and when they are over it will make you feel happy to think you have a good reserve against the time when you will need it. Work and Win.

Septic Tank Trouble will be Discussed by Municipalities Tomorrow

The city solicitor, E. H. D. Hall, was present at the council meeting in reference to the Cameron Septic Tank Company of Chicago. This city has adopted a septic tank very similar to the Cameron tank. Mr. Hall and Ald. Phelan, chairman of the Board of Works, attended a meeting of the municipalities who are interested in this matter. The company are threatening to take action against all cities using this tank. At the meeting the question was discussed, but nothing was decided upon, and another meeting will be held in Toronto on Thursday and Mr. Hall and Ald Phelan will attend again.

If the other municipalities decide to fight it this city will join with them and fight, and the city will fight anyway, as Mr. Chipman says that the company have no claim whatever.

It is also understood that the Provincial Board of Health may say anytime that even the liquid from those septis tanks will not be allowed to empty into the rivers. The health authorities claim that the septic tanks are no good as far as health is concerned as the liquid is just as injurious as the solid matter.

A committee was appointed bu the municipalities to wait upon the Board of Health to see what they were going to do.

On motion the interests of this city were left in the hands of Mr. Hall and Ald. Phelan to deal with the matter as best they can.

Council Accepted the Property Committees Report on New Library

A special meeting of the City Council was held last night at 7.30 o'clock for the purpose of hearing the report of the Property Committee on the Public Library. The committee reported that the plans and specifications of Messrs. Blackwell & Beleher, architects, be received, and that the chairman be authorized to advertise for tenders at once.

The report was adopted.

STRANGLED TO DEATH.

Kingston, June 21.—John Hardie, a patient at the Rockwood Asylum, while bolting his dinner yesterday, choked to death on a piece of meat. Hardie, who was 70 years of age, was brought to the asylum from the Cobourg district about four or five months ago.

Rev. J. R. Bonnar, pastor of the Gilmour Memorial Baptist church, Smith, returned yesterday from the Baptist convention at Colborne.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Mr. Gliddon's Pupils Gave Beautiful Recital at the Conservatory

The second night of the closing concerts at the Conservatory of Music took place last night when about 200 friends of the institution were present, including a large number of gentlemen, who are interested in music. This was a feature as it is seldom that men are seen at functions of this nature. The first number on the program was a duo for two pianos, overture Der Frei Shutz, by Webber, played by Mrs. Hodgson, Misses Starke, Hookey and McGill. This was a novelty, and was received with considerable enthusiasm. The next was one of The Lizst Rhapsodie No. 11, played by Miss McGill. This was a virtuosi number and was chosen evidently to display a very brilliant technique.

The third number rendered was a Gigue Brettone, by Bachmann, played by Miss Josie Hooey of Fort Hope, who put considerable dash into it.

Miss Jennette Titterson gave Bohm Dance Hongroise, which was most enthusiastically received by the audience.

Listz, Venezia Gondaliera, played by Miss Annie Sisson. This is one of Listy's characteristic tone pictures. The opening bars represent the ripple of the waters as the gondola glides along. The bells of the beautiful St. Mark's in Vienna strikes the hour of midnight. This was most enthusiastically applauded but encores were not allowed.

Miss Starke gave the Wagner Lizt spinning song from the opera "Flying Dutchman," and she displayed a very dainty and well developed technique.

A duo for two piamos, eight hands, selection Faust, played by first piano, Miss Geraldine Rudkins and Florence Howe, Pearl Ruth and Sophie Elliott. Chopin Polonaise, op. 40, No. 1, was brilliantly played by Miss Geraldine Rudkins.

Miss Florence Howe, Havelock, played Borowski minuette in G. Beethoven's sonnati, op. 27, No. 2, known as the "Moonlight," was played by Miss McKee.

This program was supposed to be given by Mr. Gliddon and Mr. Lautz pupils, but owing to the length of the program, only the piano numbers were given.

At the close Mr. Gliddon made a few remarks, thanking the large audience for their attendance and the interest shown in the work of the Conservatory. The closing concert will be held to night when the principal artists will be Miss Winnifrid Parker of the Normal School, Toronto, elocutionist, and Mr. Drew Love, tenor, Toronto, and the Conservatory of Music orchestra.

The City Streets will be Watered on Sunday Mornings in Future

Board of Works Take an Important Step—Street Watering and Flushing Sidewalks Discussed—The Septic Tank Matter—New Walks to be Built—Other Business Discussed

It will be like living in a civilized city on Sunday in the near future. The dust on the main streets will be laid hereafter on the first day of the week. Such a motive is most commendable, and Ald. McIntyre deserves credit for introducing it into the Board od Works last night and the board deserves credit for adopting it. Last Sunday the dust in the city was terrible.

The whole system of street watering was again talked of and many complaints were made. As a result a lot of fines will be imposed on the contractors who areneglecting their work. Several other matters of interest were also put through by the board.

BROCK ST. WALK.

The wardens of St. John's church wrote to the Board of Works stating that they had reconsidered their opposition to the building of the sidewalk on the south side of Brock street behind St. John's church and that they would be willing to have the walk constructed now as advertised.

On motion a bylaw was ordered to be prepared for the next council meeting confirming the construction of this walk.

Ald Turner introduced his scheme for flushing the walks on George street. He claimed that was the great cause of the dust nuisance in the stores. He said the water would cost nothing. The walks on George street should be washed from Brock to Charlotte street.

SUNDAY WATERING.

Ald. McIntyre brought up the matter of watering the streets in the center of the city on Sunday. This was generally favored.

Ald. Morgan suggested that all the streets be watered.

Moved by Aldermen McIntyre and Turner, that the streets in the center of the city be watered on Sundays, and the motion carried.

But He Hoped To.

Two Westerners, traveling in the mountains had gone for hours and hours without seeing a sign of life. At last they came to a cabin in a clearing. The hogs lay in their dirt holes, the thin claybank mule grazed round and round in a circle to save the trouble of walking, and one lank man, whose clothes were the color of the claybank mule, leaned against a tree and let time roll by.

"How do you do?" said one of the Westerners.

"Pleasant country."

The native shifted his quid and grunted.

"Lived here all your life?"

The native spat pensively in the dust. "Not yit," he said languidly.

Miss L. Tracey is the guest of Miss Gertie Mc Fadden, 482 Elm street. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tromblay of North Bay, who are on their wedding tour, are also spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. McFadden.

True Bills Brought In In Three Criminal Cases

The grand jury yesterday brought in true bills against George Martin, who is charged with perjury.

Albert Craig and Harry Chapman, charged with assault and doing bodily harm to the assistant fire chief.

Charles Bowen, charged with seduction and breach of promise of marriage.

These cases will be gone on with as soon as possible, and hurried through as his honor has another court this week.

Mr. Richard McCallum

A well known citizen of Stirling, Ont., cured of Chronic Catarrh and irritable throat by Catarrhozone.

A remarkable cure, exciting great interest in Stirling, which, if possible, adds to the popularity of Catarrhozone as a cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, and Throat Trouble.

Catarrh is one of the most disagreeable and at the same time hardest to cure diseases. This has been Mr. McCallum's experience:

"For many years," he writes, "I have suffered from Catarrh, and continually hawked and coughed, so that my throat was always in an inflamed irritable condition.

"Doctor's medicine did not help me in the least, and all other remedies I used were quite useless. In one case it was time wasted in snuffing powder up the nose; in another using a Catarrh ointment, and so on. Not one of them was the least bit of good.

"I heard Catarrhozone favorably spoken of and tried a sample, and it really benefitted me more in a few hours than years of treatment with doctors.

"Receiving such immense benefit from the sample size, I got the complete outfit, large Hard Rubber Inhaler, etc., and but a few weeks of its use completely cured me of Catarrh and throat trouble.

"I recommend Catarrhozone as the most satisfactory Catarrh remedy on the market. Every word said about it is true.

(Signed) "Richard McCallum."

Now perhaps you need a remedy like Catarrhozone. It is the only treatment that is applied locally as well as constitutionally. The Inhaler clears the air passages, stops hawking and spitting, and purifies the breath.

The Catarrhozone Tablets which are used in conjunction with Catarrhozone Inhaler, drive all the poisons from the blood and build up the system to a healthy, vigorous condition.

The complete outfit costs $1 at all druggists; trial size 25c., by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont. Buy Catarrhozone to-day.

WEDNESDAY JUNE 23 1909

GOOD BUSINESS.

In neatly bound form the Department of the Interior has published a 'resource map' of Canada which provides a valuable contribution to the fund of information the government has issued concerning Canada. The feature of the new map is the indication, by means of red type, of the natural resources in each province and their location. Thus the whole territory comprised by the eastern provinces is marked as suitable for dairying and mixed farming; the northern and central portion of New Brunswick is marked "lumber," and the coal and iron deposits are similarly indicated as well as the fishery resources along our coasts. In addition to the map the new publication contains a mass of statistical information regarding the various Canadian provinces, their products, areas, wealth, population, trade, etc. Comprehensive in scope, voluminous in detail and concise in presentation, the new book should prove of great value to intending capitalists.

CANADA HAS DISCOVERED HERSELF.

It is only within the past fifteen years that Canada has discovered herself — that is, has realized her possibilities and seen what the future held for her. It is not surprising then that good John Bull only recently discovered this country, and it is only within the past dozen years that Uncle Sam has wakened to the fact that we are "some." Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, has been recently talking about Canada and what he has said is good enough to repeat. The Buffalo Courier thus repeats Senator McCumber's remarks:

"The agricultural possibilities of Canada were under discussion in Washington the other day, and Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, who has travelled extensively through the Canadian Northwest, indicated upon a large map some surprising facts. He drew a line on the east side of North Dakota parallel with Red River of the north, and continued it down to the Gulf of Mexico on the south, and north to the Arctic Ocean.

"He asserted that west of that line lies nearly two-thirds of the whole territory of the United States, and that west of that line in Canada are more acres which will produce grain and cereals of all kinds than can possibly be found in the United States west of the line. He said that the Canadian tract thus indicated is about 1,200 miles by 800 miles, interspersed with lakes, and small bodies of timber, and nearly every acre of which outside of the small mountainous portion is capable of producing all kinds of cereals, except corn, and in some parts corn can be raised.

"Senator McCumber is quite positive that this Canadian region has a better rainfall than has the corn and is strongly convinced that in parties.

responding region of the United States than twenty years it will be the "wheat granary of the world."

"Representing a State bordering on this promising territory, Senator McCumber may have information justifying his rosy prediction; but he himself says that at present only 8,000,000 of the 120,000,000 acres are at present under cultivation. The future development must be very rapid in order to produce the granary of the world.

"Probably this development will be rapid because the region in question is traversed by the great Canadian transcontinental lines, on both sides of which spurs are run out for hundreds of miles. The Canadian Pacific, the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern are all there."

A GOOD CROP ASSURED.

So far as the crop outlook foreshadows the continuance of good times or the approach of bad ones, it is safe to say that Canada is not in immediate danger of an industrial set-back. In Ontario, though the continuous rains have done much harm, this is certain to be a more than average year for the farmer, provided there is a continuance of the fine weather of the last few days. In Manitoba and the North-West there has never been anything like the outlook for a tremendous yield of grain that is reported from all points this season. In this connection the Manitoba "Free Press" has issued a special illustrated crop supplement which is good reading for any Canadian. The great difficulty will be to handle and save such an enormous amount of grain as now covers the great wheat yield of Manitoba and the territories in 1901 was approximately 63,176,000 bushels. This year the Territorial Government estimates a crop of fourteen and a half million bushels in its jurisdiction and the "Free Press" which is more conservative in its figures, estimates thirteen millions as the yield of the Territories, against 12,673,000 bushels last year. As for Manitoba, there are about thirty thousand more acres under wheat this year than last, and as the conditions have so far been equally favorable there ought to be a considerable larger thresh than in 1901, and consequently a greater surplus for export. Oats, barley and flax are also important crops in the West, though wheat is king. Altogether the outlook is a pleasing one and flattering to the pride of Canadians in the potentialities of the great heritage which is theirs.

NAVAL NEEDS.

Mr. Arthur Lee, M. P., speaking recently in Glasgow, with regard to naval needs, said that at no time had he felt more profound concern and alarm about the state of the national defences than at the present moment. So deeply did he feel it that he had dropped all other work in order to put the facts fully before his countrymen.

Germany had conceived naval ambition, which, if realized, would threaten the very existence of the Empire. In 1911 Great Britain would have only one Dreadnought more than Germany—these were government figures—that was to say, two years hence Germany would be running neck and neck with John Bull. PIn addition, Austria, the closest allay of Germany was preparing to lay down four Dreadnoughts.

"By 1912 we should have to detach six ships to watch four Austrians, leaving us with only fourteen to the seventeenth of Germany in the North Sea. One thing was certain; war would only be forced upon us when we were weak enough to lose. A strong navy was provocative of peace.

"What ought we to do? Build sufficiently to restore the two-power stanard? We must build in the course of this year at least eight Dreadnoughts, and he was afraid as many in the year which is to come. It was quite possible to carry out such a gigantic program. We could do it, and we had got to. He did not wish to enter into the financial question, except to say that if need were we must do as other countries did—raise a loan.

"When he was asked "What about cost?" he replied, "What about the cost of war? What would be the the cost of an indemnity if we were beaten? France had to pay Germany $1,000,000,000. We should not in the event of defeat get off with $1,000,000,000. When we did that sum would build 120 Dreadnoughts."

Mr. Lee might have added that in addition to the billion dollars France had to cede Alsace and the largest part of Lorraine, and that German garrisons remained on French soil until all the money was collected.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW ST. VICTORIA, B. C.

Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsina Sound, Vancouver Island.

Asset.

The company have acquired 15,000 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 25,000 inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 16,000 to 18,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week. We are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $4.000 per ton. At present news is selling in British Columbia at $60.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $30,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden ,Germany ,Western United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $5.00 to $6.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia ,on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $25.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $5.00 to $9.00 per cord. in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $8.00 to $25.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possibl. with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States,having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the preferred stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium; remember the time to buy stock in any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture?

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent. annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $20.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $15.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $25.00 per ton on wrapping and $15.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $5.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1908 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $351,693. The Kellogg-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,252,286. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 30th, 1907, Bulletin 69, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 20 2-3 per cent, of the value of goods over all expenses, of 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International PaPer Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,636,918.

Under date of February 15th, 1909, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper on figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $37.50 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent. on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent, upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 10 per cent. more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volume of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 25 square miles, which ensures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

A GOOD LOCAL AGENT WANTED.

Startling Facts About Falling Birth Rate

London, June 22,—Prof. Kark Pearson caused something of a sensation by declaring at University College that factory legislation was responsible for the falling birth rate.

We had limited the employment of women and children, and sought thereby to improve their conditions of life anh health. Their environment might be better in this respect, but their legislators never once asked what the effect would be on parentage. As an instance he took the low birth rate at Bradford. On the average every child-bearing woman in that town had only one child in ten years as against one in five, sixty years ago.

What was the reason of the change? His medical friends said it was due to the decreased economic value of the child which followed on factory legislation. Before this it was a pecuniary asset at a very early age. It contributed to the family maintenance from the time when it was six years of age, and the economic possibility of the home was in a certain sense measured by the number of children in a family.

That a child should be looked upon as an economic asset shocked many of them, as it shocked Lord Shaftesbury, but its condition as a pecuniary asset was not so bad as it appeared at first sight. It had to be kept in health, because it ceased to have a monetary value if it broke down.

A Bradford doctor had assured him that before the Factory Act more care was taken of children than was the case to-day. The mistake of most legislation was that it was carried by appeals to sentiment. Parliament had placed restrictions upon the employment of women when near child-birth, but they did not regard the matter from ab economic standpoint, and did not realize that in their well-meant action they had taken a great step towards discouraging motherhood. Factory legislation swept away the possibility of a child having any economic value until it reached an age when it was near the time when it would desire to spend its earnings on itself in its own way.

The father was handicapped in the struggle for existence as against the childless man, and the mother was handicapped, parentage being placed at a disadvantage in the battle of life. The lecturer then illustrated by diagrams the falling birth rates in such towns of Huddersfield, York, Bolton, Leeds, and Manchester, and urged the necessity for a proper study of eungenics of a similar return being made from every part of the kingdom. In fifteen years' time unless some very serious change took place, they would be in precisely the same position as they were in France.

Church Union

By the action of the Presbyterian General Assembly, the question of union with the Methodist and Congregational church is sent to the people for consideration. Presbyterian policy is essentially democratic, and the question of union must be decided by the people, the humblest church member having a voice and vote. For more than a year the matter will remain in abeyance so far as the Presbyterians are concerned. The action of the General Conference of the Methodist Church, which does not meet till September of next year, will be awaited. It will then be time for the congregations and presbyteries throughout the country to discuss the question and take action.

Temperal, as well as spiritual interests, will affect the result—perhaps temporal more than spiritual interests. The Anglican Bishop of Ontario opposes church union for the reason that the movements spring from "wordly" considerations. But what the good bishop calls "wordly" considerations are considerations of expediency in the government of the churches, particularly in the matter of missions. It is sought to put a stop to needless rivalry among the denominations—a rivalry which is wasteful of energy and money. These are remporal, perhaps even "wordly" considerations; and yet the spiritual interests of the church may be involved in them.

Is Municipal Ownership a Failure in Canada

Montreal, June 22.—Municipal socialism was condemned at an informal meeting of financial men in the Board of Trade. It was said that municipal ownership in this country had been a complete failure, and the action of certain municipalities had the effect of driving Canadian capital to Mexico and other places.

Some of those present, however, expressed themselves as being in favor of the government ownership of all public utilities. It was contended that the more public utility franchises, under the direct control of the people, the less watered stocks, exorbitant charges and enormous dividends. Besides, it was argued, that municipal ownership would have a tendancy to drive out the franchise grabbers who secure valuable franchises without the intention of investing a single dollar, hold them for a while and then sell them at a profit of hundreds of thousands of dollars without even turning a sod or laying a rail.

Road Contracts

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned will be received up to 12 o'clock noon on FRIDAY, JULY 2nd. 1909, for chopping, clearing, stumping, and grubbing a way on road from THE MONTREAL RIVER AT SMYTHE TO GOWGANDA, following the line blazed by Mr. C. H. Fullerton, C. E., for the purpose of marking on the ground the location of said road. The length of the road will be about 27 miles.

The work of chopping, clearing, stumping and grubbing to include the cutting of all timber, brush etc. on the roadway to a width of 50 feet and removing all stumps, brush, timber, etc., from the central 26 feet, cutting, trimming, and neatly piling all the logs, brush and stumps on the roadside, outside of the central 30 feet, and burning same.

The work to be commenced immediately after the awarding of the contract and to be continued to the satisfaction of the engineer in charge of the work and completed by the 1st. of October, 1909.

Tenders shall be submitted on the blank forms to be obtained from any of the undermentioned.

The tenders to be at a rate per lineal mile of road. A guarantee company's bond approved by the Department will be required for the due fulfillment of the contract.

A marked cheque for five per cent. of the total amount of the contract must accompany each tender.

Plans and specifications of the work to be done may be seen at this Department, or at the office of Mr. C. H. H. Fullerton, C. E., New Liskeard, at the office of Alberts Skill, Mining Recorder at Smythe, or Harry Sheppard, Mining Recorder at Gowganda, or George T. Smith, Mining Recorder at Haileybury, or T. A. McArthur, Mining Recorder at Cobalt.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

Contest in Interest of Every Advertiser

Many feel surprised that The Times is able to offer such a list of handsome and expensive prizes to the public. This is easily explained. A newspaper spends a great deal of time and money each year in collecting and renewing its subscriptions. Experience has shown that the use of special prizes, and the employment of experts to do this work, is a wise investment from a business standpoint. We simply contract with an expert who knows the management of these things as an engineer knows his engine. We have a special office in The Times building in which to conduct the contest and a large force of assistants will conduct the work, thus assuring the contestants every consideration and assistance compatible with perfect impartiality.

As many of our readers know, the advertiser, who pays three times as much toward the expense of a newspaper as does the reader, needs large circulations to bring him customers. So newspapers can afford to give these inducements from time to time for the benefit of their subscribers. The Peterborough Times, Daily and Weekly, now goes into thousands of homes. We expect to add many thousands to that before this contest ends.

The prizes are well worth seeing and will be exhibited in prominent places. The Times does not simply give them away, for we get much in return one of our best assets being the satisfaction of our subscribers, who are all pleased with this chance either winning a most desirable prize for themselves, or of helping a favorite candidate to do so. You can win the prize without making any outlay, by simply asking your friends to subscribe to The Times and give the votes thus won to you.

Get Well First

Don't risk even a penny—until health first returns.

And I mean just exactly that. I am the one physician who says to the sick "I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help."

And for 30 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere. Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unwarranted and untried medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative. When the stomach nerves, or the Heart or Kidney nerves fail, those sick ones know how quickly Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they position by take no money risk whatever. They know that when health fails to return, Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay for the test. And I say that a full 30 day treatment is freely granted. But write me first for an order. This will save delay and disappointment. All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line at once for I have appointed an honest and responsible druggist in almost every community to loan my remedies on the conditions in the above. Tell me in which book you need. The information below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides you are perfectly free to consult me first at your own home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best of all, for sometimes a personal letter is worth your dimple to write now, while you have it fresh in mind, for sooncrrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 33, Racine, Wis.

Equine Gold Mine for $100.

Fillings in Teeth of Horse Bought for That Sum Worth $150.

Waterbury, Conn., June 22.—There is enough gold in the filled teeth of a peddler's horse here, a veterinarian says, to net the owner $150. The find recalls the fact that the owner bid in the horse for $100 at an auction near the Bull's Head in New York six years ago. The animal had been the property of a prominent New York doctor, who was at one time on the staff of a medical college. The condition of the teeth was not noticed until Saturday night, when the horse was killed in a collision with an automobile, in which were Newark, Trenton and Brooklyn people. The owner was so attached to the animal that he had the head saved for mounting; and the finding of the gold was a surprise.

Cutting Down Trees on Island.

For many years the people of Lakefield have been credited with true artistic taste and judgment in keeping the islands in Katchawanooka Lake in a state of nature covered with a a luxuriant growth of trees. A beautiful feature in the lake is the island immediately opposite the wharf. The village council has undertaken to provide men with axes with which they are slashing down trees and rudely trimming up the island that they may afford standing ground for people who on July 1st may watch aquatic sports Once cut, the trees have lost forever their original beauty and a pleasing feature in the landscape has passed away. This act of vandalism has left a painful impression on the tourist, and the credit given Lakefield for religiously preserving nature's own beauty is taken away

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop who first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' taste will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

OBITUARY

MRS. ARTHUR CARTWRIGHT.

The death occurred yesterday morning of Ada M. Cartwright, wife of Mr. Arthur Cartwright at her late residence, lot 2, in the 10 concession of North Monaghan. The late Mrs. Cartwright was born in Bedfordshire, England, and had been married twice. She was 48 years of age, and had been sick for about nine months. Besides her husband, three children survive her. They are Charles L. Hall and Cyril Donald Cartwright.

The funeral will take place from the family residence on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock to the Little Lake cemetery.

WILLIAM GRAHAM.

A very sad death occurred Monday, June 21st, of Mr. William Graham, only son of Mr. Samuel Graham, of the 12th line of Cavan. The deceased had been a sufferer since last December with throat trouble but death was not expected, as he was confined to his bed only since last Friday. Besides his father and mother, he leaves two sisters, Mrs. J. Widdis, Emily, and Miss Nettie, at home, to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate brother and son. The deceased was well and favorably known throughout Cavan, and was a consistent member of Ebenezer Methodist church, where he attended service and Sunday school all his life. He was 28 years of age, and all his friends unite in extending their deepest sympathy to the bereaved family. The funeral will take place on Wednesday, June 23rd, 1909, at 2 o'clock, from his late residence, 12th line, Cavan.

MRS. JOHN W. KINDRED.

The death occurred yesterday morning of Mrs. John W. Kindred at the residence of her father, Mr. Jno. Breckenridge in Asphodel. The deceased, who was 36 years of age had been ailing for about nine months. Besides her husband, three children Grace, Charles and Jean, are left to mourn her loss.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, lot 7, in the 12th concession of Otonabee, on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will take place in Little Lake cemetery.

Wedding Bells

McFARLANE—ROLPH.

The marriage took place at Pomona, California, on Wednesday, the second of June, of Miss Estelle Monica Rolph, to Mr. John Ernest McFarlane of Pottersville, Cal., and son of Mr. and Mrs. A. McFarlane, formerly of Peterborough. Many friends in this city will join in extending him congratulations and best wishes for the future

LOCKINGTON—WESLEY.

A very quiet wedding took place yesterday at St. John's church at 2.30 o'clock, when Miss Lily Maude, daughter of Mrs. E. G. Wesley, 380 Otewart street, became the wife of Mr. Harry Lockington, son of Mr. John Lockington of Nassau. On account of recent bereavement in the bride's family only the immediate friends were present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. O. Davidson, and there were no attendants.

WHITE—DRUMMOND

A pretty house wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. Alexandesia Drummond, 759 George street, this afternoon, when her only daughter, Catherine Isabella, became the wife of Mr. John White, a prominent business man of Midland.

The ceremony was performed by The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert Pogue, pastor of St. Paul's church at 2 o'clock in the presence of over thirty guests. The rooms had been prettily decorated for the occasion with palms, marguerites and peonies and with the dainty gowns of the guests, presented a very pretty picture. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Duncan Drummond, wore a handsome gown of cream duchess satin, en train, and carried a bouquet of white bride roses and lily of the valley. She also wore the conventional veil with a wreath of lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mary McPherson of St. Thomas, was daintily gowned in pale mauve silk, and carried a bouquet of marguerites and maiden hair fern. The groom was assisted by Mr. Alexander of Midland. Before the bridal party entered the room Miss Margaret McGregor of St. Thomas, played the wedding march, and later sang, "O Fair O Sweet, O Holy." Mrs. Drummond, mother of the bride, wore a handsome dress of black voile over silk. Mr. and Mrs. White left on the C.P.R. for Toronto, where they will take the steamer for a trip down the St. Lawrence.

NEW METER.

In Water Works Superintendent Office.

In order to enable the officials to tell exactly what happens to the pressure in the water mains, and how it fluctuates, a new meter has been installed in Supt. Henderson's office on Hunter street, that is a marvel. It is like a barometer in appearance or ordinary steam guage The face is a removable paper disc, with the pressure in figures running at regular intervals along a spoke radiating from the center or hub. This disc revolves by clockwork, and at just the same rate as the hands of an ordinary time-piece, so that the exact moment of all variations is known. The variations are traced automatically upon the face of the paper disc by a little instrument that looks like a rake or safety razor, fes. with red ink. Every fluctuation of pressure just as in the case of a temperature chart, is traced in red ink, and by referring to the pressure figures it can be seen where the pressure has remained or gone to.

A new disc is put on every day, and the old one filed for reference. The railways, it is seen, cause no disturbance of pressure, as they are fed from tanks which are filled in turn, so as to entail no sudden fall of pressure. The great variation, however, is from 6 to 10 o'clock a.m., when eight watering carts are out, and these taking 700 to 800 gallons apiece cause a big variation.

To Stony Lake.

A touring automobile party consisting of Messrs. J. R. Webber, A. Wood, J. L. Edmunds, and F. J. White, all of Hartford, Conn., was in the city yesterday, on its way to the back lakes. The party is on a pleasure trip, and will visit several of the Canadian pleasure resorts before returning. This is the second season the gentlemen mentioned have enjoyed a lengthy summer trip, and last year they went from Hartford to Florida, and also visited Atlantic City, and other watering places. The party had breakfast there, and left about 10.30 for Young's Point. When they return they intend to pay a visit to Rice Lake resorts, and will then spend a couple of days at Cobourg.

PEARY HAS REACHED POLE!

Washington Friends of Commander Think He has Succeeded.

Washington, June 22.—Friends in this city of Commander Robert Edwin Peary, U. S. N., the explorer, who left the United States last July for the frozen North, say they believe Peary by this time has reached the goal of his ambition and has successfully planted the Stars and Stripes at the North Pole.

No news has been received from Peary since he left Etah, North Greenland, August 17, 1908, in the Roosevelt. If he has been successful in attaining this much sought goal, the news of his discovery will not reach a point of telegraphic communication until August or September next. If he has been unsuccessful, he will remain in the Far North and make another endeavor next year

MAKING GLASS COFFINS.

Texas Inventor Provides Vacuum as a Last Resting Place.

Baltimore, June 22.—A Baltimore manufacturer has just completed the first glass coffin ever made, it is said. Dr. H. G. Becker, of Texas, the inventor, is here directing the casting of the coffins. They are warranted to be as lasting as if made of stone.

After the body is placed in the coffin the end is attached and hermetically sealed. The closing of the "breach" of the coffin opens a vial of chemicals which take gaseous form and act as an extra preserving agent. An air pump is then attached to an opening left for the purpose in the coffin, a vacuum is established and the aperture is then sealed.

INVADE NEW YORK.

Portland, Ore., June 1.—Rear Admiral Uriel Sebree, commander of the Pacific fleet, who arrived here last night, is in favor of a large navy.

"We want ships," said the Admiral. "We want more of them. We ought to be building three or four Dreadnoughts every year. I don't say we should lay down ten Dreadnoughts at once, but we should see that some are started every year. I don't think that a greater fleet is so particularly necessary on the Pacific Coast. We are not going to have war with the Japanese—at least, not the kind you mean. But almost any foreign country could land an army in New York, San Francisco or Seattle."

GYPSIES MOVED.

From Jail Yard to Exhibition Grounds Yesterday.

The women and children, with the horses and wagons were moved from the county jail yards to the Exhibition Grounds yesterday afternoon. The jail yard was far too small for such a large contingent. During the heat of the day it was almost suffocating and there was danger of disease breaking out. On the Exhibition Grounds the tribe will have far more liberty and air!

The caravan going down Water and George streets, created quite a lot of interest among the citizens, and last night a big crowd went down to see them. After supper a half dozen women came up town, and were followed about from store to store by a crowd of men and soldiers. So far, however, no reports of loss or damage to property has been reported.

WERE AT OMEMEE.

Omemee, Ont., June 21.—The public are warned to be on the lookout for a band of gypsies now in the vicinity of Peterborough, who are traveling through the country apparently without any sense of law of decency They are simply a band of thieving vagrants, impertinent, and lawless They do not hesitate to enter houses without ceremony, taking anything they can lay their hands on.

When passing through Omemee they plundered gardens, picked pockets, and stole articles out of the stores.

If there is no public state or public officers to deal with such desperadoes it is high time that steps be taken to lay a stern hand upon them and compel them either to leave the country or earn their living in some honest way.

MARRIED.

WHITE — DRUMMOND — At Peterborough on Tuesday, June 22nd, by the Rev. Robert Pogue, pastor of St. Paul's church, Catharine Isabella, only daughter of Mrs. Alexander Drummond, 759 George St., to Mr. John White of Midland. a

OLD COMMON SENSE.

Change Food When You Feel Out of Sorts.

"A great deal depends upon yourself and the kind of food you eat," the wise old doctor said to a man who came to him sick with stomach trouble and sick headache once or twice a week, and who had been taking pills and different medicines for three or four years.

He was induced to stop eating any sort of fried food or meat for breakfast, and was put on Grape-Nut and cream, leaving off all medicines.

In a few days he began to get better, and now he has entirely recovered and writes that he is in better health than he had been before in twenty years. This man is 58 years old and says he feels "like a new man all the time."

MILLION MILES A MINUTE.

Motor Will Make Interplanetary Travel Possible, It Is Said.

Paterson, N. J., June 22.—Robert W. Barker has developed a motor working on the principle of centrifugal force which, he believes, will in time solve the problem of interplanetary communication. Mr. Barker says that his motor will project a solid body through the air without the aid of propellers or wings and that it will completely revolutionize land and sea travel. He has been working on the problem for ten years, backed by local capitalists, who, he says, have just organized the Barker Company, with a capital stock of $500,000.

"Do not be surprised," the inventor said to-day, "if you find me travelling a few months from now from New York to Chicago in an hour and a half, but I predict the time will come when, with my motor, we will be able to take "joy rides" to Mars. This may be regarded as a dream, but I am certain that my motor points the way for interplanetary communication. I venture to predict that we will be able to travel at the rate of a million miles a minute.

"My motor can be placed in a dirigible balloon or airship, and it will eventually take the place of propellers on ferryboats and ocean steamships."

TONS OF GOLD BY MAIL.

Seattle, June 22.—The steamer Jefferson arrived from Alaska to-day with the largest single shipment of gold ever received from the North. She had on board six and one-half tons of gold, valued at $3,200,000. This vast amount of treasure came by registered mail, with the exception of $400,000, which came by express. It was transferred to the postoffice in a dozen mail wagons, whence it will be delivered to United States mints.

This large first shipment indicates that the Alaska camps will make a larger clean-up this season than was expected. The dumps on all Tanana creeks are large and rich, and the total output there is estimated at $15,000,000.

THE KING TO REVIEW FLEET.

Emperor of Russia Expected to Be Present at Review Off Cowes.

London, June 23.—It is announced that at the close of the manoeuvres the King will review the fleet at Cowes on July 31, and his majesty especially desires the members of both houses of Parliament to witness the review, which will be the most imposing pageant ever seen in British waters.

The date selected coincides with the projected visit of the Emperor of Russia to France and England. Therefore some Russian men-of-war are likely to be in the vicinity, and undoubtedly the Emperor will be a spectator.

Contestants will Get Benefit of Increase for a Short Time

Means Get Busy Now, for a Subscription Between Now and July 3rd will go Further Than One Secured at Any Other Time During the Contest

The announcement of an increased scale of votes in Monday's paper has brought joy to the hearts of many a candidate in the Times' great prize contest. All are bent on making the most of this opportunity which is the very best of the whole contest. At no other time will it be possible to secure as many votes on subscriptions as during this period.

WHAT THE CANDIDATES SHOULD DO.

The utmost diligence should be used by every candidate to get all the subscriptions possible within the next week. These are your harvest days, and you should lay up a fine reserve of votes to be used in the end.

It is not a good plan to hold back all you have. Make a good showing on the list before you begin to lay aside your votes. The best rule in a contest is pretty much the same as in dressing, which of course every young lady understands. While it is advisable to make always an attractive appearance, it is bad taste to be so noticeable that every one says, "Just look! I bet she puts every cent on her back." In the same way you want to appear well among the candidates so that your friends may see that you are working, and not likely to fall behind in the race, but there is no manner of use in putting everything you have to the fore just to create a sensation, and have nothing to fall back upon when you may need it badly.

CASH PROMISES NOW.

No doubt every promise made you by friends earlier in the contest will be fulfilled now, as you can explain, that at no time during the contest will you derive so much benefit from what your friends can do for you. Show them how much they can help you right now and they will try their best to give you subscription during the next week.

NEW CADIDATES.

New candidates can enter the contest now—today and with a few hours work secure enough votes to place their names among the leaders. You stand an excellent chance of winning a prize if you enter now, as there is plenty of room, and subscriptions will come easy during the "bargain days."

I BELIEVE IN YOURSELF.

A great thing for candidates to cultivate is self confidence. There is no reason for you to be afraid of any one. Remember that in this contest no one has any way of telling what another rese ve force may be, and the very person whom you dread is probably just as much scared as you are, for fear that you may have such a pile of votes back of you that you will take the lead any time you get ready to do so.

THE HARE AND THE TORTOISE.

Do you remember the fable you were taught in school of the Hare and the Tortoise? These two agreed to run a race, and naturally all the bets were laid in favor of the nimble Hare. Some even derided the Tortoise, and told him practically that they liked his nerve in putting himself against the swifter creatures. But the Tortoise just kept up muttering to himself his favorite motto, "Slow but Sure. Slow but Sure."

When they set out it was but a few minutes before the hare was out of sight and the patient turtle was laboring far in the rear.

When Mr. Lightfoot saw that there was no one in sight he laughed to himself, and decided he would stop at the first wayside house for lunch. This road house was called Turnip Top Inn and the Hare at a heavy luncheon, and then took up the course again, but he did not feel so light now, and presently with a yawn he lay down for "forty winks." Waking much refreshed he loped easily along until he came in sight of the goal, when what was his astonishment to see the plodding Turtoise at the same steady gait at which he had set out, within a few inches of the line.

A series of mad leaps brought the Hare in a trice to the judge's stand, but the race had already been won by the Tortoise.

THE MORAL.

The moral is plain. Keep going! Never let a day pass without adding something to your store. It will not be giving yourself a fair chance if you do not make the most of each moment of time, especially during the season of largely increased ratio of votes.

A steady pace is sure to bring you to the fore and you will have no need to fear the swiftest opponent if you keep right on going until you reach the goal.

SUBSCRIBER S TAKE NOTICE.

Now is the time to subscribe and secure votes for your favorite candidate, you are able to help them more than ever now, and can turn over many votes for them. They will be needed. The race is just fairly on, and all your help is wanted to enable your favorite to win.

Votes given on both old and new subscriptions. Work and win. Do it now.

Give Decent Burial to Bodies of the Poor

Lindsay, June 21.—That the corpse of the inmates of the House of Refuge here, who have died in that institution, are not being sent to Toronto was the compliant of the Chief Inspector of Anatory, of Toronto, embodied in a letter to Mr. R. Nugent, the local inspector of anatomy. That every inmate may obtain a Christian burial, and not be the subject for a dissecting table, is the desire of the House of Refuge Committee of the County Council.

The Morning Times to be Greatly Improved

Arrangements are approaching completion whereby the Times will be enlarged and greatly improved. The paper has heretofore been four pages and it is our purpose to increase this to eight pages, double its present size. In order to accomplish this we have recently put in a new Monoline typesetting machine manufactured by the Mergenthaler Co., of New York. This machine is now in operation in our composing room and will be run night and day supplementary to our other two type setting machines. The new machine is one of the latest productions in the way of mechanical composition. A second machine of the same class will also be installed in a short time, making our equipment then equal to almost any office of the larger cities.

It will be satisfactory to those engaged in business and commercial pursuits as well as the general public to learn that we have completed arrangements with C. P. R. telegraph Co., for a midnight service, this giving them practically the same news as supplied by the Toronto Morning papers.

It will also be pleasing to the many friends and patrons of the Times to learn that the Adams Contest Co., are meeting with very great success, with the work of boosting the circulation of this paper. Already the subscription list has swelled materially and the contest is yet practically only in its infancy.

The Times extends a hearty invitation to all who care to do so to call and inspect the plant and also to see the beautiful prizes offered to the candidates in the big contest. The touring car and the piano may be seen at this office while the many other prizes are on exhibition in the store windows of Messrs. W. A. Sanderson, & Co., D. Belleghem, McPherson Co., and A. W. Creasman & Co., and the Nelson Music Co., Contestants should make a note of the fact that the improvements, above referred to in order to assist them in their efforts to secure subscriptions.

Firemen's Case Today, The Jury was Selected, Other Cases Finished

Albert Craig and Fred Chapman, the prisoners in the case of assault upon George Grange, the deputy fire chief, were called before the bench yesterday afternoon to stand trial. The prisoners were represented by Mr. F. D. Kerr while Mr. R. E. Wood, K.C., conducted the prosecution. This case resulted from a drunken brawl last fall when the two prisoners it is charged went to the fire hall and made an assault upon George Grange. The particulars of the case are well known to the public. At the preliminary hearing before Magistrate Dumble they pleaded not guilty and were committed for trial.

The jury was empanelled and the clerk read the indictmen. to the jurors. It was decided that Mr. Wood should address the jury, and the case be adjourned until the morning. Mr. Kerr, however, objected, and asked that the explanation of the case by the crown should be left over until this morning also. This was consented to by the crown and the court adjourned.

OTHER CASES.

The seduction and breach of promise case of the King vs. Bowen, was heard yesterday by a jury. The crown put in no evidence and the jury brought in a verdict of not guilty. Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the defendant and Mr. R. E. Wood acted for the crown.

DISMISSED WITH COSTS.

The action of Houston vs. the Saskatchewan Land Co., was heard yesterday afternoon and was dismissed with costs. This was a civic action taken for the purpose of collecting compensation for services rendered as secretary treasurer. Mr. D. W. Dumble appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. S. T. Medd for the Land Company.

Grand Concert Marked Closing of Conservatory

The last of the series of recitals at the conservatory of music marking the closing exercises of the fifth year was given last night to a large house. The program opened with Mendelsohns War March of the Priests of Athalia, played by the conservatory orchestra of thirty five performers. It received a very hearty and enthusiastic enchore. No. 2. was Song of the Shirt by Thomas Hood, given by Miss Winnifred Parker of the Toronto Model School of Music, and she made a decided hit with the audience at once and had to respond to a tripple recall.

Next was Handel Where'er You Walk, by A. Ross Love of Toronto, tenor. He had to respond to an enchore and became a general favorite with the audience. He is the possessor of a good lergie tenor voice, and sings with much expression.

No. 4 was a grand selection of the orchestra from Faust by Gounod.

Miss Winnifred Parker gave Why She Fainted by Owen Smily.

Duo for two pianos, and hands Von bubber's overture to his opera Du Freischutz, beautifully played by Mrs. J. E. Hodgeson, Misses Starke Hawkey and McGill. A Sleeping Walking Scene from MeBeth by Shakespeare was given by Miss Parker. She was recalled three times for enchores.

Tenor solo by Mr Love. "Song of Sunshine" by Buning and received two recalls.

The American Patrol, a characteristic number, descriptive of a passing regiment. This was given by the orchestra and was so well received that it was necessary to render it a second time.

The accompanist was Miss Mabel McCaw who played with her usual sympathetic manner.

BROKE HIS WRIST.

Div. Supt. of C.P.R. Broke His Wrist at Norwood

Divisional Superintendent of the C. P. R. Mr. Harshaw, met with an unfortunate accident at Norwood yesterday afternoon. He was walking on the track when he fell and fractured his wrist. He was brought to Peterborough and Dr. Gray dressed the wounded member.

MONEY NO OBJECT

When People are Seeking Health or RELIEF from any DISEASE the Price Never Counts.

It is a fact that not less than a million is spent every year by people seeking a satisfactory cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably the best and most highly recommended preparation is Catarrhozone which treats the local symptoms most effectually by means of medicated air supplied through a convenient hard rubber inhaler. The poisons in the blood are driven off by Ferrozone Tablets, which are taken after each meal. They promote appetite, aid digestion, and make the blood rich and pure, so that it will nourish all parts of the body.

This combined local and constitutional treatment in catarrhal diseases has met with wonderful success and can be relied upon to cure every time. The inhaler stops sneezing, coughing, dropping in the throat, and brings quick relief and cure to all the disagreeable symptoms of catarrh.

The following testimonials from well-known Canadians furnish abundant proof what Catarrhozone accomplishes in stubborn cases.

Mrs. James Tweedie, of Jay Bridge, says: "For years my daughter doctored unsuccessfully for Catarrh. She had stoppage in the throat, hawkings, nausea, and could not sleep at night. The first day's use of Catarrhozone benefitted and ultimately cured my daughter so that Catarrh has never returned. I can recommend Catarrhozone as a grand remedy for Catarrh."

Thousands of strong letters could be given like the above if necessary, but all this is required to prove the merit of Catarrhozone is a trial. It is sure as death to cure and if it fails your money will be refunded. Catarrhozone cured lots of cases worse than yours and can do it again.

THE IRISH QUESTION.

Political restlessness and social lawlessness seem not to have ceased in Ireland, an integral part of the United Kingdom, says Goldwin Smith. The Imperial Government, threatened by the Irish representation in Parliament shrinks from effective application of the law. Our Canadian Parliament, to propitiate the Irish element here, has more than once voted sympathy with Home Rule, that is with the movement for the disruption of the United Kingdom. When an Irish agitator came here avowedly with the intention of organizing a hostile demonstration against the Governor-General, small was the number of the Canadian politicians who came forward on the loyal side. Yet we are bidden to aim at the consolidation of an Emoire, the members of which, besides differing greatly in their circumstances and tendancies, are scattered over the whole globe.

MILITIARYISM SUPREME.

Golwin Smith, in the Farmer's Sun, says that there seems to be rather a tendency on the part of the churches to divert doctrinal misgiving and disagreement into missionary enterprise, of which a grand extension is on foot. May not such a policy be disappointing? Where there is disquiet, such as is daily showing itself here, may not disagreement in our Churches extend to the missions and lead to conflict or deadlock? Nor is missionary enterprise what it was in early days, when the heathen religions were gross, and the chief of a tribe, if he could be converted, drew the tribe after him. The total number of native Christians in India, it seems is barely three millions, two-thirds of whom are in Madras and Travancore Nor do we hear of the conversion of rulers who might draw their subjects after them. Indeed, conversion in India seems to have neem very much confined to humbler classes and castes.

Are the two nations then, England and Germany, helplessly committed to a burdensome and perilous struggle which may at any time bring on war? So queries a friendly paper, the New York Times. It is too likely that they are, unless reason and justice can get the better of militarism and of its confederate, protectionism, of which at present there is not much sign. The tendency of the press on both sides appears to be inflammatory. Journalism has, of course, vastly improved within the last half century in literary ability and news. But whereas a couple of generations back its chiefs felt something like the responsibility of statesmanship, the ruling motive now is too plainly circulation, with sensation as its source.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. Add it is indeed easy to prove. A sample five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

BIBLE TRAINING IN THE SCHOOLS.

At least one church congress has asked that Bible lessons be made an optional subject in the Public Schools for High School entrance standing, says the Farmer's Sun.

Who is to select the lessons to be given, and who is to interpret the message conveyed by the same? Memories of the uproar over the Ross Bible are recalled by the first part of it is brought up. Again, even if the difficulties in dent to selection and interpretation are overcome who is to teach the lessons? Public school teachers? These are almost without exception of high moral standing, but some of them are scarcely such as would be chosen by a superintendent to take charge of a class in Sunday-school? Ministers in the locality? In that case it is to be feared the Presbyterian family would suspect the Baptist clergyman of attempting to give a turn in his direction, and Baptist families would be disposed to suspect the Methodist preacher in turn.

On the whole it will be found better to leave religious teaching to the Churches and to limit the work of the school to preparation for industrial life and the intelligent performance of the duties of citizenship.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

Interesting Items From the Village.

On Monday morning about 9 o'clock the sound of the fire alarm sent a thrill through our peaceful village, the trouble was at ex-Reeve Moore's house and originated in the roof of the kitchen; fortunately assistance was close at hand and the fire was extinguished in a few minutes, damage about $200 fully covered by insueance!

The tourist season is opening up but seems to get a little later every year, the G. T. R. summer service not yet in operation, a good many people here cannot understand the appey of the Radial Railway Co., there is a bountiful harvest awaiting a competitive passenger and freight service between Lakefield and Peterborough.

J. G. Brown is erecting a monster boat-house on the river front, his former store houses were swept out of existence by the new government wharf and the present enterprise is something "vaster than has been," but alas, man is born under trouble, and no sooner has the palatial edifice taken shape than sundry citizens, and even that august body the municipal council, raise objections, and there are rumors of injunctions, and all kinds of trouble.

Porters are out for the "Grand Dominion Day Celebration" horse races, man races, boy races, canoe races, all kinds of races, illuminations, fireworks etc etc., etc., seriously though, the various committees have been putting in some salid work, and Lakefield is going to have a great, big, old time, celebration, that will, if the clerk of the weather is in good humor, make the very oldest inhabitant sit up and take potice.

WHAT YOU NEED FOR THE COUNTRY.

You need some handy balm ready for blistered hands, sunburned skin, cuts, burns, bruises, stings, and the many little accidents incidental to open-air life. Zam-Buk is the ideal balm. It is antiseptic, soothing, and healing. Insect stings or barbed wire scratches cannot become poisoned wounds if Zam-Buk is applied. It soothes sore, aching feet, heals baby's chafed places, cools patches of sunburn, relieves the pain of blisters. Mothers should see that the country cottage is never without Zam-Buk. Purely herbal, it may be regarded as Nature's own healer. Apply it to all skin injuries, rashes, eruptions, and diseases. All druggists.

BAND TO DYNAMITE CHURCHES.

Anti-Saloon Leader Hears of His Existence After his Church Suffers.

Leetonia, Ohio., June 24.—The Rev. Joseph L. Grimm, anti-saloon leader, whose church, the Presbyterian, was badly damaged by dynamite recently, turned over to the postal authorities to-day an unsigned letter, in which it was said that his church had suffered through the work of an organized band of twelve who had taken it upon themselves to discourage "pernicious advocates and saloon politics."

The letter was mailed at Leipsic, Ohio. It also stated their agents were about to dynamite a church in Indiana where its pastor had become "offensively" active in the cause of no license.

Tell some deserving Rheumatic sufferer, that there is yet one simple way to certain relief. Get Dr. Shoop's book on Rheumatism and a free trial test. This book will make it entirely clear how Rheumatic pains are quickly killed by Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy—liquid or tablets. Send no money. The test is free. Surprise some disheartened sufferer by first getting for him the book from Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Sold by all dealers.

A NOVEL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Pastor Tells Congregation Wife Has Left Him.

Newbern, N. C., June 24.—The Rev. Dr. R. C. Beaman, pastor of Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, one of the leading congregations of this city, startled his hearers at the evening service yesterday by announcing from the pulpit that his wife had disappeared, presumably deserting him.

Dr. Beaman went to Durham on June 5 to attend the Trinity College commencement, where he took a part in the programme. Several days later Mrs. Beaman left Newbern, announcing Rocky Mount as her destination. Since that time nothing has been heard from her. Notes found in different places indicate that she left the city with a male companion. Dr. Beaman does not conceal his belief that his wife has eloped.

FINGER CUT.

Mr. W. Edwards, proprietor of the Crystal, met with a very painful accident yesterday morning. He was cleaning a piece of plate glass when the first finger of the left hand was badly cut. The entire length of the finger was split open to the bone. Medical assistance was summoned and the injury was dressed, requiring several stitches.

Cosgrave's Beer

Wordsof praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discrimin ting and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evidenthonesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

More Black Hand Outrages in B. C. Towns

Victoria, B.C., June 22.—The activities of the "Black Hand" in interior cities of British Columbia, have been resumed and panic reigns among prosperious business men and their families. In the case of Joseph Rameira, who broke jail at Fernie, while awaiting trial for threatening Alexander Rizzotto and Louis Corosello, but was recaptured, evidence was offered that Mrs. Corosello had died during the period of suspense following the receipt of Rameira's letters, being unable to stand the strain.

Two hundred and $300, respectively, were asked of Rizzotto and Corosello for immunity. Otherwise their homes were to be burned and themselves killed. They kept their nerve and sought police assistance, they and their homes being closely guarded. On Rameira being arrested, paper and envelopes similar to those employed in the threatening correspondence were found. His handwriting was not disguised in the letters. He was sentenced to fourteen years' imprisonment, and the police are now looking for his associates, with whose assistance he was enabled to break jail.

While East Kootenay has been aroused against them the "Black Handers" have transferred their operations to the West district, a recent murder at Revelstoke having the marks of the same outlaw band. The victim was Fred Orsatti, a petty official and railway contractor Three weeks ago he received a "Black Hand" letter, threatening death unless he paid over a large sum. He passed the communication to the police and afterwards received a second letter demanding immediate payment. Both letters were ignored and last Saturday night Orsatti was attacked by two Italians, who cut his throat from ear to ear, immediately making their escape. Orsatti died within an hour.

Lord Beresford vs. Sir John Fisher

A week from tomorrow Lord Charles Beresford will tell the people of England the real truth about their navy, the occasion being the public dinner of the London Chamber of Commerce. Not very long ago Lord Roberts said that the British Army was a sham, and Beresford has hinted that some such revelation will be made with regard to the navy. In a public speech made soon after his retirement Lord Beresford declared that if the people of England knew all he knew about the navy, they would not sleep quietly in their beds, thus flatly contradicting Admiral Sir John Fisher, who shortly before had signaled the nation that all was well with the fleet and that the people need not disturb their slumbers.

The Beresfords.

Were it not for Beresford, it is not likely that there would be the slightest worry about the navy; for so highly is the Admiralty venerated, so general is the belief in the efficiency of Sir John Fisher, that only a man from the inside who stood equally well in the public estimation could cause anyone to doubt. The Beresford family is one of the most popular in the British Isles, and even its least illustrious members have been endowed with those physical qualities of pluck and athletic prowess that are always sure of hearty approval in any Anglo-Saxon community. Ability to fell oxen with their fists, and to jump over fifteen-hand horses, has distinguished the Beresfords for generations. Lord Charles has all the family accomplishments, and besides is a brilliant naval officer. It is doubtful if any living man of the profession he has just renounced has to his credit such a feat as that which won the reluctant signal, "Well done, Condor!" from the officers he had disobeyed at Alexandria.

The Typical Old Sailor.

Lord Charles is the typical old-fashioned sailor—bluff, hearty and the darling of his men. When he meets Jack ashore he will clap him on the back, convoy him into the nearest public house, and take a drink with him; or else he will pack him into his motor car and give him the most thrilling ride of his life. On board ship, however, he was a disciplinarian, and every sailor knew better than to presume on the fact that the Admiral had taken a friendly glass with him the night before. "Bulldog Charlie," the men call him, while the landsman who desires to speak familiarly of Beresford says "Condor Charlie." When Beresford said a couple of years ago that the Dreadnought was not worth the money spent on her, and that he could take out one of the older battleships and "knock the spot off her," because it could be more easily manoeuvred, it was as a bolt of lightning from a clear sky.

A Personal Quarrel

Then for the first time the general public realized that something was amiss between Beresford and Fisher. The insiders had known it long before, but the cause of the trouble has never been authoritatively disclosed. Apparently the difference was a personal one; and obviously it is a quarrel that will never be healed until Beresford has scored. At present the advantage is with him, for the day after the speech in which he made the remark about the people being unable to sleep if they knew the truth about the navy Beresford was invited to lunch by Mr Asquith. The following morning it was announced thao a commission to investigate the Beresford charges would be appointed; and a few days after the Commission got to work the report was issued that Fisher would retire. In the meantime he has refused offers to run for Parliament, on the ground that he does not wish to embarrase the Government. It is supposed that his speech on June 30 will be substantially the evidence he laid before the Naval Royal Commission.

The Modern Scientific Type.

Sir John Fisher is the personal antithesis to Beresford. There is nothing of the hail-fellow-well-met type about him. He is the modern scientific officer, who does his fighting with a blde print and a pair of compasses. He holds himself sternly aloof from all his brother officers, save a very few, and has absolutely no personal popularity. He is the father of the Dreadnought policy, and the designer of the famous ship that bears this name. There is nothing small about Fisher's ideas, for no sooner had the Dreadnought been commissioned than he made scrap iron of millions of pounds' worth of men-o'-war. Had it not been for Beresford's personal popularity. Fisher would have "downed him" by the rather neat manoeuvre of abolishing the Channel fleet, which Beresford commanded, and reconstructing it under a new name and a new commander. But Beresford's peal to the public made him a more conspicuous figure than ever; and now Fisher will step down and out on October 21, the anniversary of Trafalgar. It remains to be seen whether the passing from active service of these two strong men will end the controversy they have led. Each has an organization behind him, Fisher's being the Navy League, that endorses the policy of four Dreadnoughts for 1909, and the Imperial Maritime League, which backs Beresford, and whose battle cry is, "We want eight, and we won't wait." The nickname for the Beresford crowd is "The Navier League."

Nearly a Hundred Miners Entombed by Explosion

Pittsburg, Pa., June 23.—An explosion occurred to-day in the mine of the Lackawanna Coal and Coke Company at Wehrum, Indiana County.

Over 100 men were in the mine. A number are reported injured.

It is believed a large number of men were killed and injured.

At 9.45 a. m., nearly two hours after the accident, few of the 100 men who were in the mine had reached the surface.

The few men who escaped from the mine were burned and blackened, indicating that the force of the explosion was heavy. None of them were in condition to give details, but from one it was learned that the explosion seemed to strike every portion of the mine simultaneously.

Rescuing parties are making little headway owing to the great confusion at the mine. Work is also seriously retarded by smoke from the pit mouth and traces of deadly afterdamp.

Women in Distress.

As soon as it was known that an accident had occurred at the mine the greatest excitement prevailed, both at the mine and in the hamlet, a short distance away. Wives, mothers, sisters, and brothers rushed to the mouth of the mine tearfully imploring some news as to the fate of their loved ones. A number of the foreign women, screaming and crying, tried to rush into the dark pits of death.

At 10.15 three bodies, terribly mutilated, had been recovered from the mine.

At that hour, ten injured men, some of them fatally, had also been taken to the surface.

As to the exact of the accident, nothing definite can be ascertained at present, but it is apparently serious.

The Marathon Craze

Marathon races for any but matured, trained runners are unsparingly denounced by Prof. William J. Cromie, gymnastic instructor of the University of Pennsylvania. "The the noted athletic trainer. Youthful youngsters should be kept away from the game," says Mike Murphy, of Prof. Cromie, and do not care if they ever hear again, are more likely to respect an opinion uttered by Murphy. If they wish to win his approval, therefore, they should stop the long-distance running exercises, and train for sprints, or some other form of athletics that does not make the terrific demand upon the The craze to emulate Longboat has constitution imposed by a long run. The craze to emulate Longboat has not subsided as quickly as was expected, and hardly an evening passes but one may meet a string of panting little runners, who are engaged in some such feat as running round the Belt Linel in the hope of winning a silveroid cup at a subsequent athletic meeting.

Doctors Condemn It.

Three famous English doctors, Sir Lauder Brunton, Sir Thomas Barlow and Sir Alfred Tripp, have recently addressed a joint letter to every English school, in which they say:—"We consider school and cross country races exceeding one mile in distance as wholly unsuitable for boys under the age of nineteen, as the continued strain involved is apt to cause permanent injury to the heart and other organs." A contrary view is expressed by Caspar Whitney, a noted American authority on sporting matters. He takes the ground that an athlete has just so much vital energy to use up, and that it does not matter whether it is slowly burned over a 25-mile course, or goes roaring up in one desperate quarter-mile race. This observation is apropos of the agitation to reduce the standard length of inter-university boat races from four to three miles. Mr. Whitney thinks three miles just as much a strain as four, and sees no sense in the proposal to limit it. According to this argument, a man is as likely to exhaust himself in a race of a hundred yards as in a race of a hundred yards as in a race of a hundred miles, a conclusion that does not appeal to one's common sense.

Prof. Cromie, who has been through the mill himself, describes the symptoms of distress in long-distance running:—"There is a pound continued effort; sparks and flashing in the temples before the eyes; es of light appear; heard; the chest ringing noises are oppressed by a feels as if it were inhaled has a weight, and the air in one burning sensation. When influence of comes fatigued under the strokes on a enforced running, the face to one be leaden hue. In no case should permitted to continue running when this condition presents itself, as it means the beginning of asphyxia. Often when a runner is almost exhausted, when the head feels as if bound by an iron band, when he is almost unconscious of passing events, he will still force the tired legs forward until they refuse to act and he falls to the ground exhausted or in a faint."

The newspapers are blamed by Prof. Cromie for their part in promoting the Marathon craze. He mentions the case of a race organised by a Pittsburg paper not long ago, in which there were 4,900 entries for a ten-mile struggle! Not one of the starters was more than sixteen years old. He thinks it incredible that all of the contestants, or, indeed, most of them, could have been in first-class physical condition. Perhaps ninety per cent. of them were attracted to the contest by the publicity given it by the newspaper. Readers are told of the wonderful exploits of exwaiters, ex-baggagemen, and ex-clerks, whose athletic prowess was unknown before the Marathon boom. The result is that many a boy who could not run a 100 yards in 17 seconds becomes seized of the conviction that there lies concealed in him the ability to continue running long after the brilliant sprinters have fallen by the way. Hours that should be passed in sleep or rest are spent in training for the long grind, with the result that the system is enfeebled, and the young runner falls an easy prey to disease. The jokey clubs of the world take care that young horses are not allowed to run any but short distances; surely boys are as important as colts!

BAD HIGHWAY.

Boundary Between City and North Monaghan in Bad Shape.

Persons who have used or suffered in traveling, the boundary road between North Monaghan and Cavan, from Scott's Corners, north to the first concession of Smith, are unanimous that it is the worst piece of road to be found between South Monaghan and Minden; that, even in the most unfrequented colonization road districts of this vicinity, can nothing worse be found. In these districts, owing to various causes, the roads are neglected, but to nothing like the extent the road in question is, judging by the condition left severely alone. This is all the more surprising when North Monaghan, in its own road system, rather excels other municipalities. The people of the vicinity and others who have to use the boundary line referred to, are unanimous in asserting that its condition is a disgrace to the two adjoining townships, and the surprise is continuous that some thing is not done to improve it.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Weir, and has a large circle of friends who will regret to hear of her demise. The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon, and service will be held at the house at 3 o'clock, and afterwards the remains will be taken to the C.P.R. station. Interment will take place at Sorest, on Thursday, June 25th.

Wedding Bells

DAVIDSON—MOSS.

The marriage of Miss Emily De Latre Moss, daughter of Chief Justice Sir Charles Moss and Lady Moss, to Mr. William Edward Davidson, son of the late Rev. S. Ferrar Davidson, took place very quietly Tuesday afternoon at St. James' cathedral, only immediate friends and friends being present. The Rev. Canon Welch, assisted by Rev. Canon Davidson of Peterborough, brother of the groom officiated. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a pretty embroidered India muslin, with white hat. Her only attendant was her young cousin, Miss Amy Vere Brown, who wore a white embroidered lingerie dress and hat. The best man was Mr. Sidney Larratt Smith. The brother of the bride, and Mr. Tom Moss were ushers. There was no reception and no invitations were issued for the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson left for the seaside.

ATERSON—HARMER.

A very pretty simple wedding took place at St. Paul's church, Bloor street east, at 2.30 this afternoon, when Miss Marie Harmer, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Harmer, was married to Mr. Herb. Kendall Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Patterson of Todmorden.

The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. Canon Cody. The church was artistically decorated, the chancel and altar being banked with palms and daisies, while bunches of daisies tied with large white satin bows decorated the pillars and guest pews.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in an imported gown of heavy crepe de chene, embroidered in rose petals and trimmed with Irish crochet. The wedding veil was draped over a Juliet cap of lilies of the valley and orange blossoms, and a Parisian shower boquet of roses and lilies of the valley was carried, the only ornaments being a pearl and diamond crescent, and a diamond and sapphire ring, the gifts of the groom.

The bride was attended by Miss Jule Stuart as maid of honor and three bridesmaids, Miss Evelyn Maw of Winnipeg, Miss Elsie Pierce of Philadelphia, and Miss Alexina Pinkerton, all wearing simple lingerie frocks of finest dotted Swiss muslin, with entre deux embroidery. They wore becoming poke bonnets of white mohair, trimmed with soft folds of white tulle, old-fashioned maize and mauve flowers and streamers of maize ribbon, and carried hat baskets of daisies with posies of mauve sweet peas intermingled, the only ornament being the groom's gift, dainty baroque pearl pins of dainty designs with peridot centers.

The best man was Mr. Charles Ellis, and the ushers were Mr. Mac Halgraft, Mr. Herbert Wickens, Mr. Vernon Edwards, and Mr. William Baily, to whom the groom gave baroque pearl tie pins, also in dainty designs.

Mr. Palmer presided at the organ and during the signing of the register Miss Geraldine King of Peterborough, sang "Oh Fair, Oh Sweet, and Holy." She wore white corded silk and large white hat.

The wedding reception was held in the Metropolitan Assembly Rooms, which were decorated with palms and daisies. The many guests were received by Mrs. Harmer, who was gowned in black lace over white satin with handsome black hat, and carried lilies of the valley. She was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Johnston of Ottawa, who wore a dainty lingerie gown and large white hat, and carried pink sweet peas.

A buffet dejeuner was served in the ball room, the table being decorated with palest pink carnations, roses and lilies of the valley an orMr. and Mrs. Patterson left for a trip down the Saguenay, and on their return will spend a couple of weeks in town before leaving for their home in Winnipeg. The bride's traveling suit was a three-piece Wedgewood blue Rajah, with white hat trimmed with soft ribbon bows to match the suit.

57th REGIMENT.

Company Inspection Completed by Col Young D.A., A.G.

The company inspection of the 57th Regiment was completed last night by Col. Young, D.A., A.G., of Kingston, who has been in the city all week. The companies inspected last night were No. 1 under Capt. Cluxton, No. 6 under Capt. McLean, and No. 7 under Capt. McWilliams. Col. Young has done a three days work and he is well pleased with the state of the regiment. He leaves this morning for Lindsay and inspect the cadets there.

DRAGOONS AT CHURCH.

Will Attend Divine Service at St. Luke's Sunday Morning.

The members of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, who are in camp at Nassau, will attend St. Luke's church in a body on Sunday morning next. They will come as far as the lift lock by a steamer, and will march from that point to the church. Arrangements are being made to have the 57th Regimental band provide music for the parade.

Citizens of Peterborough will have another opportunity of seeing the Dragoons as the officer commanding is making arrangements for a day will be given a chance to see some of the manoeuvres of the cavalry corps. Further notice will be given of both turn-outs.

MEAT BUSINESS.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy Sold out to Mr. S. A. Oke.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy, who has for the past thirteen years, conducted a retail meat business on George St., has disposed of the business to Mr. S. A. Oke, who will take charge in a short time. Mr. Kennedy states that his object in disposing of his retail business is that he may give more attention to his wholesale business in Toronto, which is growing rapidly, and in the future he will be able to look after the wants of his customers in this city with a better attention than ever before. It is understood that Mr. Kennedy and his family will still reside in this city.

TELEPHONE GIRLS.

A number of the Bell Telephone operators enjoyed a picnic down the river last night after six o'clock. They were on the water during the early evening, when it is most enjoyable.

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity?

Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable offer?

That idea of mine, that you have learned of in medicine as curious, that the maker dare say by the 25c. box if absolutely and unconditionally

And give an entire stranger a chance to share in the happiness.

For if Dr. Sheep's Heart and Nerve cannot help your case, Dr. Sheep's Blood and Heart ointment everywhere in America.

When the "Heart" or nerves are the cause of some vital organ's failure to do its work, Dr. Sheep's Nerve has quickly vitalized, and strengthened and brought those nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not claim the Stomach, nor disorder the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Sheep's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the failing, faltering, feeble or controlling nerves. And herein lies the keystone to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all such ailments.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, "Take my prescription for full 25 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours."

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, which maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that equally is covered by the same identical terms, as you see printed on the box.

Besides, you can find by enquiry, no one of my personal advice plan. If you have a sick friend, write me for personal counsel.

So let me hear from you—or some one. Only let me know by postal card, and I will send you the remedy by mail, prepaid, and my personal advice plan. If you have a sick friend, write me for personal counsel.

So let me hear from you—or some one. Only let me know by postal card, and I will send you the remedy by mail, prepaid, and my personal advice plan. If you have a sick friend, write me for personal counsel.

I will leave it to your honesty after you get the remedy to write me the result, or to tell your friends of it.

There is Room for You in Great Prize Contest

Many Valuable Prizes are Here for You—Get in the Race Today and Win a Valuable Prize or Tour—Now is the Best Time to Enter—Some One will Win Prizes, Why Not You?

It is very gratifying to see the high character and standing of the candidates who are entering The Times Great $3,000 Prize Contest. The names of those who are well known in the educational, social, religious and business life of this section will be found on the list of candidates in this Great $3,000 Prize Voting Contest.

YOU CAN ENTER NOW.

The list of candidates are very small when the twenty prizes are considered. There is still plenty of room for new candidates. Do not let yourself be deterred from entering by the idea that there are too many against you. You can win a prize if you try.

SEND IN YOUR NOMINATION TODAY.

Send in your nomination today and show your friends that you intend to be one of the prize winners.

The one who enters today has twenty-four hours' advantage over those who postpone until tomorrow. The prizes are here, to be given to some ambitious candidate. Why not get one of them for yourself? You have an equal chance with every one else. Nominations are now being received and you can win a fine prize if you are willing to make the effort.

Send in your nomination today and after that be prompt and energetic and let all of your friends know what you are interested in.

DO NOT HESITATE.

There are lots of people who never get anything because they never start things. They are inactive and inert. They want just as much as others do, but they hesitate and then find it too late.

Break the habit of hesitating. Enter The Times Contest today and make the first step which will lead you to the $1,250 Oldsmobile Touring Car, or at least to one of the twenty prizes desirable.

SOME WILL DROP OUT.

We have all heard that appearances are deceptive, and while on the list all will appear equally formidable as opponents, some are really not to be dreaded at all, for experience proves that it is not every one who has the perseverance to stick to an undertaking of this kind, even when the prizes are as attractive as in the present instance.

You may, therefore, look confidently to seeing some whose names appear fall out of the ranks before the end, leaving the prizes to those who never turn back.

THE HONOR IS GREAT.

It is no small honor to be picked out by your friends as the person whom they think best qualified to win in this great contest. It proves that they credit you with many fine traits and know that your popularity is great. Show them that they are right in their estimate of you. Don't let your friends do all the work. They would rather help those who help themselves. Be active, energetic and persevering and you will be surprised to see howfast you can accumulate subscriptions.

NEVER POSTPONE.

Never think that "some other time" will be just as good for seeing your friends. The present is always the best time. Go at once and secure at least their promise of aid before it has been given to some one else. Then keep them and yourself in mind of this promise.

JUST GETTING STARTED.

At present the candidates are just getting started, feeling the pulse of their friends to learn their strength.

They knew that subscriptions are what count and that to secure them is the surest way to pile up votes. The daily coupons, too, are not to be despised. Some times the winning of a prize depends on only a few votes. Get your friends into the habit of cutting the coupons for you. This will keep up their interest in you and later they will not let you lack for a subscription.

EVERY SUBSCRIBER SHOULD VOTE.

Every subscriber to The Times should give their vote to some candidate. Send in your favorite's name and then vote for them just as you would for a member of Parliament to represent you, only vote oftener, as it is perfectly safe and the oftener you vote the more sure your candidate is to be a winner.

Your help may be just what is needed to encourage your favorite to do the good work which will place him or her at the top of the list

MANNER OF XOTING.

Coupons good for ten votes are published in the Times. This coupon, if clipped and sent to The Times will count as ten votes for the candidate named thereon.

WHAT THE CANDIDATES SHOULD DO.

The utmost diligence should be used by every candidate to get all the subscriptions possible within the next week. These are your harvest days, and you should lay up a fine reserve of votes to be used in the end.

It is not a good plan to hold back all you have. Make a good showing on the list before you begin to lay aside your votes. The best rule in a contest is pretty much the same as in dressing, which of course every young lady understands. While it is advisable to make always an attractive appearance, it is bad taste to be so noticeable that every one says, "Just look! I bet she puts every cent on her back," In the same way you want to appear well among the candidates so that your friends may see that you are working, and not likely to fall behind in the race, but there is no manner of use in putting everything you have to the fore just to create a sensation, and have nothing to fall back upon when you may need it badly.

CASH PROMISES NOW.

No doubt every promise made you by friends earlier in the contest will be fulfilled now, as you can explain, that at no time during the contest will you derive so much benefit from what your friends can do for you. Show them how much they can help you right now and they will try their best to give you subscription during the next week.

OPEN EVENINGS.

For the accommodation of those who wish to enter the contest or to get information respecting it, and who cannot call during the day, the Contest Department of The Times will be kept open until 9 o'clock at night. If you are unable to call at any time, write or phone the Contest Manager and a representative will call and give you the desired information.

SEPARATE PRIZES FOR EACH DISTRICT.

Both district are separate and distinct in itself and the votes cast for candidates in one district have no bearing whatever upon the number of votes cast for candidates in the other districts, except so far as the Grand Prizes are concerned. The Grand Prizes will be distributed among the four candidates having the greatest number of votes irrespective of all districts, and then eight prizes will be awarded to each district, four of the prizes going to the ladies and four to the men in each district. In order to equalize competition, the right is reserved to change the boundaries of the districts at any time before July 10.

Grand Jury Recommend Memorial be Erected to Late Judge Weller

The grand jury yesterday morning made the following presentation to the county judge:

To His Honor Judge O'Connell;

Your grand jury at the county court and general sessions of the County of Peterborough, beg leave most heartily congratulate your honor upon being elevated to the position of dignity and honor of county court judge. We regard this as a tribute to your legal knowledge, your general high qualifications as a member of the bar and your judical qualities of mind.

While the honor is in itself a great one it is emphasized by the fact that those best qualified to judge have considered you to be a worthy successor to the late lamented Judge Weller, who during nearly a third of a century of professional life and nearly a quarter of a century of able and dignified judical life furnished to the bar and bench of Canada a standard of professional practice, high sence of duty and efficient discharge of the same, which constitute a precidence whose observance is worthy the respect of the legal profession and of the most capable occupants of the bench. As a tribute of respect well deserved we would suggest that the county provide a suitable memorial in the form of an oil painting of the late Judge Weller for this building.

In compliance with the charge of your honor delivered at the opening of the court we have addressed ourselves to the duties pointed out to us.

We regret with your honor that in regard to the investigation of criminal charges our duties have not been as light as has been the case on similar occasions; but we are pleased to report that the charges upon which we have found three true bills are not of a very serious charter.

We made the usual inspection of the jail and found a satisfactory condition of management. It contained three old persons, for whom we submit the jail is not the proper place of shelter, and we would suggest that the city make some adequate provision similar to that made by the county to provide for the case of the indigent and unfortunate without compelling them to associate with criminals or accused persons.

We paid the usual visits to the House of Refuge, and the public institutions of the city, and have only to speak in terms of approval of the satisfactory conditions existing in all of them.

With regard to the foreigners in the jail, while we recognize that society must be afforced protection, we regret that a course of action was made necessary in the interest of the safety of the general public of the district which seems to throw an undue expense upon this county, and it seems to us, desirable if the means do not already exist, to so arrange matters as to enlist the action of the Provincial authorities in discharging or materially helping to discharge, the responsibilities arising out of the situation.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Foreman John Howcen, Grand Jury rooms.

Peterborough, June 24, 1909.

In reply his honor very feelingly expressed his thanks and appreciation to the grand jury for their kind words to him. He also heartily concurred in their suggestion that a memorial be ereated to the late Judge Weller. He said that the attention of the proper authorities would be drawn to the matter. His honor congratulated the grand jury upon the splendid manner in which they had performed their duties.

LONE BANDIT'S FEAT.

Robs Bank of $8,100 in Daylight, and Escapes in Auto.

Fort Worth, Tex., June 24.—A branch of the Wagoner Bank and Trust Company, in Main street, in the heart of the business section, was held up by a lone highwayman at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The robber escaped in an automobile with $8,100 in currency. Officers are in oursuit and a fight in expected.

Green Bay, Wis., June 25.—Two armed bandits entered the night office of the United States Express Company here at 2 o'clock this morning and compelled the man in charge to open the safe. They obtained $5,000.

PREACHER-JUDGE SHOT.

Tried to Arrest Son of Another Minister—Lynching Threatened.

Sumrall, Miss., June 25.—When C. McMellon, Methodist pastor and police judge, attempted to arrest Jerry Hall, a Baptist preacher's son, for alleged intoxication to-day John Bond, failing to rescue Hall, shot McMellon, it is alleged.

Marshall Gates and his bulldog pursued Hall and Bond, who resisted arrest, whereupon the dog lacerated Hall's throat. The dog also overtook and held Bond, until both fugitives were placed in jail, which is heavily guarded against lynchers.

ROYAL JEWELS KEPT.

Creditors of Princess Louise May Fight King Leopold.

Brussels, June 25.—The jewels bequeathed to Princess Louise by her Tother, the late Queen Henrietta, which have been seized many times for debt, are to be retained by her and not to be sold at auction, according to her lawyer, through the kindness of her creditors, who have consented to another arrangement for the payment of their dues. It is also announced that if King Leopold disinherits her daughter legal steps will be taken to obtain justice for the princess.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Albert Craig Guilty of Common Assault and Gets a Month in Jail

The case of assault laid against Albert Craig and Chapman, was heard and completed before his honor Judge O'Connell yesterday. A number of witnesses were called for the crown and a good case was presented. The defence admitted that Craig was guilty of common assault but not of the more serious charge, viz., assault, doing bodily harm. Chapman pleaded not guilty.

The evidence was all in yesterday morning and immediately upon court resuming counsel addressed the jury followed by the judge's summing up.

JUDGE'S ADDRESS.

In addressing the jury his honor Judge O'Connell gave the case a very fair and impartial explanation. The charge was one of committing an assault causing bodily harm. He explained the difference between common assault and the charge in this case. He said that any person who assisted in any way in assault were equally guilty with the one who committed the actual deed. His honor then took up the evidence which had been produced. He referred to the document the firemen sent to the council objecting to Grange as assistant chief. This itself showed some indication of dissatisfaction in the fire department. This might be taken as a motive for committing the offence. Still in a case of assault a motive is not so particular as the principal in the same. In conclusion his honor said both men could be found guilty, or one guilty and the other not, or both might be guilty of common assault or that one was and the other was not, or one may be guilty of common assault and the other guilty of assault causing bodily harm.

The jury retired at five minutes past four o'clock.

THE VERDICT.

The jury returned a verdict about six o'clock of Chapman not guilty, and Craig guilty of common assault To this verdict was attached a strong recommendation to mercy.

His honor acquitted Chapman and sentenced Craig to one month in jail with hard labor.

Dr. Pelkey as Interpreter at Gypsies Trial Monday

It was a lucky strike for the Crown authorities, when Dr. Pelky, of Ottawa, opened up a conversation with a couple of the Gypsy women, who are awaiting the trial of their men folk, before proceeding on their way. Dr. Pelky is connected with the Pacific Medicine Company of Ottawa, whose specialties are a cure for tuberculosis and a kidney cure. He is in the city in the interests of his company and as soon as he can locate an office he will open up apartments, and for the next three or four weeks will introduce his medicine here. Dr. Pelky was doing business with the county treasurer yesterday morning and there was a couple of Gypsy women there also. The county officials could not understand them, and were indeed surprised to hear the doctor enter into conversation with them. The doctor spent 15 years in Mexico seven of which he spent in the schools, and seven as sergeant in the army. He is therefore familiar with the customs of these people.

To act as an interpreter was a thought farthest away from the doctor's mind, but the crown authorities lost no time in incuring him to be present at the hearing of the tribe on Monday morning next before Magistrate Edmison.

In speaking of the Mexican people, Dr. Pelky said that the tribe here is of the very lowest class.

LAWN SOCIAL.

Met With Success at St. John's Last Night.

A very successful lawn social was held undet the auspices of the A.Y.P.A., on St. John's church grounds last night. The funds derived from the social will go towards furnishing the upper room in the new vestry used by the lady members of the choir. There was a large attendance, and it is indeed encouraging the young people to be so generally patronized by the congregation. The church lawn was well lighted with electric light, the wiring being done by F. R. J. MacPherson & Company. There were three tents on the lawn, one was a Japanese tent, one a flower tent, and on the north terrace was the refreshment tent. All were well patronized. A splendid program of music was furnished by the opera house orchestra, under the direction of Mr. R. J. Drey and the members of the choir gave several vocal solos and choruses. Altogether the social was a decided success in every way.

SCRAP WITH GYPSIES.

Women as Jurors

Down in Pennsylvania the women are agitating for the right to serve on juries; and though the men as a rule do not want them to win this privilege, it is a noteworthy fact that few men ever want to do jury duty themselves. It is not because the women threaten to do them out of a desireable job that the men are denouncing the proposal, but because they believe the women to be constitutionally and temperamentally unqualified to discharge this service. As usual there are some apostates to the sex who side with the men; and there are a few men who side thus tempering the tone of what with the majority of the women, would otherwise be a "sex war" to use the felicitous phrase of a Torosto Suffragette.

NOT TO THE MAIN POINT

Some of the Suffragette leaders are inclined to discourage the agitation on the ground that it leads women away from the single goal toward which all should be struggling, namely, the suffrage. "Wait until you can vote, and then you can vote yourself this right ant time you wish it," is the substance of their argument; while the others are willing to take a crust in the meantime, and wait for a full meal more patiently. A prominent Pittsburg Suffragette, quoted by the Dispatch, asserts that men are too tenderhearted in cases where women are on trial: and that female criminals will never get their deserts until the jury is composed of women.

Slowly Dying

Thousands are slowly dying from catarrh, but don't know their danger.

A CASE IN POINT.

Mr. Ulric Berault, a young gentleman who has lived for years in Beauharnois, Quebec, inherited Catarrh from his mother. The disease spread through his system till he was a physical wreck.

"As a child," said Mr Berault, "I was prone to an ulceration of the mucous lining of the throat and nasal passages.

"I grew pale and emaciated, lost a desire for food, and got into such a dreadful condition that my friends said that Catarrh was fairly eating me up.

"Every organ of my body seemed affected and the doctor said it was the first stage of consumption. He advised Catarrhozone, and I inhaled it ten minutes at a time every few hours, and was rewarded in a few days by a wonderful improvement.

"Catarrhozone pleased me and the doctor so well that I used it continuously, and took Ferrozone Tablets after each meal to build up my strength. In about three weeks I was quite recovered, and the doctor says no remedy but Catarrhozone could work such a miracle.

"Every one in town knows I was just about dead with Catarrh, and my cure is an evidence of what Catarrhozone can do. It is a pleasure to recommend Catarrhozone."

(Signed) Ulric Berault."

Catarrhozone beyond question is the proper remedy for catarrhal and bronchial troubles. The medicated air goes all through the air passages of the head, throat and lungs. It kills the germs, heals the ulcers, allays irritation and makes the breath pure.

Headache, tired feeling across the eyes, nausea, all these well-known disagreeable symptoms are overcome by the medicated air of Catarrhozone.

Ferrozone Tablets which are used in conjunction with Catarrhozone Inhaler drive all the poisonous secretions of catarrh from the blood. One taken after each meal creates new appetite and digestion, strengthens the stomach, revitalizes and invigorates the entire system.

Catarrhozone is quite unsurpassed as a cure for Catarrh in any part of the system. It is highly recommended for Bronchitis and Asthma, and for coughs and colds has no equal.

THE DOG NUISANCE.

The dog nuisance has undergone a lively recrudescence in several cities in Ontario, says the Ottawa Journal Toronto has been severely afflicted and the authorities are taking very active measures for the discouragement of the outlaw dog. The vagrant dog, of course, is apprehended on sight, but the vagrant dog, without known parents, or any home, is not necessarily the worst nuisance. There are in Toronto many dogs of excellent pedigree and otherwise respectable associations which have been placed under a rigid police surveillance, this in actual fact, not in any way of jest. Many persons have been bitten, and some children have been injured severely. In London a similar condition is reported and the city council there has decided to take steps to rid the city of the roving dog pest.

In a mood perhaps induced by some personal grievance suffered by the writer, one London paper says of the dog situation in that city, that "two or three thousand of these animals loose in the city streets create disorder, baffle attempts at open gardening, and are a menace to children. Their habitt to all but their owners are often objectionable. It is quite time for reform of the kind intended for the comfort of life in our cities."

That's exactly the trouble about dogs. The aperage man who likes dogs manages in some way to have some kind of a dog about him, and his affections are apt to extend to all dogs. The man who doesn't like dogs, on the other hand, just naturally can't abide any kind of a dog. And there you are. It is a hard thing in a way to restrict the liberties of the dog-lover, but in this, as in other matters, we fear the good of the community must be the first consideration even at the risk of an injury to the feelings of the occasional individual.

There is no reason of course why a dog should be allowed to run at large; we don't allow horses and cows to do that, but we have accepted a sort of compromise. We tax the dog-owners and make him responsible for the dog's conduct. This responsibility we know is observed conscientiously in many cases Many dogs are obliged to behave themselves. But many other dogs, even though licensed, are allowed to do as they please. It may be hard to find a remedy for the present, perhaps, but eventually in Ottawa as in other large cities no dog will be allowed to run at large.

Meantime the whole tribe of good dogs, man's most faithful friends, are brought into disrepute by the doings on of their rowdy brothers and sisters.

SUPPLANTING MALE TEACHERS.

Rev. Wm Philp, president of the Montreal Conference of the Methodist church, has spoken out upon the subject which has given thoughtful people much concern, namely, the manner in which women are supplanting men in the teaching profession Mr. Philip declared that as one result of the change the nation is likely to be endangered. Perhaps his views are too pessimistic or too alarmist but the matter is unquestionably a serious one. Up to a certain age women make the best teachers, their strongly sympathetic nature especially fitting them to educate children of tender years, and they may be quite as good for girls of maturer years, but there comes a period in almost every boy's life when he needs, in order to have the manly virtues cultivated to be under the influence of a manly man as teacher. This falling off in the number of male teachers is not, it appears, confined to Canada. It is quite as marked in the old world as in the new

The question is, What is the remedy? Teachers' organizations have discussed the subject, and one conclusion that they have arrived at is that the inadequate salaries paid is one of the chief reasons of men not entering the profession In many Canadian cities and certain towns the Public School boards have grasped and dealt with the problem on twelve room schools the first firmly by deciding that all the public schools shall have male principals. In some cities, where there are assistant is also a male teacher This ensures that the older boys are under the control of a man, and meets all requirements. It is only necessary for school boards in towns and cities to decide upon this course and male principals and first assistants can be secured provided always adequate salaries are paid The remedy can be applied in rural schools, too, if trustees decide that they will have and have only male teachers, but they must be prepared to pay salaries which will induce men to enter and remain in the teaching profession The inducement which the Ontario government has given to encourage the payment of higher salaries by paying a percentage is having some effect, but not so much as some of the admirers of the provisions made for this purpose hoped. It will take a more general heroic determination on the part of rural trustees as well as a greater generosity in the matter of salaries to replace the male teacher in the relative position which he once occupied.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FOR KILLING A MAN.

Was Fined $250 for Shooting to Death.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 25.—Enoch Cordery, of Fort Meade Fla. was today fined $250 by Justice White in the Supreme Court on his plea of guilty of manslaughter in the first degree. Cordery shot to death Harry Garr of Syracuse in a rooming house here last Christmas night. Before passing sentence Justice White suggested that a physician be employed to examine Cordery as to the condition of his mind on the night of the shooting, inasmuch as Cordery had been drinking. This district Attorney Dubley, declined to do. In passing sentence Justice White said he believed the case should go to the jury and in the absence of a jury trial, he did not feel inrlined to impose more than a fine.

Cosgrave's Beer

Wordsof praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discrimin ting and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evidenthonesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

HOW DO, MR. Q. CUMBER

ABOUT CHILDREN WHO DON'T LOVE THEIR PARENTS.

Mahershalalhasbaz Is the Record Christian Name For a Baby, But Talitha Cumi Runs It Close—Mr. Quintus Cumber Also Got a Rough Deal in the Matter of Names—Other Odd Names.

It is said that a gentleman had his two infants christened Cherubim and Seraphim, "because they continually do cry." As a matter of fact, many offspring have been labelled with names which in later years they bear with disgust.

On the momentous point of parental responsibility, it would be interesting to have the opinion of Miss Boadicea Basher, Mr. Happy Jiggins, Haystack Brown, and Anno Domini Davis, all of whom appear in the register at Somerset House.

Mr. Jolly Death, whose name figured not long ago in a lawsuit, would probably have chosen a more reverent Christian name if he had had any voice in the matter, as would also Mr. Judas Iscariot Burton and Ananias Culling, who are, no doubt the most upright of men.

Savage Bear, Esq., was probably a charming man to live with; and so, for anything we know, were or are Shady Scarrott, Odious Heaton, and Stormy Petrel Hodgson. Joseph Lyon Lamb probably combines the courage of his Christian name with the gentleness of his cognomen; Partridge Roast might tempt cannibals, if there is anything in a name; and Mineral Waters ought to be allied with good spirits. Ernest Frosty Winter is probably a cool customer; and Alfred Days Weeks will flourish, we hope, for many a year.

Even names such as these are not so uncomplimentary as those which mark either a cold or a frivolous welcome on the part of parents. We wonder what "One-too-many Johnson" and "Not Wanted Smith" think of the Fifth Commandment. Bovril Simpson has a commercial suggestiveness; Married Brown was early destined to the altar—has he reached it yet, wonder?—and Merry Christmas Finnett ought to feel cool and jovial even in the "dog days."

But of such grotesque baptismal names the registers supply literally hundreds, all so appealing in their ludicrousness that it is difficult to pick and choose among them. Here are a few, taken at random: Noah's Ark Smith, Affability Box—any relation, we wonder, to Miss Sardine Box, who was cradled in Hackney, Eng., a few years ago?—Jocose Ann Reynolds—a name which should J. A. R.—Chancery Lane Illingworth, and River Jordan.

Floral names make quite a sentimental appeal to us. Who, for instance, could fail to find Miss Ivy Violet Primrose McGinley a very flower of maidenhood, or Ivy Verbena Mignonette Slocombe perfectly sweet?

It is almost equally unkind to send a child into the world with such a name to write and pronounce as this, Mahershalalhasbaz—a name which was borne until a year or two ago by an old man in Norfolk, Eng. No wonder his friends struck, and called him "Maher" for short. Talitha Cumi is rather a dreadful name to put on a visiting card; and Tryphena and Tryphosa are no doubt trying for their bearers. Azile, as an ingenious transposition of Elisa, is rather pretty; as also is Louvima, a combination of Louise, Victoria and Maud, the names of King Edward's daughters.

For a mild, peace-loving man to be condemned to go through life as Richard Coeur de Lyon Tyler, Horatio Nelson Wellington Marlborough, or Kitchener Buller French Gatacre—all names actually borne to-day—is enough to make him seek oblivion in the waters of the Thames. Personally, we would prefer to sign our name Edward Byng Tally Ho, or even Quinine, as two very worthy people still living must perforce do.

There is something to be said for naming children in order of arrival, as Primus, Secundus, Tertius, and so on. It has the merit of settling all disputes as to seniority. But it has its dangers, as a certain well-known Canadian, one Quintus Cumber, admits sadly when he reads his name in the papers as Mr. Q Cumber.

Grizzlies That Eat Violets.

In one locality the grizzly of the Rockies is found eating the fresh sprig of the dogtooth violet and the green leaves of the spring beauties, while a few hundred miles farther on to the north or south, as the case may be, the grizzly doesn't touch them. Instead, he may be discovered munching at the young shoots of the shooting star down in the Bitter Root mountain country, for instance, among the towering peaks of the higher Rockies. Upon this question of locality, which is often overlooked or even ignored by nature writers, lies the solution of many warmly disputed points between those who tell the public at large all about nature and its animals.

Discouraging.

Lecturer on Art—Before I sit down I shall be happy to answer any questions that any of you may wish to ask. Gentleman in Audience—I have enjoyed the lecture much, sir, and have understood it all except a few technical terms. Will you please tell me what you mean by the words perspective, fresco and mickle-anjelo? (Lecturer sits down discouraged.)

Too Much French.

He was out with his best girl, and as they strolled into the West End restaurant he tried to put on an I-do-this-every-evening kind of look. When they were seated at a table a waiter approached them.

"Will monsieur have a la carte or table d'hote?" he asked.

"Both," said the young man, "and put plenty of gravy on 'em."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW ST. VICTORIA, B. C.
Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsina Sound, Vancouver Island.

Asset.

The company have acquired 21,600 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also control a 25,000 inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 16,000 to 25,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week, we are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $3,000 per ton. At present news is selling in British Columbia at $60.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $18,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia, on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord. In Eastern Canada our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $8.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the preferred stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium; remember the time to buy stock is any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent, annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $20.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $25.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $18.00 per ton on wrapping and $15.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $6.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1908 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $351,454. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,282,206. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 25th, 1907, Bulletin 80, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 20 2-3 per cent. of the value of goods over all expenses, of 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International PaPer Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,636,918.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $28.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $37.50 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent, on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent. upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 15 per cent, more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volume of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 86 square miles, which assures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

PHYSICIANS DISAGREED.

But One Who Thought He Was Suffering Killed Himself.

St. Louis, Mo., June 25.—Believing he was suffering unendurable pains from a disease of an artery, Dr. Justin Steer a member of the faculty of Washington University, killed himself yesterday with prussic acid. He left a note diagnosing his ailment.

The family physician said that he and several specilists had examined Dr. Steer many times and that Dr. Steer had no such illness as he imagined.

RICHER THAN COBALT.

Shining Tree Is Likely to Prove Another Cobalt.

Port Arthur, June 25.—Mr. Alex. Laudry, a Sudbury citizen has just returned from the Shiningtree district where he has been prospecting on and off for the last two years. Mr. Laudry is one of the old timers and mentions that he stood on the big diabase ridge north-east of Shiningtree on July 13, 1906. He has the greatest confidence in the future of the Shingtree district and says that, in his opinion, it will surpass Dohalt one of these days. Mr Laudry has, during the last six months, located nearly 150 claims for various parties, many af which have good showings. He says that if he had accepted the propositions from various parties to prospect on the basis of an interest instead of for wages, that he would have been worth $100,000 in clear cash today for his own small interests.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

"NOT GUILTY."

Fleeting Hope of Freedom Snatched from Prisoner.

Chicago, June 23.—A fleeting hope of freedom held out to a prisoner in Judge Bronto's court yesterday, was snatched from him in a way that caused a sign of pity to spread among the spectators, when it was found that the clerk of the court should have read the jury's verdict as guilty instead of not guilty.

The prisoner was Frank O'Donnel, accused of robbing a citizen at the point of a revolver. The jury had been out but ten minutes. The foreman of the jury handed the clerk two forms, one for guilty and the other for acquittal.

"Not guilty" read the clerk, absentmindedly failing to note that he was reading the unsigned form.

O'Donnell jumped from his seat, excitedly laughing, and wrung his lawyer's hand. He started from the room with his head in the air and his eyes sparkling. Then the mistake was discovered and O'Donnell was brought back. His head sank on his chest as the real verdict was delivered: "Guilty and condemned to serve the term of his natural life in prison."

REMAINS A MYSTERY.

Maze of Conflicting Stories Told by Chinaman.

New York, June 23.—If the statement made by Chung Sin last night accusing Leon Ling of having killed Elsie Sigel, has given the authorities any tangible clue to the hiding place of Leon, the police have not made it known, and it has as yet resulted in no arrest.

In the maze of conflicting stories told by Chung, and even after he apparently gave in under the incessant accusations and questions of the police, Lung is quoted as asserting that he does not know what Leon fleh after tying Miss Sigel's body in the trunk, although he admitted giving Leon the larger part of $260 which Chung had borrowed from Chu Gain.

The renewed activity of the police during and after Chung's statement might indicate, however, that the Chinaman told a great deal more about Leon than the police have allowed to become public. There was much telegraphing about the country by the police last night following Chung's story that he saw Leon strangling the young woman.

Chung's reluctance in telling the facts, his evident intention to deny that he knew anything at all about the murder, and his extraordinary indifference as to the terrible fate of the young missionary, all convince the police that the cool and wily Chinaman has by no means told all he knows about the murder.

Further attempts to make him divulge the facts which the police most desire—those giving a clue to Leon's hiding place—will be made, but there seems to be scant hope of getting any useful information.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloreform, or any other stupefying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

OIL AND ZINC

A SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY FOR Conservative Investors

The Hardy Lead & Zinc Co.

OF JONESBORO, ARK.

Beg to state that they have placed a block of Stock for sale in Canada, and have appointed Mr. Chas. Harrison, of the Peterboro Brokerage Company, their fiscal agent to dispose of the same. The company is practically a close corporation. The entire capital stock is only 20,000 shares. The par value of the stock is $25 per share. We offer it to you at $6.25 per share. This would be just the same as 6¼ cents per share on a 2,000,000 capitalization, $1 par value.

We are operating on 246 acres of Arkansas zinc land and are putting our own money into this enterprise. We are going after zinc and petroleum. Full particulars on application to

HOW TO TELL

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to lack of sleep.

Joints stiff, muscles get sore, —that's all put down to bad weather.

Then digestion gets poor, appetite fades away, color bleaches, spirits droop.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr Hamilton's Pills," writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Pinnaville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, aching down pains, sharp twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles and joints, lack of appetite, and loss of sleep teach the cause. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c at all dealers.

THE MANUFACTURERS.

There was a special meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee at the city clerk's office, when business of a private nature was transacted. It is expected that some good news will be forthcoming in the near future.

STRAWBERRIES PLENTIFUL.

The native strawberries are coming in quite plentifully, and each day sees a larger shipment. The Ontario berries are much superior to the imported fruit, and the people are beginning to enjoy a feast. The prices are now 12½c to 16c a box, but should come down to 6 or 7c. a box in a few days as the crop is a heavy one.

FOOTBALL.

The Scotch boys in town with the following line-up managed to cown the Brinton Carpet Works team in a game of football at the latters' own battle grounds;

Goal—J. Galbraith.
Back—Donaldson.
Half backs—Elliott, Reid, Barr.
Right wing—Lorimer, Thompson.
Center—Reid.

The game was well contested in the first half, the Scotties having very much the best of the argumrnt, and when half time was called, were leading 2—0.

The second half opened by the Brinton boys hustling to level things up a bit, but the Scotch brigade were all there, a goal each being the result of the secon half.

All of the Scots played good football, especially Jock Galbraith in goal, who put up a magnificent game.

FIRST REGULAR

Passenger Service on Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Advices have been received from the General Passenger Department of the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry., that the first regular passenger train which is being operated between Winnipeg and Scott, a distance of 509 miles, was thoroughly satisfactory both as to service and patronage. Brass band receptions were given the train at every point along the line.

Wedding Bells

McMURRY—MOHER.

A pretty wedding took place on Tuesday at nine o'clock in St. Joseph's church, when Miss Maggie Moher, one of Douro's most popular young ladies, and Mr. Frank McMurray of the same parish, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The bridesmaids was Miss Loretta, Moher, sister of the bride, while Mr. Thomas McMurray, cousin of the groom, acted as best man. The bride looked charming in a suit of white and she wore a large white hat, daintly trimmed with a wreath of white blossoms. She carried a handsome bouquet of white and pink and white carnations. The bridesmaid wore a beautiful cream dress trimmed with lace, and a white hat tastefully trimmed with pale blue flowers.

As the bridal party entered the church the organist, Miss May Allen a cousin of the bride, played the wedding march. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Keilty in the presence of the bride and the groom's most intimate friends. After the ceremony the young couple, with their most intimate friends and well-wishers, drove to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Moher, where all heartily enjoyed a sumptuous wedding breakfast. Over one hundred invited guests were present. The wedding gifts, which were numerous, were beautiful and costly. The young couple will reside in Douro, where their large circle of friends wish them a long and happy life together.

McLEAN—FREEMAN.

A quiet wedding will take place at Centennial Methodist Church at half past six o'clock this evening, when Miss Ethel Maud Freeman youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Freeman, will be married to Mr. Harold Ernest McLean, son of the late Frank McLean, and of Mrs. McLean. The Rev. E. A. Pearson, of Peterborough, will perform the ceremony, and owing to the illness of the bride's father, her brother, Mr. F. W. Freeman, will give her away. She wears an ivory Liberty satin gown with long train and tulle veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and carries white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Gertrude Vardon, will be dressed in pale pink gloria, with tuscan poke bonnet trimmed with pink bows and strings. Her bouquet is of pink roses. Mr. William Austin is best man. After the ceremony Miss Ada Davis will sing, with Miss Perle Chelew accompanying her on the organ. The ushers are Mr. Harold Vardon and Mr. Harvey Walker. On leaving for the honeymoon, which will be spent in Detroit, and on a water trip thence and via the Sault back to Toronto, the bride will wear a dress of Copenhagen blue shantung silk, with braided coat to match, and large black hat. On their return in three weeks, Mr. and Mrs. McLean will go to the Island for the summer. The bridegroom's gifts to the bride included a sunburst of pearls; to the bridesmaid, a pearl brooch; and to the groomsmen tie pins in the design of grapes in pearls.

DUMBLE—STEWART.

The marriage of Miss Mary Stewart, daughter of the late Robert Stewart of St. Mary's, to Mr. Clarence A. Dumble, K.C., of Peterborough, took place very quietly on Wednesday, June 23rd, at Westminster church, Winnipeg, in the presence of a few intimate friends. Rev. Dr. McKinnon performed the marriage ceremony. The bride, who was unattended, looked charming in her going-away dress of navy blue panama worsted with amethyst hat. On their return from the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Dumble will reside in Langside street, Winnipeg.—Toronto Star.

KELLMAN—CHAMBO.

The marriage of Miss Olive Marie Chambo of this city, to Mr. Charles Kellman, electrician for the Bell Telephone Co., of Chatham, was solemnized by Rev. J. G. Potter at St. Andrew's manse Wednesday afternoon. The bride and groom afternoon. The bride and groom were unattended. Miss Chambo wore lace over cream silk taffeta with hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellman left on the 4.38 train for a trip to Toronto and Detroit. They will reside in Chatham.

ST. JOHN'S CHOIR.

Annual Outing, to Stony Lake Was a Big Success.

St. John's church choir held their annual outing yesterday to Stony Lake per Str. Water Lily, and a good attendance turned out. A most enjoyable time was spent. This annual outing has become quite a feature of the choir work at St. John and is becoming more popular every year. The party returned about 7.30 in the evening.

GYPSIES UNDESIRABLE.

Provincial Inspectors Place Evidence Before Attorney-General.

Toronto, June 24.—Provincial Inspector Greer and Miller have placed evidence in the hands of the attorney-general that the gypsies rounded up at Peterborough came lately from the United States, and report will be sent to Ottawa with the request that they be deported on the ground that they have not been residents two years in Canada.

APPOINTED A CANADIAN.

Cobourg, June 24.—Mr. Cephas Guillet, brother of Mr. Edwin Guillet, of Cobourg, and of George Guillet ex-M.P., for West Northumberland, has been appointed professor of Psychology for the coming year in the State Normal School at Terre Haute Indiana. Mr. Guillet is at present in New York, but was formerly of Toronto.

CITY LEAGUE WILL Play Double Header at Riverside Saturday Afternoon.

Great interest is being taken in the Saturday's games in the Senior City Baseball League, which promise to be the best of the season. The first game between the T.A.S. and Park St., will mark the end of the first round, while the last game of the double-headers, which brings together the West Ends and Strathconas will be the first of the second round of the series.

Both games should be fast and interesting as all four teams have the strongest line-ups billed for Saturday. The Park St. team states that they will give the T.A.S. an awful argument in the first game, and with the contemplated changes in their team they will certainly be there. It will be a hard fought battle all the way.

Will the Strathconas turn the tables on the West Ends in the second game? "Sure," says Manager Metheral of the Straths, but Manager Oldham can't see it at all. "We'll make it two straights from the Straths," is the way he puts it. There you are, but you will probably will have to wait for Saturday for the answer.

T.A.S PICNIC.

Arrangements Being Completed and Prizes Arranged.

Full arrangements for the annual picnic of the T.A.S. have been almost completed. The grounds in the T.A.S. Park are being levelled up and the construction of booths, dancing platform, etc., is going on merrily. A large gang of men are working at the park. The pronounced feature of the day will undoubtedly be the sports and games. A baseball match between the T.A.S. and West Ends for a valuable trophy, the grand tug of war challenge the boat races, and nearly forty other classy events will furnish a bumper day's sports. Two gasoline launch races will be run, one for boats 5 h.p. and under, and the second, an open race, no restriction as to power, and under. Mr. R. M. Roy will officiate as judge in these events. The prizes for the different events are coming in fast, nearly all of the donors of previous years having already contributed again. The system of voluntary donation is certainly meeting with great success, and it is expected that before the sports committee arrange the prize list next week a full bill of prizes will have been handed in. Mr. Dan. Shehan will again officiate as the "the maintainer of law and order on the grounds on picnic day. Two yachts will leave the street railway wharf on Saturday afternoon carrying all those members who desire to assist in the work at the grounds.

WON'T MIX.

Bad Food and Health Won't Mix.

The human stomach stands much abuse but it won't return good health if you give it bad food.

"A year ago I became much alarmed about my health for I began to suffer after each meal no matter how little I ate," says a Denver woman.

"I lost my appetite and the very thought of food grew distasteful, with the result that I was not nourished and got weak and thin.

"My home cares were very heavy, for beside a large family of my own I have also to look out for an aged mother. There was no one to shoulder my household burdens, and come what might I must bear them, and this thought nearly drove me frantic when I realised that my health was breaking down.

"I read an article in the paper about some one with trouble just like mine being cured on Grape-Nuts food and acting on this suggestion I gave Grape-Nuts a trial. The first dish of this delicious food proved that I had struck the right thing.

"My uncomfortable feelings in stomach and brain disappeared as if by magic and in an incredibly short space of time I was again myself. Since then I have gained 12 pounds in weight through a summer of hard work and realize I am a very different woman, all due to the splendid food, "Grape-Nuts."

"There's a reason." Trial will prove. Read the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

OBITUARY

JANE FOSTER.

The death occurred last evening of Jane, wife of Mr. Wm. Foster, at her home, just north of Jackson Park. The deceased was 55 years of age, and had been suffering for some time. Besides her husband she is survived by a family of children to whom the sympathy of the community is extended. The funeral service will be conducted at three o'clock this afternoon by Rev. Canon Davidson and Rev. Mr. Fee, and the remains will be taken on the G.T.R. afternoon train to Fowlerville, Mich., for interment.

FARMERS' EXCURSION

Big Crowd on Otonabee and Went to Jubilee Point.

The annual farmers' excursion down the river was held yesterday, and a big crowd was on board the steamer Otonabee, which left the Wolfe street wharf early in the morning. On board the steamer was an orchestra which furnished music for dancing, both going and coming home. The trip was greatly enjoyed, and Jubilee Point was reached with all in good spirits. At this favorite resort the day was spent most pleasantly. There was dancing in the pavilion and several fine speeches were made by Mr. W. L. Smith, Editor of the Farmer's Sun, Mr. Lockie Wilson, Provincial superintendent of agricultural fairs, Warden R. N. Scott and others. The addresses were all listened to with interest. In the evening the crowd re-embarked and started for home feeling that this had been the most successful excursion the farmers have yet held.

The steamer Monarch took a large crowd to the picnic from Hastings, Harwood and other places around the lakes.

TIMES PRIZE BICYCLES ARE ON EXHIBITION AT F.R.J. McPHERSON CO., GEORGE ST.

Contestants will Get Benefit of Increase for a Short Time

Means Get Busy Now, for a Subscription Between Now and July 3rd will go Further Than One Secured at Any Other Time During the Contest

The announcement of an increased scale of votes in Monday's paper has brought joy to the hearts of many a candidate in the Times' great prize contest. All are bent on making the most of this opportunity which is the very best of the whole contest. At no other time will it be possible to secure as many votes on subscriptions as during this period.

WHAT THE CANDIDATES SHOULD DO.

The utmost diligence should be used by every candidate to get all the subscriptions possible within the next week. These are your harvest days, and you should lay up a fine reserve of votes to be used in the end.

It is not a good plan to hold back all you have. Make a good showing on the list before you begin to lay aside your votes. The best rule in a contest is pretty much the same as in dressing, which of course every young lady understands. While it is advisable to make always an attractive appearance, it is bad taste to be so noticeable that every one says, "Just look! I bet she puts every cent on her back." In the same way you want to appear well among the candidates so that your friends may see that you are working, and not likely to fall behind in the race, but there is no manner of use in putting everything you have to the fore just to create a sensation, and have nothing to fall back upon when you may need it badly.

CASH PROMISES NOW.

No doubt every promise made you by friends earlier in the contest will be fulfilled now, as you can explain, that at no time during the contest will you derive so much benefit from what your friends can do for you. Show them how much they can help you right now and they will try their best to give you subscription during the next week.

NEW CADIDATES.

New candidates can enter the contest now—today and with a few hours work secure enough votes to place their names among the leaders. You stand an excellent chance of winning a prize if you enter now, as there is plenty of room, and subscriptions will come easy during the "bargain days."

LELIEVE IN YOURSELF.

A great thing for candidates to cultivate is self confidence. There is no reason for you to be afraid of any one. Remember that in this contest no one has any way of telling what another reserve force may be, and the very person whom you dread is probably just as much scared as you are, for fear that you may have such a pile of votes back of you that you will take the lead any time you get ready to do so.

THE HARE AND THE TORTOISE.

Do you remember the fable you were taught in school of the Hare and the Tortoise? These two agreed to run a race, and naturally all the bets were laid in favor of the nimble Hare. Some even derided the Tortoise, and told him practically that they liked his nerve in putting himself against the swiftest creatures. But the Tortoise just kept up muttering to himself his favorite motto, "Slow but Sure, Slow but Sure."

When they set out it was but a few minutes before the hare was out of sight and the patient turtle was laboring far in the rear.

When Mr. Lihtfoot saw that there was no one in sight he laughed to himself, and decided he would stop at the first wayside house for lunch. This road house was called Turnip Top Inn and the Hare at a heavy luncheon, and then took up the course again, but he did not feel so light now, and presently with a yawn he lay down for "forty winks." Waking much refreshed he loped easily along until he came in sight of the goal, when what was his astonishment to see the plodding Turtoise at the same steady gait at which he had set out, within a few inches of the line.

A series of mad leaps brought the Hare in a trice to the judge's stand, but the race had already been won by the Tortoise.

THE MORAL.

The moral is plain. Keep going! Never let a day pass without adding something to your store. It will not be giving yourself a fair chance if you do not make the most of each moment of time, especially during the season of largely increased ratio of votes.

A steady pace is sure to bring you to the fore and you will have no need to fear the swiftest opponent if you keep right on going until you reach the goal.

SUBSCRIBERS TAKE NOTICE.

Now is the time to subscribe and secure votes for your favorite candidate, you are able to help them more than ever now, and can turn over many votes for them. They will be needed. The race is just fairly on, and all your help is wanted to enable your favorite to win.

Votes given on both old and new subscriptions. Work and win. Do it now.

The Band Concert

A big crowd heard another fine program by the band of the 57th Regt., in Victoria Park last night. The night was extremely hot and there was no breeze. These two facts assisted materially in keeping the attendance down to normal. There were only about 2500 people there but they enjoyed the music thoroughly. Just a week ago the weather was too cold to sit around for any length of time without an overcoat, but last night the majority would have been clad had they left off all their clothes.

Beautiful Young Woman Brutally Murdered Had Remarkable Career

DEAD EITHER BY THE SHOTS of a sheriffs posse, or by his own hands, Emmett E. Roberts, the accused slayer of beautiful Mrs. Edith May Thompson Woodill, protege of Lyman J. Gage, passed beyond the reach of the law to day, and with his death vanished the hope of clearing up the details of one of the most shocking crimes the State of Maryland ever has known.

"Lame Bob" Eastman, a Wall Street broker, is supposed to know something about the murder.

The mystery of Mrs. Woodill's antecedents, her brilliant prospects and accomplishments, her beauty, and the prominence of her foster parents and relatives, and the brutal manner of her death, had created an intense sensation in themselves, which was further heightened today by the death of the man in whose company she was last seen.

With the death of the leading figures the cause of the crime may never become known. Jealously, may have been the motive.

A ROMANTIC CAREER.

THE death of Roberts at St. Michael's marks the culmination of the most sensational tragedy ever occurring in Maryland, with ramifications that hape become country wice in the extent.

Some facts in the meteoric career of Mrs. Woodill, in whose bried life love and romance played such a great part, were related to-day by an intimate friend of the slain woman, who said they were told by Mrs. Wodill herself.

She (Mrs. Woodill) said she was born in Minneapolis about twenty years ago. Her mother, who called herself Mrs. Ames, died when she was about 3 years old, leaving her in utter ignorance of her parentage.

Mrs. Charles Thompson, of McDaniel, Md., took her and brought her up telling her that she was her mother's intimate friend but never disclosing to her the name of her father.

WHEN she was about 12 years old they went to Washington, where they lived for some time in the house of Lyman J. Gage, who took a great interest in her. When she was about 15 he sent her, with Mrs. Thompson, to Paris, where she studied music. Mr. Gage paying all expenses. On her return from Paris she went to Boston to complete her studies, and while in Boston she was married to Mr. Caswell, who was an osteapath. When she was about 17 she came to Baltimore to continue her studies at the Peabody Conservatory, leaving her husband. She was known here as Miss Edith Thompson, concealing her marriage from all but a few intimate friends. In a very short time thereafter she entered suit against Dr. Caswell for a divorce.

She left Baltimore last Easter, a year ago, being engaged at the time to Harry Adams, of Mount Vernon, N. Y. After a brief stay in New York she went to California, where in less than thirty days after her divorce from Dr. Caswell she married Gilbert Woodill of Los Angeles. It has also been reported that in her early youth Charles Thompson, the son of her foster mother and father, being a rejected suitor, committed suicide on her account. During her residence in Baltimore, according to the statement by Mrs. Woodill's friend, Mr. Gage sent her checks continually, some of them amounting to $1,500 and when she was married to Mr. Woodill he gave her $5,000. At the time of her death Mr. Gage was also building her a house in Los Angeles, with the understanding that he was to come to live with her and her and her husband.

All of these facts, it is asserted, were stated by Mrs. Woodill to friends in Baltimore prior to her death.

Have Located Leon the Chinaman

Norfolk, Va., June 26—The Hawaiian Steamship Company's steamer Arisonian, which sailed from Norfolk yesterday, bound for San Francisco, has aboard Leon Ling, or Lang, who was signed as a member of the vessel's Chinese crew in New York, June 11.

He left on the steamer June 12 for Lambert's Point, where she yesterday finished taking on coal for the Pacific Coast.

New York, June 25.—The fact that the telegram sent to the parents of Elsie Sigel from Washington on the night of her disappearance, reassuring them of her safety and announcing her early return, had been sent by Leon Ling, the young Chinaman whom the police charge with her murder was established today by Detective Van Wagner, who returned from Washington, armed with the original of the telegram.

Detective Van Wagner was able to compared the admitted handwriting of the missing Chinaman with that on the telegram form, and the similarity is marked.

The detective also found a number of persons who had seen Leon in the National Hotel, Washington, and all doubt of his having been at the capital on the day the telegram was sent has been removed. The police and district attorney's office have been dilligently running down clues which first seemed to indicate that Leon might have been in hiding in some dark and impenetrable corner of Chinatown, but nothing has come from them.

The now established presence of Leon in Washington subsequent to murder makes less likely of belief the stories of his having remained in hiding here, however, as the authorities doubt that living once left this city Leon would return.

Hanson Mine a Comer, Local Party Return from Visit to Property

On Thursday last a party of Peterborough gentlemen consisting of Messrs. J. C. Shook, R. J. Munroe, P. E. Rutherford, R. A. Elliott and Wm. Thackeray, returned from a ten days' trip to the Hanson mine where they have made large investments. Their inspection of the property with its splendid equipment has made them most optimistic and they consider the future of the mine assured.

The "claim" consists of 1364 acres, located near Silver Mountain, Thunder Bay District, Ont., on the Duluth branch of the Canadian Northern R.R., 46 miles south of Port Arthur. The mine is 1½ miles from the station, connected by a good wagon road. The plant and equipment is unsurpassed among the mining interests in the north. Besides the necessary buildings, shaft house boiler room, blacksmith shop, store, boarding house and other necessary buildings, the machinery consists of a six-drill Canadian Rand air compressor, hoists, boilers, dynamos, 20 stamp mill, assay office and pumps. Four shafts of varying depths have been sunk on the property and levels have been run aggregating about 3000 feet. From shaft No 4 ore has been taken assaying as high as $3000 per ton. Samples picked promiscuously from the "dump" at these shafts assayed 884 oz. to the ton. The quantity of ore in sight alone, already blocked out reaches nearly 1,000,000 tons.

The opinion of the mining engineer Mr. Shear, who has made a careful inspection of the known mineralized region of the north is that it is one of the best propositions open to investment, possessing rich ore in almost unlimited quantity.

The mine is being run under the able management of Mr. T. H. Hamilton as President W. T. Gibson secretary-treasurer, with Mr. J. C. Shook of Peterborough, as managing director.

The party visited three shafts and ore ready for shipment. The number of men at present employed is 25 which is soon to be largely increased as it is the purpose of the management, once they begin to ship ore to send it along continuously, that good returns may be made regularly to the stockholders. The party also visited the "Climax," also belonging to the Hanson property, and said to be one of the richest mines in the vicinity and which they hope to operate without delay.

Parties looking for investment in mining propositions will be well advised to consider the Hanson Consolidated Silver Mines, before placing their money, as this mine bids fair to be the bonanza of the north.

Samples of the ore may be seen and examined at the offices of R. A. Elliott & Co., 387 Water street, Peterborough, where full information will be cheerfully given all interested parties.

A Housekeeper's Troubles

Has a housekeeper any trouble of her own? Well now: Just ask this one. Those who go out to afternoon teas may not think so. Here is what happened on wash morning in one house not very long ago. The washing was through but it was a large one, and it was time to get dinner ready before the clothes could be hung out, and as there was a bunch of cranky men to be fed dinner could not be late. The clothes had to wait. After dinner the dishes were done up and her ladyship started for the big basket of linen and got it out to the line when a country relation came in for a meal. Here the trouble began, more dirty dishes, a fresh fire and a big delay. Some one lost her temper. The country relation was given dinner and left to eat it while the head of the house continued hanging out the clothes. These were all on the line, and things were running smooth again until the last article, a big blanket, was reached. This was thrown over the line but suddenly the line broke and down went the whole washing into the dirt. D—— Things were getting pretty hot and the air was stifling. It meant another day's work. The clothes were gathered up in her ladyship's arms and just as she was entering the woodshed she slipped and fell headfirst in a tub of dirty water that was waiting to be emptied. That capped the climax. Words were utterly useless to express her indignation. Things were thrown around and a big fuss was kicked up, and just because poor Polly in his cage called out you "d—— fool," he has since been in disgrace and not allowed to talk with the rest of the family. In the meantime the country relation gulped down her food, and quietly and quickly departed.

SHIPPING A YACHT.

"Solid Comfort" Being Sent Out to Winnipeg.

The Peterborough Canoe Company are loading that handsome big steam yacht "Solid Comfort" onto flat cars on the C.P.R. spur line to the Quaker Oats. The yacht is going to a gentleman in Winnipeg and has therefore a long journey before it. To get so large a vessel from their factory over to the C.P.R. tracks is no small job. The boat is 40 feet long, and will carry about 50 people. It is all finished in quarter cut oak, and has all modern improvements. In fact it is one of the handsomest and stauncest yachts ever turned out of Peterborough.

BUSINESS MEN'S OUTING.

Annual Outing to Rice Lake Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday afternoon the steamer Otonabee carried about 150 of the business men of the city on their annual outing to Rice Lake and return. A sumptuous dinner was served in the Highland Park Hotel. The steamer left the Wolfe street wharf at 1.30, and after calling at the street railway wharf proceeded to its destination. The trip down was thoroughly enjoyed and everyone present seemed to go in for a good time. At Highland Park there was an impromptu program of sport which was pulled off in good style. Mr. W. J. Edmunson, Hardwood's hustling general merchant was on hand and read the riot act at various stages of the proceedings. Shortly after sunset the party embarked for home and it is needless to say that the trip up the river was thoroughly enjoyed. The music, songs, speeches and stories helped to pass the time away pleasantly until home was reached.

MAY PATRONIZE

Special Car on the Street Railway in the Evenings.

The Street Railway Company's 5c per hour cars are extremely popular this week. Every ebening and afternoon the car and trailer are crowded. Every trip made around the line is a profitable one, and it is a good thing for the people that they can get out for an hour or so each day for fresh air and a change at so little expense. A trip on the cars at night is one of the features of summer life in a city and especially for the children who feel the heat so intensely. There is always a nice cool breeze and the fresh air is greatly enjoyed.

LUNG TROUBLE

PROMPTLY RELIEVED AND PERMANENTLY CURED BY INHALING CATARRHOZONE.

Mrs. May Brown, of Tancamp, N. S., was cured by Catarrhozone of lung trouble and Catarrh after hundreds of other remedies failed.

If your lungs are weak; if there is consumption in your family; if Colds, Catarrh and Bronchitis bother you, be sure to use Catarrhozone. It is so specially adapted for these diseases and cures every time.

Mrs. Brown took cough mixtures, but they made her sick. Then she used an atomizer, but, after resorting without benefit to poultices and numerous other remedies, she tried Catarrhozone.

"I used Catarrhozone Inhaler," writes Mrs. Brown, "five minutes every hour, and soon recognized that it was going to cure me. I could feel the soothing medicated air spreading through the air passages of the throat, and it touched the sore spots in the lungs that other remedies failed to reach. Catarrhozone seemed to go just where it was needed most, and soon put a stop to my cough. It restored me to perfect health, and I am convinced that no cough, cold or catarrh can exist if Catarrhozone is used."

No treatment is so clean, so pleasant, so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. By means of the Inhaler the local symptoms such as coughing, inflammation and congestion are speedily corrected. Ferrozone tablets, which are taken after each meal purify and cleanse the blood of all poisons and build up and strengthen the system.

This local and constitutional treatment is always effective, and cures cases that have been given up as hopeless. Money can't buy or produce anything better, and to get cured it is absolutely necessary to use Catarrhozone.

Complete outfit costs $1; small size, 50c. At druggists, or N. C. Polson & Kingston, Ont.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

Any measure adopted by the city fathers to safeguard the health of the community will be heartily endorsed by all right-minded citizens. Within the past few years property owners have fallen into line with the council's scheme for thoroughly sewering the town, and have readily assumed their financial share of this burden. In fact, of late years it has been somewhat difficult for our Board of Works to meet the numerous petitions before them for sewers as promptly as desirable. But they have risen to the occasion in a very commendable manner, until today our sewer system extends to all quarters of the city, and a new out fall will be imperative in the near future. Of course there are some streets not yet served but each year sees a satisfactory decrease in their number. But we offer that the city should go a step or two further in this matter in the interest of public health. In the first place authorities should make it compulsary for every property owner fronting sewer mains to connect his or her property with the same. It should not be possible for penmious or obstinate citizens to still retain backhouse nuisances to the annoyance of their neighbors, and in meance of public health, where the twentieth century convenience is at hand. And in the second place, it might be good policy for the city to construct sewers on every street, irrespective of petitions for same, charge the customery percentage of cost against the properties, and enforce the connection with every single house. This city is now too large for half way measures where sanitary precautions are concerned, and the sooner our sewer service is adopted by, and enforced on, the whole community the better it will be for the health of our citizens, generally.

IF SICK--WHY PAY

Unless Health First Returns.

Here is what should and can be done!

Now you would not willingly pay for food that was worthless—would you?

Then why pay for medicine until that medicine first proves to you its actual worth?

Positively knowing what Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do for the sick, I say to all: don't pay a penny on health first returns. And I back my confidence with a signed and sealed 30 day No Risk, No pay contract.

Simply write me to the sick, every line that "Dr. Shoop's Restorative is absolutely free if it fails". Let others do the same or else pass their prescriptions by.

If you need more strength, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, use my Restorative a few days and note the immediate improvement.

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys go wrong, then Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It does not make your stomach the heart or kidneys, for that is wrong. Yours can't cure any that without long in medicine. The books below will tell you how. I am reasonable.

These books also tell of a 30 day method "the sick nerve," no larger than a pinhead, that will love that nerve, until it fails, centrally gives to the Heart its power, its tone, its never-ceasing motion or impulse.

These books will open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. They tell of Stomach, and Kidneys each have their "buddy" or power nerves. They tell how the Restorative will centrally make to touch and vet helpless nerve right to the nerve center. All of these you may call why I am able to say, "It is Dr. Shoop's Restorative."

This is why I say "take no chance on a medicine unless maker dare not bank on it just as I do by this remarkable offer".

So write me today for the order.

I have negotiated honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community to have our medicines on the shelf.

But write me first for the order.

All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative, but all may not authorized to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line please—and thus save disappointment and delays. Tell me also which book you need.

A postal will do.

Besides, you are free to consult me as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailments. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription and personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request. So write now while you have it fresh in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

UNEXPECTED BENEFITS.

More Voluntary Concessions to Thousands of Policy-holders by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

A remarkable spirit of liberality toward its policy-holders is again the striking feature of the periodical statement on report of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, a summary of which is published this week.

The attitude of this great financial organization toward the millions of individuals who have relations with it invites comment, and affords some grounds for interesting comparisons.

Broadly speaking, the inducements offered by responsible life insurance companies to insurable persons are of two kinds. One consists in a proposition to carry a definite amount of "straight" insurance at low cost; the other offers innumerable plans by which in return for excessive premium payments the person insured is to "participate" in the earnings of the company, receiving benefits that are not definitely stated in the policy itself. The first plan appeals to the man of judgment as a clear-cut business contract under which all obligations are mutually understood. The other appeals to the speculative instinct, and demands a higher degree of confidence in the insuring company, which carefully avoids an absolute guarantee of benefits proportioned to the high rates demanded.

The Metropolitan Life sells "straight" insurance only; that is, it promises to pay at death, or at the expiration of your policy, a fixed sum plainly written in the contract. As a matter of course, it must sell this insurance at a cost low enough to secure business in competition with all the big insurance companies. Having issued such a policy, the company has no further obligations under its terms until the specified benefits are due and payable. The person insured is satisfied with his contract and expects only that it will be exactly carried out. So far as we know, any great financial or mercantile organization would consider such a contract final.

But at this point the Metropolitan Life chooses to temper hard-and-fast business methods by injecting a little "soul" into its after relations with the man who holds its policy.]

It must be kept in mind that the actual cost of insuring a life can by any human foresight be calculated in advance with absolute exactness. The death rate in a given population varies from year to year; the earnings of invested funds are bound to be greater or less through periods of prosperity and depression, the cost of operating the Company's business will each year bear a different proposition to the number and value of policies in force. Insurance must be sold at a price based upon its probable future cost under these varying conditions, and the safety of the company, upon which all its policyholders depend for protection, must be assured by estimating the cost as high as past experience has proven necessary.

The business of the Metropolitan Life has increased tremendously year by year, while its operating expenses, proportioned to the vast amount of insurance carried, grow steadily less. Ordinarily the resulting gains would be considered a legitimate reward of enterprise under capable management, in which the policyholders have no interest; but this particular insurance company chooses to share its prosperity with them by paying bonuses and increasing benefits.

The report just issued makes a remarkable showing:

The Company in ten years has reduced the ratio of expense to premium income on its business in all departments 15 per cent. In the Industrial Department alone the reduction accomplished in the past five years amounts to 8 per cent.—this last item representing a total of three and a half million dollars.

These great gains are being used to increase the benefits 10 per cent. on all policies in force since January 1, 1907.

As to policies dated previous to January 1, 1907, a bonus of 8 per cent. of the premiums is given for a year on all policies over five years old, and increased benefits are allowed on policies of long standing which become death claims.

To sum up these benefits—not promised to policy-holders nor expected by them—it is shown that during the past sixteen years the concessions and bonuses in the Industrial Department alone are equivalent to a gift outright of eighteen millions of dollars.

The Cowboy Sonnetear.

I seen a show last night at ol' Cheyenne,
And it was 'bout a feller who, like me,
Was rough and wild and ornery as could be,
Same as a bronk that hates the ways of men.
But he gits love struck, like I do, and then
He cuts out all that booze a-fightin' free
And studies nights and makes her see that he
Has got the makin' of a man, by heck!
And I am goin' to try that bowlegged game
And spruce myself like all stage lovers do
And show the teacher that, though my nickname
Is Piano Bill, I ain't so bad clear through.
And then I'll see—and darned quick, too, I suppose—
If things in life end like they do in shows.

Good Neighbors.

Nodd—You live next to a burying ground, don't you? How do you like it?

Todd—Very much. Good neighbors. Quiet and peaceable. Never running in unexpectedly.

"Are you crazy?"

"Very likely, but I thought I might get ahead of your speculators on the sidewalk."

The Irrelevance of Prue.

He came at eight; he stayed till nine;
At ten he still was there.
And he was talking fit and fine
When midnight chilled the air.

Yet he can't get it through his head
Nor comprehend today
What Prue referred to when she said,
"We move the first of May!"

A WONDERFUL MEDICAL FEAT IS ACHIEVED.

Prominent Physician Has Discovered a Sure Cure for the Great White Plague.

A discovery which can literally be called the eighth wonder of the world has been made recently by Dr. Peltier. This wonderful achievement was the labor of several years of chemical research, years of elation and discouragement as time without number he thought he had discovered a sure cure for tuberculosis only to find at the last moment that he had failed. But being a courageous man he bravely faced the many obstacles that were strewn along the path to fame and at last he succeeded in perfecting his remedy and now he stands the one physician on the earth who has proven to himself to be the greatest enemy in the world to the most deadly disease that is known to civilization, the White Plague.

And Dr. Peltier is justly proud of his great achievement. The treatment is not only a complete cure, but it will cure those who are in the last stages. In fact he has not failed in all the numerous cases he has yet treated, and they have been all the way from those suffering from the deadly plague in the first stages to many who have been given up as incurable by the world's most known physicians. One of the most notable patients he has permanently cured is President Porfirio Diaz of Mexico, who was a sufferer of tuberculosis for over eight years.

Dr. Peltier, when seen by a Times' reporter yesterday at his office, 389 Queen street, appeared to be more of a successful business man than such a successful physician as he has proved himself to be, although his whole appearance and manners showed that he was a man of extraordinary ability and intelligence. "Yes," he said to the reporter, "you are from The Times. Well, you are lucky to find me in at 6 o'clock, for my office hours are from 9 to 11 o'clock in the morning, 3 to 5 in the afternoon, and 7 to 9 in the evening, so you can see the small chance you ran of getting me at 6 o'clock.

"Want to know my history," said Dr. Peltier. "Well, I am a graduate from France, South America and the United States." Here the physician opened a drawer and showed The Times man 12 certificates from the various countries.

Dr. Peltier then proceeded to initiate the reporter into the most important thing, the great cure that had puzzled the world's greatest brains for years, the successful cure for tuberculosis. The treatment is to be taken in two parts. The first which is called the inhaler, is an effectual germ-cide, and stands about four feet high when placed on the floor. It is a aerophore or gigantic respirator. Patients taking the treatment are provided with inhalers to use in their homes. The lower portion of this wonderful invention is reserved for the chemical, while it is made in such a manner that water though it mixes in no way, is allowed to run around the fluid. Thus the air is preserved at the top and by the action of the chemical it is rendered innocuous from further infection, as well as killing any germs that have previously been absorbed. The medicine, which forms the second part of the treatment, is a excellent product prepared for anaemia, chorosis, infatuum, rapitis-tum, diabhrea, strong scrofulas, indigestion, debility in general, labor oasa, lung trouble, convulsions, and other diseases. This medicine which is sold in bottles carrying only the registered mark No. 75 has been highly praised by various hospitals and reformatories throughout America, as has been the inhaler which is harmless, and has no taste when taken whatever. These great necessities to the human race are manufactured by Drs. Peltier and Pelkey of Ottawa.

Dr. Pelkey will be at 389 Queen street, Peterborough for only three weeks to prove to the public that his remedy is all that they claim. After three weeks they will establish a permanent office in Toronto. Call or write for medicine or inhalers for free treatment.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupefying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy preparation. Sold by all dealers.

ST. JOHN'S CHOIR.

Had Trip to Burleigh Falls on the Water Lily.

The choir of St. John's church as the guests of the wardens and congregation had a most enjoyable trip to Burleigh Falls yesterday per steamer Water Lily. The day was an ideal one, and every minute was pleasantly spent. The scenery on that particular trip is indeed beautiful and especially at this time of the year. The wardens furnished tea on board going up, and when the party reached Burleigh they had dinner at the hotel and a splendid menu was provided, including some very choice bass and lunge. On the return trip Coleman Bros. catered to the wants of the young people, and everything was done to make the outing a pleasant one.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days tests will surely tell. Try it once, and sael Sold by all dealers.

THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE CO.

To Contractors

SEALED TENDERS for the construction of concrete storage regulating dams at the outlet of Great Dog Lake, in the District of Thunder Bay, near Port Arthur, will be received at this Department until noon of Monday, July 12th, 1909.

Tenders must be enclosed in a sealed envelope, endorsed "Tender for Dog Lake Storage Dams," and addressed to the Honorable J. O. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, Ontario.

Plans and specifications may be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department, and at the office of Mr. A. L. Russell, Civil Engineer, Port Arthur.

An accepted bank cheque, payable to the order of the Honorable J. O. Reaume, Minister of Public Works, for the sum of $2,000.00, and the bona-fide signatures and addresses of two sureties, or the name of a guaranteed company approved by this Department, prepared to give a bond for the due fulfilment of the contract must accompany such tender.

The Department will not be bound to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
H. F. McNAUGHTEN
Secretary of Public Works Department.

Department of Public Works, Ont., Toronto, June 23rd. 1909.

Newspapers publishing this without authority will not be paid for it.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, under the authority of Chapter 4, of the Statutes of Ontario, 1909, invites subscriptions from the public for a loan of $3,000,000 on behalf of the Province of Ontario, or "Ontario Government Stock."

The bonds will be dated 1st June, 1909, and payable on the 1st June, 1959, in denominations of $1,000 each, with coupons attached for interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 1st June and 1st December in each year at the office of the Provincial Treasurer, Toronto, or at the offices of the Bank of Montreal, in Montreal, Canada, and in New York, N. Y., at the holder's option. Bonds will be made payable to bearer, but on request will be registered in the office of the Provincial Treasurer and endorsed as payable only to the order of certain persons or corporations, and on request of holders will be exchanged for "Ontario Government Stock" at any time.

"Ontario Government Stock" will bear interest from the 1st day of June, 1909, principal payable on the 1st day of June, 1959, and interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum will be paid half-yearly by cheque on the 1st day of June and 1st day of December in each year. "Ontario Government Stock" may be subscribed for in sums of $50 or multiples thereof, and will be transferable in the books of the Treasury Department only by the holder or his attorney in similar manner to transfers of bank stock.

The issue price during the month of June, 1909, will be 102 for each $100, and after the 30th day of June, 1909, the issue price will be 103 and interest accrued from the 1st June 1909.

ALL BONDS AND INSCRIBED STOCK ISSUED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE SAID ACT ARE FREE FROM ALL ONTARIO PROVINCIAL TAXES, CHARGES, SUCCESSION DUTY AND IMPOSITIONS WHATSOEVER.

Purchasers of Stock or Bonds will be required to send certified cheque with the application, payable to the order of the "Provincial Treasurer of Ontario.

This loan is raised upon the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Ontario, and is chargeable thereupon.

Subscribers should state whether they desire bonds or "Ontario Government Stock."

Example: A subscriber for $1,000 will have the option of taking either a bond or "Ontario Government Stock." A subscriber for $700 will be given "Ontario Government Stock," as bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000.

Road Contracts

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned will be received up to 12 o'clock noon on FRIDAY, JULY 2nd. 1909, for chopping, clearing, stumping, and grubbing a way on road from THE MONTREAL RIVER AT SMYTHE TO GOWGANDA, following the line blazed by Mr. C. H. Fullerton, O. L. S., for the purpose of marking on the ground the location of said road. The length of the road will be about 27 miles.

The work of chopping, clearing, stumping and grubbing to include the cutting of all timber, brush etc. on the roadway to a width of 66 feet and removing all stumps, brush, timber, etc., from the central 30 feet, cutting, trimming, and neatly piling all the logs, brush and stumps on the roadside, outside of the central 30 feet, and burning same.

The work to be commenced immediately after the awarding of the contract and to be continued to the satisfaction of the engineer in charge of the work and completed by the 1st. of October, 1909.

Tenders shall be submitted on the blank forms to be obtained from any of the undermentioned.

The tenders to be at a rate per lineal mile of road. A guarantee company's bond approved by the Department will be required for the due fulfillment of the contract.

A marked cheque for five per cent. of the total amount of the contract must accompany each tender.

Plans and specifications of the work to be done may be seen at this Department, or at the office of Mr. C. H. H. Fullerton, C. E., New Liskeard, at the office of Alberta Skill, Mining Recorder at Smythe, or Harry Sheppard, Mining Recorder at Gowganda, or George T. Smith, Mining Recorder at Halleybury, or T. A. McArthur, Mining Recorder at Cobalt.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

ALMA-TADEMA STORIES.

Art Dealer Who Bought Pictures By the Dozen—Odd Superstition.

Alma-Tadema, the world-famous artist, confesses to a superstition concerning the number 17. "My wife was 17 when I first met her," he says, "and the number of the house to which I took her when we were married was 17. My present house did bear the same number, and the first spade was put to the work of building it on August 17. The—was in 1883.

"I had then been in possession of the place for three years, during that time designing and making plans and sketches for the house. On November 17, 1883, we took up our residence there."

The artist says that in 1884 he received a visit from the English picture dealer Gambart — il principe Gambarti, as they used to call him in Italy. He was the leading picture dealer of his day and was held in great respect by artists.

"I remember him on that first visit to me," the artist goes on, "standing before my easel, on which I had placed my Coming Out of Church, and saying: 'Did you paint that picture for the Vanderdeckits?'

"I assured him of the fact. He asked me if they had seen it, and what was the price. I told him that they had not seen it as yet.

"'Well, then,' said Gambart, 'I'll take it, and let me have a couple of dozen of that kind at progressive prices each half dozen.' It was really as if he had been buying bales of cotton.

"Four years did it take me to carry out Gambart's first commission, and the day arrived when Gambart again paid me a visit.

"'I want you,' he said, 'to paint me another four dozen pictures on the same condition of rising value.'

"I consented, and I did my best not to disappoint him. The Vintage was painted as one of them, and when the dealer saw it, perceiving that it was a far more important canvas than any of its predecessors—a work, too, that had cost me far more time and labor—he at once insisted upon paying for it the figure which was to have been given for the last half dozen."

The Shakespearean G.O.M.

The grand old man of the Shakespeare birthday celebration was Dr. Furnivall, who presided at the dinner of the London Shakespeare League. Dr. Furnivall is in his eighty-fourth year, and still as fit as the proverbial fiddle. Dr. Furnivall founded the Chaucer, New Shakespeare, Wyclif, and Shelley Societies; also a very different organisation, but characteristic of his versatile individuality—the Hammersmith Girls' Sculling Club. His athletic hobby has always been sculling; in fact, he actually continues to take sculling exercise at least one day a week on the Thames at Hammersmith. It would be difficult to specify a veteran who more admirably illustrates the motto, "Mens sana in corpore sano," than Dr. Furnivall.

No man living knows more about Shakespeare, and how Shakespeare should be acted, than he does. It is pleasant to find that, with all his vast experience, he looks with a favourable eye upon present Shakespearean productions as compared with those of the past. He is entitled to draw comparisons, not only by virtue of his unrivalled knowledge of the poet's works, but because he has clear recollections of the old Shakespearean actors. He vividly remembers seeing Macready in "Lear," yet he thinks that great actor was not very much better than some of our living players. Phelps, too, he readily recalls—"a competent, sound actor, but very solid and uninspired." Altogether, the doctor considers that there is more genuinely good Shakespearean acting now than ever there has been during his lengthly lifetime.

The King's Lunch.

King Victor of Italy is very fond of going out chamois hunting quite unattended, and one day he met with an agreeing experience. He had shot a chamois, and a peasant boy, who had seen the animal fall, offered to go and fetch it. The King thanked him, but the lad inquired what was to be his reward. "Well, what do you want?" asked King Victor. "A franc and half your lunch," was the reply. The bargain was struck, and the peasant went off and fetched the dead chamois. The King handed him a franc, and proceeded to divide his luncheon into two equal portions. But the peasant turned away in contempt, for it consisted only of black bread and a large raw onion. "Bah!" exclaimed the boy, disdainfully, "I thought you were a real gentleman, signor, but I see you are only a poor beggar like myself after all."

Only Partially Successful.

Butcher—Well, sir, did that piece of beef do for all your family?

Customer—Very nearly, but the doctor has hopes for three of them.

The Codmoppe.

Herrings are still eaten as much as in the days when Yarmouth had to send a hundred yearly to the king, baked in four and twenty pasties. But where is the codmoppe gone, and what was it like when kings dined off it in Lent? "Codmoppe sauce Hollandaise" would sound most intriguing on a fish menu. More original still would be the "rostid perpes" of a Henry V. banquet, which was the "sea swine" of the unrefined Saxon, the "porco marino" of the mediaeval ecclesiast. A master coke gives an early receipt for "puddyng of purpasse," another teaches how to "saute porpyesse and bake," another how to "undertraunche that purpos." From which it may be seen that enterprise extended also to the spelling of the purpoise.—London Chronicle.

Candymakers' Trials.

An Atchison man went into a candy factory. He was surprised to see one of the candymakers reach with his bare hand into a pot of boiling candy. He brought out a handful of the boiling fluid. He was testing its consistency. He first put his hand in a pail of water. After he had jerked out his hand he put it back in the water. The Atchison man tried the same thing and did it without getting burned.

Another Boring Question.

"I say, pa, is a man from Poland called a Pole?"

"Yes, my son."

"Then, pa, why isn't a man from Holland called a Hole?"—Comic Cuts.

Insult Added.

Big Man (with a grouch)—Will you kindly kindly get off my feet? Little Man (with a bundle)—I'll try, sir. Is it much of a walk?—Cleveland Leader.

IMPERIAL FREE TRADE.

Mr. Henry Heywood of Manchester Says It Is a Dream.

"Free trade within the Empire must still be a dream, but there may be an approximation to it," remarked Mr. Henry Heywood, of Manchester, to The Montreal Standard, recently.

"There is certainly a very strong tendency in England at present to take, at least, power to retaliate upon the foreigner, for the way in which he raises up his tariff walls against us, while, at the same time, using our free markets for his own benefit.

"The utmost, however, that, in a practical way, we could expect, would be the arrangement of a mutual preferential tariff. Many of the over-sea possessions of the Empire are in a state of development. They need protection—they need protection even against the Mother Country. Right Hon. Mr. Chamberlain once said that in not a few instances the over-sea possessions were like a neglected estate, which needed improvement and development. In the present state of productivity, it would hardly be possible, I think, to bring about free trade within the Empire, but it is something to be sought for, an ideal to be pursued.

"In a more advanced state of development, when the manufacturer can stand on his feet, when industrialism has been firmly established, when you can remove your bounties and subventions, when markets are defined and used to the full, when there is no longer the note of uncertainty—then you could talk about free trade within the Empire; but at present it would be a long step forward to realize mutual preferential trade.

"Each part of the Empire, separated from the other parts, has its own situations, its own needs, its own difficulties. Young industries, for instance, could not afford to be swamped by the incoming of products, belonging, say, to the Mother Country, and which, through long experience, through the best sort of plants, through cheap labor, could be produced for less than the colonial products. Geography, climate, distances, genius of the peoples, make differing needs. I think the first thing to do is to secure, if possible, mutual preferential trade between the several parts of the Empire, not hurting any interest, not destroying any fiscal system which, in the colonies, may have worked well and encouraged self-development, but each conceding something for the benefit of the whole.

"Mr. Balfour is willing to labor for a preference. So is the Unionist Party, and that will be the chief issue at the next election."

A Curious Tribe.

There is a curious tribe of people in Ceylon called the Rodigas, who live the life of social Ishmaels, despised and cast out by their fellows.

Until quite recently they lived apart from the abodes of other men, in holes and caves; in no case may they lie down to rest with other man; they may not enter a temple or a court of justice, and on all occasions are compelled to "stand afar off."

So low down in the scale of humanity are they placed that they may not even speak with strangers except through the intermediary of a man of the lowest caste above their own.

Of late years their status has been improved, and they are less servile in consequence, but even now they fall on their knees with uplifted hands to address people of the lowest recognised caste, and upon the approach of a traveler they shout to warn him to stop until they can get off the road, and he can pass without risk of defilement from the proximity of their persons.

But even amongst these people, who seem to have reached the very lowest rung of the human ladder, there are classes and social distinctions. Thus, the ambetteyos, or barbers, and the hanomoreyos, or betel boxmakers, are looked upon with contempt by the despised ostracized Rodigas, who go to the length of shutting up their dogs lest they should stray into the house of the low-born, or gnaw a bone that they may throw at them.

Had Proved It.

We had outspanned the wagons on the veldt between Pretoria and Kenhardt. The donkeys had been driven to the veldt, and we, my friend and myself, were talking in the "taal" to a Dutchman named Gert Maans about the wonders of the universe.

We mentioned that the world was round. Maans said that he knew it.

This answer was unusual for a Boer, so we asked him how he knew. He replied:

"I started to ride to Poortje one dark night through the veldt, and I rode hard all the night, and next morning I found myself at the place I started from, so I know the world is round because I rode round it."

"Blazers."

In the late sixties, when flannel coats of club colors first began to be used, the coat adopted for Magdalen College, Oxford, both for the "eight" and the "eleven," was scarlet, trimmed with blue silk. This naturally created some sensation for its conspicuous color and was visible half way up the High street. I think it was a Balliol man who first called these the "Magdalen blazers"; but the name had just come into vogue when I was at Oxford, and has since been extended to color coats of all kinds, however sombre their hue.—John Murray, in "Notes and Queries."

An Ambidextrous Golfer.

A correspondent at Sydney, Australia, writes to The Golfer to say that a bogey competition was recently won at Hunter's Hill out there by Mr. Robert Smith, "whose game is particularly interesting from the fact that he is an ambidextrous player. He carries round about an equal number of 'left' and 'right' handed clubs, and it is a matter of supreme indifference to him which he uses; in fact, if a match were to be arranged, 'Smith right-handed against Smith himself left-handed,' no one could tell which 'hand' it would be safer to back."

Fourflushers.

"Him a musician!" sneered Tots de Veau. "Why, he doesn't know the difference between a fugue and a symphony."

"Really!" cried L'Oignon, lifting his brows in shocked amaze.

An hour later they caught each other in the club library looking the difference up.

The Observed Errand Runners.

"It is really a pleasure, ma'am, to observe how readily your little boy runs your errands!"

"Oh, he's the boy that lives next door. I get him to do my errands because my own boy won't!"

"Ah! What is your boy doing now?"

"There he is, rushing on an errand for the lady next door!"

ROTHENBURG.

An Ancient City That Is Still Stately and Fascinating.

For a thousand years Rothenburg has been a city. For more than 500 years it was a free city of the empire. It is not like those ancient towns which, through centuries of strife, preserved their entity through being huddled near the base of some castle. It is not like those towns that were protected by powerful princes, for it has maintained itself by its own unaided sturdiness. If great barons came to Rothenburg they came to receive protection, not to give it, or else they came to be entertained with the lavish open handedness that made the city a place to which emperors themselves found pleasure in resorting.

By crusaders and pilgrims Rothenburg was held in affectionate regard, not only for its generous hospitality, but because, seen from the river, it bore a striking resemblance to Jerusalem. But there was order in those times of turbulence, and in an old, old house used by Palestine's pilgrims and still known as Pilgrims' House there is an ancient stone, bearing upon it an ancient carving of a hand and a hatchet, with the ominous inscription, "He who quarrels in this house shall have his hand cut off."

Yet since those early days the town has been comparatively forgotten. Even yet it has not become a haunt of the tourist and the traveler, although each year a few visitors resort there, bringing back tales of this city that out-Nurnberges Nurnberg. It is easily reached, being on a little branch line from the railway between Frankfort and Munich.

It is a place where the sightseer cannot go wrong, for everywhere is fascination. There are both stateliness and beauty. There are towering houses with crisscrossed fronts.

There are deep dungeons under the Rathhaus, reached by stairways dripping with moisture, into which not a ray of light can enter, and in one of these dungeons some five centuries ago the man of Rothenburg placed the burgomaster who, more than any other in the long burgomasterial line, give to the city power and wealth and prosperity. But they charged him with conspiring with the emperor and not only gave him no light, but edged their animosity by deliberately giving him no food. It is in all a fiercely dramatic story, for friends who were still faithful tunneled to the cell and madly cut through its prodigious wall and reached the prisoner, but only to find him dead.

Nowadays they treat unpopular burgomasters with more consideration. Each burgomaster is chosen for three years, and at the end of that time he is either elected for life or gives place to a successor. But an election for life does not give unchecked power, for it is a simple matter with these townsfolk, if they tire of a life chosen mayor, to make him "so crazy with vexation," as it was expressed to me, that he is glad to resign and accept the pension that they palliatively offer. Only recently they thus got rid of one.—Robert Shackleton in Harper's Magazine.

The Wise Goose.

You must not say "as silly as a goose" any more, for naturalists have been studying this animal of late years, and they have come to the conclusion that she is the wisest old bird going.

She never quarrels without cause; she sees danger before any other fowl; she has more courage than the rooster; she is far braver than the gobbler, and, if given a fair show, she can beat off the fox.

A flock of geese squatted around the barnyard at night is a much greater protection than the watch-dog. They are light sleepers and will give the alarm the instant they see a stranger moving about.

So in future say "as wise as a goose" and give her all credit.—Montreal Standard.

The Irreparable Loss.

"What has happened to me?" asked the patient when he had recovered from the effects of the ether.

"You were in a trolley car accident," said the nurse, "and it has been found necessary to amputate your right hand."

He sank back on the pillow, sobbing aloud.

"Cheer up," said the nurse, patting him on the head; "you'll soon learn to get along all right with your left hand."

"Oh, it wasn't the loss of the hand itself that I was thinking of," sighed the victim. "But on the forefinger was a string that my wife tied around it to remind me to get something for her this morning, and now I'll never be able to remember what it was."

Corrected.

Inspector of Village School (questioning class)—Now, my boy, what is an island? Pupil (dejectedly)—I dunno, sir. Inspector—Well, for instance, could I ride from here to France? Pupil (brightening up)—Nos, sir, that yer couldn't, for feyther saw yer on hossback t'other day an' sed as how he' lay a shillin' yer couldn't ride a mile without a-wabblin' off.—London Spare Moments.

The Chafing Dish.

"Do you know how to use a chafing dish?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Sirius Barker. "I have some novel ideas on the subject."

"What are they?"

"The best way I know of to use a chafing dish is to punch a hole in the bottom of it, paint it green and plant flowers in it."

Persuasive.

"Could you tell me where I can get a drink at this time of night?"

"No, sir," says the police officer sobbingly.

The belated individual goes on his way, but at the next corner he has a new idea, so he returns to the faithful officer and inquires confidentially:

"Could you tell me where we can get a drink at this time of night?"

Threw Herself at Him.

"She says he is not such a good catch, after all."

"She says that, eh? He must have dropped her."

Fame.

"Why seek for fame, ambitious youth?
The world its oft forgot the while"
He answered, "I do so, because
Because it pays to advertise."

THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Refuses to Spend Money in Useless Advertising

INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL REVIEW.

F. McPhillips, Editor,
Toronto, 5th December, 1908. J. H. Brock Esq.,
Great-West Life Assurance Co.,
Winnipeg, Man.

Dear Sir:—

I presume that some time during the present month you will be rearranging your advertising for the ensuing year, and I beg to remind you that when we discussed the matter, when you were here during the Summer, you said it would be considered at the first of the year. Up to the present time I have not had the privilege of carrying a card of your Company, nor have I ever published your annual statement.

I would be pleased if you would give both these your favorable consideration for the coming year.

Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) F. McPHILLIPS.

THE GREAT WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

The Insurance and Financial Review, Winnipeg, March 27th. 1909.
Toronto, Ontario.

Gentlemen:—

We have not overlooked the information you gave us regarding rates in the Review, but so far it has not been decided to extend our advertising appropriation in this direction. However, your information is still before us, and when a decisionis arrived at you will be advised.

Yours truly,
THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Per "G.W.R."
Advertising Department.

The Great West Life Assurance Company thought it would not be profitable to the Company or to its policy-holders, who are interested in its revenues, to spend money uselessly in advertisements appearing in a journal, in their opinion, practically unknown, except to insurance agents. Accordingly it was decided not to advertise in that journal, though we expected that it might attack the Company. What we expected happened. Nevertheless the Company intends to advertose only in such reputable papers as it considers will give results beneficial to the insuring and the Company.

Some unscrupulous representatives of competing Companies make use of the unfair attacks of such journals without explaining the circumstances of the attacks, or the absurdity of the statements made, and we trust those who are approached by such agents will inform themselves on the subject by reading carefully the articles and the notes and comments thereon.

The Article

Representations have reached us with disconcerting frequency of late that conditions in regard to the Great West Life Assurance Company are by no means satisfactory.

The Annual Report, which was published early in March, contains this remarkable statement: "We have this year changed all our records so that policies payable by instalments are entered not at their face values, but at their commuted values." It is well known that the Company has not until very recently availed itself of regular actuarial advice and very possibly much of the criticism incurred is attributable to this neglect, but we might ask why this rather important matter was overlooked by the Department of Insurance in the course of its yearly inspections. Inaccuracy in one part of a statement is apt to lead to suspicion of other parts.

PROFIT VARIATIONS.

We have before us a pamphlet issued by the Great West Life Assurance Company, entitled "Actual Results to Policy holders;" "Paid by the Great-West Life Assurance Company under the Fifteen Year Preferred Dividend Policies which matured in 1907, together with the Results under Policies maturing in 1908." L

We quote two cases of Fifteen Year Endowment Policies maturing in 1908.

Policy No.	Amount.	Premiums paid.	Total cash value of policy.
640	$1,000	$969.75	$1,575.00
823	1,000	945.00	1,519.00

It is generally believed that the profits shown under these policies are excessive. This view is strengthened by a comparison with a five-year period policy upon the same 15 year Endowment plan which shows accumulated results as follows:

Policy No.	Amount		1,000
Total cash value of Policy.			$1,164.50

We bear in mind the solemn "warning" printed in the daily press broadcast throughout this country over the signature of the Head Office of the Company. This reads in part as follows:

"An anonymous, typewritten letter is being circulated, dishonestly, "comparing our recent dividends upon "five year period' policies with "dividends upon "fifteen year period' policies, without explaining the es- "sential differences between the two forms of insurance."

It is the fundamental principle of justice that "he who would receive equity must himself give equity." This is not evident in the paragraph quoted above. In the comparison made there is no essential difference between the two forms of insurance. They are identical. The only difference lies in the methods of alotting the profits to the same forms of insurance.

It must be remembered that, in the case of Policy No. 968, quoted above, the profits were alotted every five years, but were left by the insured in the hands of the Company for accumulation during the entire term of fifteen years. Acoording to the statements of the Company these profits are subject to increment at the rate of interest earned by the Company. In the case of endowment assurances for so short a term as fifteen years the survivorship factor is almost a negligible quantity for profit-making purposes.

ACTUARIAL METHODS FAULTY.

It follows that either the profit upon the five year period policy is less than that to which the insured was entitled, or, on the other hand, the allotment to the fifteen-year period policies was vastly in excess of their actual earning. Having in mind the expense ratio of the Great West Life in the past fifteen years, there appears very little difficulty in determining which of these views is correct. The Company has forty millions of insurance in force, and until last year had no regular expert actuarial advice. The finger of Mr. C. C. Ferguson, A.I.A., is already a parent in the Company's statement, and it is only to be regretted that very much earlier opportunity of scientific advice was not availed of.

THE "SPECIAL POLICY."

Every student of life assurance conditions prevalent during the past twenty-five years is aware that the evil odor attaching to the business some years ago was attributable more directly to the employment of so-called "Special Agents" or "Lightning Specials" than to any other single factor. These gentry had no stake in the Company they were represented (or misrepresented). Generally they were importations from the neighboring Republic. The great argument in use was that they were alone empowered to offer something special to wealthy clients, or, in other words, that the prospective victim was fortunate enough to have encountered a "Bargain Day" in life assurance. The results accruing from these methods are too well known to insurance men to need repetition. It is somewhat amazing to find that a Canadian Life Company could to-day be found to essay the recrudescence of so unfortunate a system.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company has recently been selling what is described as a "special" policy. It should be understood that this is nothing more than an ordinary life policy, payable at death by instalments. Some also contain the return premium feature.

One sample policy we have before us, dated April 24th. 1907, and which has been used by Great-West Agents in their canvass, is on the ordinary Life plan, face value $25,000, payable in fifteen annual instalments of $1,000 each, first instalment payable at death, with $10,000 additional at the end of fifteen years after death, the annual premium at age 35 being $591.00. Also in the event of death of the assured within twenty years from issue date, all premiums paid are to be returned with the sum assured. Let us now take up the privileges and conditions. We wish to call special attention to the clause re Distribution of Surplus, which reads in part as follows:

"On the first day of April., 1912, and at the end of every fifth year thereafter, if this policy be then in full force, it shall participate in the profits of the Company. An individual account shall be kept with this policy, and whenever the surplus apportioned thereto, accumulated with interest at 4 per cent. (or at the rate earned if in excess of 4 per cent), compounded annually shall be sufficient to prepay all future premiums, the insured will be notified, and no future payment of premiums shall be required."

Such a clause is most obscure. We are informed that Great-West Agents have told prospects that at the end of 16 or 17 years the profits would be sufficient to pay all future premiums, and it is understood that some have taken policies in that belief. Needless to say, such hopes are impossible of realization, as will be evident from the following table:—

(1) End of year	(2) Value of future Premiums	(3) Profits per $1,000 required to meet this	(4) Percent. of premiums paid
15	$7,793.52	$436.00	93
20	6,825.48	382.00	61

From these we see that the profits at the end of 17 years would have to equal 78 per cent. of the premiums already paid in order to prepay all future premiums. It is reasonable to suppose that any company can return as profits four-fifths of the premiums paid? Where would the Cash Surrender Value come from in such a case? The absolute impossibility of such a thing is apparent, and yet the agents pushing this special plan are thus, we understand, representing this condition.

We are further informed that in some cases the agent has not been content with the very rosy prospect indicated above. In a canvass in an Eastern Ontario City one agent is alleged to have told his prospect that it was almost certain that the policy would become paid up in ten years! Such things seem almost incredible in these days.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.

We take policy No. 36,003 for $1,000.00 to illustrate a further point. One section of this policy is grossly misleading. On the third page is given a table of surrender values, including cash, paid up, and extended insurance features, these values being given for various years from three to twenty. The table is headed as follows:

"Table of non-forfeiture options for each $1,000 of commuted amount."

In very small writing and hidden away at the bottom of the policy are words to the effect that the commuted value of this policy is $7,155.00. A keen insurance man would, of course, know that the surrender values applicable to the particular policy would be 7.155 times the figures given in the tables, but the ordinary layman, and we think even to a good many insurance men, the tables of values would be multiplied by ten in order to get the figures applicable to the policy. If it came to a question to be decided in the courts, we believe the Great-West would have no difficulty in maintaining that the surrender values applicable to the policy would be the lower amounts given above, but we think we are safe in saying that these surrender values should have been

The Great-West's Reply

The Insurance Department has always required all Companies to report business at the commuted value, and we have always done so, as the writer of this article could easily have found by referring to the Blue Book. His criticism, therefore, of the Insurance Department and of the Company falls to the ground. Our office records have always been correct, and the change referred to was made solely with a view to simplify the bookkeeping methods of obtaining the same results. Many Companies have pursued exactly the same course. The effort to make a point out of this shows how hard pressed the writer was to find something to say.

Under the heading "Profit Variations," his position is equally ridiculous, and he has deliberately tried to create a wrong impression as to an advertisement inserted by the Company by omitting a portion in which we say: "We are still paying on 5 year and longer dividend period policies the highest dividends—premiums being taken into account—now being paid by any company."

The very large dividends referred to on our 15 Year Tontine policies are as great a source of satisfaction to our policy-holders as they are of annoyance to some of our competitors and all journals of the calibre of our critic. The reason why these large dividends were paid was because the Company's earnings were such that our then Actuary, Mr. W. T. Standen, advised that the policy-holders were entitled to them.

The writer seems desirous to leave the impression that the holder of Policy No. 968 has reason to be dissatisfied with his results. We have clear evidence that this is not the opinion of the policy-holder himself, since on receiving his settlement he straightway insured the life of his son in this Company.

As to "Acturial Methods," the statement that we had no expert Actuarial advice is absolutely false, as Mr. William T. Standen, F.A.S., was employed as consulting Actuary, and advised us on every point requiring the assistance of an Actuary from the time we commenced business, until his death, which only occurred a few months before our present Actuary was appointed.

The "Special Policy"—This Special Policy has been so admired by the insuring public and competing companies that several of the principal companies of Canada have copied it, and other companies have notified their agents that they will issue it if no other form of policy be accepted by the applicant. The form of the policy is such that it invites investigation of profit-earning capacity, and, consequently, applications have been particularly easy to secure by agents of the Great-West Life.

The introduction by the Company of such a popular policy shows that it understands and meets the wishes of the insuring public.

The clause as to distribution of surplus, which is stated by the Editor to be obscure, is on the contrary, so clear and plain that it has never been misunderstood by any policy-holder and can easily be understood by any intelligent school boy 15 years of age.

The ignorance of the writer is shown clearly when he attempts to quote actual figures; for instance—the amount of profits required to make the policy referred to a paid-up one in twenty years is given as $387 whereas the correct amount is $260! All the other figures in this table are equally incorrect, and the conclusions are absolutely unfounded.

As to the statements that agents have represented that the Policy will be paid up in a shorter time than is possible or reasonable, we believe the writer has called upon his imagination for his facts. Certainly if the statements were made by anagrent, such as he states have been made, the agent and the policy-holder misled by him would both be fit candidates for a lunatic asylum.

As to the Non-Forture Options.—The labored effort to show that there is something wrong with this table is another evidence that the writer was hard pressed for something to say about the Company when he called attention to the fact that that a certain clause was at the bottom of the policy. He conceals the fact that the clause is at the foot of the table of surrender values—the only place where it could be properly placed. Was this honest, or does it show the spleen of the writer of the article? Something must be at the bottom of the policy; therefore, no matter what we placed there, the the argument might be used that it was placed there for the purpose of concealment. If we had printed the policy without referring to commuted values, the same writer would have objected to this with just as much weight as he has because we have inserted the commuted values.

REMAINS A MYSTERY.

Maze of Conflicting Stories Told by Chinaman.

New York, June 23.—If the statement made by Chung Sin last night accusing Leon Ling of having killed Elsie Sigel, has given the authorities any tangible clue to the hiding place of Leon, the police have not made it known, and it has as yet resulted in no arrest.

In the maze of conflicting stories told by Chung, and even after he apparently gave in under the incessant accusations and questions of the police, Lung is quoted as asserting that he does not know where Leon fled after tying Miss Sigel's body in the trunk, although he admitted giving Leon the larger part of $260 which Chung had borrowed from Chu Gain.

The renewed activity of the police during and after Chung's statement might indicate, however, that the Chinaman told a great deal more about Leon than the police have allowed to become public. There was much telegraphing about the country by the police last night following Chung's story that he saw Leon strangling the young woman.

Chung's reluctance in telling the facts, his evident intention to deny that he knew anything at all about the murder, and his extraordinary indifference as to the terrible fate of the young missionary, all convince the police that the cool and wily Chinaman has by no means told all he knows about the murder.

Further attempts to make him divulge the facts which the police most desire—those giving a clue to Leon's hiding place—will be made, but there seems to be scant hope of getting any useful information.

RICHER THAN COBALT.

Shining Tree is Likely to Prove Another Cobalt.

Port Arthur, June 25.—Mr. Alex. Laudry, a Sudbury citizen has just returned from the Shiningtree district where he has been prospecting on and off for the last two years. Mr. Laudry is one of the old timers and mentions that he stood on the big diabase ridge north-east of Shiningtree on July 13, 1906. He has the greatest confidence in the future of the Shingtree district and says that, in his opinion, it will surpass Dohalt one of these days. Mr. Laudry has, during the last six months, located nearly 150 claims for various parties, many af which have good showings. He says that if he had accepted the propositions from various parties to prospect on the basis of an interest instead of for wages, that he would have been worth $100,000 in clear cash today for his own small interests.

SUPPLANTING MALE TEACHERS.

Rev. Wm. Philp, president of the Montreal Conference of the Methodist chuteh, has spoken out upon the subject which has given thoughtful proole much concern, namely, the manner in which women are supplanting men in the teaching profession. Mr. Philp declared that as one result of the change the nation is likely to be endangered. Perhaps his views are too pessimistic or too alarmist but the matter is unquestionably a serious one. Up to a certain are women make the best teachers, their strongly sympathetic nature especially fitting them to educate children of tender years, and they may be quite as good for girls of maturer years, but there comes a period in almost every boy's life when he needs, in order to have the manly virtues cultivated to be under the influence of a manly man as teacher. This falling off in the number of male teachers is not, it appears, confined to Canada. It is quite as marked in the old world as in the new.

The question is, What is the remedy? Teachers' organizations have discussed the subject, and one conclusion that they have arrived at is that the inadequate salaries paid is one of the chief reasons of men not entering the profession. In may Canadian cities and certain towns the Public School boards have grasped and dealt with the problem ten or twelve room schools, the first firmly by deeding that all the public schools shall have male principals. In some cities, where there are assistant is also a male teacher. This ensures that the older boys are under the control of a man, and meets all requirements. It is only necessary for school boards in towns and cities to decide upon this course, and male principals and first assistants can be secured provided always adequate salaries are paid. The remedy can be applied in rural schools, too, if trustees decide that they will have and have only male teachers, but they must be prepared to pay salaries which will induce men to enter and remain in the teaching profession. The inducement which the Ontario government has given to encourage the payment of higher salaries by paying a percentage is having some effect, but not so much as some of the admirers of the provisions made for this purpose hoped. It will take a more general heroic determination on the part of rural trustees as well as a greater generosity in the matter of salaries to replace the male teacher in the relative position which he once occupied.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company Refuses to Spend Money on Useless Advertising

put out in an entirely different way, and that they are absolutely misleading in the way they are given. The policy is talked, sold and accepted as an insurance of $10,000, and it is only natural for the policy-holder to assume that he will be entitled to surrender values on a $10,000 basis.

We hesitate to say it, but the facts do not seem to point to an unwillingness on the part of the Head Office of the Great-West to be a party to the deception which has almost invariably been attached to the sale of these and similar policies. It will be universally admitted that ordinary policies are more frequently sold than instalment policies, and also that in getting out a printed form it is usual to make the form applicable to the majority of cases and not to the exceptions. The Great-West has apparently gone at this matter in exactly the opposite way and got out a form to fit the exceptions, for otherwise it would have headed these columns as follows:—

"Tables of surrender values per $1,000 (Face Value)." If it desires to be perfectly fair to its policy-holders, it should place the values in an instalment policy to apply $1,000 of the nominal value, so that a policy-holder holding one of these special policies for $10,000 would obtain the values applicable to his policy by simply multiplying the values given by ten. This method would have the advantages of being both perfectly clear and easily computed. In the Great-West form, the values are hard to compute and are absolutely misleading.

NOT ALL TREATED ALIKE.

We have recently seen another policy issued for $50,000.00 in which some of the clauses that we have taken exception to have been modified very considerably by printed or typewritten slips pasted over the original printed conditions. It is evident that some applicants for this "Special" policy are wiser than others, and that their vigilance is by no means disadvantageous. We opine, however, that this reflection can hardly bring much comfort to the bulk of the people who have acquired this kind of policy without taking some advice other than that afforded them by the Great-West Life agent.

We have purposely taken several policies to illustrate our various points. It would have been unwise to have selected one only for the reason last given—that there does not appear to be that uniformity which is customary in the issues of life companies in general.

The hope may be expressed that the Great-West Life Assurance Company will see its way to withdraw from circulation a policy contract which can hardly fail to reflect adversely upon the Company in the future.

The statement that all policy-holders "are not treated alike" is absolutely false. We defy the writer of the article to show that any difference has ever been made by the Company between policy-holders of the same class.

The editor of the best Insurance Journal in North America has referred to the profit plan used in our policies as being "an embodiment of the true principles of life insurance," and we did not advertise with that journal either.

A Striking Story of Evil and Reform of Chicago

MRS. JOS. T. BOWEN, OF Chicago, delivered one of the most practical addresses yet heard at the Congress to the delegates of the "Social and Moral Reform" section. Her audience was kept in continual gasp of surprise at the depths of degredation to which human beings will sink in a great city. "Protective Work for Children in Chicago," was the subject so ably handled. Miss Riddell, Toronto, occupied the chair.

"1,500 children pass through the juvenile courts annually in the United States," said Mrs. Bowen, "and $500,000,000 more is spent in fighting crime than in religious work.

Evil on the Films.

A YEAR AGO THERE WERE 425 five-cent theaters in Chicago, and in 50 per cent. of them the pictures were indecent. A considerable portion of the remainder portrayed scenes of crime and bloodshed. For instance, there was one film which dealt with the adventures of a "Gentlemanly Burglar." While it was being exhibited twelve boys were brought into the juvenile court on charges of house breaking, and they admitted that they were only imitating the hero of the five cent theater.

"In another case "The Cruel Step-father' was killed by the theatrical good boy. That night a little fellow who sat in the audience and heard its applause went home and shot his step-father when he spoke a few irritable words to his mother. The boy was surprised when he did not receive the applause of the police for his act.

"At one theater the Thaw-White murder was exhibited by films, and in such detail that little was left to the imagination.

"CHICAGO DRUGGISTS SOLD cocaine to children on account of the great profits arising from the sale of the drug," continued Mrs. Bowen. "The result was that the hospitals and asylums were rapidly filling up with semi-imbeciles whose brains had been partially destroyed.

"The slot machines were simple gambling devices. Children sold their their school books in order to get money to play these machines. An especially obnoxious device was a different kind of machine, which showed questionable pictures when a cent was dropped into the slot."

Mrs. Bowen electrified her audience by true stories of the entrapping of young girls into houses of ill-fame.

"But through organization and cooperation we are securing a new era in Chicago," continued Mrs. Bowen "We have divided the city into 16 districts. These districts are subdivided into "blocks." Over each "block" is one of our officers, whose special duty it is to watch for law-breaking saloon-keepers, obscene pictures, slot machines, houses of disrepute, and dealers who break the cigaret laws. By carrying a case through the Supreme Court of Illinois, we closed up the slot machines. One of the owners came to me with tears in his eyes and said, "You reformers have spoiled my business. I am going to move farther west. The fiends who sold cocaine to children have been under special surveillance.

Fines Are Heavy.

"FOR THE FIRST OFFENCE the fine is now "$1,000, and for the second offence imprisonment is the punishment.

"During the last year our officers have secured the conviction of 260 saloon-keepers for breaking the law. We kept constant watch on the houses of ill-fame, and are doing a great deal to stop the infamous trade of procuring."

Mrs. Bowen believes thoroughly in the doctrine of substitution.

"We cannot take away evil influences unless we replace them by something good," she said "We must have swimming pools, playgrounds, and clubs. But, above all, we must attack the home. In Germany they have legislation cogerning the construction of tenement houses, which are required to have lawns, ventilation, and an opportunity for the occupants to breathe reasonably fresh air. The little children must be reached before they have been infected by the terrible atmosphere in which many of them live."

Mrs. Bowen has the appearance of being a very capable executive person. She has the brains and energy of the typical Chicagoan who has achieved success. Mrs. Bowen's hobby is the protection of children, and she is riding it day and night.

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW ST. VICTORIA, B. C.
Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsina Sound, Vancouver Island.

Asset.

The company have acquired 25,000 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 20,000 inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 12,000 to 15,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 200 tons of news and wrapping per week. we are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture above and wrapping paper should not exceed $5,000 per ton. At present news is selling in British Columbia at $60.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia, on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $2.50 to $3.50 per cord, in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $1.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $3.50 to $5.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the preferred stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 12 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium; remember the time to buy stock in any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent, annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 20 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $20.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $35.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $25.00 per ton on wrapping and $15.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $6.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1908 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $351,465. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,251,396. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 24th, 1907, Bulletin 69, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 20 3-5 per cent. of the value of goods over all expenses, of 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International Paper Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,436,512.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $37.50 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent, on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent, upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 10 per cent. more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volume of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $2.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Province for its supply of pulp and paper. We have the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 25 square miles, which comprise a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., upon which before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

WONDERFUL INCREASE.

Great West Life Co. is Popular With Canadian People.

On its record the Great-West Life Assurance Company has nothing to fear from free, open and honest criticism, and for this reason its advertising department has not hesitated to reject publicity propositions made to it from time to time by certain class journals that the officials of the company in their wisdom feel would not yield a result sufficient to warrant the expenditure that would be involved. The company's policy, as outlined in a statement that will be found elsewhere in this issue, is to reserve the right to advertise in such reputable papers as it considers will give results beneficial to the insuring public and the company. The non-compliance of the company to the demands for advertising appropriations has led to attacks being made upon it in certain of these journals and representatives of competing companies have used these attacks in the way of fairness without explaining the motives that gave rise to them or the unreliability of the statements alleged. For the year 1908 the Great West Life Assurance Company shows a gain in business in force in Canada of $6,945,738, or 50 per cent. greater increase in Canadian business than any other company, Canadian, English or foreign, which is a sufficient evidence that it has found favor with the public.

AN ILL WIND

That Blew No One Any Good Says He.

A very well known citozen was telling of an unfortunate accident which occurred to a young lady friend of his, and which turned out unfortunately for him. The young lady was visiting at his place, and by the way, she was young and very pretty. One day she went with a party up to Stony Lake per steamer but while climbing the rocks on one of the islands she sprained her ankle and the rest of her trip was marred. Upon the arrival of the boat at Lakefield on the return trip an automobile was secured to bring the unfortunate one home in a hurry. She arrived at the house at the same time as the hero of the story, and a hurried explanation of the trouble resulted in his niba putting on the kettle and getting the water boiled over the gas stove. In the meantime he hunted up some bandages and allowed himself to dream dreams and to see wonderful visions as things looked as if he would be the doctor. But this was one of those ill- winds which blew no one any good for just as he had everything all ready and was rolling up his sleeves the better half of the house appeared on the scene and performed the operation.

Passenger Service on Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Advices have been received from the General Passenger Department of the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry., that their first regular passenger train which is being operated between Winnipeg and Scott, a distance of 569 miles, was thoroughly satisfactory both as to service and patronage. Brass band receiptions were given the train at every point along the line.

PHYSICIANS DISAGREED.

St. Louis, Mo., June 25.—Believing he was suffering unendurable pains from a disease of an artery, Dr. Justin Steer a member of the faculty of Washington University, killed himself yesterday with prussic acid. He left a note diagnosing his ailment.

The family physician said that he and several specialists had examined Dr. Steer many times and that Dr. Steer had no such illness as he imagined.

It is pretty nearly up to some one of the kickers to write a letter to the papers blaming the City Council for the very hot weather we have had for the past week. It is certainly a corker, and there is no reason to doubt but that if the aldermen were really onto their job they could regulate the extent of the heat to such an extent that it such an extent that all would be satisfied. It would be interesting to have the opinion of Mr. W. A. Bailey on this matter.

Appetite Gone---Nerves Badly Run Down

A Strong Moral Well Exemplified in Mrs. Wilson's Case.

Like thousands of other people at this season of the year Mrs. E. P. Wilson was tired and worn out—winter sorely tired her health and vigor. But now she is robust and well, eats well, sleeps well, feels invigorated and braced. "For some years," writes Mrs. Wilson of Wainwre, P.O., "I suffered from systematic weakness, biliousness and depressing headache. I could take little nourishment and grew thin and pale. If I ate a hearty meal the result was dreadful. Pains started at my chest, and spread all through my body going across my stomach, back and right side. I was discouraged till a friend insisted on me taking Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They made a new woman of me, and for the past eight months my health has been perfected. For a good cleaning, rejuvenating medicine I urge every one to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

There is extraordinary and magic power in Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they bring vigor, tone, health and spirits—are compounded from the most wonderful and healing juices and essence in vegetable life—are safe for young and old and guaranteed to kindle renewed activity and strength of every system that is weak, sickly or run down from kidney, liver, stomach or bladder trouble. MUNICIPALITIES TO Fight the Cameron Septic Tank Co. of Chicago.

The Ashburnham septic, or sedia demand for royalty by the Cameron Tank Company of Chicago, is not a matter of mere local import, some fifteen or twenty Ontario municipalities being subjected to a similar demand, and these are making common cause in challenge of the Chicago people's claim.

Thursday, Ald. Phelan, chairman of the Board of Works, and the city solicitor, Mr. Hall, were in Toronto to attend a meeting of representatives of several—twelve or fifteen—towns and cities, which have installed septic tanks similar to that erected in Peterborough, and have been asked to consider the payment of royalty. Mayor Stevely of London, was mace chairman, and Mr. W. D. Chipman, C.E., secretary of the conference, which discussed the situation and adjourned to meet again early in July. In the meantime the Provincial government will be interviewed in regard to the matter.

Wedding Bells

McILMOYLE—EDMISON

A quet but pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Edmison, of Bridgenorth, when her youngest daughter, Lillie, was united in holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Frank McIlmoyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McIlmoyle, Selwyn.

The ceremony was performed at 6.30 o'clock by the Rev. Mr. Bonner of Gilmour Memorial church, in the drawing room, which was tastefully decorated with ferns and orange blossoms.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white glory cloth, which was beautifully made and trimmed with Irish hand-made lace and insertion, and being attended by her niece, who was also tastefully dressed in white organdie trimmed with lace and insertion, while Mr. Almond Galvin, cousin of the groom, acted as best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Stinson, cousin of the bride. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous repast. A large number of beautiful presents were received by the bride, evidencing the high esteem in which she is held by her many friends. The bride's going away suit was of blue cloth with hat to match. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in games and music, after which the bride and groom left for their future home in Selwyn.

HAWTHORNE—MONK.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon at St. John's church between Mary Beatrice, fifth daughter of Thomas and Amy Hawthorne, of 102 1-2 Gladstone avenue, and Thomas Monk of this city.

Both bride and bridegroom are Old Country people but have been residents of this city for more than three years, both being natives of the old Carpet Borough, of Kidderminster. Great interest was taken in this happy event by the employes of the Brinton Carpet Co., their fellow-workers contributing heartily to the numerous useful presents, among them being one from the women of the finishing department, a handsome clock. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a gold pendant and the bride's gift to the groom was a very pretty gold Albert, while the bridegroom's gift to Miss Harriet Downman, the chief bridesmaid, was a pretty pearl brooch and rose bud hat pin. The bride wore a charming gown of cream colored de soie, trimmed with old lace and was given away by her father. She also wore a spray of orange blossoms from the Old Country underneath her large white picture hat, and carried a large shower bouquet of pink and white carnations.

CHRONIC CATARRH NOSE AND THROAT

"At the Advice of Friends I Tried Peruna and the Results Have Been Highly Satisfactory." — So Writes Mr. Pilon.

MR. RAOUL PILON, 116 Rue Notre Dame, Lachine, P.Q., Can., writes: "I write you a few words to express to you my satisfaction at being cured. I was afflicted with catarrh of the throat and nose and suffered much. I was greatly discouraged. I had a bad breath and a bad taste in my mouth in the morning.

"I took treatment for some time without obtaining relief. At the advice of friends I tried the Peruna and the results have been highly satisfactory. At the end of four months I was completely cured."

Neglected catarrh becomes chronic. Having developed into the chronic stage, a longer and more persistent treatment will be required to cure it than if the disease were treated at the onset.

However, Peruna generally brings relief, whether the catarrh is acute or chronic. If you are wise you will keep Peruna on hand and take a few doses at the first appearance of a cold or cough, and thus perhaps save yourself both suffering and expense.

Peruna is recognized the world over as a standard remedy for catarrh. A multitude of people have been benefited by it.

FISHING PARTY.

Have Returned From Ketcheum Lake.

The last of the fishing party who have been spending the past ten days at Mr. H. LeBrun's cottage, "Bellechase," Stony Lake, have returned to the city. This annual outing of the Ketcheum Club has been a very pleasant one, and the members have been very successful, a large number of fine bass being caught. In fact it has been the most successful outing in the history of the party. Several of the members could only stay for a few days but the number was always large on account of new arrivals.

Pains of women, head pains or any pain stopped in 20 minutes sure, with Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets. See full formula on 25c. Box. Sold by all dealers.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

Arrangements Already on Foot for the Fall Game.

Montreal, June 23—It now seems assured that the Britannia Rugby Club will be organized for the coming season. A meeting was held by some of the enthusiasts on Saturday evening at the M.A.A.A. and adjourned until Wednesday next.

Donald Ross, the ex-Westmount Rugby player, who figured in a Montreal un form last season, is one of the moving spirits in the reorganization of the club, and has already obtained the promises of many prominent players in Montreal, among them being many old Montreal and Westmount players, and members of last year's Grand Trunk team.

Ernie Russell, the well-known hockey player, a one of those who has promised to play, and he will likely figure on the half-back line with Jimmie Ross or A. Brophy, of Westmount, and Harry Willis, of last year's Montreal fourteen.

The club may make application to the O.R.F.U. to place a team in the Peterborough, Kingston, T. A. C. group, though this will not be decided on till later, when the affairs of the organization are well under way.

Do Not Allow Your Friends to Forget that this is the Period in Which They Can Help You Most---A Candidate's Letter Which Brought Fine Results

We expect to see some lively work done by the candidates in the Morning Times Contest this week. If you are ever going to show what you can do, now is your time. After Saturday night at Nine o'clock the ratio of votes will decrease gradually until the close of the contest.

NO LIMIT TO THE FIELD.

In thinking over those to whom you may apply for votes and subscriptions do not limit yourself exclusively to Peterboro and vicinity. Doubtless most of the candidates know people who have moved away from the city, and who naturally continue to take a keen interest in all its happenings. The best way for them to keep in touch with their old friends is for them to subscribe for The Morning Times. Tell them so and ask them to take out a subscription in your favor.

A CANDIDATE'S LETTER.

The following letter from a bright and enterprising candidate brought fine results and may be suggestive to those who wish to make an appeal to friends living at a distance.

"My Dear Friend:

"No doubt you have seen my name in the Morning Times as a candidate in their great $3,000 Contest. I have set my heart on winning one of those prizes and hope I may count on every one of my friends to give me every assistance in their power.

"I am working hard and wish to make sure that all my friends will take out a subscription in my favor. So far all have been most obliging and shown a very kindly interest in my success. Won't you please do the same?

"I assure you that you will receive more than your money's worth and will watch for the daily appearance of the paper as eagerly as I do.

"A subscription if paid-in-advance before Saturday evening July 3rd. worth 10,000 votes, and one may clip the coupons from the paper also and write the name of their favorite candidate upon it.

"Just see what a help your subscription would be to me.

"The main thing for us candidates to do is to get paid-in-advance subscriptions. In the end the winning of the Oldsmobile Touring Car may be decided by just a few subscriptions. The longer you subscribe for, the higher the ratio of votes I would receive.

"I should be so happy to win one of the prizes and shall not forget the kind part you played in helping me to success.

"Yours truly."

Try what effect a letter like that will have upon your friends, whom you cannot see personally.

Another good plan is to have your picture taken on post cards and mail them to all your friends with a few appropriate words announcing your candidacy and asking their assistance.

There are lots and lots of ways to increase your capacity for securing votes. Keep your mind on the work and some of these will pop into your head sometime when you least expect it. Then work the idea for all it is worth.

LIST WILL CHANGE.

In all contests there are changes from time to time in the names of those who are striving for the prizes. Some faint-hearted ones who have not the courage to hold out to the end drop away.

Others, who hestitate for some time, and weigh all the points for and against, become fully persuaded that the opportunity is too good to lose and that they will not be leftout.

These late entries, having been well-considered, are apt to make an excellent showing. Any bright candidate could make up during this week for all the time that has already passed.

Presentations Made to Two Bank Managers

Mr. A. Montizambert who is retiring from the management of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal to assume charge of the Brantford branch was on Saturday afternoon presented by his staff with a handsome set of thermon bottles. Mr Yates the genial accountant made the presentation accompanied by a neat little address expressive of the high esteem and respect in which Mr. Montizambert is held by his colornates here. In reply Mr. Montizambert regretted the severance of the pleasant relations existing between the staff here and himself and expressed his high appreciation of the efficiency of the Peterborough staff in general.

A similar event took place in Brockville on Friday when Mr. R. W. Travers who will assume the management of the Bank of Montreal in Peterborough this week was presented by his staff with a pair of marine binoculars. Mr. Travers also received an illuminated address accompanied by handsome smoking and large cut glass punch bowl from the Brockville Club.

Foreigner who Preached from Pulpit Arrested

(Special to The Times.)

Toronto, June 27.—Once more has the voice of guile cloaked as that of sweet charity lured the dollars from the religiously inclined of the city. George S. Barsoom, a smooth voiced and innocent-appearing Assyrian blew into town a few weeks ago. He declared that he was a seller of rugs and things oriental at 255 Broadway, New York, but that also he was the son of a wealthy Assyrian Bey at Bethehem, Judea. He declared that at that place he had established a school for Mohammedan boys who were under the care of Christian teachers. This he said he supported himself and would be glad to receive contributions for it, thank you.

Coming to the city he took a room at 95 East Gerrard street and met up with Rev. A. T. Sowerby of the College-street Baptist Church. With him he arranged to give a lecture in his church and meeting a number of his parishioners succeeded in collecting over $150 for the support of his school in Bethlehem. He also met Rev. Mr McIntosh of the Oliver street Baptist church, but that gentleman was suspicious of him and he did not to any extent get into his flock.

Finally word came from Pittsburg that Barsoom was a very wolf in sheep's clothing. He had been arrested there where he had collected some thousands for his school. Investigation showed that no such one exists but tge ministers refused business as that he declared was to prosecute. Barsoom also learned that his evil reputation had followed him and left saying that he would go to Kingston and then see the Thousand Islands.

Meanwhile Detective Wallace, who is averse to fakers, sat fro thru a long service at Dr. Sowerby's church where Barsoom was to have spoken only to hear the doctor announce from his pulpit that owing to evil reports of him the Assyrian would not speak until they were cleared up. It was the next day that Barsoom cleared out.

Will Place Boat on The Lindsay Waters

Alderman Robt. Hicks, of Peterborough, accompanied by Mrs Hicks and Miss Menzies, visited Lindsay last evening in their auto car.

The alderman is general manager of the Otonabee Navigation Company, and visited town for the purpose of booking a number of excursions from this port on the company's modern steamer the Otonabee. An effort will be made to run three excursions from Lindsay, and one from Fenelon Falls which will keep the boat in these waters for a week.

In conversation with a Post reporter, Mr Hicks said it was the intention of the company he represented to build a large steamer this winter and place it on the local waters. They had all the business they could handle at Peterborough, and had decided to cater to the tourist and excursion trade in Lindsay and surrounding points. —Lindsay Post.

Tom Longboat Made Shrubb Quit---New West Minister Took First Game from Indians

(Special to The Times.)

Toronto, June 26.—Fifth Mile Shrubb leads by a little more than a half lap. Time 26 minutes.

8th mile, Shrubb laps Longboat on second lap of eighth mile. Longboat drop a in two yards behind him. Time 42.33.

At the 14th mile, Shrubb leads by the same distance but on 15th. Mile Longboat by a phenominal burst of speed regaines half a lap on Shrubb who shows signs of weakening. Time 1.18.29.

15th Mile. Shrubb going back fast. Longboat gaining and running strong. When Shrubb passes his attendants he signals to them and they take up the pace for one hundred yards. The trainer comes back with a very agonizing expression. Looks as if Shrubb can not go much further. Time 1.25.1.

Flash. Shrubb quits before 15th-mile his right leg gives out.

Later:—Shrubb in an interview tonight gives Longboat due credit for his race. To a reporter said "I am full of running yet, but my right leg gave out on me and it was impossible for me to continue. All honor and credit is due Tom Longboat on his wonderful race, at a distance I conceded him."

(Special to The Times.)

New Westminster, B.C., June 26.—It rained hard all night and until noon today. It is still cloudy and threatening. The grounds are wet and slippery.

New Westminster objected to O'Connell as referee, insisting that Lionel Yorke had been appointed. O'Connell said he would not have accepted if he was not to be referee.

The matter was referred to Sir Edward Clouston, and an answer is expected before the game starts.

The betting remains same, at even money on today's game, with little doing. The line-up is the same as wired Thursday night.

Tonight the Tecumsehs will be given dinner by Dr. "Banty" Taylor of Ellemsburg, Washington, an ex-Tecumseh player.

Charlie Querrie's leg is very sore today, but all the others are in prime condition.

(Special to The Times.)

Vancouver, June 26.—By a score of six goals to four New Westminster lacrosse team, champions of the world, today defeated the Tecumsehs of Toronto champions of lacrosse Union in first match of series for the Minto Cup. That the best team won there is not the slightest doubt. The champions held the Tecumsehs to four goals in four quarters, while they themselves punctured the Tecumseh net six times, which gives them lead of two goals for final match. Westminster style was very effective against Indians, the remarkable rushes of the defence held completely bewildering the visiting teams goal keeper and Griffiths kept the score down.

Mosquitoes are still very bad up the lakes. Early cottagers and campers are therefore not having a season of unallayed pleasure.

ST. PAUL'S PICNIC.

Leaves Wolfe Street Wharf for Stony Lake at 8.30.

It is expected that a very large crowd will go to the St. Paul's Sunday school picnic today. The Steamer Otonabee will leave the Wolfe street wharf at 8.30 o'clock and after going over the lift lock will proceed up the canal to the Kawartha lakes. A stop will be made at some convenient place for dinner and to run off a program of games and sports. Then the steamer will make a tour of Stoney Lake until time for supper. They will return to the city in the evening.

Caunington Gleaner:—Hon. James Strattor M. P., and Mrs. Stratton visited Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Jewett on Thursday of last week. They were making an automobile tour of Central Ontario.

Coming to Peterborough.

Fendon Falls Gazette:—The Methodist Sunday School will run their annual excursion to Peterboro on Monday, July 5th. The fare for the round trip, 65c., is very low, and it is expected a large crowd will take advantage of the opportunity to visit the beautiful city of Peterborough.

A Remarkable Family

THE largest and most remarkable family reunion ever witnessed in Waterloo county and probably in the Dominion took place at George Tilt's farm near Doon on Tuesday, when the Schneider centennial celebration was held. Those who took part were descendants of Christian, Jacob and Joseph Schneider, three brothers who came to this country from Pennsylvania in 1806. Christian settled on the farm where the reunion was held. Joseph was one of the founders of Berlin, and Jacob settled on the Oxboro farm at Bloomingdale. Rhere are over 2,500 descendants of these pioneers scattered all over the continent, and about 2,400 invitations were issued. Over 1,700 of these were in attendance, together with a large number of friends, and it is estimated that nearly 2,500 participated in the reunion. Relatives were present from Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Dakota, New York, Michigan, Ohio, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and all parts of Ontario, and a special train was required to convey the Schneiders from Elmira, St. Jacob's, Waterloo and Berlin to the scene of the celebration.

River Driver's Escape from an Awful Death Near Burleigh Falls

(Special to The Times.)

Burleigh, June 26.—Whiting a river diver for the Peterborough Lumber Co., and a son of Dan Whetung had a miraculous escape from a horrible death here on Friday. He is an expert river driver and was assisting in bringing a drive down the Burleigh rapids. The rapids are very swift and deep but the logs got stuck and Whiting went out to start them off again when he loosened the log that was stuck it started spinning so fast that he was thrown into the water and under the logs. The whole drive which was about 300 yards long passed over him, and all his companions had given him up as dead. But when the drive was passed Whitung came to the surface and did not appear to be much the worse, except that some of his teeth were knocked out and his clothing was torn from his back. This was caused by the logs rolling so rapidly. He was quickly assisted to land and the last reports were that he was getting along fine.

Terriffic Heat Causes Many Deaths

(Special to The Times.)

New York, June 26.—While all New York and the surrounding suburds gasped and writhed in the throes of the agonizing heat and humidity there came a thunderstorm, accompanied by blinding flashes of lightning, and this sudden change in seemed to conquer for a space the pervading heat. Within a short time however, the heatdemon reasserted himself and fastened a withering grip on the city with discouraging tenacity, clinging fast until far in the night.

The mercury attained its greatest the year, also came the greatest the afternoon, when it registered 92 degrees, the record for the year. In the interval after the storm the mercury in the bulb dropped to the 68 degree mark. Within the next hour it was moving upward, and continued until near midnight.

With New York's hottest day of the year also came the greatest number of deaths from the heat, and up to midnight nearly a score of deaths had been reported through out the metropolitan district. The number of heat prostrations was nearly one hundred. It seemed as if the people had stood the ravages of the hot wave as long as possible, and that finally thrit powers of endurance had been overcome. But for the fact that there was a steady drop in the humidity it is believed that the number of dead and prostratwd would have been doubled.

SOME ENGLISH HERMITS.

Wild Man of the Woods Causes Excitement in Old Land.

The "Wild Man from Borneo" is a less awe-inspiring individual than the wild man from nearer home. Almost any holiday-maker who has had the good or bad fortune to come across the wild man of the woods will readily agree with this.

The latter has given many a holiday-maker a scare. Down to a few years ago, Hadley Woods, a holiday resort of many Londoners, boasted a wild man. His name was William Hodsdon, and he appears to have had the idea that Hadley Common was his by right.

Hence he made the woods his home all the year round. Clothed in little more than rags, he roved amongst the trees by day, and at night slept in a sack, with nothing but the sky for a roof.

The simple life, however, has its limits, and finally the complaints of holiday-makers and others caused the police to pay the wild man a surprise visit.

They found him in a terribly neglected condition, covered with dirt, his nails of extraordinary length, and his hair and beard like tangled rope. He was loth to leave the solitude of the woods in which he had roamed so long, and the police had considerable difficulty in effecting his removal.

Some time ago a wild man of the woods was unearthed in the neighborhood of Carlisle. At one time he had occupied a good position, and in those days he answered to the name of Richard Brewer.

But, for some reason or other, he took to the woods, after which nothing would induce him to return to his old way of living.

Later on it was deemed desirable to inquire into his condition of mind, and a magisterial order was obtained for this purpose. By this time his mode of life had given him quite a weird appearance. His diet on some occasions consisted of raw meat and fish, which he had been seen devouring. To "roosting" in trees and sleeping in sand-holes habit had made him quite accustomed.

"Old Lady's" New Governor.

The monetary world has now a new monarch in the person of Mr. R E. Johnston, who has been appointed governor of the Bank of England. To describe Mr. Johnston's position as regal may be high-sounding, but it is not inapt, for the money market is a kingdom over which the governor of the Bank of England consist of about twenty-five wealthy city men, who have generally invested heavily in bank stock, the $500 shares of which have nearly trebled in value. These gentlemen, constituting the board of directors, meet every Thursday in the court-room to consider whether any change is necessary in the bank rate, and to transact business of moment.

Their employes in the bank and its branches number some 1,200 men, and about 100 women. Their annual payroll amounts to over $1,000,000. The head cashier, curious enough, receives more than the governor—a little matter of $17,500 a year. The bank is a generous employer, the pensions awarded to its old clerks (who must retire at the age of 65) amounting to no less than two-thirds of their incomes. The governor's responsibility to the nation is perhaps as great as that of any man under the King, for there are at least forty millions of gold stored in the vaults of his establishment. Happily the Old Lady of Threadneedle Street has a military guard of her own, consisting of thirty-two soldiers, to say nothing of a drummer-boy, who has never been known (officially) to sound his drum.

Dorking, Where Meredith Lived.

The neighborhood of Dorking has many literary associations independent of its connection with the famous novelist just dead. It was at Burford Bridge, near Dorking, that Keats completed Endymion, in November, 1817, close by, at the Rookery, was born Father Malthus, the population economist; at West Humble, Frances Burney, after her marriage with Gen. d'Arblay, built Camilla cottage with profits of her novel of that name, and settled down. Sheridan resided at Polesden, and John Stuart Mill at Mickleham, while other illustrious residents in the locality in earlier times were John Evelyn and Daniel Defoe. To most people, however, the chief literary association of Dorking is with Dickens, for was it not at the Marquis of Granby—variously identified with the White Hart and the Old King's Head—that Mr. Weller, senior, made the fatal blunder of proposing to a "widder"

"Salute the Flag!"

On Victoria Day some four millions of young Britons learned a useful lesson in patriotism, when they assembled to salute the flag—the Union Jack.

This great national movement was started in 1904 in the British Isles, but for some years previously Canadian schools had observed this date as "Victoria Day." This year, scholars in every part of the British Empire joined in the event.

The flags used on Empire Day are often very interesting in themselves. Many are bought with money gathered by the scholars, others are presented to the schools by friends, while still others are sent to towns by their namesakes in the colonies. Exeter, England, thus possesses Union Jacks sent from the towns of Exeter in New South Wales, Ontario, and Tasmania. In return, these places will fly flags sent out from Exeter, England.

What Wet and Wind Did.

If there had been no rain on June 18th, 1815 (so at least some historians aver), all England might have been an unbroken surface of Etonian playing fields but nathless we should have lost the battle of Waterloo on June 18th. Instead of a mighty victory, our fate would have been that which generals of a softer age like to term a "regrettable incident." But for a certain gale of the year 1588, the Armada, having run away, might have lived to fight another day.

Tell some deserving Rheumatic sufferer, that there is yet one simple Shoop's book on Rheumatism and a free trial test. This book will make it entirely clear how Rheumatic pains are quickly killed by Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy—liquid or tablets. Send no money. The test is free. Surprise some disheartened sufferer by first getting for him the book from Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Sold by all dealers.

Some boys while playing on the street in the north end of the city, accidentally struck the editor of The Times with a baseball, at which the latter only laughed. There is nobody so amiable as the editor of the E.L.J. when things are going his way.

SALVATION FREE.

But There Was a Collection and Also a Reason For It.

The colored parson had just concluded a powerful sermon on "Salvation Am Free" and was announcing that a collection would be taken for the benefit of the parson and his family. Up jumped an acutely brunette brother in the back of the church.

"Look a-yeah, pahson," he interrupted; "yo' ain't no sooner done tellin' us dat salvation am free dan yo' go askin' us fo' money. If salvation am free, what's de use in payin' fo' it? Dat's what I want to know. An' I tell yo' p'intedly dat I ain't goin' to gib yo' nothin' until I find out. Now"—

"Patience, brudder, patience," said the parson. "I'll 'lucidate. S'pose yo' was thirsty an' come to a river. Yo' could kneel right down an' drink yo' fill, couldn't yo'? An' it wouldn't cost yo' nothin', would it?"

"Oh cou'se not. Dat's jest what I"—

"Dat water would be free," continued the parson. "But, s'posin' yo' was to hab dat water piped to yo' house, yo'd have to pay, wouldn't yo'?"

"Yas, suh, but"—

"Waal, brudder, so it is wid salvation. De salvation am free, but it's de havin' it piped to yo' dat yo' got to pay fo'. Pass de hat, deacon; pass de hat."—Everybody's Magazine.

DURABLE INK.

The Secret of its Manufacture Seems to Have Been Lost.

The ink manufacturer has made great strides in his field. He has produced many colored fluids that seem well adapted to ordinary use. But how long will this ink last without fading?

Did you ever pick up a letter written ten or fifteen years ago and note how much of it is illegible because the ink has faded? Some precious documents not a century old are preserved today in air tight cases, so that the ink will not fade any more. Others have been copied in order to retain the exact chirography of the original authors.

Fading ink is one of the things in which the ancients did not believe. Many of the mediaeval manuscripts six and seven hundreds years old have their letters formed of ink that is as black and bright as on the day when first written.

Who has the secret of this lost art of making durable ink? It is another one of the lost arts that is worthy of investigation. The ancients had fewer materials to work with and less facilities for laboratory tests, but we must acknowledge that there are some things in which they excelled us.—World Today.

Joy of a Yawn.

When life seems more than usually insipid—and such moments do come to even the most hopeful of us—there is a sudden pleasant sympathy in the yawn of the terrier on the rug before the fire. "Ah, you, too, find things a little boring, old fellow!" we say to ourselves. A dog yawns nobly, making no attempt at disguising it with politely uplifted paw. All animals seem to enjoy a yawn except man. We once saw the late lamented hippopotamus at the zoo lift himself slowly from his murky pond and yawn. It was a great spectacle, tremendous, Homeric. The concentrated boredom of the whole creation seemed expressed in that gigantic gasp. For a few fascinated moments pond, shed, railings, people, all seemed merged in one colossal mouth. It was wonderful. Oh, we thought as we came away, to be able to yawn like that when life becomes too silly!—Pall Mall Gazette.

Get Out of Doors.

Trudeau's classic experiment points us in the right direction. After inoculating a number of rabbits with tuberculosis he confined a number of them indoors and turned the others outdoors. The latter all recovered, while the former all died. This experiment shows that a rabbit living upon its natural food and under a natural environment is proof against tuberculosis. There is abundant reason to believe this equally true of man. In other words, tuberculosis is not a necessary evil of human life, but is a natural consequence of erroneous habits and departure from natural conditions. Man is naturally an outdoor animal. A mole lives a healthy life in a burrow. A man must live in the fresh air and the sunshine.—Medical Record.

The Brigands.

The word "brigand" is derived from a portion of the armor worn by archers, English and foreign, anciently called the "brigandine." This consisted of an apron of leather plated over, scale fashion, with thin pieces of steel. From the irregularities of the light armed men who wore these defenses the name of brigand became in course of time infamous.

The Touchstone.

The Magnate—You will succeed, sir. You are a genius. The Inventor—No, I'm not. If I were a real genius practical men like you would consider me a darned fool.—Cleveland Leader.

Says the Modern Hen.

"Understand me, Henry Peck! I shall not lay another egg unless you get an incubator. I simply cannot neglect my social duties as I've been doing."—Life.

On Her Own Head.

Hubby—What! You paid $30 for that hat! It's monstrous—it's a sin! Wife (sweetly)—No matter. The sin will be on my own head!—Lippincott's Magazine.

"Tis the mind that makes the body rich.—Shakespeare.

Fourflushers.

"Him a musician!" sneered Tete de Veau. "Why, he doesn't know the difference between a fugue and a symphony.

"Really!" cried L'Oignon, lifting his brows in shocked amaze.

An hour later they caught each other in the club library looking the difference up.

The Cheerful Errand Runners.

"It is really a pleasure, ma'am, to observe how readily your little boy runs your errands."

"Oh, he's the boy that lives next door. I get him to do my errands because my own boy won't."

"Ah! What is your boy doing now?"

"There he is, rushing on an errand for the lady next door!"

THE MYSTERY OF MARS.

Old but Unsolved Problem, Is There Animal Life on the Planet?

With a planet so old as Mars and so far along in the process of life extinction the conditions of life would be severe, and only a highly intellectual and scientifically developed race could endure and master them. The engineering skill and constructive capacity to control the annual floods from the poles, store the waters and build the thousands of miles of huge canals would require scientific knowledge beyond that possessed by us at the present time and financial resources in excess of those we have yet accumulated. The nation that finds the digging of a little ditch at Panama so great a task would be helpless in the face of such a problem as these thousands of miles of Martian canals, if, indeed, canals they be. Yet, in view of the greater life age of Mars, such higher intelligence would be natural in the regular process of development, assuming that it has ever been the abode of intellectual life.

Scientists are in the main in a receptive state on this subject. They are not ready to admit that the existence of life on that planet has been proved. They do not deny it, but call for greater proof than a plausible theory. Among others than scientists there is in the main a disposition not to accept the Martian human life theory or the theory of life on any of the thousands of spheres that wheel and glisten in illimitable space. They seem to think that such a theory conflicts with religion and dwarfs man and his importance in the scheme of creation.

This seems to be a very narrow view to take, since it appears to set bounds upon the infinite power and creative desires of the Almighty, whose great scheme of mortal and immortal life is not necessarily confined to a single planet or the few billions of human beings who are born and die upon it. As to dwarfing the importance of man, a few billions more added to the billions on earth would make little difference. Man is at best a small and insignificant creature, but if all embracing wisdom, power and love takes solicitous note of him it would be limiting those infinite qualities to say that one planet must be his abiding place. Therefore the question of human intelligence on Mars or any other planet of the solar system or the other great systems in remote space should be purely and simply a scientific one, to be accepted as true only when proved, but not to be rejected through sentiment or for any other reason whatever except lack of proof.—St. Louis Star.

An Oriental Blessing.

A well known representative from China, who was a guest at a wedding in a capital city, was approached after the ceremony by the best man and jocularly asked to go over to the young couple and pronounce a parental blessing. The obliging dignitary complied with pleasure. Placing his hands on the blushing bride and shaking bridegroom, he said: "May every new year bless you with a man-child offspring until they shall number twenty-five in all. May these twenty-five man children offspring present you with twenty-five times twenty-five grandchildren, and may these grandchildren"—

But the little bride grew hysterical about this time, and the oriental blessing was ended amid the laughter of the guests.—Ladies' Home Journal.

A Cowboy Spider.

"Faking aside," said the nature student, "there is in New Zealand a cowboy spider. This creature throws a coil of web like a lasso over its prey's head, then adds more and more coils and when the prey is bound hand and foot devours it.

"There is a Borneo spider that in the spring days plays a fiddle. It is a common thing for a lovesick spider to dance before his girl, but this Borneo boy my drawing his arm across his tum produces a sweet, clear note. Whenever he sees a good looking young lady spider he stops and gives her a tune, hoping to win her by music."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Miners' Freedom From Cancer.

"Miners never have cancer. In thirty-five years' practice in a mining town I haven't had a single cancerous patient."

"And to what, doctor, do you impute this immunity?"

"Miners are singularly cleanly. They bathe every day. They rarely smoke. They are a temperate and regular set. Above all"—

The physician smiled grimly.

"Miners," he said, "die young. Cancer is an old age disease. And there really is the reason of the miner's cancerous immunity."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Not the Same.

"Excuse me," he said as he entered the public library at Pegantic, "but do you have any social registers here?"

"No, we hain't," said the librarian, with considerable hauteur. "This here buildin' is hot up by steam, and we hain't got nothin' but radiators, and we don't allow no settin' around with your feet on to them neither. The nearest thing we got to a social registry in this town is the postoffice stove."—Lippincott's.

A Reminder.

Mamma—What are you doing with that string, Lois? Lois (aged five)—Tyin' it on my finger, mamma, so if I forgot anything I'll be sure to 'member it.—Chicago News.

That experience which does not make us better makes us worse.—Hebrew.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' dosage will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

A Startling Revelation

The friends of Miss Mary McKenzie, of London, were astonished to hear that she had gone into consumption

The sad intelligence came as a shock to Miss McKenzie's many friends. In the early fall she contracted a heavy cold which developed rapidly into Catarrh, and finally made such rapid advances that the bronchial tubes and lungs became affected.

Although the doctors said nothing short of a change of residence to the south would benefit, on the advice of a Dundas street druggist Miss McKenzie decided to thoroughly test Catarrhozone which is warranted to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes.

Miss McKenzie says: "After my druggist had recommended Catarrhozone I spoke to my friends about it and they all said it was such a good remedy that I commenced forthwith to inhale it five or six times each day. I breathed it deeply into my lungs, and felt its beneficial action very quickly. It seemed to go where other remedies did not reach, and was so pleasant and convenient that I did not mind using it very frequently, which, probably, was the cause of it curing my obstinate case so quickly. Certainly no case of Catarrh or Bronchitis should go uncured if the sufferer can get Catarrhozone, which is a sovereign remedy, worthy of the highest recommendations."

Miss McKenzie's case needs no enlargement. She was in a critical condition, apparently beyond the aid of doctors' medicines.

Catarrhozone has cured her, and others in her condition should no longer experiment with uncertain untried treatments, but should turn at once to catarrhozone, and in it they will find means. Remember the name, Catarrhozone. Complete outfit guaranteed to cure. Price $1.00. Small size 50 cents. Druggists or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

WHAT ABOUT HUGHES' PARK?

We have drawn attention before to the delapidated and wasting condition of Hughes' Park at the intersection of Charlotte, Park and Downie Streets. The city authorities apparently do not recognize that the money they sunk in that spot is going to waste for want of a little attention on their part. Another 12 months will certainly see the $50 wire fence a thing of the past, and as far the park itself, it would be a disgrace to a village like Omemee, where water facilities are not to hand. Contigent residents take a very commendable interest in keeping their property in a twentieth century condition, but their efforts are all but nullified by the city's apathy respecting Hughes' Park. This piece of land, which might be readily maintained as a healthy spot would not, in its present condition, be tolerated as a gypsy camp, and it is a pity that the Board of Works cannot see their way clear to contract with one of the several endigents the city has to support, to keep it in a condition at least commensurate with the surroundings. The neighboring residents of this locality are up in arms on this question.

DR. PRINGLES CHARGES

Casting aspersions upon the character of Dr. Pringle, who recently delivered a somewhat sensational speech at the sitting of the Presbyterian General Assembly, does not make a very effective reply to his words. Dr. Pringle deplored political corruption in his own rather striking way, both parties have sins of political corruption standing out against their respective records. His remarks were clearly intended to apply with equal force to each. Certainly, if he is familiar with the record of the Conservatives his opinion of the lack of political morality displayed by them on many occasions must be one of honest contempt, and Liberalism has not been entirely free from stain. Conservative papers, of course, have sought to use his words to party advantage and, again of course, they will continue to do so nor will they be above gross misrepresentation in so doing.

With the general remarks made by Dr. Pringle both parties are concerned. But when he specifically referred to a member of the federal government and charged him with improprieties he touched upon a matter which particularly concerned one party. In our opinion there is one way to answer Dr. Pringle, and one only. He should be compelled to support his statement in reference to this cabinet minister in the courts. Skewering journalistic or any other abuse upon Dr. Pringle does not offset his statement. He is a clergyman of a great church and is in good standing consequently so long as he continues in that position his utterances must carry a certain amount of weight. He should have his answer in the courts, and at once. Upon the outcome of any court proceedings the people could base their judgement of the politician and the preacher. The abuse of a critic is no reply to his statements any more than the continued abuse of their opponents by the Conservative press is a reflection upon the honesty and ability of the Liberals.

THE RACE FOR WEALTH

There was a time when Canadians were in a position to sermonize on the subject of greed of gain and point to their neighbor's breathless chase after the almighty dollar. We are fast getting to the point, if we are not already there where money is a national fetish. A wave not only of materialism but of feverish greed seems to be sweeping over this land and the effect especially upon the young generation is already being felt in the number of convictions for gambling and embezzlement. Since being estimated by the rapid way with which men reach the possession of a certain amount of money and with our mining, wheat growing, and even our steady going commercial enterprises haste to be rich is coloring the whole view of life. Young fellows are staking their own money and sometimes that of others in the wheat pit. Women are putting their savings into mining stocks and grey-haired preachers are following the stock markets with an interest they ought to have in more enduring things. Canada is to-day in need of a prophet who will raise against this wave of materialism a ringing cry of warning.

THE GROWING WEST

It was estimated by the census bureau that the population of the Prairie Provinces Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, today is 1,107,576. According to the census of 1901, the population in the same territory was 419,512, and of this 255,211 was in Manitoba. The population of the Northwest Territories was only 164,301. Under this new census Alberta has 273,412 and Saskatchewan 349,645. The new provinces have been in existence since 1905 only. Their rapid growth has justified the predictions of the men who know their west.

In 1906 there was a special census which showed a western population of 808,862. Since then there has been a gain of 300,000 or more than 100,000 a year. On the same scale of increase the population at the census of 1911 should reach the million and a half mark and British Columbia should have enough to make the population west of Ontario something like two millions.

The figures are inspiring. The initial difficulty encountered by the Fathers, the knitting up of the scattered provinces, had scarcely been overcome when they were at this work of making the west a vital part in the vast plan of Canadian development. Now the fruition of their splendid ideal is at hand. The west is to be the complement of the east, may shortly bid fair to challenge the influence of the east in the councils of the nation. Meantime the whole Canadian people may properly rejoice that the west is making good for the sacrifices which the east has made on behalf of the west. The day is fast coming when there will be neither east nor west.

AN ILL WIND

That Blew No One Any Good Says He.

A very well known citizen was telling of an unfortunate accident which occurred to a young lady friend of his, and which turned out unfortunately for him. The young lady was visiting at his place, and by the way, she was young and very pretty. One day she went with a party up to Stony Lake per steamer but while climbing the rocks on one of the islands she sprained her ankle and the rest of her trip was marred. Upon the arrival of the boat at Lakefield on the return trip an automobile was secured to bring the unfortunate one home in a hurry. She arrived at the house at the same time as the hero of the story, and a hurried explanation of the trouble resulted in his nibs putting on the kettle and getting the water boiled over the gas stove. In the meantime he hunted up some bandages and allowed himself to dream dreams and to see wonderful visions as things looked as if he would be the doctor. But this was one of those ill- winds which blew no one any good for just as he had everything all ready and was rolling up his sleeves the better half of the house appeared on the scene and performed the operation.

If Sick

Don't risk even one single penny!

And I will tell you why I say this.

Bile bumps every package of Dr. Shoop's medicine to absolutely free it if fails.

No one need risk even one single penny.

Just think what this means to the suffering!

No risk, no expense, nothing whatever unless health first comes. For 35 full days, and more than this, I gamble a penny, you can use either of my two prescriptions—Dr. Shoop's Restorative or Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy.

I will take your chances myself.

I will purchase any medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer!

And besides, I am no specialist to you.

No "big doctor" bills are made Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a simple, safe, gentle, yet effective remedy. Yet it is a remedy which has been used all over America.

And I have no "secret" about what every ingredient in my medicines contains. These ingredients are printed on every package. Then I tell you what each ingredient is for. These ingredients are the same as those in medicines which you think—and the safest risk is mine alone.

I have an agent in almost every community—but all druggists are not authorized to guess the 35 day test.

So drop me a line, please—and then save all disagreements and delays.

Besides, you are free to consult me by letter as you would your home physician. Do so freely and fully—if you desire. My advice and the book after are yours—and without cost. Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice alone.

Besides, the books will open up new and helpful ideas to you. They tell of my 35 years experience at the bedside of sick humans and in Hospitals. All phases of kidney and rectal are said of them. They tell of the inside nerve to larger than a silken thread that gives to the heart its impulses. How the Stomach and Kidneys each have their inside or power nerve. How these organs surely falter when these controlling or master nerves begin to fail. How Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to these failing nerves, feeds and invigorates the lost vital velocities, and literally restores the lost tone and power. It will surely help you—if it is within the power of medicine to do so. My book is simply worth your while to request, the words prove, while it is free, postpaid, low temperature cures. GIFT TO THE KING

American Remembers Anniversary of Peiho River Engagement

New York, June 27.—An express parcel which arrived in England containing a gift from an American citizen to the sovereign of Great Britain. The parcel, or box, is addressed to King Edward, through the American Ambassador. It contains a picture in a frame bearing a small bronze tablet with the letter ing:

"Blood Is Thicker than Water."

Engagement on the Peiho River, China, June 25, 1859.

On the date referred to the allied squadrons of England and France attacked the Taku forts. Commodore Tattnal, of the United States warship Powhatan, with his men, saw the beginning of the fight from a Chinese chartered steamer, Toey Wan. A British midshipman came aboard with the news that Sir James Hope had been badly wounded.

At once Commodore Tattnall exclaimed, "Blood is thicker than water," and ordered a barge manned to go to the assistance of the English admiral. Before the Yankees "jackies" reached the flagship their coxswain was killed and their flag lieutenant, Trenchard was wounded. Undaunted, they boarded the British vessel, helped the stricken admiral, relieved the crippled gun crew and fought side by side with the British bulldogs in overwhelming the enemy.

PHYSICIANS DISAGREED.

St. Louis, Mo., June 25.—Believing he was suffering unendurable pains from a disease of an artery, Dr. Justin Steer a member of the faculty of Washington University, killed himself yesterday with prussic acid. He left a note diagnosing his ailment.

The family physician said that he and several specialists had examined Dr. Steer many times and that Dr. Steer had no such illness as he imagined.

APPOINTED A CANADIAN.

Mr. Guillet, Formerly of Toronto, Goes to Indiana Normal School.

Cobourg, June 24.—Mr. Cephas Guillet brother of Mr. Edwin Guillet, of Cobourg, and of George Guillet, ex-M.P., for West Northumberland, has been appointed professor of Psychology for the coming year in the State Normal School at Terre Haute Indiana. Mr. Guillet is at present in New York, but was formerly of Toronto.

WONDERFUL INCREASE.

Great West Life Co. is Popular With Canadian People.

On an record the Great West Life Assurance Company has nothing to fear from free, open and honest criticism, and for this reason an advertising department has now hesitated to reject publicity propositions made to it from time to time by certain class journals that the officials of the company in their wisdom felt would not yield a result sufficient to warrant the expenditure that would be involved. The company's policy, as outlined in a statement that will be found elsewhere in this issue, is to reserve the right to advertise in such reputable papers as it considers will give results beneficial to the Insurance public and the company. The non-compliance of the company to the demands for advertising appropriations has led to attacks being made upon it in certain of these journals and representatives of competing companies have used these attacks in the way of business without explaining the motives that gave rise to them or the unreliability of the statements alleged. For the year 1908 the Great West Life Assurance Company shows a gain in business in force in Canada of $6,045,738, or 50 per cent. greater increase in Canadian business than any other company, Canadian, English or foreign, which is a sufficient evidence that it has found favor with the public.

If you would have a safe yet certain Cough Remedy in the home, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupefying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

FIRST REGULAR

Passenger Service on Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

Advices have been received from the General Passenger Department of the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry., that the first regular passenger train which is being operated between Winnipeg and Scott, a distance of 569 miles, was thoroughly satisfactory both as to service and patronage. Brass band receptions were given the train at every point along the line.

It is pretty nearly up to some one of the kickers to write a letter to the papers blaming the City Council for the very hot weather we have had for the past week. It is certainly a corker, and there is no reason to doubt but that if the aldermen were really onto their job they could regulate the extent of the heat to such an extent that it such an extent that all would be satisfied. It would be interesting to have the opinion of Mr. W. A. Bailey on this matter.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' tests will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

THE Toronto General Trusts Corporation

Dividend No. 55.

Notice is hereby given that a dividend of four per cent. upon the paid-up Capital Stock of this Corporation has been declared for the current half-year (being at the rate of eight per cent. per annum), and that the same will be payable on and after Friday, the 2nd. day of July Next.

The Transfer Books will be closed from Tuesday, the 15th, to Wednesday, the 30th of June, both days inclusive.

By order of the Board.
J. W. LANGMUIR, Managing Director.
Dated Toronto, 8th June, 1909.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, under the authority of Chapter 8, of the Statutes of Ontario, 1909, invites subscriptions from the public for a loan of $3,500,000 on bonds of the Province of Ontario, or "Ontario Government Stock."

The bonds will be dated 1st June, 1909, and payable on the 1st June, 1939, in denominations of $1,000 each, with coupons attached for interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 1st June and 1st December in each year, at the office of the Provincial Treasurer, Toronto, or at the offices of the Bank of Montreal, in Montreal, Canada, and in New York, N. Y., at the holder's option. Bonds will be made payable to bearer, but on request will be registered in the office of the Provincial Treasurer and endorsed as payable only to the order of certain persons or corporations, and on request of holders will be exchanged for "Ontario Government Stock" at any time.

"Ontario Government Stock" will bear interest from the 1st day of June, 1909, principal payable on the 1st day of June, 1939, and interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum will be paid half-yearly by cheque on the 1st day of June and 1st day of December in each year. "Ontario Government Stock" may be subscribed for in sums of $50 or multiples thereof, and will be transferable in the books of the Treasury Department only by the holder or his attorney in similar manner to transfers of bank stock.

The issue price during the month of June, 1909, will be 102 for each $100, and after the 30th day of June, 1909, the issue price will be 102 and interest accrued from the 1st June 1909.

ALL BONDS AND INSCRIBED STOCK ISSUED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE SAID ACT ARE FREE FROM ALL ONTARIO PROVINCIAL TAXES, CHARGES, SUCCESSION DUTY AND IMPOSITIONS WHATSOEVER.

Purchasers of Stock or Bonds will be required to send certified cheque with the application, payable to the order of the "Provincial Treasurer of Ontario."

This loan is raised upon the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Ontario, and is chargeable thereupon.

Subscribers should state whether they desire bonds or "Ontario Government Stock."

Example: A subscriber for $1,000 will have the option of taking either a bond or "Ontario Government Stock." A subscriber for $700 will be given "Ontario Government Stock," as bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000.

THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Refuses to Spend Money in Useless Advertising

INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL REVIEW.

F. McPhillips, Editor,
Toronto. 5th December, 1908. J. H. Brock, Esq.,
Great-West Life Assurance Co.,
Winnipeg, Man.

Dear Sir:—

I presume that some time during the present month you will be rearranging your advertising for the ensuing year, and I beg to remind you that when we discussed the matter, when you were here during the Summer, you said it would be considered at the first of the year. Up to the present time I have not had the privilege of carrying a card of your Company, nor have I ever published your annual statement.

I would be pleased if you would give both these your favorable consideration for the coming year.

Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) F. McPHILLIPS.

THE GREAT WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

The Insurance and Financial Review, Toronto, Ontario. Winnipeg, March 27th, 1909.

Gentlemen:—

We have not overlooked the information you gave us regarding rates in the Review, but so far it has not been decided to extend our advertising appropriation in this direction. However, your information is still before us, and when a decision is arrived at you will be advised.

Yours truly,
THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY
Per "G.M.R."
Advertising Department.

The Great West Life Assurance Company thought it would not be profitable to the Company or to its policy-holders, who are interested in its revenues, to spend money uselessly in advertisements appearing in a journal, in their opinion, practically unknown, except to insurance agents. Accordingly it was decided not to advertise in that journal, though we expected that it might attack the Company. What we expected happened. Nevertheless the Company intends to advertise only in such reputable papers as it considers will give results beneficial to the insuring and the Company.

Some unscrupulous representatives of competing Companies make use of the unfair attacks of such journals without explaining the circumstances of the attacks, or the absurdity of the statements made, and we trust those who are approached by such agents will inform themselves on the subject by reading carefully the articles and the notes and comments thereon.

The Article

Representations have reached us with disconcerting frequency of late that conditions in regard to the Great-West Life Assurance Company are by no means satisfactory.

The Annual Report, which was published early in March, contains this remarkable statement: "We have this year changed all our records so that policies payable by instalments are entered not at their face values, but at their commuted values." It is well known that the Company has not until very recently availed itself of regular actuarial advice and very possibly much of the criticism incurred is attributable to this neglect, but we might ask why this rather important matter was overlooked by the Department of Insurance in the course of its yearly inspections. Inaccuracy in one part of a statement is apt to lead to suspicion of other parts.

PROFIT VARIATIONS.

We have before us a pamphlet issued by the Great West Life Assurance Company, entitled "Actual Results to Policy holders," "Paid by the Great-West Life Assurance Company under the Fifteen Year Preferred Dividend Policies which matured in 1907, together with the Results under Policies maturing in 1908." L

We quote two cases of Fifteen Year Endowment Policies maturing in 1908.

Policy No.	Amount.	Premiums paid.	Total cash value of policy,
640	$1,000	$969.75	$1,575.00
823	1,000	945.00	1,519.00

It is generally believed that the profits shown under these policies are excessive. This view is strengthened by a comparison with a five-year period policy upon the same 15 year Endowment plan which shows accumulated results as follows:

Policy No.	Amount	968	1,000
Total cash value of Policy.			$1,164.50

We bear in mind the solemn "warning" printed in the daily press broadcast throughout this country over the signature of the Head Office of the Company. This reads in part as follows:

"An anonymous, typewritten letter is being circulated, dishonestly, "comparing our recent dividends upon "five year period' policies with "dividends upon "fifteen year period' policies, without explaining the es- "sential differences between the two forms of insurance."

It is the fundamental principle of justice that "he who would receive equity must himself give equity." This is not evident in the paragraph quoted above. In the comparison made there is no essential difference between the two forms of insurance. They are identical. The only difference lies in the methods of alotting the profits to the same forms of insurance.

It must be remembered that, in the case of Policy No. 968, quoted above, the profits were alotted every five years, but were left by the insured in the hands of the Company for accumulation during the entire term of fifteen years. According to the statements of the Company these profits are subject to increment at the rate of interest earned by the Company. In the case of endowment assurances for so short a term as fifteen years the survivorship factor is almost a negligible quantity for profit-making purposes.

ACTUARIAL METHODS FAULTY.

It follows that either the profit upon the five year period policy is less than that to which the insured was entitled, or, on the other hand, the allotment to the fifteen-year period policies was vastly in excess of their actual earning. Having in mind the expense ratio of the Great West Life in the past fifteen years, there appears very little difficulty in determining which of these views is correct. The Company has forty millions of insurance in force, and until last year had no regular expert actuarial advice. The finger of Mr. C. C. Ferguson, A.I.A., is already a parent in the Company's statement, and it is only to be regretted that very much earlier opportunity of scientific advice was not availed of.

THE "SPECIAL POLICY."

Every student of life assurance conditions prevalent during the past twenty-five years is aware that the evil odor attaching to the business some years ago was attributable more directly to the employment of so-called "Special Agents" or "Lightning Specials" than to any other single factor. These gentry had no stake in the Company they were represented (or misrepresented). Generally they were importations from the neighboring Republic. The great argument in use was that they were alone empowered to offer something special to wealthy clients, or, in other words, that the prospective victim was fortunate enough to have encountered a "Bargain Day" in life assurance. The results accruing from these methods are too well known to insurance men to need repetition. It is somewhat amazing to find that a Canadian Life Company could to-day be found to essay the recrudescence of so unfortunate a system.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company has recently been selling what is described as a "special" policy. It should be understood that this is nothing more than an ordinary life policy, payable at death by instalments. Some also contain the return premium feature.

One sample policy we have before us, dated April 24th, 1907, and which has been used by Great-West Agents in their canvass, is a the ordinary Life plan, face value $25,000, payable in fifteen annual instalments of $1,000 each, first instalment payable at death, with $10,000 additional at the end of fifteen years after death, the annual premium at age 35 being $591.00. Also in the event of death of the assured within twenty years from issue date, all premiums paid are to be returned with the sum assured. Let us now take up the privileges and conditions. We wish to call special attention to the clause re Distribution of Surplus, which reads in part as follows:

"On the first day of April., 1912, and at the end of every fifth year thereafter, if this policy be then in full force, it shall participate in the profits of the Company. An individual account shall be kept with this policy, and whenever the surplus apportioned thereto, accumulated with interest at 4 per cent. (or at the rate earned if in excess of 4 per cent), compounded annually shall be sufficient to prepay all future premiums, the insured will be notified, and no future payment of premiums shall be required."

Such a clause is most obscure. We are informed that Great-West Agents have told prospects that at the end of 16 or 17 years the profits would be sufficient to pay all future premiums, and it is understood that some have taken policies in that belief. Needless to say, such hopes are impossible of realization, as will be evident from the following table:—

(1) End of year	(2) Value of future Premiums	(3) Profits per $1,000 required to meet this	(4) Percent. of premiums paid
15	$7,793.52	$436.00	$93
20	6,825.46	382.00	61

From these we see that the profits at the end of 17 years would have to equal 78 per cent. of the premiums already paid in order to prepay all future premiums. It is reasonable to suppose that any company can return as profits four-fifths of the premiums paid? Where would the Cash Surrender Value come from in such a case? The absolute impossibility of such a thing is apparent, and yet the agents pushing this special plan are thus, we understand, representing this condition.

We are further informed that in some cases the agent has not been content with the very rosy prospect indicated above. In a canvass in an Eastern Ontario City one agent is alleged to have told his prospect that it was almost certain that the policy would become paid up in ten years! Such things seem almost incredible in these days.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.

We take policy No. 36,003 for $1,000.00 to illustrate a further point. One section of this policy is grossly misleading. On the third page is given a table of surrender values, including cash, paid up, and extended insurance features, these values being given for various years from three to twenty. The table is headed as follows:

"Table of non-forfeiture options for each $1,000 of commuted amount."

In very small writing and hidden away at the bottom of the policy are words to the effect that the commuted value of this policy is $7,155.00. A keen insurance man would, of course, know that the surrender values applicable to the particular policy would be 7.155 times the figures given in the tables, but the ordinary layman, and we think even to a good many insurance men, the tables of values would be multiplied by ten in order to get the figures applicable to the policy. If it came to a question to be decided in the courts, we believe the Great-West would have no difficulty in maintaining that the surrender values applicable to the policy would be the lower amounts given above, but we think we are safe in saying that these surrender values should have been

The Great-West's Reply

The Insurance Department has always required all Companies to report business at the commuted value, and we have always done so, as the writer of this article could easily have found by referring to the Blue Book. His criticism, therefore, of the Insurance Department and of the Company falls to the ground. Our office records have always been correct, and the change referred to was made solely with a view to simplify the bookkeeping methods of obtaining the same results. Many Companies have pursued exactly the same course. The effort to make a point out of this shows how hard pressed the writer was to find something to say.

Under the heading "Profit Variations," his position is equally ridiculous, and he has deliberately tried to create a wrong impression as to an advertisement inserted by the Company by omitting a portion in which we say: "We are still paying on 5 year anh longer dividend period policies the highest dividends—premiums being taken into account—now being paid by any company."

The very large dividends referred to on our 15 Year Tontine policies are as great a source of satisfaction to our policy-holders as they are of annoyance to some of our competitors and all journals of the calibre of our critic. The reason why these large dividends were paid was because the Company's earnings were such that our then Actuary, Mr. W. T. Standen, advised that the policy-holders were entitled to them.

The writer seems desirous to leave the impression that the holder of Policy No. 968 has reason to be dissatisfied with his results. We have clear evidence that this is not the opinion of the policy-holder himself, since on receiving his settlement he straightway insured the life of his son in this Company.

As to "Acturial Methods," the statement that we had no expert Actuarial advice is absolutely false, as Mr. William T. Standen, F.A.S., was employed as consulting Actuary, and advised us on every point requiring the assistance of an Actuary from the time we commenced business, until his death, which only occurred a few months before our present Actuary was appointed.

The "Special Policy"—This Special Policy has been so admired by the insuring public and competing companies that several of the principal companies of Canada have copied it, and other companies have notified their agents that they will issue it if no other form of policy be accepted by the applicant. The form of the policy is such that it invites investigation of profit-earning capacity, and, consequently, applications have been particularly easy to secure by agents of the Great-West Life.

The introduction by the Company of such a popular policy shows that it understands and meets the wishes of the insuring public.

The clause as to distribution of surplus, which is stated by the Editor to be obscure, is on the contrary, so clear and plain that it has never been misunderstood by any policy-holder and can easily be understood by any intelligent school boy 15 years of age.

The ignorance of the writer is shown clearly when he attempts to quote actual figures; for instance—the amount of profits required to make the policy referred to a paid-up one in twenty years is given as $367 whereas the correct amount is $260! All the other figures in this table are equally incorrect, and the conclusions are absolutely unfounded.

As to the statements that agents have represented that the Policy will be paid up in a shorter time than is possible or reasonable, we believe the writer has called upon his imagination for his facts. Certainly if the statements were made by anagent, such as he states have been made, the agent and the policy-holder misled by him would both be fit candidates for a lunatic asylum.

As to the Non-Forture Options.—The labored effort to show that there is something wrong with this table is another evidence that the writer was hard pressed for something to say about the Company when he called attention to the fact that that a certain clause was at the bottom of the policy. He conceals the fact that the clause is at the foot of the table of surrender values—the only place where it could be properly placed. Was this honest, or does it show the spleen of the writer of the article? Something must be at the bottom of the policy; therefore, no matter what we placed there, the the argument might be used that it was placed there for the purpose of concealment. If we had printed the policy without referring to commuted values, the same writer would have objected to this with just as much weight as he has because we have inserted the commuted values.

THE DOG NUISANCE.

The dog nuisance has undergone a lively recrudescence in several cities in Ontario, says the Ottawa Journal. Toronto has been severely afflicted and the authorities are taking very active measures for the discouragement of the outlaw dog. The vagrant dog, of course, is apprehended on sight, but the vagrant dog, without known parents, or any home, is not necessarily the worst nuisance. There are in Toronto many dogs of excellent pedigree and otherwise respectable associations which have been placed under a rigid police surveillance, this in actual fact, not in any way of jest. Many persons have been bitten, and some children have been injured severely. In London a similar condition is reported and the city council there has decided to take steps to rid the city of the roving dog pest.

In a mood perhaps induced by some personal grievance suffered by the writer, one London paper says of the dog situation in that city, that "two or three thousand of these animals loose in the city streets create disorder, baffle attempts at open gardening, and are a menace to children. Their habitt to all but their owners are often objectionable. It is quite time for reform of the kind intended for the comfort of life in our cities."

That's exactly the trouble about dogs. The average man who likes dogs manages in some way to have some kind of a dog about him, and his affections are apt to extend to all dogs. The man who doesn't like dogs, on the other hand, just naturally can't abide any kind of a dog. And there you are. It is a hard thing in a way to restrict the liberties of the dog-lover, but in this, as in other matters, we fear the good of the community must be the first consideration even at the risk of an injury to the feelings of the occasional individual.

There is no reason of course why a dog should be allowed to run at large; we don't allow horses and cows to do that; but we have accepted a sort of compromise. We tax the dog-owner and make him responsible for the dog's conduct. This responsibility we know is observed conscientiously in many cases. Many dogs are oblized to behave themselves. But many other dogs, even though licensed, are allowed to do as they please. It may be hard to find a remedy for the present, perhaps, but eventually in Ottawa as in other large cities no dog will be allowed to run at large.

Meantime the whole tribe of good dogs, man's most faithful friends, are brought into disrepute by the doings on of their rowdy brothers and sisters.

FOR KILLING A MAN.

Was Fined $250 for Shooting to Death.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 25.—Enoch Cordery, of Fort Meade Fla, was today fined $250 by Justice White in the Supreme Court on his plea of guilty of manslaughter in the first degree. Cordery shot to death Harry Garr of Syracuse in a rooming house here last Christmas night. Before passing sentence Justice White suggested that a physician be employed to examine Cordery as to the condition of his mind on the night of the shooting, inasmuch as Cordery had been drinking. This district Attorney Dubley, declined to do. In passing sentence Justice White said he believed the case should go to the jury and in the absence of a jury trial, he did not feel inrlined to impose more than a fine.

PREACHER-JUDGE SHOT.

Tried to Arrest Son of Another Minister—Lynching Threatened.

Sumrall, Miss., June 25.—When C. McMellon, Methodist pastor and police judge, attempted to arrest Jerry Hall, a Baptist preacher's son, for alleged intoxication to-day John Bond, failing to rescue Hall, shot McMellon, it is alleged.

Marshall Gates and his bulldog pursued Hall and Bond, who resisted arrest, whereupon the dog lacerated Hall's throat. The dog also overtook and held Bond, until both fugitives were placed in jail, which is heavily guarded against lynchers.

ROYAL JEWELS KEPT.

Creditors of Princess Louise May Fight King Leopold.

Brussels, June 25.—The jewels bequeathed to Princess Louise by her Tother, the late Queen Henrietta, which have been seized many times for debt, are to be retained by her and not to be sold at auction, according to her lawyer, through the kindness of her creditors, who have consented to another arrangement for the payment of their dues. It is also announced that if King Leopold disinherits her daughter legal steps will be taken to obtain justice for the princess.

LONE BANDIT'S FEAT.

Robs Bank of $6,100 in Daylight, and Escapes in Auto.

Fort Worth, Tex., June 24.—A branch of the Wagoner Bank and Trust Company, in Main street, in the heart of the business section, was held up by a lone highwayman at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The robber escaped in an automobile with $6,100 in currency. Officers are in oursuit and a fight in expected.

Green Bay, Wis., June 25.—Two armed bandits entered the night office of the United States Express Company here at 2 o'clock this morning and compelled the man in charge to open the safe. They obtained $5,000.

put out in an entirely different way, and that they are absolutely misleading in the way they are given. The policy is talked, sold and accepted as an insurance of $10,000, and it is only natural for the policy-holder to assume that he will be entitled to surrender values on a $10,000 basis.

We hesitate to say it, but the facts do not seem to point to an unwillingness on the part of the Head Office of the Great-West to be a party to the deception which has almost invariably been attached to the sale of these and similar policies. It will be universally admitted that ordinary policies are more frequently sold than instalment policies, and also that in getting out a printed form it is usual to make the form applicable to the majority of cases and not to the exceptions. The Great-West has apparently gone at this matter in exactly the opposite way and got out a form to fit the exceptions, for otherwise it would have headed these columns as follows:—

"Tables of surrender values per $1,000 (Face Value)." If it desires to be perfectly fair to its policy-holders, it should place the values in an instalment policy to apply $1,000 of the nominal value, so that a policy-holder holding one of these special policies for $10,000 would obtain the values applicable to his policy by simply multiplying the values given by ten. This method would have the advantages of being both perfectly clear and easily computed. In the Great-West form, the values are hard to compute and are absolutely misleading.

NOT ALL TREATED ALIKE.

We have recently seen another policy issued for $50,000.00 in which some of the clauses that we have taken exception to have been modified very considerably by printed or typewritten slips pasted over the original printed conditions. It is evident that some applicants for this "Special" policy are wiser than others, and that their vigilance is by no means disadvantageous. We opine, however, that this reflection can hardly bring much comfort to the bulk of the people who have acquired this kind of policy without taking some advice other than that afforded them by the Great-West Life agent.

We have purposely taken several policies to illustrate our various points. It would have been unwise to have selected one only for the reason last given—that there does not appear to be that uniformity which is customary in the issues of life companies in general.

The hope may be expressed that the Great-West Life Assurance Company will see its way to withdraw from circulation a policy contract which can hardly fail to reflect adversely upon the Company in the future.

The statement that all policy-holders "are not treated alike" is absolutely false. We defy the writer of the article to show that any difference has ever been made by the Company between policy-holders of the same class.

The editor of the best Insurance Journal in North America has referred to the profit plan used in our policies as being "an embodiment of the true principles of life insurance," and we did not advertise with that journal either.

The Chinese are Taught by Young Canadian Girls

Toronto, June 26.—

IF all the sorror of the world were traced to its source, it is likely that the record of thoughtlessness would outweigh that of actual evil intent.

Unthinking of danger, Mrs. Sigel of New York introduced her beautiful daughter to the work of teaching Christianity to the dyed in the wool heatgen Chinese, a week ago the the girl's stark body was found in a lashed trunk. She had sought to draw the benighted Chinaman to the light, but she herself had been dragged in the mire and done to death.

Conditions closely resembling those in New York which led to the death of Elsie Sigel exist right here in Toronto. It behooves parents to devote thought to this matter, lest their homes be empty and their heads be bowed as are the father and mother of this unhappy girl.

There are in this city nearly 1500 Chinese. The greater number of these are laundrymen and as such frequently frequently meet the children of white citizens. Three hundred Chinese attend Sunday school and are taught individually by white women and girls. These are facts that may be easily verified. The police will tell that every year more than 100 white girls are taken from the dwellings of the Chinese. In some cases they are charged with vagrancy and turned over to the Salvation Army or other institutions to be cared for. The majority are just warned to keep away and allowed to depart.

The police admit that this is but a fraction of the number of women and girls, chiefly girls, who visit Chinese resorts.

Much of the danger arises from the half contemptuous attitude of the white to the yellow. He is treated as half child and half trick dog. His antics and tricks of speech are a source of amusement. If he speaks of things debarred from our conversation it is laid down to the ignorance of convention and condoned as the inadvertant remarks of the child which hardly embarrss and do not anger.

WHEN the spirit of adventure enters as a further lure. There is always the opium pipe, which to smoke once is an experience, but to follow means the blotting out of all experience. The police say that nearly all the women who frequent the Chinese resorts and are intimate with Chinamen use "dope." When the men used to dealing with crime and criminals would express the depths they say "She's knockin' around with the Chinks." That means but one thing—speedy and inevitable ruin. Many go down, none come back. Women may be reclaimed from other depths, but from this last degradation never.

Facts About Toronto Chinese.

FOR ways that are dark and tricks that are vain the heathen Chinese is peculiar.

Tho not from the book of Proverbs, the phrase passes with many as gospel. The Sigel tragedy in New York's Chinatown has emphasised the sentiment. How far Torontos Celestials possess "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain" might take deep probing.

Toronto's Chinese census includes 1300 Chinamen. They conduct, or work in, 256 laundries, 20 stores, 8 restaurants and 1 bakeshop. That is the statistical industrial aspect. From the pronounced labor standpaint, as voiced by J. G. O'Donoghue "they add nothing of material value to the community."

The outstanding question is the moral one. For 20 years the churches of Toronto have devoted great attention to the Toronto Orientals. The net result up to date is 300 Chinese attending Sunday school, and rather more than three times that number clinging to "the ways that are dark" of the unregenerates their friends, the Presbyterian Mission Board, in a report just published passed this judgment. "Their vices are such as sometimes land then in the police court, but seldom disturb the peace."

THE feature of Chinese mission work in Canada and United States cities is the allotment of one lady Sunday school teacher to each Chinaman. The enthusiastic endorsement of this method of evangelization by male leading church workers is something extraordinary.

When McCaul street Methodist Church was sold for a synagogue the chinese Sunday school scholars there numbered 110, with 110 lady teachers. They were transferred to Elm-street Methodist Church but some of the influential men there disapproved of the one lady teacher to one Chinese scholar and the Orientals were gradually cold-shouldered out of that school.

How far the method is a course of danger to the lady teachers is a question disposed of to the entire satisfaction of the officials of the Toronto Chinese Mission by this statement of Secretary J. A. McMillan:

"There has only been one case of a marriage between a Toronto lady teacher and a Chinaman. There have been a few other mixed marriages, about seven or eight in all that I know of. We discourage them and do not believe that any of them come out satisfactorily."

Invalid Compelled to Witness Wife's Suicide

Chicago, June 27.—Deprived of the use of his limbs by paralysis, John Bennett was compelled to witness in helpless terror the deliberate suicide of his wife to-day. Unable to move a finger, he was able to shout, but his cries were not heard.

Mrs. Bennett calmly placed a chair under a gas jet near her invalid husband's bed, and to the fixture tied a rope. Unheeding her husband's frantic screams, she affixed the noose and kicked the chair from under her feet. There she hung until life was extinct, her husband, at last exhausted by his cries, dumbly following with his eyes the slow turning of her form as the rope twisted and untwisted. This motion had ceased when the first neighbor happened in and discovered the tragedy.

Ontario Man Drowns in Sight of Young Wife

Dunkirk, June 27.—While his young bride sat in a rowboat in Cassadaga Lake on Thursday last, paralyzed with horror, Arthur Glenn, of Gowganda, struggled desperately to reach the boat before cramps dragged him under the water. He didn't succeed.

It was not until her husband had sank that Mrs. Glenn found voice to cry for help. Attention was then attracted to her, and in half an hour a number of young men were at her side. One of them rowed her to shore, where friends took care of her. Up to midnight, the body had not been brought to the surface.

Arthur Glenn and Miss Adeline Childs, of Cherry Creek, were married at the home of the bride's parents last Tuesday. The young couple left on Wednesday morning for Lily Dale to spend their honeymoon.

On the fatal day Glenn donned his bathing suit and rowed his young bride into the lake. He jumped into the water and swam around the boat several times. He was striking out for another circuit when he was seized with cramps. He called to his wife to help him, and then he turned about to try to make the boat. He was a skilled swimmer, but the struggle was too much for him.

Only $80,000 Bid for Hope Diamond

Paris, June 27.—The sale of the Habib diamond collection at the Hotel Drouot yesterday attracted many curious spectators, but few buyers. The prices were disappointing and far from sensational, except that the antitipations of experts were set at naught.

The famous Hope diamond, for which Habib paid $400,000, was knocked down for $80,000 bid by sale and the recognized leading authority on diamonds in France. It is supposed that he bought it for a client. The entire collection of eight stones brought $124,000 less than Habib paid for the Hope alone.

The first diamond in the catalogue, a rose blue of six carats, brought $5,000. The second, a white blue pear-shaped stone of twenty-four carats, brought $16,000. No. 3, a similar stone of twenty-three carats, brought $22,000. A sixteen-carat diamond from Princess Mathilde Bonaparte's casket, No. 4 in the catalogue, was sold for $32,000. No. 5, an aquamarine resembling the Nossae diamond in the English crown collection, brought $38,000. This was a seventy-carat stone.

A rose diamond of thirty-one carats, resembling the far-famed Mazarin, was No. 6 and sold for $23,000. The seventh was the "Miregent," so-called because of its resemblance to the Regent diamond in the French crown collection. It is rated at fifty-eight carats, and it brought $60,000.

No. 8 was the Hope. This brought $150,000 when it was first sold from the Hope collection. It sold at higher and higher figures in subsequent sales, although a superstition attached to it to the effect that it brought its owner ill-luck, until Selim Habib bought it at the Frankel sale for $400,000, which he recently declared was about half its proper value.

School Authorities Waging Campaign

Montreal, June 27.—The school authorities carrying on a campaign to restrain the children from attending the many moving picture shows in this city. The applause with which this announcement was greeted at the closing of the High school showed that approval of the scheme is general.

In his annual report, Mr. Wellington Dixon, rector of the High school, announced that such was the policy of the school authorities. The aid of the parents of the children is essential. The boys in particular are altogether too frequent in their attendance at these shows which have anything but a good effect upon the forming intellect. The practice must be discontinued, for it has a demoralizing effect upon the work of the pupils in school, said Mr. Dixon.

Mr. Dixon said the boys of the schools would often hurry through their lunches to spend the remainder of their free time in one of these show houses.

Toronto, June 27.—"Protective Work for Children in Chicago" was discussed by Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen of Chicago, before the Social and Moral Reform Section. She gave a lurid account of the condition of things prevailing in Chicago until recently. "A year ago," she said, "there were 425 five-cent theatres in Chicago, and in 50 per cent. of them the pictures were indecent. A considerable portion of the remainder portrayed scenes of crime and bloodshed.

"At one theatre the Thaw-White murder was exhibited by films, and in such detail that little was left to the imagination.

"Chicago druggists sold cocaine to children on account of the great profit arising from the sale of the drug. The result was that the hospitals and asylums were rapidly filling up with semi-imbeciles whose brains had been partially destroyed.

Brute Kills and Then Embraces His Wife

Cassopolis, Mich., June 27.—Stephen S. Pangborn shot his wife five times and killed her at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leon Criswell, here this evening. His wife left him about three weeks ago on account of his being drunk and abusive.

When Pangborn went to the house his daughter refused him admission until Mrs. Pangborn said: "Let him in. I am through with him, and we may as well have it out now as ever."

Upon entering he said: "Ma, are you coming to live with me again?" She said: "No, pa, I am through with you forever."

"Through with me, are you?" he said, and pulled a revolver and fired, shooting her through the body near the heart. She died almost instantly.

Sheriff Rutter went to the house and found Pangborn lying across his wife's body, with one arm around her neck. He was forcibly dragged from the house and taken to jail.

Master Painters will meet Here Next Month

The current number of the Canadian Painter and Decorator contains some interesting information of the Master Painters' convention to be held here at the end of next month. That paper, which is the official organ of the Master Painters, says:

"Of course you are all going to the convention of the Master House Painters" and Decorators' Association of Canada, which takes place in the city of Peterborough on the 27th, 28th and 29th of July.

From what we can gather it is likely to be the most successful convention yet held. The local association are found that it shall be the best yet and Peterborough has a way of making things go when they take hold of them.

The city of Peterborough itself is well worth a visit. It is beautifully situated on the Otonabee River, and a quite a railroad center, both the G.T.R. and the C.P.R. running into it. There are a number of large manufacturing concerns situated there, besides many other attractions such as the Lift lock, etc.

Then there is the program, which should prove of the greatest interest to the master painters of Canada. It just bristles with live topics and best subjects are to be dealt with by men who know whereof they speak having put in many years as practical painters.

But in addition to all the foregoing good things it yet remains for the best to be said and that is that ex-International President Stewart of Petaluma, and ex International Secretary W. E. Wall of Somerville, Mass., have both signified their intention to be present. There are perhaps no two men on this continent and in the world for that matter, who are more conversant with every phase of the painting business than the two gentlemen just named. They are men of large calibre and have both written and spoken extensively on matters affecting the welfare of the trade. It will pay the master painters to come many miles for the privilege of seeing and hearing two such esteemed leaders of the craft."

SPECIAL MEETINGS.

Held by Rev. Jon. Goforth, Closed in St. Paul's Last Night.

Rev. Jonathan Goforth, the well known missionary from Honan, China, closed a series of special meetings in Peterborough last night, and he leaves this city today for Lake Joseph to speak at the convention there. In the morning he preached in St. Andrew's church to a large congregation and in the evening at St Paul's when another very large congregation was present. After the evening service a large number gathered around this famous missionary and told him of blessings they had received as a result of his addresses. Rev Mr. Goforth, coming from the heat of the great revival in China, naturally thought that the Canadians were very cold, but towards the end of his campaign here he felt very much more encouraged and he will continue his special work for some time yet.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

At Park Street Baptist Church — Bible Class in Charge.

A very interesting service, special for the children, was held in Park street Baptist church last night. It was Flower Sunday and Children Day, and the little ones were out en masse. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and the service all through was greatly enjoyed. It was in charge of the Bible Class and the whole service was taken by some member of the school. The children sang several special selections under the leadership of Mr. J. C. Shearer, and from start to finish it was a most unique service. During the evening little girls presented a button hole bouquet to each person in attendance and the boys passed ushers and took up the collection.

NOVEL CITY CELEBRATION.

Bath, England, to Entertain Prettiest Girls from its Namesakes.

Bath, Ill., June 27.—Miss May Sisson has been chosen to represent this town at the historical pageants at Bath, England, July 19 to 24, the English city having invited the towns named after it throughout the world to send their prettiest girls for the celebration.

Miss Sisson will sail from New York on the Lusitania on June 30, and, it is expected, will be accompanied by young women from several other states. There are towns named Bath in New York, New Hampshire, Kentucky, Illinois, South Dakota and North and South Carolina, as well as Bath Beach, N. Y., Bath Springs, Tenn., and Bathgate, N. C.

DEATH IN NEW STRIKE.

Attorney Warns Georgia Road Against Negro Workers.

Atlanta, Ga., June 27.—In his statement of the striking firemen's side of the controversy with the Georgia Railroad before the arbitration committee this afternoon, Attorney Reuben Arnold declared: "This commission will have to take into consideration the state of the public mind.

"We propose to prove that the people of this state are so bitterly inflamed against the negro firemen that were you going to restore them to their positions or were the railroad, under your decision, to put them on the engines again, there would be violence and bloodshed and the lives of neither employe nor passenger would be safe. We will bring here the mayors of cities and others who have investigated and who know."

"The arbitrators were evidently impressed by this statement of Arnold.

A Talented Artist.

Mr. Frank Clark, our well known jeweller, delighted those who took in the Business Men's Excursion on Friday last with his banjo performances. The music of the banjo, with guitar accompaniment, was a decided novelty in the way of excellent music, and added much to the enjoyment of those present.

The Five Cent Shows.

Montreal Civic authorities are taking action against the five cent shows, claiming that they are not only demoralizing to the youth of the city, but greatly interfere with the work in the schools. In Peterborough there is also a growing feeling that some restriction should be placed on these places of amusement. The Times has been frequently urged to take this matter up with the view to having the connut place a high licence fee on all shows of this character, and thus slamp them out.

An Automobile Wreck.

The steamer Otonabee brought up from Gores Landing is a large touring car, which had been badly wrecked. The car belongs to guests who are staying at the Rice Lake House. It appears the party were running at a high rate of speed, when the driver suddenly lost his head, and also lost control of the car, which left the road and run plump into a large tree. The occupants were in number probably saved their lives by jumping. The car was badly wrecked, and is now in the hands of Mr. Wilkinson, of the Peterborough Machine Company, for repairs.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Excursion Here.

The Woodmen of the World had an excursion to this city on Saturday. About two hundred arrived at the C.P.R. station shortly after eleven o'clock in the morning. The tickets are good to return on the regular trains today. The visitors are viewing the many interesting features of the city, and some took in the trip down the river.

Silver Forks Were Missing.

Mrs. Weese, an elderly lady living in Belleville reported to the police that a man who was apparently travelling about sharpening scissors, etc., called at her house and asked for something to eat. She gave him some food, and after he was gone she missed five silver forks. Consequently Officer Donovan arrested the man, who gave his name as Thos. Monroe. He was brought before Magistrate Masson and remanded to jail for a week. The accused is an elderly man, about 65 years of age. When searched, the articles alleged stolen were not found upon him and he denies the theft of them.

FOUR ENGINEERS.

Want to Make a report on Burleigh Falls Power for the City.

A special meeting of the Power Committee was held on Saturday afternoon in the city clerk's office when letters were received from four engineers offering their services to the city to furnish a report on Burleigh Falls power. There was not a full committee present and so the meeting was adjourned until this evening.

DOCTOR KNEW.

Had Tried It Himself.

The doctor who has tried Postum knows that it is an easy, certain, and pleasant way out of the coffee habit and all of the ails following and he prescribes it for his patients as did a physician of Prosperitown, N. J.

One of his patients says:

"During the summer just past I suffered terribly with a heavy feeling at the pit of my stomach and dizzy feelings in my head and then a blindness would come over my eyes so I would have to sit down. I would get so nervous I could hardly control my feelings.

"Finally I spoke to our family physician about it and he asked if I drank much coffee and mother told him that I did. He told me to immediately stop drinking coffee and drink Postum in its place as he and his family had used Postum and found it a powerful rebuilder and delicious food drink.

"I hesitated for a time, disliking the idea of having to give up my coffee but finally I got a package and found it to be all the doctor said.

"Since drinking Postum in place of coffee my dizziness, blindness and nervousness are all gone, my bowels are regular and I am again well and strong. That is a short statement of what Postum has done for me."

Look in pkgs. for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville." "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter. A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

3RD DRAGOONS.

Attended Services at St. Luke's Church Yesterday.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt, chaplain of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, delivered an eloquent sermon to the officers and men of the regiment in St. Luke's church yesterday morning. The Dragoons marched all the way from their camp at Nassau to the church, and it was a long, hot, tiresome walk, which taxed the staying powers of the men to the utmost. When they arrived at the church they were joined by the officers of the 57th Regiment. The church was crowded, and the service was thoroughly appreciated.

SPECIAL SPEAKERS.

Will Give Addresses in the Bethany Tabernacle.

A series of special meetings is being arranged, to be held in Bethany Tabernacle, beginning on Wednesday evening, June 30th, and continuing each afternoon and evening during the week. It is expected that a number of speakers from the annual Canadian Convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, which opens in Toronto [illegible] will take part in the meetings. Rev. Dr. Zimmerman and Mr. and Mrs. Evans, from Southern Africa, are to be here for the first three days, and Rev. A. B. Simpson of New York, president of the society, will be here on Friday evening, July 2nd. Other speakers will be announced later, but it is hoped that the Rev. Hudson Ballard, late of Los Angeles, will be here for Saturday and Sunday.

MAIL SERVICE.

To Apsley Is Very Bad, and They Want It Rectified.

The Times is in receipt of a communication from one of the leading residents of Apsley in which he complains bitterly of the crookedness of [illegible] service furnished them. In part he says "I have not yet received your paper for either yesterday or today. As a rule I get Monday morning's paper Tuesday night, Wednesday evening's papers on Thursday evening. It also takes four or five days to get a reply to a letter from Peterborough, and we are supposed to have a daily service. Last year our mail laid over at Mount Julian for 24 hours.

This summer it seems to rest at Lakefield. If it was some village down in Quebec they would have a mail twice a day, but here we must take what we can get and be thankful."

This sort of thing is indeed most discouraging and quite uncalled for. A daily service between this city and Apsley is not only feasible, but the people have a right to demand it. There is no [illegible] to prevent it and the people in the back country want to get their mail every day and are much entitled to it as the people in the city. The post office authorities should look into this matter at once.

STRAWBERRIES FOR THE WEST

Fruit Farmers Combine in Experiment—8,400 Boxes Being Sent in One Lot.

Toronto, June 26—The first carloads of strawberries ever sent to to the Canadian West are being shipped today from St. Catharines by one hundred of the fruit farmers who compose the St. Catharines Cold Storage Company.

ever went to the Canadian West are.

These berries are being sent partly by the Canadian Pacific Railway and partly by the Grand Trunk and Chicago and Northwestern. Part go by freight and part by express.

This is done by way of experiment, to see whether the West wants Ontario's small fruit, and, if so, which is the best line to reach it by.

A few packages of strawberries have been sent west to individual customers in the past, but as the condition in which they reached their destination was not uniform, this has been abandoned.

ROAD IS BECOMING A LAKE.

Great Stretches of It Have Already Been Submerged.

Halifax, N. S., June 27.—Great stretches of road are disappearing from the highway, six miles from the Town of Antigonish, and the people are greatly alarmed. The first cavein occurred two weeks ago, when a section fifty feet long by twenty wide, disappeared, carrying a telephone pole, now far out of sight. No sooner had this opening been filled with brick and stone than another cavein took place, when a strip of the road 100 feet long disappeared. The hole made on this occasion was forty feet deep and thirty feet wide.

The cavity is now filled with water, and is a small lake. The road commissioner went to the scene from Halifax, and while he was investigating another portion of the road, fifteen feet long by ten in width, disappeared, and next day still another, 200 feet from the first cavein, sank from view.

The Intercolonial Railway track is also affected, the rails having settled over a foot in two places. The road commissioner says subterranean waters are dissolving the plaster far beneath the road, and that the district will eventually become a large lake. It has been decided to build 2,200 feet of new highway to the rear of what the people consider a death-trap, and which is very dangerous.

Little Local Lines.

Cobourg is enjoying the luxury of a house famine.

Lakefield is to have a big celebration of Dominion Day.

The Times' Prize Contest is now under full swing. The contestants are all as busy as sailors.

Sunday street watering is a move in the right direction, and is sure to be popular.

Fishing is reported excellennt at Rice Lake, many fine large lunge caught daily.

Queens University will build two extra buildings, one for chemistry, and one for mining and metallurgy. When these are completed the University will consist of 14 buildings.

It may not be out of place to call attention of rural school trustees to the fact that the Government gives a grant of $100 to any section that purchases an acre of land for a rural grant of $20 to the trustees, school garden, and also gives an annual $30 to the teacher where the work is carried on.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW ST. VICTORIA, B. C.

Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsina Sound, Vancouver Island.

Asset.

The company have acquired 55,440 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 20,000 inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 10,000 to 15,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week, we are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $3,000 per ton. At present news is selling in British Columbia at $60.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1906 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden, Germany, Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $3.00 to $5.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord. In Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1906 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles B. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States, having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident of being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the preferred stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no question but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium; remember the time to buy stock in any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits in Pulp and Paper Manufacture

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent. annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $25.00 per ton on news paper, $30.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $15.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $15.00 per ton on wrapping and $15.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $6.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1906 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $251,655. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,252,205. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 25th, 1907, Bulletin 80, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 30 2-3 per cent, of the value of goods over all expenses, of 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International Paper Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1906, amounted to $1,626,914.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $52.50 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent. on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent. upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 10 per cent. more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1906, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great volume of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is in a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 55 square miles, which ensures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

A GOOD LOCAL AGENT WANTED.

Peterborough and the Purchase of Burleigh Falls Power Rights

S. R. Armstrong, Esq.,
City Clerk,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—

There is one matter which I have neglected to mention heretofore. It is this, if the City of Peterborough had BURLEIGH FALLS developed in the City, experience shows that you could market a great deal more power. In this connection I am enclosing you herewith an extract from the "Canada Electrical News," from a paper which was read before the National Electric Light Association, which shows that for the reasons stated therein for the 3500 horse power you could probably market and obtain payment for nearly double that amount. The additional power that your cost of distribution so that if you chose to give the power to users at the net price heretofore mentioned by us, $7.60 per horse power, the additional power you could market would much more than cover your expense of distribution and you could have a handsome profit. It is this factor that enables Power Companies to make the large profits that they have often made. You may also sell power restricted for use to period when the street, light load is not on, or practically have your street lighting without cost.

Yours very truly,
R. J. McLAUGHLIN.

Some Electrical Power Experience.

The author who is Sales Manager of the Detroit Edison Company, in a paper read before the National Electric Light Association entitled "Some Electrical Power Experience," (see Canada Electrical News) states:

"Observations taken in 100 factories at odd times show that only an average 50 per cent of all the machines will be loaded at any one time, because operators preparing work or adjusting machines ate idle, or for the moment away from the machines.

"This statement to a manufacturer will not often be credited until he has proven it by observation. The fact is, however, well known to our selling force, and is considered when specifying motors required and in estimating probable costs, and the saving of expense with metered central station drive against other power due to this condition, is a good selling point."

Strathconas Won Their First Game from West End

In the weekly double-header of the Senior City League played Saturday afternoon, the T.A.S. won the first from the Park St. A.C. by 9 runs to 5 and the Strathconas with a make shift team trimmed the West Ends by 9 to 6 in the second engagement. A fair-sized crowd saw the games which were interesting exhibitions and which were exciting throughout.

In the first game the Abstainers sewed up the game in the first inning by bunching some lively hitting with juicy errors by the Baptists. The result was five runs for the Abstainers. The Park Street team threw out their parachutes and came down to earth then and for the remainder of the game it was snappy ball with the losers holding their own. Quinlan, as usual, was master of the situation and eased up a little when his team got their winning lead. Dusty was on the slab for Park St. and did good work outside of the first innings. His support was against him at the beginning so he was given rank support, but afterwards both he and the team settled down and the quality of the ball played was decidedly better. There was some lively fielding on both sides and the crowd enjoyed the game. Mr. O'Brien pulled in a fly with one hand and McFadden also had a one-handed stab at a high foul that brought the fans to their feet.

Score by innings— R.H.E.
T.A.S. ... ...5101001 1 0—9 8 7
Park St. ... ...0010112 0 0—5 6 6

Two base hits, Quinlan; struck out by Quinlan 10, by Dusty 6; base on balls off Quinlan 1, off Dusty 1; hit by pitcher, by Quinlan 1, by Dusty 1; double plays, Detscher to Flaherty, Wareham to McDonald; sacrifice hits, Flaherty 2, Umpire, Dan McCabe.

SECOND GAME.

The second game was a surprise to the fans. The West Ends looked ready beaten the Strathconas, and when the latter went on the field with a team that was composed mainly of pitchers and outfielders, owing to four of the team failing to show up it was considered it would be easy money for Manager Oldham's bunch. However, the team that was sent out to represent the High Commissioners was there with the stuff, the way and won handily from the West Enders. The latter went to the front at the start scoring 3 runs on [illegible] hits, but it was thought that the Strathconas would proceed to do another Chevy Baldwin [illegible], but they stumbled down hill from then on they had the game on ice. Graham was on the slab for the winners, and held the West Ends last to six hits, while he had almost perfect control, allowing but one walk. Outside of the second inning his support was excellent the Strathconas playing their best kind of ball. The team covered more ground and worked harder, and the result was victory.

Kirn was sent out for the West Ends to do the slab work and he was no mystery to the commissioners who collected fourteen safeties from him and Rose, who worked the last two innings. Kirn did not seem to have his usual good control and the Strathconas got to him with hits in clusters. Rose was somewhat of a mystery while he worked, his outdrops proving puzzling.

Both teams went out in order in Score by innings—
Strathconas ... 003030201—9 14 7
West Ends ... 032000001—6 6 2

Home run, Campbell; three base hit, Craig; two base hits, Shaw, Gorman, Fallon. Hits off Kirn, 10 in seven innings; off Rose, 4 in two innings. Struck out by Kirn, 4; by Rose 1; by Gorman, 5; base on balls off Kirn, 1; off Gorman, 1; hit by pitched ball, Kirn 1. Double plays, Fallon to Halpin, Kirn to King to Dobson, Curtis unassisted; sacrifice hits, Gorman, Craig, Monaghan, Umpire, Dan McCabe.

FLOWER SUNDAY.

At George Street Methodist Church for the Children.

It was indeed a beautiful service in the George street Methodist church yesterday morning. Everything was there to make it beautiful. The body of the church was filled with little children and young people from the Sunday school of that church and also of Grace Sunday school. The church was prettily decorated with beautiful June flowers. The choir rendered especially sweet music and the pastor gave a splendid address to the children. There was a big crowd present and all thoroughly enjoyed the service and were glad they went.

Dear Sir:—

Dusty, writing in one of the evening papers has evidently joined the mules or kicker clubs. At any rate his brain is quite dusty and if he were to take a plunge in the lake and lay the dust which clogs his wheels he will be able to see better and more capable of realizing the great benefits derived from springing the main thoroughfares on Sunday. In the first place Dusty needs to wake up. The people never agitated for Sunday that watering and every time it was mentioned there was a big cry raised against it, secondly if the dusty gentleman ever went to church on Sunday he would appreciate the steps the council has taken, for it is the main streets where most of the dust is raised and except on a very windy Sunday the residential streets are not bothered very much. Sunday street watering is a new thing in Peterborough and no doubt if the start proves satisfactory and if that very zealous organization, the Lords Day Alliance keeps quiet, the system will be continued to the outskirts in due time if necessary. At any rate Dusty you should be a booster and encourage all the good things that come your way.

In sickness if a certain nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. Do Not Allow Your Friends to Forget that this is the Period in Which They Can Help You Most---A Candidate's Letter Which Brought Fine Results

We expect to see some lively work done by the candidates in the Morning Times Contest this week. If you are ever going to show what you can do, now is your time. After Saturday night at Nine o'clock the ratio of votes will decrease gradually until the close of the contest.

NO LIMIT TO THE FIELD.

In thinking over those to whom you may apply for votes and subscriptions do not limit yourself exclusively to Peterboro and vicinity. Doubtless most of the candidates know people who have moved away from the city, and who naturally continue to take a keen interest in all its happenings. The best way for them to keep in touch with their old friends is for them to subscribe for The Morning Times. Tell them so and ask them to take out a subscription in your favor.

A CANDIDATE'S LETTER.

The following letter from a bright and enterprising candidate brought fine results and may be suggestive to those who wish to make an appeal to friends living at a distance.

"My Dear Friend:

"No doubt you have seen my name in the Morning Times as a candidate in their great $3,000 Contest. I have set my heart on winning one of those prizes and hope I may count on every one of my friends to give me every assistance in their power.

"I am working hard and wish to make sure that all my friends will take out a subscription in my favor. So far all have been most obliging and shown a very kindly interest in my success. Won't you please do the same?

"I assure you that you will receive more than your money's worth and will watch for the daily appearance of the paper as eagerly as I do.

"A subscription if paid-in-advance before Saturday evening July 3rd. worth 10,000 votes, and one may clip the coupons from the paper also and write the name of their favorite candidate upon it.

"Just see what a help your subscription would be to me.

"The main thing for us candidates to do is to get paid-in-advance subscriptions. In the end the winning of the Oldsmobile Touring Car may be decided by just a few subscriptions. The longer you subscribe for, the higher the ratio of votes I would receive.

"I should be so happy to win one of the prizes and shall not forget the kind part you played in helping me to success.

"Yours truly."

Try what effect a letter like that will have upon your friends, whom you cannot see personally.

Another good plan is to have your picture taken on post cards and mail them to all your friends with a few appropriate words announcing your candidacy and asking their assistance.

There are lots and lots of ways to increase your capacity for securing votes. Keep your mind on the work and some of these will pop into your head sometime when you least expect it. Then work the idea for all it is worth.

LIST WILL CHANGE.

In all contests there are changes from time to time in the names of those who are striving for the prizes. Some faint-hearted ones who have not the courage to hold out to the end drop away.

Others, who hesitate for some time, and weigh all the points for and against, become fully persuaded that the opportunity is too good to lose and that they will not be leftout.

These late entries, having been well-considered, are apt to make an excellent showing. Any bright candidate could make up during this week for all the time that has already passed.

The Peterborough Canoe Co. will Get Land at the Rear of Their Factory

The Manufacturers' Committee took up the application of the Peterborough Canoe Company for use of the land behind their factory and for a fixed assessment. The company wants to get about 100 feet on which to run a siding from the C.P.R. to their factory. The company now is not so particular about the fixed assessment, and as this was the most objectionable feature it is not likely that the matter would be so difficult to handle.

The Canoe Company are now prepared to do all kinds of business in the manufacture of launches but at the present time they have not the room to extend, and it also costs the company at least double to load it at the C.P.R. station to what it would if they had a siding in.

The 100 feet north of the factory will be used as a pulpe ground, and as this is the most valuable to the city it will be given for a short lease.

Ald Hicks and Chairman Ald. Gillespie suggested that the company be given a long lease for the land east of their factory and a short lease for the land 100 feet north.

Ald Hicks moved and Ald. Metheral seconded that the city solicitor be instructed to draft an agreement and submit it to the committee on Saturday night.

A letter was received from the publishers of the "Commercial Hand Book and Opportunities in Canada," asking for an advertisement from the city. Last year an advertisement was put in free of charge, but they want pay this year.

The committee decided not to take it.

Thirty-Year Franchise for Electric Light Co.

The first matter taken up was the application of the Peterborough L. & P. Co., for a thirty-year franchise for the use of the city streets. The committee has gone over the matter and had the city solicitor draw up a skeleton agreement.

The agreement was gone over by the committee and Mr J H Larmonth clause by clause. Some of the clauses were satisfactory, some were changed satisfactorily, while others have to be considered and reconstructed.

Mr. Larmonth will consult with the Chicago people on some of the concessions the committee are asking. The object of the committee is to give the company a fair proposition. They realize that a large amount of money is invested on which there must be a profit paid. At the same time the committee wants to get as low a rate as possible from the company.

It is necessary to get the thing through as soon as possible so that the company can get some work done this summer. Mr. Learmonth will write to Mr. Stewart, and he will come over and meet the committee at an early date, probably next Wednesday night. It will take a couple of more meetings to wind the thing up. In the meantime Mr Larmonth will meet the committee on Saturday night.

Some of the important features of the agreement are that the minimum meter will be reduced to $9.00 That the rates will be submitted to arbitration or to the Ontario Railway Board at the end of every five years. In the meantime the present prices will not be raised at all.

INTER EMPIRE FREE TRADE.

Mr. Meighen, of Montreal, the head of one of Canada's great manufacturing undertakings, who has just returned from England, stated to a Montreal newspaper that Free Trade within the Empire is sure to come. We are inclined to think that public sentiment in the Mother Country is almost unanimous in support of such a policy. But it is not the Mother Country but the self-governing overseas dominions that really have in their hands the power to bring about such an economic situation as Free Trade throughout the Empire would be. And in that regard we would refer Mr. Meighen to the recent action of the Montreal Board of Trade when it voted down a resolution instructing its delegates to the approaching Congress of British Chambers of Commerce in Australia to vote for Free Trade within the Empire.

Burleigh Falls Power and Engineer's Report

The purchase of the Burleigh Falls power is a big proposition and the aldermen on the committee in charge of it realize this. They are therefore taking every precaution and are going slowly. It is desired to secure a report on the property and on the cost of development, transmission and distribution before the deal is gone on with much further. This report will cost several hundred dollars and before spending the money the committee will get plans, etc. Several meetings have already been held but the engineer will not be appointed until later.

The Power Committee considered the letters from the four hydraulic engineers who want to make reports for the city on the Burleigh Falls power. The city now has reports from two sources viz:—

The one mace by McCallum for the Eastern Ontario Power Co., at $186,000 for development and transmission to the sub-station in the city. The cost of the property would be in addition.

The Hydro-Electric Power Co., estimate the cost at $267,000 for development and transmission to the substation.

There is so much difference between these two estimates that the committee felt that another report especially for the city should be secured.

The committee then entered upon a lengthy discussion of the purchase of the Burleigh Falls power, but the new information was brought out. The general opinion was however that an engineer be not appointed yet but that the committee get some further information first, so no engineer was appointed. One thing the committee will do is to get a plant of the property.

Ald. Bradburn moved that the club write Mr. Culberrell to bring his plans here and he prepared to either leave them or copies of them, with the committee. This was carried.

BERGERON'S WIDOW SUES.

Steamer Fireman's Widow Wishes to Recover $10,000 Damages.

Ottawa, June 26.—In the Hull Superior Court $10,000 was claimed from the Temiskaming Lake Navigation Company by the widow of A. Bergeron, of Ville Jarvis, who was a fireman on the old tubed steamer Temiskaming, whose boiler exploded on the lake in October last when three people besides Bergeron came to their end. Evidence was given by the engineer of the Temiskaming as to the explosion, but though pressed to give a theory, he said he could not imagine how it happened. He was below ten minutes before the accident, and everything before the accident, and everything appeared in order then. The case was not finished.

QUEBEC BRIDGE PROBLEMS.

Ottawa, June 28. The report of the commission on the Quebec bridge is not likely to be presented for some days. As explained by an eminent engineer, the project is so stupendous that even upon the general principle it is not surprising that differences of opinion should prevail. "Take," he said, "the one element of expansion and contraction of the material. You will possibly be surprised to learn that it calls for an allowance of two feet four inches for the entire length of the bridge. This has to be allowed or in the calculations for stresses this as a sample of the elements of unprecedented character which must be taken into consideration. There are no existing data upon which to base calculations involving such departure from ordinary bridge engineering practice and it may well be that the three experts engaged upon the task will not arrive at unanimous conclusion for some time to come."

The fact is that the Government, the railway department, and the commissioners are suffering from over-anxiety, realizing as they do that the next Quebec bridge must be safe beyond peradventure.

Nine Lives Lost in Water--Bride Drowned

Deseronto, Ont., June 28.—Another drowning accident occurred here Saturday evening, when Clair Parks, the 16-year old son of William Parks was drowned in the Bay of Quinte. He was swimming with several of his chums when he suddenly sank. It is supposed he took a cramp.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

Port Carling, Muskoka, June 28. Willie Carr, the 19-year old son of George Carr, a farmer near here, was drowned while bathing yesterday morning. The young man was just learning to dive and struck his head against a stone. His brother went first to his assistance, but could not get him out. His father, who is also a good swimmer, then jumped in, but the weight of his clothes pulled him down so that he had to be pulled out with a boat hook. The body was recovered about half an hour later, in thirty feet of water.

20, and her brother, Wm. Ward, were drowned in the Kaministiqua river. They were canoeing on the river, and while Ward was changing the paddle from one hand to another the current capsized the boat. Loughton supported his wife until he became unconscious. He was rescued by two men.

London, June 28.—The body of Frederick Sathse, aged 44, was found floating in the Thames yesterday morning. Death was due to suffocation. He had gone in bathing and was stricken with a fainting spell and fell face downward in the water. The body floated a mile with the lungs full of air, keeping out all water. He leaves a widow and four children.

GARFIELD McMINN DROWNED.

North Bay, June 28.—Garfield Blake McMinn, aged ten years, son of J. D. McMinn, lumberman, was drowned while bathing with some companions near his home at Ruth erglen, twenty-six miles east of North Bay. The body was recovered and taken to Huntsville for burial.

A FATAL BATHE.

Iroquois, June 28.—Dannie Roberts, 16 years old, son of Edward Roberts, was drowned yesterday, while bathing in the canal.

TWO CLERKS SANK.

Winnipeg, June 28.—Late Sunday afternoon W. C. Thompson and Samuel McConaghy, two clerks, were canoeing on the river near Elm Park, when their boat upset, and both were drowned.

Killed His Father Then Shot Himself

Quincy, Ill., June 28.—George Gurney shot and killed his father, Dr Seneca, Gurney, aged 79 years, wounded his sister-in-law, Mrs. Seneca Gurney, jr., aged 37, and then killed himself by sending a bullet into the right ear, yesterday. Mrs. Gurney was shot in the right cheek and the back of the neck.

Mrs. Gurney and her brother-in-law recently came from New Orleans where he was foreman for a firm of contractors. George Gurney called Mrs. Gurney to his room, saying that he was not feeling well. She offered a few words of sympathy, whereupon he drew a magazine revolver from under the bed clothes, and fired at her twice. Dr. Gurney attempted to go to her aid and was shot down. Then the son killed himself.

Ill health and worry over the death of a daughter, and his separation from his wife, who lives in Oklahoma, are supposed to have affected the slayer's mind.

Thinks Tecumsehs Have Chance to Win

New Westminster, June 28.—It is raining again today and Tecumsehs didn't practice.

Felker is much better, but Manager Querrie is very lame, and not likely to play tomorrow. Whitehead will likely replace him.

Interest in tomorrow's match is keener than ever. The odds are all "even money, and take your choice." Tecumsehs are considered to have a chance to lift the cup.

Lakefield News:—Mr. A. S. Butchart has purchased a McLaughlan-Buick touring car, the car arriving here last week. This is the fourth automobile brought into the village and the owners are taking a great deal of pleasure out of them. Very little trouble has been experienced, so far, with any of the cars.

Secret Societies Must be Protecting the Murderer

New York, June 28.—The fact, now established beyond any doubt, that the trunk containing the body of Elsie Sigel, was removed from the room occupied by Leon Ling, in Eighth avenue, and by him taken to Newark, has clouded the testimony originally given to the district attorney, by Sun Leong, the proprietor of the chop suey restaurant above which Leon roomed, and his cook and waiter, Chin Song and Yee Kim. All three, now out on $1,000 bail, will be taken in hand today by assistant district Attorney Ward, and made to explain how they failed to observe the moving of the trunk first out of the building and past the open door of the restaurant, and in again, after the effort to dispose of it in Newark had failed.

Questioning of the occupants of the building, other than the three Chinamen, failed to elicit any information today establishing that the operation of the moving of the trunk had come to the notice of any of the neighbors.

An Americanized Chinaman, known only as Louis, has been engaged by the district attorney's office to ferret out the truth concerning the loud protestations made by various secret societies of Chinatown that their members are bending every effort to the end of locating Leon, and turning him over to the police.

Bronchitis

SCIENTIFICALLY TREATED.

The best authorities agree that bronchitis is treated most scientifically by Catarrhozone, which goes right to the root of the trouble.

Bronchitis can be treated successfully only by a remedy carried direct to the affected parts along with the air breathed.

Catarrhozone is a vegetable antiseptic and is inhaled at the mouth, and afterpassing through all the air passages of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, is exhaled through the mouth.

The healing vapor of Catarrhozone goes wherever the air you breathe goes, and reaches every part that is affected. No matter how deep-seated the bronchial irritation may be, Catarrhozone is sure to reach it.

Catarrhozone protects and heals the mucous membrane, stops the cough, heals up the sores, and is guaranteed to bring speedy relief and sure cure.

By means of the inhaler Catarrhozone treats the local symptoms of bronchial trouble very effectually. The poisons and impurities in the blood are driven off by Ferrozone, which is a wonderful tonic and timulant for the entire system.

Ferrozone is a muscle and tissue builder, increases the appetite aids digestion and makes the body so healthy and strong that bronchitis goes away for good.

A prominent steamboat owner, well known throughout Eastern Ontario, Captain Dunlop of Kingston, was perfectly cured of Bronchitis by Catarrhozone. The Captain had suffered for more than 20 years, and says that Catarrhozone is the best cure for Bronchitis on the face of the globe.

Mr. A. J. Calhoun, a prominent citizen of Neepawa, Manitoba, speaks very appreciatively of Catarrhozone as a specific for Bronchitis, and states that his wife could not get along without it.

Everyone that has used Catarrhozone is satisfied that it is superior to all other remedies. It is delightful to inhale, simple and convenient to use, and relieves from the first breath taken through the inhaler.

Better try Catarrhozone. All druggists sell and recommend it. Complete outfit, price $1.00; trial size 25c by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE WOMEN'S CONGRESS.

The work of this congress, now being held in Toronto, is indeed a noble one in so far as these representative women of the world aim to secure measures that will ameliorate the prevailing conditions of the majority of their sister mortals. Their philanthropic efforts for the protection of the weaker sex is putting to blush, many men in high places, who have neglected their opportunities of advocating legislation that would tend to make life easier for and a livelihood more readily attainable to the thousands upon thousands of women and girls in this world who are relying upon their own exertions for a mere existence. Whether women will secure full suffrage in this generation or not is exceedingly doubtful, and whether the fact of their being permitted to exercise their franchise in political matters would render them any happier is a debatable question. Suffragettes have had and are experiencing a hard time of it in England, and masculine prejudice to this agitation has gone so far as the rejection by the Royal Academy of a beautiful painting by Miss Ethel Wright of Miss Christabel Pankburst because the latter is a suffragette. However, the prerogative of having her own way is an inherent characteristic handed down to woman by her maternal parent, Eve, and in time the weaker sex will undoubtedly secure the suffrage they are so energetically fighting for. Women have systematically encroached on the old time privileges of men, until they have won for themselves equal rights in many sports, in at one time exclusively masculine luxuries, and in the matter of dress, even to in some instances donning trousegrettes and pantaloons. They have also invaded many masculine walks of labor until a large monopoly of revenue producing positions heretofore monopolized by men are now closed to those who depended upon them for making happy homes for contented women. And it is deplorable that the twentieth century woman shuns more and more each decade domestic service, at which many would be far better off in every way than laboring in factories. It is to be hoped that these noble-minded representative women among women will devote a portion of their self imposed duties to educating their less fortunate sisters to take more kindly to household work, and to the removal of whatever causes may exist on the part of householders themselves for relegation to its present unpopular position of domestic service.

Pains of women, head pains, or any pain stopped in 20 minutes sure with Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets 25c full formula on 25c. Box. Sold by all dealers.

DENTAL INSPECTION IN THE SCHOOLS

In a recent issue of The Cleveland News appeared an article describing a visit made by fifty dentists and fifty young woman assistants to five of the public schools of that city for the purpose of inspecting the teeth of the children.

Shortly before school opened the children began to troop in, each child holding a report blank on which was printed a chart of the human mouth, with blank spaces to be filled designating age, name, school and grade of child condition of mouth, gums and teeth and nationality. On this blank is stated whether toothbrush is used or not. When filled out it is signed by the examining dentist to be filed. The children marched in stoically and lined up before the various tables. As each child presented himself the dentist explored the ora cavity with a dental mirror, his assistant jotting down the results of the examination Examination by mirror only is permitted. The assistant's duty also consisted of keeping the examing instrument sterlized. The examination went forward rapidly. Within fifteen minutes some score of children had been inspected.

The examination is being conducted by the Cleveland Dental Society, and it is intended to present a report covering all the schools of Cleveland to the Board of Health, the Board of Education, and the Chamber of Commerce. The object is to teach children how properly to care for the mouth and the teeth, how to masticate food and how to keep the mouth clean. All such work has been strictly voluntary so far, but it is hoped to obtain such legislation as will result in having this kind of inspection systematically maintained.

In Ontario some initial steps hape been taken toward medical inspection, but we have not made the same advance steps that have been taken in the United States. Certainly the proper care of the teeth is an important matter, and bears a close relation to the general state of the health. What is more, there is a wholesome destruction of teeth going on among children which an occasional insurection would prevent.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A judge in Hastings, Mich., has ruled that a subscription promise to pay any sum to a church is a binding contract. In 1904 the First Presbyterian Church of Hastings City, wishing to erect a new building, circulated in subscription list for the same and F. D. Chesbrough, a wealthy lumbermen signed for $2,000. He paid $900 but refused to pay the remainder. The case was taken into court, however, and circuit judge and L. Collins gave judgment against Chesbrugh.

Fight With Aborigines.

The treacherous murder of a beach comber by West Australian natives and the narrow escape of his companion are reported from Perth, Western Australia. Madson and Jones, the beachcombers referred to, were in their lugger in Yamps Sound when a shore party of natives induced Jones to land and accompany them round a promotory in search of shell. A few minutes later his companion observed the natives running over the hill, but Jones failed to return. At supper-time Madson was struck from behind by a native who had remained with him in the lugger, but he threw his assailant overboard and on the man attempting to regain the boat fired and killed him. For two days Madson waited, but as it was clear that Jones had been murdered the survivor set sail for the nearest port.

A Novelist's Insight.

The elaborate realism of Thomas Hardy is one of the points of the novelist's genius which causes much astonishment among his admirers. On one occasion a friend was expressing his wonder to him at the manner in which he was able to enter into the intimacies of a country girl's life.

"How on earth do you do it?" said the friend. "You might almost be a country girl yourself."

"When I was a young man," explained Mr Hardy, "I used to write love letters for the village girls to their sweethearts in India. That naturally gave me an insight into their characteristics."—Book-Lover

A Lucky Illness.

It was owing to an illness that Sir Laurence Alma-Tadema became a painter. He was educated with the intention of making him a lawyer, but sickness cut his studies short. When confined to his bed he relieved the tedium by making little sketches. These showed so much ability that when he was well again he readily obtained his mother's permission to devote himself to painting.

Mrs. Howard Gould a Delighted Woman

(Special to The Times.)

New York, June 26.—Mrs. Howard Gould is a delighted woman as the result of Judge Dowling's verdict in her favor yesterday, by which she gets a separation from her husband, and $36,000 a year alimony.

"I am the happiest woman living," she declared last night, "because I have been so completely vindicated before the entire world of all these horrid charges. Not one little pang shot through my heart at the smallness of the allowance. Only supreme joy and the deepest gratitude I send a thousand loving thanks to all who have helped me."

It was in the vindication of a charge of intoxication, and her alleged relations with Duston Farnum the actor, that Mrs. Gould scored most strongly. The court held that the alleged "intoxication" may have been due to excitement. As to Dustin Farnum, it was held that her association with him came after Mr. and Mrs. Gould separated, and that the husband apparently made no objection.

A WIFE'S ALLOWANCE.

Taking up the question of alimony in his report just issued Justice Dowling said; "The defendant is a man of large wealth and his income is approximately $750,000 a year. But it is not the business of the court in granting alimony, to dispose of the defendant's property.

"Now a husband may be as extravagant as he pleases or as penurious as he pleases with regard to his wife's expenses, but as long as he provides her an adequate and proper home and gives her the comforts in life, which his means enables him to give, the command of the law is satisfied. The difficulty with a case of this kind is in determining what a reasonable sum would be. The court can, of course, make no provision by way of substituting for joyed while living with the defendthe luxuries which the plaintiff enant. It cannot provide her with a yacht or provide her with means for keeping a yacht.

"For to apply to the plaintiff in a case of this kind no more relief than simply provision for keeping life and soul together would be obviously unfair, and would be putting a premium upon desertion of wives by their husbands, and would be making it easier for them to reduce their expenses by simply leaving their wives, and their paying no more than was required for the actual necessities of life.

The case lasted for three weeks. Howard Gould will have to pay $17,000 fees, and $3,000 for expenses.

Splendid Crop Reports Come from the West

Winnipeg, June 26.—Good soaking rains have worked their way east from Alberta where much rain fell yesterday and Thursday, through Saskatchewan into this province, and precipitation has been general and fairly heavy during the past twenty hours throughout Manitoba, as much as an inch having fallen in Brandon district.

In the Winnipeg District and east of here rain was badly needed and the present fall is doing a world of good.

Altogether it has been a singularly auspicious week for farmers of the prairie west, for good showers and steady downpours have alternated with bright sunshine, and although the nights have been a little cold, generally speaking the growth has been wonderfully quickened.

The early part of June was unusually dry for the month, but just as some real anxiety was being expressed, especially for late sown grain, conditions changed and the abundant precipitation of the past week or so is likely to bring the month as a whole out well up to the average for moisture.

It is hardly possible that any untoward event can interfere between this and July 1 to prevent the condition of spring wheat on Dominion Day being better than it has been any time these twenty years.

THE JULY ROD AND GUN.

"Big Game Shooting in the Yukon Territory," by that veteran sportsman, Mr. C. G. Cowan, opens the exceptionally fine July number of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., It is clear from the account given that big game is plentiful in the Yukon and provides fine sport for those who can afford time and money to travel so far. Mr. Reginald Gourlay predicts a good Fall for the Hares and consequent relief to the big game of the North from Indian raids. Canadian and American sportsmen should note and govern themselves accordingly. The Basset Hound for Sport is an article which will interest all dog lovers. These are but samples of a long list in which fishing and hunting topics come in for adequate treatment, while numerous short papers supply variety and enable sportsmen to pick up the magazine at any time, confident of finding much that will give them pleasant reading on topics which appeal to them all the year round even if the force is increased somewhat in the summer weather when the wild is calling in many years.

Get Well First

Don't risk even a penny—until health first returns.

And I mean just exactly that. I am the one physician who says to the sick "I will not ask you to pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help!" And for 35 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere. Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unwarranted and uncertain medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative. When the stomach nerves, or the Heart or Kidney nerves fail, these sick ones know how quickly Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever. They know that when health fails to return, Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay the cost. And that a full 30 day treatment is freely granted. But write me first for an order.

This will save delay and disappointment. All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but all are not prescribed to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line please—for I have appointed an honest and responsible druggist in almost every community. By, everything to learn my full plan. No cost. Tell me also which book you need. The books below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides you are perfectly free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the best book on your case—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private personal advice. Why not let me help you? Don't risk another day. Get my best opinion, and my best effort is surely worth your simple request. Or write now, while you have it in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 31, Racine, Wis.

GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTAR...

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, under the authority of Chapter 4, of the Statutes of Ontario, 1909, invites subscriptions from the public for a loan of $3,000,000 on behalf of the Province of Ontario, or "Ontario Government Stock."

The bonds will be dated 1st June, 1909, and payable on the 1st June, 1939, in denominations of $1,000 each, with coupons attached for interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 1st June and 1st December in each year at the office of the Provincial Treasurer, Toronto, or at the offices of the Bank of Montreal, in Montreal, Canada, and in New York, N. Y., at the holder's option. Bonds will be made payable to bearer, but on request will be registered in the office of the Provincial Treasurer and endorsed as payable only to the order of certain persons or corporations, and on request of holders will be exchanged for "Ontario Government Stock" at any time.

"Ontario Government Stock" will bear interest from the 1st day of June, 1909, principal payable on the 1st day of June, 1939, and interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum will be paid half-yearly by cheque on the 1st day of June and 1st day of December in each year. "Ontario Government Stock" may be subscribed for in sums of $50 or multiples thereof, and will be transferable in the books of the Treasury Department only by the holder or his attorney in similar manner to transfers of bank stock.

The issue price during the month of June, 1909, will be 102 for each $100, and after the 30th day of June, 1909, the issue price will be 103 and interest accrued from the 1st June 1909.

ALL BONDS AND INSCRIBED STOCK ISSUED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE SAID ACT ARE FREE FROM ALL ONTARIO PROVINCIAL TAXES, CHARGES, SUCCESSION DUTY AND IMPOSITIONS WHATSOEVER.

Purchasers of Stock or Bonds will be required to send certified cheque with the application, payable to the order of the Provincial Treasurer of Ontario.

This loan is raised upon the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Ontario, and is chargable thereupon.

Subscribers should state whether they desire bonds or "Ontario Government Stock."

Example: A subscriber for $1,000 will have the option of taking either a bond or "Ontario Government Stock." A subscriber for $500 will be given "Ontario Government Stock," as bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000.

GREETING SPRING.

An Old and Picturesque Custom In Switzerland.

The first of March is a day of joyful festivity among the school children in most of the Engadine communes in Switzerland. At 4 o'clock in the morning a party of schoolboys march through the village clanging cowbells, big and little, with all their might to proclaim the dawn of a boisterous day to their slumbering schoolmates still abed.

As the day grows bright the boys gather, each one with a huge bell hung around his neck, on the village square, where they form in ranks, according to their size. When the preparations, always conducted amid great excitement and juvenile jubilation, have been completed the procession starts on a tour through the streets to the accompaniment of furious bell ringing and noisy yodeling.

One of the eldest of the demonstrators, with a milk pail on his shoulder and dressed in the costume of a dairyman, with yellow breeches, white stockings, low shoes, finely embroidered braces over a shirt of spotless white, turned up sleeves, displaying a brawny arm, the dairyman's hat perched jauntily on the back of his head, marches proudly at the head of the herd. At the end of the procession is another big boy with a big staff in his hand like a herdsman.

All this reminds us of the way the cows go to the Alps to the sound of bells. The whole festival is nothing but a spring celebration to herald the return of the milder season, which has been looked forward to with longing for months.

The custom is said to be of Roman origin; hence its name, "Chalanda Marz" (from Kalendarae), which justifies the assumption that, from the period of the year chosen for the observance of this festival, it must have originated in the mild climate of Italy and not in the cold clime of the Engadine.

In the way described the troop marches on from house to house and is presented by the matrons with rice, chestnuts, sausages, bread and even money. The hotels are all visited, and the guests always contribute some small change. Out of the proceeds a general jollification is provided, in which the girls of the neighborhood take part.

How intense is the youngsters' enjoyment of the Chalanda Marz festivities can scarcely be imagined by any one who has not looked on at these annual junketings.

In the Days of Sir Allan MacNab.

A Hamilton paper says the remains of Sir Allan MacNab will be removed from Dundurn Park to Holy Sepulchre cemetery, after resting in the former place for nearly seventy-five years.

Hardly so long. Sir Allan was still very much alive when The Toronto Examiner of June 16, 1847, said of him:

"Sir Allan MacNab is a great man. Speaker of the House of Assembly, jugging director of the Great Western Railroad Co., the representative of Hamilton, president of the Gore District Turf Club, and the pious defender of the rights and wrongs of mother church. The races are coming on. Pity Sir Allan cannot be in two places at once—cannot attend to the important business of the turf and the petty business of the Legislature at the same time."

How courteous were these old-time papers in their references to public men, and how full of news! One looks in vain for a report of said races, but finds instead an editorial jeremiad. The races and the circus, said The Examiner, filled the police court, and it called upon the Government for their abolition.—Toronto Saturday Night.

Rubinstein's Free Seat.

A pianist who was pre-eminently successful in his day was Rubenstein, who traveled nearly the whole world over delighting people with his genius. He was very much annoyed by requests for complimentary tickets, but most of the time he maintained his composure, even though justly irritated. It is told of him that just before one of his recitals in London he was accosted by an old lady in the entrance hall and thus addressed:

"Oh, Mr. Rubenstein, I am so glad to see you! I have tried in vain to purchase a ticket. Have you a seat you could let me have?"

"Madam," said the great pianist, "there is but one seat at my disposal, and that you are welcome to if you think fit to take it."

"Oh, yes, and a thousand thanks! Where is it?" was the excited reply.

"At the piano," smilingly replied Rubinstein.

Toasted Bread.

Bread that has been toasted until it becomes brown has had the starch in it largely converted into dextrin, and hence, so far as the brown portion is concerned, one of the processes of digestion is gone through before the bread is taken into the stomach. It will be found that the thinner the slices of bread and the more thoroughly toasted—not burned, but changed to a deep brown color—it will be found still more easily digested.—London Standard.

Courteous Cabby.

A pompous looking lawyer once chartered a hansom cab, and on reaching his destination he only gave his driver the shilling required by law.

The driver looked at the coin and bit his lip. Then in the most courteous manner he motioned to his fare to get in again.

"Do step in again, sir," he said. "I could ha' druv ye a yard or two further for this 'ere."

Looking Forward.

"Johnny," said Mr. Bliggens, "I want you to study hard and learn all you possibly can."

"Did you do that?"

"No, my son, I did not. But I want you to escape the trouble my inattention has caused me. When you grow up and have a son I don't want you to be humiliated by being unable to answer your boy's questions."

Some boys while playing on the street in the north end of the city, accidentally struck the editor of The Times with a baseball, at which the latter only laughed. There is nobody so amiable as the editor of the g.f.j. when things are going his way.

Tell some deserving Rheumatic sufferer, that there is yet one simple Shoop's book on Rheumatism and a free trial test. This book will make it entirely clear how Rheumatic pains are quickly killed by Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy—liquid or tablets. Send no money. The test is free. Surprise some disheartened sufferer by first getting for him the book from Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Sold by all dealers.

THE SEPARATION.

Why One Victim Lost Faith In Side Whiskered Brethren.

"Uh-whilst yo' was gone," said Brother Smathers, relating the news to Brother Buckaloo, who had been on a journey, "a gen'leman 'peared on de scene yuh wid de noration dat he was a clarryvoyant and de seventh son o' suppin—I dunnah what—and was gwine to hold a secession in de lodge hall and show signs and wonduhs for de modest sum o' two bits for folks and 10 cents for betwixt sized chil-d'en; po'tly pussonage, wid a striped vest and woolly side whiskers, and 'bout the shade, he was, of de opposite side of a fish."

"Wisht I'd a-been dar," enviously remarked Brother Buckaloo.

"Wisht yo' had, sah, uh-kaze I likes sympathy. "Well-uh, de side whiskered gen'leman took de money at de do', and de house was plumb packed, and den he blowed out de lights and 'nounced in a grisly voice for everybody to set right still, uh-kase for de fust spearmint he was uh gwine to whirl in and separate deir souls fum deir bodies."

"Mum-mum-muh Lawd, sah! Did he do it?"

"Not so's yo' could notice it. We dems sot and sot and waited and waited, and blamby a gamblin' man dat wasn't skeered begun to snawt, and den he lit a light, and, behold, the pussessah was gone! He'd dope separated us amaht growed folks fum our two bits apiece and de innycent child'en fum deir dimes and was gone fum us. Dat's all dar was to it, 'ceppin' it clinches de sneakin' s'picion I's had for, lo, dese many days dat a nigger wid side whiskers dess natu'ally kain't be right."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

VISITING CARDS.

Names and Messages Used to Be Scribbled on Playing Cards.

It is somewhat curious that so useful an invention as the visiting card should have been unknown to society until comparatively recent times. Yet 150 years ago the carte de visite did not exist. The belles of the seventeenth century used nothing in the shape of a name card, or "ticket," as it was afterward called. Invitations to routs and drums as well as names and addresses were written across the backs of playing cards, which in those days were made with a white reverse and innocent of the intricate pattern familiar to us in modern times.

Mary Wortley Montagu, a lady of ton, says the Connoisseur, would be apt to use a red playing card—a queen of hearts—for ordinary social purposes, while an amorous beau inscribed his name and the most tender of inquiries on the back of a jack of spades. The great world of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries was a small world. It was rigidly exclusive. Living in the same quarter of the town, the quality sent each other scribbled messages by the hand of a favorite page. Society, in a word, was informal in the midst of stately formalities, and we have no difficulty in believing the Comtesse de Boigne when she tells us that in 1800 Lady Harington used to trot up and down Bond street picking up guests for a party for the same night.

Quite Simple.

It is told, no matter on what authority, that a telephone company in Chicago has no end of trouble with its wires. They were continually out of order. Nobody seemed to know why. An investigation was started.

Most of the subscribers in the territory where the trouble was were Poles, Hungarians, Russians, etc. An expert after due consideration of the matter decided that the wires were unable to withstand the onslaughts of languages like Polish, Hungarian, Russian, etc.

"Can you suggest a remedy?" asked the officials of the telephone company.

"Certainly," answered the expert. "Substitute barbed wire."

The suggestion was followed. There was no more trouble.

To Spade It Up or to Plow It?

I am not sure but that the spaded garden has some advantage over the plowed one. The soil can be turned up just where you want it and as you want it by the use of the spade, while the plow works alike throughout the garden, though the soil may vary in depth and nature to a considerable extent. A spaded garden always looks best at the beginning, and looks count in gardening as well as elsewhere. But the gardener who has a liking for neatness will make his garden look well after a little in spite of all obstacles.—"Home Garden," by Eben E. Rexford.

LIBRARY FRIGHT.

It Covers Its Victim With Confusion and Helplessness.

"That woman," said the library attendant, pointing to a woman who had just gone into the reading room, "had a pretty bad case of library fright."

"When?" asked the old subscriber.

"A few minutes ago, when she asked for a book," said the librarian. "Did you never hear of the library fright? Many people have it. It attacks them when they go into a strange library just to look around or rest for a few minutes and are informed that in order to enjoy the hospitality of the reading room they will have to ask for a book and make at least a pretence of reading. The chances are that, no matter how familiar they are with books, they won't be able to recall the name of a single one at that moment. If the library happens to be run on the help yourself principle, which gives patrons access to the shelves, they can pick up some volume at random, but when obliged to consult the catalogue, as they are here, their confusion is both pitiable and ludicrous.

"I had the library fright twice myself. My first attack was in the Congressional library in Washington. I wanted to read there for a few minutes, just for the sake of being able to say afterward that I had read there. Used as I was to handling books, I couldn't think of even the dictionary when it came to making a choice. After a few minutes of hopeless floundering 'Taine's History of English Literature' flashed across my mind. I had no desire on earth to look at 'Taine's History of English Literature' then or at any other time, but I give you my word I couldn't think of any other book to save my life.

"Another time, in a library here in town, I was stricken with a similar panic, and after stumbling through the catalogue in a dazed sort of way I asked for 'David Copperfield'—'Copperfield,' mind you, that I had read forty-eleven times and knew by heart. It's a funny thing, this library fright. A person who has never experienced it cannot imagine how foolish and helpless the sufferer feels."

Some Odd Words.

"Topsy turvy"—when things are in confusion, they are said to be topsy turvy, an expression derived from the way in which turf for fuel is placed to dry on its being cut. The surface of the ground is pared off with the heath growing upon it, and the heath is turned downward and left some days in that state that the earth may get dry before it is carried away. It means, therefore, really "top side turf way."

"Coxcomb" is a corruption of cock's comb, which is considered as an unnecessary part and is always cut off from game birds and only suffered to grow on those of the barnyard breed; hence coxcomb is a ridiculous fellow, who pays more attention to decoration of his person than to the improvement of his mind.

"Hurly burly" denotes confusion or tumult and is said to owe its origin to two neighboring families, Hurleigh and Burleigh, who filled their part of the country with contest of violence.

If Juliet Sneezed.

Julia Marlowe once yielded to the insistent demands of an ambitious girl admirer, who had deluded the actress with sweet notes begging an interview, and told her to call at the hotel on a certain afternoon, when she would be glad to see her.

"I saw you in 'Romeo and Juliet' last Monday night," said the young woman, "and have just been insanely curious to ask you a question."

"Well, what is the question?" said Miss Marlowe.

"In the potion scene I want to know what you are thinking about when you lie there supposed to be in the deep sleep from the effects of the drug you took."

"I'm not thinking," said the actress.

"I'm hoping."

"Hoping?"

"Yes; hoping that I won't sneeze."

A Geodetic Survey of Canada.

A geodetic survey of Canada, with W. F. King as chief astronomer, has been established on the recommendation of the Minister of the Interior.

During the last four years a triangulation has been in progress in the better settled parts of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, under the astronomical branch, the object of which is to determine with the highest attainable accuracy the position of points throughout the country and the lengths and directions of lines which may form the basis of surveys for all purposes, topographical, engineering or cadastral and thereby assist in other survey work.

When the Woman Fainted.

This happened on the Lake Shore flier not long ago. A man rushed in from the car behind, evidently in great agitation, and said: "Has anybody in the car any whisky? A woman in the car behind has fainted." Instantly dozens of flasks were produced. The man who had asked for it picked out the largest one, drew the cork and put the bottle to his lips. With a long, satisfied sigh, he handed it back and remarked: "That did me a lot of good. I needed it, for it always makes me feel queer to see a woman faint."

The Trade Winds.

The trade winds are caused by the difference of temperature between the poles and the equator. As the heated air at the equator rises the cooler air from the north and south poles flows in to take its place, and these atmospheric currents flowing from the north and south poles toward the equator constitute what are called the trade winds. The trades are of varying force, their strength depending entirely upon the difference in temperature between the equator and the pole. The greater the difference the stronger the wind.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Refuses to Spend Money in Useless Advertising

INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL REVIEW.

F. McPhillips, Editor,
Toronto, 5th December, 190-. J. H. Brock Esq.,
Great-West Life Assurance Co.,
Winnipeg, Man.

Dear Sir :—

I presume that some time during the present month you will be re-arranging your advertising for the ensuing year, and I beg to remind you that when we discussed the matter, when you were here during the summer, you said it would be considered at the first of the year. Up to the present time I have not had the privilege of carrying a card of your Company, nor have I ever published your annual statement.

I would be pleased if you would give both these your favorable consideration for the coming year.

Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) F. McPHILLIPS.

THE GREAT WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

The Insurance and Financial Review, Winnipeg, March 27th, 1909.
Toronto, Ontario.

Gentlemen :—

We have not overlooked the information you gave us regarding rates in the Review, but so far it has not been decided to extend our advertising appropriation in this direction. However, your information is still before us, and when a decision is arrived at you will be advised.

Yours truly,
THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY
Per "G.W.R."
Advertising Department.

The Great West Life Assurance Company thought it would not be profitable to the Company or to its policy-holders, who are interested in its revenues, to spend money uselessly in advertisements appearing in a journal, in their opinion, practically unknown, except to insurance agents. Accordingly it was decided not to advertise in that journal, though we expected that it might attack the Company. What we expected happened. Nevertheless the Com pany intends to advertise only in such reputable papers as it considers will give results beneficial to the insuring and the Company.

Some unscrupulous representatives of competing Companies make use of the unfair attacks of such journals without explaining the circumstances of the attacks, or the absurdity of the statements made, and we trust those who are approached by such agents will inform themselves on the subject by reading carefully the articles and the notes and comments thereon.

The Article

Representations have reached us with disconcerting frequency of late that conditions in regard to the Great West Life Assurance Company are by no means satisfactory.

The Annual Report, which was published early in March, contains this remarkable statement. "We have this year changed all our records so that policies payable by instalments are entered not at their face values, but at their commuted values." It is well known that the Company has not until very recently availed itself of regular actuarial advice and very possibly much of the criticism incurred is attributable to this neglect, but we might ask why this rather important matter was overlooked by the Department of Insurance in the course of its yearly inspections. Inaccuracy in one part of a statement is apt to lead to suspicion of other parts.

PROFIT VARIATIONS.

We have before us a pamphlet issued by the Great West Life Assurance Company, entitled "Actual Results to Policy-holders." "Paid by the Great West Life Assurance Company under the Fifteen Year Preferred Dividend Policies which matured in 1907, together with the Results under Policies maturing in 1908." L

We quote two cases of Fifteen Year Endowment Policies maturing in 1908.

Policy No.	Amount.	Premiums paid.	Total cash value of policy.
640	$1,000	$969.75	$1,575.00
823	1,000	945.00	1,519.00

It is generally believed that the profits shown under these policies are excessive. This view is strengthened by a comparison with a five-year period policy upon the same 15 year Endowment plan which shows accumulated results as follows:

Policy No.	Amount	968	1,000
Total cash value of Policy.			$1,164.50

We bear in mind the solemn "warning" printed in the daily press broadcast throughout this country over the signature of the Head Office of the Company. This reads in part as follows :

"An anonymous, typewritten letter is being circulated, dishonestly, "comparing our recent dividends upon "five year period" policies with "dividends upon "fifteen year period" policies, without explaining the essential differences between the two forms of insurance."

It is the fundamental principle of justice that "he who would receive equity must himself give equity." This is not evident in the paragraph quoted above. In the comparison made there is no essential difference between the two forms of insurance. They are identical. The only difference lies in the methods of alotting the profits to the same forms of insurance.

It must be remembered that, in the case of Policy No. 968, quoted above, the profits were alotted every five years, but were left by the insured in the hands of the Company for accumulation during the entire term of fifteen years. According to the statements of the Company these profits are subject to increment at the rate of interest earned by the Company. In the case of endowment assurances for so short a term as fifteen years the survivorship factor is almost a negligible quantity for profit-making purposes.

ACTUARIAL METHODS FAULTY.

It follows that either the profit upon the five year period policy is less than that to which the insured was entitled, or, on the other hand, the allotment to the fifteen-year period policies was vastly in excess of their actual earning. Having in mind the expense ratio of the Great West Life in the past fifteen years, there appears very little difficulty in determining which of these views is correct. The Company has forty millions of insurance in force, and until last year had no regular expert actuarial advice. The finger of Mr. C. C. Ferguson, A.I.A., is already a parent in the Company's statement, and it is only to be regretted that very much earlier opportunity of scientific advice was not availed of.

THE "SPECIAL POLICY."

Every student of life assurance conditions prevalent during the past twenty-five years is aware that the evil odor attaching to the business some years ago was attributable more directly to the employment of so-called "Special Agents" or "Lightning Specials" than to any other single factor. These gentry had no stake in the Company they were represented (or misrepresented). Generally they were importations from the neighboring Republic. The great argument in use was that they were alone empowered to offer something special to wealthy clients, or, in other words, that the prospective victim was fortunate enough to have encountered a "Bargain Day" in life assurance. The results accruing from these methods are too well known to insurance men to need repetition. It is somewhat amazing to find that a Canadian Life Company could to-day be found to essay the recrudescence of so unfortunate a system.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company has recently been selling what is described as a "special" policy. It should be understood that this is nothing more than an ordinary life policy, payable at death by instalments. Some also contain the return premium feature.

One sample policy we have before us, dated April 24th, 1907, and which has been used by Great-West Agents in their canvass, is for the ordinary Life plan, face value $25,000, payable in fifteen annual instalments of $1,000 each, first instalment payable at death, with $10,000 additional at the end of fifteen years after death, the annual premium at age 35 being $591.00. Also in the event of death of the assured within twenty years from issue date, all premiums paid are to be returned with the sum assured. Let us now take up the privileges and conditions. We wish to call special attention to the clause re Distribution of Surplus, which reads in part as follows :

"On the first day of April,, 1912, and at the end of every fifth year thereafter, if this policy be then in full force, it shall participate in the profits of the Company. An individual account shall be kept with this policy, and whenever the surplus apportioned thereto, accumulated with interest at 4 per cent. (or at therate earned if in excess of 4 per cent), compounded annually shall besufficient to prepay all future premiums, the insured will be notified, andno future payment of premiums shall be required."

Such a clause is most obscure. We are informed that Great-West Agents have told prospects that at the end of 16 or 17 years the profits would be sufficient to pay all future premiums, and it is understood that some have taken policies in that belief. Needless to say, such hopes are impossible of realization, as will be evident from the following table :—

(1) End of year	(2) Value of future Premiums	(3) Profits per $1,000 required to meet this	(4) Percent. of premiums paid
15	$7,793.52	$436.00	$93
17	7,415.28	415.00	78
20	6,825.46	382.00	61

From these we see that the profits at the end of 17 years would have to equal 78 per cent. of the premiums already paid in order to prepay all future premiums. It is reasonable to suppose that any company can return as profits four-fifths of the premiums paid? Where would the Cash Surrender Value come from in such a case? The absolute impossibility of such a thing is apparent, and yet the agents pushing this special plan are thus, we understand, representing this condition.

We are further informed that in some cases the agent has not been content with the very rosy prospectindicated above. In a canvass in an Eastern Ontario City one agent is alleged to have told his prospect that it was almost certain that the policy would become paid up in ten years! Such things seem almost incredible in these days.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.

We take policy No. 36,003 for $1,000.00 to illustrate a further point. One section of this policy is grossly misleading. On the third page is given a table of surrender values, including cash, paid up, and extended insurance features, these valuesbeing given for various years from three to twenty. The table is headedas follows :

"Table of non-forfeiture options for each $1,000 of commuted amount."

In very small writing and hidden away at the bottom of the policy are words to the effect that the commuted value of this policy is $7,-155.60. A keen insurance man would, of course, know that the surrender values applicable to the particular policy would be 7.155 times the figures given in the tables, but the ordinary layman, and we think even to a good many insurance men, thetables of values would be multiplied by ten in order to get the figuresapplicable to the policy. If it came to a question to be decided in the courts, we believe the Great-West would have no difficulty in maintaining that the surrender values applicable to the policy would be the lower amounts given above, but we think we are safe in saying that these surrender values should have been

The Great-West's Reply

The Insurance Department has always required all Companies to report business at the commuted value, and we have always done so, as the writer of this article could easily have found by referring to the Blue Book. His criticism, therefore, of the Insurance Department and of the Company falls to the ground. Our office records have always been correct, and the change referred to was made solely with a view to simplify the bookkeeping methods of obtaining the same results. Many Companies have pursued exactly the same course. The effort to make a point out of this shows how hard pressed the writer was to find something to say.

Under the heading "Profit Variations," his position is equally ridiculous, and he has deliberately tried to create a wrong impression as to an advertisement inserted by the Company by omitting a portion in which we say : "We are still paying on 5 year and longer dividend period policies the highest dividends—premiums being taken into account—now being paid by any company."

The very large dividends referredto on our 15 Year Tontine policies are as great a source of satisfaction to our policy-holders as they are of annoyance to some of our competitors and all journals of the calibre of our critic. The reason why these large dividends were paid was because the Company's earnings were such that our then Actuary, Mr. W. T. Standen, advised that the policy-holders were entitled to them.

The writer seems desirous to leave the impression that the holder of Policy No. 968 has reason to be dissatisfied with his results. We have clear evidence that this is not the opinion of the policy-holder himself, since on receiving his settlement he straightway insured the life of his son in this Company.

As to "Acturial Methods," the statement that we had no expert Actuarial advice is absolutely false, as Mr. William T. Standen, F.A.S., was employed as consulting Actuary, and advised us on every point requiring the assistance of an Actuary from the time we commenced business, until his death, which only occurred a few months before our present Actuary was appointed.

The "Special Policy"—This Special Policy has been so admired by the insuring public and competing companies that several of the principal companies of Canada have copied it, and other companies have notified their agents that they will issue it if no other form of policy be accepted by the applicant. The form of the policy is such that it invites investigation of profit-earning capacity, and, consequently applications have been particularly easy to secure by agents of the Great-West Life.

The introduction by the Company of such a popular policy shows that it understands and meets the wishes of the insuring public.

The clause as to distribution of surplus, which is stated by the Editor to be obscure, is on the contrary, so clear and plain that it has never been misunderstood by any policy-holder and can easily be understood by any intelligent school boy 15 years of age.

The ignorance of the writer is shown clearly when he attempts to quote actual figures; for instance—the amount of profits required to make the policy referred to a paid-up one in twenty years is given as $387 whereas the correct amount is $260! All the other figures in this table are equally incorrect, and the conclusions are absolutely unfounded.

As to the statements that agents have represented that the Policy will be paid up in a shorter time than is possible or reasonable, we believe the writer has called upon his imagination for his facts. Certainly if the statements were made by anagent, such as he states have been made, the agent and the policy-holder misled by him would both be fit candidates for a lunatic asylum.

As to the Non-Forture Options.—The labored effort to show that there is something wrong with this table is another evidence that the writer was hard pressed for something to say about the Company when he called attention to the fact that that a certain clause was at the bottom of the policy. He conceals the fact that the clause is at the foot of the table of surrender values—the only place where it could be properly placed. Was this honest, or does it show the spleen of the writer of the article? Something must be at the bottom of the policy, somewhere, no matter what we placed there, the the argument might [illegible] it was placed there for the purpose of concealment. If we [illegible] the policy without referring to commuted values, the [illegible] would have objected to this with just as much weight as he [illegible] we have inserted the commuted values.

FOR A SPECIAL TRAIN

Quick Action Is Necessary When One Is Ordered.

WORK OF THE DISPATCHER.

This Official Has a Complicated Task In Putting the Special Through Without Interfering With the Running Time of Other Fast Trains.

Suppose you wished to take a special trip to any place on the map and the hour of your sudden resolution was 2 a. m. The chances are against knowing how to make this masterly move at such an unearthly hour, to say nothing of knowing how to go about it during the hours of business. It is easier than the uninitiated possibly may believe. Of course the principal thing is money, the thing that makes both the mare and the special train go.

The train dispatcher is the official who can start the train while his superiors are asleep and when a wild eyed man who has a race against death to make halfway across the continent dashes into the station looking for a train that will make the distance on its own schedule. What the chief dispatcher wants to be sure about is the identity of the applicant for the unusual privilege and in this connection whether he is able to pay for a special.

Five thousand dollars in bills will make the dispatcher feel very much like ordering out the train. A deposit of that amount in his hands will undoubtedly bring the train out in a few minutes after the order is given. Sometimes a call on the telephone to the residence of a well known citizen who says he will be responsible for the cost of the train will answer the requirements of the dispatcher, or the check of the applicant, if he is a well known citizen, is a sufficient guarantee. It can be made large enough to cover the bill for the special.

In the case of a wealthy man who will let nothing stand in the way of accomplishing his purpose the cost of the train is not a previous consideration. He simply wants to get to a certain point at a certain time. Getting there on time is the uppermost thought in his mind. He paces restlessly up and down the platform until the train backs into the station or on to the siding where he is notified it may be waiting for him. Unless he stipulates that a private car be used in the train he will get a Pullman, all by himself or those who accompany him. The use of a private car costs more, but is preferred by the wealthy patron. When everything is ready for embarking the work of the dispatcher has just begun.

This official must put the special through without interrupting seriously the running time of other fast trains. It takes some ticklish work, for the other trains must be "cut out" on side tracks just before the special is to pass. In this way the schedules of the other trains are not broken more than a few minutes. The special dashes past on the right of way, and the regular fast train follows it. Freight trains using the same track are apt to lie on the sidings longer than the passengers because they cannot make distances between sidings quick enough to cut out in time to give the special a clear track.

The man who has paid his good money for the right to the track does not expect to be stopped en route, and it becomes the business of the railway or railways over which he is racing against time to afford him all the facilities. Usually in case of such an extraordinary emergency the railway takes great pride in making a record run and landing its patron at his destination in time to accomplish his purpose. The best engineers obtainable and a trustworthy conductor are placed in charge of the equipment of one engine and one car, for the running is at a rate of speed not undertaken in the passenger service.

Usually the extraordinary passenger is required to give the railway company some form of release from responsibility for loss of life or injury from accident due to what might be regarded under ordinary circumstances as a reckless speed, but the man who is racing to see a loved wife or daughter or son is always willing to take a greater risk than at any other time in his existence. But not only is his own life, but the lives of the train crew, in jeopardy during a wild race over the rails. However, on such an occasion the whole crew is imbued with the excitement and heroic nature of the fast mission and contribute in every way to the fulfillment of the errand.

Thousands of dollars have been paid by private citizens for just such races with death and sometimes where great financial crisis is at stake. The railway companies, despite the large honorarium received for undertaking such journeys, are loath to accept a passenger on these conditions. The crisis must be one that involves remarkable stress of mind and money. Usually their acceptance of such great responsibility both to the single passenger as well as thousands of others who may be using the tracks at the same time is governed by a great deal of sentiment.—St. Louis Republic.

It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the Heart and Kidneys it was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of those failing organs. The Great-West Life Assurance Company Refuses to Spend Money on Useless Advertising put out in an entirely different way, and that they are absolutely misleading in the way they are given. The policy is talked, sold and accepted as an insurance of $10,000, and it is only natural for the policy-holder to assume that he will be entitled to surrender values on a $10,000 basis.

We hesitate to say it, but the facts do not seem to point to an unwillingness on the part of the Head Office of the Great-West to be a party to the deception which has almost invariably been attached to the sale of these and similar policies. It will be universally admitted that ordinary policies are more frequently sold than instalment policies, and also that in getting out a printed form it is usual to make the form applicable to the majority of cases and not to the exceptions. The Great-West has apparently gone at this matter in exactly the opposite way and got out a form to fit the exceptions, for otherwise it would have headed these columns as follows:—

"Tables of surrender values per $1,000 (Face Value)." If it desires to be perfectly fair to its policy-holders, it should place the values in an instalment policy to apply $1,000 of the nominal value, so that a policy-holder holding one of these special policies for $10,000 would obtain the values applicable to his policyby simply multiplying the values given by ten. This method would havethe advantages of being both perfectly clear and easily computed. Inthe Great-West form, the values are hard to compute and are absolutelymisleading.

NOT ALL TREATED ALIKE.

We have recently seen another policy issued for $50,000.00 in which some of the clauses that we have taken exception to have been modified very considerably by printed or typewritten slips pasted over the original printed conditions. It is evident that some applicants for this "Special" policy are wiser than others, and that their vigilance is by no means disadvantageous. We opine, however, that this reflection can hardly bring much comfort to the bulk of the people who have acquired this kind of policy without taking someadvice other than that afforded them by the Great-West Life agent.

We have purposely taken several policies to illustrate our various points. It would have been unwise to have selected one only for the reason last given—that there does not appear to be that uniformity which is customary in the issues of life companies in general.

The hope may be expressed that the Great-West Life Assurance Company will see its way to withdraw from circulation a policy contract which can hardly fail to reflect adversely upon the Company in the future.

The statement that all policy-holders "are not treated alike" is absolutely false. We defy the writer of the article to show that any difference has ever been made by the Company between policy-holders of the same class.

The editor of the best Insurance Journal in North America has referred to the profit plan used in our policies as being "an embodiment of the true principles of life insurance," and we did not advertise with that journal either.

Presentation of Gold to Rev. Mr. Manning

Rev. Mr. Manning the popular pastor of St. James' Methodist church along with his family were last night presented with a purse of gold and an illuminated address by the members of his congregation, all of whom regret exceedingly to see him leave the city. It was Rev. Mr. Manning who was responsible for the construction of St. James' church. He worked for it unceasingly and did not rest until it was completed. His congregation all wanted him to remain as he had only been pastor for about a year and was entitled to two years more here. But the conference decided otherwise and he was removed.

The congregation of St. James met at the home of Mr. Thos. Brown, McGill street, last night, to say good bye, and it was there that the presentation took place. The people to whom he had administered were indeed sorry to say farewell to Mr. Manning, and his family, and they will be greatly missed in and out of the church. But to their new home they will be followed by the good wishes of all.

Rev. Mr. Manning is a manwho possesses courage and perseverance. He is a man who lives a clean straightforward life and is admired for his good qualities by all, and his name will always be associated by the present generation at least with the erection of St. James' church in the south end of the city.

Mr. Ferguson Home from New York

Mr. O. S. Ferguson, Hunter St., Ashburnham, to whom reference has previously been made in these columns in connection with the famous discovery of the Canadian Kimberley diamond mines, returned home yesterday after conferring with several English and New York mining experts. Several samples have been placed with them and important developments are expected to be made at an early date. They looked over the property and were much impressed.

Mr. Ferguson still refuses to give out any information as to where the property is situated.

Gypsies Fined $150 by Magistrate Edminson

The Gypsy tribe which appeared before his worship Magistrate Edmison yesterday in the county police court were assessed $150 and told to move out of the county as quickly as possible. In addition to their fine they had legal costs of $100 or more, so that their sojourn in this district was rather an expensive one.

The case was opened at 10 o'clock in the morning and was not finished until late in the afternoon. The Gypsies were represented by Messrs. F. D. Kerr and G. N. Gordon, while County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution. The Gypsy Queen and Chief George occupied seats alongside their counsel, the women had the petty jury seats and the men sat on the opposite side of the bench. The court room was crowded with curious ones long before the court opened and all eyes were centered upon the interested parties in the case. The women and children, although accustomed to publicity and the stare of aninquisitive audience, were by no means at home in an Ontario law court. There was considerable confusion among them, and they all looked as though they would much prefer being in their wagons and traveling along the hot dusty roads.

Some delay was experienced in starting. It was occasioned by the charge against Rosa George of stealing forty dollars from a man in Emily. Magistrate Edmison claimed that he had no jurisdiction in Victoria county. But it was pointed out by Crown Attorney Wood that he had. After considerable discussion a charge against all the men for obstructing the highway in Smith was proceeded with.

Two witnesses were examined in the morning. The case was adjourned until two o'clock.

Mr. Robt. Magland, who keeps a store on the 4th line of Smith, was first called. He testified to having seen the party on the roadside on Sunday. They were lying along the road and several of them, especially the children, were hardly clad. They came trying to buy bread and were refused. They tried to enter and upon doing same back, threatened to harm him at night.

Robert Bailey was called. He said that he met one of the gypsy men, Conor John, who in very indecent language inquired what kind of a man was the grocer. He told witness that he would make the grocery sorry for refusing to sell them bread. The men were cursing and swearing. They did not obstruct him but he saw men that were hindered on Monday morning.

A number of other witnesses were also examined and gave testimony very similar to those quoted above. Altogether a pretty strong case was worked up against the Mexicans. The lawyers addressed the magistrate at some length and succeeded in inducing him to impose a light fine upon the prisoners and allow them to depart.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company

(Incorporated by the State of New York. Stock Company.)
JOHN R. HEGEMAN, President.

Great Reduction of Expenses--Increased Benefits-- LOWER RATES

(INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.)

In January, 1907, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company largely increased the benefits in its Industrial policies by reason of a heavy Reduction in expenses and improvement in mortality experience.

During the past three years the company has steadily reduced its expenses, so that it is enabled to make a further increase in the benefits. Industrial insurance policies have a unit of weekly premium—three cents, five cents and multiples thereof - and the amount of insurance varies with the age.

All Industrial Life policies (premiums cease after age 74), Endowment policies at 80 and Adult Twenty-year Endowment

Policies issued since Jan. 1, 1907, will be increased in benefits about 10 PER CENT

according to a new table of benefits adopted for policies issued after July 1, 1909. In other words, not only does the Company issue a new table for policies hereafter issued, but it makes the increase retroactive since the present form of Limited Payment and Endowment at age 80 policies were adopted.

Upon the OLD INDUSTRIAL POLICIES the Company is paying out TWO AND A HALF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN BONUSES THIS YEAR, bringing up the total Bonuses and Concessions upon Industrial policies to EIGHTEEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN SIXTEEN YEARS. This is OVER AND ABOVE ANY AND ALL OBLIGATIONS expressed or implied in the policies.

The Metropolitan in its Industrial Department has the lowest Ratio of Expense of all the Industrial Insurance Companies in the world which pay immediate benefits. In FIVE YEARS its Ratio of

Expense to Premium Income has been Reduced

8 per cent representing an Annual

Saving of Three and a Half Millions of Dollars

The new Covertible policy issued by the Company is a novel form of insurance which becomes fully paid-up life insurance in a few years and is then automatically converted into endowment insurance, the maturity of which is periodically shortened as payment of premiums continues.

The Company is abreast of the public demand for combination of term insurance and annuities, and serves the public better than any other agency.

INDUSTRIAL POLICIES IN FORCE: NEARLY 9,500,000, INSURANCE NEARLY $1,500,000,000.

"ORDINARY DEPARTMENT"

The Company has reduced expenses six per cent. in this Department in the last FIVE years—representing an ANNUAL SAVING OF OVER A MILLION AND A QUARTER OF DOLLARS IN THE ORDINARY DEPARTMENT.

The Company issues policies in the Ordinary Department in amounts from $500 to $1,000,000 upon all approved plans at the lowest rates. IN 1908 IT WROTE MORE PAID-FOR BUSINESS IN ITS ORDINARY OLD LINE INSURANCE (exclusive of Industrial,) in the United States and Canada, THAN ANY OTHER COMPANY.

All of its policies in the Ordinary as well as the Industrial Department are written on the non-participating plan. The Metropolitan pays its dividends at the start—that is to say, it cuts down the premiums. It believes the plain, common-sense men who make up bulk of policy-holders look for a plain business contract. By plain business contracts we mean those which tell their whole story upon their face; which leave nothing to the imagination, borrow nothing from hope, require definite conditions and make definite promises in dollars and cents.

In both Departments combined the Company has, in each of the past fifteen years, written more paid-for insurance than any other company in the world."

The Company upon its Total Business Has in the Last Ten Years Reduced its Ratio of Expenses FIFTEEN PER CENT.

OBITUARY

MRS JOHN COOMBS

A very sad death occurred on Saturday night, June 26, at 11.45 o'clock, when Jane Wilson, beloved wife of Mr. John Coombs, passed away at her home on Brown street, North Monaghan. Deceased had been ailing for some years, but was usually able to be up and around the house. Mrs. Coombs was born in Devonshire, Eng., in 1844, and was a resident of Peterborough for over twenty years. She was well known in the north end of the city, as she lived for five years on the Brumwell farm in Smith, near the waterworks pump house.

Mr. Herman Wilson, Lock street, is the only brother living in this city, while the other members of the family are very widely scattered—some in Canada and some in England. Besides her husband and brother here, there is a daughter, Mrs. Jas. Goodwin, 587 Aylmer street. Their many friends and acquaintances will sympathize with them now in the hour of their bereavement.

The funeral service will be held at her late home on Brown street, on Tuesday at 2 p.m. and the remains taken to the Little Lake cemetery for interment.

Purse of Gold for Rev. A. Pearson

Rev. E. A. Pearson, pastor of the George street Methodist church, who leaves at noon today for a trip abroad, was the recipient of a purse of gold yesterday morning from the members of his congregation. Rev. Mr. Pearson is held in high esteem by the members of his church and a brief note accompanying the purse wished him an enjoyable and beneficial holiday. He will sail from Montreal on July 1st on board the Corsican of the Allan Line for Londonderry, Ireland, and after a short visit there will spend a month in the British Isles and afterwards a month in Europe.

He expects to arrive back in Peterborough in September. During his absence, Rev. S. H. Soper of Victoria University, Toronto, will have charge of the work of the church. He was for some time with Dr. Grenfell in Labrador, and it well qualified to take Rev. Mr. Pearson's place while away. Rev. Mr. Sopher will reside at the parsonage during his stay here.

Court of Revision

Notice is hereby given that a sitting of the Court of Revision of the City of Peterborough, will be held in the City Clerk's office in the said city on Thursday the 15th day of July, 1909, at the hour of 7.30 o'clock in the evening, for the confirmation of the special assessments upon the property fronting or abutting on the following streets or parts of streets for the construction of sewers thereon, and the total amount to be assessed upon the said property fronting or abutting upon the said streets or parts of streets, is as follows:

Bethune street, between McDonnell street and Murray street—amount to be paid by the municipality $126 37; to be assessed upon the private property $378 36.

Murray street, between Bethune street and Aylmer street. Amount to be paid by the municipality $105 68; to be assessed upon the private property $182 04.

A statement showing the lands liable to and proposed to be specially assessed for the said work, and the names of the owner thereof, so farras the same can be ascertained from the last revised assessment roll, is now on file in this office of the clerk of the municipality and is open for inspection during office hours.

S. R. ARMSTRONG,
City Clerk.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

CLEAN Up INSIDE

Blood and System Cleansing in the Spring Means Good Health all Summer.

In spite of all your careful habits it is safe to say that in the spring you feel poorly—have a throbbing sensation in the head—skin a pale or yellow, with dark rings under the eyes. If not absolutely bilious the system is so full of bile that you feel heavy and tired all day long.

Clean up, work off the winter's accumulation of waste, purify your blood. Do this and you'll feel fresh as a prize-fighter. "For ten years," says W. B. Sangster of Concord, "I suffered greatly from impure blood, which made me feel debilitated and unfit for work. I had no appetite, suffered from indigestion and gas, had some pains in the back, caused by poor kidney action. Spring was the hardest time of all, and many a time I felt despondent and languid enough to throw up the sponge. I was impressed by the marvellous work done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills and tried them. They built me up quietly. In one week I felt like new. I was braced up, got rid of blood weakness, gained in flesh, got back my old time appearance and spirits. Dr. Hamilton's Pills will clean all the sickness out of a man in short order and I urge young and old to use this grand tonic medicine."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a perfect spring medicine, they destroy germs and poisons of every description and strength whereby the system rallies and the patient quickly enjoys the blessings of Perfect Health. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills today—25c. For sale at all dealers.

Otonabee's Trip.

The steamer Otonabee will leave Wolfe street wharf at 10 a.m. Friday Wolfe street wharf at 10 a.m. Friday next with freight for all points on Stony Lake, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 12 a.m. Saturday.

Gave a Suit Case.

Mr. Charles Harmer, a valued member of the Charlotte street choir, has been honored by his fellow choristers, prior to his departure for Edmonton, for which city he is leaving today. The presentation of a handsome suit case with supplies was made Mr Harmer by Miss Cherry, the organist.

Officers were Royally Entertained Last Night

One of the jolliest parties of officers that has been gathered together for a long time was that which sat down to the banquet in the officers' mess in the armories last night. The officers of the 57th Regiment entertained the officers of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, who are in camp at Nassau. The function was an informal affair and therefore the more enjoyable. After full justice had been done to the good things the party was turned into a smoking concert and several members of the mess were called upon for songs, recitations and stories and all responded with a will. Those who took part were;

Toast to the King.
Recitation—Col. Miller.
Song—W. McElroy, with encore.
Song—W. S. Davidson.
Song—Capt. Clarion.
Song—Capt. Watt.
Song—Lieut. Ellenson.
Stories—Capt. McPherson.

Toast proposed by Col Stevenson to the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons which was responded to by Col Sykes for the Dragoons.

The catering was done by Mr. T. Hooper and that is assurance that everything was tasty and well served. The evening's entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone of the fifty present. The officers of the Dragoons greatly appreciate the hospitality of the 57th officers, and were not backward in expressing themselves. It was a mark of courtesy that goes a long way toward making the best of fellowship between the different branches of the military.

Charity Board

The Charity Board met last night for a short time and transacted routine business.

The Fire, Water & Light Committee will meet this evening in the city clerk's office.

PERSONAL

Mr. Fred Wessel of Detroit, is in the city.

Mr. Fred Elwood has left for a three weeks' visit to Chicago.

Mrs. E. C. Sutherland of Toronto, is visiting her sister, Miss M. Brereton, 533 Harvey street.

Mrs. A. L. Goodwin of Port Perry, is the guest of Mrs. Hope, Aylmer street.

Mrs. John Brown of Chicago, is the guest of Mrs. D. Allison, Water street.

Miss Mound of Kingston, is the guest of Miss May Lunn, 480 Cedar street.

Miss Gibbons of Clinton, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Holloway, George street.

Miss Helen Mason, nurse in training at Brooklyn hospital, New York, is home for a vacation.

Mrs. Thomas and Miss Frances have returned from Saginaw, Mich., where they have been the guests of friends for the past two months.

Mr. Austin Dumoulin of New Liskeard, Ont., is the guest of Mr. S. W. Collins of the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Frank Hurley, Toronto, was visiting friends in the city over Sunday.

Mrs. Chas. Sorley of Welland, and Miss Colow of Toronto, are the guests of their mother, Mrs. M. A. Phelps, Mark street, Ashburnham.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Daley of Auburn, Maine, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. A. O'Connor, Simcoe street, and other friends in the city.

Mr. Robert Baker, 436 Mark St., left yesterday evening to spend several weeks visiting members of his family in Toronto and Hamilton.

Mr. Dickson Nicholls left yesterday for Port Hope, where he will complete arrangements to open a handsome new rink at that place on Dominion Day.

Miss Hazel Dunn, who has completed a course in the Normal School, and who, since the closing has been the guest of Miss Clara Verma, Robinson street, Ashburnham, returned home on Saturday.

Mr. Bonsall, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., returned on Saturday night from the Barrie field military camp, where he had charge of the Y.M.C.A. work. Like all the military camps this year Barrie field is only at half strength and the secretary's duties were not so great as on former occasions.

MORE FOUNTAINS.

With Ice Water Wanted for the Citizens Use.

The extremely hot weather of the past couple of weeks has made hundreds of dry, thirsty citizens appreciate the two fountains of ice water supplied by the city. These fountains are at the City Hall and Central Hall and Central Park. Now if there were only more of those fountains in the city a great good would be done suffering humanity. A dozen fountains no similar to the two already mentioned placed at different points in the city would not only be of much benefit to the citizens and visitors but Peterborough would have the reputation of being the only city in Canada furnishing ice water free to her citizens.

The expense question would not be a serious matter. The city has teams all the year that could be used. An ice house could easily and cheaply be built and filled next winter. Those men who are on the Charity Board's list could be used to cut the ice and handle it with the city's team at no expense whatever, while in the summer the filling of the fountains is a very simple matter. It would be a capital proposition for the Property Committee to take up.

ST. PAUL'S PICNIC.

Big Crowd went on the Steamer Otonabee—A Heavy Shower.

St. Paul's Sunday school annual picnic yesterday was a great success in every way, except that nearly everyone got a good wetting while sitting at the dinner table. The boat stopped at Sand Point, and the meal was spread and all were prepared for a first-class feed as all were hungry, when a snappy shower of rain came up and made them all rush for the boat. The rain lasted for several minutes and soaked the majority.

The party which numbered several hundred left the Wolfe street wharf at 8.30 yesterday morning per steamer Otonabee and the trip up was a delightful one. The steamer made good time and the weather was ideal. The crowd was just large enough to be handled nicely and no one was cramped for room. The stop for dinner at Sandy Point was the only unpleasant feature, but the rain soon passed over and dinner was resumed. After lunch a program of races for the children and also the grown up boys and girls was run off and prizes were awarded. Then the boat proceeded to Burleigh Falls where a short stop was made and the return journey began. Supper was served on board and the city was reached in good time.

Government Buys Indian Lands.

Calgary, Alta., June 27.—The consummation of a deal with the Indians on Hobbema reservation, northwest of Ponoka, came after negotiations pending for years between the Dominion Government and the Indians, who relinquish their rights to 10,000 acres of land. The Government intends to sell this by auction. The preliminary payment has already been made. Surveyors have been put to work on the reservation and as soon as the work is completed and valuation made all will be announced.

UNEXPECTED BENEFITS.

More Voluntary Concessions to Thousands of Policy-holders by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

A remarkable spirit of liberality toward its policy-holders is again the striking feature of the periodical statement or report of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, a summary of which is published this week.

The attitude of this great financial organization toward the millions of individuals who have relations with it invites comment, and affords some grounds for interesting comparisons.

Broadly speaking, the inducements offered by responsible life insurance companies to insurable persons are of two kinds. One consists in a proposition to carry a definite amount of "straight" insurance at low cost; the other offers innumerable plans by which in return for excessive premium payments the person insured is to "participate" in the earnings of the company, receiving benefits that are not definitely stated in the policy itself. The first plan appeals to the man of judgment as a clear-cut business contract under which all obligations are mutually understood. The other appeals to the speculative instinct, and demands a higher degree of confidence in the insuring company, which carefully avoids an absolute guarantee of benefits proportioned to the high rates demanded.

The Metropolitan Life sells "straight" insurance only; that is, it promises to pay at death, or at the expiration of your policy, a fixed sum plainly written in the contract. As a matter of course, it must sell this insurance at a cost low enough to secure business in competition with all the big insurance companies. Having issued such a policy, the company has no further obligations under its terms until the specified benefits are due and payable. The person insured is satisfied with his contract and expects only that it will be exactly carried out. So far as we know, any great financial or mercantile organization would consider such a contract final.

But at this point the Metropolitan Life chooses to temper hard-and-fast business methods by injecting a little "soul" into its after relations with the man who holds its policy.

It must be kept in mind that the actual cost of insuring a life can by any human foresight be calculated in advance with absolute exactness. The death rate in a given population varies from year to year; the earnings of invested funds are bound to be greater or less through periods of prosperity and depression, the cost of operating the company's business will each year bear a different proportion to the number and value of policies in force. Insurance must be sold at a price based upon its probable future cost under these varying conditions, and the safety of the company, upon which all its policyholders depend for protection, must be insured by estimating the cost as high as past experience has proven necessary.

The business of the Metropolitan Life has increased tremendously year by year, while its operating expenses, proportioned to the vast amount of insurance carried, grow steadily less. Ordinarily the resulting gains would be considered a legitimate reward of enterprise under capable management, in which the policyholders have no interest; but this particular insurance company chooses to share its prosperity with them by paying bonuses and increasing benefits.

The report just issued makes a remarkable showing.

The company in ten years has reduced the ratio of expense to premium income on its business in all departments 15 per cent. In the industrial department alone the reduction is accomplished in the past five years amounts to 8 per cent.—this item representing a total of above and a half million dollars.

These great gains are being used to increase the benefits 10 per cent. on all policies in force since January 1, 1907.

As to policies dated previous to January 1, 1907, a bonus of five per cent. of the premiums is given for a year on all policies over five years old, and increased benefits are allowed on policies of long standing which become death claims.

To sum up these benefits—not promised to policy-holders nor expected by them—it is shown that during the past sixteen years the concessions and bonuses in the Industrial Department alone are equivalent to a gift outright of eighteen millions of dollars.

Wedding Bells

REYNOLDS—GRAHAM.

At St. John's church yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, one of Peterborough's most popular young ladies became a bride. Miss Katharine Graham, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. N. Graham was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. Thomas Reynolds of the Quaker Oats Company. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Davidson in the presence of a few intimate friends, the event being quietly solemnized. Miss Nellie Graham, the bride's sister, acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. William Reynolds.

The bride wore a pretty Ralph silk traveling suit with a Panama hat, while the bridesmaid's costume was of pale blue striped voile with a Panama hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds left on the 4.48 C.P.R. train for Toronto and Niagara Falls, after which they will go to Hamilton, where they will reside in the Algheus Apartment.

The bride is widely known and liked in Peterborough and the groom, who has made his headquarters here for some time has made many friends in Peterborough. Their friends will unite in congratulating them and wishing them every success. Mrs. Reynolds' departure from Peterborough will be greatly regretted.

ROBERTS—McHERNEY.

Yesterday afternoon at 2.45 at Mark street church parsonage, Ashburnham, Mr. Albert Roberts was united in marriage to Miss Ethel May McHerney, daughter of the late Geo. McHerney. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Coon. Mr and Mrs. Geo. R. Roberts, being in attendance.

In sickness if a certain nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will surely tell. Try it at once, and see. Sold by all dealers.

THE CALUMET MURDER.

Six Prisoners Plead Not Guilty—Enquiry Next Friday.

Sainte Scholastique, Que., June 28 Clotilda Major, Julie Dinelle, Marcelline Dinelle, Joseph Lemay, Devere Pilon and Arthur Lamerise, the six six people arrested in connection with the murder of Ferdinand Ranger at Calumet, were arraigned before Magistrate Carrier, of Saint Scholastique, and pleaded not guilty.

The preliminary inquiry will be held next Friday, July 2nd. In the meantime the prisoners have been remanded to jail.

The elder of the Dinelle girls is keeping her two children with her, but Detective Lapointe who came to Montreal yesterday, will try to place them in some charitable institution.

Mr. S. Dobson Bell leaves on Thursday for Montreal, whence he will sail on Friday on the annual buying tour of R. Bell and Son.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. XXXII NO. 152 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY JUNE 30, 1909 PRICE TWO CENTS

Candidates Should be Busy

Do Your Utmost This Week to Secure Subscriptions—They will Count for Much —Help a Candidate Along

The utmost diligence should beiused by every candidate to get all the subscriptions possible within this week. These are your harvest days, and you should lay up a fine reserve of votes to be used in the end.

It is not a good plan to hold back all you have. Make a good showing on the list before you begin to lay aside your votes. The best rule in a contest is pretty much the same as in dressing, which of course every young lady understands. While it is advisable to make always an attractive appearance, it is bad taste to be so noticeable that every one says, "Just look! I bet she puts every cent on her back. In the same way you want to appear well among the canhidates so that your friends may see that you are working, and not likely to fall behind in the race, but there is no manner of use in putting everything you have to the fore just to create a sensation, and have nothing to fall back upon when you may need it badly.

CASH PROMISES NOW.

No doubt every promise made you by friends earlier in the contest will be fulfilled now, as you can explain, that at no time during the contest will you derive so much benefit from what your friends can do for you. Show them how much they can help you right now and they will try their best to give you subscription during the next week.

NEW CADIDATES.

New candidates can enter the contest now—today and with a few hours work secure enough votes to place their names among the leaders. You stand an excellent chance of winning a prize if you enter now, as there is plenty of room, and subscriptions will come easy during the "bargain days."

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF.

A great thing for candidates to cultivate is self confidence. There is no reason for you to be afraid of any one. Remember that in this contest no one has any way of telling what another resolute force may be, and the very person whom you dread is probably just as much scared as you are, for fear that you may have such a pile of votes back of you that you will take the lead any time you get ready to do so.

LIST WILL CHANGE.

In all contests there are changes from time to time in the names of those who are striving for the prizes. Some faint-hearted ones who have not the courage to hold out to the end drop away.

Others, who hesitate for some time, and weigh all the points for and against, become fully persuaded that the opportunity is too good to lose and that they will not be left out.

These late entries, having been well-considered, are apt to make an excellent showing. Any bright candidate could make up during this week for all the time that has already passed.

SUBSCRIBERS SHOULD VOTE.

Every subscriber to The Morning Times should renew their subscription to the paper in favor of some candidate and give them the benefit of the votes. The race may be very close at the end, and your subscription may be the means of bringing your favorite out in the right place.

If you wish to help, now is your best time while the votes comes so high. Next week there will not be so many votes given on subscriptions as this week.

It will cost yok nothing to renew at this time and will certainly be appreciated by the contestant to whom you give the votes.

NO LIMIT TO THE FIELD.

In thinking over those to whom you may apply for votes and subscriptions do not limit yourself exclusively to Peterboro anh vicinity. Doubtless most of the candidates know people who have moved away from the city, and who naturally continue to take a keen interest in all its happenings. The best way for them to keep in touch with their old friends is for them to subscribe for the Morning Times. Tell them so and ask them to take out a sub-scription in your favor.

Fire, Water and Light Committee Met Last Night

The Fire, Water & Light Committee last night took up the question of the lights reported out on the streets during the past quarter. There were reports of 48 lights out, and these the company claimed were out due to a cause through no fault of theirs, and did not think they should be charged up with them.

There were three lights over which there were some dispute, and these were on motion of Ald. Turner, struck off, but the others were not allowed, and $7.37 will be deducted from the company'saccount.

The committee do not feel that they can pay for anything they do not get. If the company's lights do not work it is not the city's fault.

A number of new lights were placed this year by the chairman on authority of the committee and these were passed last night by the committee.

Ald. Turner said that in view of the fact that there is room for dispute about some of the lights reported out he would move that the company's trimmer call up every morning and ask for the reports, and if there are any the chief of the fire department or one of his men will go out with the trimmer and these disputes will be avoided.

The Fire, Water & Light Committee does not want a cent that it is not entitled to, neither does it want to pay any more than is necessary.

The matter of a load of straw left at the fire hall without an order was left in the hands of the chairman to settle. The farmer asked $5.00 for a load of straw about 800 pounds. This price is too much and anyway the farmer cannot collect anything as it was not ordered.

A new horse is needed at the fire hall as a spare horse and for use in fixing the alarm wires, etc. The city should have a good big general purpose horse that can be put into the truck or draw a big load of tools and three or four men for repair work.

Moved by Ald. Turner and Mayor Rush that this committee be authorized to purchase a horse for the fire hall, and that it be paid for upon the certificate of the engineer.

The four men entitled to two weeks' honlidays this year will get them, and the chief was authorized to engage a man to take their places.

COMPLAINTS MADE.

Of Gypsies Making a Disturbance in South End.

Complaints were numerous last night from the people of the south end about the gypsies. It was said that the tribe were drinking and raising cane over the approaching marriage. Also that their dogs were loose and chasing the cattle in in the fields. The residents are very much aonoyed, and said that if the city officials did not drive the Mexicans away at once that they would take up arms themselves and rid the neighborhood of the nuisance.

The mayor stated that the gypsies who had seen him yesterday afternoon had promised that everything would be law and order down there if they were allowed to remain for two or three days to celebrate the wedding. They were warned that if they did not behave themselves they would have to take the consequences.

Shabby Treatment by Detective Greer in Gypsy Case Here

Warden R. N. Scott is very much displeased with the action of Detive Greer of the Crown Atttrney's Department at Toronto, for the contemptable manner in which he treated the county in the gypsy case. To The Times he expressed himself as follows;—

"When these people were arrested they could have been fined a week ago Monday just as well as yesterday. It was at the request of Detive Greer that they were remanded for a week, and after all the expense the county has been put to in feeding the 27 horses of the gypsies and supplying constables to protect the people's gardens, Dective Greer had not the courtesy even to phone the county crown attorney that he would not be down. He simply quietly slipped out of the whole business and left it on our shoulders after himself securing the remand for a week. The gypsies have been fined $150, $25 of that money being returned to three men in Emily from whom it had been taken. The county gets the remainder of the fine, viz., $125, but the expense has been so great that it is still a loser by over $100. We think that since it was at the request of the government detective that these people were remanded the extra expense of the $100 should be borne by the government. The citizens of Peterborough are blaming the county for bringing these people in here, but the county would have had them fined and sent on their way at once. So the county is not to blame. We had to take them out of the jail yard or they would have died there."

Warden Scott is perfectly justified in his complaints against the department, and he and the County Council have a right to look to the Province to pay the expenses. Warden Scott did perfectly right in having the tribe rounded up in order that the property of the people in the county be protected. He deserves credit for his action and deserves the thanks of the whole county.

BIG CROWDS.

Here on July 7th—Two Picnics at Jackson Park.

Besides the big excursion from Barrie to Jackson Park on July 7th, a large crowd of between 1000 and 1200 people will be here that day from Peel County. The County Sunday School Association is coming down and will picnic at the park, and will also take in the boat trip over the lift lock, per Otonabee Navigation Company's steamers.

Triple Drowning Reported at Haliburton—Few Details Received

Lindsay, June 29. — News of a triple drowning accident in a lake fifteen miles north of Haliburton, reached town this morning. The bodies of two lumber jacks were discovered on the shores of this lake and the body of the third man is yet missing.

The details af the fatality which cost three lives are not as yet available. Nothing beyond the bare fact of the drowning has reached Lindsay as yet.

It was on Saturday that the two bodies were discobered lying on the shore of the lake battered and horribly disfigured. The upturned canoes were on the shore and were broken and weather beaten. The contents were scattered along the shore.

The three men left for the northern woods several weeks ago and intended to spend the summer months chopping lumber. They took two canoes with them, one a birch bark, which contained the supplies and one of the men, and the other two were in the second canoe.

The wives of the men began to get anxious when no word or any description was received and a search was instituted when days grew into weeks and months and nothing was heard from them. The lake was visited and the party was horrified to locate the remains of the men on the shore. Mortification had set in and the remains presented a gruesome sight. The search for the third body is being continued.

How the drowning occurred is a mystery, and no plausible theory has been advanced as yet. The wives and families of the drowned men are prostrated with grief.

Mrs. A. L. Goodwin of Port Perry, is the guest of Mrs. Hope, Aylmer street.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

Sir Wilfrid Won't Retire

Is in the Best of Health and Will Continue to Lead the Liberal Party for Several Years to Come

Ottawa, June 29.—The report that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will announce his retirement at the beginning of the next session ,and that Sir Richard Cartwright will be acting premier till a successor is chosen is regarded here as being absurd.

Sir Wilfrid is in the best of health and it is safe to say, will continue to lead the Liberal party for several years to come.

The Conservative party is so anxious to see Sir Wilfrid drop out that this rumor is likely to be revived at frequent intervals in the future. They realize that if Sir Wilfrid's retirement would be their best chance of success at the next general election.

Gypsy Queen to Wed J. Stoke This Morning

For the next three days there promises to be a lively time at the gypsy camp. The attraction will be the marriage of Qeen Rosie George, to J. Stokes, one of the men of the band. The event will take place this morning at 10 o'clock and the festivities will be kept up for three days The prospective groom was extremely happy yesterday afternoon while making arrangements for the great occasion. He is endeavoring to secure the Exhibition grounds for, the three days, and he will have three extra police officers on duty to keep back the crowd which will no doubt gather, and to prevent any rowdyism. His worsgip the mayor, Warden Scott and the County Council and county officials are especially invited to attend. Stoke offered to furnish carriages for all, and to bear all expense, he is sparing nothing, and promises to make this a great occasion. Stoke is well off and owns a large ranch in Saskatchewan. He is a Canadian subject and his bride will become one.

Indians Murder White Settler---Body Found in the Skeena River

Vancouver, June 29. —A tragedy that may cause a crisis with the Kispox and Babine Indians was unfolded today, when the body of a white man was found floating in the Skeena river. There were two bullet wounds on the body, one in the breast and one in the hip. The man's face was fearfully slashed, apparently in a struggle for life with his assailants before being subhued

According to a despatch from Clearwater, the man is a new settler, who had a quarrel with the Indians on Kitsum Kalum. The redme have been defiant for several weeks and it is stated that "Gun as Noot" the outlaw, wanted for the murder of Simon Leclaire, is in the vicinity, urging them to take action against the white settlers The authorities will take action.

A THOUSAND POLICE

TO STOP THE SUFFRAGETTES—WOMEN PLAN RAID.

"Bead or Break Asquith," Mrs. Parkhurst's Threat.

New York, June 59. — According to the London correspondent of the American, the militiant suffragettes will make a determined effort to storm the House of Commons tonight in an endeavor to force Premier Asquith to receive their deputation, which he has steadfastly refused to do.

The police are taking extraordinary precautions to prevent a raid, in addition to issuing a public warning against the danger of assembling in Parliament Square. No fewer than 3000 policemen will be on duty and thousands of police reserves will be in readiness if needed!

The suffragettes, on the other hand are making an elaborate secret of their arrangements to succeed in their undertaking. They confidently expect the greatest out turning of militant suffragettes London has yet seen. Some of the women have gone to the extent of declaring that they are willing to die for the cause.

Barrie Carriage Works' Excursion on July 7th

Yesterday his Worship Mayor Rush received a telephone message from the manager of the Barrie Carriage Works stating that it was the intention to bring a large excursion of 500 to 600 people down here on July 7th and he wanted to know if they might use one of the city parks. The mayor replied in the affirmative, and added that he would be glad to see them out at Jackson Park. The Barrie people will arrive by special train on the Grand Trunk, and will take the street cars to the park, where they will have dinner. During the afternoon trip over the lift lock will be the chief attraction, and Ald. R. Hicks, manager of the Ontonabee Navigation Company is arranging for the boats.

The Barrie Baseball Club is also endeavoring to arrange a game with the Peterborough Club for that day. Mr. Chris Graham is in receipt of a letter from their secretary, and he will see what can be done towards getting together a team.

ARCHBISHOP SWEETMAN.

Late Primate Was a Quiet Man, But Had Plenty of Power.

Among the many tributes of the late Archbishop Sweatman but little attention has been paid to his genuine power as a presiding officer at the sessions of the Anglican Synod. He had a quiet force in handling a heated and unruly assembly and a gift for facilitating business that the person who only knew him privately would never have suspected. As is well-known, his demeanor in private life was that of a man of mild and simple disposition. But when his biography is scanned it will be noted that almost from early manhood he had been accustomed to the exercise of authority, as many an indiscreet member has had reason to find out. It is common knowledge that the Synod contains among its usual membership, in addition to the clerical delegates, some of the very ablest members of the legal profession, as well as other men prominent in public affairs. It was in his manner of handling eminent counsel that even judges of the high court are a little bit afraid of that His Lordship showed his real power as a presiding officer. One has seen him suddenly rise from his chair where he used to sit in his robes and in quiet, even tones rebuke a member who had given away to an expression in a manner that made the culprit feel like a whipped schoolboy, and yet made him feel also that the Bishop was right. He positively would not tolerate any expression which seemed to him unChristian, and if a heated delegate did not subside at once, His Lordship's quiet but firm "Sit down Sir" would reduce him to silence.

On one occasion a delegate started to rant about hotelkeepers and had not proceeded for more than a moment when the Bishop was heard ordering him to be silent and expressing sorrow that such expressions should be heard in any assemblage professing to sit under the blessing of Christ. He went on to say that in the diocese he knew many members of hotelkeepers' families who were members of the church, and that so long as he presided over the Synod no expression calculated to offend any member of the Church would be tolerated.

Dr Sweatman was a man of very tolerant views and feared greatly the evil effects on the young, who were his first thought always, of a too severe and puritanical code. He was frankly in favor of Sunday street cars from the day that they were first proposed, but when a petition was taken to him in the hope that he would sign it, he replied simply that while the movement had his best wishes for success he realized that a public declaration on his part would give pain to many of his pastorate who held different views.

He was a man seemingly predestined for high honors for throughout his life distinction after distinction came to him entirely unsought and practically against his will. In the very difficult task that fell to him it was this quality of moderation in him, his appreciation of the feelings of others no matter how much he might differ from them in opinion, that enabled him to do the great unifying work he accomplished for his Church.

Stood In With the Orangemen.

John O'Neil, a new Toronto alderman, has the enviable record of being a devout Roman Catholic in religion, and yet drawing much of his support from the Orangemen and Protestants of his ward. They have known him for years as one who held out the hand to any man—no matter what his creed—if he needed help.

In fact, so broad is he that they gleefully tell in Ward Two about a certain silk hat that John bought twenty years ago, and has worn only once or twice. But every Twelfth of July that hat has proudly paraded to the fair grounds in the Orange procession, on the head of "Billy" Walker, a noted Orange friend of the alderman.

When Mr. O'Neil ran a hotel in Ward Two it was the practice of the officers of L.O.L. No. 711, to use one of his rooms for their committee meetings, with the full consent and approval of Mine Host O'Neill. Little wonder that he won out in the aldermanic contest!—Saturday Night.

Canada and the United States.

Three United States railway corporations—the great Northern, the Utah Northern, and the Chicago, Milwaukee, and St. Paul—are applying to the British Columbia Legislature for permission to build lines into British Columbia in order to tap the great coalfields in the Crow's Nest and Flathead valleys. If the charters are granted, confirmatory Federal legislation will also be required, and this will lead to a great struggle in Ottawa on the question whether United States railways shall be permitted to divert the mineral output of the Kootenay district to the United States, to the detriment of Canadian railways.

Making a "Joyful Noise."

Rev. Dr. J. H. Hazlewood, the pastor of High Park Avenue Methodist Church, Toronto, is an Irishman, and many a phrase in his sermons betrays his Irish sense of humor.

One Sunday night recently he was advising his flock to join in the hymn-singing. He said he liked good congregational singing. He knew there were some who were not sweet singers, but he would not have them keep silence. To them he would say: "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord—but don't make it too loud."

Flour Mill Resumes.

The flour mill belonging to the Maple Leaf Milling Co., Kenora, Ont., which was so unfortunately destroyed by fire a year ago, has recently started work again. The reconstructed mill is one of the best equipped in Canada, and is fitted up with an automatic fire protective system, making a recurrence of last year's disaster impossible.

In sickness if a certain nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned meRthod is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescriptiondemonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will surelytell. Try it at once, and see. Sold by all dealers.

What She Saw

By ADELIA DURAN.

Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.

Winona glanced out of the window at the crystal avenue and watched the April dusk descend. The streets began to fill with the usual Saturday night traffic, and the whis and clatter of flying carriages and motor cars mingled with the strident ringing of car bells and the shouts of importune cabmen.

Abruptly a big black automobile like a giant tarantula slid up to the curbing in front of the hotel opposite and stopped. A man jumped out and extended his hand to the young woman who had risen to follow. There was something instantly familiar about the straight, square shoulders under the cape of the long black coat and the way his gray alpine was drawn down over his eyes.

Winona caught her breath and involuntarily stood up. Yes! It was ORDERED HER TO TAKE THEM DIRECTLY TO THE POSTOFFICE.

Richard Grayson, and he had not even glanced in her direction.

The lights of the street were bright enough for her to see that his companion was a wondrously pretty woman, that they were laughing and talking merrily, apparently oblivious to surroundings, and that she took his arm with a plainly affectionate gesture as they went into the hotel together.

For some minutes afterward Winona stood motionless, a pain at her heart which she dared not define even to herself. There was the brilliant flash of light in the apartment directly opposite. With a little gasp of astonishment she saw young Grayson stoop laughingly and kiss the girl. An older man was standing at a little distance, and she recognized him instantly as Dick's father. He, too, laughed and came up, saluting the girl fondly on either cheek.

It was the bride, she knew, for that was the bridal suit. She had been there herself once to call upon a girl friend who had married and was in Washington on her wedding journey.

With her face on fire Winona turned away and went to her desk in a corner of the room. She took up two letters. The first read:

Dear Nona—May I come tomorrow evening for a few moments? I have something important that I want to tell you. Say, yes, will you not? Sincerely,
DICK.

This, then, was what he had meant to tell her of—his marriage. Her brief dream of happiness collapsed like a house of cards. She choked back a sudden rise of inward bitterness and unfolded the other letter. It ran:

Dearest Winnie—Do run down to Palm Beach and stay with us in our dear little bungalow. Jack has invited a friend, somebody from somewhere, and I am depending upon you, dear girl, to help me out. Let me know by return mail. Beseechingly
CLAUDIA.

Without hesitation Winona sat down and took up her pen, jabbing it viciously into the ink.

My Dear Richard—Sorry, but it will not be possible for me to receive you tomorrow evening, as I am leaving town for some time. Yours in haste,
WINONA PAULDING.

She sealed and directed this and rang for her maid. Then she dashed a hasty acceptance of Claudia Spence's invitation and sat staring through the window at the black vacuum of night.

When the maid came in she thrust the two letters into her hand and ordered her to take them directly to the postoffice. She crossed the room to a cheval glass. The face that looked back at her was youthful and delicately lovely.

She was blond and patrician, with just enough pink in her cheeks to redeem her face from pallor. Her hair was pale gold, but shining. That other girl was pretty, too, but in a rich, dark fashion that belonged to the south.

Dick's mother was from Dixie, and she recalled, with a pang, that he was a worshiper of southern women. A little sob shook her. She turned away, covering her face with her hands. Hot tears sprung through her quivering lashes, but she dashed them away in self contempt and went into the next room to pack her trunk.

She reached Palm Beach eighteen hours later. Her courage had rallied amazingly under the stimulating change of scene, and she felt almost happy again as they drove home through borders of sun kissed palm and palmetto.

An hour afterward Winona emerged on the funny, squat little piazza of the bungalow, radiant in a gauzy gown of pink liberty chiffon. Mrs. Spence caught her by the hand and drew her up to the small coterie already assembled and waiting for her.

"Mr. Grayson, Miss Paulding," she said conventionally.

Winona started, flushed, paled and poised herself admirably. She held out her hand. Dick had risen and was pressing her fingers with elaborate cordiality, but his own were cold with excitement and he subdued his voice to hide its unsteadiness.

The group fell into conversation. Then, two by two, they drifted away, leaving them together, alone. The moon had come up, flooding everything with its magic white light till it was as clear as day.

Young Grayson looked at Winona, and she met his glance with an indignant flash of her eyes.

"What made you run away from me, Nona?" he asked gravely.

"You! Why, I was not even dreaming of you," she retorted, with pink cheeks.

"Evidently. That is why I asked you the question."

"You have forfeited all right to ask me questions of any sort," she flung back unguardedly and bit her lips when it was too late.

"Winona! What do you mean by that?" His eyes held hers dominantly, and she found her lips framing the words despite herself.

"That other woman—that—that—your wife!" She blurted it out in sheer desperation at last.

"Ah!" And, considering the gravity of the situation, her companion did a most remarkable thing—he laughed uproariously. When his mirth had somewhat subsided he bent over and caught her little hands in his big ones and held them. His words fell rapidly.

"The dear old governor took it into his head to marry a second time when down in Richmond last month. An urgent telegram called him back to Washington on business, and he was forced to leave her behind. As luck would have it, the very day he was scheduled to arrive he was taken with the grip. I had to go to the train to meet the lady, while he remained in the apartment to receive her."

He paused a moment for breath. Then he went on: "I found your note in my box about 10 o'clock. It hurt me, and it made me angry too. I put down everything and took the first train south in response to a pressing invitation from Jack."

A swift little sob of relief escaped Winona's lips. She looked up with luminous eyes. The color surged into her face.

"But—but we were never more than friends. There was nothing—I—you—there never was anything between us." She finished with a flash of the old coquetry. Her lips were still parted—scarlet, humid, tremulous. Young Grayson made no effort to resist temptation.

"But there was going to be—there is, and there always will be!" A step sounded on the gravel walk. "Answer me—quick!"

There was.

A Very Secret Drawer.

"A secret drawer is sometimes very hard to locate in a large cabinet," said a dealer in curios. "I had such a piece of furniture in the store one winter and knew the drawer was there from a reference to it in an old inventory, but in spite of all my efforts I couldn't discover just where it was. I concluded that the spring must be concealed somewhere about the very ornate carving which ornamented the sides, but it escaped my scrutiny until one day when I had a bit of inspiration. Such drawers are usually made of sheet steel both for security and on account of its thinness, and I simply passed a small pocket compass up and down before the carving. At one certain point the needle, just as I had anticipated, was deflected, and I knew I had at last hit on the right spot. I located it within a few inches and then pushed and prodded every projection with the point of a darning needle until something gave way and out jumped the drawer. It was very cleverly masked at the edges by the curves of the pattern, and nobody in the world would suspect its existence. I had hoped that I might find something of value in it, but I was disappointed. It was quite empty."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The End of the World.

London suffered from several earthquake shocks in 1761, and prophecies of the total destruction of the city were rife. The London Chronicle says: "April 5 was the date nafaed for the catastrophe, and for days before the roads from town were thronged with the vehicles of those who were seeking safety in flight in spite of the threat of one of the papers of the day to publish the names of all such cowards, even the more courageous elected to pass their nights out of doors, Hyde park being the most popular camping ground.

"But nothing ever so got on the nerves of Europe as the coming of the first thousandth year of the Christian era. The churches were thronged, the houses deserted, and all good Christians slept in the open in readiness for that end of the world which was expected to come at the proper date. The end of the world has had many prophecies to its discredit.

"And people who were nervous about Mother Shipton's prophecy—

"And the world to an end shall come
In eighteen hundred and eighty-one—

"are still alive and criticising the rhyme and the reason."—Chicago News.

Government Says Indian Lands.

Calgary, Alta., June 27.—The consummation of a deal with the Indians on Hobbema reservation, northwest of Ponoka, came after negotiations pending for years between the Dominion Government and the Indians, who relinquish their rights to 10,000 acres of land. The Government intends to sell this by auction. The preliminary payment has already been made. Surveyors have been put to work on the reservation and as soon as the work is completed and valuation made all will be announced.

Cosgrave's Beer

Words of praise have ever prevailed in advertising "copy." That a producer should wax enthusiastic over his own wares is but human. But it's the praise of the consumer that counts—and it is to a discrimin ting and critical public that "Cosgrave's" refers you

It is safe to say that no product, of any kind, enjoys a more enviable reputation than does this same Cosgrave Beer of Toronto in markets where it is offered.

Its self-evident honesty of purpose, purity, brilliancy, body, and every other attribute that goes to make a perfect beer are ever in evidence.

IF YOU HAVE

Catarrh

Remember the Best Catarrh Medicine that Money can Buy is Catarrhozone; it cures quickly and permanently when all others fail.

The remedy doesn't exist that will cure Catarrh as quickly as Catarrhozone. It relieves the most stubborn cases in a short time, and drives the disease so thoroughly from the system that it never returns.

Druggists boldly recommend Catarrhozone in preference to other remedies, because they know it is the best, and every progressive doctor prescribes it.

Catarrhozone is a rational, commonsense treatment that finds favor with everybody. It cures by the inhalation of medicated air, which comes into contact with the mucous surfaces of all the breathing organs. It gets at the source of the trouble, kills the germs and drives every vestige of catarrh right out of the system.

It doesn't matter how deep-seated or chronic your case may be, Catarrhozone can cure it. Even though a thousand other remedies have failed, don't give up hope till you have used Catarrhozone. It has cured other cases probably worse than yours, and will cure yours if it gets a chance.

Mr. Dutcher Law, a prominent citizen of Italy Cross, N. S., says: "I experimented with hundreds of Catarrh remedies and found the majority to be worthless, dismal failures. Catarrhozone was the first to give lasting relief; it cured me and I am with pleasure testifying to its merits as a cure for Catarrh of the nose and throat.

(Signed.) DUTCHER LAW.

You are sure to derive the most pleasant results from Catarrhozone. It has been tested many times and never found wanting. Every druggist in Canada sells it. Complete two months' treatment, guaranteed to cure, costs $1, or a trial size 50c. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

CANADIAN CAPITAL ABROAD.

The Standard Life Assurance Co., of Edinburgh, has invested in western Canada approximately $17,000,000, and the manager of that company, Mr. L. W. Dickson, is at present in Winnipeg with a view to making arrangements for increasing the amount it has invested in this country. Mr. Dickson is not one of those representative types of British capitalists that need the lecture recently given to Britishers by Mr. J. O. Smith, in London, respecting their giving. But what will Mr. Dickson, on his first visit to Canada think when he finds that several of Canada's foremost bankers and capitalists, like William Mackenzie, are continuously going to Lobdon to borrow money for Canadian enterprises, and at the same time are investing in electrical and street railway enterprises in Mexico and South America?

Mr. Dickson, as the most active participant in the administration of the affairs of a business concern having $17,000,000 invested in this country, can speak from experience as to the advantage of Canadian investments. The fact that still further investments are being made by his company in western Canada indicates how satisfactory its present investments in this country are. It must appear to Britishers like Mr. Dickson somewhat strange that leading Canadians should be using their capital and directing other Canadian capital to enterprises in Mexico and South America when there are so many opportunities for using it to advantage in Canada. It may be that the Canadians who are playing so important a part in the development of Mexico, Cuba, Brazil and Venezuela find it possible to borrow money in England upon the endorsement of bonds by the provincial governments of other countries in which they operate does not make securities so easy to negotiate. Thus they exploit Canada with British money but reserve the higher rate of earnings obtained in foreign countries for their own money.

In doing this individuals can claim that they have a perfect right to invest their money where it yields to them the best results. But the same reason cannot be accepted from institutions that control the savings of the people and are granted privileges under the laws of the Dominion. Upon the men who direct the trend of investment of British money the fact of Canadian domestic capital being invested abroad to so large an extent must leave the impression that Canadians know of a better place to put their money than their own country. But though so much Canadian effort and money is being spent in the development of other countries it is a good augury that so many British agencies through which great sums of money are coming to this country for investment, are more than satisfied with their Canadian investments.

Situation in Persia Serious.

St. Petersburg, June 29.—The situation in Persia is regarded as quite serious, and as the Russian force there is likely to prove insufficient in case the disorders spread, there is a possibility that a separate column will be sent from the Caucasus to Teheran, as the troops at Tabriz cannot be spared. One hundred Cossacks have arrived at Meshed. Special despatches from Tabriz say that the Russians are making large numbers of arrests and are also searching houses and confiscating arms.

SOUTH AFRICAN UNION.

The announcement that the Colony of Natal has finally agreed to join the other colonies ensures the establishment of the South African Union and marks another and a very important step in the consolidation of the British Empire. There will be then four great self-governing political aggregations in the King's overseas dominions—Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. Among them will be found a white population of about fifteen millions, approximately one third of that of the United Kingdom. There is likely to be a greater proportionate growth of the population in these dominions than in that of the Mother Country, and within the next decade their white population is not unlikely to be equal to one-half of that of the latter and possibly even more. The union of several colonies in one political organization is in itself an attraction to immigrants, while the opportunities for enterprise and capital are greater. In South Africa the model of the Canadian Confederation has been taken by the representatives of the four colonies who have drafted the new Constitution as more suitable than that of the Australian Commonwealth, which followed rather the form of the American Union than that of the Dominion of Canada.

From the Imperial point of view the union of spearate colonies in compact confederations is of no less advantage than that secured locally to the communities interested. Now that from one cause and another, closer and more frequent communication between the heart of the Empire and its distant members has become a necessity, it is apparent that a great advantage will be had by the important reduction in the number of Colonial administrations that will be brought about by these unions. In the matter of Imperial defence the British Government will only have to deal with four considerable groups instead of with a large number of small individual colonies. From the Colonial point of view there will also be many advantages to be derived from this policy of consolidation.

There are still some details of further movements in a similar direction to be carried out before the task of Imperial organisation can be regarded as completely accomplished. The British West Indian Islands should be brought under some form of central government, with the result of simplifying their administration and securing considerable economy from the reduction in the number of the present petty and distinct governments on all the islands. Rhodesia will doubtless ere long cast in its lot with the South African Union, and the various West African Coast colonies, the area of which has been largely extended by the transfer of Nigeria from the Chartered Company to the Crown, will form an important group under the more direct supervision of the Colonial Office. On this Continentent it can only be regarded as a question of time when Newfoundland will desire to join the Dominion.

While there may be much difference of opinion as to the ultimate form which the bond of union between the Mother Country and her lusty offspring overseas may assume it is not a matter that needs immediate consideration. The genius of the race that has succeeded in building up such a gigantic empire may safely be relied on to devise a satisfactory political working scheme for its conduct towards foreign nations. Just as the Constitution of the United Kingdom has been gradually envolved, so the greater Imperial Constitution of the future will gradually assume shape and form. In the Colonial consolidations to which we have been referring we have the necessary and preliminary foundations on which the great Imperial structure will ultimately arise.

RIOT OVER ELOPEMENT.

Fatal End to Turkish Rejoicings Over Capture of Syrian Bride.

Springfield, Mass., June 29.—Festivities among the Turkish residents because a Tark of seventeen years had eloped with a Syrian girl of fifteen culminated in a race riot today. The Turks paraded Ferry St. and one of their number shouted "Down with the Christians!"

A hundred Syrians who had been visiting the demonstration attacked the paraders. Reinforcements arrived on both sides. Revolvers, clubs and missiles were freely used. From the windows of Ferry street tenement houses women hurled at the combatants whatever they could lay their hands on.

Said Bunak, leader of the Turks, was stabbed in many places, and died on the way to the hospital. Joseph Ali, a Syrian policeman, had his skull fractured in attempting to quell the riot, and will die. At least one Turk is mortally wounded. A dozen other participants were severely hurt.

The Syrians were getting the better of the conflict when the police arrived and charged the combatants. Eight arrests were made, one of the prisoners, Joseph Obsey, being held on the charge of murder. In expectation of further trouble Ferry street was heavily policed tonight.

Tell Some Sick One

It Is Free If It Fails.

Will you do an act of Humanity?

Will you tell some sick friend of this, my remarkable offer?

Tell him or her, that you have learned of a medicine so certain that the maker dare say to the sick, "Try it absolutely and unconditionally free if it fails."

And you, no doubt, already know of Dr. Shoop's Restorative and its popularity.

For 23 years it has been the standard remedy for Stomach, Kidney and Heart ailments everywhere in America.

When the "inside" or controlling nerves of these vital organs begin to fail, it is Dr. Shoop's Restorative that has quickly vitalized, and strengthened, and brought these nerves and organs back to health again.

I do not dose the Stomach, nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys—for that is all wrong.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to the cause of these ailments—the failing, faltering, inside or controlling nerves. And herein lies the keynote to my success.

When these nerves are again made well and strong, then that is the certain end of all such sickness.

To me it is a great satisfaction that I am the only physician able to say to the suffering sick, "Take my prescription for full 30 days, and if it fails to help you, the entire expense is mine—not yours."

Then why should the sick take any chance on any other medicine, whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

I also have a Rheumatic Remedy—and that remedy is covered by the same identical "no help, no pay" protective plan.

Besides, you are free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request.

So let me send you an order at once. Make the message to some sick friend.

A postal will bring the opportunity.

I will have an honest and trustworthy druggist to whom you can conveniently go for the first day test.

But first, ask me for the order, for all druggists are not authorized to give the 30 day test.

So write me now and save all delay. Remember that tomorrow never comes. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, under the authority of Chapter 8, of the Statutes of Ontario, 1909, invites subscriptions from the public for a loan of $2,250,000 on bonds of the Province of Ontario, or "Ontario Government Stock."

The bonds will be dated 1st June, 1909, and payable on the 1st June, 1959, in denominations of $1,000 each, with coupons attached for interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 1st June and 1st December in each year at the office of the Provincial Treasurer, Toronto, or at the offices of the Bank of Montreal, in Montreal, Canada, and in New York, N. Y., at the holder's option. Bonds will be made payable to bearer, but on request will be registered in the office of the Provincial Treasurer and endorsed as payable only to the order of certain persons or corporations, and on request of holders will be exchanged for "Ontario Government Stock" at any time.

"Ontario Government Stock" will bear interest from the 1st day of June, 1909, principal payable on the 1st day of June, 1959, and interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum will be paid half-yearly by cheque on the 1st day of June and 1st day of December in each year. "Ontario Government Stock" may be subscribed for in sums of $50 or multiples thereof, and will be transferable in the books of the Treasury Department only, by the holder or his attorney in similar manner to transfers of bank stock.

The issue price during the month of June, 1909, will be 98½ for each $100, and after the 30th day of June, 1909, the issue price will be 98½ and interest accrued from the 1st June 1909.

ALL BONDS AND INSCRIBED STOCK ISSUED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE SAID ACT ARE FREE FROM ALL ONTARIO PROVINCIAL TAXES, CHARGES, SUCCESSION DUTY AND IMPOSITIONS WHATSOEVER.

Purchasers of Stock or Bonds will be required to send certified cheque with the application, payable to the order of the "Provincial Treasurer of Ontario."

This loan is raised upon the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Ontario, and is chargeable thereupon.

Subscribers should state whether they desire bonds or "Ontario Government Stock."

Example: A subscriber for $1,000 will have the option of taking either a bond or "Ontario Government Stock." A subscriber for $500 will be given "Ontario Government Stock," as no bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000.

THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Refuses to Spend Money in Useless Advertising

INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL REVIEW.

F. McPhillips, Editor,
Toronto, 5th December, 1908. J. H. Brock, Esq.,
Great-West Life Assurance Co.,
Winnipeg, Man.

Dear Sir :—

I presume that some time during the present month you will be re-arranging your advertising for the ensuing year, and I beg to remind you that when we discussed the matter, when you were here during the Summer, you said it would be considered at the first of the year. Up to the present time I have not had the privilege of carrying a card of your Company, nor have I ever published your annual statement.

I would be pleased if you would give both these your favorable consideration for the coming year.

Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) F. McPHILLIPS.

THE GREAT WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

The Insurance and Financial Review, Winnipeg, March 27th, 1909.
Toronto, Ontario.

Gentlemen :—

We have not overlooked the information you gave us regarding rates in the Review, but so far it has not been decided to extend our advertising appropriation in this direction. However, your information is still before us, and when a decision is arrived at you will be advised.

Yours truly,
THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY
Per "G.M.R."
Advertising Department.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company thought it would not be profitable to the Company or to its policy-holders, who are interested in its revenues, to spend money uselessly in advertisements appearing in a journal, in their opinion, practically unknown, except to insurance agents. Accordingly it was decided not to advertise in that journal, though we expected that it might attack the Company. What we expected happened. Nevertheless the Company intends to advertise only in such reputable papers as it considers will give results beneficial to the insuring and the Company.

Some unscrupulous representatives of competing Companies make use of the unfair attacks of such journals without explaining the circumstances of the attacks, or the absurdity of the statements made, and we trust those who are approached by such agents will inform themselves on the subject by reading carefully the articles and the notes and comments thereon.

The Article

Representations have reached us with disconcertin*g* frequency of late that conditions in regard to the Great-West Life Assurance Company are by no means satisfactory.

The Annual Report, which was published early in March, contains this remarkable statement: "We have this year changed all our records so that policies payable by instalments are entered not at their face values, but at their commuted values." It is well known that the Company has not until very recently availed itself of regular actuarial advice and very possibly much of the criticism incurred is attributable to this neglect, but we might ask why this rather important matter was overlooked by the Department of Insurance in the course of its yearly inspections. Inaccuracy in one part of a statement is apt to lead to suspicion of other parts.

PROFIT VARIATIONS.

We have before us a pamphlet issued by the Great-West Life Assurance Company, entitled "Actual Results to Policy holders;" "Paid by the Great-West Life Assurance Company under the Fifteen Year Preferred Dividend Policies which matured in 1907, together with the Results under Policies maturing in 1908." L

We quote two cases of Fifteen Year Endowment Policies maturing in 1908.

Policy No.	Amount.	Premiums paid.	Total cash value of policy.
640	$1,000	$969.75	$1,575.00
823	1,000	945.00	1,519.00

It is generally believed that the profits shown under these policies are excessive. This view is strengthened by a comparison with a five-year period policy upon the same 15 year Endowment plan which shows accumulated results as follows:

Policy No.	Amount	968	1,000
Total cash value of Policy.			$1,164.50

We bear in mind the solemn "warning" printed in the daily press broadcast throughout this country over the signature of the Head Office of the Company. This reads in part as follows :

"An anonymous, typewritten letter is being circulated, dishonestly, "comparing our recent dividends upon "five year period' policies with "dividends upon "fifteen year period' policies, without explaining the es-"sential differences between the two forms of insurance."

It is the fundamental principle of justice that "he who would receive equity must himself give equity." This is not evident in the paragraph quoted above. In the comparison made there is no essential difference between the two forms of insurance. They are identical. The only differences lies in the methods of alotting the profits to the same forms of insurance.

It must be remembered that, in the case of Policy No. 968, quoted above, the profits were alotted every five years, but were left by the insured in the hands of the Company for accumulation during the entire term of fifteen years. According to the statements of the Company these profits are subject to increment at the rate of interest earned by the Company. In the case of endowment assurances for so short a term as fifteen years the survivorship factor is almost a negligible quantity for profit-making purposes.

ACTUARIAL METHODS FAULTY.

It follows that either the profit upon the five year period policy is less than that to which the insured was entitled, or, on the other hand, the allotment to the fifteen-year period policies was vastly in excess of their actual earning. Having in mind the expense ratio of the Great West Life in the past fifteen years, there appears very little difficulty in determining which of these views is correct. The Company has forty millions of insurance in force, and until last year had no regular expert actuarial advice. The finger of Mr. C. C. Ferguson, A.I.A., is already a parent in the Company's statement, and it is only to be regretted that very much earlier opportunity of scientific advice was not availed of.

THE "SPECIAL POLICY."

Every student of life assurance conditions prevalent during the past twenty-five years is aware that the evil odor attaching to the business some years ago was attributable more directly to the employment of so-called "Special Agents" or "Lightning Specials" than to any other single factor. These gentry had no stake in the Company they were representing (or misrepresented). Generally they were importations from the neighboring Republic. The great argument in use was that they were alone empowered to offer something special to wealthy clients, or, in other words, that the prospective victim was fortunate enough to have encountered a "Bargain Day" in life assurance. The results accruing from these methods are too well known to insurance men to need repetition. It is somewhat amazing to find that a Canadian Life Company could to-day be found to essay the recrudescence of so unfortunate a system.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company has recently been selling what is described as a "special" policy. It should be understood that this is nothing more than an ordinary life policy, payable at death by instalments. Some also contain the return premium feature.

One sample policy we have before us, dated April 24th, 1907, and which has been used by Great-West Agents in their canvass, is for the ordinary Life plan, face value $25,000, payable in fifteen annual instalments of $1,000 each, first instalment payable at death, with $10,000 additional at the end of fifteen years after death, the annual premium at age 35 being $501.00. Also in the event of death of the assured within twenty years from issue date, all premiums paid are to be returned with the sum assured. Let us now take up the privileges and conditions. We wish to call special attention to the clause re Distribution of Surplus, which reads in part as follows :

"On the first day of April, 1912, and at the end of every fifth year thereafter, if this policy be then in full force, it shall participate in the profits of the Company. An individual account shall be kept with this policy, and whenever the surplus apportioned thereto, accumulated with interest at 4 per cent. (or at the rate earned if in excess of 4 per cent), compounded annually shall be sufficient to prepay all future premiums, the insured will be notified, and no future payment of premiums shall be required."

Such a clause is most obscure. We are informed that Great-West Agents have told prospects that at the end of 16 or 17 years the profits would be sufficient to pay all future premiums, and it is understood that some have taken policies in that belief. Needless to say, such hopes are impossible of realization, as will be evident from the following table :—

(1) End of year	(2) Value of future Premiums	(3) Profits per $1,000 required to meet this	(4) Percent. of premiums paid
15	$7,793.52	$436.00	803
17	7,415.28	415.00	78
20	6,625.46	382.00	61

From these we see that the profits at the end of 17 years would have to equal 78 per cent. of the premiums already paid in order to prepay all future premiums. It is reasonable to suppose that any company can return as profits four-fifths of the premiums paid? Where would the Cash Surrender Value come from in such a case? The absolute impossibility of such a thing is apparent, and yet the agents pushing this special plan are thus, we understand, representing this condition.

We are further informed that in some cases the agent has not been content with the very rosy prospect indicated above. In a canvass in an Eastern Ontario City one agent is alleged to have told his prospect that it was almost certain that the policy would become paid up in ten years! Such things seem almost incredible in these days.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.

We take policy No. 36,003 for $1,000.00 to illustrate a further point. One section of this policy is grossly misleading. On the third page is given a table of surrender values, including cash, paid up, and extended insurance features, these values being given for various years from three to twenty. The table is headed as follows :

"Table of non-forfeiture options for each $1,000 of commuted amount."

In very small writing and hidden away at the bottom of the policy are words to the effect that the commuted value of this policy is $7,-155.00. A keen insurance man would, of course, know that the surrender values applicable to the particular policy would be 7.155 times the figures given in the tables, but the or-dinary layman, and we think even to a good many insurance men, the tables of values would be multiplied by ten in order to get the figures applicable to the policy. If it came to a question to be decided in the courts, we believe the Great-West would have no difficulty in maintaining that the surrender values applicable to the policy would be the lower amounts given above, but we think we are safe in saying that these surrender values should have been

The Great-West's Reply

The Insurance Department has always required all Companies to report business at the commuted value, and we have always done so, as the writer of this article could easily have found by referring to the Blue Book. His criticism, therefore, of the Insurance Department and of the Company falls to the ground. Our office records have always been correct, and the change referred to was made solely with a view to simplify the bookkeeping methods of obtaining the same results. Many Companies have pursued exactly the same course. The effort to make a point out of this shows how hard pressed the writer was to find something to say.

Under the heading "Profit Variations," his position is equally ridiculous, and he has deliberately tried to create a wrong impression as to an advertisement inserted by the Company by omitting a portion in which we say : "We are still paying on 5 year and longer dividend period policies the highest dividends—premiums being taken into account—now being paid by any company."

The very large dividends referred to on our 15 Year Tontine policies are as great a source of satisfaction to our policy-holders as they are of annoyance to some of our competitors and all journals of the calibre of our critic. The reason why these large dividends were paid was because the Company's earnings were such that our then Actuary, Mr. W. T. Standen, advised that the policy-holders were entitled to them.

The writer seems desirous to leave the impression that the holder of Policy No. 968 has reason to be dissatisfied with his results. We have clear evidence that this is not the opinion of the policy-holder himself, since on receiving his settlement he straightway insured the life of his son in this Company.

As to "Actuarial Methods," the statement that we had no expert Actuarial advice is absolutely false, as Mr. William T. Standen, F.A.S., was employed as consulting Actuary, and advised us on every point requiring the assistance of an Actuary from the time we commenced business, until his death, which only occurred a few months before our present Actuary was appointed.

The "Special Policy"—This Special Policy has been so admired by the insuring public and competing companies that several of the principal companies of Canada have copied it, and other companies have notified their agents that they will issue it if no other form of policy be accepted by the applicant. The form of the policy is such that it invites investigation of profit-earning capacity, and, consequently, applications have been particularly easy to secure by agents of the Great-West Life.

The introduction by the Company of such a popular policy shows that it understands and meets the wishes of the insuring public.

The clause as to distribution of surplus, which is stated by the Editor to be obscure, is on the contrary, so clear and plain that it has never been misunderstood by any policy-holder and can easily be understood by any intelligent school boy 13 years of age.

The ignorance of the writer is shown clearly when he attempts to quote actual figures; for instance—the amount of profits required to make the policy referred to a paid-up one in twenty years is given as $387 whereas the correct amount is $360! All the other figures in this table are equally incorrect, and the conclusions are absolutely unfounded.

As to the statements that agents have represented that the Policy will be paid up in a shorter time than is possible or reasonable, we believe the writer has called upon his imagination for his facts. Certainly if the statements were made by an agent, such as he states have been made, the agent and the policy-holder misled by him would both be fit candidates for a lunatic asylum.

As to the Non-Forture Options.—The labored effort to show that there is something wrong with this table is another evidence that the writer was hard pressed for something to say about the Company when he called attention to the fact that that a certain clause was at the bottom of the policy. He conceals the fact that the clause is at the foot of the table of surrender values—the only place where it could be properly placed. Was this honest, or does it show the spleen of the writer of the article? Something must be at the bottom of the policy; therefore, no matter what we placed there, the the argument might be used that it was placed there for the purpose of concealment. If we had printed the policy without referring to commuted values, the same writer would have objected to this with just as much weight as he has because we have inserted the commuted values.

Man Who Shot Himself May Not Have Been The Murderer

(Special to The Times.)

St. Michaels, Md., June 28.—The coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. Edith May Woodhill will be resumed to-day with several of the jurors still convinced that there was a large element of truth in the letter left by "Lame Bob" Eastman, the fugitive broker and suicide, who declared that there had been a party in his bungalow and that Mrs. Woodhill had been attacked with a champagne bottle and slain by a jealous woman.

The jury will meet in the lonely little bungalow itself within sight of the grave to which the body of Eastman was consigned early yesterday with no further ceremony than the muttered prayers of a few laymen.

It is not believed now that a definite verdict will be rendered by the jury and it is certain that no matter what may be the outcome of to-day's sitting of the inquest, investigation of the tragedy will be carried forward by the law officers of the State and county with undiminished energy.

The Elopment Story.

Theories as to how, when, and why the murder was committed are borne upon every wind. They are built up and thrown down at random. The authorities give no credence to a report circulated last night that Eastman tried to induce Mrs. Woodhill to elope to Europe with him, and that he killed her when she refused. This report went on to say that Eastman's hiding place had been discovered and that it was necessary for him again to take to flight.

As a matter of fact, Eastman was in financial straits, and did not have money enough to take himself to to Europe, to say nothing of Mrs. Woodhill. There is no indication that Eastman's identity was about to be discovered by the authorities. The Baltimore police had not thought the man known among his neighbors on the eastern shore was a fugitive from justice in New York State. Prior to the murder, Roberts' neighbor would have been prepared to defend him against any imputation of his character, but after all is said the striking fact remains that Eastman, following the murder, for which he claimed in the letter that he was not responsible came to Baltimore and pawned the jewels of the woman.

Showed the Bills.

Returning from Baltimore after pawning Mrs. Woodhill's jewelry Eastman joked with his acquaintances, showed them a roll of bills which made the frugal country residents open their eyes in wonder, and conducted himself in the coolest possible manner. He showed no trace of excitement until after the identity of the body became known and he was told that he had better not leave the country. It is then that he made his plans to escape, and failing that, took his own life.

The members of the coroner's jury who believe that there is truth in Eastman's letter are anxious that the mystery of the launch containing two women and three men which was seen coming out of Broad Creek on which the bungalow is located, shall be cleared up.

The wine and two whiskey glasses which has been used were found in the bungalow. They intimated today that the investigations into the identity of persons seen in the on Sunday may lead to an arrest at launch coming out of Broad Creek any moment.

ONE OF THE SIX HUNDRED.

Lord Tredegar Dies of the Famous Charge at Balaclava

Lord Tredegar, who has recently been in the public eye in the English papers because of his promise of a site for a sanitorium on Penrhiwdarren Mountain, near Abercorn, is one of the most notable survivors of the Balaclava charge. As a young officer he rode with the Light Brigade, and on its return found himself, then a lieutenant in the 17th Lancers, in command, all his senior officers having been killed or wounded. Some time ago he was induced to put on record what he did and saw on that memorable day. A hundred times, says M.A.P., he was as near death as a man can possibly be. "I appeared," he said in the narrative, "to be riding straight on to the muzzle of one of the guns, and I distinctly saw one of the gunners apply his fuse. I shut my eyes then, for I thought that settled the question so far as I was concerned.

"But the shot just missed me and struck the man on my left full in the chest. In another minute I was on the gun, and the Russian's grey horse, shot, fell across my horse, dragging it over with him and pinning me in between the gun and himself. A Russian gunner came on foot and covered me with his carbine. He was just within reach, and I struck him across his neck. At the same time a mounted gunner struck my horse with his sabre on the forehead. Spurring 'Sir Briggs,' he half jumped, half blundered, over the fallen horses, and bolted with me. I only remember finding myself alone amongst the Russians, trying to get out as best I could." In spite of all, both Lord Tredegar and his horse came out alive. Sir Briggs to die many years afterwards in the calm seclusion of Tredegar Park.

House Henry VIII. Liked.

Stanwell Place, near Staines, the home of Sir Alexander Gibbons, is, curiously enough, the ancestral home of Lord Plymouth's family, and the way they came to lose it is a strange story. Henry VIII. took a fancy to Stanwell and made up his mind to have it. He had a pretty way of doing things, had Henry, and one fine day he sent word to Lord Windsor that he was coming to dine with him. Every preparation was made to entertain His Majesty royally and well, but after the banquet the King informed his host that he liked Stanwell so much that he had decided to possess himself of it and gave him the grant of Bordersley Abbey in Worcestershire instead. Lord Windsor begged hard to be allowed to keep Stanwell, which had been in his family for several centuries, but it was in vain.—London Gentlewoman.

The Troubles of an Actor.

Mr. Lawrence Grossmith, the musical comedy "dude" who is playing with so much success as Geoffrey Smith in "An Englishman's Home," in London, has received many curious communication from all parts of the globe since the production of the play at Wyndham's Theatre. One morning on official letter from an army captain in Switzerland reached him. The sender stated that he had witnessed the play, and was generally shocked to learn that one of the characters playing an insignificant part was "cloaked" with his name, and even purported to represent his regiment, wearing the same style of uniform, and in every detail mocking the aggrieved writer. The character referred to was Capt. Finch, of the 6th Vol. Batt. Blinkshire Regiment, and Mr. Grossmith was requested to furnish a full explanation of the incident without delay.

Exhibited First Gorilla.

When he was ten years old, Mr. George Wombwell, who died the other day at the advanced age of 92, went to live with his uncle, the founder of the famous traveling menagerie, so that he was associated with the showman's life for over eighty years. It is generally believed that Mr. Wombwell exhibited the first gorilla known to have been brought alive to this country. The mounted skin of this animal is now at Alston Hall, near Preston, England.

A Barrel of Flour.

A barrel of flour will make nearly double its weight in bread. Flour rapidly deteriorates with age unless kept dry. It absorbs moisture, and this moisture impairs the gluten, which is indispensable to the lightness of the bread. Besides, it changes some of the starch into sugar and a gummy matter known as dextrin, and this makes the bread heavy and sodden.

SHOEMAKERS' WAX.

The Surprising Properties of This Peculiar Substance.

One of the most apt illustrations ever made by Lord Kelvin was his likening the luminiferous ether to a mass of shoemakers' wax. What Lord Kelvin said of shoemakers' wax may be tested by any boy in a manner that will astonish his playmates. First let it be said that the ether penetrates all space. It is as rigid as steel and yet so flexible that it does not retard the passage of planets through space in the least. It is an invisible substance which travels in waves through all things. Now, to illustrate the nature of such a paradoxical material Lord Kelvin searched everywhere and at last concluded that shoemakers' wax represented it best. He made tests and this is what he found:

He melted some wax in a common glass tumbler. After it had hardened he tried to thrust a lead pencil through it. It would not go. Then he placed a coin on the surface of the wax and left it there for several days. When he again visited it the coin had sunk to the bottom of the glass. The wax had closed over it, and by lifting up the glass and looking through the bottom he could see the coin lying there. Had the wax been as deep as a well the coin would have gone on sinking until it reached the bottom. This proved that the wax would conform only to very slow movements. If he had tried to push it too fast it would have resisted him.

An idea struck the scientist. If the wax acted like this toward the coin how would it treat an object which floated? He accordingly placed a cork in a tumbler and poured hot shoemakers' wax upon it. The wax hardened with the cork at the bottom. Yet when Lord Kelvin looked at the bottom of the glass in a day or two he found the cork had disappeared. It was somewhere in the mass of wax and probably rising very slowly, but surely, toward the top. Sure enough, after a given period of time the cork popped above the surface of the hard wax, and finally it rose to a point where it remained half imbedded in the wax, just as it would have done in a glass of water. It rose no higher than this, however, and a corkscrew probably would not have pulled it from the wax. Yet its own buoyancy had raised it up from the bottom through what seemed an impenetrable mass of wax.

This, in fact, is the peculiarity of shoemakers' wax—that it resists all sudden or quick movements, but is highly susceptible to very slow and prolonged pressure. If you pressed a flatiron hard down on a lump of wax on a table it is probable you would make no impression on it, but if you left that iron resting on the wax for a day or two you would find the lump flattened out under the iron. So curious is this property of the wax that tuning forks have been cast from pieces of it. These forks were capable of vibration, giving a musical note and being set going by vibration from another tuning fork, yet when one of them was laid across the open mouth of a jar it slowly collapsed and fell into the jar in a shapeless, sticky mass.

How She Missed Him.

A poor woman who kept a small shop in a northern village and who was troubled with a husband who could scarcely be considered a credit to the family one day found herself a widow through the sudden demise of her spouse. A lady who frequently made small purchases at the shop called to see her and offer her sympathy, though well knowing that the man's death must in a certain sense come as a relief, as the wife had often suffered from his violence. She was not, however, quite prepared for the stoical way in which the wife took her bereavement.

Said the lady, "I am sure, Mrs. G., that you must miss your husband."

"Well, mum, it do seem queer to go into the shop and find something in the till."—London Express.

A Summer of Haze.

Europe and Asia were covered by fog during the summer of 1783. Says Gilbert White (letter 109): "The summer of the year 1783 was an amazing and a portentous one, * * * for, besides the alarming meteors and tremendous thunderstorms, * * * the peculiar haze, or smoky fog, that prevailed for many weeks in this island (England) and in every part of Europe and even beyond its limits was a most extraordinary appearance. The heat was intense. Calabria and part of the isle of Sicily were torn and convulsed with earthquakes." Cowper also refers to this phenomenon in speaking of "nature, with a dim and sickly eye."

MOB AFTER MOTORMAN.

Saved by Police After Running Over Girl.

New York, June 29.—A mob of four thousand Italians fought yesterday afternoon to take Fred Bartell, a motorman, of No. 68 West 126th street, away from the reserves of the Mulberry street station. The police had hidden him from the fury of the mob in Francelli's drug store, at Grand and Elizabeth street streets, wherein the victim of his car, Adelaide Meloa, of No. 220 Grand street, lay injured. She died two hours later in St. Vipent's Hospital.

The six-year-old child, attempting to cross the street in front of her home, ran in front of an eastbound Fourth avenue car, in charge of Bartell. She was knocked down and the front trucks went over both legs, amputating them cleanly. Bartell put on his brakes quickly, but too late to save the child from fatal injury.

Directly after the accient happened the motorman was surrounded by friends and neighbors of the girl's near by, attracted by the cries and crowd and their lamentations caus-shouting. Their presence in the ed the bystanders to lose all comparents, who came from their homes -he intermed into his car and took-od the door, while the conductor trol and rush for Bartell.

ran back to the long line of cars that had been stalled by the accident and summoned the crews to help their co-worker. For a time they held off the Italians with their controller bars, half a dozen railroad men against four thousand raving foreigners.

Road Contracts

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned will be received up to 12 o'clock noon on FRIDAY, JULY 2nd, 1909, for chopping, clearing, stumping, and grubbing a way on road from THE MONTREAL RIVER AT SMYTHE TO GOWGANDA, following the line blazed by Mr. C. H. Fullerton, C. E., for the purpose of marking on the ground the location of said road. The length of the road will be about 27 miles.

The work of chopping, clearing, stumping and grubbing to include the cutting of all timber, brush etc. on the roadway to a width of 50 feet and removing all stumps, brush, timber, etc., from the central 30 feet, cutting, trimming, and neatly piling all the logs, brush and stumps on the roadside, outside of the central 30 feet, and burning same.

The work to be commenced immediately after the awarding of the contract and to be continued to the satisfaction of the engineer in charge of the work and completed by the 1st. of October, 1909.

Tenders shall be submitted on the blank forms to be obtained from any of the undermentioned.

The tenders to be at a rate per linear mile of road. A guarantee company's bond approved by the Department will be required for the due fulfillment of the contract.

A marked cheque for five per cent. of the total amount of the contract must accompany each tender.

Plans and specifications of the work to be done may be seen at this Department, or at the office of Mr. C. H. H. Fullerton, C. E., New Liskeard, at the office of Alberta Hill, Mining Recorder at Smythe, or Harry Sheppard, Mining Recorder at Gowganda, or George T. Smith, Mining Recorder at Haileybury, or T. A. McArthur, Mining Recorder at Cobalt.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

Announcement!

The Times' $5,000 Great Prize Contest is being conducted by the Frank B. Adams Contest Co., of Atlanta, Ga., who have conducted prize contests all over the United States and Canada. The Frank B. Adams Company will have full charge and have sent Mr. Frank P. Bedlow here to measure the contest. The Times will have absolutely nothing to do with the contest. It is entirely in the contest company's hands. The Frank B. Adams Co., will guarantee each and every person entering the contest a fair and square deal.
The prizes will be awarded by a committee of merchants and bankers or any one named by the contestants.

put out in an entirely different way, and that they are absolutely misleading in the way they are given. The policy is talked, sold and accepted as an insurance of $10,000, and it is only natural for the policy-holder to assume that he will be entitled to surrender values on a $10,000 basis.

We hesitate to say it, but the facts do not seem to point to an unwillingness on the part of the Head Office of the Great-West to be a party to the deception which has almost invariably been attached to the sale of these and similar policies. It will be universally admitted that ordinary policies are more frequently sold than instalment policies, and also that in getting out a printed form it is usual to make the form applicable to the majority of cases and not to the exceptions. The Great-West has apparently gone at this matter in exactly the opposite way and got out a form to fit the exceptions, for otherwise it would have headed these columns as follows:—

"Tables of surrender values per $1,000 (Face Value)." If it desires to be perfectly fair to its policy-holders, it should place the values in an instalment policy to apply $1,000 of the nominal value, so that a policy-holder holding one of these special policies for $10,000 would obtain the values applicable to his policyby simply multiplying the values given by ten. This method would havethe advantages of being both perfectly clear and easily computed. Inthe Great-West form, the values are hard to compute and are absolutelymisleading.

NOT ALL TREATED ALIKE.

We have recently seen another policy issued for $50,000.00 in which some of the clauses that we have taken exception to have been modified very considerably by printed or typewritten slips pasted over the original printed conditions. It is evident that some applicants for this "Special" policy are wiser than others, and that their vigilance is by no means disadvantageous. We opine,however, that this reflection can hardly bring much comfort to the bulkof the people who have acquired this kind of policy without taking someadvice other than that afforded them by the Great-West Life agent.

We have purposely taken several policies to illustrate our various points. It would have been unwise to have selected one only for the reason last given—that there does not appear to be that uniformity which is customary in the issues oflife companies in general.

The hope may be expressed that the Great-West Life Assurance Company will see its way to withdraw from circulation a policy contract which can hardly fail to reflect adversely upon the Company in the future.

The statement that all policy-holders "are not treated alike" is absolutely false. We defy the writer of the article to show that any difference has ever been made by the Company between policy-holders of the same class.

The editor of the best Insurance Journal in North America has referred to the profit plan used in our policies as being "an embodiment of the true principles of life insurance," and we did not advertise with that journal either.

A MIGHTY FORTRESS.

The Famous Rock of Gibraltar and Its Armament.

A GUN IN EVERY CREVICE.

The Place Stored With Food and Munitions of War to Stand a Siege of Seven Years—An English View of the Cannon Studded Stronghold.

"An enemy's fleet could be sent to the bottom in ten minutes before getting within five miles of Gibraltar. Not even a torpedo boat could succeed in entering the bay unobserved on the blackest night." That sums up the opinions of the most eminent naval experts as to the impregnability of the world's greatest fortress.

But disappointment awaits the sight-seeing visitor. The rock, though barren, is covered with luxuriant vegetation—not a fort prominent, not a gun to be seen even with the most powerful glasses, no discernible ammunition magazines, no strongholds, only a peaceful, prosperous harbor and a sleepy, straggling town.

It is night, and the maneuvers are on. Swift playing searchlights transform the bay into a sheet of shimmering silver upon which are seen majestic British warships and elongated flying shadows, the torpedoes. Guns answer guns out of every conceivable crevice and corner, blending in one deafening uproar, while scores of shells plow the water for miles around.

Sentries are everywhere; infantry parties crouch in the shadows; hundreds of gunners stand ready behind hundreds of guns in these mysterious labyrinths hewn out of the solid rock—"the galleries." The vicious barking of Maxim guns gives contrast to the deep toned baying of these mammoth pieces of ordnance, the mere report of which cracks stone roofs and bursts doors and whole windows. Could any fleet live through the murderous hail of gigantic shells?

Gibraltar never sleeps. By day and night two perfectly equipped signal stations, proudly flaunting Britain's flag of ownership, unceasingly sweep the seas around to a distance of fifteen miles on a clear day, instantly reporting the coming and going of each vessel. Sentries guard all the prominent forts, magazines and gateways; gunners sleep beside their guns; engineers are ever ready beside the powerful searchlights.

Modern "needle" guns, the finest in Europe, are installed on all the most prominent points. They are unreachable from the sea, even as they are undiscernible, owing to the skill with which they are painted and draped to match the surrounding vegetation, while huge screens drop automatically before them as each shell is fired. They have a range of fifteen miles and could drop shells in Ceuta, in Africa, opposite, quite comfortably. One gun weighs 110 tons and is capable of throwing a shell weighing three-quarters of a ton. In that marvel of engineering under great difficulties, the galleries, are concealed guns for every day in the year.

These galleries are divided into three sections, entry to which is guarded, while one is closed even to high officers, containing preserved stores, munitions of war, rainwater (for Gibraltar has no springs) and a complete condensing plant—all calculated to outlast a siege of seven years.

The firing is the most mathematically perfect imaginable. The surrounding waters are mapped out into squares, upon which certain guns are kept ready trained, so that it is almost impossible to miss. During practice targets are towed across the bay, the object being to hit the water a few yards in advance of them.

Although the sentries have now been reduced, a few years ago 158 were needed daily, the most important point being the north front, where English sentries face Spanish sentries. But the mere pressure of an electric button by the officer of the guard would cause a miniature earthquake on the neutral ground.—Cassell's Saturday Journal.

Haggis as the Scotch Make It.

To make haggis take the heart, tongue and small liver of the sheep, one pound of bacon, four ounces of crumbs of bread, the rind of one lemon, two eggs, two anchovies (sardines may be used), a quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper and two teaspoonfuls of salt. Chop the heart, tongue, liver and bacon, mix thoroughly, add the breadcrumbs, the anchovies, chopped fine; the lemon rind, grated; then the pepper and salt. Beat the eggs and pour them over. Pack this into a kettle or mold, cover and boil or steam continuously for two hours. Turn it on a dish and serve very hot.

A Clever Cook.

Mrs. Nufich was in the jewelry store.

"Here are some new souvenir spoons we have just got in," said the clerk, placing a tray for her inspection.

"Oh, ain't those lovely!" she exclaimed. "I must have some of those! Our cook makes such lovely souvenirs!"—Argonaut.

Well Posted.

"What was that musty old explorer talking about?" inquired the languid lady.

"Progressive Patagonia."

"And how do you play it?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

It is not the quantity of the meat, but the cheerfulness of the guests, that makes the feast.—Clarendon.

The Codmoppe.

Herrings are still eaten as much as in the days when Yarmouth had to send a hundred yearly to the king, baked in four and twenty pasties. But where is the codmoppe gone, and what was it like when kings dined off it in Lent? "Codmoppe sauce Hollandaise" would sound most intriguing on a Savoy menu. More original still would be the "rostid perpes" of a Henry V. banquet, which was the "sea swine" of the unrefined Saxon, the "porco marino" of the mediæval ecclesiast. A maister Cole gives an early receipt for "paddyng of purpasse," another teaches how to "seith porpeyse and seele," another how to "undertraunche that purpos." From which it may be seen that enterprise extended also to the spelling of the porpoise.—London Chronicle.

Candymakers' Tricks.

An Atchison man went into a candy factory. He was surprised to see one of the candymakers reach with his bare hand into a pot of boiling candy. He brought out a handful of the boiling fluid. He was testing its consistency. He first put his hand in a pail of water. After he had jerked out his hand he put it back in the water. The Atchison man tried the same thing and did it without getting burned.

Another Boring Question.

"I say, pa, is a man from Poland called a 'Pole?'"

"Yes, my son."

"Then, pa, why isn't a man from Holland called a Hole?"—Comic Cuts.

Peurflushers.

"Him a musician!" sneered Tete de Veau. "Why, he doesn't know the difference between a fugue and a symphony."

"Really!" cried L'Oignon, lifting his brows in shocked amaze.

An hour later they caught each other in the club library looking the difference up.

The Cheerful Errand Runners.

"It is really a pleasure, ma'am, to observe how readily your little boy runs your errands!"

"Oh, he's the boy that lives next door. I get him to do my errands because my own boy won't!"

"Ah! What is your boy doing now?"

"There he is, rushing on an errand for the lady next door!"

The King's Lunch.

King Victor of Italy is very fond of going out chamois hunting quite unattended, and one day he met with an amusing experience. He had shot a chamois, and a peasant boy, who had seen the animal fall, offered to go and fetch it. The King thanked him, but the lad inquired what was to be his reward. "Well, what do you want?" asked King Victor. "A franc and half your lunch," was the reply. The bargain was struck, and the peasant went off and fetched the dead chamois. The King handed him a franc, and proceeded to divide his luncheon into two equal portions. But the peasant turned away in contempt, for it consisted only of black bread and a large raw onion. "Bah!" exclaimed the boy, disdainfully, "I thought you were a real gentleman, signor, but I see you are only a poor beggar like myself after all."

Only Partially Successful.

Butcher—Well, sir, did that piece o' beef do for all your family?

Customer—Very nearly, but the doctor has hopes for three of them.

EGG POISONING.

Some Persons Always Affected—Others Only Occasionally.

Instances of egg poisoning appear from time to time in periodical literature, and the subject is referred to in some but by no means all works on dietetics.

While cases of acute poisoning are rare, writes a physician in The Medical Record, some susceptibility as regards eggs is not so very uncommon. People constantly assert that eggs make them bilious, and, while in some this is often imaginary, in others the condition actually exists.

This is notably true of infants and young children. Not only do many infants and young children digest eggs with difficulty, especially when first eaten, but many more are made ill if this particular food is partaken of too freely or, in the case of older children, if the egg diet is kept up too continuously.

This inability of young children to digest eggs is probably in line with the well recognized fact that the infant's stomach, or digestive juices, must be taught to digest most dietary articles other than the maternal milk. Cows' milk, for instance, is a veritable poison to some infants, while many a newly-born requires some practice and education before it can thoroughly digest even mother's milk.

Individual susceptibility as regards eggs is extremely variable. In some persons eggs always act as poisons, while in others the toxic influence may be marked at one time and at another much diminished or entirely wanting, especially when the subject is in sound condition.

The susceptibility may be observed in eggs of every degree of freshness and in some cases only with eggs of certain birds. Changes in eggs may be brought about by methods of cooking, for, while some persons manifest their susceptibility only when the egg is raw, others are poisoned when it is cooked or prepared in some unusual and unaccustomed manner.

In most of the reported cases the white of the egg appears to have been the offending element. The symptoms of egg poisoning differ greatly in degree. In some cases only nausea and headache occur. In others the most violent symptoms, suggestive of irritant poisoning, are observed.

Sometimes when the use of eggs is long continued they give rise to the symptom group which we call biliousness, which, after all, is but a form of auto-intoxication, due possibly to the presence of some alkaloid in the blood. The symptoms of egg poisoning are essentially those of so-called ptomaine poisoning.

It is true that the eggs giving rise to toxic phenomena are in most instances apparently fresh when eaten, but when we recall that the porous shell of the egg will admit the micro organisms that cause the egg to rot, as well as various strong odor, it is easy to comprehend that an egg may appear fresh and yet contain bacteria that in susceptible persons and in certain conditions of digestion may produce changes which may cause toxic symptoms.

A Debtor's Woes.

"The worst thing about owing people," sighed the woman, "is that it seems to give them the right to ask us such personal and impertinent questions about things that really should be none of their business. I never stave off my piano man, for example, that he doesn't ask how it is that I can afford to pay so much rent for my flat."

Disliked the Other Kind.

Philanthropic Caller (with subscription paper)—I shall ask your attention only a moment, sir. Are you a friend of the dumb brutes? Shorty McGinnis—You bet I am! That's why I hate cats, parrots and donkeys.—Chicago Tribune.

The Financial Menagerie.

"Were you a bull or a bear in Wall street?"

"Neither," answered the cautious man. "Not having funds to invest, I was a giraffe. I just rubbernecked."—Washington Star.

Speaking Trumpets.

Alexander the Great is said to have used a speaking trumpet.

Most Deadly of African Fevers.

We often hear of the African fever, or jungle fever. But speak of the fever to the man who has been where it prevails and he will tell you that it is more feared by the explorer than the most dangerous animal. There is a malarial fever that the African mosquito will put into you with its bite. It may stay in you six of seven years, but you can finally get rid of it by proper treatment. But the black water fever of German East Africa comes on you and catches you when you may think the trouble is only a little malaria. Unless there is a physician in the party who knows its signs the man who is stricken with it seldom comes back to the civilised world alive.

The Slavs.

The people known as the Slavs appear in history north of the Black Sea about the time of the Emperor Trajan, A.D. 110, and begin to be mentioned with some frequency during the sixth century. Since then they have pushed westward into the Teutonic domain, but have nowhere, save in Russia, retained political independence. Of the fifteen or more Slavonic languages the old Bulgarian and the modern Russian, Polish, Bohemian, Croatian and Serbian are of the most importance.

Court of Revision

Notice is hereby given that a sitting of the Court of Revision of the City of Peterborough, will be held in the City Clerk's office in the said city on Thursday the 15th day of July, 1909, at the hour of 7.30 o'clock in the evening, for the confirmation of the special assessments upon the property fronting or abutting on the following streets or parts of streets for the construction of sewers thereon, and the total amount to be assessed upon the said property fronting or abutting upon the said streets or parts of streets, is as follows:

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Otonabee's Trip.

The steamer Otonabee will leave Wolfe street wharf at 10 a.m. Friday next, with freight for all points on Stony Lake, returning will arrive in Peterborough at 12 a.m. Saturday.

Engine Practice.

The chief of the fire brigade will take the engine out for practice this morning or tomorrow morning at 4 o'clock, and test some of the four-way hydrants on George street.

Road Work.

The Board of Works department is this year getting in some good work with the road roller, and many streets which were badly in need of repairs are now being fixed up.

Body Found.

The body of Herman Sager, the eldest son of Mr. Sid Sager of Buffalo, N.Y., and formerly of Peterborough, who was drowned in the Montreal river about a month ago, was recovered on Friday last. The funeral took place in Buffalo on Sunday afternoon.

Guild Picnic.

All Saints' Guild held a most enjoyable little picnic to Jackson Park yesterday afternoon. The picnickers arrived there shortly after four o'clock, and spent a couple of pleasant hours before supper time. A small party of gypsies were there and made things interesting for a while, but they did not cause any serious inconvenience.

The Corner Stone.

The laying of the corner stone of the new All Sainte' church is likely to take place on Friday evening, the 9th of July. This date has not been definitely fixed as the one for this occasion. The ceremony in connection with the laying of the stone will be in charge of the Masonic Order.

George Street S.S.

The annual excursion of the George street Methodist Sunday school will be held tomorrow per steamer Otonabee to Jubilee Point, Rice Lake. There is no doubt but that a big crowd will go down and enjoy the day as this is one of the season's big outings.

Lawn Social.

A very successful lawn social was held on the George street Methodist church grounds last night. A large crowd attended and the several refreshment stands or booths were well lighted and a splendid program of music was rendered.

Chemong Bus.

The Gibbs bus which runs between Peterborough and Bridgenorth twice every day (Sunday excepted) makes the run in good time to connect with the steamer "Chemong." The accommodation is praised by passengers. Lawrence, the driver, being a careful and expert hackman with long experience. The route is the best for a fresh air outing. The view all the way is among growing fields and rural beauty. Visitors to Chemong Park as well as passengers for the steamer, are delighted with the drive, and with the standard time made during the trip.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

PERSONAL

Mr. Bert Heard, who has been visiting with friends at Havelock, has returned to Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant, Gilmour St., left yesterday on a trip 400 miles below Quebec. They will be away all summer.

Mr. R. Taylor, the popular representative of the Canada Metal Company, is in town on business, and gave The Times a business call.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Butler, of Souris, Man., who are on an extended visit to Nova Scotia and other eastern points, spent a few days in Peterborough, the guests of Mr and Mrs. Wm. Pilling Bolivar St.

Mrs. W. B. Kelly and Miss Beatrice Kelly of Bridgenorth, and Mrs. T. T. Milburn of Smith, left yesterday for Toronto, and today they will start on a two months' trip to Portland, Oregon, Seattle, Vancouver, Winnipeg and Brandon.

Mr Henry Henderson, of Norwich, father of Mrs. A. W. Crossman, is a guest here for a few days before he starts on a visit to his sister in Maine. When he returns he and Mrs. Henderson will make an extended visit to Calgary and Vancouver.

Load of Wood.

The steamer Beaver arrived in port last night with a scow load of cord wood for the Peterborough cord wood for the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company.

Old Brigade Trip.

The Old Fire Brigade intend to run their annual excursion on Civic Holiday, August 12th, to Burleigh and Buckhorn, special train leaving Peterborough at 7.30 a.m.

Excursion Booked.

Lindsay Post :—Alderman R. Hicks, of Peterboro, general manager of the Otonabee Navigation Company, has booked a number of excursions covering an entire week from Lindsay and intervening points. This includes two moonlights as well as an excursion from Lindsay to Peterboro by water, and returning by train.

Fell Off Bridge.

Mr. Wm. Hamilton of Ashburnham, met with a nasty accident on Monday. While crossing the C.P.R. bridge, he fell off and struck the stones some 15 feet below. He is now at St. Joseph's hospital with a fractured skull, being taken there in the Dan Spence ambulance.

Big Fish.

Mr. C. Frost of the Baker Lumber Company, claims the honor of catching the largest fish that has been caught in the Kawartha waters this season. It was a dandy and weighs 25 lbs.

Haying Season.

The haying season has just begun and Mr. Geo. Hatton is among the first to garner in a crop. His field just on the boundary line produced a big bunch of hay this year, and it is of good quality. If a few showers of rain came along at intervals Mr Hatton expects to get a second big crop.

Going Away.

Everyone is going away for the holiday tomorrow. There are no attractions in the city while there are many out of it. The George street picnic to Jubilee Point, T.A.S. picnic to their own park, special trips up to Stony Lake, the summer resorts and the cheap fares on all railways. The probability is that half the city's population will be away for a day's rest from their regular occupation. If the day is fine all the transportation companies will have a big day.

ST. JAMES' PICNIC.

Sunday School Had a Good Time at Jackson Park.

St. James' Sunday school had its annual picnic and outing at Jackson Park yesterday afternoon. A big crowd took the cars out to that pretty spot where nature has not yet been marred by the hand of man During the afternoon a good program of races and sports were run off, and were greatly enjoyed both by the children and the parents. Towards evening supper was served on the grass, and a thoroughly pleasant day was brought to a close early in the evening.

DOCTORS AND LAWYERS

Enjoyed Annual Outing to Rice Lake Yesterday.

The doctors and lawyers' excursion, left the city yesterday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock for Rice Lake pointe. The steamer Water Lily was engaged and some 150 passengers were on board. It was a jolly party and all were genial good fellows who were old friends and who knew how to enjoy the outing. The weather was perfect and this alone added much to the pleasure. Besides the usual forms of entertainments a detatchement of the 57th Regiment band was on board, and furnished music both coming and going. After supper the homeward trip was started, and the Water Lily made good time coming up the river.

This outing was an annual affair, but it was dropped last year and it was a disappointment to many. That it has been revived again is a good thing.

BUSINESS NEGLECTED.

Aldermen Do Not Pay Attention to City's Business as they Should.

There is great dissatisfaction among the chairmen of the various committees of the City Council because the aldermen are not attending to their business this year, for the want of a quorum. Very few meetings are able to start on time because the aldermen are from 15 minutes to one hour late. It is a common pratice for the city clerk to go to the telephone and call up and beg them to come to the meeting. Some of the aldermen attend as few meetings as possible, and stay away every time they get a chance. As a result the city's business is away behind in some of the departments.

Last night the Fire, Water and Light Committee were to have had a meeting, but it was over an hour late in getting started, and then only a bare quorum was present including the mayor. It was impossible to do any business that was of importance, and there are several important matters on the fyle.

This is a sad state of affairs, and the aldermen should pay more attention to council business. They asked the people to elect them to do this business, and there should be no excuse for neglecting this duty.

TOP OF FINGERS

Were Cut Off—James Donslow Met With Nasty Accident.

Mr. James Donslow, an employe of the C.G.E., had the top of two of his fingers taken off yesterday afternoon while at work. The Dan Spence ambulance was called, and soon had the injured man conved to Nicholls Hospital, where he was taken care of. Dunslow boards at the City Hotel, and his many friends will regret to hear of his accident.

DOLLAR MONTH FOR FOOD.

Gluten Club of Amherst College, Proves Living is Cheap.

Boston, June 29.—One dollar a month is all that is necessary for food, according to experiments conducted by the Gluten Club of Amherst College students which have just been completed. Even Dr. Horace Fletcher could not reduce the cost of living below 30 cents a day. Lawrence Roberts, of Utica, N. Y., is responsible for the experiments, which have been conducted by twelve students. The diet consisted of gluten, mixed with water and cooked in many different styles. Sometimes they enriched the gluten preparations with milk.

There were gluten cakes, soup of gluten, water, onions and beef bone marrow, gluten potato mash and sweet gluten cakes, scrambled eggs, coffee, ice cream, gluten bread, gluten bread, gluten tortoni and steak cooked in gluten crumbs, with many other fancy dishes added, the expenses averaging about 4½ cents a day a man.

57th OFFICERS.

Were Entertained by Prince of Wales Dragoons in Camp.

A second jolly function was held last night when the officers of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons entertained the officers of the 57th Regiment at their camp at Nassau. Along with the officers were a few friends. An informal supper was served, and afterwards several very pleasant hours were spent. The camp at Nassau is an ideal banqueting grounds, and the journey home was appreciated as much as anything. The night was all that could be desired and the entertainment was to the satisfaction of all. The officers of the 3rd Dragoons are a lot of good fellows, and they certainly know how to give their guests a good time. These informal entertainments are a great success, and add much to the pleasures of business neglected

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. XXXII NO. 153 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, THURSDAY JULY 1. 1909 PRICE TWO CENTS

Candidates Should be Busy

Do Your Utmost This Week to Secure Subscriptions—They will Count for Much —Help a Candidate Along

The utmost diligence should be used by every candidate to get all the subscriptions possible within this week. These are your harvest days and you should lay up a fine reserve of votes to be used in the end.

It is not a good plan to hold back all you have. Make a good showing on the list before you begin to lay aside your votes. The best rule in a contest is pretty much the same as in dressing, which of course every young lady understands. While it is advisable to make always an attractive appearance, it is bad taste to be so noticeable that every one says, "Just look! I bet she puts every cent on her back. In the same way you want to appear well among the canbidates so that your friends may see that you are working, and not likely to fall behind in the race, but there is no manner of use in putting everything you have to the fore just to create a sensation, and have nothing to fall back upon when you may need it badly.

CASH PROMISES NOW.

No doubt every promise made you by friends earlier in the contest will be fulfilled now, as you can explain, that at no time during the contest will you derive so much benefit from what your friends can do for you. Show them how much they can help you right now and they will try their best to give you subscription during this week.

NEW CADIDATES.

New candidates can enter the contest now—today and with a few hours work secure enough votes to place their names among the leaders. You stand an excellent chance of winning a prize if you enter now, as there is plenty of room, and subscriptions will come easy during the "bargain days."

BELIEVE IN YOURSELF.

A great thing for candidates to cultivate is self-confidence. There is no reason for you to be afraid of any one. Remember that in this contest no one has any way of telling what another reserve force may be, and the very person whom you dread is probably just as much scared as you are, for fear that you may have such a pile of votes back of you that you will take the lead any time you get ready to do so.

LIST WILL CHANGE.

In all contests there are changes from time to time in the names of those who are striving for the prizes. Some faint-hearted ones who have not the courage to hold out to the end drop away.

Others, who hesitate for some time, and weigh all the points for and against, become fully persuaded that the opportunity is too good to lose and that they will not be leftout.

These late entries, having been well-considered, are apt to make an excellent showing. Any bright candidate could make up during this week for all the time that has already passed.

SUBSCRIBERS SHOULD VOTE.

Every subscriber to The Morning Times should renew their subscription to the paper in favor of some candidate and give them the benefit of the votes. The race may be very close at the end, and your subscription may be the means of bringing your favorite out in the right place.

If you wish to help, now is your best time while the votes comes so high. Next week there will not beso many votes given on subscriptions as this week.

It will cost you nothing to renew at this time and will certainly be appreciated by the contestant to whom you give the votes.

NO LIMIT TO THE FIELD.

In thinking over those to whom you may apply for votes and subscriptions do not limit yourself exclusively to Peterboro and vicinity. Doubtless most of the candidates know people who have moved away from the city, and who naturally continue to take a keen interest in all its happenings. The best way for them to keep in touch with their old friends is for them to subscribe for the Morning Times. Tell them so and ask them to take out a sub-scription in your favor.

Corner Bandit in a British Columbia Mine

The Desperado Who Murdered Wounded Constable is Surrounded in Mountains—Comrades can't Escape

Kamloops, B. C., June 30.—The bandit who was killed by Special Constable Decker at Ashcroft has been identified as the robber who ordered the C.P.R. engineer at Ducks to stop his train. His comrades, who ended the life of the already wounded constable, is being hunted down by bloodhounds. One report says that he has already been located at Red Gulch, six miles east of Ashcroft, where he is hiding in a mining tunnel.

The noise of the firing on Monday night was heard in the town, and many of the citizens came running to the scene of the tragedy. As they surrounded the spot two suspicious characters came across the bridge from the north side of the river. They carried packs on their shoulders. Approaching the spot where the dead constable and robber lay, one of the strangers made the assertion that he knew the dead robber, and that he worked with him at Pennys. The police confronted them, and after a little cross-examination the story of the strangers was so utterly absurd that they were placed in custody and looked up in jail. They gave the names of McCleary and Blouse, and are French-Canadian in nationality. One of them is a machinist by trade, and the other an ordinary laborer. They will be detained as material witnesses, for they must have witnessed the shooting.

Word was hastily despatched to police headquarters at Kamloops, and two armed posses went down on No. 97, accompanied by Inspector McMullen and Sergeant Murray, of the Provincial Police, and the Chief Constable of Fernie. The party numbered many Indians a detachment of the North-West Mounted Police, and other constables, several of the Thiel detectives, and Draper and his two bloodhounds. Later, a special train conveyed other officers and detectives to the scene. At Saponas, Chief Fernie, with a smaller detachment, left the train and started to work west. There were only three avenues of escape for the robbers. One was west along the railway track, and the third was over the hills toward Nicola. All of these avenues were closely patrolled very quickly, and an armed guard was placed at the bridge to prevent the robbers escaping over to the north side of the river.

At Asheroft every point was guarded carefully so as to prevent escape. An armed posse was organized, and at daybreak they set off over the hills to overtake the fleeing bandits. The bloodhounds were taken to the scene of the tragedy, and immediately they struck out over the hills, closely followed by the officers on horseback, among whom were some of the North-West Mounted Police.

It is believed that it will be possible to starve the bandits out. All three men are armed to the teeth.

There was a Hot Time in Town Last Night--- The Gypsy Wedding

Not caring for the blazing hot sun the gypsy men and women were out in the open all afternoon and danced and sang to their hearts' content while a big crowd of men, women and children from the city looked on and studied the fantastic steps and the gaudy attire of the performers. It was the celebration of the marriage of their queen to the chief of the other band which was camped near the end of George street.

When the wedding will or did take place has not yet been made public. It was certainly not yesterday afternoon unless it was done in secret. The music for the dancing was furnished by a detachment of the 57th Band, and the boys had to blow as they never blowed before. One of the best features of this nameless performance was to see the perspiration rolling off the faces of the dignified musicians as they blew their horns while the chief with a big club waving over them kept time.

The early part of the afternoon was spent on the west side of George street, but about four o'clock they moved over to the east side and serenaded the young couple in their tents. The whole program consisted of bknd music, dancing and singing and to the people of this city all three were of the same poor order.

Under a big elm tree at the roadside was the canteen where refreshments were on tap at all times and there was no ice around either. All drank out of the same dipper except those who used a tea kettle. Alongside theliquids were the gypsy camp fires with pots of something which they ate as food and for which even the babies cried, and there are a lot of babies of all sizes and ages and they can cry and make as big a noise as any other baby.

It is a time for great rejoicing to these Mexican Gypsies and judging from the preparations that have been made they are leaving nothing undone to afford every member a good time in a true Gypsey sense.

The gypsies are a very superstitious lot, especially as regards the white people. They do not court the girls they are going to marry as as most people do, but the match is made by the Queen and her ruling on the subject of matrimony has to be taken as final. At certain times the tribe or tribes meet to hold a council and at such gatherings the gypsies are very religious. One would not think if he met them at such periods that they were the same roaming and seedy individuals who are causing such a sensation in Peterborough just now. They keep up a regular correspondence with all their relatives and friends and do not hesitate at all in using telephone and telegraph service to learn how all are even at great distances.

BANQUET TONIGHT.

To Officers of the Dragoons and the 57th Regiment.

Tonight Mr. R. J. Stratton M.P. will tender a banquet to the officers of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons at their camp at Nassau. The officers of the 57th Regiment and a few prominent citizens will be guests This promises to be a most enjoyable affair, and is looked forward to by those who will participate in it.

ACTION AGAINST THE C.A.A.U.

Writ Issued on Behalf of the Aurora Lacrosse Club.

Acting for the Aurora Lacrosse Club T. Herbert Lennox, M.P.P., has issued a writ against the C.A.A.U. management, claiming $500 damages for the cancellation of the sanction for the club's July 1st games.

The club had trouble in thei first place in getting C.A.A.U. sanction for their demonstration, but finally succeeded and the union accepted their fee. To-day the sanction was withdrawn on the ground that Bradford had secured an earlier sanction for its games, and that the places are too near together to hold meets on the same day.

The Aurora club had gone to the expense of issuing bills and had incurred other expenses.

Fat Man was Punched, Annoyed the Gypsies

Mr. Fresh Alex got what was coming to him at the Gypsey celebration yesterday afternoon and he had not a word to say either, but took it like a well thrashed school boy. A great big fat man about 50 years of age went to the wedding early in the afternoon. Upon his arrival he began butting in. First the wagons were inspected, then the tents were looked over and in many ways he made himself obnoxious. He was warned away by the gipsies but he took no head and been helped himself to the beer the tribe had on the grounds for their celebration. That was not enough but when the band went over to play in front of the Queen's tent and while the dance was in progress Mr. Freshie picked up a feather mattress and threw it in upon them,—a most disgraceful act. Like a flash one of the men broke through the crowd and landed a beautiful blow on the fat man's nose. Then another ran out and handed a second on Freshies face. At this point the other gypsies came out and took their men away while the big fat man, with his tale down sneaked off down town fully convinced that he was not as funny as he used to be.

PRINTERS' PICNIC.

Will Be Run to Idyl Wyld on Civic Holiday.

The Printers' Picnic will be run to Idyl Wyld as per usual on Civic holiday. For many years the Peter held Civic holiday sacred. It is the one day of the year that they take their wives and families, sweethearts and friends and all who sympathise with them in their strenuous efforts to live and be decent citizens, and to bring up their family in the way they should go. It is the one day of the year when they all have a good time and help to give others a good time.

The picnics in the past have been the big picnic of the year. Everyone comes back feeling that it was well to be there. This year the excursion will be run again and the steamer Otonabee will carry the crowd down the river. The program this time will be even better than other years, so keep the date open.

THE BLYTHE CASE

JUDGE REPEATS VIEWS IN THE BLYTHE CASE.

Mr. Justice Riddell States His Opinion Regarding the Reading of the Code on Homicide.

Toronto, June 30.—When Walter Blythe, who has been respited by Mr. Justice Teetzel, applied to Mr. Justice Riddell for a stated case, he refused it.

"In my humble view in the administration of justice by the courts, there is no room for weak sentimentality, or even sympathy.

"It is of no small importance that law should be administered promptly. No doubt all reasonable time should be given to the prisoner to prepare for his defence, but, subject to this, I am of opinion that the sooner an alleged criminal receives his trial in open court, the better. Much of the lawless that prevails in some jurisdictions is undoubtedly due to the law's delays.

112 Suffragettes Before the London Court Yesterday

London, June 30.—The 112 women arrested last night in connection with the thirteenth attempt of the Suffragettes to obtain access to Premier Asquith by deputation, were brought up in the Bow Street Police Court this morning.

Superintendent Well and Inspector Jarvis, the chief officers of the defensive forces last night, were in court with a large number of police witnesses.

Sir Albert De Rutzen, Chief Magistrate of the Metropolitan Police Court, heard the charges, which were of a three fold nature, namely, obstructing the police, assaulting the police, and wilful damage.

A majority of the prisoners who have been bailed out arrived at court armed with valises of all kinds in preparation for their expected incarceration in Holloway jail. The waiting room adjoining the court was crowded with women friends of the prisoners who, when tired of standing, sat down unceremoniously on the floor at the expense of their silk and satin skirts. Many of these women had brought with them bottles of tea and packages of sandwiches and the wailing-room looked like a picnic.

After lengthy arguments for and against the question of their right to present a petition to the Premier, which was raised by Mrs. Pankhurst, the magistrate adjourned all the cases, 116 in all, until July 9, and the women were released on their own recognizances.

Many Women in Chinese Dens--- Remarkable Sights in Hidden Places

Toronto, June 30.—In the arrest of two white girls on a charge of vagrancy by Detectives Armstrong and Kennedy, the police of this city have made a move in the direction of stopping the intermingling of white women with the Chinese.

These two women were found in a down-town Chinese restaurant, and are but two of a large number who persistently frequent such resorts.

A recent investigation made by the detectives showed an alarming state of affairs in this regard. It was found that almost every Chinese restaurant was but a rendezvous for Chinamen and white women. These restaurants with their innocent looking store fronts where much that would surprise a number of the citizens of Toronto, were they to wander through. However, unless in charge of a guide, this would be impossible, as strangers are admitted only to the outer court, so to speak, of these places.

THE INNER CIRCLE.

A reporter of the News recently aurants, in company with one who, judging by the familiar way in which he was addressed by the Chinese, and by the ease with which he found his way about the mysterious places, was a privileged visitor. Entering the front door, he passed through a dirty-looking dining room where a few young men were probing the mysteries of chop suey and other Celestial delicacies, he followed his guide upstairs to a more private room. This was kept much cleaner than the rooms down stairs, the table linen and china being of a much better quality. In fact a notable feature of the trip was that the further into the place he went and the farther away from the public end of the business, the cleaner everything became, until when the sanctum sanctorum was reached the rooms were remarkably spotless.

In the upper dining room the scene was one that would make some people stare. Seated at tables, eating and drinking, Chinese and white women mixed together freely, some of them plainly being on very intimate terms. A Chinaman at the front door, walked up and down, keeping his weather eye opened.

DOWN TO BASEMENT.

When the reporter and his friend went through the kitchen and on into a dark passage, a sleepy-looking cook's assistant arose and followed. In the darkness the patter, patter of his sandals could be heard along the passage, although he could not be seen. The course continued along down a flight or two of stairs, into a basement piled high with packing cases and queer-looking bales. By the aid of a lighted match a sliding-door was located behind some of the boxes, and then after this a few yards more of dark passages and peculiar smells, and the reporter was let in on a scene which was hardly in keeping with a down-town corner of Toronto.

A large square room, lighted by electric lights, shaded by Chinese silks blazed out after the darkness, and it was as if one had gone to sleep and wakened in another country. The two ends of the large room were honey-combed with banks built to hold two persons. Some were comp-

THE MOON'S PECULIARITIES.

Interesting Conditions a Visitor From the Earth Would Find.

There are many interesting things about the moon that would appear very peculiar to a visitor from the earth, says Lawrence Hodges. To begin with, the day and night together are a month long, each being about two weeks. As the moon has no atmosphere, its heat is radiated into the sun. Therefore, it is the coldest of planets, the temperature never going above zero, and at night being over 200 below. There being no diffused light on account of no atmosphere, when one stepped into the shadow of a rock he would immediately become invisible. No sound could possibly be heard on the moon, because of no medium to carry it.

The mass of the moon being so small, the force of gravity is small, and one's ordinary step would be over 16 feet. A good baseball player could bat a ball over half a mile with ease. A hundred and fifty-pound man would weigh only 25 pounds on the moon. Only one side of the moon has ever been seen by people on the earth, as it revolves exactly once when it goes round the earth. Many speculations exist as to the appearance of the other side; but there is no way of obtaining any positive information. On account of what is known as "libration," though, we glimpse four-sevenths of its surface.

The mountains on the moon are found to be much taller than our mountains, many of them reaching seven miles and over. As the moon is so close to us—about 240,000 miles—comparatively small objects can be seen through the telescope and studied with great accuracy. As is well known, the surface is packed with hundreds of dead volcano craters. Nothing moving is ever seen, and the moon is in every sense a dead planet. It at one time had an atmosphere, but lost it all on account of its insufficient attraction of gravity to hold it, combined with the property of the molecules of gases to jump around in rapid vibration.

The necessary velocity for a body on the moon to have in order to jump off and never return is 7,000 feet a second. Molecules in gases according to the latest developments have a great deal higher velocity even than that, so this explains the moon's loss.

Our own earth is losing some of its atmosphere in the same manner, and that is one theory of the earth's finish—a loss of all its atmosphere and consequent destruction of animal and vegetable life. One proof of this is the absence of hydrogen in the atmosphere. It is the lightest of gases and the most active, and yet, out of all hydrogen set free every day, none is found in the air. It supposedly rises on account of its lightness, and when it reaches the outside of the air is lost.

The speed necessary for a body on the earth to attain in order to get away from us is about seven miles a second. In scientific books it is called the "Speed of No Return."

His Unlucky Day.

"I'll tell you what it is," said an old cynic. "I am firmly convinced that every man has his particular days for good and bad luck. Monday is my unlucky day. I have been watching it for twenty years, and nothing can shake me in this belief. I never begin any enterprise, no matter how trivial, or start on any journey on that day. Therefore I make Monday an off-day, and do nothing but potter round the house. Even in these little affairs everything goes wrong.

"Take the record of last Monday, a fair average, and be convinced: Smashed finger while nailing board on fence. Fell down cellar-stairs with coal-scuttle. Fell over wheelbarrow while carrying step-ladder. Sat down on chair where children had been making toffee. Got swindled by pedlar. Got thumb pinched in gate. Dropped smoothing-iron on foot. Baby got out in yard and was butted by strange goat. Tax man called. While eating supper, square yard of ceiling fell on dining-table. Went to bed to escape further disaster. Had nightmare. Thought I was falling from top of Eiffel Tower. Fell out of bed and broke arm. Looked at clock and saw it lacked fifteen minutes of midnight. Lay still till clock struck 12. Was afraid if I moved before Tuesday was ushered in would have broken neck. Yes, indeed," concluded the man, "Monday is my unlucky day, and I approach it with feelings akin to terror."

Passing of the Drum.

Emperor Nicholas has signed an order abolishing the use of drums in the army in time of war which calls attention to the fact that the drum has been rapidly passing out of use in the armies of the world, says an English commentator. It was long a picturesque feature of all military movements, and had its recognized place not only in parade and on marches, but on the battlefield itself. It is still little more than half a century since Daniel Webster, describing English greatness, declared that her drumbeats never ceased. It was at that time almost, if not literally true. But England's drum-beats are ceasing, and have, indeed, almost wholly ceased. There is no use for a drum on a firing line of modern warfare.

Notoriety.

"What's the purpose of that freak bill you've introduced?"

"Nothing simpler," replied the legislator. "You read about the bill in the papers, didn't you?"

"Yes."

"And heard many people discussing it?"

"I did."

"Well, that's the answer."

Insult to Injury.

Cholly—I was walking down the avenue, deah boy, when a common woman allowed her beastly flower pot to fall on me head. Reggy—How pwovokin'! Cholly—It wasn't the pain, deah boy. It wuth what the dwedful woman said. Reggy—What did she say? Cholly—Said she wuth glad her flower pot landed on a soft place and didn't break.

In sickness if a certain nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes direct to those failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days' test will satisfy all. Try it at once and see. Sold by all dealers.

BOUND TO KEEP YOUTHFUL.

The Divine Sarah Now Treads With the Step of a Girl.

Sarah Bernhardt—the divine Sarah—is said to be responsible for the introduction into Paris of the new "heel of youth," which has had a remarkable effect upon the gait of almost every old habitue of the grand boulevards. Indeed, the new invention has had much the same effect claimed for the far-famed, but elusive "fountain of eternal youth," and the fortunate wearers, despite their advanced years, appear in all the vigor, apparently, of youth.

Sarah Bernhardt, by her art, has conquered nearly all the defects that mortal flesh is heir to. As every one knows, Bernhardt, the marvel of the stage, is well advanced in years. Flesh has accumulated to a dangerous point for boyish impersonation, but by an intelligent make-up and by the cunning skill of the costumer, the public is deceived. The heavy lines of fat are concealed, but the sluggishness of step, the halting gait of age—ah! there was the rub. The resourceful Sarah, with the aid of her bootmaker, by their united thought and effort, produced this heel of youth, the heel with a spring. Just as the famous actress brought into existence the long, loose mousquetaire glove to conceal the thinness of her arm in the days when her form was decidedly attenuated, so has she in her old age again come to the rescue to cover up the annoying traces that years have brought into her walk.

The boot or shoe, when on the foot, shows no evidence of the interior mechanism, so closely have all signs of a tampered heel been hidden. A hollow is first cut in the centre of the heel and a tiny, spiral wire spring inserted. A movable bottom layer is capped over it and a slight is the movement that it is almost imperceptible to the eye, yet the mere quiver of the elastic force is enough to produce the youthful step.

STIMULANTS OF GENIUS.

Various Means Employed to Arouse Mental Activity.

To one engaged in literary work there comes a time when for the time being the imagination flags, ideals seem to have vanished and all appeals to inspiration seem to be powerless. There are well known cases in which great writers have had recourse to artificial stimuli. Voltaire and Balzac found what they required in coffee. Goethe preferred burgundy, while De Musset and Edgar Allan Poe fled to alcohol.

In his early days Goethe found that indulgence in wine impeded his intellectual work, for he had noticed that when Schiller drank more than usual the literary results were deplorable. The faults with which Schiller had been reproached by his critics, Goethe declared, were due to no other cause than this. The mixture of alcohol and absinthe in which De Musset placed his hopes ruined his brain and he ceased to write. The genius of De Quincey was destroyed by opium.

More innocent have been the means employed by others to awaken inspiration. Some like to have noise and movement around them. One French painter does his best work when his friends are fencing in the room or talking and shouting around him. Some writers go to a cafe or walk up and down the busy streets to think over what they are going to write. Men engaged in scientific pursuits will walk furiously up and down their room with bent back and absent look, probing to the depths the problems that baffle them.

Kant went for the same walk every day, thinking over his Kritik. Cesar Franck used to play for an hour passages from his Beatitudes to excite himself to composition.

One Was Enough.

The British academy once had printed a few copies of an important work for presentation to some foreigners who, from their prominence in the scientific world, were best entitled to be honored with the gift. Professor Airy, the astronomer royal, was requested to make a selection of the names. A few days after he had sent in his list he was informed by the secretary of the admiralty that "my lords" were struck by the number of unknown names included and that they wished to make an inquiry on the subject. Airy asked the secretary for some specifications as to the names referred to.

"Well, as an example," said the secretary, "here is the name of Professor C. F. Gauss of Gottingen. Who is he?"

"Gauss is one of the greatest mathematicians of the age and stands among the two or three most eminent masters in physical astronomy now living. Who else do you wish to know about?"

"No one else. That will do," replied the secretary.

What Man Owes to Birds.

"It should be realized," said a naturalist, "that without birds to hold in check the insects vegetable life soon would cease and life for man would become impossible upon the earth. Birds are nature's check to the amazing power of insects to increase. If insect life were allowed free course it would soon overpower plant life, and therefore animal life, including that of man, would be impossible. This is an astounding conclusion, but it is the conclusion of science. If the birds were gone very soon the leaves would disappear from the trees, and the limbs would be festooned with the webs of caterpillars or with masses of their nests. These would move from tree to tree, increasing by the million as they advanced. In the course of a few seasons there would be no trees. In the fields other species of insects would destroy the grass and the grain and all vegetable life, and the ground would be as if a sea of devouring mouths had passed over it."

Laziness.

"Laziness is responsible for too much of the misery we see about us," said a clergyman. "It is all very well to blame alcohol for this misery, to blame oppression and injustice, but to what heights might we not all have climbed but for our laziness? We are too much like the supernumerary in the drama," he went on, "who had to enter from the right and say, 'My lord, the carriage waits.'

"'Look here, super,' said the stage manager one night. 'I want you to come on from the left instead of the right after this, and I want you to transpose your speech. Make it run hereafter, "The carriage waits, my lord."'

"The super pressed his hand to his brow.

"'More study, more study!' he groaned."

The Dragon Tree.

The dragon tree of Teneriffe is perhaps the strangest vegetable in the world. It is thought to be a kind of giant asparagus, whose dead branches serve as a support for the crowns. New roots as they come into being encircle and conceal the original stem, which is far away inside, and the roots which become detached from the stem may be seen hanging withered in the upper tree. The trunk is generally hollow, and in the case of an old tree which was destroyed in 1867 there was a spacious chamber which had served the natives as a temple for generations. The tree was forty-eight feet around and ninety-five feet high and is supposed to have been originally watered with dragon's blood, which is the name now given to the sap. This is a regular article of commerce.

Worked Too Well.

A hotel proprietor, noticing that some of his customers were evidently trying to eat their suppers in the shortest possible time, lest they should miss the boat which was waiting at the wharf, thought it would be funny to frighten them. Accordingly he went into a back room and gave a remarkably perfect imitation of a steamboat's whistle. The joke worked well. The men heard the sound and rushed to the boat. The joker laughed long and loud until suddenly it occurred to him that the men had gone off without paying for their suppers. Then he stopped laughing.—London Town and Country Journal.

It Didn't Fall Out.

"I see your hair is falling out, sir," remarked the hairdresser, who was getting ready to work the hair tonic idea on the customer.

"You don't see anything of the sort," rejoined his victim. "What you see is the sequel to a falling out between Mrs. Codgers and myself."—London Answers.

The Tailor's Patron Saint.

The tailor's saint is St. John the Baptist, but why we do not know, for, as far as sacred writ informs us, "his clothing was of camel's hair and a leather girdle about his loins."—Tailor and Cutter.

Cheering Her Up.

"I hear you are going to marry Charley."

"Yes; he asked me last evening."

"Let me congratulate you. Charley is all right. He is one of the nicest fellows I was ever engaged to."

The Easier Way.

"I was very angry just now when Bleeker asked me for $5 that I owed him."

"But why did you get angry?"

"I found it much easier to get angry than to pay."—London Tit-Bits.

The Forbidden Fruit.

The botanical curiosities of the island of Ceylon are replete with varied interest. One of them is "the forbidden fruit," or "Eve's apple tree." Its native name is diwi kadura, kadura signifying "forbidden" and diwi "tiger." The flower of this extraordinary production is said to emit a fine scent. The color of the fruit, which hangs from the branches in a very peculiar and striking manner, is very beautiful, being orange on the outside and a deep crimson within. The fruit itself presents the appearance of having had a piece bitten out of it. This circumstance, together with the fact of its being a deadly poison, led the Mohammedans on their first discovery of Ceylon, which they assigned as the site of paradise, to represent it as the forbidden fruit of the garden of Eden, for, although the finest and most tempting in appearance of any, it had been impressed, such was their idea, with the mark of Eve's having bitten it to warn man from meddling with a substance possessing such noxious properties.

The Crimean Crime.

Kinglake was all for war. "He used to say," says Mme. Novikoff, "that peace would emasculate the world. 'Besides,' he continued, 'population when too dense is not at its best.'" He did not like Bright. Mme. Novikoff told Kinglake one day that Bright had made a curious remark about the Crimean statue in Pall Mall. "The inscription," he had said, "should be altered. The 'a' should be put before the world 'crime' and not at the end."—London Standard.

Charity.

It is an old saying that charity begins at home, but this is no reason it should not go abroad. A man should live with the world as a citizen of the world. He may have a preference for the particular quarter or square or even alley in which he lives, but he should have a generous feeling for the welfare of the whole.—Cumberland.

If you would have a safe yet certain cough Remedy in the house, try Dr. Shoop's—at least once. It is thoroughly unlike any other Cough preparation. Its taste will be entirely new to you—unless it is already your favorite Cough Remedy. No opium, chloroform, or any other stupifying ingredients are used. The tender leaves of a harmless, hard-healing mountainous shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its wonderful curative properties. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by all dealers.

Government Buys Indian Lands. Completion of a deal with the Indians on Hobbema reservation, northwest of Ponoka, came after negotiations pending for years between the Dominion Government and the Indians, who relinquish their rights to 10,000 acres of land. The Government intends to sell this by auction. The preliminary payment has already been made. Surveyors have been put to work on the reservation and as soon as the work is completed and valuation made all will be announced.

Deaf

For Fifteen Years

Mr. [illegible] Warner, publisher of The Masonic Register, Toronto, was almost totally deaf in both ears for a number of years. He experimented with a thousand different remedies and only got relief by using Catarrhozone, and it cured.

Mr Warner says:—"For the past fifteen years my hearing has been greatly affected. The streets were as quiet to me as if I lived in the city of the dead. I could neither hear the noise of street cars or sound of horses' feet on the pavement. Before I had used Catarrhozone Inhaler three days I was able to notice a great change in my condition, which gradually improved until now I can hear a whisper across the room. I cannot tell you how much I appreciate Catarrhozone or the wonderful results I have derived from using it. Catarrhozone has my strongest endorsement and I am quite willing that you should use it."

Mr Warner's unsolicited testimonial furnishes abundant proof that deafness can be cured, even in old age, if Catarrhozone is used. This remedy scientific in its application and meets with the endorsement of prominent ministers and doctors all over Canada. Our best equipped health institutions always keep it on hand, and cases are recorded where it has been used with great success in the Government deaf and dumb institutions where other means proved futile.

If your hearing is poor, if you have head noises, or ringing in the ears, be sure and use Catarrhozone. It is a regular miracle worker and is sure to help you. Complete outfit costs $1, trial size 25 cents. Sold by all druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

PURE MILK.

When Alderman McIntyre a year or two ago introduced his bylaw providing for the inspection of milk, he was not at first taken seriously by his collegues on the Aldermanic board. However, his persistent agitation secured passage of the measure, and provision made for the inspection of milk sold within our gates. This measure was and is a commendable one, as undoubtedly much disease is contracted by milk consumers, especially infants, through drinking barnyard contamination. This matter is receiving very earnest consideration in Toronto, where, at a meeting of the Health Section, papers on this line question from eminent authorities in Denmark and Stockholm were read, explaining the precautions taken in those places to assure pure milk. A paper from Herr Monrad showed that in Stockholm the death rate had been substantially reduced since the inauguration of a real sanitary milk supply. All medical health officers are agreed that considerable danger exists in the consumption of milk unless its quality is under control. How far is our milk supply in Peterborough under control? Are the provision of Ald. McIntyre's bylaw even being carried out in an effective manner? Tenacity in the enforcement of any measure must be rigidly observed, or evasion of its provisions will surely follow. Any milk dealer will tell you he does not water his milk, but one was seen to milk the water. That is, he used the pump first and then milked his cows. Tests of all milk sold in this city should not be intermittent, but continuous to avoid laxity. And it would not be an abnormally costly job to inspect now and then the farms sending in milk to Peterborough. Then the Board of Health would go a long way in educating milk dealers to provide perfect milk, and consumers to safeguard themselves against contaminated milk, by discussing papers from eminent authorities on this question. The proceedings of such a meeting would be naturally circulated through the medium of the press.

EDISON STORAGE BATTERY.

That great scientist Edison is still busy in his workshop thinking out many things which will have great value to the people generally. The most important matter now under consideration is that of the portable electric storage battery. The problem is to make a battery light enough electricity to move the vehicle on which the battery is carried for, say, a whole day. For a long time the inventor has been engaged in perfecting such a device for automobiles. The new battery is for use on street car systems, and will be put on trial shortly by Mr. Whitridge, the Federal Receiver of the Third Avenue Street Railway, New York. The statement of the inventor, explaining the new battery; says that the elements are the same as in the battery which he practically perfected years ago—namely, nickel with an alnali reaction, but with some improvements suggested by continued experimenting, until, he is now convinced, he has the battery needed. He is satisfied he can put a car in service that will run a whole day without recharging. He expressed the opinion that the use of the new battery would revolutionise surface car traffic. He predicts that street car lines, will employ none but cars equipped with the new batteries when he has demonstrated their commercial value; the tracks will be without either overhead or underground wires, or rails for the transmission of current, and comparatively cheap stations only will be necessary where the storage batteries may be charged after they have exhausted their store of current.

In speaking of this battery, Edison referred to Canada and pointed out that this country has almost unlimited water power, and that electricity manufactured by this means will be the power of the future. He believes that steam railway locomotives are practically doomed, and that electric power will soon take their place.

If Edison is right, and there is reason to believe is, we are on the eve of a revolution in manufacturing and transportation that will place the Dominion in the very fore front of industrial nations.

BOER LOYALTY.

At the dinner at Sheffield, England, June 17, to the Imperial Press Conference, notable speech was made by one of the Boer delegates to the Conference, Mr. Charles Gusty Fichardt, editor of the Bloemfontein Friend.

Mr. Fichardt fought on the Boer side at Modder River, Magersfontein and Paardeberg, and although he escaped at the latter place was made a prisoner later in the war.

He made a speech, which, without being effusive, was most forcible and impressive. England, he said, had brought to his country war and devastation. She had conquered the flag and country, but she did not conquer the hearts and spirit of the race. After the war there was an afterwath of bitterness of a sullen and discontented people, who waited the opportunity to strike another blow for that freedom for which they had given so much. But then, on a wonderful day, a wonderful thing happened. In spite of all the cost, in spite of all the millions of money that had been expended and the precious blood that had been shed, "you came to us open-handed, gracious and kindly, and presented us the freedom which we asked for—(applause)—and you then, for the first time, and, I hope, for ever, conquered the hearts of the South African people." (Applause). What, he asked, of the future they in his country watched with a certain amount of envy what the great sister dominions beyond the sea were able to do. They were a little country, and they were poor. They could not present Dreadnoughts. But this he could promise—that if ever a foreign foe attacked the Empire in South Africa it would be the unerring rifle of the Boer which would give Great Britain's answer on the wild and lonely veldt. (Loud Applause.)

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The city of Toronto has now seven supervised play grounds for the little folk, and the Board of Education has thrown open all school grounds to all children at all times. Chicago has invested $11,000,000 in this way. Mr. D. W. Dumble is a strong believer in this policy, and offered at a civic meeting one time that the King Edward school grounds should be devoted to so worthy a purpose; this we believe is generally recognized by the children in that locality. But there should be enough of such open spaces to meet the demand, and all properly supervised. Then every child could feel that he had a play spot all his own.

The term of "Central Park" will shortly become a misnomer. It is rapidly developing into more of a general recreation and military grounds than a park. We find no fault with this, but the name is not accordant. Hughes' Park is in the same category respecting its name; this spot might at times be termed a pasture,—and a poor one at that.

People who use well water should have it analyzed. It is highly probable that in localities where the sewers are not in general use opportunities are open for contaminating fluids to find access to some wells. Too much precaution against disease cannot be taken these dog days.

Ate the Details.

The editor of a weekly paper recently called at the "home of the bride's parents" the day after the wedding. He was desirous of telling his readers all about the event and wished to give the young couple a good send-off as well. The bride's mother met him "Good morning, Mrs. Jones," said the editor. "I've called to get from you the details of the wedding." "Goodness," replied Mrs. Jones in alarm, "they're all gone. You ought to have come last night. They ate every scrap."

Don't Risk even a penny—until health returns. And I mean just exactly that.

I am the one physician who says to the sick, "I will, out of my own pocket, pay for your medicine if it fails to bring you help!"

And for 20 years Dr. Shoop's medicines have been used and recommended in every city and hamlet in America. They are positively standard in every community—and everywhere.

Then why pay the cash, and at your risk, for other unwarranted and uncertain medicines? Thousands upon thousands have in the past successfully used Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

When the first symptoms of weak nerves, or the Heart nerves fail, or Kidney nerves fail, know how quickly Dr. Shoop's Restorative will bring them back to health again. But best of all, they positively take no money risk whatever.

They know that when health fails to return Dr. Shoop will himself gladly pay the druggist for that test. And for that test a full 30 day treatment is freely granted.

But write me first for an order.

This will save delay and disappointment.

All druggists sell Dr Shoop's Restorative and Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy, but remember to get what you want, if you please—for I am told an honest and responsible druggist is almost every community, everywhere, to issue my "no help, no pay," medicines to the sick.

Tell me also which book you need.

The books below will surely open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. Besides you are perfectly free to consult me just as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescriptions or personal advice plan. My best effort is ready.

Refuses to Spend Money in Useless Advertising

INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL REVIEW.

F. McPhillips, Editor,
Toronto, 5th December, 1908. J. H. Brock, Esq.,
Great-West Life Assurance Co.,
Winnipeg, Man.

Dear Sir:—

I presume that some time during the present month you will be re-arranging your advertising for the ensuing year, and I beg to remind you that when we discussed the matter, when you were here during the Summer, you said it would be considered at the first of the year. Up to the present time I have not had the privilege of carrying a card of your Company, nor have I ever published your annual statement.

I would be pleased if you would give both these your favorable consideration for the coming year.

Yours sincerely,
F. McPHILLIPS.

(Sgd.)

THE GREAT WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

The Insurance and Financial Review, Toronto, Ontario. Winnipeg, March 27th, 1909.

Gentlemen:—

We have not overlooked the information you gave us regarding rates in the Review, but so far it has not been decided to extend our advertising appropriation in this direction. However, your information is still before us, and when a decision is arrived at you will be advised.

Yours truly,
THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Per "G.M.R."
Advertising Department.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company thought it would not be profitable to the Company or to its policy-holders, who are interested in its revenues, to spend money uselessly in advertisements appearing in a journal, in their opinion, practically unknown, except to insurance agents. Accordingly it was decided not to advertise in that journal, though we expected that it might attack the Company. What we expected happened. Nevertheless the Company intends to advertise only in such reputable papers as it considers will give results beneficial to the insuring and the Company.

Some unscrupulous representatives of competing Companies make use of the unfair attacks of such journals without explaining the circumstances of the attacks, or the absurdity of the statements made, and we trust those who are approached by such agents will inform themselves on the subject by reading carefully the articles and the notes and comments thereon.

The Article

Representations have reached us with disconcerting frequency of late that conditions in regard to the Great-West Life Assurance Company are by no means satisfactory.

The Annual Report, which was published early in March, contains this remarkable statement: "We have this year changed all our records so that policies payable by instalments are entered not at their face values, but at their commuted values." It is well known that the Company has not until very recently availed itself of regular actuarial advice and very possibly much of the criticism incurred is attributable to this neglect, but we might ask why this rather important matter was overlooked by the Department of Insurance in the course of its yearly inspections. Inaccuracy in one part of a statement is apt to lead to suspicion of other parts.

PROFIT VARIATIONS.

We have before us a pamphlet issued by the Great-West Life Assurance Company, entitled "Actual Results to Policy-holders;" "Paid by the Great-West Life Assurance Company under the Fifteen Year Preferred Dividend Policies which matured in 1907, together with the Results under Policies maturing in 1908." L

We quote two cases of Fifteen Year Endowment Policies maturing in 1908.

Policy No.	Amount.	Premiums paid.	Total cash value of policy.
640	$1,000	$969.75	$1,575.00
823	1,000	945.00	1,519.00

It is generally believed that the profits shown under these policies are excessive. This view is strengthened by a comparison with a five-year period policy upon the same 15 year Endowment plan which shows accumulated results as follows:

Policy No.	Amount	968	1,000
Total cash value of Policy.			$1,164.50

We bear in mind the solemn "warning" printed in the daily press broadcast throughout this country over the signature of the Head Office of the Company. This reads in part as follows:

"An anonymous, typewritten letter is being circulated, dishonestly, "comparing our recent dividends upon "five year period' policies with "dividends upon "fifteen year period' policies, without explaining the es-"sential differences between the two forms of insurance."

It is the fundamental principle of justice that "he who would receive equity must himself give equity." This is not evident in the paragraph quoted above. In the comparison made there is no essential difference between the two forms of insurance. They are identical. The only differences lies in the methods of alotting the profits to the same forms of insurance.

It must be remembered that, in the case of Policy No. 968, quoted above, the profits were alotted every five years, but were left by the insured in the hands of the Company for accumulation during the entire term of fifteen years. According to the statements of the Company these profits are subject to increment at the rate of interest earned by the Company. In the case of endowment assurances for so short a term as fifteen years the survivorship factor is almost a negligible quantity for profit-making purposes.

ACTUARIAL METHODS FAULTY.

It follows that either the profit upon the five year period policy is less than that to which the insured was entitled, or, on the other hand, the allotment to the fifteen-year period policies was vastly in excess of their actual earning. Having in mind the expense ratio of the Great West Life in the past fifteen years, there appears very little difficulty in determining which of these views is correct. The Company has forty millions of insurance in force, and until last year had no regular expert actuarial advice. The finger of Mr. C. C. Ferguson, A.I.A., is already a parent in the Company's statement, and it is only to be regretted that very much earlier opportunity of scientific advice was not availed of.

THE "SPECIAL POLICY."

Every student of life assurance conditions prevalent during the past twenty-five years is aware that the evil odor attaching to the business some years ago was attributable more directly to the employment of so-called "Special Agents" or "Lightning Specials" than to any other single factor. These gentry had no stake in the Company they were representing (or misrepresented). Generally they were importations from the neighboring Republic. The great argument in use was that they were alone empowered to offer something special to wealthy clients, or, in other words, that the prospective victim was fortunate enough to have encountered a "Bargain Day" in life assurance. The results accruing from these methods are too well known to insurance men to need repetition. It is somewhat amazing to find that a Canadian Life Company could to-day be found to essay the recrudescence of so unfortunate a system.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company has recently been selling what is described as a "special" policy. It should be understood that this is nothing more than an ordinary life policy, payable at death by instalments. Some also contain the return premium feature.

One sample policy we have before us, dated April 24th, 1907, and which has been used by Great-West Agents in their canvass, is on the ordinary Life plan, face value $25,000, payable in fifteen annual instalments of $1,000 each, first instalment payable at death, with $10,000 additional at the end of fifteen years after death, the annual premium at age 35 being $591.00. Also in the event of death of the assured within twenty years from issue date, all premiums paid are to be returned with the sum assured. Let us now take up the privileges and conditions. We wish to call special attention to the clause re Distribution of Surplus, which reads in part as follows:

"On the first day of April, 1912, and at the end of every fifth year thereafter, if this policy be then in full force, it shall participate in the profits of the Company. An individual account shall be kept with this policy, and whenever the surplus apportioned thereto, accumulated with interest at 4 per cent. (or at the rate earned if in excess of 4 per cent) compounded annually shall be sufficient to prepay all future premiums, the insured will be notified, and no future payment of premiums shall be required."

Such a clause is most obscure. We are informed that Great-West Agents have told prospects that at the end of 16 or 17 years the profits would be sufficient to pay all future premiums, and it is understood that some have taken policies in that belief. Needless to say, such hopes are impossible of realization, as will be evident from the following table:—

(1) End of year	(2) Value of future Premiums	(3) Profits per $1,000 required to meet this	(4) Percent. of premiums paid
15	$7,793.52	$436.00	903
17	7,415.28	415.00	78
20	6,825.46	382.00	61

From these we see that the profits at the end of 17 years would have to equal 78 per cent. of the premiums already paid in order to prepay all future premiums. It is reasonable to suppose that any company can return as profits four-fifths of the premiums paid? Where would the Cash Surrender Value come from in such a case? The absolute impossibility of such a thing is apparent, and yet the agents pushing this special plan are thus, we understand, representing this condition.

We are further informed that in some cases the agent has not been content with the very rosy prospect indicated above. In a canvass in an Eastern Ontario City one agent is alleged to have told his prospect that it was almost certain that the policy would become paid up in ten years! Such things seem almost incredible in these days.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.

We take policy No. 36,003 for $1,000.00 to illustrate a further point. One section of this policy is grossly misleading. On the third page is given a table of surrender values, including cash, paid up, and extended insurance features, these values being given for various years from three to twenty. The table is headed as follows:

"Table of non-forfeiture options for each $1,000 of commuted amount."

In very small writing and hidden away at the bottom of the policy are words to the effect that the commuted value of this policy is $7.-155.00. A keen insurance man would, of course, know that the surrender values applicable to the particular policy would be 7.155 times the figur as given in the tables, but the ordinary layman, and we think even to a good many insurance men, the tables of values would be multiplied by ten in order to get the figures applicable to the policy. If it came to a question to be decided in the courts, we believe the Great-West would have no difficulty in maintaining that the surrender values applicable to the policy would be the lower amounts given above, but we think we are safe in saying that these surrender values should have been

The Great-West's Reply

The Insurance Department has always required all Companies to report business at the commuted value, and we have always done so, as the writer of this article could easily have found by referring to the Blue Book. His criticism, therefore, of the Insurance Department and of the Company falls to the ground. Our office records have always been correct, and the change referred to was made solely with a view to simplify the bookkeeping methods of obtaining the same results. Many Companies have pursued exactly the same course. The effort to make a point out of this shows how hard pressed the writer was to find something to say.

Under the heading "Profit Variations," his position is equally ridiculous, and he has deliberately tried to create a wrong impression as to an advertisement inserted by the Company by omitting a portion in which we say: "We are still paying on 5 year and longer dividend period policies the highest dividends—premiums being taken into account—now being paid by any company."

The very large dividends referred to on our 15 Year Tontine policies are as great a source of satisfaction to our policy-holders as they are of annoyance to some of our competitors and all journals of the calibre of our critic. The reason why these large dividends were paid was because the Company's earnings were such that our then Actuary, Mr. W. T. Standen, advised that the policy-holders were entitled to them.

The writer seems desirous to leave the impression that the holder of Policy No. 968 has reason to be dissatisfied with his results. We have clear evidence that this is not the opinion of the policy-holder himself, since on receiving his settlement he straightway insured the life of his son in this Company.

As to "Actuarial Methods," the statement that we had no expert Actuarial advice is absolutely false, as Mr. William T. Standen, F.A.S., was employed as consulting Actuary, and advised us on every point requiring the assistance of an Actuary from the time we commenced business, until his death, which only occurred a few months before our present Actuary was appointed.

The "Special Policy"—This Special Policy has been so admired by the insuring public and competing companies that several of the principal companies of Canada have copied it, and other companies have notified their agents that they will issue it if no other form of policy be accepted by the applicant. The form of the policy is such that it invites investigation of profit-earning capacity, and, consequently, applications have been particularly easy to secure by agents of the Great-West Life.

The introduction by the Company of such a popular policy shows that it understands and meets the wishes of the insuring public.

The clause as to distribution of surplus, which is stated by the Editor to be obscure, is on the contrary, so clear and plain that it has never been misunderstood by any policy-holder and can easily be understood by any intelligent school boy 15 years of age.

The ignorance of the writer is shown clearly when he attempts to quote actual figures; for instance—the amount of profits required to make the policy referred to a paid-up one in twenty years is given as $367 whereas the correct amount is $200! All the other figures in this table are equally incorrect, and the conclusions are absolutely unfounded.

As to the statements that agents have represented that the Policy will be paid up in a shorter time than is possible or reasonable, we believe the writer has called upon his imagination for his facts. Certainly if the statements were made by anagent, such as he states have been made, the agent and the policy-holder misled by him would both be fit candidates for a lunatic asylum.

As to the Non-Forture Options.—The labored effort to show that there is something wrong with this table is another evidence that the writer was hard pressed for something to say about the Company when he called attention to the fact that that a certain clause was at the bottom of the policy. He conceals the fact that the clause is at the foot of the table of surrender values—the only place where it could be properly placed. Was this honest, or does it show the spleen of the writer of the article? Something must be at the bottom of the policy; therefore, no matter what we placed there, the the argument might be used that it was placed there for the purpose of concealment. If we had printed the policy without referring to commuted values, the same writer would have objected to this with just as much weight as he has because we have inserted the commuted values.

Seventy-Year-Old Claim Repayment Now Sought

VETERAN OF 1812 MADE UP PAY-ROLL DEFICIENCY IN 1837.

Wants to Recover £800 Advanced by Capt. Joseph Birney in Rebellion Times—Father was With Brock at Queenstown and Fought at Lundy's Lane.

Toronto, June 29.—Repayment of $898 which his father, Joseph Birney, paid his militia company for their services in 1837, is asked by John Land Birney of Toronto.

His father, Capt. Birney of the 3rd Gore Militia was never repaid the money. The funds advanced by the Government were embezzled, and sooner than see his men go unpaid Capt. Birney advanced the funds himself. His son has petitioned the Attorney-General for a fiat to sue in the courts for the amount.

At the request of Col. Robert Land, the deficiency was made up by Capt. Birney.

Was Beside Brock.

Capt. Birney, according to his son's petition, was beside General Brock when the gallant officer fell mortally wounded. Capt. Birney was born in Orange, New Jersey, in 1777, and as a loyalist came to Upper Canada with his mother in 1801. In 1812 he was an ensign in Capt. Hutt's company, which accompanied General Brock to Detroit. Later he became a lieutenant in Capt. Duran's company in the 5th Lincoln Regiment and took part in the battles of Queenston Heights and Lundy's Lane.

Defences Near Hamilton.

He built a bridge for the troops to cross the water gap at Burlington and assisted in the construction of defence works at Burlington Heights for use in case of retreat during the battle of Stoney Creek.

"At the battle of Queenston work for some of the batteries at Heights my father engineered the that place," says Mr. Birney, in his petition. "These were tested by General Brock himself, and found to be correct in every particular.

"During the earlier part of the battle of Queenston Heights General Brock found that the Canadians, in firing at the Americans who were coming across the river, were throwing the ammunition away, as the bullets were falling short, so he ordered them to cease firing. General Williams misunderstood this order, and took it that he was to retire, from Queenston Heights to Niagara. My father, who was with General Brock at the time, called the generals' attention to the retirement of the troops. General Brock immediately ordered my father to take a message to General Williams to take the troops back.

Noticed Brock Sway.

"When the troops got back they found the Americans in such large force in the camp of the Canadians that the Canadians were compelled to retreat Brock was on horseback, and just turned to follow the troops when my father, who was near him noticed him sway and heard him groan. My father immediately rushed to his assistance and lifted him from his horse to the ground. The general, while lying on the ground, gave the order to the troops to come around by St. David and come over from the top again."

Wanted To Keep Out Of '37.

Capt. Birney did not wish to take a hand in the disturbance of 1837, as he was then about sixty years old But he acceded to the persuasions of Sir Allan McNab and Lieutenant-Colonel Land, and accepted a captaincy in the Third Militia, which he held till 1841. For his services in 1812 and later he was granted 500 acres of land in 1824.

Other Officers—Paid.

Col. Land was one of the sureties for the defaulting paymaster, and was sued for the sum embezzled. Other officers put in their claims, and were recouped for their loss out of the money recovered from Col. Land in the suit brought against him as the defaulting paymaster's surety.

Mr. Birney remembers well driving his father repeatedly to Col. Land's house and hearing his father urge his claim to the £800. George K. Chisholm, M.P., was also requested to take up the matter.

LOST HIS LANDS.

Because of his loss Capt. Birney had to mortgage his homestead of 200 acres in Nelson township, and lost the 200 acres granted him for his surveying services.

Militia regulations stipulated that the Birney claim could not be presented by anyone but Colonel Land, the head of the regiment, but as surety for the absconding paymaster he could not present it without making himself personally liable. Thus it was the claim has got no farther than it has.

PETITIONER ONLY HEIR.

John Land Birney is the only surviving heir of the late Capt. Birney, and he presents original documents and letters both in his possession and in the archives in support of his claim. They include the pay lists, and returns for provisions as well as other particulars of Capt. Birney's company.

British Force Bring Large Territory Under the Flag—Met with Difficulties

London, June 29.—Interesting details of the expedition lately concluded by the Southern Nigerian Government, by which some 5,000 square miles of hitherto unknown and unadministered country in the north and on the borders of Northern Nigeria have been brought under effective control have been received.

These operations, which were carried out among tribes who for the most part had never previously seen a white man, proved entirely successful, and were so managed that there was practically no serious fighting. They began early in November last, and only concluded in the middle of April.

The British forces consisted of 700 men of the Southern Nigeria Regiment under the command of Colonel Trenchard, who had with him thirty officers, six Maxims, and 700 carriers. The Yala people, in whose country the columns remained for a month, gave a good deal of trouble. When their villages were entered they were found to be deserted, the women and live stock having been removed.

The men meanwhile had formed bush camps in the open yam fields, where they could see the approach of the British, and had also hidden in the branches of trees scouts, whose duty it was to fire signal guns. The people then took to their heels, and encamped elsewhere, but fired on the column when they were in what they regarded with fastlooks, and carried poisoned arrows, but, fortunately, the country was fairly open and the aim not very accurate.

In places the natives, hearing of the approach of large force, dig pits and planted stakes to prevent their progress. What little hostility there was occurred during the earlier part of the operations in the Okpoto country and among the Northern Ibo tribes.

Thousand of Naked Cannibals.

In each case the commanding officers of the column summoned the local chief and explained the Government terms, emphasing the fact that all human sacrifices must stop, that good roads must be made, and that a British Commissioner would be appointed, who would settle all disputes. On these occasions there were impressive gatherings of thousands of natives, in many cases cannibals, and for the most part naked, or practically so. They did not show undue delight at the advent of the British, and, as a rule, silently listened to the recital of the Government terms, and then slowly dispersed.

The various columns report that they found far less human sacrifice and juju rites in the hitherto unknown north than among the tribes of the delta, and, on the whole, the people were of a better physical type Several juju places were seen, and a big centre was destroyed. It was impossible to discover the nature of the juju rites practised, but in the vicinity of one big juju house discovered in a bush clearing where was found a good deal of blood—whether human or not was not ascertained.

Wedding Bells

CUMMINGS—McKENTY

A very pretty marriage was solemnized in the Sacred Heart church, Madoc, on June 15, when Mr. Thomas Cummings, Peterborough, and Miss Nellie McKenty, Madoc, township, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Father O'Riordan, with nuptial mass. After luncheon at the home of the bride's mother, Mr and Mrs Cummings left on the afternoon train on their bridal trip to Toronto and other western points.—Madoc Review.

CROWLEY—COURNEYA

At nine o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Peter's cathedral, Miss Edith Courneya, daughter of Mr. Simon Courneya of Tweed, was united in marriage to Mr Morris Crowley, Ashburnham. The bridesmaid was Miss E. Courneya, sister of the bride, and the best man was Mr. M. J. Crowley, the groom's brother. Rev Father Kelly officiated at the ceremony. Both of the contracting parties are well-known and highly esteemed by a large number of friends, who will extend congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Crowley will reside in this city.

COLLINS—FARRELL

At seven o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral the marriage took place of Miss May Elizabeth Farrell, to Mr. James Collins. The bridesmaid was Miss Sophia Tilloran, and the groom was supported by Mr. Michael Tobin. Father McFadden officiated, and the newly married couple will reside in Peterborough.

BROWN—HOBBINS

The marriage of Miss Annie Hobbins, daughter of Mr. Denis Hobbins, to Mr. Leonard David Brown, was solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral a eight o'clock Tuesday morning. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Nellie Hobbins, and the groom was supported by Mr. Fred Cheney. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McColl. The bride and groom have many friends in the city, who will join in congratulations.

BULLER—NEWHALL.

A quiet wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at three o'clock at St. Andrew's manse, when Miss Lottie P. Newhall, youngest daughter of Mr. J. Newhall, was united in marriage to Mr. George J. Buller. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. G. Potter, and the young couple were unattended. The bride wore a handsome dress of satin-striped broadcloth, and a Tuscan hat trimmed with forget-me-nots. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the newly married couple drove to the residence of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. A. M. Fletcher, 188 Dublin street, where a dainty wedding repast was served.

The bride received many beautiful presents, evidencing the high esteem in which she is held by a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Buller will reside on Aylmer street.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES.

DISGRACE TO FAMILY

WOULD QUICKLY HAND MURDERER OVER TO THE POLICE.

Once He Was a Bright Fellow, But Women and Gambling Wrought Change.

Montreal, June 29.—While the whole continent searches for Leon Ling, murderer of Elsie Sigel, the white girl missionary, in New York Chinatown, Montreal Celestials are watching and waiting—hoping for the arrival of the hunted man. Should he be seen here, his term of liberty will be short, for the leaders in the local colony will offer no sympathy nor assistance, and the murderer's own cousin, who is now in Montreal, would be the first to turn him over to the police.

Leon Ling is known only by reputation to most of the Chinamen in Montreal, but his relative, Ling Mung Chung, who is one of the international organizers of the Chinese Reform Association, and who lives at 52 Lagauchetiere street west, was once his intimate friend. Mr. Chung came here to attend the reception to the new Chinese Consul-General, and intends to remain indefinitely.

A Star reporter talked with Mr. Chung yesterday. The little man grew fiery as he discussed his cousin's case and made it clear that Leon Ling would find none to befriend him among intelligent Chinese.

Should Lose Head.

"I'd turn him over to the police in a minute," said Mr. Chung. "He is my cousin, but cousin or no, he is a murderer and ought to lose his head for the crime. Think of a Ling shedding blood! Never before has it been so—no Ling and no Chung ever shed the blood of another. Leon is a disgrace to our line and we are downcast.

"Once Leon was a good man. He wore his cue and in his little laundry in Philadelphia he worked early and late to save money. This money he would some day spend happily in China, I thought, and in all Philadelphia there was no more promising young Chinaman.

"That was in 1903. I knew him well then, and thought much of him. He was bright and quick to get American ideas—became a member of our association and all Chinamen were his brothers.

"Then came the change. He began to leave his laundry at night to watch the Americans in the chop suey restaurants, and by-and-bye became the friend of several girls of the Tenderloin. They came to see him at his laundry, and soon the work fell off and the profit was gone.

"Pretty soon Philadelphia got too small for Leon. He used to live in a little town with about ten thousand people in China, but he forgot all about that. He forgot all about sailing back home, too, and shaved off his cue, because the girls laughed at it.

Was a Gambler.

"The last I heard of Leon he was in New York, hanging around Chinatown, doing anything but honest work. He loved to gamble, and he was so good-looking that when he wasn't gambling he had no trouble in finding white girls to keep him company. Fan-tan and girls are not for Chinamen who would be some day prosperous.

"I tried to help Leon Ling and keep him straight, keep him true to his honorable father and mother, and to the proud Ling family. But he kept on, and joined the Chinese Masons, dropping from the Imperial Association and from the company of Conservatives in Chinatown, who frown upon dissipation.

"You know his crime, and that his end will be black. We Chinamen realize that he must die for his deeds, and we will all help the police to take him.

"The house of Ling is sad in China. The murder of a woman is a terrible sin."

When asked by the Star reporter if he personally knew Elsie Sigel, Ling Chung shook his head and said that Leon Ling knew so many white women that he could not keep the run of them, and he could not identify her from the photograph.

OBITUARY

TREFFLE LEVEQUE.

The death occurred Tuesday evening of Treffle Leveque, only son of Mr. Michael Leveque, at his late home, 291 Lewis street. Deceased who was 28 years of age, had been ailing for a long time. The funeral will take place this morning at 9 o'clock to St. Peter's cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

WM. JOHN HART

Wm. John Hart passed away at his residence, Lundy Lane, North Monaghan, yesterday, after an illness of about eleven months. He had lived here for the past 35 years and during the greater part of the time was an employe of the Peter Hamilton Co. He was well known and had many warm friends who will greatly regret his departure. He was a member of the Charlotte St. Methodist church and taught a class in the Sunday school. He is survived by a widow and one daughter, Mrs. J. H. Stephens of Chicago. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at three o'clock, and interment will take place at the Little Lake cemetery.

The deceased was also a member of the Sons of England for a number of years.

GIRL SAVES TWO.

Breaks Death-hold on Husband and Brings Former to Shore.

Big Rapids, Mich., June 30.—Miss Grace Dare, of this place, saved the life of one and possibly two persons yesterday, when she jumped into Mear's lake and brought Mrs. W. F. Burt to shore. The woman had gone down the second time, after falling off a bathing raft, when her husband tried to save her.

She grasped him around the neck, and both were in grave danger of drowning when Miss Dare succeeded in breaking the hold Mrs. Burt had on her husband, and swam with the woman to shore. Burt was then able to help himself.

put out in an entirely different way, and that they are absolutely misleading in the way they are given. The policy is talked, sold and accepted as an insurance of $10,000, and it is only natural for the policy-holder to assume that he will be entitled to surrender values on a $10,000 basis.

We hesitate to say it, but the facts do not seem to point to an unwillingness on the part of the Head Office of the Great-West to be a party to the deception which has almost invariably been attached to the sale of these and similar policies. It will be universally admitted that ordinary policies are more frequently sold than instalment policies, and also that in getting out a printed form it is usual to make the form applicable to the majority of cases and not to the exceptions. The Great-West has apparently gone at this matter in exactly the opposite way and got out a form to fit the exceptions, for otherwise it would have headed these columns as follows:—

"Tables of surrender values per $1,000 (Face Value)." If it desires to be perfectly fair to its policy-holders, it should place the values in an instalment policy to apply $1,000 of the nominal value, so that a policy-holder holding one of these special policies for $10,000 would obtain the values applicable to his policy by simply multiplying the values given by ten. This method would have the advantages of being both perfectly clear and easily computed. In the Great-West form, the values are hard to compute and are absolutely misleading.

NOT ALL TREATED ALIKE.

We have recently seen another policy issued for $50,000.00 in which some of the clauses that we have taken exception to have been modified very considerably by printed or typewritten slips pasted over the original printed conditions. It is evident that some applicants for this "Special" policy are wiser than others, and that their vigilance is by no means disadvantageous. We opine, however, that this reflection can hardly bring much comfort to the bulk of the people who have acquired this kind of policy without taking some advice other than that afforded them by the Great-West Life agent.

We have purposely taken several policies to illustrate our various points. It would have been unwise to have selected one only for the reason last given—that there does not appear to be that uniformity which is customary in the issues of life companies in general.

The hope may be expressed that the Great-West Life Assurance Company will see its way to withdraw from circulation a policy contract which can hardly fail to reflect adversely upon the Company in the future.

The statement that all policy-holders "are not treated alike" is absolutely false. We defy the writer of the article to show that any difference has ever been made by the Company between policy-holders of the same class.

The editor of the best Insurance Journal in North America has referred to the profit plan used in our policies as being "an embodiment of the true principles of life insurance," and we did not advertise with that journal either.

Court of Revision

Notice is hereby given that a sitting of the Court of Revision of the City of Peterborough, will be held in the City Clerk's office in the said city on Thursday the 15th day of July, 1909, at the hour of 7.30 o'clock in the evening, for the confirmation of the special assessments upon the property fronting or abutting on the following streets or parts of streets for the construction of sewers thereon, and the total amount to be assessed upon the said property fronting or abutting upon the said streets or parts of streets as follows:

Bethune street, between McDonnell street and Murray street—amount to be paid by the municipality $136 37; to be assessed upon the private property $378 36

Murray street, between Bethune street and Aylmer street. Amount to be paid by the municipality $165 68; to be assessed upon the private property $182 04.

A statement showing the lands liable to and proposed to be specially assessed for the said work, and the names of the owner thereof, so far as the same can be ascertained from the last revised assessment roll, is now on file in this office of the clerk of the municipality and is open for inspection during office hours

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

POEM DANCING.

A Peculiar Fad Which Has Become a Craze In London.

Dancing masters in London are making much money these days and as a result are filled with happiness and a hope that their remarkable season of prosperity be not too fleeting. It all comes about because of the fact that society is, what may be termed, dance crazy. At present picturesque dancing, expressing a poem, a song or an incident is the rage. The society belle practices for hours at a stretch in her endeavors to express through motion the burden of her message. Not only must her theme be original, but the steps and movements by which she indicates it must be novel and above all poetic. Imitation is fatal.

Playettes are also expressed by dancing, three or four friends clubbing together to perform them. Some excellent results have been achieved.

Success does not, however, always pursue the steps of the society dancers of dramatic episodes. Some good fun has been afforded by the tripping of the light fantastic by women whose too solid avoirdupois caused them, in the middle of some eloquent passage, to puff and gasp like a tired horse taking a long hill.

It is not only women who go in for the new dancing. Men, curious to relate, have taken to it with avidity, and occasionally with more laughable results than those obtained by the fair sex. For it is not by any means the Adonises who always have a story to tell. Often it is the mature, and those who are behind the door when good looks were being given out, who, fantastically arrayed, perform wild stampedes or lovesick prostrations.

Teachers of "dream" dancing and "picture" dancing are cropping up by the score. One society woman who has taken to teaching her friends, she herself having studied in Paris and Berlin, is said to be just now netting an income something like $50,000 a year through lessons.

As a rule, pupils bring with them to their professor the poem or incident they wish to express, and the teacher finds the movements which will best portray the subject.

When the pupil is perfect and the performance takes place, the verse or other subject which has inspired the performer, printed exquisitely on satin or vellum, artistically illuminated and bearing a photograph or photographs of the dancers, is distributed among the audience.

There is a Chinese dance which is attracting a great deal of attention. It is called the "Chacone," and is danced in Chinese costume. Several fond mothers are having their little girls and boys taught the "Chacone," which is especially effective when performed by children.

Caught With a Mousetrap.

The large black crow of South Africa is a tremendous gorger, and he does enormous damage to the mealies and other crops.

A sufferer has devised a clever way of frightening off these pests. A long stake is first firmly planted in the earth. A captured crow is then attached to the stick just above the ground. On top of the stake is fixed a steel mousetrap.

The crow, maddened by its unaccustomed captivity, screams, and flaps its wings wildly. Immediately any crow in the vicinity who overhears the outcry will fly down and settle on top of the stake to pass down—whether in contempt or pity is not known—at the prisoner. The mousetrap does the rest!

Thus, one by one, quite an army of crows is sometimes caught. Then, when the supply of victims is apparently exhausted, one of the prisoners is set at liberty; but not until a flapping rag has been attached to it. When it would rejoin its comrades, they will have none of it. It becomes an outcast, and all the others bound it down, entirely deserting the mealie-field on doing so.

But to those who are near the field when the stratagem here described is being carried out the question occurs: Is not the terrible noise the crows make too dear a price to pay for the saving of many mealies?

Borneo's Queer Animals.

There is no country in the world more inviting to the naturalist than Borneo, where are found the flying squirrels, flying foxes, flying lizards, flying frogs, and the natives report flying snakes. Among the most noted birds is the little swift, Collocalia nidifica. Their nests are eaten by the Chinese and are regarded as a great luxury. These birds build their nests in limestone caves of a glutinous saliva which they produce from their glands. No sticks or any foreign substances are used. The collection of these nests is an important industry with the natives, though they pay a tax on all they take to market. They are served at the great feasts of the Chinese, especially at weddings.

The French Postoffice.

The French postal system was inaugurated in the reign of Louis XI., but the first director general was appointed by Louis XIV. He farmed the office, paying a million francs a year for the privilege. This method continued until the revolution, when the farmer was abolished, and the control was given to ten managers elected by universal suffrage. That plan did not work very satisfactorily, and the office of director general was received under the consulate. The office of under secretary for post and telegraphs, held by M. Simyan, was first created in 1877, abolished in 1878 and revived again ten years later.—Westminster Gazette.

The Penalty of Goodness.

He—You don't seem to care a straw whether I am comfortable or not. You are not as good a wife as your sister was to her husband. As long as he said she was perfectly devoted to him and never tired of seeking his happiness. She—Yes, and what was the result? He got to love her so well that he made a provision in his will that she should not marry again.

The Joke on the Jockey.

A few years ago a famous jockey was engaged to ride the favorite in an important race. On the way to the post he found himself cantering alongside a rank outsider, the mount of a stable boy who had only just commenced riding.

"You'll have to be careful with that mare, B.," he remarked. "I've ridden her before, and you'll never be able to hold him."

B. thanked the crack for the hint and said that he would "do his best."

Halfway through the race the outsider and another were in front, with the favorite close behind. Fancying all the others were in difficulties, the rider of the favorite shouted:

"Pull out, B., and let me through! I've got the race in hand."

The crack was mistaken, however. Looking back, the stable boy replied with a grin:

"I would, but I can't hold him!"

With which the novice let his horse have its head and shot away, the easiest of winners, to the chagrin of the jockey who finished second.

Happiness and Joy.

Happiness according to the original sense of the term, is that which happens or comes to one by a happ—that is, by some outward befalling or favorable condition. It is what money yields or may buy—dress, equipage, fashion, luxuries of the table—or it is settlement in life—independence, love, applause, admiration, honor, glory, or the more sentimental and public benefits of rank, political standing, victory, power and all these stir a delight in the soul, which is not of the soul or its quality, but from without; hence they are looked upon as happening to the soul and, in that sense, create happiness. Joy differs from this as being of the soul itself, originating in its quality. And as it appears in the original form of the word, which instead of suggesting a cap literally denotes a leap or spring. . . . The motion is outward and not toward, as we conceive it to be in happiness. It is not the bliss of condition, but of character.—Dr. Horace Bushnell.

Concealed Weapons.

Once in a college town the rumor that students were carrying concealed weapons reached the ears of the local police. The chief at once issued stringent orders that the heinous practice should be stopped. One day a group of them passed a policeman, and one of the students in so doing put his hand to his hip pocket. Then, as if recollecting himself in time, he hastily withdrew it and looked sheepishly at the policeman.

"What have you in that pocket?" the latter asked sternly.

Instead of answering, the student and all his companions, as if panic stricken, started to run. After a chase all the students were cornered and ordered to deliver up whatever they had in their hip pockets.

Meekly they obeyed. Each one carried a corncob. The remarks of the policeman cannot possibly be recorded.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Making History.

When Kinglake was writing his history of the Crimean war he received letters from all sorts of people concerned in the war. One day a letter with a deep black border came from two people in the colonies, husband and wife, describing their grief. Their only child had been killed in the Crimea. They wanted to have him mentioned in the "History of the Crimean War." Kinglake was touched and replied by post that he would do his best if they would send him the necessary particulars. Again a letter, also black bordered, full of thanks, but with the following conclusion: "We have no particulars whatever to give you. He was killed on the spot, like many others, but anything you may kindly invent will be welcome. We leave it entirely to your imagination."—London Chronicle.

Taken Unawares.

Sir William Grantham was engaged as a political speaker in the days before he took his place on the bench and when he was plain Mr. Grantham. On one occasion, while he was delivering an address, a man got up in the audience and shouted out excitedly, "It's a lie!" "Thanks," said the future judge. "It's a lie!" shouted the excited one again. "You're a gentleman," said Mr. Grantham sarcastically. "It's a lie!" burst out his opponent again, carried away by his wrath, but the general laughter which arose at his answer recalled him to himself again, and he sat down discomfited.—London M. A. P.

To the Point.

A little boy hurriedly entered a drug store and asked the clerk for a bottle of liniment and a bottle of china cement.

"Why," said the clerk, "that's a funny combination. What do you want with those things?"

"Ma hit dad with a teacup and broke it!" exclaimed the boy.

Knocking Hubby.

"My husband thinks he is very economical," said the blue eyed woman. "He saves everything. One drawer of his desk is devoted to time tables, and he has some that are three years old."—Exchange.

A Matter of Taste.

"Mister, you're wasting time sketching that old ruined bridge."

"Indeed?"

"Yes; there's a fine new steel bridge just a mile farther on."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Our opinion of ourselves, like our shadow, makes us either too big or too little.—Bronte.

Freezing Flowers Keeps Them Fresh.

Freezing flowers to keep them fresh is a modern idea. They are picked in the bud and preserved by refrigeration while being transported. When unpacked they are found free of damage and when placed in water and left alone they slowly awaken and come into full bloom. It appears that experiments are being made in South Africa with a view to dispatching them in this way in bulk at the seasons when they are scarce elsewhere. The flowers undergo no deterioration from the treatment either in the beauty of their color or in their longevity after immersion in water. Curiously enough growth suspended by refrigeration appears to resume so slowly that the blossoms thrive in a room for a considerably longer period than if placed there immediately after being cut in the garden. The process would also serve to introduce to our notice many beautiful members of the horticultural family with which at present we are unfamiliar; such plants as the gorgeous iris, which grows wild in luxurious profusion in South Africa, or those which abound on the slopes of the Andes in South America.

A Dinner In Mexico.

The dinner began with soup, followed by an array of courses, mostly compounds of things I did not recognise and nearly all very hot with chili peppers, but on the whole palatable. Frijoles (beans) were served just before the dulce. That is a warning that you have had all you are going to eat and to satisfy yourself upon them if you have not had enough of the other things. They were well cooked and good. The bread was in the form of rolls, sweetened and of poor quality—"pan blanco" it is called. It is the characteristic bread, however, of Mexico—when bread is to be had at all. The coffee was of good quality, but, like all Mexican coffee, muddy and very strong. It is burned black in roasting, ground to a powder, boiled and served, grounds and all. You are supposed to drink the grounds.—Outing.

Gas Mantles.

Before using a new incandescent gas mantle, soak it in vinegar, and then let it dry; this increases its light and life.

No Hurry.

He—Then you have decided to accept the proffer of my heart and hand? She—Yes, dear. He—Thanks! You have made me the happiest of men, but we must have some regard for the old maxim and not be married in haste. She—Don't worry about that. I am perfectly willing to wait till next week.—Los Angeles Times.

Weary, Worn Out, Tired

If You Feel Poorly this Spring this Article is worth Considering.

Nothing in life keeps people from advancement like poor health If the nerves are weak, if the stomach liver, bowels or kidneys, fail to work properly, healthy surely suffers. Spring is the hardest time on health — the season when the system calls for active cleansing medicine.

The best plan is to entrust your condition to a physician of reputation like Dr Hamilton, who has had years of experience in compounding cures For the ills and tired feeling of spring Dr Hamilton says nothing is better than Mandrake and Butternut Pills, and this is well proven in the case of James Burton of Lewisdown. "I had grip and it left me very weak. The disease settled in my back and side, which ached day and night. I had a nagging cough. My appetite was all gone. My nerves unstrung. I could not sleep well. I struggled against growing pale, thin and weak—but it was no good. Spring brought depression, overpowering weakness and bad headaches. But my life was spared, simply because I learned of the wonderful merit in Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. The result was marvelous. I gained rapidly, became strong, ruddy, vigorous, perfectly well. I urge every man and woman to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly.

You'll brighten up, have cleaner blood, stronger nerves, better spirits after using Dr Hamilton's Pills. 25c at all dealers. Guaranteed safe, sure, helpful for old and young.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL CLOSES.

Most Successful Meeting Ever Held By International Women.

Toronto, Ont., June 30.—After what is generally admitted to have been the most successful meeting ever held by the International Council of Women, the quinquennial session of that body came to a close yesterday and the delegates from all over the world will soon scatter for their homes.

The meeting has been in progress here since June 18, and many subjects, ranging from needlework to woman's suffrage, have been thoroughly discussed. Perhaps the most important phase of the congress has been the importance attached to the work of the public health section, especially in relation to its warfare against tuberculosis. The Countess of Aberdeen is the leading worker in this department, and her addresses, in which she dealt with the anti-tuberculosis crusade in Ireland, have been the feature of the conference.

Junior Boys—1, S. Henry; 2, Jack Green.

Junior Girls— 1, Rea Potter, 2, Aileen Wade.

Intermediate Boys—1 W. Fears; 2, V. Thorndytke.

Intermediate Girls — 1, Margaret Eaton; 2, Mary Potter.

Senior Wheelbarrow Race—F. Curry and Norman Rae.

Junior Wheelbarrow Race — W. Evans and N. Conover.

ThreeLegged Race — 1, Walter Perks and G. Rankin; 2, N. Rae and E. Currie.

Threading the needle—1, Rea Potter; 2, Gladys Patterson.

High Step and Jump—1, Norman Rae; 2, G. Rankin.

Kindergarten (Consolation Race)—1, A. Hill; 2, Edna Martin; 3, Clarence McKee; 4, Homer Borland.

Capt. White and his crew on the "Otonabee" did everything in their power to give the excursionists a good time. Peterborough was reached on the homewatd trip at eight o'clock.

Bandits Trapped

carrying shotguns and rifles, and each wearing a belt filled with cartridges and a revolver in the holster. They meant fight from the first, and the unfortunate part of the whole affair is that Constable Decker had no other men with him. It is likely that the men would have shown no resistance had there been other men along with the constable.

Mr. Busteed, general superintendent of the western lines division of the C.P.R. said yesterday that he was not prepared to state why Decker had attempted to effect the capture single-handed; probably he had thought to earn the entire reward himself.

Asheroft, B. C., June 29.—One train robber and one special policeman are dead as the result of an encounter last night between part of the posse which was out searching for the hold-up men who stopped the C.P.R. train east of Kamloops a week ago.

At six o'clock last night, a boat was noticed passing Perry's Station, on the Thompson River. At 8.40 o'clock, when the boat was passing Asheroft, it was challenged by Special Policeman Ike Decker. The two men rowed ashore as ordered. As they landed, one drew a revolver, and immediately he made the move to shoot, Decker covered him with his Winchester and fired. The bullet killed the robber instantly.

The second robber opened fire also, and shot Decker dead with the first discharge.

The second man escaped eastward along the railway track pursued by a posse. At eleven o'clock he had not been captured, but there is no chance for him to escape.

There was nothing in the pockets of the dead man to indicate who he was. Decker has been a resident of this district for twenty years.

When passing Perry's Station, the the boat had three men in it.

It will be remembered that in the attempted train robbery over a week ago, the hold-up men tackled the wrong train, and missed their treasure. Over a dozen mounted police, besides special constables, Provincial police, and Thiel detectives, have been on the robbers' trail ever since. A reward of $5,000 is offered for their capture.

Blew Wounded Man's Head Off.

Kamloops, B. C., June 29.—There is no trace of the escaped robber. Bloodhounds and armed posses are scouring the hills south of Asheroft in an effort to locate the bandit who shot and killed Constable Decker. His capture is imminent, as he is on foot, and has no means of hasty retreat. It is expected he will fight to a finish, and he is armed to the teeth.

When the men landed at Asheroft, Constable Decker went down to arrest them. One of the men covered him with a pistol, saying, "We're here now atreat us." A brief parley followed, and both shot about the same time. The banait fell dead with a bullet wound through the neck. The constable was shot above the left thigh. Seeing his companion dead, the other bandit picked up a heavy shotgun and blew off the top of the constable's head. Two other men were arrested later as suspects, they claiming to know the dead robber. The bandits were all fully armed.

Clara Bowes told the police she saw the third robber put ashore about two miles east of Asheroft, and the police suspect another hold-up was on foot.

ied. They were so built that the persons occupying the bunk lay facing each other, with their feet to the room. Between them was a table on which was spread out a complete opium outfit. One person filled the pipe while the other slept. The sleeper was roused, was given the pipe, which he smoked and proceeded to fill for the other, who in the meanwhile had gone to sleep. In some of the bunks white women occupied one half while a Chinaman occupied the other.

GAMBLING TABLES.

The center of the room was crowded with tables of strange gambling devices over which sleepy-eyed Orientals chattered monotonously, breaking away from the game to hit the pipe or to retire to a series of smaller and evidently more private rooms opening on the side of the room.

From these rooms occasionally white women came out, sleepily, clad in half-Chinese, half- English costumes, some of them beautiful women, and watched the play for a while, and then went back to the mysterious side rooms. Over all was a strong smell of opium smoke which was almost overpowering and caused a severe headache.

On the entrance of the reporter a slight atir was made in the crowd of gamblers, and one of their number made enquiries of the guide, who assured him that the reporter was his friend, and was not going to tell about anything he saw.

The same reporter was speaking to Activing Detective Montgomery this morning in regard to the Chinese resorts.

MANY WHITE WOMEN.

"What you saw was quite true," said he. "The white women, for some reason or other, seem to be fascinated by Chinamen, and there are hundreds of them who frequent Chinese resorts in this city. It may sound strange, but the class of women who seem drawn to these Chinamen are of a refined character, and most of them come from good families. I can give no reason for it. I have talked with some of these women, and they say that Chinamen are gentlemen, and treat them generously.

"Yes, there are some young girls in these resorts too, I am sorry to say. They are girls from shops and factories. Most of them are very pretty, and are even more fascinated than the older women. We have often taken them from these places. Sometimes they have gone home, but more often they return and practically spend their lives in the restaurants. Many of them live there all the time, while others make a practice of visiting them every evening. If you wish to see what traffic is done in these places, stand in front of one of these restaurants and watch the crowds that go in.

THE GIRLS ARRAIGNED

The two girls who were arraigned in the police court this morning were twenty years of age, and were well dressed. Ethel Taylor comes from Detroit, while Lavina Brown's home is in Collingwood. They were both remanded for a week in order that the police may have time to inquire into their histories.

PETRIFIED BODY IN CAVE.

Scores of Skeletons Found By Explorers in a Cave.

Cordele, Ga., June 29.—A perfect preserved petrified human form, believed to be a body of an Indian, and numerous skeletons and bones were discovered by an exploring party that ventured far into "Rockhouse" cave, eight miles southeast of this place, yesterday.

Mystery has always attached to this natural underground cavern The party that partly explored it yesterday ventured several hundred feet into a chain of passageways. In the limestone walls a grewsome sightwas presented by the protruding skeletons of scores of human beings. The petrified form weighed several hundred pounds, and it was impossible for the party to remove it.

A Rash Outsider.

—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the American suffragist, said: "Men of that sort —men of that stupid sort —treat us women like little children or pet animals. They make no account of us whatever. They are like old Calhoun White, the negro. Ole Calhoun walked down the main street one morning in his best black broadcloth suit, with a white rose in his buttonhole and cotton gloves on his large hands. "Why, Calhoun said the barber, "are you taking a holiday." "Dish yere," said the old man, in a stately voice, "dish yere am mah golden weddin, sah. Ah'm sallybrathin' hit." "But your wife" said the barberi "is working as usual. I saw her at the tub as I came out. Why isn't she celebrating, too" "Her" said Calhoun angrily. 'She hain't got nuffin' to do with it. She's mah fou'th."

Miss Nielo of Toronto, is visiting in the city.

Postum Cereal Co., Ltd.

Battle Creek, Mich.

Western Canada Wood Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd.

HEAD OFFICE, 638 VIEW ST. VICTORIA, B. C.

Plant Now Under Course of Erection at Quatsina Sound, Vancouver Island.

Asset.

The company have acquired 55,040 acres of Pulp Land on Quatsino Sound, Vancouver Island.

Water Power

In addition to the vast Pulp Limits acquired, the company have also secured a 20,000 inch water record on Marble Creek, at Quatsino Sound, capable of developing from 18,000 to 15,000 h.p. This creek derives its source from three lakes 20 miles in length and is thus permanent the year round.

Capacity of Plant

The plant when fully complete will have a capacity of 600 tons of news and wrapping per week, we are rushing the work along and feel confident that we will have the pulp plant with a weekly capacity of 100 tons in operation by December 1st of this year.

Cost of Manufacture

With our tremendous pulp limits, which enable us to secure our pulp wood at a nominal figure, and splendid water power, the cost of manufacture of news and wrapping paper should not exceed $3.000 per ton. At present news is jobbing in British Columbia at $30.00 per ton. The freight rate in carload lots from Ontario and Quebec being $17.00 per ton.

Local Markets

The local market of the company extends east a thousand miles to Moose Jaw and tributary region. Within the above territory the annual consumption of paper is estimated at a thousand tons exclusive of that used by printers and newspapers. The five daily papers at Victoria and Vancouver alone consume over 100 carloads of paper per year.

Foreign Markets

The foreign markets of the company consist of China, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Hawaii and the Philippines. In 1908 the above countries imported over $10,000,000 worth of wood pulp and paper, principally from Norway, Sweden ,Germany ,Eastern United States and Eastern Canada.

Freight Rates to Orient

A freight rate of from $8.00 to $8.00 per ton can be secured from British Columbia to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia ,on wood pulp and paper as against a rate of $7.00 to $15.00 per ton on the same commodities from Eastern Canada and Europe. Being from 3,000 to 5,000 miles nearer the Oriental market than Eastern Canada or European mills we are not only able to secure a much lower freight rate, but also a lower insurance rate.

Natural Advantages of British Columbia

News and wrapping paper are manufactured principally from Spruce, Hemlock, Balsam and Larch wood, one ton of chemical wood pulp requires approximately two cords of four foot wood. At present Spruce and Hemlock wood is worth from $6.00 to $9.00 per cord, in Eastern Canada; our facilities enable us to secure it at less than $3.00 per cord. In 1908 the American mills were obliged to pay from $9.00 to $15.00 per cord.

Progress of Work

We are proceeding as fast as possible with the work. The erection of the plant has been placed under the exclusive supervision of Mr. Charles H. Pride, of Appleton, Wis., one of the most distinguished authorities on the erection of pulp and paper mills in the United States,having built more than fifty of the leading mills of the country and he is confident at being able to have the pulp mill in operation by December 1st of this year.

Sale of Stock

In offering the prefered stock of this corporation, we do so with a feeling that it is the best industrial stock ever offered for subscription in Western Canada. At present it is impossible to buy stock in the majority of the operating mills of Canada and there is no questio n but that inside of 18 months the stock of this corporation will be selling at a handsome premium; remember the time to buy stock in any corporation is six months before a wheel has been turned, not after it is in operation.

Profits In Pulp and Paper Manufacture

No industry, not even mining itself, has yielded as large and permanent dividends as the manufacture of Wood Pulp and Paper, and there is no reason why the mill which we are now erecting should not pay at least 25 per cent. annual dividends. Under much less favorable conditions, the Eastern Canadian and English mills are paying from 10 to 25 per cent. With our natural advantages, we should be able to make a profit of approximately $15.00 per ton on news paper, $30.00 per ton on Wrapping paper, and $15.00 per ton on box board and pulp board. The Pacific Coast mills of the United States are now making a net profit, after deducting depreciation, operating expenses, bonds, & etc., of approximately $25.00 per ton on wrapping and $15.00 per ton on box and pulp boards, and this after paying from $4.00 to $8.00 per cord for wood. In 1908 the Laurentide Paper Co. showed a profit of $351,695. The Kellner-Partington Pulp and Paper Co. showed a gross profit last year of $1,257,285. The official United States Government Report, issued at Washington, D. C., July 25th, 1907, Bulletin 89, showed that the mills of the State of Oregon made a profit of 20 2-3 per cent. of the value of goods over all expenses, of 19 per cent. The gross profits of the International Pa'Per Co., for the year ending June 30th, 1908, amounted to $1,675,000.

Under date of February 10th, 1908, Mr. Herman Ridder, President of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, filed charges against the Paper Trust of the United States, and in his disposition to Hon. Chas. J. Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, said:

"News print paper mills that are not entirely modern are now making paper at figures that show a profit of more than $20.00 per ton on the paper prices just announced by the International Paper Co., $32.00 per ton. In other words, for paper delivered, say, in New York, up-to-date mills are making a profit of more than 60 per cent, on the cost of manufacture, delivery and storage, and they are making a profit of more than 40 per cent, upon a reasonable allowance for the capital required for a modern plant."

With our close proximity to the Oriental market, there is no reason why we should not make, conservatively, 30 per cent, more dividends than the Eastern Canadian or American Mills. In 1908, Australia imported over 60,000 tons of News principally from Eastern Canada and Europe. Why should we let this great revenue of paper go to Eastern Canada, Eastern United States, and Europe, when we are in a position to control it ourselves? Every dollar of paper used in the Orient should be furnished from Western Canada. With sufficient mills to produce the goods, what country is to a better position to control the trade of the Orient than British Columbia. Not only are we able to manufacture News and Wrapping Paper from $2.00 to $3.00 per ton lower than Eastern Canada and American mills, but we are from 2,000 to 3,000 miles nearer the great Oriental markets. The demand for News and Wrapping Paper is gradually increasing, and, within ten years, China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand will be absolutely dependent upon this Providence for its supply of pulp and paper. We know the big dividends that the paper mills of the world are paying, and with our immense timber limits, covering 55 square miles, which assures a permanent supply of wood at a nominal cost, there is no reason why we should not pay even larger dividends than the present operating mills.

The preferred stock is entitled to a cumulative dividend of 7 per cent., payable before any dividend is paid on the ordinary stock. After 7 per cent. has been paid upon both the preferred and ordinary shares, both stocks thereafter participate equally.

DISLIKES CHARITY

PRINCESS VARAQUA OF THE MOHAWKS REBUKES WHITES.

Redskins Learning Vice—They are Beginning to Steal and Drink.

Toronto, June 30.—"You ask me about the Indian. Well I will tell you some things.

And Prinsess Viraqua, a proud daughter of the Mohawk Indian tribe, and who lives near Oakville, Ont., came before the meeting in the Philanthropy section and spoke.

"You ask why the Indian wears so many colors. It is because his sodl is so beautiful, just like the flowers."

"We were a true religious people once. We went into the silence when we desired to find the light. We fasted a great deal when any great problem was to be considered.

NO INSANE INDIANS.

"The Indians I will have you remember don't go insane. There are no monstrosities among them. No feeble-minded."

"But we are fast learning the vice of the white man and woman."

"We have learned to steal. We have learned to drink."

"When I hear the word Charity, it makes me sick."

"In New York I have seen many needy people go down to your charity societies and return empty-handed, and without a word of cheer.

READY TO LEARN.

Ready to Learn.

"Would that be the way with the Indian. No. His door is always open, ready to receive the stranger, the needy and to comfort and feed them."

"I went to another Indian tribe anywhere in the world I would be treated like a Queen."

"You remember when the Prince of Wales came over here, the Bear Clan of the Mohawks adopted him, and they were his faithful friends. A little while ago they sent him a beautiful silk and leather belt, all worked by the hands of our dedoted men."

"When I went to school (we were given such poor instruction that when the teacher said "Put down two and carry one," I thought he meant my slate."

"The Indian's Council is as dignified as any Parliament of yours."

"But I am most concerned for our Indian girls. They are in just as much peril as your white girls. I want them to be better instructed and better protected."

BURIED ALIVE BY BROTHER.

Victim of 12-year-old Slayer Interred After Being Wounded.

Modesto, Cal., June 30.—Twelve-year-old Cecil Hopkins, self-confessed slayer of his 6-year-old brother Theodore, made a statement to the coroner to-day that strengthens that official's belief that the victim whose body was found yesterday, was buried alive on the hill where he told of the murder, Cecil ate candy and apparently failed to realize the gravity of the situation.

According to his story, he killed Theodore while the parents were absent from home. The two quarreled over their luncheon, and Cecil drove his brother from the house and shot him. Fearing the consequences of his deed when the parents should return, he dug a grave in the sand and buried his brother. The cramped position of the arms and the fact that the victim's mouth was filled with sand tend to prove that the child was buried alive.

Scientists to Meet.

Winnipeg, Man., June 30.—Preliminary preparations for the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science in Winnipeg next August are nearing completion. Under the ruling that all papers to be read at the meeting should be in the hands of the local secretaries not later than today, the program will soon be ready and will be forwarded to London to receive the sanction of the home officials. Reports from London state that many of the most distinguished servants of Great Britain and the colonies will be here for the meeting, which promises to be the greatest gathering of scientific men ever held on the North American continent.

SENIOR CITY LEAGUE.

The Teams are all in Good Shape For Saturday's Games.

All our teams in the Senior City League are in the best of shape for the important games this Saturday at Riverside Park, and the fans will undoubtedly see the best ballof the season. With this almost a certainty there is no reason why there should not be a record-breaking crowd present. The league is handing out a good article and should be more generously patronized than it has been so far this season.

The Strathcona and Park teams clash in the first game at two o'clock and there is much speculation over the result. The improvement shown by the Straths last week has boosted their stock considerably, but then on side of one innings the Baptists played fine ball against the T.A.S., so that no last Saturday's form of teams look to be very evenly matched.

The second game will be the T.A.S. and Wise Eads fame, each of them bringing together the two leading teams of the League, and therefore should be hard fought and interesting all the way. Manager Osborne is confident that his team will make the Abstainers play faster ball than they have yet shown to beat the Westerners On the other hand the T.A.S. state that they have never been forced to extend themselves yet, but that they will Saturday, and are prepared to dish out any kind of ball that may be needed to win out.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.

Drugs on Sunday When Sold in a Drug Store.

Toronto, June 30—"I think I can present lots of evidence to show that cigars and tobacco are drugs."

So said J. Walter Curry, K.C., in the police court this morning.

He was counsel for Daniel Alger, charged with breach of the Lord's Day Act, by selling cigars on Sunday. Alger is employed at a pharmacy at 68 Wellesley street, corner of Church street.

"I'm not so sure that tobacco is not a drug," said Magistrate Kingsford. "I am pretty sure that cigars contain a drug. But whether they are listed as drugs that may be legally sold on Sunday is a question."

"I think I can show your worship," said Mr. Curry, "that tobacco is a drug according to the British Pharmacopeia."

Mr. Curry intends to fight the case on this pharmaceutical technicality. He will present evidence along this line when the case is tried a week from today.

T.A.S. Picnic a Big Success 4,000 Persons Made Merry

T.A.S. Members and Their Friends Turn Out in Large Numbers—Not a Single Accident to Mar the Pleasure

Over four thousand people spent Dominion Day at T.A.S. Park. The occasion marked the tenth annual picnic of the Total Abstainence Society, and proved the best, largest and most successful yet held under auspices of the society, both from a financial and social standpoint.

The steamers Water Lily and Rainbow were xchartered by the T. A.S. members for the occasion, and the immense throngs of excursionists were conveyed to and from the park without the slightest hitch, the boats making regular trips from 8 30 a.m., until late in the evening.

The picnic grounds presented an exceedingly attractive appearance including a splendid dancing pavilion, at which a special program of music was rendered without interruption, many large booths and tastily arranged tables.

Dr. O'Brien, director of the Temperance Society, and under whose supervision the affair was carried out, expressed himself as highly satisfied at the success of the picnic, and particularly with the splendid work of the various committees who carried out every detail so efficiently. The young ladies in charge of the refreshments and tables labored zealously and indefatigably, and to them great credit is due for the dainty and tempting repasts served both at dinner and supper. The ground committee, boat committee, sports committee, and booth committee performed their duties well and in a highly satisfactory manner.

The sports took place on the base ball grounds at the conclusion of a rattling game between the Abstainers' star nine and the West Ends, and prizes were awarded to the various winners. Probably the most exciting feature of the day was the launch races and the tug-of-war, which took place in the evening, thousands witnessing same from the banks of the river and cheering as the boats passed.

Beyond a shadow of doubt, the affair was the most successful of it's kind ever carried out in this vicinity, nothing being left undone to make the day a jolly one for all the guests large and small, old and young.

Bishop O'Connor and other clergymen of the parish were present during the day, as well as many out-of-town guests from Toronto and other places.

A more perfect day never dawned, The skies were cloudless throughout the day, and while the sun was hot in town, the temperature was ideal at the beautiful pleasure resort on the Otonabee.

Better Chinese Death than the Divorce Court

MRS. WONG SUN YUE.

Special Correspondence.

San Francisco, Cal., June 30.—Mrs. Wong Sun Yue, this city, is a woman who touches two of the big news events of the day—the Katherine Gould divorce case and the anti-Chinese agitation which followed the Elsie Sigel murder.

Mrs. Yue is a sister of Mrs. Gould, and the happy wife of a Chinese curio merchant. She lauds the Chinese as husbands on one hand, and gives a sisterly slap to Mrs. Gould, who refused to see her on her last visit to New York.

"The Chinese are the best and kindest husbands in the world," says Mrs. Wong. "And for myself, I would rather be cut up and packed in a trunk by a Chinaman that be tortured in divorce court."

The Busiest Candidate Reaps the Best Harvest of Subscriptions—Votes Count Less After Today

There will be no long contest story this morning. Usually it is much to the advantage of the candidates to read every word published about the contest. In the stories appear many hints that you can make good use of. It is in them that we explain to you all about the method of extensions which may count you so high, and in them you find many other valuable bits of information; but for this time we feel that you cannot spend your time to such advantage in any way as in securing the subscriptions that will count you higher tonight than at any future time during the contest.

Right here we will say "Good-bye" until Monday. Start right out now after that person who may give you a subscription. When you have secured that set out for another, and don't stop until you have done your utmost. Your reward will be in proportion to your activity.

Interesting Comments of a Very Charming Bride

While Sight Seeing in Peterborough for a Few Hours

A friend of The Times tells us of an amusing experience that he had yesterday morning with a young couple passed through Peterborough on their honeymoon.

As an old friend of the young people it fell to his share to do the honors of the town during their brief stay in the city, therefore he decided to take them for a spin in his new Touring car. Passing through Hunter street, they noted the Morning Times building, their attention was at once attracted by the handsome Willis piano in The Times, the show window, which bore the sign, "Second Grand Prize in The Morning Times Great $3,000 Prize Voting Contest." "What a magnificent instrument," cried the bride. "Jack, that's just what I want in our apartment when we go back to New York. How on earth can The Times afford to give away such a costly piano?"

Our friend smiled. "Well," he said, "you see The Morning Times is a pretty strong paper in these parts. What it says goes. People have been used to getting good things from it and now it is giving them the best."

When the jewelry stores were reached the bride, woman-like, wanted to look at all the pretty things, and at Sanderson's 367 George St., she saw more signs, and along with them diamond rings and gold watches, which delighted her so much that the groom said laughingly, "I believe you want every one of them" —and the bride acknowledged that one or all of them would make her very happy.

"The Times certainly is going some," said the young man, and just then the auto was purposely halted in front of the Times office, and the visitors saw a Oldsmobile Touring Car in which they were enjoying themselves so much. "First Grand Prize—The Morning Times," ran the legend.

An exclamation of astonishment broke from both. "That settles it," cried the groom. "I stay right here, my dear, and enter the contest for that car. Good-bye to your dreams of the far west for the next three weeks.

"And here," said our friend, calling their attention to the charming ladies' desks, and inviting Morris chairs in Belleghem's furniture store "are trifles that may serve to beautify your home and make your stay with us most comfortable."

"I'll just buy one of those papers, thank you," called the young man to a passing newsboy, and he added, "I'll take it home with me to show some people I know in New York that there is enterprise in the newspaper world outside of Manhattan, and plenty of it, too.

When their guide dropped in on us after seeing the honeymooners off on the C. P. R. we [illegible] with pardonable pride to the [illegible] he gave us of his guests. We [illegible] to be appreciated, and this [illegible] such a spontaneous tribute that it warmed the cockles of our heart considerably.

These strangers left last night wishing they could stay and have the fun of entering the contest.

You are going to stay, and you are going to enter the contest, too, if you properly appreciate the great opportunity now offered to you. why not [illegible] so today and win one of the prizes that seemed so desirable to our visitors?

Then he told them that they could win a trip to Seattle Exposition and Vancouver, B.C. They could hardly make up their mind to leave, so eager did they grow to win one of these travels.

New Plans for Bridge at Smith St. are Ready

New plans and specifications have been prepared by City Engineer Hay, and passed upon by Engineer W. J. Francis of Montreal, for the bridge across Smith street. These have been accepted by the Board of Works, and a bylaw will be prepared and submitted to the council on Monday night, and then presented to the ratepayers to vote upon.

A report was received on the Smith street bridge from City Engineer Hay enclosing the estimates as follows;

Bridge, concrete, complete ...$25,000
Sidewalks for bridge, concrete 6,500

This does not include land damages.

This bridge is for 18-ft. roadway with two sidewalks.

A report was received from Mr. W. J. Francis, C.E., of Montreal, on Mr. T. A. S. Hay's plans on the proposed new concrete bridge at Smith street. He strongly recommended the concrete bridge and highly commended Mr. Hay's plans. He spoke strongly in favor of a concrete bridge over the street structures. The former are permanent, with practicallyt no maintenance and also economical in first cost. The concrete work of today is far superior to that done years ago. A concrete bridge such as Mr. Hay's plans call for will be permanent abd will never cause any further trouble.

As Mr. Francis is an engineer of considerable reputatopn, and whose ability is well known in this city, the Board of Works has decided to adopt the plans and submit the by-ly to the ratepayers at as early a date as possibl. The probability is that at the council meeting on Monday night it will receive its first two readings and will then be placed before the people as soon as the law will allow.

It will be noticed that the new bylaw will call for a lesser amount than the one voted on last January. This is because the bridge will be smaller. The roadway will be only 18 feet instead of 24 feet. It will, however be just as strong and just as durable. It will be of solid concrete from the rock bottom to the railing along the sihfes, and will therefore be a handsome structure, and a credit to the city.

In the construction of this bridge the committee will be particular to see that the contractor is a first-class concrete man himself, or that he employes a first-class man to superintend the concrete work.

The street extension bylaw with the cost of filling in the water front will have to be prepared and passed on Monday night so that it can be submitted to the ratepayers at the same time as the Smith St. bridge bylaw. This bylaw asks for $21,500, and the city solicitor was authorized to prepare a bylaw for this purpose and have it ready for Monday night's meeting.

DOG BYLAW.

People Will Have to Take Better Care of Their Canines.

Ald. Turner, chairman of the Legal Committee, brought up the matter of the dog bylaw, at the Legal Committee which he said was not sufficiently stringent to protect people's property. He said he liked dogs and all dumb animals, but the people were entitled to protection. He thought a whole lot of the dogs running at large could be disposed of to advantage. He spoke of the damage that is done by dogs to lawns and flowers! He thought that there should be a higher license fee and that all be kept confined or allowed out on chains only.

Bad Crossings will be Put in Proper Condition

Since so many of the aldermen have been getting automobiles and have bumped over the crossings and the holes and rough places in the roads they are beginning to realize and even appreciate the many complaints made by the citizens in the past. The Board of Works met last night and there was quite a dust kicked up because some of the crossings are not quite suitable for automobile and bicycle riding. The result is that they will be fixed up.

The Board of Works also took up several other matters of a minor nature, including the sidewalk on Lansdowne street. Those people will hve to go without a walk in future. They have their fences on the street line and will not take them back, hence no walk can be laid.

On motion the chairman was given with Albert Xeloges, to take over the street watering contract for Ashburnham, in place of Geo. McClellan, who got the contract originally.

The sidewalk on Lansdowne street is in a very bad condition. The engineer recommends that the walk be torn up and cinders laid. It is impossible to lay a new walk as the people are all outside the street line and refuse to move back.

It was moved that the walk be torn up and if possible to secure cinders that a cinder path be laid, if not that nothing be laid. This was carried.

Mr. A. H. Stratton asked for a wider approach to his property so that he can get his auto in and out. The engineer suggested that as a great many changes would be necessary around the city for auto owners that the city do the job if the property owners pay the whole cost. This was left in the hands of the chairman to grant.

BAD CROSSINGS.

Ald. Bradburn drew attention to the very bad construction of some of the crossings on Charlotte street. He said the crossings were a disgrace to the street and will rack every auto and rig that goes over them.

Ald. Duncan said that there should be a surface drain on Simcoe, Hunter, King and Charlotte streets down to the river and have the roads fixed up right as the money being spent now is only wasted.

Ald. Bradburn and Duncan moved that some action be taken at once to improve the crossings on Stewart, Rubidge and Perry streets on Charlotte street.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Duncan that the sidewalk on Bethune street north of Smith street be built as soon as possible This was seconded by Ald. Bradburn and carried.

RAIN IS NEEDED.

Pasture is Rapidly Drying Up and Milk Supply is Short.

What about the milk supply? The cheese men are very anxious just now. The past two weeks of hot, dry weather has been very hard on the pasture and the milk supply will therefore be very seriously affected. This means a heavy loss to the community as the dairy industry is one of the most important. The district most affected is immediately around the city and nsouth of it. Other sections appear to have had more rain. What is wanted here and wanted very badly is rain, and lots of it and at once. Everyone is suffering from it.

Poultry Meeting.

As last Thursday was a holiday the regular meeting of the Peterborough Poultry Association was postponed until next Wednesday evening. I will be held in their hall above Mr. C. N. Brown's feed store. It should be a very interesting session, and the members are requested to turn out in full force to hear Mr Calender's very instructive paper on "Mid-summer Care of Chickens." Several matters of interest will also be taken up.

No Claims Paid Unless City is Really Liable

The Legal Committee met yesterday afternoon and took up a few of the matters before them and settled them all, so that if their report is adopted by the council on Monday night they will have a clean slate for next month.

Esther Torpey on May 9th last, fell on the sidewalk on Toger street and received such injuries as to necessiate her going to the hospital. She put in a claim for damages, and her solicitor wrote the council.

The city engineer reported that the sidewalk was in good repair and that the city was not to blame. The city solicitor also reported that she had no claim.

The committee therefore decided to take no action on the advice of city solicitor's advice.

A later letter was received from Mr. Gordon offering to settle for $500 or a writ would be issued. This made no difference however.

A letter was received from the Peterborough Cereal Co., in reference to their assessment which is fixed at $10,000 on condition that they employ a certain number of hands. The place was destroyed by fire and the company wanted their fixed assessment continued.

The city solicitor however stated that they must fyle the necessary declaration that they have complied with the bylaw. If not the fixed assessment must cease.

The committee therefore decided to write to the company asking for the declaration.

The Kennedy case for damages was taken up again. The committee received a number of letters from him, but the committee decided to follow the solicitor's advice, which was that Mr. Kennedy had no claim against the city and that no action be taken.

The aldermen had a lengthy discussion. Ald. Metheral thought Mr. Kennedy should be given something. Finally he moved that Mr. Kennedy be given $50 without prejudice. There was no seconder so that no change was made.

How Peterboro People Spent the Holiday

Dominion Day was a real holiday in Peterborough. A good half of the population was out of the city, going via the railways or by boat. A great many more had private picnics in a quiet secluded spot while the rest spent a pleasant day at home. It was really a holiday only a few of the building trades worked but that was all. There were no attractions to keep the people in the city and they were free to do as they pleased. A large number took in the celebration at Lakefield and had a great time. A special train brought them home about 11 o'clock that evening.

The Inthon Bible class ran its second annual excursion to Jubilee Point on the holiday per steamer Otonabee. The boat took a big crowd down and every one had a thoroughly enjoyable time. The sail back in the moonlight was delightful and the day ended all too soon.

A big crowd of Peterborough people spent the day with friends in other towns and cities. The railway traffic was very heavy and this city did its share to load every train. Besides those who went away quite a number came into the city.

The Bible class of St. Luke's Sunday school had a most enjoyable outing to Stony Lake. They went up by steamer and took a good crowd.

Terrific Flood! Wet Feet Season Now on Mars

Drawing show cold, wet and dry seasons on Mars. The snow areas are the curved white sections at the north in the two globes to the right. Note how the canals have widened and lengthened in the middle globe.

Special Correspondence.

Washington, July 1.—Now as never before astronomers at the government observatory can see the wonders of Mars. Starting the first of July, the flood period on the planet begins, and the man at the telescope actually can see the water as it rushes down one whole side of Mars through the planet's wonderful canals.

Mars is getting as close to the earth as it will be in many years.

In the pictures the dark area shows the watered parts of the planet.

In December the snow cap is large and most of the crop space is waste land. In July, when the sun's heat melts masses of ice and snow, the water irrigates the whole to land through the monster canals the Martians built.

By September the water has largely disappeared from the surface.

Note the great curve the dark or watered section takes in June and July. The melted snow forms small oceans, probably the size of several American states.

Just now, the astronomers assert, the green reflection from the growing crops of the Martians plainly is to be seen through the telescope, though 35,000,000 miles away. They are filled with wonder at the sight, and regret that they cannot talk to Mars.

What She Saw

By ADELIA DURAN.

Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.

Winona glanced out of the window at the crystal avenue and watched the April dusk descend. The streets began to fill with the usual Saturday night traffic, and the whis and clatter of flying carriages and motor cars mingled with the strident ringing of car bells and the shouts of importune cabmen.

Abruptly a big black automobile like a giant tarantula slid up to the curbing in front of the hotel opposite and stopped. A man jumped out and extended his hand to the young woman who had risen to follow. There was something instantly familiar about the straight, square shoulders under the cape of the long black coat and the way his gray alpine was drawn down over his eyes.

Winona caught her breath and involuntarily stood up. Yes! It was ORDERED HER TO TAKE THEM DIRECTLY TO THE POSTOFFICE.

Richard Grayson, and he had not even glanced in her direction.

The lights of the street were bright enough for her to see that his companion was a wondrously pretty woman, that they were laughing and talking merrily, apparently oblivious to surroundings, and that she took his arm with a plainly affectionate gesture as they went into the hotel together.

For some minutes afterward Winona stood motionless, a pain at her heart which she dared not define even to herself. There was the brilliant flash of light in the apartment directly opposite. With a little gasp of astonishment she saw young Grayson stoop haughtily and kiss the girl. An older man was standing at a little distance, and she recognized him instantly as Dick's father. He, too, laughed and came up, saluting the girl fondly on either cheek.

It was the bride, she knew, for that was the bridal suit. She had been there herself once to call upon a girl friend who had married and was in Washington on her wedding journey.

With her face on fire Winona turned away and went to her desk in a corner of the room. She took up two letters. The first read:

Dear Nona—May I come tomorrow evening for a few moments? I have something important that I want to tell you. Say, yes, will you not? Sincerely,

DICK.

This, then, was what he had meant to tell her of—his marriage. Her brief dream of happiness collapsed like a house of cards. She choked back a sudden rise of inward bitterness and unfolded the other letter. It ran:

Dearest Winnie—Do run down to Palm Beach and stay with us in our dear little bungalow. Jack has invited a friend, somebody from somewhere, and I am depending upon you, dear girl, to help me out. Let me know by return mail. Beseechingly CLAUDIA.

Without hesitation Winona sat down and took up her pen, jabbing it viciously into the ink.

My Dear Richard—Sorry, but it will not be possible for me to receive you tomorrow evening, as I am leaving town for some time. Yours in haste,

WINONA PAULDING.

She sealed and directed this and rang for her maid. Then she dashed a hasty acceptance of Claudia Spence's invitation and sat staring through the window at the black vacuum of night.

When the maid came in she thrust the two letters into her hand and ordered her to take them directly to the postoffice. She crossed the room to a cheval glass. The face that looked back at her was youthful and delicately lovely.

She was blond and patrician, with just enough pink in her cheeks to reflect her face from pallor. Her hair was pale gold, but shining. That other girl was pretty, too, but in a rich, dark fashion that belonged to the south.

Dick's mother was from Dixie, and she recalled, with a pang, that he was a worshiper of southern women. A little sob shook her. She turned away, covering her face with her hands. Hot tears sprang through her quivering lashes, but she dashed them away in self contempt and went into the next room to pack her trunk.

She reached Palm Beach eighteen hours later. Her courage had rallied amazingly under the stimulating change of scene, and she felt almost happy again as they drove home through borders of sun kissed palm and palmetto.

An hour afterward Winona emerged on the fussy, squat little piazza of the bungalow, radiant in a gauzy gown of pink liberty chiffon. Mrs. Spence caught her by the hand and drew her up to the small coterie already assembled and waiting for her.

"Mr. Grayson, Miss Paulding," she said conventionally.

Winona started, flushed, paled and poised herself admirably. She held out her hand. Dick had risen and was pressing her fingers with elaborate solicitude. But his eyes were red with excitement and he subdued his voice to hide its unsteadiness.

The group fell into conversation. Then, two by two, they drifted away, leaving them together, alone. The moon had come up, flooding everything with its magic white light till it was as clear as day.

Young Grayson looked at Winona, and she met his glance with an indignant flash of her eyes.

"What made you run away from me, Nona?" he asked gravely.

"You! Why, I was not even dreaming of you," she retorted, with pink cheeks.

"Evidently. That is why I asked you the question."

"You have forfeited all right to ask me questions of any sort," she flung back unguardedly and bit her lips when it was too late.

"Winona! What do you mean by that?" His eyes held hers dominantly, and she found her lips framing the words despite herself.

"That other woman—that—that—your wife!" She blurted it out in sheer desperation at last.

"Ah!" And, considering the gravity of the situation, her companion did a most remarkable thing—he laughed uproariously. When his mirth had somewhat subsided he bent over and caught her little hands in his big ones and held them. His words fell rapidly.

"The dear old governor took it into his head to marry a second time when down in Richmond last month. An urgent telegram called him back to Washington on business, and he was forced to leave her behind. As luck would have it, the very day he was scheduled to arrive he was taken with the grip. I had to go to the train to meet the lady, while he remained in the apartment to receive her."

He paused a moment for breath. Then he went on: "I found your note in my box about 10 o'clock. It hurt me, and it made me angry too. I put down everything and took the first train south in response to a pressing invitation from Jack."

A swift little sob of relief escaped Winona's lips. She looked up with luminous eyes. The color surged into her face.

"But—but we were never more than friends. There was nothing—I—you—there never was anything between us." She finished with a flash of the old coquetry. Her lips were still parted—scarlet, humid, tremulous. Young Grayson made no effort to resist temptation.

"But there was going to be—there is, and there always will be!" A step sounded on the gravel walk. "Answer me—quick!"

There was.

A Very Secret Drawer.

"A secret drawer is sometimes very hard to locate in a large cabinet," said a dealer in curios. "I had such a piece of furniture in the store one winter and knew the drawer was there from a reference to it in an old inventory, but in spite of all my efforts I couldn't discover just where it was. I concluded that the spring must be concealed somewhere about the very ornate carving which ornamented the sides, but it escaped my scrutiny until one day when I had a bit of inspiration. Such drawers are usually made of sheet steel both for security and on account of its thinness, and I simply passed a small pocket compass up and down before the carving. At one certain point the needle, just as I had anticipated, was deflected, and I knew I had at last hit on the right spot. I located it within a few inches and then pushed and prodded every projection with the point of a darning needle until something gave way and out jumped the drawer. It was very cleverly masked at the edges by the curves of the pattern, and nobody in the world would suspect its existence. I had hoped that I might find something of value in it, but I was disappointed. It was quite empty."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The End of the World.

London suffered from several earthquake shocks in 1761, and prophecies of the total destruction of the city were rife. The London Chronicle says:

"April 5 was the date named for the catastrophe, and for days before the roads from town were thronged with the vehicles of those who were seeking safety in flight in spite of the threat of one of the papers of the day to publish the names of all such cowards. Hyde park being the most popular camping ground.

"But nothing ever to got on the nerves of Europe as the coming of the first thousandth year of the Christian era. The churches were thronged, the houses deserted, and all good Christians slept in the open in readiness for that end of the world which was expected to come at the proper date. The end of the world has had many prophecies to its discredit.

"And people who were nervous about Mother Shipton's prophecy—

"And the world to an end shall come
In eighteen hundred and eighty-one—

"are still alive and criticising the rhyme and the reason."—Chicago News.

Laziness.

"Laziness is responsible for too much of the misery we see about us," said a clergyman. "It is all very well to blame alcohol for this misery, to blame oppression and injustice, but to what heights might we not all have climbed but for our laziness? We are too much like the supernumerary in the drama," he went on, "who had to enter from the right and say, 'My lord, the carriage waits.'

"'Look here, super,' said the stage manager one night, 'I want you to come on from the left instead of the right after this, and I want you to transpose your speech. Make it run hereafter, "The carriage waits, my lord."'

One Was Enough.

The British academy once had printed a few copies of an important work for presentation to some foreigners who, from their prominence in the scientific world, were best entitled to be honored with the gift. Professor Airy, the astronomer royal, was requested to make a selection of the names. A few days after he had sent in his list he was informed by the secretary of the admiralty that "my lords" were struck by the number of unknown names included and that they wished to make an inquiry on the subject. Airy asked the secretary for some specifications as to the names referred to.

"Well, as an example," said the secretary, "here is the name of Professor C. F. Gauss of Gottingen. Who is he?"

"Gauss is one of the greatest mathematicians of the age and stands among the two or three most eminent masters in physical astronomy now living. Who else do you wish to know about?"

"No one else. That will do," replied the secretary.

What Man Owes to Birds.

"It should be realized," said a naturalist, "that without birds to hold in check the insects vegetable life soon would cease and life for man would become impossible upon the earth. Birds are nature's check to the amazing power of insects to increase. If insect life were allowed free course it would soon overpower plant life, and therefore animal life, including that of man, would be impossible. This is an astounding conclusion, but it is the conclusion of science. If the birds were gone very soon the leaves would disappear from the trees, and the limbs would be festooned with the webs of caterpillars or with masses of their nests. These would move from tree to tree, increasing by the million as they advanced. In the course of a few seasons there would be no trees. In the fields other species of insects would destroy the grass and the grain and all vegetable life, and the ground would be as if a sea of devouring months had passed over it."

The Forbidden Fruit.

The botanical curiosities of the island of Ceylon are replete with varied interest. One of them is "the forbidden fruit," or "Eve's apple tree." Its native name is diwi kadura, kadura signifying "forbidden" and diwi "tigers." The flower of this extraordinary production is said to emit a fine scent. The color of the fruit, which hangs from the branches in a very peculiar and striking manner, is very beautiful, being orange on the outside and a deep crimson within. The fruit itself presents the appearance of having had a piece bitten out of it. This circumstance, together with the fact of its being a deadly poison, led the Mohammedans on their first discovery of Ceylon, which they assigned as the site of paradise, to represent it as the forbidden fruit of the garden of Eden, for, although the finest and most tempting in appearance of any, it had been impressed, such was their idea, with the mark of Eve's having bitten it to warn men from meddling with a substance possessing such noxious properties.

It Didn't Fall Out.

"I see your hair is falling out, sir," remarked the hairdresser, who was getting ready to work the hair tonic idea on the customer.

"You don't see anything of the sort," rejoined his victim. "What you see is the sequel to a falling out between Mrs. Cudgers and myself."—London Answers.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & So Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and musous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Catarrhozone

Physicians boldly state that every requirement of a perfect cure for Catarrhal diseases is fulfilled in Catarrhozone, and on this account it is prescribed by almost every intelligent doctor.

It is the most powerful antiseptic known. When the lungs are filled with its germ-killing vapor the microbes which cause and maintain the unhealthy condition of the mucous membrane die immediately. Disease germs cannot exist where Catarrhozone is used.

Although very penetrating, Catarrhozone is a soothing and healing treatment. It quickly heals the raw spots and dislays irritation and congestion of the mucous membrane.

When using Catarrhozone you don't have to wait all day for relief; it comes with every breath taken through the inhaler. Head and throat are cleared and cleansed almost at once. Croupings in the throat, headache, coughing, and spitting, and all other disagreeable symptoms of catarrh are banished by a few days' use of this superior remedy.

Catarrhal diseases of every description yield without much difficulty to Catarrhozone. When used for Bronchitis, Lung Trouble and Colds, it affords not only instant relief, but cures in a very short time.

Croup, Whooping Cough and Winter Flu simply won't live any time if Catarrhozone is inhaled four times daily, and as a safeguard for Pneumonia and Consumption it has no equal.

Better get a Catarrhozone Inhaler; use it occasionally, and you won't have a cough or cold in the head or catarrh. These afflictions can be prevented by Catarrhozone as well as cured. Complete outfit, full two months' treatment, costs $1. Small size, 50 cents. Sold by all druggists and N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

BUFFALO FOLLOWS SUIT.

A referendum is to be taken of adopting government by commission. The system was inaugurated in Galveston, Texas, after the great disaster which overtook that city some years ago, and has since been adopted by many other cities, including Des Moines, whose adaptation of the plan it is sought to introduce to Buffalo. A very important feature of the Des Moines plan, which distinguishes it from the oriental Galveston plan, is the recall. This has received a more practical test in Los Angeles than anywhere else. It should be noted that in nearly six years Los Angeles has had occasion to apply to the recall only once — once in the case of a councilman and once to get rid of an offending mayor. It succeeded in both cases and few dispute the justice of the people's judgment. On one other occasion the mere threat of the recall operated to prevent an act by the city council which was much against the public interest, though it was of a nature common in cities governed under the ordinary political methods. Des Moines also has had occasion to threaten some officials with the recall, but the threat was sufficient and it had to be made only once.

IMPERIAL NAVY.

Lord Charles Beresford was one of the last speakers at the British Imperial Press Conference, and also one of the most important. Indeed, if his hearers of the colonial press take up his suggestion and push it to adoption, as they seem not unlikely to do, his address may surpass in practical importance all the other proceedings of the conference, for it will in that case mark a new epoch in the history of the British Empire, and also in the naval history of the world. This, briefly stated, is his logic: The maintenance of the two-power—or twice one-power—standard in the navy is essential. But it is impossible for the United Kingdom alone to maintain it, while it is possible for the empire as a whole to do so. Therefore, all the five nations of the empire must join in the work. There must be one homogeneous navy, with all its parts interchangeable, but it must be of quintuple origin. The United Kingdom will continue to provide the major part of it, but the Dominion of Canada, the Commonwealth of Australia, the Dominion of New Zealand and the Union of South Africa must each provide a proportionate part.

This reasoning is apparently sound. We suppose that there are few if any thoughtful observers who impress that the United Kingdom can single handed maintain the two-power standard. We pointed out the other day the fact that a few years hence, according to the programme now adopted, the second naval power of Europe will have about sixty first-class battleships. Are we to suppose that the United Kingdom can by that time provide itself with one hundred and twenty? Germany is now spending about 11 per cent more for naval construction than Great Britain is. At that rate, how can the latter country hope to make itself to keep her navy twice as powerful as the former's? Lord Charles Beresford is right. The thing cannot be done. Yet all seem to be agreed that the two-power standard must be secured and maintained if the empire is to be safeguarded. Then the conclusion is inevitable that the empire itself, in all its chief constituent parts, must assume the responsibility of self-protection and no longer leave the whole burden to the home country.

Why not? Here is Canada, with a population of 6,000,000, with a treasury revenue of $80,000,000 a year, with a foreign commerce of $650,000,000 a year, with manufactures of a value of $1,500,000,000 a year, and with shipping of 700,000 tons. Those are figures worthy of a very considerable nation. But under the head of "Defence" what do the year books tell us? Merely that Canada has permanent garrison of 3,000 men and an organized militia of 54,000. Suppose, however, that she had a navy proportioned to her size, wealth and commerce. Her tonnage is almost as great as that of Australia-Hungary, and her foreign trade is two-thirds as powerful as Australia-Hungary's. Australia has a population of about 4,250,000, commerce of $375,000,000 and shipping of nearly 400,000 tons. But for defence? Well, there is a naval militia of about 1,800 men, using vessels provided by commerce of $200,000,000 and shipping the United Kingdom. New Zealand has only about 1,000,000 population, ping of 135,000 tons. The Union of South Africa, now forming, has a population of 6,250,000 and commerce valued at $715,000,000 a year. Suppose that these four nations, with 17,500,000 inhabitants, should contribute to an imperial navy in the same ratio that the United Kingdom does.

INS AND OUTS

Canada might contribute an air ship or two to help the British navy. Wind is one of the elements in aerial navigation.

Twenty Canadian politicians estimated to be worth $50,000,000. Some of the others are not worth taking about.

One man says that in 1912 Bryan will be President of the United States, and Borden Premier of Canada. Two B or not two B?

The Review says that a good wife is the sun of a worthy husband's life. Perhaps she makes it hot for him.

The Globe says that the undertakers of the city have formed a combination to advance the price of funerals. This is certainly running combination business to the ground.

Our two local contemporaries are busy these days trying to hold their own and keep their subscribers. If this Great Family Journal should be asked, they keep everything except the commandments.

A man never knows what a poor guesser he is till he sits down and figures out how different married life is from what he thought it was going to be.

A coatemporary says that an Alderman is reported to be suffering from an application of X-rays. This great family journal was always of the opinion that few aldermen would bear looking into.

Two electricians were arguing a few days ago regarding the voltage of a certain generator. One of them took the affirmative and the other the negative and—both men were carried out unconscious.

In a local church the other Sunday the minister spoke of the evils prevailing in olden times as compared to the present day sins. Yes, in the olden times the red man for instance, scalped his enemies—in modern times the pale face merely skins his friends.

"I keep my boarders longer than you do," boasted a west end first landlady.

"Oh, I don't know," rejoined landlady No. 2. "I guess they only look longer because they are so thin."

A burglar entered a west end residence the other night and before looting the place, ate all the pies stored away in the pantry. Peterborough burglars are noted for taking desperate chances.

Mr. John Crane, the talented and popular organist of St. Paul's church, has sent in his resignation to the managers, much to the regret of the entire congregation. If Mr. Crane succeeds in cutting loose from the duties of choir-master it will show that a man can achieve almost anything if he only perseveres.

A GREAT CHANCE.

To Make a Safe and Exceedingly Profitable Investment.

Conservative people of sound business sense know of the large fortunes which have been made in mining, often as the result of comparatively small investments made during the development period of mines when capital is required to bring the mines to the dividend paying period.

A mining proposition in accessible parts of the United States is not difficult to investigate and if any man of ordinary intelligence will simply take the trouble he can ascertain before investing whether or not a company is engaged in a serious mining enterprise and whether the directors of its affairs are substantial men of good character who have established a good record, or whether they are professional stock sellers, working one section and then jitting to another.

The Copper Belt Mines Company is well along on the road to dividends, has made remarkable progress in a comparatively short time. A careful, cold-blooded business investigation of both mines and management, which should be made before investing, should convince any fair-minded person that the chance of making a "big thing" out of a reasonable investment in Copper Belt stock at the present price is better than on any investment in which a few hundred or few thousand dollars can be placed anywhere at this time.

A total of over 2500 feet of underground work has been done on the Copper Belt property which, with the showing made, is sufficient to take the Copper Belt mine entirely out of the prospect or gambling stage and classify it as a large but not comoletely developed mine, sure with able management to bring large returns to those interested in a reasonably short time. A comparatively small amount of additional capital for new development, additional machinery and smelter should assure handsome dividends even for a successful mine, and no other legitimate enterprise yields such enormous returns on the capital invested.

These mines are located in the Rawhide Buttes, Wyoming, twelve miles south of Lusk on the main line of the C & N. W. Ry., and consists of 35 claims, four large proven veins, 2500 feet of actual development. Main shaft, the Lucky Henry, now down to a depth of 620 feet, interested by the Paine tunnel at the 400 foot level—620 feet long. Four other shafts 65, 50, 40 and 20 feet, and have all the attributes for successful mining on the property—water, timber and fuel.

The President and active manager of this Company is Edwin Hall, a mining engineer of nations, reputation, who directs the work at the mines—he is also a prominent member of the American Mining Congress and recently appointed State Geologist of Wyoming. We call the attention of our readers to their advertisement on another page.

THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Refuses to Spend Money in Useless Advertising

INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL REVIEW.

W. McPhillips, Editor,
Toronto, 5th December, 1908. J. H. Brock, Esq.,
Great-West Life Assurance Co.,
Winnipeg, Man.

Dear Sir:—

I presume that some time during the present month you will be re-arranging your advertising for the ensuing year, and I beg to remind you that when we discussed the matter, when you were here during the Summer, you said it would be considered at the first of the year. Up to the present time I have not had the privilege of carrying a card of your Company, nor have I ever published your annual statement.

I would be pleased if you would give both these your favorable consideration for the coming year.

Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) F. McPHILLIPS.

THE GREAT WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

The Insurance and Financial Review, Winnipeg, March 27th, 1909.
Toronto, Ontario.

Gentlemen:—

We have not overlooked the information you gave us regarding rates in the Review, but so far it has not been decided to extend our advertising appropriation in this direction. However, your information is still before us, and when a decision is arrived at you will be advised.

Yours truly,
THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Per "G.M.R."
Advertising Department.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company thought it would not be profitable to the Company or to its policy-holders, who are interested in its revenues, to spend money uselessly in advertisements appearing in a journal, in their opinion, practically unknown, except to insurance agents. Accordingly it was decided not to advertise in that journal, though we expected that it might attack the Company. What we expected happened. Nevertheless the Company intends to advertise only in such reputable papers as it considers will give results beneficial to the insuring and the Company.

Some unscrupulous representatives of competing Companies make use of the unfair attacks of such journals without explaining the circumstances of the attacks, or the absurdity of the statements made, and we trust those who are approached by such agents will inform themselves on the subject by reading carefully the articles and the notes and comments thereon.

The Article

Representations have reached us with disconcertion, frequency of late that conditions in regard to the Great-West Life Assurance Company are by no means satisfactory.

The Annual Report, which was published early in March, contains this remarkable statement: "We have this year changed all our records so that policies payable by instalments are entered not at their face values, but at their commuted values." It is well known that the Company has not until very recently availed itself of regular actuarial advice and very possibly much of the criticism incurred is attributable to this neglect, but we might ask why this rather important matter was overlooked by the Department of Insurance in the course of its yearly inspections. Inaccuracy in one part of a statement is apt to lead to suspicion of other parts.

PROFIT VARIATIONS.

We have before us a pamphlet issued by the Great-West Life Assurance Company, entitled "Actual Results to Policy-holders;" "Paid by the Great-West Life Assurance Company under the Fifteen Year Preferred Dividend Policies which matured in 1907, together with the Results under Policies maturing in 1908."

We quote two cases of Fifteen Year Endowment Policies maturing in 1906.

Policy No.	Amount.	Premiums paid.	Total cash value of policy.
640	$1,000	$969.75	$1,575.00
823	1,000	945.00	1,519.00

It is generally believed that the profits shown under these policies are excessive. This view is strengthened by a comparison with a five-year period policy upon the same 15 year Endowment plan which shows accumulated results as follows:

Policy No.	Amount	968	1,000
Total cash value of Policy.			$1,164.50

We bear in mind the solemn "warning" printed in the daily press broadcast throughout this country over the signature of the Head Office of the Company. This reads in part as follows:

"An anonymous, typewritten letter is being circulated, dishonestly, "comparing our recent dividends upon "five year period" policies with "dividends upon "fifteen year period" policies, without explaining the es-"sential differences between the two forms of insurance."

It is the fundamental principle of justice that "he who would receive equity must himself give equity." This is not evident in the paragraph quoted above. In the comparison made there is no essential difference between the two forms of insurance. They are identical. The only difference lies in the methods of alotting the profits to the same forms of insurance.

It must be remembered that, in the case of Policy No. 968, quoted above, the profits were alotted every five years, but were left by the insured in the hands of the Company for accumulation during the entire term of fifteen years. According to the statements of the Company these profits are subject to increment at the rate of interest earned by the Company. In the case of endowment assurances for so short a term as fifteen years the survivorship factor is almost a negligible quantity for profit-making purposes.

ACTUARIAL METHODS FAULTY.

It follows that either the profit upon the five year period policy is less than that to which the insured was entitled, or, on the other hand, the allotment to the fifteen-year period policies was vastly in excess of their actual earning. Having in mind the expense ratio of the Great West Life in the past fifteen years, there appears very little difficulty in determining which of these views is correct. The Company has forty millions of insurance in force, and until last year had no regular expert actuarial advice. The finger of Mr. C. C. Ferguson, A.I.A., is already a parent in the Company's statement, and it is only to be regretted that very much earlier opportunity of scientific advice was not availed of.

THE "SPECIAL POLICY."

Every student of life assurance conditions prevalent during the past twenty-five years is aware that the evil odor attaching to the business some years ago was attributable more directly to the employment of so-called "Special Agents" or "Lightning Specials" than to any other single factor. These gentry had no stake in the Company they were representing (or misrepresented). Generally they were importations from the neighboring Republic. The great argument in use was that they were alone empowered to offer something special to wealthy clients, or, in other words, that the prospective victim was fortunate enough to have encountered a "Bargain Day" in life assurance. The results accruing from these methods are too well known to insurance men to need repetition. It is somewhat amazing to find that a Canadian Life Company could to-day be found to essay the recrudescence of so unfortunate a system.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company has recently been selling what is described as a "special" policy. It should be understood that this is nothing more than an ordinary life policy, payable at death by instalments. Some also contain the return premium feature.

One sample policy we have before us, dated April 24th, 1907, and which has been used by Great-West Agents in their canvass, is on the ordinary Life plan, face value $25,000, payable in fifteen annual instalments of $1,000 each, first instalment payable at death, with $10,000 additional at the end of fifteen years after death, the annual premium at age 35 being $591.00. Also in the event of death of the assured within twenty years from issue date, all premiums paid are to be returned with the sum assured. Let us now take up the privileges and conditions. We wish to call special attention to the clause re Distribution of Surplus, which reads in part as follows:

"On the first day of April., 1912, and at the end of every fifth year thereafter, if this policy be then in full force, it shall participate in the profits of the Company. An individual account shall be kept with this policy, and whenever the surplus apportioned thereto, accumulated with interest at 4 per cent. (or at the rate earned if in excess of 4 per cent), compounded annually shall be sufficient to prepay all future premiums, the insured will be notified, and no future payment of premiums shall be required."

Such a clause is most obscure. We are informed that Great-West Agents have told prospects that at the end of 16 or 17 years the profits would be sufficient to pay all future premiums, and it is understood that some have taken policies in that belief. Needless to say, such hopes are impossible of realization, as will be evident from the following table:—

(1) End of year	(2) Value of future Premiums	(3) Profits per $1,000 required to meet this	(4) Percent. of premiums paid
15	$7,708.33	$450.00	60
17	7,415.38	415.00	70
20	6,896.55	362.00	61

From these we see that the profits at the end of 17 years would have to equal 70 per cent. of the premiums already paid in order to prepay all future premiums. It is reasonable to suppose that any company can return as profits four-fifths of the premiums paid? Where would the Cash Surrender Value come from in such a case? The absolute impossibility of such a thing is apparent, and yet the agents pushing this special plan are thus, we understand, representing this condition.

We are further informed that in some cases the agent has not been content with the very rosy prospect indicated above. In a canvass in an Eastern Ontario City one agent is alleged to have told his prospect that it was almost certain that the policy would become paid up in ten years! Such things seem almost incredible in these days.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.

We take policy No. 36,003 for $1,000.00 to illustrate a further point. One section of this policy is grossly misleading. On the third page is given a table of surrender values, including cash, paid up, and extended insurance features, these values being given for various years from three to twenty. The table is headed as follows:

"Table of non-forfeiture options for each $1,000 of commuted amount."

In very small writing and hidden away at the bottom of the policy are words to the effect that the commuted value of this policy is $7,-155.00. A keen insurance man would, of course, know that the surrender values applicable to the particular policy would be 7.155 times the figures given in the tables, but the ordinary layman, and we think even to a good many insurance men, the tables of values would be multiplied by ten in order to get the figures applicable to the policy. If it came to a question to be decided in the courts, we believe the Great-West would have no difficulty in maintaining that the surrender values applicable to the policy would be the lower amounts given above, but we think we are safe in saying that the surrender values should have been

The Great-West's Reply

The Insurance Department has always required all Companies to report business at the commuted value, and we have always done so, as the writer of this article could easily have found by referring to the Blue Book. His criticism, therefore, of the Insurance Department and of the Company falls to the ground. Our office records have always been correct, and the change referred to was made solely with a view to simplify the bookkeeping methods of obtaining the same results. Many Companies have pursued exactly the same course. The effort to make a point out of this shows how hard pressed the writer was to find something to say.

Under the heading "Profit Variations," his position is equally ridiculous, and he has deliberately tried to create a wrong impression as to an advertisement inserted by the Company by omitting a portion in which we say: "We are still paying on 5 year and longer dividend period policies the highest dividends—premiums being taken into account—now being paid by any company."

The very large dividends referred to on our 15 Year Tontine policies are as great a source of satisfaction to our policy-holders as they are of annoyance to some of our competitors and all journals of the calibre of our critic. The reason why these large dividends were paid was because the Company's earnings were such that our then Actuary, Mr. W. T. Standen, advised that the policy-holders were entitled to them.

The writer seems desirous to leave the impression that the holder of Policy No. 968 has reason to be dissatisfied with his results. We have clear evidence that this is not the opinion of the policy-holder himself, since on receiving his settlement he straightway insured the life of his son in this Company.

As to "Acturial Methods," the statement that we had no expert Actuarial advice is absolutely false, as Mr. William T. Standen, F.A.S., was employed as consulting Actuary, and advised us on every point requiring the assistance of an Actuary from the time we commenced business, until his death, which only occurred a few months before our present Actuary was appointed.

The "Special Policy"—This Special Policy has been so admired by the insuring public and competing companies that several of the principal companies of Canada have copied it, and other companies have notified their agents that they will issue it if no other form of policy be accepted by the applicant. The form of the policy is such that it invites investigation of profit-earning capacity, and, consequently, applications have been particularly easy to secure by agents of the Great-West Life.

The introduction by the Company of such a popular policy shows that it understands and meets the wishes of the insuring public.

The clause as to distribution of surplus, which is stated by the Editor to be obscure, is on the contrary, so clear and plain that it has never been misunderstood by any policy-holder and can easily be understood by any intelligent school boy 15 years of age.

The ignorance of the writer is shown clearly when he attempts to quote actual figures, for instance—the amount of profits required to make the policy referred to a paid-up one in twenty years is given as $450 whereas the correct amount is $387! All the other figures in this table are equally incorrect, and the conclusions are absolutely unfounded.

As to the statements that agents have represented that the Policy will be paid up in a shorter time than is possible or reasonable, we believe the writer has called upon his imagination for his facts. Certainly if the statements were made by anagent, such as he states have been made, the agent and the policy-holder misled by him would both be fit candidates for a lunatic asylum.

As to the Non-Forture Options.—The labored effort to show that there is something wrong with this table is another evidence that the writer was hard pressed for something to say about the Company when he called attention to the fact that that a certain clause was at the bottom of the policy. He conceals the fact that the clause is at the foot of the table of surrender values—the only place where it could be properly placed. Was this honest, or does it show the spleen of the writer of the article? Something must be at the bottom of the policy; therefore, no matter what we placed there, the the argument might be used that it was placed there for the purpose of concealment. If we had printed the policy without referring to commuted values, the same writer would have objected to this with just as much weight as he has because we have inserted the commuted values.

Peterborough to be Made a Site for Permanent Military Camp

Important Feature of Addresses Given at Banquet at Nassau Camp Thursday

Banquet Tendered by Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P., to the Officers of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons.

The importance of properly pressing upon the Government the desirability of making Peterborough a military centre where all the militia of the Midland district should meet for their annual drill, was the key note of a most delightful and all-enjoyable luncheon given by Hon. J. R. Stratton, M.P., to the officers of 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons, in the mess tent of their camp at Nassau, last evening. In addition to the officers of the corps a number of prominent Peterborough citizens were present and throughout all the speeches was the idea of the advantages offered by Peterborough as a military centre. Soldiers and civilians alike seemed to have been impressed with that idea and the consultation as it might be termed, over the banqueting table should prove most beneficial.

The banquet was a fitting climax to the annual camp of the Dragoons. No arrangement had been overlooked that would add to the enjoyment of the guests. The cosy mess tent of the camp was decorated with flags and bunting, while the tables, with their floral decorations, presented an attractive appearance.

A section of the 57th Regimental Band rendered a choice programme before the banquet and during the repast, and their music was greatly appreciated, out only by the guests, but also by the soldiers of the camp.

Messrs. Coleman Brothers catered for the occasion and gave every satisfaction, the following menu being all that could be desired.

Hon. Mr. Stratton acted as chairman, while Hon. Capt. Dr. E. A. Langfeldt, Chaplain of the Dragoons, was Vice-Chairman.

Hon. Mr. Stratton proposed the first toast "The King," which was enthusiastically honoured, the band playing the National Anthem while the guests heartily joined in.

Hon. Mr. Stratton, in proposing the toast, expressed his pleasure at meeting once more with the officers of the 3rd Dragoons. He had the honour of accepting the hospitality of the Dragoons on a previous occasion, and was pleased to be able to reciprocate. In the first place he was glad that the Dragoons were satisfied with the camp in which they were situated, and with the courtesies extended to them by the infantry and citizens of the district.

He knew that the Dragoons were all good citizens as well as good soldiers and hoped to see more of them in the future.

Speaking of military conditions in the district, Hon. Mr. Stratton remarked that the Militia Department had erected in Peterborough new armouries, well situated and adapted to the wants and requirements of the infantry, cavalry and artillery of the district. An effort should be made to make the Government understand that Peterborough is the spot that should be selected as the camping ground of the district. Not only 140 or 150 soldiers should camp here, but 500 acres of land should be secured and there should be 10,000 soldiers drilling in the vicinity. Peterborough was exceptionally well situated in the event of war with railways north and south and water facilities as well. In the near future military men should see to it that buildings of the proper kind should be erected here, enough land purchased in the vicinity, rifle ranges established so that not only the cavalry but the infantry and artillery as well should drill here. Rifle ranges were necessary and the soldiers should be taught so that every shot would kill. It was not toy work and the men should know how to shoot. Hon. Mr. Stratton instanced the South African war, where a handful of Boers had made the Empire uneasy for two years, and where the services of the Canadians with their shooting ability was necessary.

There were six regiments in the district around Peterborough, who should drill here instead of going to other places. Peterborough was exceptionally adapted for such an establishment, and Mr. Stratton asked for the assistance of the officers in impressing upon the Government the advisability of locating the camp here. It would be in the interests of the Militia Department and the country as well.

Speaking of the wise expenditure in militia matters, Hon. Mr. Stratton remarked that he felt sure the greater part of the people recognized the necessity of expenditure along that line. Some few years ago, 10,000 soldiers drilled in a year; last year there were 47,500. The people realized that it was necessary to have the soldiers of the King properly paid and properly drilled. He hoped that the near future would see all the soldiers of the district holding their annual drill in Peterborough.

In conclusion Hon. Mr. Stratton asked the gathering to drink to the health of the comanding officer of the 3rd Dragoons, Lt.-Col. Syer.

The toast was most enthusiastically honoured.

Lieutenant-Colonel Syer

Lieut. Col. Syer rose to respond to the toast amid great cheers and applause. He felt, he said, that he could not find words to express his appreciation of the very kind things said about him. When he felt stranded as regarding the staff, he went to Hon. Mr. Stratton, who wrote a forcible letter to Sir Frederick Borden, and as a result of which, the Minister permitted them to have the staff. He took occasion to thank Mr. Stratton for all he had done for them. When word came from the officer commanding Eastern Ontario that the annual drill be held at local headquarters he wrote him and asked that the headquarters be changed from Colborne to Peterborough. This city was decided upon and he had to thank the Board of Trade for very kindly coming to their rescue and offering to pay the rental for the grounds. He also expressed his appreciation to His Worship Mayor Rush for the deep interest he had shown in the 3rd Dragoons.

Speaking of establishing a divisional camp at Peterborough, the Colonel believed that there was no reason why this should not be a military centre. The location was splendid and the surrounding conditions were excellent. He remarked that if there was a divisional camp here, an army service corps would carry out much of the arduous duties that fell to him, but, he added, that the experience had been very beneficial.

Municipal Institutions

Capt. Langfeldt, who acted as vice-chairman, proposed the toast to "Our Municipal and Educational Bodies." In doing so, he said that he felt honoured in having been chosen as vice-chairman, and was sure that the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons owed a great deal to the kindness of Mr. Stratton. Before and since the camp opened, he had never lost an opportunity to extend them his kindness and generosity, and on behalf of the Dragoons he thanked Mr. Stratton very heartily.

Capt. Langfeldt referred to Lieut.-Col. Syer, the commanding officer, in very eulogistic terms and the Dragoons were proud of him, and in all his military career, Capt. Langfeldt said that he had never met a man who as a commanding officer, always maintained the dignity of his position. He was a man among men.

Speaking to the toast the speaker said that he was glad to see Mayor Rush with them. As head of the city, he brought with him the good will of the citizens. Another man they were delighted to see was their worthy Police Magistrate, Mr. D. W. Dumble, K. C., who in his responsible position always exercised fair-mindedness. They also were pleased to honour His Honour Judge O'Connell, who as a tribute to his ability and his success as a lawyer, had been elevated to the high office of Judge. Capt. Langfeldt also referred to Alderman Gillespie and Mr. Richard Hall, public men, who by the integrity of their life were entitled to the respect of all.

Mayor Rush

Mayor Rush, in replying to the toast, spoke as follows:

I am glad of the opportunity of being present this evening and of letting you know how pleased we are to have the Prince of Wales Dragoons with us for their annual training this year. The people of Peterborough take a deep interest in military matters, as they recognize how important and valuable to the country are its citizen soldiers, and their interest is not confined to any one branch of the service. While your corps is not made up of men entirely from the city, we feel an especial interest in it, as it has been commanded by a citizen of Peterborough and has always had officers and men from the city and neighbourhood. We are proud of the position you hold in the militia of the Dominion, and it pleased us greatly that we have had an opportunity of seeing the troops on the march. We are glad that you have found this camping ground so well suited for your purpose and that you have had a successful camp here, and we hope that next year we will have the privilege of again welcoming you and a much larger number with you. There is no reason why there should not, and many reasons why there should, be a large military training camp at Peterborough every year. The facilities are here, and the location is central, and we look forward to this becoming an important military centre. But whether the camp should be larger or not, we certainly expect to have the pleasure of having the Prince of Wales Dragoons with us again when you are called out for your annual training. I wish to thank Hon. Mr. Stratton for the privilege of being present and meeting the officers this evening, and of having the opportunity of expressing the feeling of the people of the city in their hearty appreciation of the presence of the Dragoons.

D. W. Dumble

Mr. D. W. Dumble, K.C., in replying to the toast expressed his pleasure at being present and spoke as follows:

The nations that hold the highest place in history are not the largest, but those which by intellectual culture and attainment have helped to raise the status of mankind. No nation has done so much for the world as Greece. In poetry, literature, sculpture, architecture, her models are the world's highest standards to-day. The language of Greece, delicate, comprehensive, subtle, is the evolution of the requirements of a people rich in thought and culture, and for whom a crude language would be wholly inadequate. But Greece fully recognized that the soundest minds were in the soundest bodies and so she devoted herself to all games and contests that helped to perfect the body. The Isthmian and Olympic games were fruitful in physical development, and if you want to see the highest and most perfect human form examine the Greek marbles for perfection never excelled. Greece then was first in war. Her youth were carefully trained in every art to produce physical vigour and prowess. It was natural that a people with most splendid scenery—the open sea and towering mountains, inspiring history, art and literature, should love their country and be ready to fight, nay to die for it. They were a little people but they had great physical prowess and splendid military training. The Spartans gave a sample instance of their patriotism at Thermopyle—and when the great Persian army under Cyrus—a million strong came down upon them, they did not hide themselves. Every man was trained, he felt his power to do bravely and he had been taught that it was sweet and glorious to die for his country. The Spartan mother, when she sent her boy to war handed him his shield and bade him bring it back to her with honour—or be borne back to her in honour upon it. Such mothers bore worthy sons. When then Persia's millions came the Greeks took their places with brave hearts—prepared to do all that man could do for his home land and, if need be, to die.

The host came on, the Greeks closed up in their famous phalanx—and like the British squares at Waterloo they could not be broken. The Persians were broken, crushed, swept from the field and Marathon was won. So in the great sea fight of Salamis Greece was triumphant. Had they not won all Europe would have been overrun by the Eastern peoples and history would have been changed.

And thus it ever has been. Not so much the numbers as the quality, the spirit and the devotion of the soldiers have counted. Little England, then but millions, with the help of God in whom they trusted, smashed the great Spanish Armanda. Wolfe with his brave heart climbed the heights of Abraham and won our Canada. Wellington with his squares resisted unto death and won Waterloo.

And in our day Canadians have shown that men who love their country can win against greater numbers.

I love peace—I have lived through the worlds greatest wars. The Crimea—Indian mutiny—Italy and Austria—Germany and Austria — Franco-German war—the Great America Rebellion—all cruel wars and I hate them—but the people that do not educate their sons to bear arms and carry brave and patriotic hearts will never have a history worth recording. A country without a history is worse than a man without a country.

I have noticed some late utterances of preachers depreciating military training in the public schools. I glory in it. It sets a boy up, makes him realize himself—gives him carriage and good manners, for he has learned to obey, and to conquer impulses which ungoverned destroy him. Let our boys be trained to military exercises, and to shoot, and let our girls get such physical exercises as will ensure mothers of men-children.

In Winnipeg the other day 20,000 people went out to one of their parks to see the annual military evolutions of 1,300 of their sons. The boys, conscious of duty to be performed, with proud head and earnest face went through their movements in four battalions, lead by their own boy bands—and the 20,000 people shouted their applauses, and the inspecting officers cried, Splendid! Splendid! We want no war, but if need be we want to learn how to die in defence of homes and hearths and loved ones.

Train then every boy and man to bear his part in citizenship of so noble a land as the good Lord has given to us and to stand forever by the flag that is the emblem of liberty and freedom.

And now let us look at our local situation. We are 30 miles from Lake Ontario. Leading lines of railway reach to all the country from here—the canal will be a highway—and nature has given us the most magnificent fortifications. Have you ever counted the hills surrounding the city. Look below the locks—Armour's hill, Parnell's hill, Edmison's, the high lands of Monaghan. We are completely surrounded by hills from which cannon command a circle 15 or 20 miles in diameter. I know of no place so well fitted for a central fortress as Peterborough. Our military are not so blind as to fail to see it. There should be a place for stores and a military centre and here I believe we will have it if it is properly impressed upon the government.

Judge O'Connell

His Honour, Judge O'Connell, made an eloquent reply to the toast. He thanked the host, Mr. Stratton, for his kind hospitality. Referring to the part of his address in which he referred to the necessity of having every shot kill, Judge O'Connell remarked humourously, that since the days when he had seen service, ideas had changed. Then they did not find it necessary to shoot to kill but merely to disable an opponent, so that they might meet him on the field on another occasion.

The occasion upon which they were meeting was one that suggested certain topics for a few remarks. It was the forty-second birthday of the Dominion, and recalled to mind those great and noble statesmen who had brought Canada into a Dominion. Now Canada had come down into the full status of national responsibility.

The great fundamental principle that underlied every great nation was that of patriotism. It was the thing that—made a nation's life. Patriotism brough Greece to the fore, carried the Roman Empire over the civilized world, and that was sending the ships of England across the bosom of the waters, and it was patriotism, he remarked in conclusion, that gave life and vitality to a nation.

Alderman Gillespie

Ald. Gillespie, President of the Board of Trade, expressed his pleasure at being present and thanked Hon. Mr. Stratton for his invitation. The Dragoons had been a credit to Peterborough during their stay, and he was pleased that everything had passed off so successfully.

Mr. Richard Hall

Mr. Richard Hall also made a fit-

put out in an entirely different way, and that they are absolutely misleading in the way they are given. The policy is talked, sold and accepted as an insurance of $10,000, and it is only natural for the policy-holder to assume that he will be entitled to surrender values on a $10,000 basis.

We hesitate to say it, but the facts do not seem to point to an unwillingness on the part of the Head Office of the Great-West to be a party to the deception which has almost invariably been attached to the sale of these and similar policies. It will be universally admitted that ordinary policies are more frequently sold than instalment policies, and also that in getting out a printed form it is usual to make the form applicable to the majority of cases and not to the exceptions. The Great-West has apparently gone at this matter in exactly the opposite way and got out a form to fit the exceptions, for otherwise it would have headed these columns as follows:—

"Tables of surrender values per $1,000 (Face Value)." If it desires to be perfectly fair to its policy-holders, it should place the values in an instalment policy to apply $1,000 of the nominal value, so that a policy-holder holding one of these special policies for $10,000 would obtain the values applicable to his policyby simply multiplying the values given by ten. This method would havethe advantages of being both perfectly clear and easily computed. Inthe Great-West form, the values are hard to compute and are absolutelymisleading.

NOT ALL TREATED ALIKE.

We have recently seen another policy issued for $50,000.00 in which some of the clauses that we have taken exception to have been modified very considerably by printed or typewritten slips pasted over the original printed conditions. It is evident that some applicants for this "Special" policy are wiser than others, and that their vigilance is by no means disadvantageous. We opine,however, that this reflection can hardly bring much comfort to the bulkof the people who have acquired this kind of policy without taking someadvice other than that afforded them by the Great-West Life agent.

We have purposely taken several policies to illustrate our various points. It would have been unwise to have selected one only for the reason last given—that there does not appear to be that uniformity which is customary in the issues of life companies in general.

The hope may be expressed that the Great-West Life Assurance Company will see its way to withdraw from circulation a policy contract which can hardly fail to reflect adversely upon the Company in the future.

The statement that all policy-holders "are not treated alike" is absolutely false. We defy the writer of the article to show that any difference has ever been made by the Company between policy-holders of the same class.

The editor of the best Insurance Journal in North America has referred to the profit plan used in our policies as being "an embodiment of the true principles of life insurance," and we did not advertise with that journal either.

Court of Revision

Notice is hereby given that a sitting of the Court of Revision of the City of Peterborough, will be held in the City Clerk's office in the said city on Thursday the 15th day of July, 1909, at the hour of 7.30 o'clock in the evening, for the confirmation of the special assessments upon the property fronting or abutting on the following streets or parts of streets for the construction of sewers thereon, and the total amount to be assessed upon the said property fronting or abutting upon the said streets or parts of streets, is as follows:

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

POEM DANCING.

A Peculiar Fad Which Has Become a Craze in London.

Dancing masters in London are making much money these days and as a result are filled with happiness and a hope that their remarkable season of prosperity be not too fleeting. It all comes about because of the fact that society is, what may be termed, dance crazy. At present picturesque dancing, expressing a poem, a song or an incident is the rage. The society belle practices for hours at a stretch in her endeavors to express through motion the burden of her message. Not only must her theme be original, but the steps and movements by which she indicates it must be novel and above all poetic. Imitation is fatal.

Playettes are also expressed by dancing, three or four friends clubbing together to perform them. Some excellent results have been achieved.

Success does not, however, always pursue the steps of the society dancers of dramatic episodes. Some good fun has been afforded by the tripping of the light fantastic by women whose too solid avoirdupois caused them, in the middle of some eloquent passage, to puff and gasp like a tired horse taking a long hill.

It is not only women who go in for the new dancing. Men, curious to relate, have taken to it with avidity, and occasionally with more laughable results than those obtained by the fair sex. For it is not by any means the Adonises who always have a story to tell. Often it is the mature, and those who are behind the door when good looks were being given out, who, fantastically arrayed, perform wild stampedes or loveslck prostrations.

Teachers of "dream" dancing and "picture" dancing are cropping up by the score. One society woman who has taken to teaching her friends, she herself having studied in Paris and Berlin, is said to be just now netting an income something like $60,000 a year through lessons.

As a rule, pupils bring with them to their professor the poem or incident they wish to express, and the teacher finds the movements which will best portray the subject.

When the pupil is perfect and the performance takes place, the verse or other subject which has inspired the performer, printed exquisitely on satin or vellum, artistically illuminated and bearing a photograph or photographs of the dancers, is distributed among the audience.

There is a Chinese dance which is attracting a great deal of attention. It is called the "Chacone," and is danced in Chinese costume. Several fond mothers are having their little girls and boys taught the "Chacone," which is especially effective when performed by children.

Caught With a Mousetrap.

The large black crow of South Africa is a tremendous gorger, and he does enormous damage to the mealies and other crops.

A sufferer has devised a clever way of frightening off these pests. A long stake is first firmly planted in the earth. A captured crow is then attached to the stick just above the ground. On top of the stake is fixed a steel mousetrap.

The crow, maddened by its unaccustomed captivity, screams, and flaps its wings wildly. Immediately any crow in the vicinity who overhears the outcry will fly down and settle on top of the stake to pass down—whether in contempt or pity is not known—at the prisoner. The mousetrap does the rest!

Thus, one by one, quite an army of crows is sometimes caught. Then, when the supply of victims is apparently exhausted, one of the prisoners is set at liberty; but not until a flapping rag has been attached to it. When it would rejoin its comrades, they will have none of it. It becomes an outcast, and all the others hound it down, entirely deserting the mealie-field on doing so.

But to those who are near the field when the stratagem here described is being carried out the question occurs: Is not the terrible noise the crows make too dear a price to pay for the saving of many mealies?

Borneo's Queer Animals.

There is no country in the world more inviting to the naturalist than Borneo, where are found the flying squirrels, flying foxes, flying lizards, flying frogs, and the natives report flying snakes. Among the most noted birds is the little swift, Collocalia nidifica. Their nests are eaten by the Chinese and are regarded as a great luxury. These birds build their nests in limestone caves of a glutinous saliva which they produce from their oil glands. No sticks or any foreign substances are used. The collection of these nests is an important industry with the natives, though they pay a tax on all they take to market. They [illegible] are served at the great feasts of the Chinese, especially at weddings.

The French Postoffice.

The French postal system was inaugurated in the reign of Louis XI., but the first director general was appointed by Louis XIV. He farmed the office, paying a million francs a year for the privilege. This method continued until the revolution, when the farmer was abolished, and the control was given to ten managers elected by universal suffrage. That plan did not work very satisfactorily, and the office of director general was received under the consulate. The office of under secretary for post and telegraphs, held by M. Sinoyan, was first created in 1877, abolished in 1878 and revived again ten years later.—Westminster Gazette.

The Penalty of Goodness.

He—You don't seem to care a straw whether I am comfortable or not. You are not as good a wife as your sister was to her husband. As long as he lived she was perfectly devoted to him and never tired of seeking his happiness. She—Yes, and what was the result? He got to love her so well that he made a provision in his will that she should not marry again.

The Joke on the Jockey.

A few years ago a famous jockey was engaged to ride the favorite in an important race. On the way to the post he found himself cantering alongside a rank outsider, the mount of a stable boy who had only just commenced riding.

"You'll have to be careful with that brute, B.," he remarked. "I've ridden him before, and you'll never be able to hold him."

B. thanked the crack for the hint and said that he would "do his best."

Halfway through the race the outsider and another were in front, with the favorite close behind. Fancying that the others were in difficulties, the rider of the favorite shouted:

"Pull out, B., and let me through! I've got the race in hand."

The crack was mistaken, however. Looking back, the stable boy replied, with a grin:

"I would, but I can't hold him!"

With which the novice let his horse have his head and shot away, the easiest of winners, to the chagrin of the crack, who finished second.

Happiness and Joy.

Happiness, according to the original use of the term, is that which happens or comes to one by a hap—that is, by an outward befalling or favorable condition. It is what money yields or will buy—dress, equipage, fashion, luxuries of the table—or it is settlement in life, independence, love, applause, admiration, honor, glory, or the more conventional and public benefits of rank, political standing, victory, power—all these stir a delight in the soul, which is not of the soul or its quality, but from without; hence they are looked upon as happening to the soul and, in that sense, create happiness. Joy differs from this as being of the soul itself, originating in its quality. And this appears in the original form of the word, which instead of suggesting a hap literally denotes a leap or spring. * * * The motion is outward and not toward, as we conceive it to be in happiness. It is not the bliss of condition, but of character.—Dr. Horace Bushnell.

Concealed Weapons.

Once in a college town the rumor that students were carrying concealed weapons reached the ears of the local police. The chief at once issued stringent orders that the heinous practice should be stopped. One day a group of them passed a policeman, and one of the students in so doing put his hand to his hip pocket. Then, as if recollecting himself in time, he hastily withdrew it and looked sheepishly at the policeman.

"What have you in that pocket?" the latter asked sternly.

Instead of answering, the student and all his companions, as if panic stricken, started to run. After a chase all the students were cornered and ordered to deliver up whatever they had in their hip pockets.

Meekly they obeyed. Each one carried a corncob. The remarks of the policemen cannot possibly be recorded.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Making History.

When Kinglake was writing his history of the Crimean war he received letters from all sorts of people concerned in the war. One day a letter with a deep black border came from two people in the colonies, husband and wife, describing their grief. Their only child had been killed in the Crimea. They wanted to have him mentioned in the "History of the Crimean War." Kinglake was touched and replied by post that he would do his best if they would send him the necessary particulars. Again a letter, also black bordered, full of thanks, but with the following conclusion: "We have no particulars whatever to give you. He was killed on the spot, like many others, but anything you may kindly invent will be welcome. We leave it entirely to your imagination."—London Chronicle.

Taken Unawares.

Sir William Grantham was engaged as a political speaker in the days before he took his place on the bench and when he was plain Mr. Grantham. On one occasion, while he was delivering an address, a man got up in the audience and shouted out excitedly, "It's a lie!" "Thanks," said the future judge. "It's a lie!" shouted the excited one again. "You're a gentleman," said Mr. Grantham sarcastically. "It's a lie!" burst out his opponent again, carried away by his wrath, but the general laughter which arose at his answer recalled him to himself again, and he sat down discomfited.—London M. A. P.

To the Point.

A little boy hurriedly entered a drug store and asked the clerk for a bottle of liniment and a bottle of china cement.

"Why," said the clerk, "that's a funny combination. What do you want with those things?"

"Ma hit dad with a teacup and broke it!" exclaimed the boy.

Knocking Hubby.

"My husband thinks he is very economical," said the blue eyed woman. "He saves everything. One drawer of his desk is devoted to time tables, and he has some that are three years old."—Exchange.

A Matter of Taste.

"Mister, you're wasting time sketching that old ruined bridge."

"Indeed?"

"Yes; there's a fine new steel bridge just a mile farther on."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Our opinion of ourselves, like our shadow, makes us either too big or too little.—Brosta.

Freezing Flowers Keeps Them Fresh.

Freezing flowers to keep them fresh is a modern idea. They are picked in the bud and preserved by refrigeration while being transported. When unpacked they are found free of damage and when placed in water and left alone they slowly awaken and come into full bloom. It appears that experiments are being made in South Africa with a view to dispatching them in this way in bulk at the seasons when they are scarce elsewhere. The flowers undergo no deterioration from the treatment either in the beauty of their color or in their longevity after immersion in water. Curiously enough growth suspended by refrigeration appears to resume so slowly that the blossoms thrive in a room for a considerably longer period than if placed there immediately after being cut in the garden. The process would also serve to introduce to our notice many beautiful members of the horticultural family with which at present we are unfamiliar; such plants as the gorgeous iris, which grows wild in luxurious profusion in South Africa, or those which abound on the slopes of the Andes in South America.

A Dinner in Mexico.

The dinner began with soup, followed by an array of courses, mostly compounds of things I did not recognize and nearly all very hot with chili peppers, but on the whole palatable. Frijoles (beans) were served just before the dulce. That is a warning that you have had all you are going to get and to satisfy yourself upon them if you have not had enough of the other things. They were well cooked and good. The bread was in the form of rolls, sweetened and of poor quality—"pan blanco" it is called. It is the characteristic bread, however, of Mexico—when bread is to be had at all. The coffee was of good quality, but, like all Mexican coffee, muddy and very strong. It is burned black in roasting, ground to a powder, boiled and served, grounds and all. You are supposed to drink the grounds.—Outing.

Before using a new incandescent gas mantle, soak it in vinegar, and then let it dry; this increases its light and life.

No Hurry.

He—Then you have decided to accept the proffer of my heart and hand? She—Yes, dear. He—Thanks! You have made me the happiest of men, but we must have some regard for the old maxim and not be married in haste. She—Don't worry about that. I am perfectly willing to wait till next week.—Los Angeles Times.

HOW TO TELL

If the Kidneys and Liver are Not Acting Well

Thousands die every year from aggravated kidney distress that could have been saved if they only knew.

Your back may ache, you think it's tiredness or physical weakness.

You grow irritable and nervous—it's put down to loss of sleep.

Joints ache, muscles get sore, —that's all put down to bad weather.

Then digestion gets poor, appetite fades away, color bleaches, spirits droop.

Can't you see it's all from your over-worked kidneys, which can't keep the body clear of poisons that are now surging through the whole system.

Cure your kidneys with Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"When I was so stooped and back weary, so lame and sore with kidney and bladder trouble, I cured myself quickly with Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes C. C. Ferrier, a well known merchant in Plattsville. "Dr. Hamilton's Pills touched the spot at once, gave my back ease, lifted depression and weariness, made a new man of me. I can also say for a good spring medicine to clear and enrich the blood Dr. Hamilton's Pills have no equal."

The housewife whose aching back makes every little duty a burden, the working man who is tired all day and can't rest at night, whose back aches, and whose feet swell—these people have kidney trouble. Women whose kidneys are sick, suffer continually from blind and sick headaches, faint and dizzy spells, bearing down pains, sharp twinges when stooping, distressing urinary troubles, aching muscles, and joints, lack of appetite, and loss of sleep, teach the cause. Cure the kidneys. Use Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills, which have cured thousands. 25c at all dealers.

ting reply to the toast. He expressed his pleasure at being present and meeting the officers of the Dragoons, and stated that he had always taken a deep interest in military matters. He heartily approved of the suggestion that Peterborough should be made the headquarters of a divisional camp, and stated that the city possessed peculiar advantages for such an establishment.

57th Regiment and P. C. I. Cadets.

Mr. T. F. Matthews, chairman of the Water Commissioners, proposed the next toast, that to the 57th Regiment and the Peterborough Collegiate Institute Cadets, coupling with it the names of Capt. Vincent Eastwood and Lieut. J. E. Hodgson.

Capt. Eastwood, in responding, paid a warm tribute to Hon. Mr. Stratton, whom he stated had devoted his time and given his friendly assistance to help the militia of the district on every possible occasion and his assistance had been appreciated.

It had always been the dream of the 57th Regiment that Peterborough should be made the headquarters for the divisional camp. It seemed now as if this long-looked for condition was coming at last. There was no better recruiting ground anywhere in the country than in the Midland district.

In conclusion, Capt. Eastwood thanked Hon. Mr. Stratton and Mr. R. R. Hall for their efforts in securing a new armoury for Peterborough.

Lieut. Hodgson, in replying to the toast, on behalf of the Collegiate Cadets, first congratulated the officers and men of the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons on the excellent showing they had made at the inspection, which the speaker had had the pleasure of witnessing, and which he had enjoyed very much. Speaking of the Cadets, Lieut. Hodgson remarked in the Peterborough Collegiate a different system was adopted than in most of the other Collegiates. Generally a few of the better-drilled boys were selected and these formed the Cadet Corps. In the Peterborough Collegiate every boy was a member of the Cadet Corps, which was 150 strong, divided into four companies and commanded by Major Harry Hall, who was, he was sure, one of the best junior officers to be found anywhere. They did not seek to arouse a noxious spirit of militarism in the schools but to give the boys the idea of being of service to their country.

Trophy Is Offered

Before the banquet was brought to a close, Hon. Mr. Stratton made an announcement that was received with great applause. It was to the effect that he had decided to present to the Dragoons a trophy to be competed for annually by the four squadrons of the Corps commencing next year. The awarding of the trophy was left in the hands of the following committee, the award to be made on the last day of camp: The Colonel, the Major, the Adjutant, the Surgeon, and the Veterinary. The conditions of the competition are: 1, lines in camp; 2, horses; 3, the physique of the men; 4, shooting; 5, the strength of the squadron; 6, conduct in camp; 7, general efficiency; 8, drill.

The trophy is to become the possession of the squadron winning it three years in succession.

The announcement was received with great enthusiasm and Lt. Col. Syer neatly expressed the thanks of the Dragoons to Hon. Mr. Stratton for his generosity.

The Vice-Chairman, Hon. Capt. Langfeldt proposed the toast of "The Host of the Evening," remarking that he could not say anything too good about Mr. Stratton. It was not the first occasion upon which he had honoured the Dragoons, but the speaker felt that this was the climax and unless they showed their appreciation they would be falling far short of their duty.

The toast was heartily honoured, the banqueters singing lustily "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The jolly affair was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem, and "Auld Lang Syne," and the giving of three cheers and a tiger for the Hon. Mr. Stratton and the 3rd Prince of Wales Dragoons.

HOUESE BURNED.

Mr. Whitfield Northey of Smith, Lost His Handsome Home.

On Thursday night the handsome red brick house of Mr. Whitfield Northey of Smith, was lately destroyed by fire. The flames were first noticed in the roof, and the neighbors quickly gathered and did noble work in saving the contents. All the household furniture was gotten out except what was in one room. Nothing, however, could be done to save the building andthe loss will be in the neighborhood of $2000.

Mr. Kearns was attending a meeting of the Board of Directors of the insurance company at Montreal, and stopped off here on his way back. He has since left for Northern Ontario, where he has large interests in iron mines.

Sawdust Fire.

The old sawdust pile on the river bank is again causing a great deal of trouble. The firemen were called over there Thursday afternoon and some one was there most of the night and nearly all day yesterday! The chief got back to the city about five o'clock yesterday afternoon and said that it was out.

Coffer Dam Being Built at Waterworks Dam

Although the contract was signed only about two weeks ago the Bishop Construction Company have already made quite an impression upon the property adjoining the river at the point where the new dam will be built. The old buildings have been torn down, the shrubs cut and uprooted, new tent house and office erected and about half of the coffer dam is built.

The new dam will stretch across the river about 150 feet below the old dam. It will be built in two sections. The west half will be done first and it is for this that the coffer dam is now being built. Three cribs are being dammed and after the crib work is filled with stones the outside of the crib will be sheeted with two-inch plank. This work was started yesterday and several yards were sheeted. A diver is used to nail the planks to the bottom of the crib. It will be only a few days before the pumps are started and when the bottom is dry the concrete work will be started.

The Bishop Construction Company have fourteen men there will be no more growing on the river bed this summer. There are some 30 men employed now and this number will be increased as the work progresses. Several teams are now drawing material on the grounds.

Serious Fire

Cobalt, July 2.—Fire caused near $500,000 damage here this morning.

Seven people are reported killed.

It started at four o'clock in a Chinese restaurant operated by Jae Lee.

There have been three fires in his store of late.

The feeling against Chinamen in Cobalt is now extremely strong.

The fire is still raging and may extend to some of the mines to the north of the town.

The north end of the town has been completely burned out.

Stores, beer saloons and all kinds of places of business went like matchwood.

The Haileybury Fire Department responded splendidly to a call, but nothing could save the street.

The Right-of-Way mine is on fire.

About three thousand people are homeless, but will be cared for by the town council as well as possible.

From the best information available six people are missing in the fire.

One, who was a victim of dynamite, died at noon.

Among the missing are four Assyrian children and two men.

The two men may yet be accounted for, but the children seem to have been lost without doubt.

A meeting of the citizens has just been held, called for by Mayor Lang and a relief committee has been formed to care for the homeless tonight and hereafter.

The north end of the town presents a scene of devastation. Subscription lists are already being circulated, and are receiving generous response.

Contributions are being received at P. J. Finlan's office and the four banks.

Several of the nearby mines volunteered to feed and house the large number of sufferers.

The feeling in town is very strong against Chinamen at the moment.

OBITUARY

ETHEL DEYMAN.

The death occurred on Thursday of Ethel, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Deyman, 309 Lewis street ,after an illness from scarlet fever.

The funeral took place Thursday to Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. ELLEN ETTA MORRIS.

The death occurred Thursday of Mrs. Ellen Etta Morris at the residence of her daughter, Park street. She was 90 years of age and was born in England.

The remains will be taken to Port Hope today at noon, where interment will take place. The funeral will be private, and friends are asked not to send flowers.

MRS. MICHAEL CAVANAGH.

The death occurred yesterday morning at St. Joseph's hospital of Ellen Twomey, wife of the late Mr. Michael Cavanagh of Ennismore. The deceased had not been in good health for several years and about a month ago went to Port Arthur hoping to benefit by the climatic change. The result, however, seemed to be just the reverse, for she sank rapidly and was brought home very ill.

The late Mrs. Cavanagh was 45 years of age, and a daughter of the late Mr. Jas. Twomey of Ennismore. Her marriage to Mr. Cavanagh was celebrated 20 years ago, but her husband predeceased her some years ago. She is survived by two children. Francis aged 19, and Mary Veronica, aged 14. Her brothers and sisters are Thomas of Emily, Maurice of Ennismore, and Timothy of Winnipeg,and Mrs. P. J. Scollard of Ennismore, Sister Veronica of Port Arthur, and Sister Genevieve of St. Joseph's hospital. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock from the family residence, lot 7, con. 7, Ennismore, to St. Martin's church, and thence to St. Martin's cemetery.

GYPSIES GONE.

Backed up and Left for Parts Unknows Yesterday.

After a sojourn in the city of nearly two weeks the Mexican gypsies decamped yesterday afternoon, much to the relief of the whole population. The last few days of their stay, however, the tribe made things merry for all and they apparently had a first-class time. They made lots of noise, had lots of music and lots of refreshments. Where they went is not known as they refused to say where they would stop next, the probability is they do not know themselves.

While here, however, the Street Railway Company made considerable which will help swell the next dividends all day and until late in the evening big crowds went and came and the majority took the cars.

The people were curious to see the gypsies and it is surprising the number who intermingled with the dirt and filth which composed the greater part of the camp. They are gone now and it is a good thing.

CASE OF BRONCHIAL CATARRH PROMPTLY RELIEVED BY PE-RU-NA.

MR. J. C. HERVUS PELLETIER

Bronchial Catarrh Unless Stopped Often Spreads To The Lungs. Causing Catarrh of Lungs.

J. C. Hervus Pelletier, Dep't de l'Agriculture, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "The Peruna is particularly efficacious in the cure of catarrhal affections of the lungs and bronchial tubes, and it is in consequence the remedy most appreciated here in Ottawa. Six bottles cured me this winter of bronchitis. I am completely restored and I owe thanks to the Peruna. I have recommended this remedy to a large number of my friends afflicted with the same trouble, and they have verified my good opinion of this valuable remedy."

CATARRH of the bronchial tubes often very quickly becomes catarrh of the lungs. Catarrh of the lungs makes the patient an easy victim to the germs that cause tuberculosis. Sound lungs protect themselves against disease germs.

Peruna has acquired a lasting reputation in relieving catarrh of the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs. This should prevent the tubercular bacilli from gaining any foothold in the lungs, and saves the patient from the inevitable result.

Mr. Wickliffe R. Smith, Editor of The Potlatch Herald, formerly Principal of the Schools at Cameron, Idaho, writes:

"For some time I suffered with catarrh of the throat and bronchial tubes. I tried many remedies, but could find nothing that would give me relief.

"Finally I tried Peruna. Three bottles cured me, made me sound and well. I believe it will do as much for others as it did for me. I shall be glad to recommend it to those suffering with catarrh."

DR. PELKEY

Consumption Cured

And all other Lung and Kidney Troubles

By the Wonderful Discovery made by a Canadian Doctor

Dr. Pelkey, a Canadian Physician, holding medical certificates in France, United States and Mexico, has made a discovery that promises to be the greatest boon yet given to humanity.

His great Consumption Cure is applied by means of an inhaler, the ingredients for which are contained in a tank, and the very first use made of it by the patient brings immediate relief, followed quickly by permanent cure. These inhalers are not sold to the people, but are placed in the home until they are not further needed, and then taken away.

Dr. Pelkey is exhibiting the invention, which is called the Peltier Inhaler, throughout the country. The inhaler is first a platinum tank,divided into 38 compartments, into which various chemicals and drugs are placed. Outside these compartments cold water is placed. The action of the cold water causes a vaporous gas to rise into an eight-part evaporator at the top, where it is purified and forced through tubes for inhalation. The gas forms pure oxygen, tasteless and odorless, and the patient inhales this. So healing is its effect that it will almost immediately stop a tubercolosis cough

A gauge registers the amount of oxygen taken by the patient

Most wonderful of all is the fact that Dr. Pelkey offers to treat his patients with the inhaler free of charge. The only thing for which he charges is a blood-purifier and building-up tonic, which he insists upon the patient's taking. He will even allow the person undergoing the treatment to take home the tank with him and be treated there.

Dr. Pelkey has been for 17 years in Mexico and Central and South America. He has Government certificates from Mexico, Brazil, New Mexico and Canada and many Latin-American republics, testifying to cures wrought by him with the inhaler. One certificate states that nearly half a troop of Mexican soldiers and American soldiers and Government officials of Montreal were cured under his treatment. Another is signed by President Diaz, of Mexico, himself, whom Dr. Pelkey cured. Dr. Pelkey can show hundreds of other testimonials of permanent people of Ottawa, who were cured of lung troubles and kidney troubles after suffering for five years.

Write letters giving full description of diseases to The Great Specific Tonic Co., Ottawa, or to Dr. Pelkey, 389 Queen street, Peterborough.

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN EASTERN ONTARIO

VOL. XXXII NO. 155 PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, MONDAY JULY 5, 1909 PRICE TWO CENTS

Time to Think Up Plans

You Can Gain Much Help By Telling Every One Your Ambition

It certainly is good to see the great and growing interest taken in The Morning Times Contest. Evidently the list of prizes has made a wide appeal and many are determined to gain and hold a winning position.

SECOND VOTING PERIOD.

You should study the new rate card carefully today. From it you will see that though the votes are somewhat lower on subscriptions than during the Bargain Days, yet there is excellent opportunity to make fine gains on every subscription you can secure. The prizes are a long way from being won, and they are just as far from being lost.

If you have been hindered in your work so far by adverse circumstances, that is no reason for discouragement. You should make up your mind that by being a little more energetic than you need have been otherwise, you can make up for lost time. The three weeks that remain before the close of the contest on July 24 will count tremendously.

It is safe to say that no one who thinks they have gone far enough already stands a show beside the one who has made up his or her mind not to flag in their efforts.

MANY CAPITAL SCHEMES.

As the contest advances and the contestants grow more and more interested in piling up their vote, many capital schemes are evolved. A good one is to send out to your friends who are almost post cards with your picture on them, stating that you are a contestant and will be greatly disappointed if you do not win a prize. Ask them to help you to gain what you want.

WANTS TO GO TO SEATTLE.

Here is a young lady who wants to go to Seattle. She is sending this letter to all of her acquaintance.

My Dear Friend:

Perhaps you are aware that Peterboro's greatest paper, The Morning Times, is offering as a prize in their Great $3,000 Prize Voting Contest a trip to Seattle Exposition. The method of the contest is this. The prizes go to those who win the highest number of votes in the contest. Votes are given on subscription to the paper. The longer you subscribe for the more votes are issuedon the subscription, and NEW subscribers get more votes thanthose who renew their subscriptions.

Any one securing a new subscriber for the paper, or the renewal of an old subscription, is entitled to these votes. Being very desirous of making the trip to Seattle, for the educational advantages, as well as the enjoyment to be derived therefrom, and for the knowledge of the world and its doings to be gained, I am eagerly taking advantage of The Morning Times' liberal offer, and am trying to secure the maximum of votes in my district, in which case I can make my choice of all prizes.

To do this I take the liberty of addressing you as one of my friends in the hope that you may see your way to helping me by becoming a subscriber to the paper for as long a period as possible. Trusting that my request may receive favorable consideration, and thanking you in advance for anything you may do forme, I am

Yours truly.

ADVERTISING SCHEMEES.

In a recent contest a bright girl whose presence attracted many customers to a candy store, won much good will and many subscriptions by placing placards in prominent positions bearing the words:

"The Time"—NOW
"The Place"—Here.
"The Girl"—Miss——L

followed by a request for assistance in her campaign.

ANOTHER PLAN.

A letter writing club is another plan which brought good results. Each member undertook to write ten letters for their favorite candidate asking for a subscription in her favor, and asking those who receive the letters to pass a similar request along to their friends.

In this way an endless chain of letters is formed.

WHAT IS YOUR PLAN?

Now what are YOU doing? Remember that this great contest is hardly half over, and that the more people whom you let know of your ambition, the more likely you are torealize that ambition. Belgium Government Officials Visit Lift Lock

Several officials of the Belgium Saturday night and yesterday, their object being for the purpose of looking over the hydraulic lift lock and the Trent canal system.

The Department of Railways and Canals has been advised by the consul-general for Belgium at Ottawa that his government has commissioned certain of its officials to visit Canada and the United States for the purpose of studying the canal systems of these countries. The delegates are made up as follows: Messrs. Hector Genard, Inspector General of Bridges and Highways; Leon Van Wetter, engineer of Bridges and Highways; Krof de la Saule, Chief Engineer of Buildings and secretary of the Belgium government, and John Cokerill, of Searing.

Mr. J. H. McClellan, superintendent of the Trent Canal, has received word from the Department of These gentlemen would arrive in Peterborough on the 4.48 C.P.R. express Saturday afternoon and requesting him to pay special attention to the members of the delegation, and afford them every facility for a thorough examination of the Trent Canal.

CHEMONG BUS.

Three-Horse Bus is the Popular Means of Travel.

The three-horse bus with Ernie Lawrence in charge, which makes two double trips to Chemong daily, is quite the popular line to take from the city to that favorite summer resort. The bus always leaves on time, and it meets all the boats, and there is practically no chance of a mishap. What would be a great improvement and a most popular move would be a round trip on Sunday, leaving the city early in the morning and returning about the usual time in the afternoon. There is no doubt a big bunch of people would patronize this trip.

Rockfeller's Preachers Who are in Very Hot Doctrinal Controversy

Here are John D. Rockefeller's two pastors, REV. DR. CHAS. F. AKED, Fifth-av Baptist church, New York, at the right, and REV DR W. W. BUSTARD, Euclid-av Baptist Church, Cleveland, at the left. They are engaged in a bitter controversy started by Dr. Bustard. He accuses Dr. Aked of weakening their faith by admitting worshippers of other creeds to his church without the rite of immersion, and opening the communion to members of all churches, and even people who are not members.

A Bold Man Who'll Defend Aldrich Bill

Washington, D. C., June——It is to President Taft that Senator Dolliver looks for whatever improvement there may be made in the tariff act.

"Not that the bill is likely to be accepted with any particularly glad acclaim, even when it emerges from this wonderful transforming process" said the senator from Iowa. "But any redeeming touches, as I am informed, are to be placed upon it in the conference."

"Will it then be revision downward?" Senator Dolliver was asked.

"Of course, not so very downward," he replied. "When you figure that something like 75 per cent on the bill is still the same unchanged Dingley law, and that only 25 per cent of the schedules are open to any change in conference, it is evident that there will not be any large amount of revising downward."

"Why will the senators of the conference committee be any more likely to reduce duties than the senators are—the same ones—now in the senate?"

"They would not, in the regular course of things. But I am credibly informed that there is to be a silent partner in the conference—a partner who is not taking any hand in the present doings."

"You refer to President Taft?"

"I do. Such is my information."

"What is there that he can do then that he cannot do now?"

"Public opinion. His influence with members of the conference committee. I have been informed that he has agreed to keep hands off now on condition that he shall have a free hand with the conference."

"And that he will use his influence with Aldrich to secure some measure of reduction in the duties."

"That is the idea as it has come to me."

"And it is your personal belief that the result of the conference will be a reduction of the duties?" "I think the law will be closer to the house than to the senate bill."

"But, it will still be revision upward?"

"It will still be a far different thing from what the people want in the east and in the middle west generally. It will be a very different thing, I fear. From what was meant when they talked about a 'revision of the tariff.' It may be satisfactory to certain people in certain sections of the country. From what I see I should think the present tariff legislation was a sort of contract between New England and the Rocky mountains. New England gives its votes to the Rocky mountain states for their duties on raw wool, and the mountain states give their votes to New England for duties on the manufactured product. That is all very pleasant for the wool growers and the woolmakers. But a good many of the wool wearers are in between. They pay the freight. Nobody happened to ask them how they would like the bargain. All they have to do is to step up and vote the regular protection party ticket."

"Do you repudiate the tariff system?"

"Not at all. I repudiate only an abuse of the power of making tariffs —an abuse which brings all tariff legislation into discredit. I have defended the Dingley tariff schedules. But it is a bold man who will defend the Aldrich bill."

"Shall you vote for it on its final passage?"

"I don't know. I really have not made up my mind. I shall have to wait and see."

"How about the income feature? Do you approve the tax on corporations?"

"That is another open question. I shall have to wait and see what the text of the proposed measure looks like."

Third Annual Meeting of Bay of Quinte Summer School at Chemong

MISS GWENDOLYN REESE,
Who Defeated Marie Wagner, of New York, the U.S. Indoor Tennis Champion.

Splendid Program Prepared for the Occasion

This and next week will be lively ones at Chemong Park. It is the third annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Summer School. The students and teachers will arrivet today, and will be taken in charge by Mr. Brown of the Chemong Park Hotel, who has gone to considerable trouble in preparing for his guests. He expects about 150 for the two weeks.

The program this year is the best yet. It includes many well known and prominent devines and professors. Their subjects will be very interesting and everything looks like a huge success. Only two sessions a day will be held this year. One in the morning and one in the evening. The afternoons will be free for boating, fishing or wandering through woods or for studying. Rev. A. H. Foster of Castleton, is the business manager, and he is neglecting nothing which will add to the success of the scheme.

GERMANS WILL FLY

Hundreds of Air Ships to Ascend Today in Germany.

Frankfort-on-the-Main, July 1.—With elaborate ceremonies, the International Aeronautic Exposition was opened here today. Hundreds of dirible airships of all varieties are on exhibition and facilities will be offered to visitors to make trips in airships starting from the exhibition grounds.

On sixty days during the exhibition there will be races and other competitions of a sporting and military character. Experiments with aeroplanes will be carried out on a velodrome in the grounds. Four balloon halls have been built for the dirigibles, will be undertaken along the Rhine. Communication will be kept up by means of the exhibition's wireless station and carrier pigeons.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE.

In St. Andrew's Church on Sunday Morning.

In St. Andrew's church yesterday morning, Rev. J. G. Potter delivered a patriotic sermon in which he referred to the fact that at this time over 84,000,000 people in the United States and Canada were looking over the progress they have made during the past year. These two nations have been drawn closely together through commerce nd education. They are both endeavoring to enlighten the world and more recently they have been interested in the laymen's missionary movement. He referred to the great interest Canadians are taking along lines of moral advancement and in the government of the people.

The evening service was for young men in which he appealed to them to take the many opportunities afforded them in the summer season to improve the moral and intellectual faculties.

SUED HER MOTHER

Peculiar Case Settled by Local Master at the Court House.

Ottawa, July 4.—A peculiar case of domestic disagreement was aired before the local master at the court house recently and finally, at his suggestion, the two parties reached a compromise. Dr. Annie Lawyer of this city entered suit against her mother, Mrs. Katherine E. Lawyer, of Morrisburg, for reimbursement for goods and effects which it was claimed Mrs. Lawyer had disposed of in her daughter's absence.

The defendant entered a counter claim of charges for board and lodging. The case was referred to the local master recently by Judge Clute.

The matter was finally settled by Mrs. Lawyer paying $200 to her daughter, the latter giving up all her claims, and the counter claim being dropped. Mr. M. J. Gorman, K. C., acted for Dr. Lawyer, and Mr. J. F. Orde, K. C., for the defendant.

DEMAND THE VOTE

Women are Becoming Active on Pacific Coast.

Seattle, July 1.—"Votes for women" is the demand emblazoned on the banners of an army of women which invaded the exposition city today and went into camp for a week. The visitors are delegates to the convention of the National Woman Suffrage Association, the mother of all the suffragette clubs. If plans announced today are carried out, the coming week will be a lively one for the mere men in Seattle, who will be besought by argument and cajolery to join the ranks of the devotes of equal political rights.

Among the prominent suffragettes on the program of the convention are the presidents of all the leading state suffrage organizations, including Mrs. Ella Hawley Crosett, of New York, Mrs. Ella S. Stewart of Illinois, Mrs. Maud C. Stockwell of Minnesota and Mrs. Pauline Steinem of Ohio. All of the Western States which have granted the ballot to the fair sex are well represented and the beauties of the system will be explained by the fair "bosses" of those commonwealths.

Seattle is agreeably surprised in that the suffragette invasion has brought to the city, not the manish, short-haired, loud-voiced sisterhood, common in caricatures, but an intelligent, feminine, well-dressed assemnlage of typical American women. While a majority of the delegates are elderly and married, there are many beautiful maidens among them and their presence is likely to give Seattle bachelors a better opinion of the suffrage movement.

MISS HAZEL HOTCHKISS.
Whose Reputation as a Tennis Player, is Likely to Eclipse Miss Sutton's.

Prominent Citizen, in Person of Alfred Davies, Died Saturday Afternoon

It was with most profound regret that it was learned Saturday afternoon that Mr. Alfred Davies had passed away at his residence, 106 Mardonel street. The deceased had been ailing for the past couple of years but was able to keep up his music classes until the end. For several days he felt a little better if anything and his physician said that so far as human intelligence could foretell he would live for probably several years. On Friday however he took a bad turn and rapidly sank until about 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon when he passed peacefully away.

The late Mr. Davies was born in Manchester, England, 54 years ago, and came to Canada in 1903. He first settled in Norwood, but soon came to Peterborough, and has resided here for the past 15 years, for seven years of which he was organist in St. Luke's church. He was a natural born musician, and devoted his whole time to the teaching of his large classes, many graduates of which are a credit to him. He was identified with the musical interests of the city and always was prominent in the profession. He had a wide circle of friends and admirers and was respected by all. He was a member of the Church of England and of the United Workmen.

He is survived by a wife and one daughter, Miss Helen Davies, and to them is extended the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community.

One of the saddest features of Mr. Davies' death is that his only child, Miss Helen, is now on the Atlantic on her way to visit relatives in England, she having sailed only after the physician assured her that there was no reason to believe that her father would be any worse for some time to come.

The funeral will take place from the residence this afternoon at three o'clock. Services will be conducted at the house and interment will take place in Little Lake cemetery.

Lady Tennis Champions

Philadelphia, July 2.—Not for years have the matches of the women's national tennis championship provided such really interesting contests as those of the annual tournament held on the courts of the Philadelphia Cricket club at St. Martin's.

Chief interest centered in Miss Hazel Hotchkiss of Berkeley, Cal., That the reputation which preceded her was by no means overrated was demonstrated by her easy victories the first two days of play. At no time was she fully extended, and on form, critics are predicting that she is likely to eclipse Miss Sutton, the noted player who also hails from California.

It was predicted Miss Hotchkiss' contest with Mrs. Barger Wallach of New York and Newport, present holder of the national woman's singles championship, would be worth going miles to see.

Mrs. Barger-Wallach has not announced that she will defend the title, but her presence each day and her practice with strong players make it almost certain that she does not intend to let the title go by default.

Another player who pleased the critics immensely was Miss Gwendolyn Rees of St. Paul. She gained an easy victory in the first round, but in the second, when opposed by Miss Marie Wagner of New York, national indoor champion, she had a chance to show her capabilities. The honors of the day were freely accorded Miss Rees. The youngest contestant in the tournament, she showed that she is a force to be reckoned with in women's tennis.

To be sure, she won by default in the last set, but endurance is half the battle in match play.

Miss Rees is a girl of slight build, but possesses wonderful stamina.

Second Part of City League Schedule was Opened Saturday

The usual crowd took in the ball games at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon and saw the opening games of the second part of the schedule. It started off the same as the first games, the Park street boys defeated the Stratheonas 10—9, and the T.A.S. defeated the West Ends 11—4.

The first game was anybody's up to the eighth innings when the Straths went up in the air, and Park street scored five runs. The Straths however in their half scored six runs and made the score 9—8 in their favor. The Park Streets came back in the ninth with two more and the Straths were shut out.

In the second game the T.A.S. started off with 3 runs in the first innings and maintained the lead until the 8th, when they touched up the Westerners for 6 runs. This took the heart out of their opponents and the game ended 11—4 in favor of the T.A.S.

Keep on the Right Side of the Road

Keep to the right side of the road. No matter what happens stay on your own side. This applies to all manner of conveyances and it is a practice or a custom or necessity which is sadly neglected in Peterborough. People here drive, ride wheels and run automobiles all over the road and now that there are so many automobiles in use there will be a serious accident. Ald. Metheral drew the attention of the Legal Committee to this fact yesterday afternoon and suggested that if the public did not take the hint that a bylaw be passed, compelling them to keep on the right hand side. As a matter of fact a great many are ignorant of the fact that the right hand side is the proper side while the great majority ignore it. In case of an accident the person on the wrong side is liable for all damages.

NEW PASTOR.

Rev. Mr. Brown Occupied the Pulpit at St. James.'

There were two large congregation at St. James' church yesterday to welcome the Rev. Mr. Brown, who delivered his initial sermon in Peterborough on that occasion. Rev Mr. Brown is the new pastor of St. James, and came here from Beaverton. He is a good speaker and an earnest worker, and no doubt the church will continue to prosper under his guardianship. On Tuesday evening the congregation will tender him a reception in the church.

ANOTHER GREAT WAR

Rome, July 1.—With the title, "In the Year 1912," and with the subtitle, "Prepare the Fleet," a pamphlet has been published here which is likely to create a sensation in the press of other European capitals, if not in the chancelleries, particularly when it is hinted that Admiral Carlo Mirabello, Minister of Marine, is the author. The pamphlet aims to show that 1912 will be the end of the already weakened Triple Alliance and that Italy must prepare for this eventually. The author offers a naval programme which means the signature of a milliard lire, or $200,000,000 for the adds that during the year in question Austria will attack Italy without warning. He argues as follows:

"Since the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the Triple Alliance has become Austria fatally destined to become enemies. The year 1912 will mark the extreme limit of the deteriorating "triplice,' and it is possible to make for this date the prophecy that the Archduke Francis Fredinand, who directs with a hand of iron Hungarian policies and is energetically reforming and developing the army, will suddenly attack Italy in the name of Francis Joseph The programme of the Archduke is known. It assures to Austria the complete domination of the Adriatic and the destruction of Italy as a naval power.

"If Austria, in the last few months, particularly while the Peninsula was plunged in grief over the catastrophe at Sicily and Calabria, did not declare war, as the most radical Austrian newspapers urged it to do, it was for two reasons: First, because Germany advised it not to do so at that time, second, because its naval armaments were not yet completed, although its army was ready to strike.

"But in 1912 the situation will be very different. Germany is employing all its energy, all its material and financial resources for the rapid completion of its gigantic naval construction provided for by the law of June 14, 1900, in order later to be ready to face England.

"By next year the Italian and Austrian fleets will be of about equal strength, but in 1912 the superiority of Austria over Italy will be overwhelming. For her naval defense Italy must have a fleet at least twice as strong as Australia's in order from the very beginning of the contest to dominate the Adriatic."

The author goes on to suggest a programme which could be carried out within three years at the cost of a milliard of lire. Half of this sum would be used in the construction of ships and in fortifying the port of Venice. The other half would be employed in turning the lake of Verano into a strong naval base. The whole programme may be summarized under the following heads:

1. To build in three years four first-class battleships, four steel cruisers, four protected cruisers, and eighteen torpedo destroyers. 2. To spend, once for all, 42,000,000 lire on depots of ammunition and coal. 3. To rebuild or improve the fortifications at Venice by 70,000,000 lire. 4. To construct a fortified base of naval operations in the Adriatic at an expense of 500,000,000 lire. 5. To augment the ordinary naval budget by 200,000,000. 6. To fix by law twenty years as the life of first-class battleships and fifteen years as the life of other vessels. 7 To put out of service the naval arsenals at Naples and Castellamare and transfer them to the new port on the Adriatic; to put out of commission all useless vessels of the

DR. FLEXNER REPORTS SERUM WORKED MANY CURES AMONG 712 CASES.

Treatment is Found by Several Physicians Greatly to Reduce Mortality.

New York, July 3.—Dr. Simon Flexner, the director of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, has now tabulated the results of his serum treatment in 712 cases of cerebrospinal meningitis. His figures show the greatest mortality in the disease is in the first two years of infant life. The Flexner serum cured more than 42 per cent of these cases, as against only 10 per cent. of cures under the old methods of treatment.

The next highest rate of death in meningitis is among children of from 2 to 5 years of age. The serum cured nearly 27 per cent of the patients in this class. When used in children from 5 to 10 years of age the mortality was lowest of all—only 16 per cent. Persons more than 15 years old seem to have cerebrospinal meningitis of a type as severe as infants. The serum cured between 32 and 33 per cent of the patients from 15 to 20 years of age.

Early injection of the serum, Professor Flexner says, is the great point in the serum treatment. The mortality among those injected in the first to the third day was a little more than 25 per cent. Among those injected in the fourth to seventh day there was nearly 38 per cent of deaths. The mortality among those who were not injected until the seventh day or after exceeded 42 per cent.

Cures Reported By Others.

Dr. Thomas Morgan Rotch of Boston has reported to the American Medical Association his experience with the Flexner serum in treating meningitis in children under 12 years of age. It reduced his mortality, he says, even under the diphtheria antitoxin treatment of meningitis. Dr. [illegible] Utterner of Nashville, Tenn., reports ten cures out of seventeen patients in the recent meningitis epidemic there. Two of the deaths were of patients who were moribund when first injected.

Dr. Frank Spooner Churchill of Chicago says he has found it is useful to inject the Flexner serum under the skin. It must be used by lumbar puncture. Nor is the serum, he says, intended for any form of meningistis except the epidemic type. In severe cases the dose has to be repeated every day for four days, then a day of rest, then four more daily doses. The Flaxner serum, he says, limits the duration of the disease.

Light On "Caisson Disease."

Curious facts in regard to the "caisson disease" that afflicts the workers in thetunnels under the North and East rivers have been gathered by Dr. M. Allen Starr, professor of neurology in Columbia University. The strange symptoms are produced, he says, by the development of air bubbles in the blood vessels when the men come out too quickly from the compressed air chambers. The air bubbles cause clots that stagnate the blood, thus leading to profound nervous disturbances.

The effects may pass off in a week or they may last for months. Death may come soon after the attack of the disease or may be postponed a long time. Some of the victims never get well, but remain chronic invalids for life. Of several hundred cases observed by Professor Starr the large majority recovered even though they had very severe symptoms at the outset, brain and spine symptoms, which in any other disease would have terminated fatally. Many of the recoveries seem extraordinary, he says

STRAWBERRIES SCARCE.

Dry Weather is Hard on the Fruit and They are Going Back.

Strawberries will be scarce in this locality unless there is considerable rain within the next day or two. The local dealers who get their berries from along the eastern part of Lake Ontario, are receiving notice from the shippers that they will not be able to supply the fruit in the quantities first expected. The dry weather hasdry weather has dry weather has been playing havoc with them.

The growers and shippers from the Niagara district are in better shape as they appear to have had more rain there and the crop is more bountiful. The question of freight, however, is quite an item and there is also a big market in Western Ontario.

The probability is that the present prices for strawberries, viz., three boxes for 25c., are just as low as they will be this season in Peterborough.

Shackleton No Plodder.

Great rejoicing has been caused at Alleyn's College, Dulwich, England, about the success of Lieut. Shackleton, an old Alleynian, who went to the school in May, 1896, and left after three years of Dulwich life. Every boy subscribed a halfpenny towards a congratulatory telegram. A special half-holiday was given in Lieutenant Shackleton's honor.

The explorer's old form master, Mr. Escott, said: "He never rose high in the school, or applied himself seriously to his books, but his merits were always recognized as being out of all proportion to his place in form. He was considered rather delicate. He left too young, for he was not yet sixteen years old, to distinguish himself in athletics. He was, I think, in the Upper Third at the time.

"He was always full of energy, but never could put his nose to the grindstone—a rolling stone gathering no moss, but a lively and very pleasant fellow."

Lieutenant Shackleton was born in Ireland. At the age of seventeen he went to sea, and after several years in the mercantile service took part in the transhipment of the British troops to South Africa at the time of the war. He went with Captain Scott on the voyage of the Discovery, and on his return acted as secretary to the Royal Geographical Society of Scotland.

Veteran Peers Dead.

No less than four members of that institution much loved in some circles and most hated and execrated in others, viz., the House of Lords, have crossed the Rubicon. The peers whose deaths have to be recorded recently are Lord Gwdyr, far and away the oldest member of the House of Lords; Earl Egerton of Tatton, who for years did considerable hard work for the Conservative party in both Houses; the Earl of Howth, K.P., a grand specimen of the right type of Irish landlord and last but not least the Earl of Hardwicke, a member of the late Balfour administration who died in the full prime of his powers.

Lord Gwdyr, under which picturesque title Peter Robert Burrell has sat for so many years in the House of Lords, had the unique position of any peer in the Upper House, that of having served under and being present at the coronation of not less than four monarchs of the House of Hanover, viz., George IV., William IV., the late Queen Victoria and the present King. At the time of his death he was closely approaching on his hundredth year, having been born in 1810. He is succeeded by his only son, the Hon. Willoughby Merrik Campbell, who has already attained the fairly venerable age of 63.

FOOLED THE ROBBERS

An Incident of the Days of Stage-coach Holdups.

QUICK WIT OF PAT CLOHESY.

The Trick by Which the Old Time Mining Man of Colorado Saved Himself and Sacrificed His Fellow Travelers and the Story Sequel.

"When the passengers in the old coaching days found themselves in the clutches of the 'road agents' they instinctively hurried, during the short time that driver and guard were being put in a proper state of helplessness, to secret money and valuables in the first safe place that suggested itself," said a veteran Colorado mining man. "But such precautions were useless, for there was small time and smaller opportunity of place to hide anything in a mere shell of a coach. If a man was found without money, they stripped him and searched the stage as well.

"The experience of Pat Clohesy, an old time mining man of Colorado, is historic. One afternoon he took the stage from Silver Cliff camp, bound for the railroad, sixty miles away. In the coach were a dozen other passengers, none of whom knew him. As they reached the narrowest part of the gorge that leads out of Wet Mountain valley a loud command of 'Hold up your hands!' brought the stage to a sudden standstill and every passenger in it to a swift realization that unless quick action was taken he would go broke. One crammed his wad of bills down his boot leg; another thrust his roll down the back of his neck; a third took off his hat, put his wallet inside and set it back on his head. Every man Jack of them attempted to secrete his money except Pat Clohesy, and Pat sat perfectly quiet.

"In a few moments a rifle barrel appeared at the window, and there came the order, 'Hands up and all out!' Out the passengers tumbled and stood in line with lifted hands. Pat at the far end. When the searching highwayman went through the first man he found nothing. Irritated at this, he started through the second, with the same lack of success. Angry at this, the bandit turned to his fellow robber, who stood covering the line with his Winchester.

"'They have been tryin' to hide their stuff, d—n 'em!' he exclaimed. 'We'll just make 'em strip, and then we'll go through the stage. They'll pay for puttin' us to all this trouble!'

"Then up spoke Pat Clohesy from the far end of the line. 'Gentlemen,' he said, addressing the highwaymen, 'I know you're in a hurry, and I know I'm a poor miner with all my property in the world—just the $15 I've got—in my pocket. If you'll leave me that little roll, I'll tell you where these other fellows have hidden their swag, so's you can collect it quick and skip out. Is it a bargain?'

"'Sure,' said the man with the guarding rifle. Fifteen dollars meant nothing to the band compared to the risk. 'Well,' said Pat, pointing to the first in line, 'that fellow's money is stuffed down his right boot leg.'

"The holdup investigated and drew forth a plump roll of bills from the boot leg. 'That next man,' went on Pat, 'has got his money hid under the hind seat in the stage.' The bandit found a fat wallet stuffed under the cushion. 'The next has got his money in his hat, and the next crammed his stuff down the back of his neck, and the next'— Pat went down the line of them, while the highwayman drew forth money from all manner of places. Swiftly collecting their booty, they bundled the passengers back in the coach, set driver and guard back on their seats and told them to go ahead, not, however, before they had given Pat a twenty dollar bill and a hearty slap of thanks on his Irish back.

"The storm that broke over his head inside that coach after it had rolled a safe distance from the bandits threatened his very life before he could get a hearing. Had it not been that the robbers had disarmed them all and Pat was a huge man he never would have got away alive.

"'Each of you figure up just how much you've lost,' he said to his fellow passengers when at last they would listen, 'and I'll pay you back not only what that is, but an equal amount in addition, for the leather I've given you,' and he pulled from an inner vest pocket a huge roll of bills. In bewilderment the travelers counted up their losses. Collectively it was about $1,000. Pat peeled off two $1,000 bills from the bulky mass of money and, handing them to a responsible passenger, asked him to make correct division when they reached the railroad.

"'I'm sorry for the unpleasant quarter hour I caused you,' he continued 'but it was the only thing I could do to save myself. I have just sold a mine back in Silver Cliff for $40,000 cash and had no other way to bring the money out except in my pocket. Here is the bundle of it,' and he held up the fat roll. 'When I heard the holdups outside I thought it was all up, for you can't hide money from those hounds. But when you fellows pulled out your money to hide it and I saw that some of you had any large amount I thought I would work a game on the road agents and give you away to the villains in order to save myself. I surely did! They've got $1,000, but I've saved my money!'"—Washington Post.

The Boom in Southern Alberta.

Calgary in the meanwhile is experiencing an extraordinary rush of land-seekers, which is so great that hotel accommodation is unable to cope with it. The entrance halls are filled with cots, and the immigration building is crowded to its utmost capacity. Even private houses have had to open their doors to prevent the land-seekers from having to spend the night in the streets.

THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO, under the authority of Chapter 4, of the Statutes of Ontario, 1909, invites subscriptions from the public for a loan of $1,500,000 on behalf of the Province of Ontario, or "Ontario Government Stock."

The bonds will be dated 1st June, 1909, and payable on the 1st June, 1959, in the denomination of $1,000 each, with coupons attached for interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly on the 1st June and 1st December in each year at the offices of the Provincial Treasurer, Toronto, or at the offices of the Bank of Montreal, in Montreal, Quebec, and in New York, N. Y., at the holder's option. Bonds will be made payable to bearer, but no payment will be registered in the office of the Provincial Treasurer and endorsed as payable only to the order of certain persons or corporations, and on request of holders will be exchanged for "Ontario Government Stock" at any time.

"Ontario Government Stock" will bear interest from the 1st day of June, 1909, principal payable on the 1st day of June, 1959, and interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum will be paid half-yearly by cheque on the 1st day of June and 1st day of December in each year. "Ontario Government Stock" may be subscribed for in sums of $100 or multiples thereof, and will be transferable in the books of the Treasury Department only by the holder or his attorney in similar manner to transfers of bank stock.

The issue price during the month of June, 1909, will be 102 for each $100, and after the 30th day of June, 1909, the issue price will be 103 and interest accrued from the 1st June, 1909.

ALL BONDS AND INSCRIBED STOCK ISSUED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE SAID ACT ARE FREE FROM ALL ONTARIO PROVINCIAL TAXES, CHARGE, SUCCESSION DUTY AND DEPOSITIONS WHATSOEVER.

Purchasers of Stock or Bonds will be required to send certified cheque with the application, payable to the order of the "Provincial Treasurer of Ontario."

This loan is raised upon the credit of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Ontario, and is chargeable thereupon.

Subscribers should state whether they desire bonds or "Ontario Government Stock."

Example: A subscriber for $1,000 will have the option of taking either a bond or "Ontario Government Stock." A subscriber for $700 will be given "Ontario Government Stock," as bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000.

COLD IN THE HEAD

While the Senses in Sneezing and Sniffling. Dosing with Purgatives, or Bothering with Atomisers?

CATARRHOZONE.

A Convenient Inhaler Treatment is the Proper Remedy to Cure Quickly and Pleasantly.

Some people long ago abandoned the idea of "working off" a cold by means of laxatives and purgatives for the simple reason that the cure is as bad as the disease itself.

To cure a cold in about ten minutes time use Catarrhozone. It is aromatic, delightful to inhale, clean and very simple to use.

Catarrhozone is a vegetable antiseptic and perfectly safe and harmless. Even children and infants can use it. The vapor is inhaled at the mouth, and after passing through the respiratory organs is inhaled slowly through the nostrils.

Catarrhozone never disappoints. It stops sneezing, coughing an drunning at the eye, by a few inhalations. Inflammation congestion, and all irritation disappear under the influence of Catarrhozone more quickly than can be told.

C. B. College, of Clarence Street, London, says:—"I had a continuous cold in the head for years, and never used anything with such quick results as I derived from five minutes' use of Catarrhozone. I am delighted to find a remedy that cures colds in a few minutes. Catarrhozone cures every time."

To carry a Catarrhozone Inhaler in the pocket means you won't have colds, catarrh or any lung or throat trouble. It keeps these diseases away and is warranted to protect you against all the ills of winter. Complete outfit, with Hard Rubber Pocket Inhaler costs $1.00. Small size, 50 cents. Druggists or N. C. OBJECT LESSON IN CIVIC GOVERNMENT.

Guelph has its own "steam road" leased for 99 years to the C. P.R. which pays 13 per cent upon an investment of $193,000, the dividends increasing constantly. It purchased the gas works, and the electric light and power plants at a cost, including betterments, of $210,000. Prior to these works being taken over our citizens had to pay $1.80 per 1,000 feet, for illuminating gas, and 14c. per 1,000 watts for commercial, and 12c. for private electric current. We are now charged but $1.00 per 1,000 for gas, and 10c. all around for electric lighting, and on the amounts of these two commodities consumed by our people last year a net saving of over $15,500 was made by the public, in addition to which the commissioners of these departments cleared a gross profit of $34,179 for the 12 months, or after paying interest on debentures a handsome clear net profit of $25,218. Considering that out of profits alone debentures to the extent of $17,945 had already been paid off at the end of 1908, this net profit was equal to a dividend at the rate of about 18 per cent on the net investment of $192,054, which the city then had in these utilities." Taxes are paid on the plants, and are lights in streets cost $5 per annum less than under previous arrangements. Next year, with the Niagara electric power, gas is to cost 90c. per 1,000 feet, and electric light at 6c. per 1,000 watts. The street railway is owned by the city, and with a 3c. workmen fare paid last year $5,065 on an investment of $108,000. The waterworks also the property of the city, paid profits last year of $21,139 on $173,948 invested. The tax rate is 144 mills, which works out at $42.71, the total including light upon a 6-roomed house with bathroom etc., valued at $1,500, or at $23.65 on a workman's cottage valued at $1,000. We suspect the valuation is not excessive since the total assessed taxable property only amounts to $6,691,000 The annual profits on utilities amount to $85,000, and are increasing, and the civic "assets exceed its total liabilities by the handsome figure of $327,462."

The Government of this model little city is by a Mayor and aldermen, with independent commissions managing its various utilities. It is being suggested now that all these commissions should be combined under competent business men, who should form a paid governing commission for the city.

Peterboro's experience in Municipal government is not regarded as a brilliant success, and it might be well for us to watch Guelph's progress.

Nothing in the way of a Cough is quite so annoying as a tickling teasing, wheezing, bronchial Cough. The quickest relief comes perhaps from a prescription known to Druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. And besides, it is so thoroughly harmless that mothers give it with perfect safety even to the youngest babies. The tender leaves of a simple mountain shrub, give to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy its remarkable curative effect. It is truly a most certain and trustworthy prescription. Sold by All Druggists.

As airships and balloons increase, some genius should be studying up a convenient and portable reflecting instrument by which everybody can see what's going on in the sky without breaking a neck.

THE CANADIAN ROUTE.

The fact of the International Navigation Company—the great shipping combination organized a few years ago by Mr. J. P. Morgan and which bought up the famous White Star line and other British steamship companies—having built two large and fast steamers for the Canadian Atlantic trade is a significant proof of the growing importance of the Canadian route. These vessels have already challenged the supremacy acquired by the Empress of Britain and the Empress of Ireland and it is rumored that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, which is the owner of these two vessels, will build new steamers to contest the trade with the new competitors for it—the White Star line. Such rivalry cannot fail to divert still more traffic to the Canadian route.

LINDSAY OLD BOYS.

In a special number of the Lindsay Warder, issued a short time ago there appeared an interesting article written by a Lindsay old boy, Mr. W. M. O'Beirne of the Stratford Beacon. He spent his boyhood in Lindsay, and recalls the warm discussions that took place at the time of the American war.

"The assassination of President Lincoln," he says, "was marked in Lindsay by a half holiday on the day of his funeral, a volley from two small cannons owned by Lieut. Rodden, a retired British naval officer, and the closing of the stores. Several of the larger boys had enlisted as drummers in the Northern army, and a day that lingers in the memory of the writer was one spent in a la Tom Sawyer—in hoeing a field of potatoes for a boy who had returned from the war, for the privilege of hearing him tell of his adventures."

Some of the men who bore a hand in the building of railways in the Lindsay district have since won much prominence. In the building of the Victoria Railway, Mr. O'Beirne tells us that Mr. James Ross was the engineer in charge. "Mr. William Mackenzie felt a general store in Kirkfield," he said, "to build the station on the line, and Mr. D. D. Mann was a champion riper driver at Fenelon Falls. They all afterwards drifted to the North-West with Mr. Ross, who became superintendent of construction of the C.P.R., and their fortunes rose with his. It is doubtful if there is a district on the continent of equal size that has produced three as able men as James Ross, Wm. Mackenzie and D. D. Mann. And there is another—J. W. Leonard, now general manager of the Canadian Pacific, Eastern division, who commenced his brilliant career as an operating railway man in Lindsay. The writer remembers him as freight clerk and afterwards manager of the Victoria Railway, a keen, bright young fellow, adequate for every advancement that came to him, and advancement came fast."

OPPOSE CANADIAN SPIRIT

A Centralized Navy Will Never Appeal to Colonials, Says Manchester Paper.

London, July 1.—The Manchester Guardian, discussing Canada and the navy, says centralization, whether it take the form of a centralized navy or a formal Imperial federation, is opposed to the colonial spirit generally. Attempts to scare Canada into the way of centralization or late cultivating a spurious Imperialism, may make Canadians doubt whether Englishmen are not losing their antique steadfastness and sense of humor, but are unlikely to deflect Canada from the policy upon which she is set, and the sooner the fact is appreciated in England the saner will be our expectations of practical work from the approaching conference.

A GREAT CHANCE.

To Make a Safe and Exceedingly Profitable Investment.

Conservative people of sound business sense know of the large fortunes which have been made in mining, often as the result of comparatively small investments made during the development period of mines when capital is required to bring the mines to the dividend paying period.

A mining proposition in accessible parts of the United States is not difficult to investigate and if any man of ordinary intelligence will simply take the trouble he can ascertain before investing whether or not a company is engaged in a serious mining enterprise and whether the directors of its affairs are substantial men of good character who have established a good record, or whether they are professional stock sellers, working one section and then fitting to another.

The Copper Belt Mines Company is well along on the road to dividends, has made remarkable progress in a comparatively short time. A careful, cold-blooded business investigation of both mines and management, which should be made before investing, should convince any fair-minded person that the chance of making a "big thing" out of a reasonable investment in Copper Belt stock at the present price is better than on any investment in which a few hundred or few thousand dollars can be placed anywhere at this time.

A total of over 2500 feet of underground work has been done on the Copper Belt property which, with the showing made, is sufficient to take the Copper Belt mine entirely out of the prospect or gambling stage and classify it as a large but not completely developed mine, sure with able management to bring large returns to those interested in a reasonably short time. A comparatively small amount of additional capital for new development, additional machinery and smelter should assure handsome dividends even for a successful mine, and no other legitimate enterprise yields such enormous returns on the capital invested.

These mines are located in the Rawhide Buttes, Wyoming, twelve miles south of Lusk on the main line of the C & N. W. Ry., and consists of 35 claims, four large proven veins, 2500 feet of actual development. Main shaft, the Lucky Henry, now down to a depth of 620 feet, intersected by the Paine tunnel at the 400 foot level—620 feet long. Four other shafts 65, 50, 40 and 20 feet, and have all the attributes for successful mining on the property—water, timber and fuel.

The President and active manager of this Company is Edwin Hall, a mining engineer of nationa, reputation, who directs the work at the mines—he is also a prominent member of the American Mining Congress and recently appointed State Geologist of Wyoming. We call the attention of our readers to their advertisement on another page.

GOES TO PRISON.

Harry Boulter Gets One Month for Blasphemy.

London, June 29.—Harry Boulter, a speaker on free thought, who was tried in February for using blasphemous language at Highbury Corner, and bound over in £50, again appeared at the Old Bailey on Tuesday, it being alleged that he had broken the conditions of his recognizances by using blasphemous language at Highbury Corner and Clapham Common on Sunday morning in last month.

Mr. Justice Darling observed that the defendant was convicted before Mr. Justice Phillimore of speaking blasphemous and profane words in a public place, and was released on recognizances to come up for judgment if called upon, after giving the following undertaking:

"I do hereby express my sincere regret for the utterance of the expressions attributed and found against me, and I promise that I will not, at any meeting in public, attack Christianity or the Scriptures in the language calculated to shock the feelings or outrage the beliefs of the public."

Mr. Bodkin said that it was alleged that the defendant had used on many occasions expressions he had undertaken not to repeat.

Mr. Justice Darling: Does he deny using the words?

Mr. Cooper: He denies some of them.

The hearing was adjourned, and the defendant liberated on his own recognizances.

On Wednesday, however, he was again put in the dock and sentenced to one month's imprisonment.

OUTBREAK OF PRISONERS.

Many Disperate Characters Escape from Siberia.

Seattle, Wash., July 3.—A cable despatch from Nome, Alaska, describes a bloody outbreak of Russian political prisoners in the Yakutsk district, Siberia, and the flight of the mutineers across the wilderness toward Bering Strait, in an effort to reach Alaska.

The despatches says: Advices from Vladimer Station of the Northern Siberian Company, across Bering Strait, state that a band of prisoners in the Yukutsk district, revolted, killed the guards and started on a make the mainland of Alaska, 36 miles away.

Approaching an Esquimaux village, the convicts pressed the natives into their service and confiscated food, clothing and tools. When the Esquimaux resisted, a number were shot and the camp was left desolate.

Capt. Kallinnikoff sent a warning by special messenger to East Cape, and that place was garrisoned against attack. The report reaching here is that the convicts are expected to try to make Dionines Island, in the centre of Bering Straits. A Russian cruiser is expected daily at Vladimer, and may intercept the fugitives.

Capt. Kalinnikoff says the convicts are murderers and criminals of the worst sort.

Killed By a Bomb.

Tiflis, July 1.—Maria Bakhtadze, who had been prominent as an agent of the political police of Tiflis, was killed by a bomb here yesterday that had been sent to her by an unknown person in a basket of cherries.

Madame Bakhtadze was the widow of a man who formerly was prominent among the revolutionists. He turned traitor, however, betrayed many of the revolutionary leaders, and then entered the police service, and was killed last autumn. Out of revenge his widow became a spy, and devoted herself to hunting down every one responsible for her husband's death. For several weeks she had not ventured out of the police station.

THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY

Refuses to Spend Money in Useless Advertising

INSURANCE AND FINANCIAL REVIEW.

P. McPhillips, Editor,
Toronto, 5th December, 1908. J. H. Brock, Esq.,
Great-West Life Assurance Co.,
Winnipeg, Man.

Dear Sir :—

I presume that some time during the present month you will be re-arranging your advertising for the ensuing year, and I beg to remind you that when we discussed the matter, when you were here during the Summer, you said it would be considered at the first of the year. Up to the present time I have not had the privilege of carrying a card of your Company, nor have I ever published your annual statement.

I would be pleased if you would give both these your favorable consideration for the coming year.

Yours sincerely,
(Sgd.) F. McPHILLIPS.

THE GREAT WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

The Insurance and Financial Review, Winnipeg, March 27th, 1909.
Toronto, Ontario.

Gentlemen :—

We have not overlooked the information you gave us regarding rates in the Review, but so far it has not been decided to extend our advertising appropriation in this direction. However, your information is still before us, and when a decision is arrived at you will be advised.

Yours truly,
THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY
Per "G.M.B."
Advertising Department.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company thought it would not be profitable to the Company or to its policy-holders, who are interested in its revenues, to spend money uselessly in advertisements appearing in a journal, in their opinion, practically unknown, except to insurance agents. Accordingly it was decided not to advertise in that journal, though we expected that it might attack the Company. What we expected happened. Nevertheless the Company intends to advertise only in such reputable papers as it considers will give results beneficial to the insuring and the Company.

Some unscrupulous representatives of competing Companies make use of the unfair attacks of such journals without explaining the circumstances of the attacks, or the absurdity of the statements made, and we trust those who are approached by such agents will inform themselves on the subject by reading carefully the articles and the notes and comments thereon.

The Article

Representations have reached us with disconcerting frequency of late that conditions in regard to the Great-West Life Assurance Company are by no means satisfactory.

The Annual Report, which was published early in March, contains this remarkable statement: "We have this year changed all our records so that policies payable by instalments are entered not at their face values, but at their commuted values." It is well known that the Company has not until very recently availed itself of regular actuarial advice and very possibly much of the criticism incurred is attributable to this neglect, but we might ask why this rather important matter was overlooked by the Department of Insurance in the course of its yearly inspections. Inaccuracy in one part of a statement is apt to lead to suspicion of other parts.

PROFIT VARIATIONS.

We have before us a pamphlet issued by the Great-West Life Assurance Company, entitled "Actual Results to Policy holders;" "Paid by the Great-West Life Assurance Company under the Fifteen Year Preferred Dividend Policies which matured in 1907, together with the Results under Policies maturing in 1908." L

We quote two cases of Fifteen Year Endowment Policies maturing in 1908.

Policy No.	Amount.	Premiums paid.	Total cash value of policy.
640	$1,000	$969.75	$1,575.00
823	1,000	945.00	1,519.00

It is generally believed that the profits shown under these policies are excessive. This view is strengthened by a comparison with a five-year period policy upon the same 15 year Endowment plan which shows accumulated results as follows:

Policy No.	Amount	968	1,000
Total cash value of Policy.			$1,164.50

We bear in mind the solemn "warning" printed in the daily press broadcast throughout this country over the signature of the Head Office of the Company. This reads in part as follows :

"An anonymous, typewritten letter is being circulated, dishonestly, "comparing our recent dividends upon "five year period' policies with "dividends upon "fifteen year period' policies, without explaining the es-"sential differences between the two forms of insurance."

It is the fundamental principle of justice that "he who would receive equity must himself give equity." This is not evident in the paragraph quoted above. In the comparison made there is no essential difference between the two forms of insurance. They are identical. The only difference lies in the methods of alotting the profits to the same forms of insurance.

It must be remembered that, in the case of Policy No. 968, quoted above, the profits were alotted every five years, but were left by the insured in the hands of the Company for accumulation during the entire term of fifteen years. According to the statements of the Company these profits are subject to increment at the rate of interest earned by the Company. In the case of endowment assurances for so short a term as fifteen years the survivorship factor is almost a negligible quantity for profit-making purposes.

ACTUARIAL METHODS FAULTY.

It follows that either the profit upon the five year period policy is less than that to which the insured was entitled, or, on the other hand, the allotment to the fifteen-year period policies was vastly in excess of their actual earning. Having in mind the expense ratio of the Great West Life in the past fifteen years, there appears very little difficulty in determining which of these views is correct. The Company has forty millions of insurance in force, and until last year had no regular expert actuarial advice. The finger of Mr.C. C. Ferguson, A.I.A., is already a parent in the Company's statement, and it is only to be regretted that very much earlier opportunity of scientific advice was not availed of.

THE "SPECIAL POLICY."

Every student of life assurance conditions prevalent during the past twenty-five years is aware that the evil odor attaching to the business some years ago was attributable more directly to the employment of so-called "Special Agents" or "Lightning Specials" than to any other single factor. These gentry had no stake in the Company they were representing (or misrepresented). Generally they were importations from the neighboring Republic. The great argument in use was that they were alone empowered to offer something special to wealthy clients, or, in other words, that the prospective victim was fortunate enough to have encountered a "Bargain Day" in life assurance. The results accruing from these methods are too well known to insurance men to need repetition. It is somewhat amazing to find that a Canadian Life Company could to-day be found to essay the recrudescence of so unfortunate a system.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company has recently been selling what is described as a "special" policy. It should be understood that this is nothing more than an ordinary life policy, payable at death by instalments. Some also contain the return premium feature.

One sample policy we have before us, dated April 24th, 1907, and which has been used by Great-West Agents in their canvass, is on the ordinary Life plan, face value $25,000, payable in fifteen annual instalments of $1,000 each, first instalment payable at death, with $10,000 additional at the end of fifteen years after death, the annual premium at age 36 being $501.00. Also in the event of death of the assured within twenty years from issue date, all premiums paid are to be returned with the sum assured. Let us now take up the privileges and conditions. We wish to call special attention to the clause re Distribution of Surplus, which reads in part as follows :

"On the first day of April, 1912, and at the end of every fifth year thereafter, if this policy be then in full force, it shall participate in the profits of the Company. An individual account shall be kept with this policy, and whenever the surplus apportioned thereto, accumulated with interest at 4 per cent. (or at the rate earned if in excess of 4 per cent), compounded annually shall be sufficient to prepay all future premiums, the insured will be notified, and no future payment of premiums shall be required."

Such a clause is most obscure. We are informed that Great-West Agents have told prospects that at the end of 16 or 17 years the profits would be sufficient to pay all future premiums, and it is understood that some have taken policies in that belief. Needless to say, such hopes are impossible of realization, as will be evident from the following table :—

(1) End of year	(2) Value of future Premiums	(3) Profits per $1,000 required to meet this	(4) Percent. of premiums paid
15	$7,783.52	$436.00	593
17	7,415.28	415.00	78
20	6,525.46	362.00	61

From these we see that the profits at the end of 17 years would have to equal 78 per cent. of the premiums already paid in order to prepay all future premiums. It is reasonable to suppose that any company can return as profits four-fifths of the premiums paid? Where would the Cash Surrender Value come from in such a case? The absolute impossibility of such a thing is apparent, and yet the agents pushing this special plan are thus, we understand, representing this condition.

We are further informed that in some cases the agent has not been content with the very rosy prospect indicated above. In a canvass in an Eastern Ontario City one agent is alleged to have told his prospect that it was almost certain that the policy would become paid up in ten years! Such things seem almost incredible in these days.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.

We take policy No. 36,003 for $1,000.00 to illustrate a further point.

One section of this policy is grossly misleading. On the third page is given a table of surrender values, including cash, paid up, and extended insurance features, these values being given for various years from three to twenty. The table is headed as follows :

"Table of non-forfeiture options for each $1,000 of commuted amount."

In very small writing and hidden away at the bottom of the policy are words to the effect that the commuted value of this policy is $7.-168.60. A keen insurance man would, of course, know that the surrender values applicable to the particular policy would be 7.168 times the figure as given in the tables, but the ordinary layman, and we think even to a good many insurance men, the table of values would be multiplied by one in order to get the figures payable to the policy. If it comes to a question to be decided in the courts, we believe the Great-West would have no difficulty in maintaining that the surrender values applicable to the policy would be the lower amounts given above, but we think we are safe in saying that the no surrender values should have been

The Great-West's Reply

The Insurance Department has always required all Companies to report business at the commuted value, and we have always done so, as the writer of this article could easily have found by referring to the Blue Book. His criticism, therefore, of the Insurance Department and of the Company falls to the ground. Our office records have always been correct, and the change referred to was made solely with a view to simplify the bookkeeping methods of obtaining the same results. Many Companies have pursued exactly the same course. The effort to make a point out of this shows how hard pressed the writer was to find something to say.

Under the heading "Profit Variations," his position is equally ridiculous, and he has deliberately tried to create a wrong impression as to an advertisement inserted by the Company by omitting a portion in which we say : "We are still paying on 5 year and longer dividend period policies the highest dividends—premiums being taken into account—now being paid by any company."

The very large dividends referred to on our 15 Year Tontine policies are as great a source of satisfaction to our policy-holders as they are of annoyance to some of our competitors and all journals of the calibre of our critic. The reason why these large dividends were paid was because the Company's earnings were such that our then Actuary, Mr. W. T. Standen, advised that the policy-holders were entitled to them.

The writer seems desirous to leave the impression that the holder of Policy No. 968 has reason to be dissatisfied with his results. We have clear evidence that this is not the opinion of the policy-holder himself, since on receiving his settlement he straightway insured the life of his son in this Company.

As to "Actuarial Methods," the statement that we had no expert Actuarial advice is absolutely false, as Mr. William T. Standen, F.A.S., was employed as consulting Actuary, and advised us on every point requiring the assistance of an Actuary from the time we commenced business, until his death, which only occurred a few months before our present Actuary was appointed.

The "Special Policy"—This Special Policy has been so admired by the insuring public and competing companies that several of the principal companies of Canada have copied it, and other companies have notified their agents that they will issue it if no other form of policy be accepted by the applicant. The form of the policy is such that it invites investigation of profit-earning capacity, and, consequently, applications have been particularly easy to secure by agents of the Great-West Life.

The introduction by the Company of such a popular policy shows that it understands and meets the wishes of the insuring public.

The clause as to distribution of surplus, which is stated by the Editor to be obscure, is on the contrary, so clear and plain that it has never been misunderstood by any policy-holder and can easily be understood by any intelligent school boy 15 years of age.

The ignorance of the writer is shown clearly when he attempts to quote actual figures; for instance—the amount of profits required to make the policy referred to a paid-up one in twenty years is given as $387 whereas the correct amount is $666! All the other figures in this table are equally incorrect, and the conclusions are absolutely unfounded.

As to the statements that agents have represented that the Policy will be paid up in a shorter time than is possible or reasonable, we believe the writer has called upon his imagination for his facts. Certainly if the statements were made by anagent, such as he states have been made, the agent and the policy-holder misled by him would both be fit candidates for a lunatic asylum.

As to the Non-Forture Options.—The labored effort to show that there is something wrong with this table is another evidence that the writer was hard pressed for something to say about the Company when he called attention to the fact that that a certain clause was at the bottom of the policy. He conceals the fact that the clause is at the foot of the table of surrender values—the only place where it could be properly placed. Was this honest, or does it show the spleen of the writer of the article? Something must be at the bottom of the policy; therefore, no matter what we placed there, the the argument might be used that it was placed there for the purpose of concealment. If we had printed the policy without referring to commuted values, the same writer would have objected to this with just as much weight as he has because we have inserted the commuted values.

$6,045,738 Gain in Business in Force in Canada $6,045,738

Fifty per cent. greater increase in Canadian business than any other company, Canadian, English or Foreign. The strongest possible evidence that policy-holders are well satisfied with their policies.

Premium rates with or without profits, are lower than other companies charge, while profits to policy-holders are much higher, because management expenses are the lowest and interest earnings the highest,

put out in an entirely different way, and that they are absolutely misleading in the way they are given. The policy is talked, sold and accepted as an insurance of $10,000, and it is only natural for the policy-holder to assume that he will be entitled to surrender values on a $10,000 basis.

We hesitate to say it, but the facts do not seem to point to an unwillingness on the part of the Head Office of the Great-West to be a party to the deception which has almost invariably been attached to the sale of these and similar policies. It will be universally admitted that ordinary policies are more frequently sold than instalment policies, and also that in getting out a printed form it is usual to make the form applicable to the majority of cases and not to the exceptions. The Great-West has apparently gone at this matter in exactly the opposite way and got out a form to fit the exceptions, for otherwise it would have headed these columns as follows:—

"Tables of surrender values per $1,000 (Face Value)." If it desires to be perfectly fair to its policy-holders, it should place the values in an instalment policy to apply $1,000 of the nominal value, so that a policy-holder holding one of these special policies for $10,000 would obtain the values applicable to his policy by simply multiplying the values given by ten. This method would have the advantages of being both perfectly clear and easily computed. In the Great-West form, the values are hard to compute and are absolutely misleading.

NOT ALL TREATED ALIKE.

We have recently seen another policy issued for $50,000.00 in which some of the clauses that we have taken exception to have been modified very considerably by printed or typewritten slips pasted over the original printed conditions. It is evident that some applicants for this "Special" policy are wiser than others, and that their vigilance is by no means disadvantageous. We opine, however, that this reflection can hardly bring much comfort to the bulk of the people who have acquired this kind of policy without taking some advice other than that afforded them by the Great-West Life agent.

We have purposely taken several policies to illustrate our various points. It would have been unwise to have selected one only for the reason last given—that there does not appear to be that uniformity which is customary in the issues of life companies in general.

The hope may be expressed that the Great-West Life Assurance Company will see its way to withdraw from circulation a policy contract which can hardly fail to reflect adversely upon the Company in the future.

The statement that all policy-holders "are not treated alike" is absolutely false. We defy the writer of the article to show that any difference has ever been made by the Company between policy-holders of the same class.

The editor of the best Insurance Journal in North America has referred to the profit plan used in our policies as being "an embodiment of the true principles of life insurance," and we did not advertise with that journal either.

GOLD FIELD ROMANCES

HOW EMPIRE'S ELDORADOS HAVE BEEN DISCOVERED.

A Convict In New South Wales Was the First to Discover a Nugget But It Profitted Him Little — Single Australian Nugget Weighed Over 160 Pounds—Klondike Prospectors Had It All to Themselves.

The discovery of gold in Australia was remarkable. A convict, while at work in New South Wales, one day came across a small nugget of gold. When he was questioned, however, he could not point out the spot where he had found it, with the result that he was dragged before a magistrate, and charged with melting down a gold watch, for which alleged crime he was awarded one hundred and fifty lashes!

After this time small quantities of gold were found, but in every case the discoverer was regarded with suspicion, being considered to be a robber, and so it was not until the discovery of gold in California that mining first began in the colony. When the rush began, whole streets in Sydney were deserted and business came to a standstill owing to the fact that all the servants and assistants vanished through the Blue Mountains.

Soon other gold discoveries were made in Australia, with the result that the towns were drained of their males. In the case of California men were willing to pay large sums of gold dust for the opportunity of glancing at a woman through the cracks of a shanty; in Geelong, however, the women crowded to the doors whenever a male passed through the town, as men were so rare as to become curiosities. That town in four months lost nearly three-quarters of its inhabitants.

The Australian fields differed from all other gold fields owing to the size of the nuggets of pure gold which were found. An aborigine began playing with a glittering substance which turned out to be a mass of gold weighing 182 1-2 pounds, and having a value of over $30,000.

Actually gold could be picked up from the surface, one party of five men obtaining $25,000 of gold in eight hours. Considerably larger nuggets than these were found. For instance, the Welcome Stranger nugget weighed 2,520 ounces, and another nugget was sold for $62,500.

According to legend one of the principal West Australian fields was discovered owing to a boy picking up a stone to throw at a crow. It was found that this stone contained gold, and the fact was reported to the warden. The official immediately telegraphed to the governor of the colony that a boy had picked up a stone to throw at a crow—in the excitement of the moment, however, he omitted to state that the stone contained gold. The astonished governor therefore wired back, "Yes, and what happened to the crow?" Now the goldfields in Western Australia occupy an area eight times that of England.

Possibly the most remarkable fields in the history of gold mining are those occurring in frozen North America. In the case of every other goldfield the original discoverers fared about the worst owing to the fact that the news became at once public and attracted vast hordes of adventurers.

The men who first discovered gold in the Yukon had no competitors for months owing to the isolated position of the fields, and the enormous difficulties of reaching them. In fact, the news of the discovery did not leak out until the original discoverers had taken all the gold they wanted, and had come back to civilization wealthy men. At the time of the discovery the district was practically an unknown territory containing only a handful of inhabitants.

Take the case of the discovery on the Bonanza Creek of the Klondike river. The discoverer and the 350 inhabitants of Forty-Mile had the richest known gold deposits in the world to themselves for many months, and accordingly made astounding fortunes. A barman in the town was too idle to go to the top of the creek so he turned aside into a smaller creek close at hand. Astounding as the fact is, he made $3,000,000 out of the gold he won.

The districts round about were simply a mass of gold deposits, containing good-sized nuggets. Throughout the whole of the winter the miners dug up the "pay dirt," and then when the spring came set out to wash it, and not one of the claims proved valueless.

One remarkable fact regarding the Canadian goldfields, however, was the lack of violence and lawlessness; in fact, the people trusted each other to such an extent that when a purchaser entered a store he threw his gold dust upon the counter and turned his back while it was being weighed, as it would have been an insult to the storekeeper to doubt his honesty by watching the weighing process.

Gold was not discovered in the famous Witwatersrand district of South Africa until 1886. Johannesburg springing into existence the next year. The history of these goldfields is singularly prosaic compared with the others, owing to the fact that the precious metal occurs in reefs, and therefore it was out of the question for individual men to pick up fortunes.

The Rand gold mines have to be worked by means of corporations possessing a large capital, mining being carried on in much the same way that coal is mined in this country. The gold is found in strata which form a kind of sandwich, and some of the reefs dip to great depths. It is believed that each mile length in the central section of the Rand bears gold of the enormous value of $300,000,000.

"No wonder. Just think of the keys she has."

Humor in Advertising.

It is agreed on all sides that as a rule humorous advertisements are to be avoided. Business is business, and the businesslike ad. is the one that counts. Nevertheless it is interesting to come upon an odd, amusing or out of the ordinary specimen—for instance, that of the photographer who made a specialty of baby photographs. His advertisement read:

"Bring your dear little babies. If they don't sit still I won't get cross. I was a baby once myself."

What is especially rare is to find an advertiser who will exhibit any candor about the negative qualities of his goods. It is all the more refreshing, then, to peruse the announcement of an innkeeper in one of the smaller states who was evidently burning with a desire to tell the exact truth about his establishment:

"Not the largest hotel in the town, not newly furnished throughout, no free bus to train, not the best grub the market affords, but simply clean beds and good food, 25 cents to sleep, 25 cents to eat. Toothpicks and ice water thrown in. Try us. Pay up. And if not satisfied keep mum!"—London Answers.

A Courteous Boy.

"Would you rather for your mother or me to whip you?"
"I dislike to show favoritism, father," said little Clarence. "You and mother had better settle the matter between you by flipping a coin."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Would Not

It hardly seems probable that a man should suffer from corns on a wooden leg, but if the leg is made of oak would it not be natural that there should be scorn on it?—London Punch

A Dear Victory.

"In your little family arguments do you ever succeed in convincing your wife that she is wrong?"
"Yes, but afterward I always deeply regret having done so."

Whatever we conceive clearly we express with ease, and words flow with ease.—Boileau.

A failing tiny nerve—no larger than the finest silken thread—takes from the Heart its impulse, its power, its regularity. The Stomach also has its hidden, or inside nerve. It was wrong to drug a weak it was wrong to drug a weak of failing Stomach, Heart or Kidneys. His prescription—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is directed straight for the cause of these ailments—these weak and faltering inside nerves. This, no doubt clearly explains why the Restorative has of late grown so rapidly in popularity. Druggists say that those who test the Restorative even for a few days soon become fully convinced of its wonderful merit. Any way, don't drug the organ. Treating the cause of sickness is the only sensible and successful way. Sold by All Druggists.

A LOVER OF PEACE.

He Had Decided Opinions on the Way to Abolish War.

"Men talk sincerely," once said W. T. Stead, the great apostle of peace, "about loving one another, about the universal brotherhood of man, and in the same breath they assert that it is right to burn and maim and kill in war. They are not so logical as a young colored recruit who served in the Philippines. This young man at the end of his initial engagement was hauled before his captain.

"'So you ran at the first fire, did you?' said the captain scornfully.

"'Yes, sah, an I'd 'a' run sooner, sah, if I'd knowed it was comin'.'

"'Have you no regard for your reputation, Calhoun?'

"'Mah reputation hain't nuffin to me, sah, 'longside o' mah life.'

"The captain smiled and twirled his mustache. Here was an intelligent young man. He'd talk him over to the right point of view.

"'Even if you should lose your life, Calhoun,' he said, 'you'd have the satisfaction of knowing that you had died for your country.'

"'Wot satisfaction could dat be to me, sah, when de power o' feelin' it was gone?'

"'Then patriotism means nothing to you?'

"'Nffin, sah. I wouldn't put mah life in de scales agin any government dat ebber existed, for no government could replace de loss o' me.'

"'Calhoun, if all soldiers were like you the world's governments would all go to pieces.'

"'On de contrary, sah, dey'd last forever, for, if all soldiers wus like me, den dere couldn't neber be no fightin'.'

A Debtor's Woes.

"The worst thing about owing people," sighed the woman, "is that it seems to give them the right to ask us such personal and impertinent questions about things that really should be none of their business. I never stave off my piano man, for example, that he doesn't ask how it is that I can afford to pay so much rent for my flat."
